Louisville, Ky., May 8.—Bridget McConaugh, a servant girl in the Galt House, endeavored to leap from the elevator, while in motion. Her head struck the gateway, causing the gate to fall, breaking her neck.

The initial number of the Wellington Semi-Weekly Vidette, edited by Will Quigley, Democratic in politics, and, by the way, a most readable paper, is on our table, and we take pleasure in adding it to our exchange list.

The National Woman's Suffrage Convention was in session last week, in St. Louis. Elizabeth Cady Stanton was elected President for the ensuing year; and Susan B. Anthony was elected Vice President at large.

Two young men, August Miller, and John Miller, friends but not relatives, attempted suicide at Burlington, Iowa, May 8. The former was successful, having used a pistol, and the latter used a knife, with probable fatal effect.

A Syracuse school mistress thought to puzzle her juvenile class, and asked them where all the pins go. A little boy replied that all the other boys bent 'em, and laid 'em on the seats; but he didn't want to tell where they went.

In the game of French caroms six hundred points, between Rudolph Haier, at Boston, May 8, and Geo. Stone, of Providence, the latter being allowed fifteen points Haier won. His highest run was 476, the greatest on record. He averaged 374.

The Legislature of New Hampshire, at its meeting in June, will elect a United States Senator. Wm. E. Chandler is a candidate, and rumor gives him a good deal of strength. His soundness of radical faith is beyond controversy. That was tested down in Florida.

The President regards with great solicitude the situation of affairs in the Indian Territory. High army officers, however, agreeing with General Sheridan, anticipate no difficulty in executing the order of the War Department. The military force for the service has been increased.

While Leonard Chamberlain, Deputy Sheriff of Albany county, New York, was serving a process to disposses John Frederick, at East Berne, in this county, he was shot down and fatally wounded while acting under the direction of Col. W. S. Church, who has charge of the Manoral lands.

Two colored men named Tom Jones, alias Satter White, and Henry McSeed, alias Cantille, were hung May 9, at Appony, Columbia county, Ga. Jones killed a colored woman in 1876. Jealousy was the cause. McSeed waylaid and killed his son last November, because he believed him guilty of stealing from him.

The Democracy of Kentucky have put the following ticket in the field: For Governor, Luke P. Blackburn; for Lieut. Governor, Jas. E. Cantrell; Attorney General, P. Wat. Hardin; Auditor, Gen. Fayettee Hewitt; Treasurer, James W. Tate; Superintendent of Public Instruction, Joseph Desha Pickett; Register of Land Office, Ralph Sheldon.

About 11:30 a. m. as the elevator to the Tremont House, Chicago, May 8th, was leaving the second story and descending, Mrs. Henry Lightner, of Peoria, who had just left, by some unaccountable means slipped and fell, and her head coming between the floor and the descending arch of the elevator, was crushed so terribly that the lady died in a few minutes thereafter.

Chief Moses and five other chiefs of Oregon passed through Omaha on the 28th ult., en route home, having made satisfactory terms with the government at Washington. Moses had a new reservation assigned for him and the tribes under him who wish to go with him. The reservation is along the Columbia river. The Umatillas, Cayuse and Walla Walla are to have one hundred and sixty acres for each family, in their own right.

Fitchburg, Mass., May 10.—Francis E. Hayden was arrested this morning charged with poisoning his sister. He plead not guilty. Young Hayden's father died April 19th, and his mother April 16th, both after a sickness of a few days. His sister was sick only a few hours. Hayden's father's property amounted to about $8,500 but the daughter holds notes against the estate for money advanced to pay the expenses of young Hayden at the Boston university, so that his share would be less than $2,000.

One of our subscribers said to us, the other day: "You came very near getting out a Greenback paper, last week." The COURANT has been an advocate of the "rag baby," as paper money is called, from our first issue; and no more so last week than at any other time, though we may have been better understood, last week, than heretofore. The commerce of the world is getting to be too great to be carried on by means of a metallic currency alone, and the times demand a paper currency, and the sooner the law-making authorities come to this conclusion the more prosperous will the people be.

F. M. Ramsey, United States Deputy Marshal, charged with killing one Lightfoot, was tried in the Federal court at Louisville, May 9th, on a writ of habeas corpus and discharged. Ramsey was moved from the custody of the civil authorities by order of the United States court. Judge Ballard delivered a lengthy verbal opinion. The substance was that the court had jurisdiction of the matter in question, having heretofore heard a statement of facts in the case, and that it was not necessary to state to them that Ramsey was again discharged from custody, and the next step would doubtless be a bench warrant from the Warren county court of common pleas, when it shall again assemble.

The President sent a message to the House, May 13, vetoing the bill to prevent the military from being at the polls on election day. Perhaps he wrote it, like the other, without consulting his Cabinet. A vote was taken on the same day to pass the bill over the President's veto, and it was lost by a vote of 127 for the bill to 97 against it. So we are to have United States bayonets at the polls to dictate who shall and who shall not vote, and for whom they shall vote. The Democrats, through their representatives in Congress, have spoken in favor of free elections; while the Republicans, through their representatives in Congress and a Republican President, have spoken, in equally as solemn tones, in favor of military interference at the polls. The party lines have been distinctly drawn on this subject; and so let the issue be in the next Presidential campaign.

STATE GIBLETS.

Recent rains in Central Kansas have done a great deal of good.

A hail storm in McPherson county, recently, did much damage to wheat and other property.

May 10, Charles Caldwell was stabbed and killed in a saloon in Leavenworth, by Joseph Blanchard.

The State Medical Society met in Atchison, May 13, with nearly three hundred physicians in attendance.

The libel suit of Charles F. Jenkins, of Kirwin, against the Leavenworth Times for $10,000 has been dismissed.

The Central Branch of the Union Pacific railroad was completed to Cawker City, 204 miles west of Atchison, May 12.

The Kansas editors will go to Mackinaw Straits on their annual excursion, which comes off the latter part of June.

Joshua Bogue, insane, confined in the county jail at Emporia, was killed, May 11, by Matt. Doster, another insane man, confined in the next cell.

A seven-year-old child belonging to a family from Bates county, Mo., was recently killed by the bite of a rattlesnake near Cimarron, in Foote county.

A legal contest over a calf valued at five dollars, in Bourbon county, cost $800, and one of the contestants had to sell his farm to pay the cost.

The Lawrence Standard says: "Kansas has better lands than the Indian Territory and a far healthier and pleasanter climate—so says a citizen of Lawrence who has lived both in the Territory and Kansas."

The Holton Recorder has information of the murder of J. F. Wyatt, once a citizen of Jackson county, a few days ago, between Ft. Scott and Kansas City, while taking some cattle to the latter place from Colorado. He was murdered for his money.

COTTONWOOD FALLS, KAS., FRIDAY, MAY 16, 1879.

According to the Texas papers, the wheat harvest has already begun in some parts of that State.

The House Committee on Foreign Affairs has appointed a subcommittee, consisting of Messrs. Wilson, King and Robeson, to consider the practicability of entering into additional treaty relations with Mexico.

The Legislature of Texas has enacted the Moffet Bell-Punch law, to take effect on and after October 1st.

The Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections took up the case of Senator Ingalls, May 3, and, at his request, granted him permission to file an answer to the charges made that he secured his election by bribery.

Portable gas is sold and delivered in England like milk. People in the country and in villages receive it in copper vessels from large cities.

An Indiana Republican journal alludes to the school house as an effectual antidote to Democracy. How does it happen that Indiana is Democratic, while she has a larger school fund than any other State?

The Atchison Patriot says: "It is very wrong for the Democrats to appoint one of Mosby's lieutenants to a subordinate position; but it is all right for Grant and Hayes to appoint Mosby himself."

Gov. McClellan, of New Jersey, has vetoed a bill giving married women the right to sell their separate property without their husband's consent.

England has a compulsory vaccination law, but an anti-vaccination society has risen up to fight it. The society has two newspapers as organs, a goodly array of notable physicians and surgeons, and an appalling amount of evidence showing that vaccination has been the frightful source of disease much more fatal than small-pox.

The recent veto message was written by Hayes himself, without consulting his Cabinet. We see very little use of the people's being put to the expense of employing a Cabinet, or advisory board, for the President if that officer intends to decide, without their advice, on matters of such grave importance as was contained in the vetoed bill.

What a solid rock the Democratic party presents to labor, currency, and socialistic reformers! What scores of defeats and hundreds of successes it has stood against irremovably! How often in dark days its demise seemed certain, and yet it survives and still lives as if born to never die.

Senator Bruce, colored, of Mississippi, who ought to know more about the real merits of the colored movement at the South than almost anybody else, expresses himself decidedly opposed to it, and intimates a fear that he will have to do a good deal more towards getting the refugees back than he did towards getting them off.

Secretary Gray's First Quarterly Agricultural Report, which, by the way, is one of the most valuable documents ever published in Kansas, shows a curious thing. It shows that there are more plum trees in the more recently settled counties, than in the older ones.

Prof Wilcox has prepared an interesting essay on "War the cause of hard times," showing from official figures that the public debt of the civilized world has trebled in thirty years past, and is now about $25,000,000,000, mainly incurred for war purposes.

There is something characteristic of what is miscalled Christian civilization in the English reception of Cotyway's pleas for peace. Before the battle of Isandula the Zulu King sued for friendship, but his offers were inadmissible.

There is something characteristic of what is miscalled Christian civilization in the English reception of Cotyway's pleas for peace. Before the battle of Isandula the Zulu King sued for friendship, but his offers were inadmissible. After that disaster he again sought peace, but it was "believed to be a ruse."

The recent veto message was written by Hayes himself, without consulting his Cabinet. We see very little use of the people's being put to the expense of employing a Cabinet, or advisory board, for the President if that officer intends to decide, without their advice, on matters of such grave importance as was contained in the vetoed bill.

THE VETO MESSAGE EFFECTUALLY ANSWERED BY EVARTS AND SCHURZ.

By Carl Schurz in 1874: "United States soldiers, with fixed bayonets, decided the case against them, and took them out of the legislative hall by force. I can not, therefore, escape from the deliberate conviction—a conviction conscientiously formed—that the deed done on the 4th of January, in the State House of Louisiana, by the military forces of the United States, constitutes a gross and manifest violation of the Constitution and laws of this republic."

"He who in a place like ours fails to stop, or even justifies a blow at the fundamental laws of the land, makes himself the accomplice of those who strike at the life of the republic and at the liberties of the people."

Prime Minister of President Hayes, in his Cooper Institute speech: "When men vote, and when their chosen officers meet, and when without violence and without demonstration of insurrection they undertake to conduct the affairs of their political government, no soldiers can interfere."

"There are two very distinct firm lines of limitation, which, observed, will protect the machinery of the Government for the people to-day—that is, that the sole intervention of the Federal power within the State authority shall be to suppress violence, and that their office after that shall not assume to go further unless when invited by the supreme authority of the State."

"What use is it to give the purse and the sword to the House of Commons if the King or the President by military power can determine what shall be the constitution of the House of Commons or the House of Congress? And that is what they fought for in England."

"THE MILK IN THE COCONUT" ACCOUNTED FOR. The following expressive epistle, a copy of which an enterprising reporter of the Columbus (Ohio) Democrat obtained at Kenton, the home of the Radical party manager, to whom it was addressed, may be considered to throw some light on the peculiar relations existing between the Radical leaders in the North and the much-quoted sheet referred to:

Kenton, Ohio, May 3.—People who wonder why the Okalona Southern States has so much circulation in the North, and why it is so extensively copied from by the Republican papers, will probably be enlightened by a perusal of the following letter which explains itself.

Office of the Southern States, OKALONA, Miss., April 30, 1879. Gen. J. S. Robinson: The papers have been sent, agreeable to instructions.

The points are made red-hot this week, and all of them will bid hard. It is advisable to have them as extensively copied as possible. We will make them for our Northern exchanges.

Congressman Frye regards it as a great success. We will give them hell according to our circulation. The larger the subscription list the louder the thunder. Yours, with respect, WILL H. KERNAN.

The Gen. J. S. Robinson mentioned in the foregoing, and who has evidently been investing heavily in the States for campaign purposes, is the Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee of Ohio. Congressman Frye needs no special introduction. He does, however, as the Atchison Patriot remarks, need to indulge in an explanation; and this, we trust, he will not postpone.

CHASE COUNTY.

To Those Wanting Information.

Letters reach us, from parties in the East, most daily, asking for information about Chase county. The questions are numerous, and it would require too much labor and money to answer them all. So we have decided to give the advantages offered to farmers, stock raisers and business men as briefly as possible.

In the first place, money is a necessary article in Kansas, as well as elsewhere, and you will need some to commence with. Pluck and energy are, also, necessary articles.

As good land as man ever tilled can be had here for almost nothing. Healthier country can not be found. Winter wheat is an almost sure crop; corn yields largely; other grain as well as anywhere else. To give an idea of the way wheat and corn yields in Chase county, we give the following showing for 1878: Wheat, acreage, 6,013; yield, 132,102 bushels; value of product, $1,038,181. Corn, acreage, 37,070; yield, 1,138,940 bushels; value of product, $227,388.

Irish potatoes yield 80 bushels to the acre, almost daily, asking for information about Chase county. The questions are numerous, and it would require too much labor and money to answer them all.

It is conceded that Chase county is the best location for sheep-growers in Kansas; and we honestly believe it to be a fact. Evidence of competency and practical experience in sheep-raising is as their opinion, that wool of the Merino and other fine varieties can be profitably raised here, at a cost of ten cents a pound. It is believed that finer wool will pay the best, as a great deal of expense is saved by being able to run them in large flocks. There is generally a fair competition for the purchase of wool. Our grasses are good and nutritious, and herbs and shrubs plentiful. Our upland is rolling. The business of sheep growing is bound to be an important one in this county, and the time will soon come when our hills and valleys will be dotted over with sheep, as well as cattle.

Dairy farming is a branch of industry little paid in this county. It costs very little to feed milk cows. Butter and cheese have a ready sale.

Chase county has thirty-six good school-houses, in which school is held, at least, eight months in the year, thus affording better educational facilities than can be found in the older States.

We have Congregational, Catholic, Methodist, United Presbyterian, Quaker, and other religious denominations worshipping in this county.

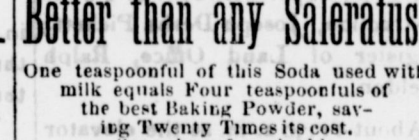

Lodges of Masons, Odd Fellows and other benevolent societies are in flourishing condition in this city. Chase county building stone has justly earned the reputation of being the best in the West, and can be found upon almost every quarter section in the county.

To parties having money to invest in manufacturing establishments we can say that Chase county has from seventy-five to one hundred miles of the best water-power in Kansas, with material to build dams and mills everywhere. The streams are clear and swift-running, with rocky beds. Money invested in utilizing our water-power will yield tenfold.

Chase county has room for a woolen mill, which, we think, would pay. Also, a paper mill and three or four cheese factories. Besides, unlimited room for all other industries.

For any further information, address (enclosing stamp) W. E. TIMMONS, Proprietor of the Courant.

The only organ awarded this rank.

The White

THE EASIEST SELLING; THE BEST SATISFYING Sewing Machine.

Its introduction and world-renowned reputation was the death-blow to high-priced machines.

THEY ARE NO SECOND HAND WHITE MACHINES IN THE MARKET.

It is a very important matter, as it is a well-known and undisputed fact that many of the so-called first-class machines which are offered so cheap now-days are those that have been repossessed (that is, taken back from customers after use) and rebuilt and put upon the market as new.

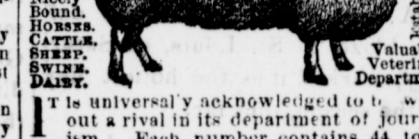

THE WHITE IS THE BEST OF ANY SEWING MACHINE NOW UPON THE MARKET. IT IS MUCH LARGER THAN THE FAMILY MACHINES OF THE SINGER, HOWE AND WELLS MAKE. COSTS MORE TO MANUFACTURE THAN EITHER OF THE FORESAID MACHINES. ITS CONSTRUCTION IS SIMPLE, POSITIVE AND DURABLE.

ITS WORKMANSHIP IS UNSURPASSED. Do not Buy any other before trying THE WHITE.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, and all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

This is a compound remedy, prepared with scientific skill from vegetable ingredients, which rarely fails to cure the most obstinate cases of Ague and Fever and the concomitant disorders. Such a remedy the necessities of the people in malarious districts demand. Its great superiority over any other medicine yet discovered for the cure of Intermittent, Remittent, or Dumb Ague, and the other malarious fevers, is its safety, and its freedom from danger of quinine or any injurious effects, and are as healthy after using it as before. It has been extensively employed during the last thirty years in the treatment of these distressing disorders, and so unvarying has been its success that it has gained the reputation of being infallible. It can, therefore, be safely recommended as a sure remedy and specific for the Fever and Ague of the West, and the Chills and Fever of the South. It counteracts the miasmatic poison in the blood, and frees the system from its influence, so that fever and ague, shakes or chills, once broken up by it, do not return until the disease is again contracted.

The great variety of disorders which arise from the irritation of this poison, such as Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Headache, Blindness, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asthma, Palpitation, Spasmodic Affections, Hysteria, Pain in the Bowels, Colic, Paralysis, and derangement of the Stomach, all of which become intermittent or periodical, have no speedier remedy than AYER'S AGUE CURE, which cures them all alike, and protects the system from future attacks. As a preventive, it is of immense service in those communities where Fever and Ague prevails, as it stays the development of the disease if taken on the first approach of the premonitory symptoms. Travellers and temporary residents are thus enabled to defy these disorders, and few will ever suffer if they avail themselves of the protection this remedy affords.

For Liver Complaints, arising from impurity, it is an excellent remedy; it stimulates the organ into healthy activity, and produces many remarkable cures where other medicines fail.

OLLA PODRIDA.

Rabbits are too numerous and destructive in California that the farmers are being forced to combine for a war of extermination against them.

Train up a child in the way that he shall go, and it may turn out that way in the long run; but all the precept and example ever promulgated can't save him from the sheepish, awkward feeling sure to seize him when he goes sparking the first time. We have no idea how the girl feels.

English newspapers very rarely contain in the obituary column a notice of a funeral, because, except in the case of an eminent public person, it is not desired that any but near relatives or very intimate friends should attend, and men worth a million go to their graves with less pomp and parade than a New York car driver.

Leadville is a good place to stay away from. A correspondent writes from there that it is rightly called 'The Poor Man's Country.' There are more 'poor men' here to the square inch than you can find in any other part of the world.

In China, where the opium habit ruins and destroys many men annually, the efforts of the Government to abolish or diminish the use of opium have recently been more energetic than ever. All these efforts have been in vain, as were those of many previous years. The Pekin Government have at last determined to take the final step in the business, and an edict has been issued, which goes into effect next year, making the use or sale of opium punishable by death.

THE COLORED EXODUS.

Rev. T. W. Henderson, editor of the Topeka Colored Citizen, is intelligent, and as earnest a friend of the race as there is in Kansas or anywhere else. He says in the last issue of the Citizen, in reviewing the exodus question:

First—The reports circulated by unprincipled persons that the colored people coming to Kansas would receive a home free or anything else free is false; everybody in Kansas has to get a home just as they would have to get it anywhere else, except such of them as are willing and prepared to go out upon the frontiers, and run the risk of making a living on the homestead lands given by the Government. We want to tell our people plainly that all the Government land obtainable in Kansas is so far away from the markets as to make them for the poor man exceedingly undesirable. Then we say, Don't come to Kansas expecting to have a home given you; you can only get a home or tract of land in Kansas by buying it; let this be understood. You can buy land at from 3 to 20 dollars per acre.

Secondly—Our advice is never leave home for Kansas without having some money over and above what it takes to pay your transportation, nor then, without some definite plan in your heads as to where you are going and what you mean to do after you get there.

Thirdly—Remember that in Kansas everybody must work or starve. This is a great State for the energetic and industrious, but a fearful poor one for the idle or lazy man; "root hog or die" is the motto here.

DEATH OF JUDGE DELAHAY.

Ex-United States District Judge Mark W. Delahay, of Leavenworth, died, May 9, at about 2 o'clock, a. m., at Kansas City, from the effect of injuries received in falling down a stairway in that city.

Judge Delahay was at one time one of the most prominent men in Kansas. He was one of the old guard of free State men and editor of one of the first free-State papers published in the Territory. He was an active and prominent politician in Illinois before coming to Kansas, and was regarded as one of the ablest political writers in that State. He was an intimate friend of President Lincoln, by whom he was appointed Surveyor General of the State and afterward Judge of the United States District Court of Kansas, which position he resigned about five years ago. Since leaving the bench he has not engaged in any active business. His family consisted of a wife and four children, all living, and all highly esteemed. One son holds a position in the Auditor's office of the Kansas Pacific Railroad, at Kansas City, another is a Lieutenant in the navy, stationed at present near New Orleans, and one of his daughters is the wife of ex-Governor Osborne, of Kansas, now United States Minister to Chili. At the time of his death Judge Delahay was about sixty-five years of age.

HOW TO BREAK.

The following conversation, supposed to be reported verbatim ad litteram, will give an idea how perplexing our use of prepositions with verbs are to foreigners:

"I begin to understand your language better," said a Frenchman to his friend, "but your verbs bother me still, you mix things up so with your prepositions. I saw your friend, Mrs. James, just now," continued he; "she says she intends to break down housekeeping. Am I right, there?"

"Break up housekeeping, she must have said."

"Yes, I remember—break up house-keeping."

"Why does she do that," inquired the listener.

"Because her health is broken into."

"Broken down, you should say."

"Broken down—oh yes. And, indeed since the small-pox has broken up in your city—"

"Broken out, you mean."

"She thinks she will leave it for a few days."

"Indeed! And will she close her house?"

"No; she's afraid it will be broken—broken—how do I say that?"

"Broken into."

"Certainly; it is what I meant to say."

"Is her son to be married soon?"

"No, that engagement is broken—broken—"

"Broken off."

"Ah! I had not heard that. She is very sorry about it. Her son only broke the news down to her last week. Am I right? I am anxious to speak the English well."

"He merely broke the news; no preposition this time."

"It is hard to understand. That young man, her son, is a fine fellow—a breaker, I think."

"A breaker, and a very fine fellow. Good day."

So much for the verb to break.

REFINED LANGUAGE.

Men and women should acquire in early life the habit of using good language, both in speaking and in writing and also avoid the use of slang words and phrases. The longer they live the more difficult the acquisition of good language will be and if the golden age of youth, the proper time for the acquisition of language be passed in abuse, the unfortunate victim is very properly doomed to talk slang for life. Money is not necessary to procure this education. Every person has it in his power. He has to use the language which he reads instead of the slang which he hears; to form taste from the best speakers and poets of the country; to trea-ure up choice phrases in his memory and habituate himself to their use, and at the same time avoid that pedantic precision and bombast which show rather the weakness of ambition than the polish of an educated mind.

POST OFFICE MATTERS.

Postmaster-General Key has recently issued the following circular, which is of interest to all: "Owing to the rapid increase in our mails, and the establishment of many new postoffices throughout the country, this department finds it necessary, in order to secure a speedy transmission of the heavy mails now passing particularly over the trunk lines of railroads, to request the public that in all cases the name of the county as well as the postoffice and State, be subscribed upon letters, newspapers and other matter forwarded by mail."

DISTRICT COURT. S. R. PETERS, JUDGE.

The Chase County District Court, now sitting, has disposed of the following cases since our last report: State of Kansas vs. C. S. Newkirk, assault and battery; verdict, not guilty. State of Kansas vs. Geo. Mann and Thomas Morton, assault and battery; dismissed.

THE CURRENCY QUESTION. Notwithstanding the fact that thousands of our people are worrying themselves almost to death over the vexed question, even to the extent of neglecting their business, their homes and their duties to their families, there are still thousands upon thousands of smart, hard working, intelligent men pouring into the great Arkansas Valley, the Garden of the West, where the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad offers them their choice of 2,500,000 acres of the finest farming land in the world at almost their own prices.

OPINIONS OF KANSAS. Kansas always favorably impresses an intelligent and unbiased visitor. The following extracts from the press of the United States, necessarily brief, will serve to give some idea of the general verdict. The uniform judgment of so many men essentially taken from all parts of the country, is the best possible evidence of the substantial resources and attractions of Kansas.

The climate of Kansas is always temperate and agreeable. Our letters speak of Northwestern Kansas as being beyond praise. The motto of Western Kansas should be ne plus ultra.

From all reports Northwestern Kansas stands first in energy and productiveness. No spot in the west appears to please so many people as Western Kansas. For vegetables, cereals and grasses, I believe there is no better soil in the world. Comment us to the people of Western Kansas and say we would like to be with them.

There is yet room in Western Kansas, and we advise the colony now forming to settle there.

As a whole the most equitable and desirable of any portion of the universe is Kansas. The cars are filled with people bound West, and for one to any other place, fifty are going to Kansas. The natural grasses of Kansas are more nutritious and better relished by stock than the cultivated grasses of the East.
