MOORE DENIES HIS PART IN BRIBERY

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Feb. 5.—Representative H. H. Moore, of Cooper, before a committee of nine of his colleagues, swore today that he had never received money to influence pending legislation, and categorically denied charges made against him Friday by Willis Chamberlain, Houston optometrist.

With Representative F. A. Dale of Bonham, Moore is charged with accepting Wednesday night $1,000 from Chamberlain to kill a bill sponsored by Moore, placing a $50 occupation tax on stationary optometrists.

"No mention of money was ever made to me by either Dale or Chamberlain," Moore said.

Moore said that when Chamberlain came to his room Wednesday night that he came without an invitation. He said that Dale was there with Chamberlain and the two remained there about 20 minutes.

"As they went out I called Dale back and told him I didn't want Chamberlain to come in my room again and that if he did come any more I would put him out," he declared.

"Chamberlain was two-thirds drunk when he came to my room," Moore asserted.

Winters lost to the Drasco Friday night at Winters by a top-heavy score, and Drasco thus won the county championship of the basketball league.

The Drasco quintet will now play the San Angelo Bobcats for the bi-county championship.

In the semi-finals, Norton lost two straight games to Drasco, and Ballinger lost two straight to Winters. Drasco won the first game of the finals and Winters the second game. At the end of the second game, the two teams had scored the same number of points so a third game was necessary.

This afternoon the champions of Coke county, and the champions of Concho county are playing here for the bi-county championship.

CENTURY-OLD HOME IS LANDMARK IN SANTONE

(By Associated Press)
SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 5.—The remains of an unfinished stone house, that was begun here more than half a century ago are still to be seen, just as the owner left it when he laid down his tools to fight Indians.

The owner, Anastacio Gonzales, started to build the house, beside his own adobe house in 1872 and had visions of moving his family into a handsome stone residence. Construction was held up, however, when Gonzales was called to freight supplies to the soldiers at Fort Davis. His caravan of mules was met by a band of about 200 Comanches near Howdry Springs and only one of the party of 25 freighters escaped.

Gonzales' nephew, Simon de la Pena, who recently retired from the quartermaster corps of the U. S. army at the age of 65 years after 21 years of service, was a boy 11 years old at the time and was living in the adobe house with his uncle. Both houses still belong to the Gonzales family, but the stone house has never been completed.

C. A. Dooze Jr., who is attending Howard Payne College at Brownwood, came in Friday to visit relatives.

The liquor is believed to have been smuggled across the Rio Grande last night.

Papers in Stevens' possession are said to have contained the names of persons prominent in Fort Worth financial and social circles.

The dead are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Will. Mrs. Will was caretaker of the church. Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald, assistant caretaker, was taken to a hospital and may not live.

The cause of the explosion has not been determined. Firemen expressed the belief that it might have resulted from escaping gas connecting a water heater, but Charles Langdon, architect of the building, declared the blast may have resulted from a bomb.

MERCEDES, Tex.—A divine drink, heralded as both a health producer and beautifier, made from tree ripened and sun-sweetened grapefruit of the Rio Grande valley, is receiving widespread recognition as a most acceptable beverage. The drink is called grapefruitade and is already being adopted in San Antonio and Houston. Fruit growers of Mercedes and surrounding sections are supplying numerous demands for shipments of crates of grapefruit to points over the state for making of the new drink and for regular purposes.

Luncheon for Bride-Elect

In announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Anna Jean Sharp, Mrs. J. Y. Pearce entertained with a beautifully planned one o'clock luncheon on Thursday in her elegantly appointed home on Seventh Street, with Mrs. Mary B. Sharp and Miss Anna Jean assisting her in receiving.

In rooms to which a floral adornment of gorgeous pink carnations and lacy fern had been given, six foursome tables had been placed. The table of the honoree was centered with a green candle in silver holder tied with a fluffy pink maline bow, while the other tables were centered with pink candles which were lighted during the serving of the delectable five-course luncheon with the favored tones of pink and green being used again and again in the menu. Those assisting the hostess in serving were Mmes. Frank Pearce, J. G. Douglass and Miss Katharine Penn. The place cards were dainty epuds, holding a heart with "A Secret" printed upon each. On the back was written "Miss Anna Jean Sharp—Mr. C. L. Mohr—Feb. 24."

After registering in a pretty white wedding book presided over by Mrs. W. B. Halley, Mrs. Pearce brought in a lovely basket, made to simulate a large pink rose with the green foliage, filled with useful gifts attractively tied in pink and green, from the hostess to her assembled guests—the one to the honoree being sterling silver spoons. Later bridge and forty-two games were played.

Mrs. Pearce extended the privilege of spending this occasion with Miss Sharp to the following: Mmes. Mary B. Sharp, Noel Penn, Miss Susie Sharp, Mmes. U. E. Hartman, Clint Penn, Troy Simpson, Alex McGregor, Cecil Thorp, James Wear, Harper McFarland, Leslie Baker, Victor Miller, D. Reeder, R. W. Earnshaw, J. G. Douglass, W. B. Halley, D. C. Middleton, Robert Bruce, Frank Pearce, Joe Simmons, Misses Nell Alexander, Rama Guin, Katharine Penn, Mildred Herring, Georgia Singletary, Winnie Trail, and Louise Orgain.

Mrs. McGregor Entertains for Bride and Visiting Guest

Mrs. Will Gross, of Mineral Wells, and Miss Anna Jean Sharp, bride-elect, were the inspiration for a delightful party on Wednesday afternoon of last week when Mrs. Alex McGregor entertained in their honor with a buffet luncheon.

Blue and orchid were the dominant colors in the decorations, and azalea blossoms in an orchid bowl with slender delft blue candles in orchid holders tied with orchid maline on either side adorned the tea table laid in Dresden linen. The beautiful silver tea and coffee services were presided over by Mrs. Gross and Miss Sharp. Others assisting Mrs. McGregor in the dining room were Mmes. R. L. Harwell, Malcolm McGregor, Leslie Baker, Clint Penn; Misses Katharine Penn and Winnie Trail.

Pleasant conversation and reminiscences gave happy diversion. During the course of the afternoon Mrs. McGregor presented her honor guests with lovely lingerie using clever verses composed by Mr. Jack McGregor. To Miss Sharp she quoted:

To The Ballinger Nightingale
I've listened to the sweetest strains of violin and harp,
But these were but as discords, harsh and rough,
When compared to tones of melody from Prima Donna Sharp,
As she starts out to really "strut her stuff."

I've read in many a story, and I've heard in poet's song,
That the "Maiden's Prayer" is always love me little, love me long;
But Anna Jean says "apple-sauce," (the up-to-date retort)
My prayer is now, and always was, love me lots, and love me "short."

And so I hope her dream comes true, with a sweetheart to adore,
One who loves her "short," or "long," while she loves Mohr, and Mohr,
And I trust this little keepsake, with its color always bright,
May chance to be a friend in need, the always "out of sight."

And to Mrs. Gross the appropriate verse follows:

That there's "Many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip,"
Is a saying, old and true;
But the slip that I slip to our friend Nell Kipp—
Is a slip that is all "true blue."

'Tis a Slip that I trust will never slip,
But will stay where it's put, with care;
For if it should slip—or even rip,
Her only help would be prayer.

I hope she will find it just half as strong,
As the tie that binds us together,
For we'll be good friends; till the journey ends,
Thro' fair, and thro' stormy weather.

The friends of Mrs. Gross and Miss Sharp invited were: Mmes. C. B. Penn, Joe Simmons, James Wear, R. W. Earnshaw, F. M. Pearce, Q. V. Miller, D. Reeder, J. Y. Pearce, Asa Cordill, James Brewer, Troy Simpson, Malcolm McGregor, Estes Lynn, Jack McGregor, E. A. Saunders, J. R. Lusk; Misses Mildred Herring, Rama Guin, Sue Sharp, Louise Orgain, Nell Alexander, Katharine Penn and Winnie Trail.

Birthday Party

Tuesday afternoon was a happy time for a group of the friends of Ruth Yeager, when her mother, Mrs. H. S. Yeager assembled a crowd of boys and girls at her home on Broadway, to assist her in celebrating her tenth birthday. Outdoor games supervised by Mrs. K. V. Northington, were played with interest and at tea time the guests found their places round the dining table by means of valentine place cards, where the pretty birthday cake, topped with its ten candles was cut for the birthday emblems and served with ice cream cones, heart-shaped mints, apples and roasted peanuts. The little hostess received many lovely gifts from her friends.

SICK HEADACHE

No Pleasure, Says Ohio Lady, to Go Places, Till She Took Black-Draught Which Brought Relief.

Langsville, Ohio.—"For years and years I suffered with severe headache," says Mrs. Jane Campbell, of this place. "It wasn't any pleasure for me to go places, for I came home with sick headache. If I went to church or to any social gathering or to town to shop, when I got back I would have these headaches and have to go to bed for a day or more, till I would just get out of heart and would not try to go. "About 15 years ago I discovered that Black-Draught was good for these headaches. I began using it. I would take it two or three nights in succession if I felt the least bad, and it sure did wonders for me. It is about 14 years since I had sick headaches, and I can go places and really enjoy life. It surely is splendid."

Headache often is a symptom of constipation. The best relief is secured by treating the cause of the trouble and in such a case many people have been greatly helped by the use of Thedford's Black-Draught. Purely vegetable. Recommended for young and old. No harmful after-effects. Sold everywhere. NC-149

Roaring War Film, Starring Beery and Hatton Coming

What might well be advertised as the shortest fight in the history of the prize ring takes place in the opening round of Paramount's new Wallace Beery-Raymond Hatton starring vehicle "We're in the Navy Now."

Wallace Beery as Knockout Hansen is matched against Sailor Percival Seruggs, (Tom Kennedy). With the first blow, Beery is knocked clear out of the arena. He wakes some hours later and sets out to find his manager, Raymond Hatton, who has flown with their combined resources. After an extremely funny chase, both find themselves inside the gates of a naval training camp. War has been declared and they are accepted as unwilling recruits.

"We're in the Navy Now" comes to the Palace Theatre on Monday and Tuesday of next week, at a time when the enthusiasm roused by "Behind the Front" is just dying away. Those who saw the first "sunny side of the war" film will never forget the riotous characterizations of these two stars. As dumb dough-boy buddies, they wrecked all laugh records. Now, comes their latest, and from advance reports it will probably break roar records created by "Behind the Front."

This Edward Sutherland production comes to the Palace next week. In addition to the stars—Tom Kennedy and Chester Conklin, featured players—head a cast which includes Donald Keith, Loraine Eason and Joseph Girard.

SOUTH TEXAN GROWS HIS OWN CAMPHOR

(By Associated Press)
FRANCITAS, Tex., Feb. 5.—F. W. Schwind, farmer near here, grows camphor trees, not as an aid to medicine, but for the prosaic purpose of creating a wind-break.

Set close together they make what Schwind regards as a fine hedge, extremely ornamental and no less useful in this South Texas country, where the climate is mild enough to grow oranges, figs, grapefruit, grapes and winter vegetables.
