MOTORIST FAILS TO STOP; IS SHOT BY OFFICERS ENDS LIFE BY LEAP FROM 15 STORY BUILDING

(By Associated Press)
CORSIKANA, March 7.—J. C. Coker, age 41, of Bristol, Texas, is dead here from pistol wounds received last night when officers fired on his automobile.
Local officers announced that several men refused to halt their automobile when called to stop, and instead of stopping fired upon the policemen who returned the fire. Later a car was found with Coker's body in it and the other men missing.

WORK PROGRESSING ON NEW ROAD LINK

Grading work is well under way on the new link of the Ballinger-Winters highway running West of Elm Creek. The contractors have twelve or fifteen teams at work, and the force will be increased soon. The present crew of hands began grading at the intersection of the Humphrey road about one mile from town, and is working towards Old Runnels where the new road will intersect the old road.

The contract for the cement work has been sublet by the Tibbets Construction Company to Crouch & Noland, of Strawn, and the work of building the bridges and putting in the drainage system will be started as soon as the material and equipment can be placed on the ground. The entire work will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

Y. M. B. L. COMMITTEE IN A SHORT SESSION

The committee of Young Men's Business League directors is in charge of the financial drive to support the annual budget, held a short session Friday morning, checked up and compared notes.

A final and official report of the financial drive will be made soon. The work is progressing nicely, it was said, and if the firms which have not been solicited do their part as well as most of those who have accepted the quota assigned to them, the budget will be made up in good shape.

The committee started out to raise a budget of $600 a month, or a total of $7,200 for the year, and about $550 of the amount has been raised.

The final drive will be made by the committee within the next few days, and a complete list of the subscribers will be published in The Ledger, showing just who is supporting the commercial organization.

The Merite Agricole is to be conferred on French families that have tilled the same soil for three centuries. There are 750 such families in France. One family has had the same land since the reign of Charlemagne. Another family at Colombes near Gap has worked its farm for a thousand years.

It pays to advertise.

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, March 7.—Doctor Carlos Demandel, music composer and leader of an orchestra, formerly of San Francisco, fell or jumped to his death from the room of a fifteen story apartment building in West End Avenue today.
The noted musician's body was picked up badly mangled on the pavement.

CHILDREN ILL FROM EATING CASTOR BEANS

A little four year old child of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Leach, and one of about the same age of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Reese, of South Ballinger, were quite ill for a day or two from eating castor beans. The children got hold of the beans while playing about the yard. The little child of Mr. and Mrs. Reese was seriously ill for some time, while Mr. and Mrs. Leach's child was not quite so ill. They were both reported to be improving Friday.

MANAGER CINCINNATI REDS AT DEATH'S DOOR

(By Associated Press)
ORLANDO, Fla., March 7.—The death of Patrick Moran, pilot of the Cincinnati National League baseball club, is expected momentarily, according to an announcement issued today by his physicians.

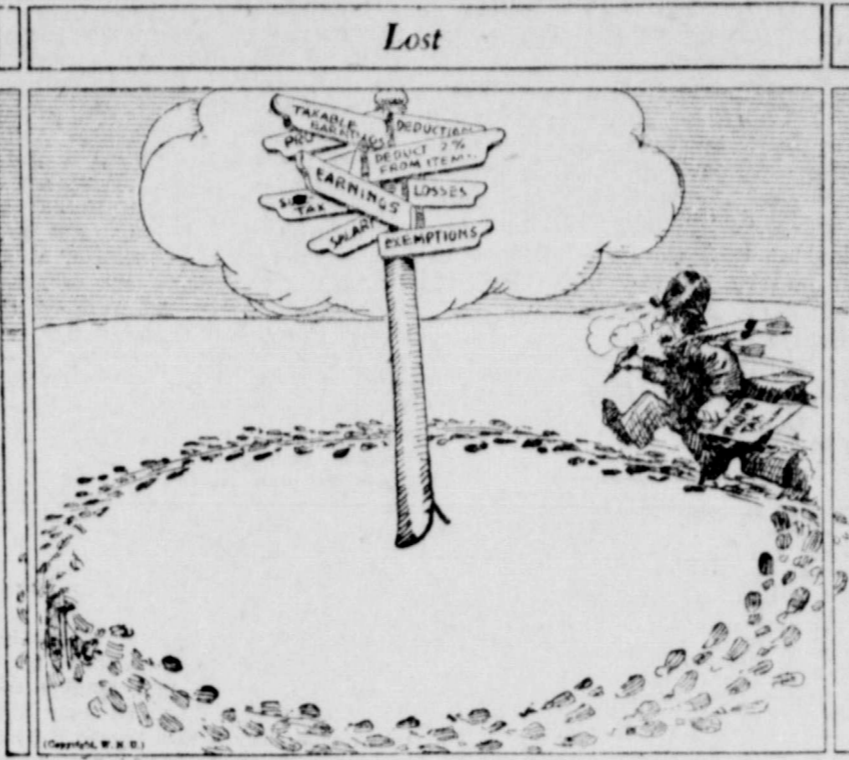

DECLINES NAVY SECRETARYSHIP

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 7.—Representative Theodore Burton, of Ohio, who was mentioned as a possible successor to Edwin Denby, secretary of navy, has informed administration officials that he prefers to continue as a member of the House rather than accept a cabinet position.

MAY BE NO CUT IN 1923 TAXES

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 7.—Opposition developed in both branches of the national congress today to a proposal for immediate action to reduce personal income taxes payable this year twenty-five per cent.

Chairman Green of the House ways and means committee, changed the plans as announced yesterday, and in view of the opposition decided to delay asking the committee to remove reduction provisions from the revenue bill and incorporate it in a joint resolution.

Yeggs Fail in Attempt to Blow Safe at A. & S. Depot

The iron safe in the Abilene & Southern Railroad depot at Ballinger was damaged by a charge of explosives set off by yeggs in an attempt to blow the safe Thursday night.

The attempted robbery was not discovered until the freight and passenger offices of the A. & S. were opened for business Friday morning. The yeggs entered the building by breaking open a window. Pieces of iron, used as tools in breaking into the building, were left behind by the safe-blowers, but no clue sufficient to give the officers a lead in running down the criminals was found.

The safe was damaged by a charge of explosive, but the explosion failed to open the safe, and the robbers did not get away with any booty. It is presumed that the robbers, failing to open the safe with the first charge of nitro-glycerine, became frightened, and left without making the second attempt. The officers have no clue to build on in the case.

WITNESS EXPLAINS CODE IN M'LEAN TELEGRAMS

DENY PART IN POLITICAL GRAFT

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 7.—Representative Langley, republican from Kentucky, on the floor of the House today demanded an investigation of the published charges that he had received money for exerting his official influence. He denied emphatically that he had been guilty of any wrong doing.
Langley was cheered by the House when he concluded his appeal for a "square deal."

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 7.—Representatives Langley, of Kentucky, and Zihlman, of Maryland, both republicans, today denied that they ever had improperly exercised their official influence, or received money for their influence.
The denials of Langley and Zihlman followed the publication of their names in connection with charges by the federal grand jury at Chicago that two members of congress had used the influence of their office for personal profit.

It was stated yesterday that the grand jury would investigate the charges against two members of the House and other high government officials for the misuse of their official positions, and later the names of the two congressmen were made public.

INSURANCE FOR SOLDIER BONUS

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 7.—Paid-up insurance policies were decided upon today as a provision for the soldier bonus bill by the House ways and means committee. The bill as approved by the committee will carry the insurance provision.

HERRIN SHERIFF INDICTED BY G.J.

(By Associated Press)
DANVILLE, Ill., March 7.—It was learned here today that the federal grand jury had indicted Sheriff George Galligan, of Williamson county, Illinois, and his former chief deputy, John Layman, for conspiracy to violate the national prohibition act.

Deputy Sheriff Layman is believed to be in hiding in New Orleans, and Sheriff Galligan will be arraigned here on the conspiracy charge next Monday.

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 7.—Ira Bennett, author of the message sent to E. B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, in which reference was made to someone as "principal," was questioned today by the Senate oil committee.

Bennett told the committee that "apples" in the cipher telegrams is the code word for Albert Fall, and the cipher "count" referred to himself. He told the oil committee that he wired McLean and that "principal" in the telegram meant Senator Curtis, republican. President Coolidge was not the "principal" referred to in the telegram to McLean, Bennett informed the committee. Bennett insisted, however, that he did not have a copy of the code used and did not recall the meaning of some of the messages he sent to Florida.

The witness said that the message he sent to McLean at Palm Beach on February 14th, saying that he would have a conference with "H. D." before 1:00 o'clock, referred to Attorney General Harry Daugherty.
Bennett quoted Daugherty as saying "tell Ned not to worry, he is a side issue. In two or three weeks I will be the center of the whole thing, and I will do what I can to help." Bennett said Daugherty also promised to help keep McLean off the witness stand.

DAUGHERTY HAS NOTHING TO SAY

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 7.—Attorney General Daugherty would make no statement upon his arrival here today from Florida. He went direct from the station to a meeting of the cabinet. The cabinet meeting lasted a little over half an hour. The first members to leave the cabinet meeting said the question of Mr. Daugherty's resignation was not discussed at the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Tyler and daughter, and Mrs. Ray Cooper, of Miles, were visitors to Ballinger Friday. The ladies were pleasant callers at The Ledger office. Mr. Tyler is publisher of the Miles Messenger. He has been fighting the flu for a couple of months and Mrs. Tyler and the girls have been getting out the paper every week, doing all the work necessary to get out a newspaper and keep the job department going.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Witt, of the Norton country, passed through the city Thursday afternoon en route to Goldthwaite to see Mrs. Witt's sister, who is seriously ill.

The sign spelled "A Poke's

Care of Plants
 A report issued by the Purdue university agricultural experiment station says that more plants die from improper watering than from any other cause. It recommends the following: Water thoroughly and then allow the soil to dry out until it is only well moistened (Just before it crumbles and cracks) before watering again. Water your plants when they need it, and do not go by the calendar.
 It may be twice a week or once a day,
 depending on the temperature and humidity of the air in the room and the size and vigor of the plant. Each pot will require its own particular amount of water. Never allow plants in jar-diners and bowls to stand in water for any length of time. In addition to the regular watering, plants will respond to frequent cleaning. Put them in the bathtub, kitchen sink or cellar, during the winter, or out of doors during the summer, and wash off the leaves. Large-leaved plants, like rubber plants and palms, may be rubbed with water and a sponge or soft rag.
 This removes the dirt and grease which clogs the breathing pores of the leaves. During the summer it is an excellent plan to put the plant out during the light rains.

 A western senator, and notable col-

 "Now, senator, we have enough old stuff. You don't want to buy any-

 "It is not that, my dear. I merely want to shake hands with this grandfather's clock."

DISCOVERS FARMER IS GREAT OPTIMIST

Traveler Finds Man Who Can Handle Any Situation.

Snuggled among the Berkshire hills is the friendly little town of Washington. After a visit, writes a contributor, to our daughter at school there, I wanted to hire a motor car to take my wife and me over the mountain to Waterbury, 25 miles away, to catch the afternoon train for Boston. But it was Memorial day; the local baseball nine was to play its first game with its great rival, and not a "taxi" could we find. At last a farmer in the town, George Titus by name, consented to take us over in his little car.

As we were about to start he said that his son was to pitch for the Washington team, and I protested against his missing the sport. "Well, now, you come along," said Mr. Titus, reaching down and giving the crank a short, friendly turn. "I've been waitin' to get over to Waterbury all the spring to see my sister; and there's another good thing about it, too; George can always pitch a better game when dad ain't lookin' on."

After eight or ten miles we began to ascend the mountain. The road was fair, but rain had begun to fall. As we were going down the other side a cloudburst overtook us and followed us to the very bottom. In that five or six miles it rained "forty days and forty nights!" The rain literally came down in sheets. It was terrific! The water overflowed the thank-you-ma-ams and washed them away so that the road became a mountain torrent. It was magnificent, but it was not good motoring.

"This must be the greatest downpour of modern times," I said to Titus.

"Ye-es," he replied judicially, glancing off the road a second, "yes, guess 'ts. There's some good things about it, though."

"There are? Well, what can they be?"

"Well," said he, "it's comin' straight down, don't blow any. And there ain't no thunder or lightning."

We got into Waterbury in time for the train, but an hour later than Mr. Titus had expected; it was then too late for him to go back over that washed-out road in the rain. I offered him his expenses for the night, but he declined.

"No, no, I'll stay with my sister, and it won't cost a cent," he said. "There's another good thing about it, too. Gives me a chance to see her husband. He works at the electric light plant and don't get home till nine o'clock. They'll be tickled to death to have me."

We could well believe it. How blessed is the community that possesses a few practical optimists, calm, brave, hopeful souls like George Titus. My intimate little adventure with him was commonplace enough, yet I am sure that he can meet any "knotted situation in his family, in his village or in the world with unconscious courage and good cheer, and that he will always find "another good thing about it, too."—Youth's Companion.

Meaning of Ferry

The original meaning of the verb to ferry is conveyed by the couplet in an early English poem, which describes how the king, gone a-courting among his faithful subjects, was "kapt bi the heels, feryed out by the feet."

In those days the verb to ferry meant to carry, or as in the cited case of the king, to drag out.

The use of the noun ferry as a boat or vessel for carrying passengers or goods across a body of water was an afterthought.

The application is quite logical. Ferrying is carrying, only that it is now restricted to carrying over a body of water. By the same token it would be extremely difficult to "ferry" a king out by the heels.—New York Sun.

Wigs to Patch Bald Heads

"Wigs are being more worn nowadays than formerly," a London wig maker stated. "Young men whose hair has become thin perhaps in only one spot are having it 'patched.' I have made and fitted many such patches for men who are not yet thirty." A nerve specialist stated that the conditions of modern life in big cities—worry, sedentary occupations and general nerve strain—are responsible for an increase of baldness at a comparatively early age.—London Mail.

Other Way Around

He was an argumentative local attorney, and was crushing an opponent's case. "Gentlemen," he said, "you may say, with Lawyer Smith, that this is a case of six of one and half a dozen of the other. But I say no—pause for emphasis—"no; it is nothing of the sort. It is exactly the contrary."

Those Brave Americans

"The rapidly increasing divorce rate," remarked the newcomer, "proves that America is fast becoming the land of the free."

ASPIRIN

Beware of Imitations!

Unless you see the "Bayer Cross" on package or on tablets you are not getting the genuine Bayer Aspirin proved safe by millions and prescribed by physicians over twenty-three years for

Neuralgia	Pain, Pain

Accept "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" only. Each unbroken package contains proven directions. Handy boxes of twelve tablets cost few cents. Drugists also sell bottles of 24 and 100. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.

Trichinosis, is a painful and often fatal disease, is caused by a small parasite that is sometimes present in pork. The trichina parasite is so small that it can only be seen with a microscope and hogs harboring it show no symptoms nor does the diseased pork appear different from pork not diseased. All pork should be thoroughly cooked before eating as that is the only sure way of ridding the meat of the disease.

Pimples Cause Despondency

Girls and boys, too, who are subject to disfiguring skin blemishes imagine all sorts of weird things. It even causes many to go to extremes in their pitiful predicament.

The worst fault it leads to is using just anything which promises them relief from their condition, which often makes their trouble worse. Never put anything on your skin which has not been proven by the test of time and public opinion to be right. In this connection the phenomenal success of the Ointment which is labeled with the Black and White trade mark of highest quality at low, popular prices, offers sufferers from skin diseases the one reliable and dependable means of relief and restoration of their skin to that clear, smooth and lovely condition it was in their youth.

Black and White Ointment is economically priced, in liberal size packages. The 50c size contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have it.

"Quit binding the Bible in black," says Dr. Charles M. Sheldon, author of "In His Steps." He is setting an example in a compilation of what he regards the essential parts of the Bible, now being published in the East, on which he has asked the publishers to use attractive binding. The book is compiled from the American revised version and represents work in spare evenings for the past twenty years.

THEATRES MOVIES

ALL STAR CAST IN FILM AT MAEROY

Gerald C. Duffy's story, "The Spider and the Rose" is richer in entertainment value than a majority of the stories that reach the screen in present day productions and therein lies the success of the film version as presented at the Maeroy Theatre today. "The Spider and the Rose" is rich in all the ingredients that go to make up a swift moving story that never lets down for a moment and allows full sway for the dramatic ability of the several players who appear in it.

The cast of "The Spider and the Rose" is one of the best seen from this studio in a long time. Not a single part was slighted by the director, John McDermott. A galaxy of stars seldom seen in pictures together are set in a background of picturesque beauty that makes "The Spider and the Rose" reach out and clutch at the heartstrings in a novel way.

Movie fans who like plenty of action served with their cinema entertainment will get a bargain in this picture. Gaston Glass, the leading man, is on the go every minute and is called upon to display his ability as a horseman, swordsman, fighter, and gentleman in rapid succession.

"BROKEN CHAINS," PRIZE STORY AT FOTOSHO TODAY

The motion picture that won the $10,000 prize in the scenario contest conducted by the Chicago Daily News, in which there were 32,000 entries, is being shown at the Fo-to-sho Theatre today. It is called "Broken Chains," and was written by a previously unknown screen author, Miss Winifred Kimball of Apalachicola, Fla., and has been produced by Goldwyn, under the direction and personal supervision of Allen Holubar, one of the best known directors in the business.

Goldwyn gave the director a great cast in winsome Colleen Moore, Malcolm McGregor, the New Jersey youth who renounced a million to become a film actor, Ernest Torrence, Claire Windsor, Beryl Mercer, James Marcus, William Orlamond, Gerald Prinz, Edward Peil and Leo Willis.

"Broken Chains" is a story of regeneration of an Eastern youth who proves a coward when suddenly confronted by danger in this Long Island home. To escape the odium that confronts him, he goes to his ranch in the Redwood district of California and there meets and falls in love with Morye Boone, the pitiful young wife of a brutal giant who keeps her chained in his lonely cabin. The youth champions the girl, even after having been brutally beaten up by her husband. He returns for a final conflict with Boone who meets his death in the trap which he had set for the youthful champion. The picture is said to be most realistic and at the same time inspiring—a photodrama that appeals irresistibly to the heart and ranks high in the season's achievements on the screen.

IT'S EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAYING HAIR

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

Once the remaining 1,400 pounds comes to the surface, it takes 126 pounds to get the coal from the mine to the boiler room. There 446 pounds float up the smoke-stack in waste gases, fifty-one pounds escape in radiation and another fifty-one in the ash pit. The amount lost converting heat energy into mechanical energy is 650 pounds, leaving the remaining seventy-six pounds really to accomplish productive.

SAYS FISHING DISTURBS CATTLE

Oreland Sims was in the city Friday from Paint Rock and called on The Ledger to have a notice to the public printed asking people not to fish in his pasture near Paint Rock until further notice.

"We regret to have to put up the fence against our friends," said Mr. Sims, "but we have quite a bunch of big steers on feed on the river, and the cattle remain close to the water, and parties fishing, hunting and camping in the pasture keep the cattle disturbed."

Mr. Sims stated that they had about 1100 steers, four years old and up, fattening them for market, and as soon as the cattle were out of the way, notice would be given and the folks could again enjoy the privileges of picnicking and fishing in the Sims pasture.

Lord Jeffrey's Greeting Was Very Affectionate

Among the recently discovered unpublished letters of Jane Welsh Carlyle, which Leonard Huxley has edited and which are appearing in the Century Magazine, is this description of Jeffrey's amorous salutation:

"While we were sitting very peacefully together Lord Jeffrey and Mr. Empson were announced—I sprang up delighted, of course, to see Jeffrey, who had not warned me of his coming to town. He having a strong natural tendency for cuddling people (without the slightest earthly harm in it) and taking advantage of his being now near 70 years of age to indulge this innocent taste to the fullest extent, took me all in his arms as usual—regardless of the presence of Plattinauer, Empson and Helen (as indeed he would have done the same before twenty starched dowagers) and gave me one kiss after another, not on the brow or any of those delicate spots, but plump on my lips!—calling me 'my darling Jeanie!—my sweet child! my dear love!'"

"Now all this was nothing at all for Empson or myself, or any one that knows Jeffrey's ways and that knows his age—and that knows the sort of paternal affection he has entertained for me upwards of fifteen years. But if you will just look at it with Plattinauer's eyes. He reeled across the floor and bade me morning with a look significant of much! I have heard since that he went from here to Elizabeth to compliment her on the extraordinary character of Scotch salutations as illustrated in the meeting he had just witnessed betwixt Lord Jeffrey and Mrs. Carlyle.

"Elizabeth begged him for God's sake not to take the practices of Lord Jeffrey and Mrs. Carlyle as a specimen of the national manner—but, said she, 'I tried to comfort him by the assurance that Lord Jeffrey was seventy, which he would not, however, believe, for he was quite struck with his handsomeness! Certainly if he had got that view of the subject the procedure was perfectly awful!'"
