Dr. W. B. Halley was elected trustee in the election Saturday, the election being held to fill a vacancy on the board caused by a tie vote in the regular election and which resulted in only two trustees being elected out of three to be elected to complete the board. Only two names, Dr. Halley and E. J. Cathey, appeared on the ticket in the election Saturday. Dr. Halley received 181 votes and Mr. Cathey 51. The board is now composed of W. C. Penn, J. M. The state announced ready in the case and the attorneys for the defense made a motion to quash the indictment. The court overruled the motion, and the defense council immediately made a motion for a continuance and the court was hearing argument on continuance motion at a late hour Monday afternoon.

The Dalton case is one in which J. W. Dalton is charged with transporting liquor, it being alleged that he and two other men were apprehended on the road North of Winters with a quantity of liquor in an automobile. The indictment was returned at the last term of district court.

(By Associated Press)
LAUSANNE, April 30.—Official protest against Russia being arbitrarily kept out of the conference was sent to the Near East peace parley by M. Vorovsky, soviet representative here. ## LETS CONTRACT FOR NEW HOME

The contract was awarded to Jess McDonald Monday and Mr. McDonald will begin getting out the mill work at once, and as soon as the material can be placed on the ground will break dirt for the foundation.

There are several other new homes being planned, and with a number of minor building projects under way in the city, the hammer and saw is making music to the march of progress.

(By Associated Press)
PADUCAH, Ky., April 30.—Mrs. Rosetta Daugherty Warren, age 34, was instantly killed when a dynamite explosion wrecked her home here last night. The body of the woman was badly mangled by the heavy explosion. Three children in the home escaped injury.

CALGARY STUDIES MEANS TO PROVIDE FOR STORK

(By Associated Press)
CALGARY, Alta., April 30.—The health committee of the local Council of Women has asked Mayor Webster to have the city open a "stork account."

The plan is to have expectant mothers deposit a small sum each week with the city treasurer, to relieve her of anxiety when the stork arrives, and assure her of adequate medical care. The trouble with the usual installment plan, the women found, was that it became effective after the child had been born, and proved hard to meet with additional family expenses.

HOUSTON—Fifty million dollars in extensions and betterments will be spent in Houston by three concerns, according to plans announced. They are the Southern Pacific railroad, $30,000,000; Houston Light & Power Company, $10,000,000; and the Texas Company, $10,000,000.

A small want ad in The Daily Ledger often saves you money.

FRENCH WATCH TURK THREAT

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, April 30.—As a precaution against what is regarded as a threatening gesture of the Turks in concentrating 20,000 troops on the Northern border of Syria, the French government decided to reinforce its own military strength in the mandated territory by two divisions. This will place 46,000 men at the disposal of General Weygand.

SHIPS CAN SELL LIQUOR ON SEA

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 30.—The ruling of Attorney General Daugherty against the serving of liquor on American ships on the high seas was overturned by the Supreme Court, which held at the same time, however, that the ban put on both American and foreign ships from bringing liquor stocks into American ports under bond was legal and enforceable.

The court held that the prohibition amendment could not be applied to prevent American vessels from selling intoxicating beverages when outside American territorial waters. To that extent the decision of the court reversed the decision in hand of Federal Judge Hand, of New York.

The decision, however, declared that it was illegal for American or foreign ships to bring to United States ports or in American waters, liquor sealed in bond for use of passengers on outgoing voyages.

There will be work for all in the paint-up and clean-up campaign. Get busy.

"Love is blonde," says one spring poet. Perhaps a typographical error, but there is lots of truth in it.

Nearly half the population of Ballinger attended Sunday school last Sunday. Quite a number went fishing.

The man who does the right thing may sometimes become the victim of peculiar circumstances, but he seldom finds it necessary to make excuses.

What has become of the fish peddler, who so often appeared in the streets with a load of fish about this time of year?

There are two factions in the United States which persist in making themselves heard. One faction wants the immigration bars let down and the other wants the liquor bars put up. Both factions are a menace to Americanism.

Doctors could make themselves more useful if they would recommend weed cutting as an exercise for their patients instead of golf playing or some funny form of athletic foolery.

The cost of crime is being keenly felt by the farmer who is kept out of his field at this particular time to serve as a juror. A large per cent of the veniremen begging to be excused offer as their excuse the fact that they are being delayed with their planting. It seems unjust to pick up a busy man and force him to serve as a juror when there are loafers doing nothing, but it only emphasizes the world's demand for busy men when it comes to handling important matters.

This is a day of town salesmanship. We are all striving to "sell" our town and our county to the other fellow. We want the world to see our town and our county as we see it. We have too many people who are not acquainted with their home town. They do not know its advantages, they are not familiar with its resources, and they cannot present it to the homeseeker in its true light. Such citizens are not good salesmen for their home town and their home county. Study your home town and your home county. The Tech brief recently compiled by the local leading committee makes a good text book in studying home town salesmanship.

Preventative Medicine
The tendency of medical science is toward preventative measures. It is easier and better to prevent than to cure. Pneumonia, one of the most dangerous diseases that medical men have to contend with, often follows a cold or attack of the grip. The cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the pneumonia germ. The longer the cold hangs on, the greater the danger. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the first indication of a cold appears so as to get rid of it with the least possible delay. It is folly to risk an attack of pneumonia when this remedy may be obtained for a trifle.

HOME
You are to be pitied if you cannot find your first and greatest happiness at home. There is where you should find it. The independence that comes to a man when his day's work is over and he feels that he has run out of the storm into the quiet harbor of home, where he can rest in peace, is something real.
It does not make so much difference whether you own the house you call home or not, or whether you just have one little room in that house, you can make that room a true home. You can people it with sweet fancies that it will be fairly luminous with your presence, and it will be to you the very perfection of a home, where you can rest, and be sheltered from the storms of life which so often engulf those who have no place to call home.

With all due respect to the homeless, it must be conceded that it is the home owners, who make for better living in any community, and what is meant by home owners, is those who are not here today and somewhere else tomorrow, and who manifest an interest in those things which are for the upbuilding of their home town.

BAND IS BUSY FOR CONTEST

Director Carsey is busy getting the Ballinger Band thru some strenuous rehearsals for the program to be played in the contest at the San Angelo convention. The band is determined to win the first prize in the Class C contest and if all the members put their shoulder to the wheel they will walk off with the money. The director is very anxious to have every man in Ballinger who plays any kind of an instrument at all the rehearsals from now until the time for the contest and also to take anyone in the afternoons who will work on his part individually.

Another rehearsal has been added to the regular practice nights, and the band will meet every Tuesday and Thursday nights at eight o'clock and every Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. An effort will be made to get all the musicians on hand next Sunday who are going on the trip. This will include any musicians in Runnels county as the rules are limited to county lines. Members of the band are asking that if you have a handman working for you to help him get off for these rehearsals for the time is short now and the boys have lots of work to do. The convention opens in San Angelo on May 20, and will last three days, so it will be seen that hard work must be done.

On May 14th, the saxophone section from the band and the orchestra will broadcast from the Ft. Worth Star-Telegram office. Stuart L. Williams of the Y. M. B. L., will also make a short talk on the Colorado Valley irrigation project. This will give Ballinger advertising all over the South and the boys have a very unusual program for the occasion.

THE FARM BUREAU

With a better understanding and in a spirit of optimism, the business men and farmers throughout the country are coming to appreciate more fully the aims and objects of the Farm Bureau.

In this country the prime object of the Farm Bureau is the marketing question. The organizers of the federation are devoting their time more to holding the bulk of the cotton off the market in such way as to hold up a steady demand, and to feed the mills as they need feeding and save the cotton producers from becoming the victims of the speculators by dumping a year's work on the market in sixty days.

It goes without saying that if the Farm Bureau can control 50 per cent of the cotton, that will be sufficient to control the market. But while the bureau is controlling the sale of cotton it must also look after controlling production. Too much cotton will create a low market, bureau or no bureau, therefore the Farm Bureau has a wide field of activity.

While obligating its members to pool their cotton, a scheme for obligating them to pool their interests in equalizing acreage must also be worked out. The world can consume only so much cotton, and under favorable conditions it would be an easy matter for the farmers to produce more cotton than the world needs, and in that event no agency under the sun could keep the price up. Cotton is raised to sell, and even with a perfect selling agency, it would be difficult to control the price and keep it on a basis with the cost of production, if the supply is greater than the demand.

Thus the Farm Bureau should look well to regulating the production of cotton as well as to regulating the sale of the stuff.

BRITISH PHYSICIAN SAYS SMOKING IS HARMLESS

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, April 30.—The danger to smokers from nicotine poisoning is declared by Dr. E. P. Roger to be "so small as to be almost negligible." This should be tidings of comfort and joy to many smokers in America, where, according to dispatches received here something like a crusade is underway against "Lady Nicotine." She is there denounced it is said, as a "dissipated jade who is responsible for much that is injurious to health."

Dr. Roger's opinion is based on experiments conducted by himself to determine the action of fire on the tobacco consumed. He has just published an account of them with the conclusions he has reached.

He first took ten grains of tobacco steeped in alcohol and water in order to extract all the nicotine. He said the solution was strong enough to kill a dog weighing four stone.

He then took a similar quantity of the same tobacco and burned it in a pipe so constructed as to retain the whole of the smoke produced. The liquid resulting was found to have no worse effect on a dog than to trouble his digestion. The dog was of the same weight as the dog on which nicotine had been used with fatal effect.

Dr. Roger says he found that combustion destroys the nicotine, or rather transforms it into cresols, phenols and other substances which if they are rather irritating are nevertheless excellent antiseptics. The pipe or cigarette holder he says should be kept clean, but with that danger guarded against there is no other. "In these conditions," he states in conclusion, "tobacco may be even good for the health."

HOUSTON—A new gas generating unit of the Houston Gas and Fuel Company that has just been completed increases the daily capacity of the company to 11,000,000 cubic feet, according to officials.

AMARILLO—The executive committee of the Texas Press Association met in Amarillo recently. This city probably will seek the 1924 meeting of the association. The meeting this year will be in Galveston.

Citizens of the United States have filed between 8,000 and 9,000 claims with the American-German Claims Commission in Washington, D. C., for war losses.

The oldest American veteran of the World War is Lieut. William N. Williams, aged 86, of Washington, D. C. He served in the Quartermaster Department.

Fewer than half of the 5,000,000 American soldiers of the World War have claimed the Victory medal authorized by the government in recognition of service overseas and in this country.

"LIGHTS OF NEW YORK" GRAPHIC STUDY OF LIFE IN METROPOLITAN CITY

"Lights of New York," the latest William Fox special photo-drama, which opens a two days' engagement at the Maeroy Theatre today, is a graphic study of conditions in the great city that are daily enacted among its millions of men and women. The author has not put in a special plea for any individual class of persons, but he has opened several pages of metropolitan life and permitted his audience to see things as they really are.

The author turns the searchlight of his keen understanding of human nature upon both sides of life as it is lived in New York city. One of the unique episodes of the story deals with the average metropolitan family life, the temptations and evil influences which the youth of New York must meet and overcome. Clarence Nordstrom, a juvenile of exceptional ability, portrays the role of the young chap whose reckless dash down the wrong path leads him into difficulties which the average American youth, away from the big city, seldom encounters.

Another episode of the story opens at a bachelor dinner held on the eve of the wedding of a youthful scion of one of New York's wealthiest families. The failure of one of the invited guests to attend the dinner left only thirteen at the table, and inasmuch as the host was inclined to fear the result of the unlucky number, it was decided that the entire group of guests should go to the door and invite the first person who passes to take the place of the missing guest.

The first one to pass was an old man and he was prevailed upon to fill the empty chair. Under the influence of the bright lights and friendly spirit of the rest of the company, the newly-found guest was induced to tell a story. What he tells, which is the true story of his life, provides a drama of unique interest. It is a story of strange adventure, of good luck and bad, of the highlights and shadows of "Lights of New York."

This character is played by one of the foremost dramatic actors in America today, Marc MacDermott, and he has never done anything with greater artistic finish in his long histrionic career. "Lights of New York" was directed by Chas. J. Brabin, who, it will be remembered, staged the other Wm. Fox visualization of life in the metropolis, "White New York Sleeps." He also directed "The Raven," in which Henry Walthall did the best dramatic work of his life.

ETHEL CLAYTON SEEN IN "HER OWN MONEY," AT FO-TO-SHO TODAY

Ethel Clayton has a particularly impressive way of portraying real life problems in a natural, human manner. This she does to perfection in her latest Paramount starring vehicle, "Her Own Money," which was shown to an appreciative audience at the Fo-to-sho Theatre in the matinee performance this afternoon. "Her Own Money" will be shown at this house again tonight and tomorrow, closing Tuesday night.

Miss Clayton's interpretation of the sweet, self-sacrificing wife is a charming bit of work and it appeals irresistibly to her hosts of admirers. The story, which is an adaptation by Elmer Rice of the play by Mark Swan, concerns a young wife with an extravagant husband. By the practice of the strictest economy, she saves two thousand dollars, intending to purchase a home of her own. But the husband becomes involved in a business deal and is in immediate need of two thousand dollars, or loses his investment. Seeing he is unable to borrow the money, the wife secretly arranges with a neighbor to lend her husband her own money, pretending it is from him. The deal falls through, the money is lost and in an ensuing situation the truth is brought to light. This estranges the husband from the wife, but there is a subsequent happy twist which makes for a happy finish.

The star is finely supported by Warner Baxter, Charles French, Clarence Burton, Mae Busch, Jean Acker and Roseoe Karns. The picture was directed by Joseph Henabery.

Leon Ward is here from Austin on business and visiting kinfolks and friends.

Insurance Firm Contributes to Fire Boys Trip

"April 30th, 1923.
"To the Property Owners of Ballinger:

"One week from today the representatives of the Ballinger Volunteer Fire Department should leave for the annual convention of the State Association to be held at San Marcos. This is an annual event toward which the fire boys look with a great deal of pleasant anticipation and for which they expend a great deal of time and energy in their efforts to give our city a creditable representation. The only call ever made on the public by the fire company is to defray the expenses of this annual outing. The purpose of this letter is to urge the property owners of Ballinger to respond to the present request for $500, the minimum cost of this year's trip, just as cheerfully as these fire boys respond to the city's call to duty and in many cases to danger.

"In view of the services rendered to and the money saved for this town each year by the fire company, it is certainly as little as we can do to volunteer cheerfully with our subscriptions to this fund. In support of this statement I wish to call attention to what this city saves each year by reason of having: First, a fire department, and second, an efficient fire department.

"First: If we had no fire department, Page 23, Paragraph 7, a, under the analysis of the key rate of a town, the General Basis Schedules issued by the State Fire Insurance Commission, provides that the key rate shall be increased 30c. Without going into details of the calculation, being without a fire department would cast the insuring property owners of the town $3,360.00 each year.

"Second: If we did not have an efficient fire department, we would in all probability lose our good fire record credit of 15 per cent, which means in actual dollars saved each year the sum of $3,530.00. We have had two fires within the last three years that would undoubtedly have wrecked our record if we had not had a really brave as well as a really efficient fire company, those being the dangerous gasoline fires at the Harwell and at the Nance garages. I do not think that I am overstating the case when I say that the credit allowed our town by the State Fire Insurance Commission as above stated is directly due to our efficient fire department.

"In view of this combined annual saving of $6,890.00, I feel that we, as citizens of the town, should give our fire company some substantial evidence of our appreciation of their efforts, and

A Farmer Cured of Rheumatism.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment and told him to use it freely," says C. P. Rayder, Patten Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment; I want it in the house all the time for it cured me."

Miss Margaret Trail was stricken suddenly ill while about her work in the Brewer jewelry store Monday morning. She was apparently in a serious condition for some time before she recovered sufficiently to be carried home.

BALLINGER GOOD SUNDAY S. TOWN

More than twelve hundred people attended Sunday school in Ballinger last Sunday, and the offering amounted to $67.88.

This speaks well for Ballinger as a Sunday school and church going town. The good attendance upon Sunday school and church services may be attributed to special campaigns and special advertising which has been carried on here for the past month or two. It is expected that the attendance next Sunday will exceed the record set last Sunday, and if you are not attending Sunday school, you are urged to attend the church of your choice.

The following figures make up the report for the various Sunday schools last Sunday:

|               | Present | Col.    |

WINTERS WANTS BET- TER TRAIN SERVICE

(Winters Enterprise)
Bert E. Low and Jno. Q. McAdams went to Abilene Saturday for a conference with Morgan Jones in an effort to secure better train service by the A. & S. railway for Winters.

The Winters gentlemen were received in Mr. Jones' usual courteous manner and he was very attentive when they suggested improvements that might be made in the service of his road. It was suggested that a motor car handling mail and passenger trade would be a good move and Mr. Jones readily assured them that one trip a day each way would not be sufficient, but considered the advisability of putting on a double daily service by the motor car.

The advisability of a new depot and cotton platform facilities was discussed, but met with little interest on the part of Mr. Jones. A mass meeting of Winters citizens was suggested at which Mr. Jones appear and enter a full discussion of the proposition met with ready approval and he signified his eagerness to meet with our people and take up the subject, hence it is very likely that a meeting will be called in the near future at which time the matter will be gone into in all its details.

The gentlemen who visited Mr. Jones feel that chances are very good for better service over the road and that the people will be asked to patronize the road more freely in exchange for the improved service.
