"We came back and Bourland drove the car into the garage," Keith said. "I went into the house and heard a shot. I rushed out to find him lying under his car."

HOUSTON, July 28.—After carefully placing strips of cardboard on the floor so his clothing would not be soiled, Sam Wood, 35, former overseas veteran, shot and killed himself here today.

"Much interest is being taken by the club members in the work," Mr. Lehmburg writes.
The special car of delegates will arrive in Ballinger on the return trip from A. & M. Sunday at noon, while those who went in automobiles will return Saturday night and Sunday afternoon.

TWO DELEGATES RETURN TO MEET

(By Associated Press)
GENEVA, July 28.—W. C. Bridgeman, first Lord of the Admiralty, and Viscount Cecil, British delegates to the naval conference, returned to Geneva today after a week in London, where they consulted the British cabinet.

"We hope to get something settled within a week or a fortnight." It will be a real pity for all of us if we cannot agree at this time," the first lord said.
No agreement was reached by the naval conference at a meeting today and the Japanese spokesman expressed the opinion to the Associated Press that the session convoked for Monday will probably be the last.

The Japanese said indications are that the conference will fail.

Widowed By Two Air Disasters; Hopes to Be Ambassador at 50

MRS. JOY BRIGHT HANCOCK

(By Associated Press)
CAPE MAY, N. J., July 28.—The United States may have a woman ambassador at some foreign capital if the plans of Mrs. Joy Bright Hancock mature.

Widowed twice by air disasters, at the age of 25 Mrs. Hancock has turned to the study of the foreign service, preliminary to probationary work in the State Department.

Mrs. Hancock, then Joy Bright, daughter of State Senator William H. Bright of Cape May county, served as a yeoman, first class, in the navy during the World War. Her first husband, Lieut. C. G. Little, died ten months after their marriage, when disaster overtook the dirigible ZR-2 in England.

Vowing that she would see the air that robbed her, conquered by lighter-than-air craft, she took a position with the bureau of aeronautics. When she was transferred to Lakehurst she met and married Lieutenant Commander Hancock of the dirigible Shenandoah, who died in the crash of that airship exactly 16 months after their marriage.

Now aiming at advancement in the foreign service, Mrs. Hancock believes that her experience in the navy would add much to her ability to help American seamen when they need aid in foreign ports.

"I want this chance to help them," she said. "If they get into trouble I would look after them and put them back on their ships."

The aspiring diplomat recently completed a tour of the world, made to gather impressions and for purposes of study. She speaks several languages.

At present there are two women in the diplomatic service of the United States—Miss Lucille Acheson, at Berne, Switzerland, and Miss Pattie Field, with the American legation at Amsterdam, Holland.

ON TRIAL

SUAD DERVISCH HANEM

(By Associated Press)
KADIKUEY, Turkey, July 28.—Suad Dervisch Hanem, Turkish author, left Germany and motion picture work to return home for her trial on the charge of attacking religion.

The novelist, first person in Turkish history to undergo such a trial, lives in Chalcedon, a suburb of Constantinople, famous as "the city of the blind" in Byzantine days.

Her trial is based on utterances in a novel to the effect that religion is more harmful than opium and that prophets are charlatans. Under the new penal code, she is liable to imprisonment of from two to six months if convicted.

Her visit to Germany was for the purpose of working on scenarios dealing with Turkey. She is the first Turkish writer to enter the motion picture field.

UP-AND-DOING HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB

This club met with Mrs. J. M. Tucker and daughter, Mrs. Lomnie Stone, Friday, July 22.

Preservation of foods was the subject of the meeting and the different methods of canning and pickling were discussed. Mrs. J. L. Hinkle, club president, made a talk on cucumber pickles.

A picnic supper and swim in Mr. Jess Smith's pasture was also planned for Monday evening.

Delicious ice cream and cakes were served to the following members: Mmes. J. L. Hinkle, Edd Bradshaw, W. S. Caudle, Elmer Barnhill, A. B. Davis, Jess Smith, Eddie Voelker, Fred Parker, Jack Mathis, Hugo Michaelis, and Miss Maurine Davis, visitor.

The next meeting will be held August 12th, at Mrs. Eddie Voelker's. Canning will be the subject of this meeting and all the members are urged to bring any fruit or vegetables they have to can.

The Up-and-Doing Home Demonstration Club members of Hatchel entertained their husbands with a picnic supper at Coyote Creek in Jess Smith's pasture Tuesday evening.

A good number of the crowd enjoyed a swim before supper and said the water was fine.

There was plenty of fried chicken and all the good things to eat that go with it to make a good supper. Mr. Hinkle had hard luck, getting chicken necks when he wanted breast. Soda pop was served by the club and there was plenty of ice tea for all. Foy Davis said it would be hard to have to come home from town to cornbread for dinner after eating such a fine meal. To prove there was plenty to eat, Mrs. A. B. Davis and Mrs. Elmer Barnhill had to be helped up from the table.

There were sixty-eight persons present including visitors from Fort Worth, Talpa, Winters and Ballinger.

CROPS DAMAGED BY HEAVY RAIN

Hail and a wind-driven rain did considerable damage over a narrow strip of farms north of the city Wednesday afternoon. In some places cotton and feed were destroyed, while at the Hugh Campbell place, the sheep sheds were blown down and limbs broken from trees.

Wednesday rain was only local. One inch was reported at Benoit. More than one-fifth of an inch fell here. The rain was heavier north of the city, and Elm Creek was soon on a rise. Many water holes were filled up and the city given a fresh supply.

Hail damaged crops on the Campbell, Greer, Routh, Eagan, Kemp and Pape farms, north of the city, and probably others.

The Colorado River was also on a muddy rise again Thursday morning. The river has been on several small rises during the past few days due to rains falling far up the stream's watershed.

Rain and hail damage was also reported at Crews, but a telephone call to that place Thursday denied that either rain or hail fell there.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Sheppard and family and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bridwell and daughter have returned from an extended vacation to Colorado and Wyoming.

Alex McGregor left Thursday morning for Dallas, where he goes to look after business.

Pineapple Lends Flavor

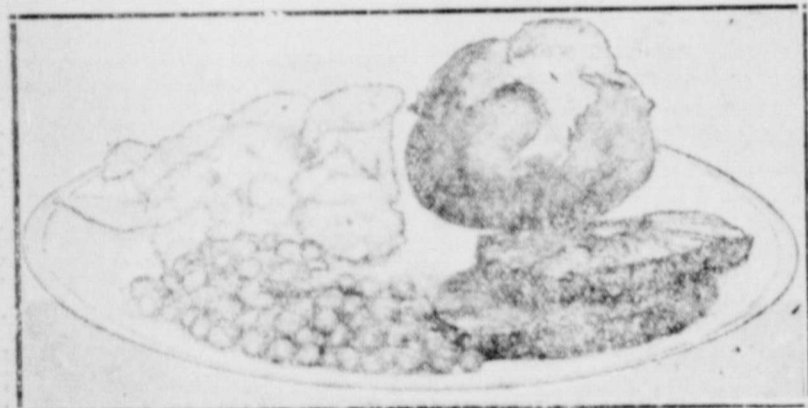

Plate of potato, cauliflower, pineapple and peas.

Baked potato, buttered cauliflower, new or canned peas and fried canned pineapple makes a very good vegetable plate combination, says the United States Bureau of Home Economics.

The fried pineapple "adds a delicious flavor and the slight acidity that such combinations need and is easy to prepare."

The recipe: Drain the slices of pineapple and fry in a small quantity of butter until golden brown. Turn only when one side is well browned. Have a moderate oven for baking potatoes, and when they feel mealy and tender take them out immediately. Pinch them between the fingers to crack the skin and let out the steam, or gash with a knife. Press some of the potato so butter or paprika may be placed on top. Serve at once.

"The Last Frontier" at Palace Beginning Tomorrow

"Buffalo Bill," famous in fiction, lives again in the person of Jack Hoxie, who impersonates the celebrated scout in "The Last Frontier," a Metropolitan picture, which will be shown at the Palace Theatre tomorrow and Saturday.

Hoxie impersonates the great frontiersman during the period of his greatest achievement when he had established the remarkable record of killing 68 buffalo in one hour's time.

"The Last Frontier" is a story of early days in Kansas and the struggles of the builders of the Missouri Pacific Railroad to construct their line despite the warring Sioux Indians.

Jack Hoxie comes to "The Last Frontier" well prepared for the great role he assumes. The production was filmed on the Indian reservation on the great American desert where a replica of the old trading post of Salina was constructed. The leading roles are portrayed by William Boyd, Marguerite De La Motte, J. Farrell Maedonald and Hoxie.

"The Masked Woman" Closes at Palace Tonight

Pioneer Home Modernized

Carpentry, plumbing and wiring modernized this hundred-year-old Missouri homestead.

Sentiment attached to pioneer farm homes goes unscathed in modern methods of adding necessary conveniences.

It is unnecessary, government agents say, to mar familiar contour or despoil the age-old architecture.

The accompanying picture shows a dining room newly added to a veteran of early carpentry. Running water was installed, the entire house wired for electricity, and carefully planned flowers and shrubbery added to the yard.

Can you afford to spend 25¢ a week — to save 50¢?

It is reliably estimated that it costs on the average $20 per year for removing carbon from a six-cylinder motor. This does not include the cost of necessary repairs due to the wear and tear which carbon causes.

That's why you save money when you use Conoco Ethyl Gasoline even though it costs 3c more per gallon than ordinary gasoline. It costs you about 25c more a week—$13 a year—but it saves you double this amount by reducing carbon removal and wear and tear bills. Isn't that wise economy?
