3 Hurt When Freight Train Is Derailed

(By International News Service) PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis., Nov. 28.—Three trainmen were probably fatally injured today when two freight engines and twenty box cars left the rails after striking an open switch and tearing up the rails for 200 feet.

WOMAN SOLE OWNER OF MISSOURI TOWN TO 'PUT IT ON MAP'

(By International News Service) SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Nov. 28.—Sole owner of the town of Garber, Missouri, in the heart of the "Shepherd of the Hills" country made famous by Harold Bell Wright, Mrs. Ada Clodfelter is planning to place a little village on the roster as a resort center.

Mrs. Clodfelter became interested in several small hotels at Garber, is believed to be the only owner of an entire town in Missouri.

Garber is four miles from Marvel Cave, one of the Ozarks' most famed beauty spots, and has a population slightly in excess of fifty inhabitants.

The property acquired by Mrs. Clodfelter includes a house and one hundred and sixty lots, on which stand the railroad station, postoffice, several scattered homes and one general merchandise store.

Mrs. Clodfelter became interested in the village because it was the home of "Old Matt" and "Aunt Mollie"—Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Ross—characters in Wright's novel, "The Shepherd of the Hills." Garber is also one of the oldest settlements in the state.

"Old Matt" was for years the postmaster at Garber and also ran the general store.

The property at Garber was acquired merely as an investment, Mrs. Clodfelter said. It is valued at about $4,500 and was taken in trade with M. J. Shackett, Eldorado Springs, Mo.

Mrs. Clodfelter plans the immediate erection of a large summer hotel and numerous cottages on the property, in addition to her present holdings.

MAN IS CHEERFUL WITH NECK BROKEN

(By International News Service) HOUSTON, Nov. 28.—Although his neck is broken, Ben H. Thorpe, 40, continues to grin. He not only smiles, but says he will get well.

Thorpe's horses ran away a few days ago on his farm at Pietersville and threw him from a wagon.

At a hospital here, propped up on a sea of pillows, Thorpe, chatting with his wife, cautions her not to worry about a little thing like a broken neck, promising her he will recover.

But physicians are dubious, declaring that effective treatment cannot begin until the man has regained his strength.

J. T. and Miss Mamie Ray Preston, students at Baylor University, have returned to Waco after visiting their uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Love, of this city.

LIFTS TICK BAN IN 8 COUNTIES

(By International News Service) AUSTIN, Nov. 28.—Gov. Dan Moody will lift the tick eradication quarantine from Bandera, Bastrop, Colorado, Fayette, Kendall, Nueces and Titus counties and the Matagorda peninsula, to be effective December 1.

Certain localities of these counties are exempted and will continue under local quarantine.

Solution Looms in Lithuanian -Pole Matter

(By International News Service) PARIS, Nov. 28.—The Polish-Lithuanian territorial dispute, which for a time threatened to develop into an Eastern European crisis, will be settled by the League of Nations, French foreign office officials believe.

Close relations between France and the Polish government indicates a solution will be reached amicably.

KOVNO, Lithuania, Nov. 28.—Minister of War Daudantes today in a statement given the International News Service, emphatically denied that Lithuanian troops were being mobilized along the Polish frontier.

SIX LEADERS TO FACE TRIAL

(By International News Service) FOLSOM PRISON, Calif., Nov. 28.—Six ring leaders in the sensational Thanksgiving day jail break here which cost the lives of two guards and eleven prisoners and the wounding of numerous others, will face a preliminary hearing Wednesday.

The state will ask for the death penalty for the mutiny leaders.

SIX KILLED IN HEAD-ON CRASH

(By International News Service) TORONTO, Nov. 28.—Six are dead and more than 40 persons were injured as the result of a head-on collision between the Chicago Flyer of the Canadian Pacific Railroad and a heavily laden freight train near Enterprise, Ontario, late yesterday.

A fire which followed the crash added to the toll of the disaster.

The condition of Dr. E. R. Walker, who recently underwent an operation in a Temple hospital, remains about the same and there is little change for the better. Mrs. Walker left on the afternoon Santa Fe to be with her husband.

LEGAL DEBATE MARKS TRIAL

(By International News Service) CINCINNATI, Nov. 28.—A bitter legal debate this morning marked the trial of George Remus, "king of the bootleggers," who is on trial for the murder of his wife, Mrs. Imogene Remus, when Franklin E. Shaw, Washington race track driver, took the stand to put into the records the first "unwritten law" testimony.

Wall Street Ends Fat Year by Giving Away 50 Millions

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—Indications that the financial district around Wall Street has just experienced one of the most profitable years in its history are the well defined rumors now in circulation in the district that the Christmas bonuses distributed by representative banks and brokerage houses to their employees will be larger this year than ever before, exceeding even the generous $50,000,000 extra compensation paid out last year.

Distribution of these bonuses, which range from 2 to 20 per cent of the annual salaries, has now become a fixed custom in the financial district, and the size of the bonus payments is taken as a barometer of the street's condition.

During the current twelve months stocks and bonds, as represented by composite averages, will have climbed to record heights. This advance in securities has attracted the general public to the stock market, thus swelling the commissions and the earnings of brokerage houses to a level never before attained.

Another manifestation of the increased wealth of Wall Street is the steadily climbing value of seats on the Stock Exchange. The most recent sale of a seat brought $295,000, a jump of $10,000.

I proud of the record of ord car. If we were not, have continued to manu g. But 1927 is not 1908. It is not even 1926.

It a new car to meet rn conditions conditions in this coun y changed in the last few refinement in motor car construction is desirable. So we have built a new car. To put it simply—we have built a new and different Ford to meet new and different conditions.

"We believe the new Ford car, which will be officially announced on Friday of this week, is as great an improvement in motor car building as the Model T Ford was in 1908.

Smart new low lines and beautiful colors

"The new Ford is more than a car for the requirements of today. It goes farther than that. It anticipates the needs of 1928, of 1930.

"The new Ford car is radically different from Model T. Yet the basic Ford principles of economy of production and quality of product have been retained. There is nothing quite like the new Ford anywhere in quality and price.

"The new Ford has exceptional beauty of line and color because beauty of line and color has come to be considered, and I think rightly, a necessity in a motor car today. Equally important is the mechanical beauty of the engine. Let us not forget this mechanical beauty when we consider the beauty of the new Ford.

"The new Ford has unusual speed for a low-price car because present-day conditions require unusual speed.

HENRY FORD

it will be a successful model. It has to be. There is no way it can escape being so, for it represents the sum total of all we have learned about motor car building in the making of 15,000,000 automobiles.

The new Ford will sell at a low price

"The price of the new Ford is low in accordance with the established Ford policy. I hold that it is better to sell a large number of cars at a reasonably small margin of profit than to sell a few cars at a large margin of profit.

"We never forget that people who buy Ford cars are the people who helped to make this business big. It has always been our policy to share our profits with our customers. In one year our profits were so much larger than we expected that we voluntarily returned $50 to each purchaser of a car. We could never have done that if this business had been conducted for the sole benefit of stockholders rather than to render service to the public.

"No other automobile can duplicate the new Ford car at the Ford price because no other manufacturer does business the way we do.

"We make our own steel—we make our own glass—we mine our own coal—we make virtually every part used in the Ford car. But we do not charge a profit on any of these items or from these operations. We would not be playing fair with the public if we did so. Our only business is the automobile business. Our only profit is on the automobile we sell.

"WE ARE able to sell this new Ford car at a low price because we have found new ways to give you greater value without a great increase in our own costs.

"We did not set out to make a new car to sell at such-and-such a figure. We decided on the kind of car we wanted to make and then found ways to produce it at a low price.

"The new Ford car, as I have said, will be officially announced on Friday of this week. In appearance, in performance, in comfort, in safety, in all that goes to make a good car, it will bear out everything I have said here. We consider it our most important contribution thus far to the progress of the motor industry, to the prosperity of the country, and to the daily welfare of millions of people."

Plane Service Over Atlantic By Next Year

By Charles A. Smith
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Nov. 28.—The first regular Atlantic air service may be in operation next summer under the auspices of the British government.

This announcement, which has startled air experts here, was made by Air Vice Marshal Sir Sefton Brancker, director general of the English civil aviation, and himself a noted aviator, during an address here, in which he revealed that two airships, each capable of carrying one hundred passengers, would be ready "probably for some sort of service to Canada" next summer.

The service, according to Sir Sefton, will be in the nature of an experiment for the purpose of gathering data for the proposed airship route from England to Australia.

Route Selected

In order to secure the assistance of trade winds, their route will probably be via Bathurst, on the West African coast, and the Azores.

It is hoped that the airships will have a cruising speed of seventy knots. Sir Sefton devoted a good part of his address to an appeal for heavier subsidies for the building of airships, declaring that the airship was pregnant with great possibilities.

He painted a picture of a time when distant continents would become as neighbors, and declared that the airship would be the main medium through which this would be brought about.

Within the next ten years, and possibly within the next five, according to Sir Sefton, airplanes and airships will be able to reduce the flying time from London to Australia from 17 days to 7 1/2 days. Similarly a journey to Cape Town, now mapped out to take ten days, would be done in four and a half days.

Giving his reasons for this reduction in flying time, he said that as aircraft improved and ground organization became less and less necessary, the air routes would become more and more direct, until they got to a point when flying-boats would fly from the west coast of Ireland to Newfoundland on a direct compass course.

Plans in Future

Britain's plans for the future, he said, were concentrated on three objectives: A through connection between London, Melbourne and India; a branch service through Cairo, with some flying points in the Mediterranean, through Central Africa to Cape Town; an airship service in some direction, probably to Canada.

Speaking of the advances in aviation, Sir Sefton produced figures showing that the world total of miles flown was 1,170,000 in 1919 and 16,920,000 in 1926. "There will come a day," he forecast, "when air transport will pay or nearly pay. Once we get to that point there will be a tremendous boom in aviation throughout the world."

Airplanes in passenger traffic are to have all the conveniences of Pullmans, except of course, the name.—Shreveport Journal.

BOBBED HAIR CAUSE OF TRAGEDIES IN FRANCE

By International News Service
NANCY, France, Nov. 28.—Bobbed hair is still causing tragedies in France.

Madame Marcel Moncolin, of this city, is the latest victim, shot dead by her husband because she cut her hair against his wishes. The young couple had quarreled because of Madame Moncolin's desire to follow fashion. She finally left home saying she was going to the barber shop.

After the deed was done, she started home and met Moncolin in the street. She defiantly removed her hat to show her shorn locks and her husband drew a revolver and shot her down. Afterward he fired a bullet into his own head in an unsuccessful attempt to commit suicide. The jury decided that he would spend the next ten years in solitary confinement and after that ten years of exile.

Elinor Glyn Rejoins First Film
Mentors with "It" Starring
Clara Bow and Others

Elinor Glyn has rejoined Paramount. Through one of the most important agreements in motion picture enterprises, the brilliant English author recently entered into an arrangement whereby she transfers production activities to the organization that originally introduced her works to the silver sheet. The announcement carries with it news that the first Elinor Glyn production stars Clara Bow. "It," this new novel, is appearing serially in many newspapers throughout the country.

Miss Bow, whose striking personality and brilliant performance in "Mantrap" catapulted her to the pinnacle of film fame, is supported by Antonio Moreno in "It," which arrives at the Palace Theatre Wednesday for a two-day run. Clarence Badger directed.

"I have been afforded no greater pleasure in many months than our renewal of business affiliations with Madame Glyn," said Jesse L. Lasky, first vice-president of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation. "Her achievements are truly remarkable. In 'It,' we believe she has given us a subject of tremendous interest and appeal, one that is ideally suited to the vivacious Miss Bow. Certainly the combination of Elinor Glyn, with her keen insight into human nature and public tastes; of Clara Bow, with her flaming personality; and of the novel theme, absorbing story and intriguing title, 'It,' is a happy one."

BOOTLEGGING NO GROUND FOR DIVORCE IN OHIO

(By International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 28.—Bootlegging is no ground for divorce. That at least is the opinion voiced by Common Pleas Judge Thomas Kennedy, who ruled in a recent Cleveland divorce case that testimony showing that an erring hubby was a bootlegger was not even worth the trouble the lawyers took to bring out such a fact.

Kennedy said there is nothing in the Ohio law that permits a wife to leave her husband because he starts to sell rum.

"A bootlegger and his wife can start out together on a modest scale, make brew together, make money together and ride around in big cars together. There is nothing in the bootlegging end of it to keep them apart," he said.

"Numerous lawyers, however, seek to advise the court in favor of the wives seeking divorce by branding husbands as bootleggers in divorce petitions of more or less consequence." This he held was immaterial and does not create any new ground for divorce.

The shortest title the screen has known—and the longest laughs—"It!"

CONFEDERATE PENSIONS FOR QUARTER READY

(By International News Service)

AUSTIN, Nov. 28.—Preparations have been practically completed by the pension department of the comptroller's department to mail Confederate pension warrants to approximately 13,000 pensioners for the quarter ending November 30.

For the first time in the history of the granting of pensions, the amount paid out quarterly has reached $50. The previous quarter it was $48, while for the quarters before that time the amount was considerably less. This increase was made possible by a boost of two cents in the Confederate pension tax and by a gradual decrease in the number of pensioners.

For many years the tax was 5 cents on the $100 property valuation, but in 1924 a constitutional amendment was adopted fixing the tax at 7 cents.

Several years ago there were 17,000 pensioners on the roll but this number was gradually reduced to 13,000 because of the heavy ratio of deaths.

Despite the fact that the tax has been increased, the pension fund is not only exhausted at the present time, but is overdrawn $250,000 and likely will so continue until next January.

The 7-cent tax produces approximately $2,500,000 annually, which is ample to meet the $50 pension, but the fund usually becomes low about this time of the year.

JUDGE HARRISON DIES IN B'WOOD

Funeral services for Judge G. N. Harrison, 61, prominent attorney, Republican, and builder of West Texas, will be held Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the home in Brownwood, M. C. Atkins, manager of the West Texas Telephone Company here, announced Monday morning.

Judge Harrison died at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon from a heart attack. He had apparently been in good health.

Deceased was one of the pioneers of this section and was instrumental in the extension of the Santa Fe railway into this part of the state. He had been a resident of Brownwood for many years and had built up a large law practice. He had many business interests but probably his major business venture was in the West Texas Telephone Company, serving this section. He was president of that organization. He was also an official and director in one of the leading Brownwood banks.

Judge Harrison is survived by his widow; and three children, Mrs. Franklin Jones, of Marshall; Miss Annabelle Harrison, who is attending school in Dallas; and G. N. Harrison, Jr., who is attending the University of Michigan. None of the children were at home at the time of his death but all will be present for the funeral.

Mr. Atkins announced that telephone service here and over the entire system would be halted for one minute at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, out of respect to Judge Harrison. Four o'clock is the hour set for the funeral.

Correction of a very natural error

It is by no means strange that many people in this community are under the impression that a Gruen Watch is as costly a timepiece as money can buy.

The misunderstanding was inevitable, and should perhaps have been foreseen. For, after all, there is nothing more natural than to associate a distinguished mark and reputation with a high price.

Our watch department wishes to correct this impression. Actually, a Gruen costs no more than you would expect to pay for a good watch of any other make.

Those pictured above, for example. Note that they are all moderately priced. And each Gruen Watch is as great a value as can be obtained for the price asked.

If you are going to buy a watch, why not, therefore, make it a Gruen?

We invite you to come in and inspect these celebrated timepieces.
