Issued every Thursday.

This week's Leader says: "The heavier the tax on real estate the more rent the tenant has to pay, and it is just so with every thing else." Then, it follows, when the importer pays his tariff taxes he makes his calculations that the consumer will make good his extra expenses in the transaction.

Marshall Field, the greatest Chicago merchant, stated in Washington the other day that he considered the Dingley bill the worst tariff measure he ever saw. And Marshall Field's influence helped McKinley to his great majority in Chicago last November.

Lowelling says the accusations of bribery against him are the outgrowth of a conspiracy to blacken his character and force him out of his position as railroad commissioner. The ex-governor may be innocent; we hope he is. But it is evident he has neglected Saint Paul's admonition to avoid even the appearance of evil. The published facts look exceedingly dark.—Eureka Messenger.

Some of the Republican papers are crowing over the fact that there is a surplus of $9,000,664 in the first month of McKinley's administration. What of it? It merely means that capitalists are making heavy importations of foreign goods to get the advantage in prices that will come after the Dingley bill is passed, and the imports will fall off proportionately afterward.—Eureka Messenger.

It depends on whose ox is gored. It is reported that President McKinley was much refreshed by his trip down the Potomac on the dispatch boat, Dolphin. When Grover used to refresh himself in like manner it moved the Republican organs to spasms and they called the President a drunken wretch who made the government pay the cost of his unholy dissipations. Not a Republican journal has criticized McKinley. Draw your own conclusions.

What a logic, what reason, what notice is there in leaving hides on the tree list while a heavy tax is imposed on wool? As a believer in free raw materials and a tariff for revenue only the Messenger thinks both hides and wool should be untaxed, but why do Mr. Dingley and Mr. McKinley make sharp and discriminating distinction between the sheep raiser and the cattleman? Is it because the wool growers' association is an organized political force and made heavy contributions to Mark Hanna's campaign.—Eureka Messenger.

The bribery investigation discloses the fact that there were some very bad Pops in Topeka, last winter, and also the further fact that their corrupt practices are not endorsed by the Populist party. However, one of the greatest defects of that organization in the past has been its poor judgment in selecting leaders, and we hope the present experience will prove a useful lesson. Because a man goes up and down the country howling against Wall street and plutocrats it does not necessarily follow that he is a patriot or even an ordinarily honest man. Character often counts for more than platform and the Pops will have to realize it or quit the business.—Eureka Messenger.

KANSAS DEMOCRATIC EDITORS MEET.

The annual meeting of the State Democratic Editorial Fraternity met in Lawrence, Tuesday, April 13th, with twenty members present. In the forenoon an informal business meeting was held and after dinner Joseph Lowe, editor of the Washington, Palladium, introduced the following preamble and resolutions, which are adopted by a rising vote:

WHEREAS A Democrat of National renown, one wise in the councils of the party, one whose judgment upon party questions was sought and heeded and whose knowledge of the wants of self-governing people was conceded, has been called from his virtuous life by the decree of the Governor and Ruler of all parties.

Therefore, we, the members of the Democratic Editorial Fraternity of Kansas in annual convention assembled, do hereby express our profound sorrow in the death of that National Democrat, the Hon. D. W. Voorhees, who tall synonyme of the "Washington," he belonged not to Indiana, but to the country, and we hereby express to the surviving members of the family that sympathy common to all the Democrats of the nation.

That these resolutions be spread on the records as a part of the proceedings of this meeting.

The next annual meeting will be held at Iola, Kansas, and the President and Secretary, with John W. Sheridan, of the Paola Spirit, were appointed a committee to arrange for a short excursion at that time. Officers elected for ensuing year were L. I. Purcell, Lakin Index, President; V. J. Lane, Wyandotte Herald, Vice-President; J. B. Goshorn, Iola Sentinel, Secretary, and J. E. Watrous, Burlington Independent, Treasurer. Executive Committee—Warren Kansas, McPherson Independent, W. E. Timmons, Cottonwood Falls Courant and J. F. Herman, Olathe Herald.

In the early part of the evening an experience meeting was held, and some interesting speeches were made. Hon. J. B. Fugate, of the Newton Journal was elected a delegate to the National Editorial Convention which will convene at Denver, in 1898.

In the afternoon the visitors were driven to the University and Haskell institute. In the evening a banquet was given them at the Eldredge house.

An address of welcome was delivered by Prof. L. L. Dyche, responded to by President Purcell.

Capt. O. S. Coffin of Hutchinson, responded to the toast, "Thomas Jefferson."

E. B. Buck, of the Winfield Tribune, spoke of "The Principles we represent."

J. L. Herman, of the Olathe Herald, told of "where are we at?"

Prof. Frank H. Hodder spoke of the "University and the Press," and C. S. Finch of the Lawrence Journal toasted "The Press."

J. B. Fugate, of Newton, the retiring President responded to the sentiment "Our Fraternity."

The editors desire to extend their thanks to Frank L. Wedster and other Lawrence citizens for the general hospitality shown them while in the city, and to express a desire to visit Lawrence at some future day when they will have more time to see and hear about its many historical points and grand national and State educational institution, which stand as a beacon light on her towering hills.

A GEM.

Vick's Floral Guide for 1897 is just out. To call it a gem is to employ the use of a very mild expression. It is one of the most attractive publications ever issued by James Vick's Sons, Rochester, N. Y., and to those who have had dealings with this old, reliable establishment in past years, this means that the Floral Guide is one of the finest catalogues of the season. Aside from the brilliant ornamental features, it is a compendium of valuable information on the subject of flowers, and should be widely distributed throughout this country. Vick's Floral Guide and packet of either Branching Aster, Pansy or New Japan Morning Glory mailed on receipt of 15 cents.

"YOURS FOR HEALTH."

Expert physicians affirm that the right climate may cure consumption and kindred diseases.

The right climate is where a pure, dry air, equable temperature and constant sunshine are found.

These essentials exist in the Salt River Valley of Arizona and various places in New Mexico.

DON'T STOP TOBACCO.

HOW TO CURE YOURSELF WHILE USING IT.

The tobacco grows on a man until his nervous system is seriously affected, impairing health and happiness. To quit suddenly is too severe a shock to the system, as tobacco to an inveterate user becomes a stimulant that his system continually craves. "Baco-Curo" is a scientific cure for the tobacco habit, in all its forms, carefully compounded after the formula of an eminent Berlin physician who has used it in his private practice since 1872, without a failure. It is purely vegetable and guaranteed perfectly harmless. You can use all the tobacco you want while taking "Baco-Curo." It will notify when to stop. We give a written guarantee to cure permanently any case with three boxes, or refund the money with 10 per cent interest. "Baco-Curo" is not a substitute, but a scientific cure, that cures without the aid of will power and without inconvenience. It leaves the system as pure and free from nicotine as the day you took your first chew or smoke.

CURED BY BACO-CURO AND GAINED THIRTY POUNDS.

From hundreds of testimonials, the originals of which are on file and open to inspection, the following is presented:

Clayton, Nevada Co., Ark., Jan. 28, 1895. Eureka Chemical & Mfg'g Co., La Crosse, Wis.—Gentlemen: For forty years I used tobacco in all its forms. For twenty-five years of that time I was a great sufferer from general debility and heart disease. For fifteen years I tried to quit, but I couldn't. I took various remedies, among others "No-To-Bac," "The Indian Tobacco Antidote," "Double Chloride of Gold," etc., etc., but none of them did me the least bit of good. Finally, however, I purchased a box of your "Baco-Curo," and it has entirely cured me of the habit of all its forms, and I have increased thirty pounds in weight and am relieved from all the numerous aches and pains of body and mind. I could write a quire of paper upon my changed feelings and condition. Yours, respectfully, P. H. MARSH, Pastor C. P. Church, Clayton, Ark.

Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per box; three boxes, (thirty days' treatment), $2.50 with iron-clad, written guarantee, or sent direct upon receipt of price. Write for booklet and proofs. Eureka Chemical and Mfg'g Co., La Crosse, Wis., and Boston, Mass.

THE FARMING WORLD.

NEW HEATING DEVICE.

Successfully introduced in a Number of Ohio Creameries.

The accompanying illustration is something new as a heating device in creamery work.

FINE MILK HEATER.

used about the creamery for cleansing purposes would do harm also; hence it is important that nothing but pure water be used about either boiler or the building.

I know quite a number of creameries that have put this simple device in during the past summer, and find that it not only lessens labor, but that by its use a better and more even temperature can be obtained than by the use of the tempering vat, and the cleaning of it does not require one-fifth of the time that the usual vats require.

The illustration is simple and almost explains itself. M P represents the milk pipe or hose extending from the milk vat to P pump, which raises the milk into the pipe joined onto the pump.

Not long since while at Sandusky institute, and discussing the creamery subject, I mentioned this labor-saving device, and a young man from Huron, O., made special inquiry about it.

THE FARM GARDEN.

How to Keep the Ground Occupied from Spring to Fall.

The garden is the most productive acre of the farm. If it is not, it should be made so. It is the most indispensable part of farm life.

CULTURE OF MELONS.

Their Successful Growth Requires Lots of Plant Food.

Watermelons are excessive feeders, and many fail in attempting to grow them because they do not furnish sufficient plant food to supply the necessary strength for vigorous vine and fine fruit.

I prepare the ground as for corn. Lay off in rows 12 feet apart each way. Dig a hole about 1 1/2 feet deep and perhaps three feet in diameter.

WATERING THAT PAYS.

Simple System of Sub-Irrigation for Flower Beds.

The experiments that have been tried in introducing water freely below beds of growing plants have proved conclusively the value of this kind of watering.

experiment for himself this spring. Select the spot where a small bed is to be devoted to foliage or other plants, and sink an empty keg in the center just below the position of the coming roots.

A Profitable Garden Crop.

Spinach is an important crop in our market gardens and one of the most easily managed of vegetables, requiring but little culture, and may be had fit for use the entire season.

RECEPTION GOWNS.

Neat and Stylish Ways of Making Them Up.

There must be at least one reception dress of velvet among the toilets of a woman who makes the least pretense of being well dressed, and its color will be one of the new shades of mauve or claret.

Another handsome dinner costume is made of claret-colored satin, the skirt having a ruffle of velvet of the same shade. The waist is one of the most stylish of the new modes.

A model which is sure to give great satisfaction in the reproduction is a very simple one of light gray taffeta, waist and skirt trimmed with bands of satin ribbon graduated in width, and the whole accented with a row of two jeweled buttons and a jabot of soft lace.

Moire is a material which will be greatly in vogue during the spring and will be used for evening wear quite as much as upon other occasions.

SOCIETY INITIALS.

Something That May Happen Anywhere to All of Us.

They had barely exchanged greetings when the man in the ulster exclaimed: "I say, George, I'm mighty glad I met you."

"What do the initials stand for?" asked the man in the fur cap. "Stand for!" exclaimed the man in the ulster. "Stand for! Why, they stand for the society, of course. We just put the alphabet in a hat and let a blindfolded man pick them out—the regular way, you know. If you speak up quick, maybe I can work you in as a charter member."

"Has the society any particular aims?" "A book full of them. I don't recall any of them now, but we have them all written out and intend to have them printed when we have money enough. It's to be one of those fraternal organizations to help one another—help one another entertain each other, my wife says, and that isn't half bad for a woman. You'd better join."

"I don't believe I can do it," replied the man in the fur cap, doubtfully. "You know I'm a D. F. G. H. now."

"Oh, well, that doesn't cut any figure. I'm a C. V. B. and a U. I. O. of P. myself. I squared it all with my wife by getting her interested, and she has now joined the T. G. B., the X. S. W. Q. and the U. J. M. I've also promised to join the I. K. L. and the W. D. V. Z. next week."

"Still the man in the fur cap shook his head. 'My wife is already a Q. S. C. and a D. X. A.," he said, "but she said when I joined the Y. J. O. R. K. last week that that made the sixth, and six was enough for a man of domestic habits. You see, this doesn't include the card clubs, and it is really becoming quite difficult to keep track of them all."

"Oh, well, if you feel that way about it, all right," said the man in the ulster. "Most of us don't think ten or twelve any too many, but it is your right to draw the line at less if you are not progressive enough to keep up with the times. When it becomes the proper thing for a man to affix the initials of his societies to his name, however, as some scientists do now, you'll feel mighty small."—Kansas City Star.

Canadian Cream Candy.

Melt a pound of new maple sugar with a cupful of thin cream and boil the sirup to a creamy ball, but not until it "cracks." When the sirup has reached the proper state scatter buttered kernels evenly over sheets of buttered tin and pour on just enough of the sirup to cover them. Crease the sheets of candy into small squares and break them apart when the candy has become cold.—Chicago Tribune.

Kentucky Potatoes.

After paring raw potatoes slice them very thin and put into a pudding dish without first wetting. Cover with milk or cream. Add a teaspoonful of flour (wet) and pepper and salt. Bake until nicely browned.—Womanland.
