TRAIN CRUSHES BUS; FOURTEEN ARE DEAD

(By Associated Press)
NEWPORT NEWS, Nov. 4.—Only four of the fifteen persons in a bus which was struck by a Chesapeake & Ohio passenger train late yesterday on a blind crossing in Northampton, remained alive today, and only one of these is thought to have any chance to recover. Physicians hold out some hope for an infant which was in the party. Eight of the bus occupants were dead when rescuers arrived on the scene of the accident, and three others died shortly afterwards.

CAR TURNS OVER; SEVERAL HURT

An auto wreck about two miles from Ballinger on the new Ballinger-Winters highway about 2:30 Monday afternoon resulted in painful injury to one of the occupants and slight injury to others. Mrs. Ernest Adami, of Winters, spent Monday night in the Halley & Love sanitarium and was removed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Afflerbach Tuesday morning. Mrs. August Spill Sr., and Mrs. E. Spill and child were slightly injured, but were able to return to their home at Winters late Monday.

The party named above was en route to Ballinger to visit relatives traveling in a Ford sedan, when the car ran off the dump on the new road, lost its balance and toppled over. Fortunately the sedan was being driven at a slow rate at the time. The driver pulled too far to one side of the road and the car lost its balance before the driver could regain the grade. It was also fortunate that at the point where the car left the road the dump was not very high.

FLYNT GOES AFTER THIEF AND AUTO

Sheriff Flynt left Tuesday afternoon for Tulsa, Oklahoma, where he went to get C. E. Baker, held on a charge of stealing an automobile in Ballinger during the Runnels County Fair, and also to bring back the stolen car.

The auto, a Ford roadster, belonging to R. J. Macken, of the Stroble Market, was stolen on the last day of the fair. The car was located in Tulsa last week, a man by the name of C. E. Baker, driving the machine. Baker was arrested. According to reports received by the sheriff's department here he had not disposed of the car, apparently stealing it for his own use, or had not been able to dispose of it. It is not known who Baker is, but it is believed he was here with some of the carnival attractions, decided to leave the country and chose the auto route as the best way to get out.

H. T. Hodge, of Abilene, and J. H. Hodge, of Winters were joined here by W. D. Seales Sunday and all left for a hunting trip in the turkey country through counties Southwest of Ballinger.

Mrs. T. L. Todd, of the May-erick country, was in the city Monday looking after business and visiting her son Henry.

COL. NASWORTHY DIES AT ANGELO

(By Associated Press)
SAN ANGELO, Nov. 4.—Col. John Nasworthy, age 76, prominent retired ranchman and resident of Tom Green county since 1872, died at his home here today.

Col. Nasworthy served in a number of public capacities and was one of the outstanding figures in the development of this section of West Texas.

POLLS CLOSE AT VARIOUS HOURS

Election returns promise to come thick and fast tonight. The Ledger will receive a double service, the Associated Press and the Texas Election Bureau, both supplying this paper with bulletins from state and national elections. Just how fast the returns come in depends on the speed election boards throughout the country make in counting the ballots.

The first bulletins from the national election will probably be flashed over the wires by 6:00 o'clock. In some of the Eastern states the polls close as early as 5:30, which will be 4:30 Ballinger time.

In addition to the rapid fire reports to be furnished The Ledger by the news gathering organizations over the Western Union, the independent broadcasting stations plan to pick up reports from bulletin boards to feed them to the ether.

People who own receiving sets, and who wish to depend on the radiophone for the election reports, can sit around their own fireside and tune in. The Weeks drug store and the Strain drug store will be tuned in to pick up any reports which might be radiating thru the air. The reports received by the newspapers throughout the country will be earlier and more complete than the radio reports, as the broadcasting stations must get their returns from bulletins posted by the news papers.

It is interesting to note the variations in hours for closing the polls in the different states throughout the nation. In South Carolina and Kentucky the polls close at 4:00 p. m. In Tennessee, South Dakota and several other states the polls close at 5:00 o'clock, while in other states the polls close at 5:30, 6:00, 7:00, 8:00, and in Minnesota the polls do not close until 9:00 o'clock. The States observing the 8:00 o'clock closing hour include Massachusetts, Michigan, Nebraska, Oregon, Rhode Island, Utah, and Washington.

Most of the states observe the 6:00 o'clock closing hour, but Illinois, South Dakota, Vermont, and Tennessee quit voting at 5:00 o'clock. In the Hawaiian Islands the polls close at 5:00 o'clock.

The hour for closing the voting in Arkansas and Florida, is fixed at "sundown." In North Carolina and West Virginia the voting ceases at "sunset."

There are 111,092 voting precincts in the United States. Ohio leads with 8,409 precincts; Pennsylvania comes second with 8,169 and New York third, with 7,568 voting boxes. Connecticut is the smallest with 169. Texas has 4,462 voting precincts. New York city has the largest number of voting precincts of any city, 2,975; and Chicago comes second with 2,584.

At 3:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon it was indicated that the vote in this county would figure around sixty-five per cent, or probably a little less, of the vote polled in the August primary when a record breaking vote was recorded.

Parties coming to town from the rural precincts reported that the voting was light, while at the Ballinger boxes the poll lists were running far behind the August vote. In Ballinger No. 1 only 308 votes had been polled up to 3:00 o'clock. Box No. 24 had registered 231 votes up to 3:00 o'clock, while the total for the August election in the two boxes was more than one thousand.

MAN SHOT AT POLLING PLACE

DALLAS, Nov. 4.—With generally fair weather prevailing throughout the state today, and the voters worked up to the highest political pitch in any general election ever held in this state, Texans are today choosing between Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, Democratic nominee, and Dr. Geo. C. Butte, Republican nominee, for Governor.

Under the generally ideal weather conditions men and women voters of Texas were flocking to the polls today in unusually large numbers, according to reports from all the larger cities and counties. Should the rush to the polls continue throughout the day it was predicted that the vote would exceed 600,000.

No excitement or untoward incident had been reported up to noon, and voting was being carried on at the 4,462 voting boxes of the state with perfect order prevailing up to the noon hour, so far as reports received by the Associated Press indicated.

Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, the Democratic nominee and her husband, James E. Ferguson, voted at Temple; while Dr. George C. Butte, Republican nominee, and his wife, cast their ballots at Austin.

WHAT CAN PIMPLY FACE?

BOYS AND GIRLS EXPECT

No body knows better than the boy or girl who has been slighted time and again by their supposed "best friend," how humiliating it is to have to stand for such "cutting" things when they know they can expect nothing more as long as they don't look attractive on account of a pimply, blotchy or rough skin.

But such heartaches don't have to be put up with. Any boy or girl who is troubled with these skin blemishes can get rid of them if they will just use Black and White Ointment and the Soap. Nine million acres of hunting grounds, woodland and waterways, where moose roams by the thousands, is what New Brunswick offers the hunter. Into this province each autumn pours a stream of hunters, each of whom is determined to bring back a pair of enormous antlers. Most of them do. A French writer tells us that during the French occupation, 250 years ago, as many as 3,000 moose hides were brought down the St. John River in a single season. Tradition holds the story of a raft loaded with 141 carcasses, that floated down the Tobique to furnish the makings of a huge barbecue. Those were days of unbridled license in hunting. Today, wise game laws protect the forest moose fairly well, except for a weeks each fall, he is immune from legal killing. During the 8 weeks Mr. Moose must play his strategy and cunning against gun-laden men. The legal protection insures the perpetuation of these royal sport. One may plunge into a New Brunswick wilderness at many points and come out with a wounded moose, but the better known districts are along the Miramichi, Restigouche, Tantramar, Nepisiguit, St. Croix, St. John and Madawaska Rivers, where both moose and guides flourish. The Nepisiguit claims the honor of having produced one of the last heads ever taken out of Canada. It was taken in 1917 and has well formed antlers with a spread of 72 inches and 27 points. This trophy fell to the lot of an Ontario hunter and two other fine heads with spreads of 68½ and 66 inches fell to Rhode Island and New Hampshire men. Two methods are followed in moose hunting—calling and stalk ing. The first is practised during the first weeks of the hunting sea son and makes advantage of the mating instinct to lure the bull moose to sudden death while re deyng bound. The other method is often termed "still hunting" and calls into play the highest art of hunter and guide to get within shooting distance, for a moose's sense of smell is very keen and the faintest scent of man sends him plunging out of reach. Cows and calf moose are protected at all times, so too, are bulls under three years of age.

The season for moose hunting in New Brunswick is Oct. 1st to Nov. 30th, and the bag limit is one bull moose and two deer, per hunter.

THE BALLINGER LEDGER

DAIRY

PURE BRED SIRE IS QUITE IMPORTANT

Most of us know that the bull is more than half the herd and most of us appreciate the fact that only a pure bred bull should be used at the head of the herd, but often we fail to consider the fact that pure bred bulls may be classed into good sires and scrub sires. Just because a bull is pure bred is no reason why he is perfectly suitable for use in any herd. The bull used must be absolutely the best individual in the herd; he must be a little better-bred animal and a little better individual than any of the cows, otherwise how can improvement be made?

The pure bred breeders will do well to only offer good, straight bulls for sale and the man who is building up a good grade herd cannot expect to do it with a poor individual at its head. Avoid the sale of or selection of bulls that are badly off type—bulls that are sloping on the rump, cut in at the heart, low in the back or plain in the head. Select good individuals and further, select a better bred bull than any of the cows. Bulls with production records back of them are the best bets for improving the quality of the herd.

The pure bred breeder will do well to pay particular attention to the selection of the sire, securing an animal that is bred along the same lines as his cows, in order to intensify one line of breeding and secure additional production in a shorter period of time. No single factor in herd improvement is more important than the selection of the sire.—H. R. Lascelles, Field Man, Colorado State Dairy Commission.

Feed Dairy Calf Grain in Addition to Pasture

Dairy heifers under a year old should get some grain in addition to pasture, and calves less than six months old should have both skim milk and grain along with pasture to get best results. A good many dairy heifers are slow to develop into milk producers, because they are neglected during the summer months and left to make all of their growth on pasture alone.

C. S. Rhode of the University of Illinois recommends 20 parts of ground corn, 30 parts of ground oats, 30 parts of wheat bran and 10 parts of oil meal to make a good grain mixture for calves. A good quality legume hay, such as clover or alfalfa, makes a fine roughage for growing animals, since it contains a rather large amount of protein and lime for bone-building. Many dairymen find it worth while to have cool, dark quarters during the hot summer, where calves can be protected from the heat and flies.

Good Cure for Abnormal Appetite Being Tested

Experiments now being carried on by the university department of agriculture indicate that steamed bone-meal fed in the ration will relieve, if not cure, the disorders known as abnormal appetite among dairy cattle.

Six cattle owners in a western Minnesota county where depraved appetite has been common among farm animals have been co-operating with the Minnesota university since early last winter in feeding steamed bone-meal to the 119 cows in their herds. As a result, last winter was the first that the cattle had not chewed bones and hoofs. All the cows came through in good physical condition, and the calves born in the six herds are strong and vigorous.

The results have been checked up and reported by a university representative and the county agent. All the herds are located on prairie soil typical of the region under investigation by the dairymen and chemists of the university.—Minnesota Extension Service News.

Dairy Hints

Ship cream in five-gallon cans.

Clean the cows before each milking.

After the cream is separated, cool immediately.

Wash dairy utensils with alkali powder. Do not use soap.

Strain the milk through a cheese-cloth or cotton strainer.

Do not turn cows on pastures with no shade trees during the middle of the day.

The farmer selling whole milk cannot afford to raise calves entirely on whole milk.

Don't sacrifice a fall calf from a choice dairy cow. Give it good care and it will be ready to go to pasture in the spring not far behind the earlier calves in growth.

Those who use milking machines will avoid trouble if they thoroughly sterilize the machines with steam or boiling water, taking particular care to see that the tubes are clean.

Unique Race in Film Coming to the Fo-to-sho

SAYS JOHN BARRYMORE GREATEST ACTOR-LOVER

Before a wildly cheering mob of a thousand spectators, six teams of bicycle riders recently staged the first six day race ever run in the West, in the specially built track at the Paramount West Coast studio.

The race was the feature event of "Open All Night," one of the Paramount's "Famous Forty," which is coming Wednesday and Thursday to the Fo-to-sho Theatre. Viola Dana, Jetta Goudal, Adolphe Menjou, Raymond Griffith, Maurice B. Flynn and Gale Henry head the featured cast, and all of them appeared either in the stands or on the track while the camera turned.

Flynn, famous as a Yale Varsity full-back, raced against some of the Southwest's best athletes—and won by a safe margin.

The set was an exact duplicate of the Winter Circus track in Paris; where the six-day race is an annual sport event of magnitude. It is this race that plays an important part in "Open All Night."

Voice amplifiers were used by Paul Bern, the producer, in directing the scene. Altogether, well over a thousand persons witnessed a race unique in the annals of sport in Los Angeles.

JOHN BARRYMORE
IN BEAU BRUMMEL
WARNER BROS.

Who is the greatest lover on the screen?

Much discussion has been aroused among Hollywood actresses on the subject and Carmel Myers claims to have the most popular candidate for the honor.

He is John Barrymore, whom Miss Myers supports in "Beau Brummel," which is showing today and tonight only at the Maeroy Theatre.

Says Carmel: "Speaking entirely impersonally and professionally, John Barrymore is the greatest lover on the screen. There is a certain finesse, a certain polish to Mr. Barrymore's love-making that I have never encountered before among leading men in pictures."

"There is a sureness on Mr. Barrymore's part that I could well understand to be irresistible. It is indeed rather hypnotic. He makes love with a definite understanding of how to go about it. His is not the wild, passionate flare that takes you off your feet, nor yet the mild, hesitating kind that bores one."

"John Barrymore can well be their beautiful home on Eighth Street."

"Beau Brummel," which is phrased the Hall-of-fame motif, showing today and tonight only Yellow chrysanthemums were at the Maeroy Theatre, is the used in abundance throughout the screen adaptation of the famed Clyde Fitch play, made into a basket of these chosen flowers. Warner Bros.' classic of the screen. LEGION LAUNCH NEW YEAR'S WORK

In an enthusiastic meeting where perfect harmony prevailed, the fiscal year's work of the Pat Williams Post, American Legion was brought to a close with the reading and adoption of the various reports, and the new year's work launched by the election of new officers Sunday afternoon.

The meeting was called to order by retiring Post Commander J. M. Simmons. The annual reports as read and adopted showed that the local post had accomplished much towards building a greater ex-service men's organization. The membership showed only a slight gain over the previous year the total membership at the close of the last year being 151 while for the year just closed the membership totalled 156.

According to the report during the past year the Legionnaires have devoted much time and money towards aiding unfortunate "buddies." The sick and helpless former service men had been aided financially and otherwise. The local post has assisted 225 ex-service men in perfecting their claims for adjusted insurance compensation under the bill passed by the last congress. The post had been called on to conduct only one funeral, that of U. P. Davis, an ex-service man.

During the year the Pat Williams Post entertained the district meeting, and the meeting here last July with a large delegation present from over the 17th district was declared to have been the best held in the district.

The finance officer's report disclosed that total receipts of the post for the year amounted to $3,808.70, with total disbursements for all causes placed at $3,687.04 with possibly some monthly bills to be paid. Among the activities of the post during the year was the placing of more than one hundred flags among the business firms of the city.

The post expended about $400 for new furniture for its club rooms during the year. Several Americanization meetings were held in the rural districts of the county, and the Legionnaires took part in other patriotic meetings.

With the exception of two minor offices, the new officers for the ensuing year were elected without opposition, being chosen by acclamation and on a unanimous vote and the new officers are as follows:

Troy Simpson, post commander; M. C. Atkins, adjutant; M. H. Boynton, first vice commander; G. W. Cope, of Norton, second vice-commander; Hubert Haley, of Bronte, third vice-commander; Henry Vandevanter, fourth vice-commander; A. D. Ritchie, of Talpa, fifth vice-commander; finance officer, Oscar Williams; chaplain, Rev. E. W. McLaurin; historian, K. V. Northington; sergeant-at-arms, Frank Cameron.

The question of changing the meeting time from Sunday afternoon to some week-day night was brought up for discussion again. There had been some objection to meeting on Sunday, and after a general discussion the post voted unanimously to change the meeting date to the second Monday night in each month, and only one regular meeting will be held each month, instead of two as heretofore. Social features will be added to the regular business program, and an effort made to increase the attendance.

Among the committees appointed was a committee to arrange a program for the Armistice Day observance and it was announced that a program would be announced within the next few days. The business men will not be asked to suspend business. If they close for the program it must come as a voluntary move, but this should be done for the short time which it will require to carry out the program on the school campus where a flag will be presented to the schools and where short exercises will be carried out.

The Pat Williams Post will support the Legion Auxiliary in the annual poppy sale, and just how strong they will support was demonstrated when a move was started to advertise the poppy sale. More than $20 in cash was placed on the table within two minutes with which to pay for advertising the sale of poppies.

While not the largest in attendance, the meeting was one of the most enthusiastic and harmonious ever held by the local post, and the ex-service men went on record as standing for everything that was for the right and opposing that which was wrong, and all pledged themselves to work for the American Legion and make Post No. 8 one of the strongest in Texas.

The American Legion meetings are open to visitors, and the Legionnaires welcome those who wish to attend. Your presence occasionally will encourage the work.

the final pleas of the three major aspirants for the presidency. The Republican and Democratic nominees, Calvin Coolidge and John W. Poultry Hints

Do not breed from mongrels. Keep only one breed.

If the floor is damp the litter should be covered with four to six inches of litter at all times.

The litter on the floor should be kept clean. It should be changed at least every three months. Dirty litter is very unsanitary as well as unsightly.

The nesting material should be cleaned at least once every two months and the nests well sprayed with disinfectant. Mites and disease germs find good resting place in dirty nests.

Broodiness is inherited and can be reduced by not breeding from the hens which are broody more than once in a year.

More and more eggs are being bought on a quality basis. Do not set eggs which are off in shape, color, or texture of shell.

Turkeys need an abundance of fresh, pure water. If they can't get it from the brook spring or horse trough, keep a bucket full of fresh water in a shaded place.
