Local Officers Discuss Drug Problems Here

Thursday afternoon, the 287th District Court room was almost filled with local residents, and students, to hear U. S. Senator Phil Gramm, and local law enforcement officials discuss drug problems and drug-related crimes.

Bailey County Judge Jim Watson acted as moderator for the meeting and introduced four men up front in the courtroom who would be discussing the problems.

He introduced Bailey County Sheriff Jerry Hicks; Muleshoe City Police Chief Wayne Holmes and DPS Trooper Lacie Kirk; along with Senator Gramm.

Speaking first was Sheriff Hicks, who told the senator and others present, "We obviously don't have the problems Los Angeles or New York have, but drugs are here. Marijuana is the primary drug. It is grown in yards, and houses, and is brought in."

"We have had methamphetamine labs in the county. We have aircraft drop off drugs for dealers in the county, and for Lubbock dealers in some of the remote areas of the county."

"We can attribute 90 percent of the crime in this area to drugs. Burglaries are committed to swap items for drugs," he added. "We have also had a 90 percent increase in crime, and a 57 percent increase in jail populations."

"We work hand in glove with the Muleshoe Police Department and Department of Public Safety on drugs," added the sheriff. "Now, drug dealers are more suspicious and harder to get to." He said that 24 pounds of confiscated marijuana is the largest arrest in the county, and said the local officers are inhibited by a shortage of people and limited funds.

Although the sheriff said drug use in local schools seems to be going down, he suggested putting drug dealers away for a long time and more education for

MAHD Names Administrator For Hospital

During a called session of the Muleshoe Area Hospital District Board of Directors on Wednesday, only one item of business was on the agenda - the possible hiring of an administrator for Muleshoe Area Medical Center.

Following a discussion with Rita Mason, interim administrator and board members, Philip Langston was employed.

Mrs. Mason told board members she will be staying a few days to acquaint the new administrator with the hospital, "then I will get out so he can run it," she said. Mrs. Mason also said she would be available to the new administrator by telephone to answer any questions.

She will also be making periodic trips back to Muleshoe to assist him.

He was employed from a field of 74 applicants for $50,000 per year plus the Methodist Hospital Benefit Package.

Mrs. Mason assured the board this salary package was in line with other hospitals, taking into consideration his experience and credentials. She said he had been thoroughly checked out, and has received very high recommendations.

According to the interim administrator, the new administrator, who will assume his duties on Monday, December 4, understands long-term care, and also understands rural health care.

Board Secretary Robert E. Finney added, "This position will make or break the hospital. I'm convinced he's as good as we can get."

Derrell Jennings, board member from Lazbuddie added, "He will fit in here. He seems to be just a country boy. He and his wife both should fit right into the community."

Following the short meeting in the board room at the hospital, the interim administrator, Rachel Snider, administrator of the Muleshoe Area Health Care Center, and four of the five board members had lunch.

Lazbuddie Longhorns End Season With Fort Hancock

It was head-to-head, toe-to-toe slugging it out for the Lazbuddie Longhorns and Fort Hancock Friday night, in action that eliminated the powerful Longhorns from playoff action in Six-man football.

Varsity Wins

Pair of Games

In Basketball

Tuesday night, the MHS varsity and junior varsity boys and girls hosted the Morton basketball teams in Muleshoe.

Leading all the way, the Lady Mules stretched their season record to 4-1 with a 64-40 victory over the Morton Lady Indians.

Leading 22-3 at the end of the first, the Lady Mules had a 34-17 lead at halftime, and had stretched that lead to 42-26 by the end of the third quarter.

Morton's Lady Indians had won the Denver City tournament the previous weekend.

On their way to their victory, the Lady Mules shot 50 percent from the field, and were 40 percent at the free throw line.

Their coaches said the Lady Mules played real well, and they were proud of their defense throughout the game.

Hitting 9-16 from the field, Wendy Green led scoring with 20 points. Others were Amy Montgomery, nine; Monica Swint, eight; Brenna Matthews, seven; Heather Hutton, six; Heidi Bohler, Tory Matthews and Lori Cuevas each had four points, and Amber Green had two points.

Leading rebounder was Wendy Green with 10; followed by Monica Swint with nine.

VARSITY BOYS

After leading 10-8 at the end of the first; and a 22-21 score at the half; the Mules slipped behind 39-35 closing out the third quarter before coming back strong in the fourth, and defeating the Morton Indians, 52-51.

This gave the Mules a 3-2 season record, as they have now won their last three games straight.

Frank Precure led scoring with nine points, with three of these field goals coming in the third quarter. He also hit on free throws to help.

Others scoring were Sean Roberts, Brian Bush and Adrian Pineda, each eight; Michael Hardwick, six points; Colin Cont. Page 6, Col. 6

By the time the game was over at Wink, the Longhorns had lost to Fort Hancock by a score of 66-37.

Fort Hancock scored first in the game, with 7:34 left in the first quarter, and with the PAT good, the score was 0-8.

At 5:50 of the first, Michael Williams made it in from four yards out for the 'Horns first TD of the game, and with a successful PAT, it was 7-8.

Thirty-two seconds and two plays later, Fort Hancock got on the scoreboard again, in a 52 yard pass-TD play. Following the point after attempt, the score was 7-16 for Fort Hancock.

Not content with that, some 31 seconds later, the Longhorns again scored, this time on a 20 yarder from Michael Williams to Doug Barnes. With the PAT failing, it was a 13-16 ballgame.

As TD's were made in seconds, instead of minutes, the Fort Hancock footballers again scored 44 seconds later with 4:13 left in the first, and their PAT attempt failed. This left the score at 13-22.

Fort Hancock came back to score again, at 2:07 of the first Cont. Page 7 Col. 5

Blood Drive

December 7 For Muleshoe

First United Methodist Church of Muleshoe will sponsor its annual Holiday Blood Drive on Thursday, December 7. The drive will be held from 11 a.m. - 8 p.m. in the fellowship hall of the church. Church members will be contacting donors, providing refreshments and helping in other ways throughout the day.

United Blood Services, along with the Muleshoe Blood Advisory Council, will co-sponsor and assist in the blood drive. United Blood Services of Lubbock will provide the technicians and equipment to conduct the drive. The Muleshoe Blood Advisory Council will be on hand to provide any assistance needed.

A spokesperson for the Muleshoe Blood Advisory Council stated, "The Muleshoe area has always responded very generously to the Blood Drives conducted here. The Holiday Blood Drive has been extremely successful in the past."

"The Holidays are a very critical time for blood supplies. The Blood Banks are usually low at this time and it is very important that adequate supplies be maintained."

"So, please take a little time on Thursday, December 7, and go by the First United Methodist Church between 11 a.m. - 8 p.m. and donate blood. Or, if you are contacted by phone, please schedule a time. Remember! Your donation of blood could save a life during the happiest of all seasons."

Heritage Foundation Holds Annual Dinner

By R. A. Bradley

On Tuesday evening, November 28th the Muleshoe Heritage Foundation Board hosted an appreciation dinner honoring the volunteer workers at the Heritage Thrift Shop. A meal of brisquet, potato salad, beans, green salad, rolls, tea, coffee and deserts was served to 39 people. A very good meal was enjoyed by all followed by a short program and a tour of the Old Janes Ranch House.

A short welcome and thank you was given by R.A. Bradley, then Vivian White presented appreciation certificates and Life Time Membership Cards to Thrift Shop workers who have given 100 hours and more of labor at the Thriftshop. Those presented certificates were: Lanell Stancell, Bertie Thompson, Hazel Gilbreath, Bill Williams, Dot Bowers, Irene Delts, Ruth Hall, Marie Bradley, Beth Watson, Olive Cox, and Vivian White.

Those not present but will receive certificates are: Maxine Ragsdale, Curtis Wellborn, Lavonne McKillip, Lillian Street, Laverne Smyers, Katherine Sanders and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Lewis.

A surprise corsage was given to Vivian White and Marie Bradley for their work on the supper and for their work in managing the Thrift Shop each Friday and Saturday.

Cara Juan Schuster gave a short report on some of the things that the Board of Directors for the Heritage Foundation was doing and planning for the restoring of the Old Janes Ranch House for a Museum. Cara Juan stated that without the Thrift Shop we would not be as far along as we are because the Thrift Shop gave $13,500.00 this year to the Foundation. Without this the Heritage Foundation would be shut down. Cara Juan thanked the workers of the Thrift Shop for their fine job and to please continue the hard work.

After a good meal and fellowship, all toured the Old Janes Ranch House. Much interest and many questions about the looks and plans for the Old Janes Ranch House Museum.

Without naming names because some might be forgotten, the Muleshoe Heritage Foundation would like to say a Big Big Thank You to all who help in the Thrift Shop in any way, those who work there and all who give to the Thrift Shop. May each and everyone of you have a safe and happy holiday season.

Local Youth Honored At Lubbock Banquet

Thirty-six outstanding members of 4-H Clubs across the South Plains were honored in Lubbock Monday night, November 20 at the 32nd Annual District Gold Star Banquet.

In addition of receiving the Gold Star Award, the highest honor presented at the county level by the youth organization the youths were challenged by Dr. Elizabeth G. Haley, dean of the College of Home Economics at Texas Tech University, to make optimum use of the tools and rules they already have and build a sound future.

Honored from Bailey County were Tiffany Angeley, daughter of R.D. (Tub) and Pat Angeley, and Charla Holt, daughter of Cecil and Charlotte Holt.

Joining the youths at the event at the Koko Palace were parents, government officials, leaders of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, fellow 4-H'ers, educators and other community leaders. The event has been sponsored each year by 12 area electric cooperatives: Bailey County, Caprock, Deaf Smith, Dickens, Lamb County, Lea County, Lighthouse, Lone Wolf, Lyntegar, Midwest, South Plains and Swisher.

The audience was welcomed by Jim Roberts, general manager of South Plains Electric Cooperative. Patti Shepard, Hale County 4-H member, responded. Chance Brooks of Terry County, president of the Texas 4-H Council, was master of ceremonies.

Vicki McClaran, Crosby County 4-H'er, gave the invocation. Lynn County 4-H member Kris Belew introduced the special guests.

The awards were presented by Dr. Kathy Volanty and Dr. Bob Robinson, Extension Service district Directors. Recipients were introduced by 4-H'ers Melode Chance of Crosby County, Texas 4-H Council second vice president, and Chris Borland of Hockley County, member of the state 4-H council.

Dr. Haley outlined for the recipients five principles for using the tools and rules already passed down to them:

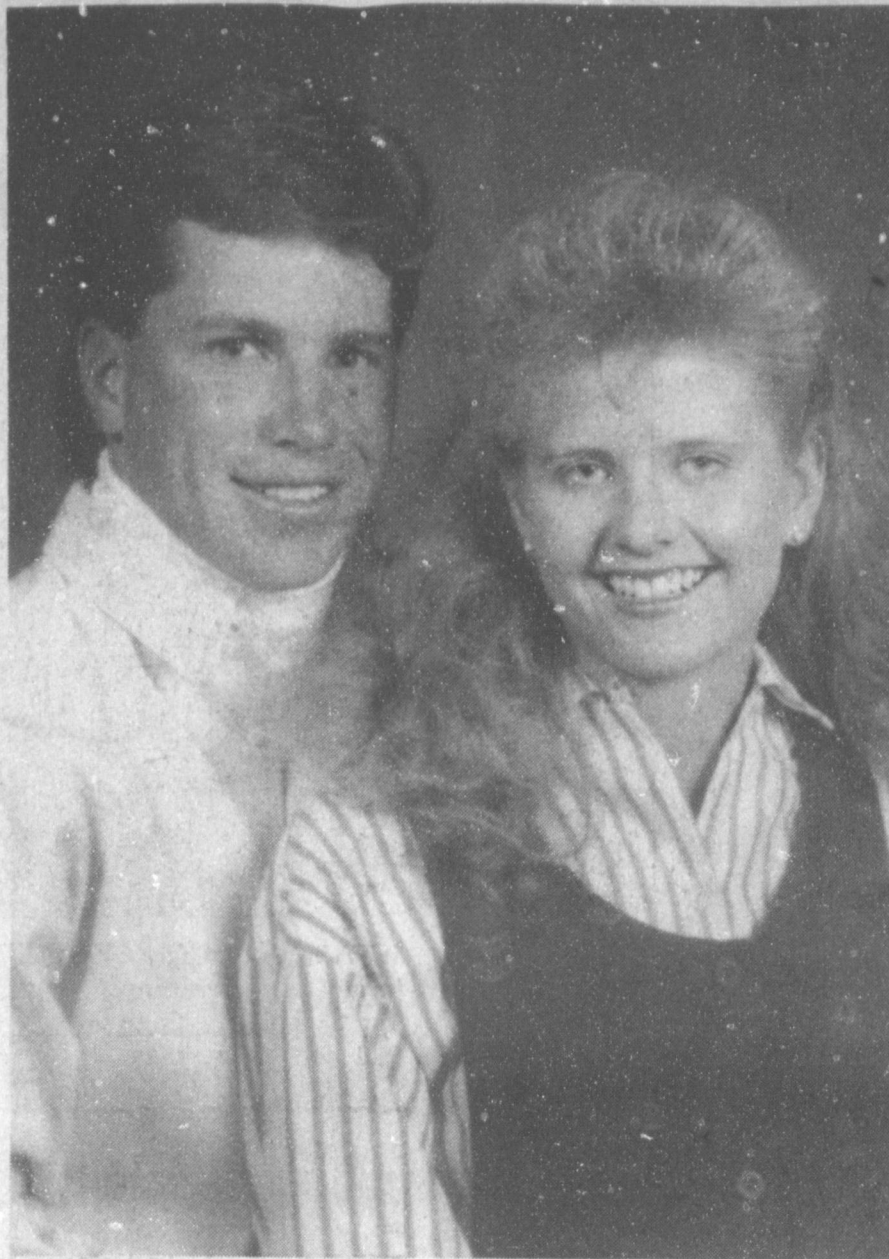

- Maximize your potential. "You've already come a long way, but how far can you go?" she asked.

- Look toward the future. "Keep your eye on where you're going and how you're going to get there," she urged.

- Build bridges, not elevators. "Elevators go up and down, but bring you back to where you started...Build bridges big enough for not only yourself to cross, but to take others with you," she challenged.

- Dream great dreams. "Don't accept small dreams. Be a peak performer," she said.

- Follow the rules learned in kindergarten. "Those...and the rules learned in 4-H...apply the rest of your life," she said.

Lazbuddie FHA Installs Officers

In October and November, the Lazbuddie Future Homemakers of America had several important meetings. The first order of business was to hold a formal installation ceremony for incoming officers. The 1989-90 officers installed were: Diana Cozby, president; Elsa Mendoza, first vice-president; Raymond Zamora, second vice-president; Sandra Martinez, secretary/treasurer; and Kathy Pate, reporter/historian.

Officers of the four mini-chapters were also installed and include: Raquel Guzman, of "The Dirty Dozen" mini-chapter; Jessica Burch, of "The Class of '94" mini-chapter; Sandra Martinez, of "The Family" mini-chapter; and Elsa Mendoza, of "The Unforgetables" mini-chapter.

At the October FHA meeting, a program was presented by Rena Gardner of Tulia, who is the regional vice-president for recreation. Miss Gardner gave a workshop on leadership and parent-adolescent relationships. She quizzed the girls to determine how much they knew about their parents and about FHA. Her instruction in the workshop was all done with games and treats, and according to advisor, Mrs. Barbara Lust, the girls really did enjoy Miss Gardner's unique presentation.

In November, Mrs. Jamie Carroll, the Lazbuddie Elementary special education instructor, took a group of her elementary students to the homecoming lab for a lesson in following written and oral instructions. Mrs. Lust's Child Development class helped the younger students as they prepared batter, baked cookies and cleaned up. Mrs. Lust reported that the project was a great success for both groups. The elementary students learned the importance of listening to and reading carefully all instructions. Mrs. Lust's high school students enjoyed working with Mrs. Carroll's young ones and learned the importance of explaining clearly and of helping a little while allowing a child to accomplish a task. It was a team-teaching project that worked well for each group, according to Mrs. Lust, who stated that she was very proud of her older students.

Members of the Child Development class are: Linda Carrasco, Susan Alcalá, Elsa Mendoza, Juanita Ramos, Liselda Carrasco and Jana Vise.

Senator

He discussed sending one drug dealer to prison in October, on a 10 year term. He said the dealer will be eligible for parole no later than September, 1990.

More citizen and parent involvement was suggested by the next speaker, Chief Wayne Holmes, who said "Apathy and complacency and 'I don't want to get involved' hurts our efforts in this problem."

He said the MPD made 21 drug arrests in 1988, and through the first 11 months of 1989, the city officers have logged 34 drug arrests.

"This does not include our work with other agencies, or people at the hospital who have overdosed (O.D.'d) on drugs," he reminded. "Also, we have people who use inhalers, engine starter fluid, gasoline, and other things not under the controlled substance act, and we can't touch them."

In 1988, officers for the Muleshoe City Police Department had logged 175 arrests for all crimes. This was 180 through November of this year.

And, the Chief reminded again, this total does not include minors in possession of alcohol; minors for the sale of alcohol or minors driving while intoxicated.

Those alcohol arrests are up for the year at the increase of five during the past year.

He also said that bootleggers do not sell for strictly cash now. He said they take farm equipment and other items in trade for alcohol.

On a brighter note, the chief said there appears to be less drug activity locally than there was five years ago. He said that five years ago, one out of every four cars stopped for traffic violations by the city officers yielded either drugs, paraphernalia, or both.

He expressed appreciation to the county commissioners and city council for providing funds and time for training officers to help combat the drug problems.

Chief Holmes talked some about programs that were instituted in the local schools 13 years ago, funded by the National Child Safety Council, L.A.W. Publications and local and area business people. The officers provide booklets for kindergarten through sixth grade students.

Officers give presentations to area schools, using materials and booklets provided by Det. Price of the Crime Prevention Unit of Lubbock Police Department.

He also outlined presentations made to civic groups, high schools, PTA and other organizations in the city, county and neighboring counties.

Chief Holmes attributed the increases in drug problems to television and movies that 'glorify' substance abuse; as well as open use of drugs in the home.

He cited parents who have openly used drugs in the presence of their children, causing the children to determine "If my parents can do it, so can I." He added, "We must have drug education beginning at an early age. And fear of arrest is no longer a deterrent. The drug dealer knows that if convicted, he or she will just get probation, or a less than one year served, due to overcrowded prisons, and be turned back out on the streets to continue selling drugs."

He did say that it is not the jury's fault, it is not the judge's fault, but said there's no where to keep the prisoners with the overcrowding.

Speaking next, DPS Trooper Lacie Kirk told Sen. Gramm and the group that his primary job is enforcing traffic law, but he also works with drugs and addictions and trying to stop drugs on the highway.

He said that through October of this year, the Texas DPS had confiscated 11,215,016 pounds of marijuana; 101 pounds of cocaine; 1,096 grams of heroin and 975 grams of amphetamine.

They have also confiscated cash amounting to $2,459,831 from drug dealers. He said this is the highway patrol officers alone, and does not include the narcotics division of the DPS.

"No matter how much material and time that is put into drug programs," he added, "it is still the officer on the street who is fighting the battle."

Trooper Kirk also cited low funding, cuts in manpower and vacancies left open when officers leave. "We are forced to cut short on investigations, or leave the smaller cases not investigated," he said.

Trooper Kirk said the Fair Labor Standards Act now prohibits state officers from working extra hours, even on their own if they want to, to help investigate drugs, or anything else. "Now, an officer must watch the clock," he said.

"I am asking that officers of this nation be given fair and adequate wages -- and fair and adequate time to do the work he wants to do. It's a War on Drugs that has really put all officers to the test."

He also said that in his eight and one half years in Muleshoe he has seen a lot of changes, and asked for the community to get behind law enforcement officers and get involved in the war against drugs.

Final speaker was the Senator. He said, "The real heroes are these guys, pointing to the three law enforcement officers. The guys who pin on the badges. We need to work with them, help them, and support them while dealing with this problem."

"I am convinced of one thing -- trying to deal with this problem is 'Crime Without Punishment.'"

He added, "Hoodlums at our schools are trying to sell drugs and are arrested. They are taken to court and 11 months later, they are back out on the streets dealing drugs again."

He said that his proposal for Congress to consider in January will be to try to limit the power of federal court. He talked about overcrowded prisons, and said not any prison is as crowded as any nuclear submarine. He suggested invoking the Eighth Amendment concerning harsh and unusual punishment and try it for each individual prisoner, who he said "has it much better with their space and color TV's than the boys who are trying to defend our country."

He said federal prisons will be increased by 50 percent with a goal to allow states to bed prisoners in federal prisons until the individual states can address their prison problems.

He suggested 10 years in prison, without parole, for anyone selling drugs, and for a second offense of selling drugs, life sentence -- without parole.

Pointing to a display of confiscated weapons on a table in front of him, he added, "a lot of drug dealers are better armed than our law enforcement officials."

He also proposed very strict sentences for persons convicted of using firearms to do bodily harm, with a death sentence for killing someone.

He talked about a Congress that has cut more than $500,000,000 from funding crime fighting, and said the minds of Congress are on other priorities.

He also said prisoners should be put to work. Put on the highways, filling potholes and cleaning and picking up trash. Sen. Gramm advocates inducing private industries to build next to prisons to allow prisoners to work, with the money going to help house the prison population.

He said this would be implemented at the federal level, and said impediments would be removed to allow states to do the same thing.

In education, he said President George Bush has asked for a national 'O' Tolerance program.

Through this program, any student caught with drugs at school must be expelled, and MUST be turned over to law enforcement officers.

"We want schools to develop their own program," he added, "starting in kindergarten and going on through high school."

Senator Gramm also said a person buying drugs is not a victim -- but is a criminal. "If no one buys drugs," he commented,

"There would be no sellers."

For simple drug possession, he suggested losing a driver's license for a year and said rehabilitation is the most painful -- saying there is no very effective rehabilitation. Persons who become addicted today, probably cannot be rehabilitated, he added.

He did not feel that borders could be effectively sealed to stop the flow of drugs from Mexico, and said parents would have to be taking a lot of the responsibility to educate their children about drugs.

"Your children already know a lot more about this problem than you do," he said. "Any child growing up in America today is exposed to drugs."

As Judge Watson drove Sen. Gramm and an aide back to the airport, he answered a few questions on other questions, including the U.S.-Soviet Summit and said the Soviets found they cannot grow without giving the people incentives, and they won't have incentives until they are free. He said U. S. troops may be coming home, or at least a lot of them, in the near future. This will "free up" the budget, and can mean tax cuts, he said.

When he was asked about major corporations continuing to move to Texas, he said "Texas still has a very good business climate. People can buy buildings, plant spaces and hire workers cheaper than other parts of the country."

On speaking briefly about the oil and gas industry, he said the government needs to provide incentives for more drilling, and said on the Farm Bill, he was very pleased with the 1985 Farm Bill which has worked pretty well, and figures the new farm bill will use it for a base.

He also believes the Worker's Comp will be a job decision which could end up costing tens of thousands of jobs in Texas. "I would never vote for anyone who voted against HRI," said the Senator. HRI is the Worker's Comp Bill, which failed to pass recently, forcing more work on the proposed legislation.

He also declined to publicly back any candidate for governor, saying he would wait until after the primary to speak on that subject.

Cal Farley's Boys, Girls Need Coats

The annual drive to provide the nearly 400 young residents of Cal Farley's Boys Ranch with a new suit or clothing package has begun.

The purchase of new clothing for the boys through the Christmas Suit Fund has become a favorite way of Christmas giving among friends of the boys who contribute $50.00 for this purpose. Special discounts by Amarillo merchants and differences in clothing prices for younger and older boys makes the average cost of $50.00 possible.

The fund has been a successful project since 1950 because of those who share whatever they can. Several contributions can add up to purchase a suit which will replace one that has been worn out or outgrown. In many cases, a boy may receive the first new suit of his life.

"Many of the boys are now shopping for the clothes of their desires," said Ranch President L.R. Hamner, Jr. "In addition to clothing packages for the younger boys, the new suits will be worn by graduating seniors next spring," Mr. Hamner added.

While the boys are provided for through the Ranch's Suit Fund, the youths of Girlstown, U.S.A. enjoy their annual purchase of clothing through the Coat and Shoe Fund, sponsored by the Lions Clubs of District 2-TI. Since 1969, the Lions have raised funds for the girls, a tradition which continued when Girlstown became an affiliate of Boys Ranch in 1987. This drive is under the guidance of Fund Chairman Keith Christie, whose goal is to provide for nearly 100 girls this year.

Contributions to either clothing fund may be mailed to Cal Farley's Boys Ranch and Girlstown, U.S.A., P.O. Box 1890, Amarillo, Texas 79174.

Striking quickly after the half, Fort Hancock's Mustangs continued their domination of the game, and at 9:48 scored from 80 yards away, leaving the score at 53-29. They again scored at 5:58 of the third from 15 yards out making it a 29-60 ballgame.

Not giving up, the Longhorns added another eight points at 4:46 of the third from two yards out, leaving the score at that point 37-60.

At 9:36 of the fourth quarter, the final TD of the game was made. The Fort Hancock Mustangs scored from the one, and the PAT attempt failed, making the final score of 37-66.

Although the Lazbuddie Longhorns performed admirably and dug in, they failed to advance to semi-final playoffs.

However, what most people may not realize, was that for the first time this year, Fort Hancock was forced to play an entire ball game. Due to the six-man football rule, anytime a team got ahead by at least 45 points, the game was over. However, the teams must play until halftime. In every game until Friday night, the Fort Hancock Mustangs had not played beyond the third quarter. This says much for the dogged determination of the Lazbuddie Longhorns, who stood in the game, and played with such fierce determination, forcing the powerful Fort Hancock team to play an entire game.

Congratulations!! to the Lazbuddie Longhorns -- Regional Champions -- and Champions to the entire area.

LEARN WHAT CHRISTMAS SAFETY'S ABOUT!

A CHRISTMAS SAFETY CHECK

- Before hanging strings of lights, spread them on the floor and check for frayed or bare wires, cracked insulation, loose connections, and damaged plugs or light sockets.
- Check extension cords for wear or damage and don't run them across walking areas.
- Test lights before putting them on the tree. Unplug them before making repairs or replacing bulbs.
- Overloading circuits with too many lights can cause fire. Follow manufacturer's instructions about the number of lights allowed on one circuit.
- Never string lights on a metallic tree.
- Choose a fresh, green tree, trim its base and keep it in plenty of water. If the needles are brown and break off easily, it could be a fire risk.
- If you buy an artificial tree, make sure it has been tested for flammability by Underwriters Laboratories (UL).
- Always turn off lights before leaving home or going to bed. You'll save money and be safer, too.
- Do not use inside lights on the outside. All outside lighting equipment, including lights, cords and plugs, should be waterproof and made for outdoor use. Also, hang sockets downward and don't leave a socket empty.
- When hanging lights on the rooftop or in tall trees outdoors, stay clear of electrical lines.

Call Your SPS office for other safety tips.

Wishing You A Safe, Happy Holiday

 By R.A. Bradley

Sixteen Kiwanians, 4 'Cream of the Crop' and 12 skimmed milk, Sweetheart Amy Montgomery, two honorary members, Jon Keith Turner and Chad (Cynthia) Johnson, and two guests, Ryan Clapp and Charles Martin, braved the start of the monsoon season and met at the Old Corral Friday morning.

Some of the young didn't know what moisture was, it has been so long since any kind of any types of moisture. It is good to see it wet.

President Jim Lutz called the meeting to order and R. A. Bradley led the club in the pledge to the flag and Jim Lutz gave the invocation.

Lonnie Merriott, who has been looking for a friend, said he would pretend he had found a friend in Glen Morris.

Sweetheart Amy Montgomery, if she is well enough, will be riding in the Christmas Parade on Saturday at 11 a.m. Amy has been sick and we sure hope she gets well and stays that way.

Merlyn Neel had the program and brought a video on Denali Wilderness, one of the national parks in Alaska.

Alaska is about the only part of our country that has not been touched too much by the human race. This video was from the birth of the young in the spring to their growth in order to survive by the time winter comes.

A young moose between spring and winter will gain about 1200 pounds.

The video showed beautiful scenes of the animals, and the country, and sure makes you want to see this in person. Merlyn, we want to thank you for such a wonderful program.

Be sure and get your Jenny-MAC tickets soon.

Hazel Nowell Services Set Here Monday

Letter To The Editor

Miss Clea Williams, Editor
 The Bailey County Journal
 P.O. Box 449
 Muleshoe, Texas 79347

Dear Clea:

As you know, it has become traditional for the Ranch to provide its boys new suits and clothing for Christmas, and I hope you might again help us out with the advance publicity. We are also again working with the area Lions Clubs in raising similar funds for the girls of Girlstown, U.S.A.

Since there may be a few details not mentioned in the news release, please call if you would like some expanded information. We would be equally pleased to have you at the Ranch or Girlstown for any special reporting you might consider. Within the next two weeks, you will be receiving a follow-up article to let you know about the fund's progress and also some enjoyable activities.

I might also add that Girlstown, U.S.A. will be shopping for their clothing on December 8 and 9 at Mervyn's Department Store. Mervyn's does a fine job in providing a good discount for the girls. Should you wish to join us, please let me know. Otherwise, we usually do not publicize the dates of the event out of consideration for the girls' privacy.

Thank you for considering the enclosed material which will help our youths in a great way. With best wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,
 Carl McMillen

November 21, 1989
 Dear Friend:

I am very pleased to announce that Charter Plains now offers a six-day, inpatient Codependency Treatment Program available for one week each month from Sunday afternoon to Saturday afternoon, starting Dec 3-December 9, 1989.

Our Codependency Program provides a concentrated week of therapy in a consistent, supportive environment for people who are grappling with destructive behavior patterns. Through an in-depth prescreening process, scheduled a minimum of two weeks prior to the program, we assess the physical and emotional condition of each potential participant and offer our program to those who can gain the most from our intensive approach to the problem of codependency.

We are proud to include a wide variety of treatment approaches and therapeutic activities to help people examine their beliefs and perceptions, learn about their illness and its parallel to the disease of addiction, and find suitable alternatives to a negative life-style.

A Charter Plains professional will be contacting you very soon to explain more fully the Charter Plains Codependency Treatment Program and to answer any questions you may have about our services, including program scheduling for each month.

We have also added the topic of 'codependency' to our Speakers Bureau. If you are interested in a presentation, please let me know.

I look forward to hearing from you and working with you through this new dimension of Charter Plains Hospital.

Sincerely
 Connie Benton, Director
 Charter Plains Codependency Treatment Program

Two of Mankind's Greatest Inventions.

Benjamin Franklin made the first bifocals two hundred years ago. And to this day no one has envisioned a better way to keep us in sight. (Even some contact lenses are bifocal!)

Old Ben invented the Franklin stove, too. But today he would have a natural gas furnace to keep his home and family warm all winter.

Like all the great inventions, a gas furnace is simple, reliable, and has stood the test of time. It quietly and efficiently does the job it was designed to do ... year after comfortable year.

It's easy to see that for comfort and efficient home heating, the most effective invention ever made is a natural gas furnace. Period.

A VITAL PART

A stop watch is a vital part in many sports. For instance, in track man races against time. The stop watch has enabled us to compare racers of one generation with that of another. In football it is a race to end up with the highest score when time runs out.

The Church is a vital part in man's life. The Church offers comfort, love, peace, and understanding. Just as we wouldn't leave the watch out of football, don't leave out the vital part in the greater things of life.

ATTEND CHURCH REGULARLY

Coleman Adv.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life which we hold so dear will inevitably which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

their achievements.

Nature is grand to those who understand her

SPS Planning Conference

The nation can have clean air without threatening jobs and drastically raising prices to consumers. That will be the theme of a Regional Industry Clean Air Conference, sponsored by Southwestern Public Service Company (SPS).

The conference will be from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Dec. 8 at the Kingston Hotel in Amarillo, with a press conference at 9:30 a.m.

Leaders in industry, business, economic development and various community leaders from this region are among the 200 attendees expected. Interested parties should contact their local SPS office for additional information.

Congress is expected to amend the federal Clean Air Act in early 1990. Some proposals could threaten jobs, restrict industrial expansion and raise prices to consumers, while contributing little to environmental protection, said W. R. Esler, SPS chairman of the board and chief executive officer. Conference attendees will learn how proposed revisions, if ultimately passed, could impact their local economies and how they can help affect this legislation.

"It's unclear at this point what form the revisions will take," Esler said. "But it's important that, while protecting the environment, the amendments don't put a stranglehold on jobs and consumers. This conference will serve as a forum for constructive alternatives."

Many industries could be affected. SPS is studying the potential cost to the area's electric customers of the latest proposals and will announce these results at the conference.

National, state and local representatives from several industries and organizations will address the conference.

Speakers include:

Theresa Pugh, director of environmental quality, National Association of Manufacturers, Washington, D.C.; Terry Echols, senior program manager, Radian Corporation, Austin, TX; Kenneth Ladd, vice president of energy and environment, SPS, Amarillo, TX; William Fay, administrator, Clean Air Working Group, Washington, D.C.; and Larry Milner, president and chief executive officer, Texas Chamber of Commerce, Austin, TX.

An industry panel discussion will include: Dewy Mark, president, Diamond Shamrock R&M Inc., San Antonio, TX; Oscar Scott, president, Carbon Division of J. M. Huber Corporation, Borger, TX; Emil A. Romagnoli, director of government affairs, ASARCO Inc., New York, N.Y.; and Barbara Price-Thurman, division manager of environmental services, Phillips Petroleum Company, Bartlesville, OK.
