It was the first special train operated out of here since the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at Brownwood four years ago, and enthusiasm ran high just before the train departed and many made up their minds at the last minute.

If the team gets in the game this afternoon with the same amount of pep that was being displayed by the fans and pep squad they will give a good account of themselves.

(By Associated Press) OLD ORCHARD, Me., Oct. 22.—Pilot Wilmer Stultz this afternoon set tomorrow morning as the earliest date for another attempt to get away on a trans-Atlantic flight in the plane Dawn.

OLD ORCHARD, Me., Oct. 22.—"We just couldn't fly down the wind—that's all," explained Mrs. Frances Grayson, who hopes to be the first woman to fly across the Atlantic Ocean, as her amphibian plane Dawn taxied out of the water and up the beach here today after the second false start this week for Copenhagen.

The decision to return was made when the plane was twelve miles off the coast. Pilot Wilmer Stultz said the machine was not more than two feet above the water and making 125 miles an hour when Navigator Brice Goldsborough pulled the valve wires that released 260 gallons of gasoline.

It is undetermined when the next start will be made.

Paving concerns from all parts of the South are circulating
householders who reside on Broadway and Eighth Street
these days. Every concern is trying to influence the citizens in favor of their certain kind of paving material. The people who live on these streets, we understand, want a paving that is absolutely dustless.

Rumors of drilling contracts
come from all parts of Runnels county almost every day. Usually when the particulars are asked for they are unobtainable because the block has not been completed and those doing the blocking do not desire publicity until the deal is finished. These rumors, however, do show that interest in oil production is spreading to all parts of the county and that if only a few of the proposed projects go through there will be considerable drilling a little later.

WELCOME CHANGES FOR THE BREAKFAST MENU

(Editor's Note: This is one of a series of cooking articles by six of the country's best-known cooks.)

Bacon, eggs, toast, cereal. Mighty good for breakfast, but don't we sometimes get tired of them?

MARGARET ALLEN HALL

Hot breads are always welcome, and they don't take very long to prepare. And waffles make a big hit, although they require a little more work on the part of the cook. However, it's worth it, when we see the look of pure joy on the faces of the youngsters while they eat.

Berry Muffins

Blueberries, huckleberries, raspberries—any berries in season—are delicious in muffins. Miss Margaret Allen Hall, nutrition specialist at the Battle Creek College of Home Economics, gives her favorite muffin recipe.

- 1 cup fresh berries
- 1/2 cup butter
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 cup milk
- 1/2 cup sifted flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon baking powder

Sift the dry ingredients together. Cream the butter and sugar. Add the milk and the dry ingredients alternately. At the last, fold in the berries.

Always flour berries before putting them into the batter. This keeps them from going to the bottom.

It's always best to have a hot oven for muffins and biscuits. If you cook with a modern long-chimney oil stove, turn the flame until yellow tips appear, about 1/2 inch high above the blue area. This flame pre-heats quickly.

Golden Corn Muffins

Crust, are delicious. This is how Miss Hall makes them.

- 1/2 cup cornmeal
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 egg
- 1/2 teaspoon baking powder

Sift the dry ingredients together. Beat the egg, add the milk and stir in the dry ingredients. Then add the melted butter. Turn into muffin tins and bake in a hot oven twenty-five to thirty minutes.

New Pancakes

Pancakes? Of course! Every family likes them, sour milk, and buckwheat. But have you ever tried rye pancakes? The following recipe is contributed by Miss Lucy G. Allen, principal of the Boston School of Cookery.

Mix one cup each of rye meal and bread flour, one-fourth cup of sugar, two teaspoons of cream of tartar, one teaspoon of soda, one teaspoon of salt and one-half teaspoon of grated nutmeg.

Add one well-beaten egg and one cup of milk. Beat well and drop by spoonfuls into deep fat. Drain on soft paper and serve hot with maple or any good sweet syrup.

Rice Cuddles Cakes

Rice puddings have made a name for themselves down south. And there's no reason why folks everywhere should not like them. Miss Rosa Michaels, New Orleans cooking expert, gives her recipe for them.

- 1 cup boiled rice
- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup flour
- 1 egg
- 2 teaspoons shortening
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon baking powder

Mix rice, milk, melted shortening, salt and well beaten egg in the dry ingredients and add to first mixture. Mix thoroughly and bake on hot greased griddle.

Hot Waffles!

And where can you find a dish more enticing than waffles, served with rich maple syrup, corn syrup, or molasses? The following recipe is also Miss Michaels':

- 1/2 cup flour
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 egg
- 1/2 teaspoon shortening
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Sift dry ingredients; add milk to the yolks of eggs. Beat thoroughly and add to dry ingredients, now the melted shortening and mix in the beaten whites of the eggs. Bake well in hot waffle irons. Some of the modern devices require no grease in the baking. Serve at once.

Many women set the table the night before, and have all cooking tenets needed for breakfast laid out, to save time in the morning. He avoids much needless early morning confusion.

Oil stove users will be glad to hear of a wick cleaner which fits over wicks, and removes all char and soot with a simple turning. It's inexpensive and saves hands.

Whiter Clothes

Did you know that clothes rinsed in hard water require very little soap and are whiter than when washed in soft water?

Murder Charge Brings Climax to Dramatic Career of Remus

George Remus of Cincinnati (upper right), erstwhile "King of Bootleggers," confronts a murder charge for shooting his wife, Imogene Holmes Remus (upper left), after she sued him for divorce. Charles P. Taft II, (lower left), son of W. H. Taft, will prosecute Remus on the murder charge. Romola Remus (center), daughter of Remus by a former marriage, is expected to testify for her father, and Ruth Remus (lower right), adopted daughter of the family, for the state.

(By Associated Press)

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Oct. 22.—A costly mansion set deep in the lawns and groves of a suburban estate is the only physical monument to the fortune George Remus reaped from his deals in contraband liquor.

Only half a dozen years ago he bought it, after he had married Imogene Holmes in Chicago in 1920 and had left his law practice there to come to Cincinnati and pyramid into millions in the bootlegging business the $10,000 nest egg with which he started.

The old homestead on Price Hill, dating from Civil War days, was virtually rebuilt by Remus in order that he might endow with a setting of splendor the wife upon whom he lavished his wealth and devotion.

Some three years ago Remus went away from the mansion to serve a term in federal prison for violation of the prohibition law, and when he emerged he served another in an Ohio jail on a similar conviction. His wife followed him to Atlanta, to live near him during his prison term—and then, shortly before his release, charged him with embezzlement and sued for divorce. Remus countered with the allegation that she sought freedom to wed Franklin L. Dodge, jr., then a prohibition agent active in gathering the evidence which sent Remus to prison.

Now "Beautiful Imogene" is dead, and her husband, stripped of most of his fortune, is again in a jail cell—this time as the admitted slayer of his wife. He waited for her in a Cincinnati park October 6, and shot her as she journeyed to a divorce court to obtain her final separation.

Prosecution of Remus in his murder trial will devolve upon Charles P. Taft II, youngest son of William Howard Taft, who became Hamilton county attorney last January after graduation from a law course at Yale.

Two girls will be arraigned on either side of the case—Romola Remus, 23, daughter of George Remus by a former marriage, who has sided with her father, and Ruth Remus, 20, adopted daughter of the Remuses and a companion of her foster mother the morning of the slaying, who will testify for the state.

Remus, the stocky son of German immigrants and himself a native of Germany, predicated his career as a trafficker in liquor upon the twin beliefs that immunity could always be bought for a price and that bootlegging held a fortune for a man who went into it intelligently on a big scale.

He soon came to be regarded as the largest operator in the country. Setting up dummy drug concerns to veil his withdrawals of liquor from warehouses, he employed 3,000 persons, and he testified at a subsequent trial that during his career he bought and sold some 3,000,000 gallons of whisky. He paid $20,000,000, he said, for plants and whisky, spent $20,000,000 more corrupting officials, and made sales which grossed $75,000,000. Income tax officials proved that in the summer of 1921 he deposited $2,700,000 in one Cincinnati bank alone.

Finally he was convicted and sentenced to the Atlanta prison, after spending $1,500,000 in his defense.

He estimated his wealth at $5,000,000 on the day he went to Atlanta in a private car to serve his sentence. Of this he put $1,000,000 in his wife's hands and "salted away" the rest, some with friends whom he later charged with cheating him.

In all his dealings he never regarded himself as a criminal. "I am only a business man," he said, "and my business ethics are the best."

Shortly before his release from Atlanta he was sued for divorce. He fought the suit for two years, and when it was nearing termination he acceded the motor car in which his wife and daughter were going to court, followed Mrs. Remus as she leaped from the machine, and fired a bullet into her abdomen.

BAPTISTS AT MILES TO HOLD REVIVAL

11TH PROGRAM BEING MADE

A committee to arrange an Armistice Day program met Thursday afternoon and started the ball rolling toward presenting an all-day program in Ballinger on November 11th.

Plans completed so far call for a ten o'clock service at one of the local churches, to close at 11 o'clock with a silent prayer in tribute to the dead of the World War. At 2 o'clock on Hutchings Avenue in front of the court house lawn a big water fight will be staged, similar to that seen during the recent Runnels County Fair. A bucket is suspended in the middle of a wire strung high over the street and each team tries to send the bucket to the other end of the wire with a stream of water. The Miles fire department will meet the Winters fire department in the first fight and immediately following the Ballinger company will meet the winner of the first fight.

After the water battle a parade will be formed consisting of ex-service men from Runnels and surrounding counties, the National Guard unit, the four classes of the local high school, the Brady football fans and the local pep squad.

The Pat Williams Post of the American Legion has been given one of the war trophies that are being distributed from Camp Mabry. This trophy is a six-inch Howitzer (cannon), and an effort is being made to get the gun here to head the Armistice Day parade. If the Legionnaires can finance the freight charges, which will amount to about $75, the gun will be here in time for the celebration.

After proceeding through the principal downtown streets the parade will move on to Fair Park where the football game between the Ballinger and Brady high school teams will be played at 3:30 o'clock. This game is an annual affair and the Ballinger team has a grudge to even this year against the mighty Brady eleven.
