CLEVELAND IS AIR CENTER FOR RACES

Women Air Racers Are Over Kansas

(By International News Service) KANSAS CITY, Aug. 24.—With all fifteen pilots accounted for at noon today, Mrs. Louise McPhetridge Thayden, of Pittsburgh, continued to lead other entrants in the women's air derby in total elapsed time from Santa Monica, California to Kansas City, with 14 hours 37 minutes and 36 seconds. Gladys O'Donnell, of Long Beach, California, was second with 15 hours 22 minutes and 10 seconds.

WICHITA, Kans., Aug. 24.—Taking off from the airport here at 9:00 o'clock this morning Blanche Noyes, of Cleveland, led the entrants in the women's air derby on the flight to Kansas City. Miss Noyes was followed at two-minute intervals by the other contestants.

CIGAR FIRES HOME AS MAN SPRAYS FLOOR

(By International News Service) BOSTON, Aug. 24.—Disinfectant spray and a lighted cigar do not mix, as Nathan Davis, of Geneva Street, Roxbury discovered. While spraying a room on the first floor of his home, with a lighted cigar in his mouth, some of the chemical dropped on the floor. Before foremen could extinguish the fire which followed the explosion, damage of $200 had been caused to the interior of the house. Davis escaped uninjured.

Deans Group Meets To Discuss Program

The program committee of the Heart of Texas Press Association met in Ballinger Saturday to discuss a program for the meeting of this body which will be held on September 21st in this city.

The first meeting of the committee was held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms just after noon, and the program was completed there. Before the meeting the entire group went to the Central Hotel, where they were the guests of the Ballinger Printing Company for luncheon.

Members of the committee who were present were: R. L. Scott, president of the association, and editor of the DeLeon Free Press; H. M. Jones, secretary and publisher of the Brownwood News; Harry Schwenker, editor and publisher of the Brady Standard, and president of the Texas Press Association; H. H. Jackson, publisher of the Coleman Democrat; J. C. Watson, publicity director of the Adkins Chamber of Commerce and of the West Texas Fair; and Troy Simpson, editor of The Ledger.

The newspaper men discussed the proposed press day at the West Texas Fair, and other matters concerning Central West Texas editors and publishers. The meeting here in September will be the fourth meeting of the body, which was organized four years ago.

After the conference here Saturday the group returned to their homes. A complete program will be announced soon along with the other perfected arrangements.

Named in Libel Suit

Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, former Assistant U. S. Attorney-General, is defendant in a libel suit filed by Gus O. Nations, former chief of the St. Louis federal prohibition enforcement unit. Nations charges that he was libeled in articles written by Mrs. Willebrandt on prohibition.

Child Injured in Wreck Improving

Word received here Saturday said that the 13 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hambright, who was injured in an automobile wreck near Bronte Tuesday is improving and will be completely recovered in a few days.

The small coupe driven by Mr. Hambright was hit at a road intersection near Bronte by a truck operated by a Mr. Black of that place.

Witnesses of the crash who carried the baby and Mrs. Hambright to Bronte for medical attention stated that the boy driving the truck was not aware of the oncoming car until too late to avert the accident.

Both coupe and truck were demolished in the crash, but only slight injuries were sustained by occupants of the machines. Mr. Hambright received several bruises and slight cuts.

BABY FALLS 3 STORIES; GETS FEW SCRATCHES

(By International News Service) PAWTUCKET, R. I., Aug. 24.—Falling to the ground from a third story window near which she had been playing, 18-month-old Margaret Mulligan, picked up with the almost certain conviction that she was dead, was found to have suffered only the barest of injuries. Baby Margaret had leaned against a screen which gave way, and she hurtled 40 feet to the ground to fall on a plot of grass within a foot of the hard cement sidewalk.

British Hold Out For Their Demands

(By International News Service) THE HAGUE, Aug. 24.—Philip Snowden, chancellor of the British exchequer, and "stormy petrel" of the reparations conference, sent a letter to the French, Belgian, Italian and Japanese delegations today asking further explanation of their figures in the latest compromise proposals and making clear that his patience is exhausted.

The British chancellor indicated that he expects an absolutely final offer "with the least possible delay." M. Jaspard, of Belgium, made further verbal suggestions to the British delegates to the meet today.

DRUNKEN DRIVING IS ON INCREASE IN MASS.

(By International News Service) BOSTON, Aug. 24.—Drunken driving figures have increased steadily in this state during the last decade, figures reveal. From 553 licenses revoked for this cause in 1918 the number in 1928 was more than 5,000 and to July 1, 1929, the number was 3,015.

Plans for Fair Maturing Rapidly; To be Best Yet

J. D. Motley, secretary of the Rannels County Fair Association, went to Brownwood Saturday morning to attend the Brown County Fair, and to attend to business in regard to the local exposition.

While in Brownwood Mr. Motley conferred with Bill H. Hames, whose carnival will also entertain the thousands at the Rannels County Fair. The Ballinger man will be the guest of Hilton Burks, secretary of the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce, and will arrange with Mr. Burks for a Brown county delegation to the fair here.

Plans for the Rannels County Fair are maturing fast, and final preliminary arrangements will be completed next week it is thought. Nearly all attractions have been booked, and exhibits are rapidly being registered. The

U. S. Senator Tyson Dies of Breakdown

Martial Law is in Force at Jerusalem

(By International News Service) LONDON, Aug. 24.—Martial law has been proclaimed in Jerusalem as the result of fighting between the Moslems and Jews. It was announced in the Central News Agency dispatch from that city this afternoon. According to the same source the dead are believed to number more than twenty, and more than a hundred have been wounded.

AGA KHAN SUMMERING AT AIX-LES-BAINS HOTEL

(By International News Service) AIX-LES-BAINS, Aug. 24.—One of the most prominent visitors at Aix-les-Bains this summer is the Aga Khan who always wears a red carnation in his button hole. He arises very early every morning and rides over to a little tea-shop on the Place Carnot to take his early breakfast while looking over his mail. He always uses two cups and saucers for his early repast. Nearby, his big car waits to take him back to his hotel.

Snyder Hall Leads Pacific Air Races

(By International News Service) CLEVELAND, August 24.—This normally complacent city was a veritable maelstrom of roaring motors and zooming aircraft today as the 1929 National Air Races and Aeronautical Exposition formally got under way.

Prior to the start of the opening events this morning it was estimated that more than 300,000 visitors had congregated in the city to witness the gala classic of the air.

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 24.—Getting away to an early start, Snyder Hall raced down the runway here at 7:30 a. m. to be the first flier to leave Spokane on the third leg of the Portland-Cleveland National Air Derby. The next stop is to be Missoula, Montana.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 24.—Congresswoman Ruth Bryan Owens of Florida will fly to the Cleveland 1929 National Air Races in the Miami-Miami Beach-to-Cleveland air derby, according to officials at air race headquarters here.

Mrs. Owens will not be a contestant but will be a passenger with Major J. Carroll Cone of Little Rock, Ark. Major Cone has announced he would fly in the derby and that Mrs. Owens could fly with him.

The schedule of the derby calls for departure of the racers Saturday, August 24 from Miami-Miami Beach at 10 a. m. The route will lie through control stops at Tampa, Jacksonville, Macon, Georgia, Montgomery, Alabama, Birmingham, Nashville, Tenn., Louisville, Ky. and Cleveland.

Modernist Cathedral for Liverpool Expresses Spirit of 20th Century

(By International News Service) LIVERPOOL, APE 24.—A modernist cathedral, expressing the twentieth century spirit, is to be built at Liverpool. It will be a great new building to break away from all conventional architecture, and will be designed by Sir Edwin Lutyens, famous designer of the Cenotaph and the Imperial Delhi.

Liverpool already has a new cathedral of imposing grandeur, but the structure conceived by Sir Edwin is to be an architectural expression of an "age of its own that has magnificent interpretation."

total between $900,000 and $1,000,000. The bulk of the money has been provided by the efforts of the poor. Now the definite plans have been made it is expected the substantial subscriptions will be numerous.

Archbishop Downey told of the thought that has actuated him.

"All cathedrals hitherto have been dedicated to saints. I want this to be unique in that it will be dedicated to Christ the King. Imagine a cathedral dominating the city and the river, with a great figure of Christ the King on top. What an inspiration it is going to be!"

"I am very hopeful that our site will be on the hill we need. The great figure of Christ the King visible from the Atlantic and illuminated at night would be a wonderful symbol to all who pass through Liverpool's gateway to the world."

STUDYING HIGHWAY QUESTIONS

Today street and highway building absorbs a larger percentage of the tax dollar than any other item except schools.

The United States Chamber of Commerce, through a committee is studying the proper relationship of four chief sources of highway finance—general revenues, special property assessments, special taxes against the highway users and highway bond issues.

They will endeavor to determine when bond issues are justifiable and the best means of redeeming them, how gasoline taxes should be applied, what the property owner's contribution to the highway past his door should be, the proper relationship of the Federal government to the highway program and other important questions.

The improvement of secondary roads to open up the back country and relieve congestion on main highways is a question of outstanding importance.

PUBLIC RESPECT ESSENTIAL

Arthur V. Lashly, who directed the first crime survey made in the United States, says there are only two ways to combat the underworld: One, honest public officials; two, arouse public sentiment.

Mr. Lashly goes right to the meat of the problem. Public respect for law is the first requisite of law enforcement.

But as a substitute for law enforcement we have proposals for laws to prohibit the ownership of small arms by law-abiding private citizens, as a crime preventative. How the crooks must laugh when they read this "remedy for crime."

There is no excuse for a private citizen carrying a concealed weapon except under proper authority. Neither is there any reason for denying him the right to own a gun when he uses it lawfully.

Let the criminal feel the teeth in our present laws instead of the gloved hand of sentimentalism which would "reform" the criminal by infringing on the rights of persons who respect the law.

NEW MINISTER FOR CHURCH OF CHRIST NOW IN CHARGE

Rev. Chas. L. Spier, who held a revival campaign here recently, arrived with his family Friday to make Ballinger home in the future.

SWISS WOMEN ADOPT SANS-STOCKINGS IDEA

GENEVA, Aug. 24.—The intense summer heat is compelling even serious Swiss women to adopt the sans-stockings fashion. Nearly all of them around the city are discarding them even with evening dress.

Just how the idea will be accepted by the general public remains to be seen. A few years ago stamperographers and secretaries in the League of Nations were informed that they were not to bob their hair or wear very short skirts.

Broadway Stage Combed for Stars in All-Talking Film of Rialto Night Life

"Speakeasy," Fox Movietone production adapted from the celebrated stage play by Edward Knoblock and George Rosener and coming Monday for two-day run at the Palace Theatre, is hailed as a fast moving panorama of New York night life, abundantly punctuated with thrilling dramatic climaxes and rib-rocking comedy twists.

In selecting players for the principal roles for this all-talking photoplay, Benjamin Stoloff, director, literally combed the theatrical field. While preparations for the production of the story were in progress it was decided that only players with a fertile background of stage training be chosen.

For this purpose the director journeyed to New York, where he "discovered" for the films, two of Gotham's most promising young stars, Lola Lane and Paul Page. These two players were cast at once in leading roles for "Speakeasy," and likewise placed under a long-term contract by Fox Movietone executives. Page portrays the character of Paul Martin, college bred fight champion, who is saved from the clutches of an unscrupulous band of gangsters through the effort of a newspaper girl, Alice Woods, played by Lola Lane.

Henry B. Walthall, veteran of both stage and screen, is cast in a role peculiarly adaptable to fine command of emotional expression. He is cast as Fuzzy, speakeasy loafer, who gives his life that the youthful lovers may be reunited. In the character of Big Min, speakeasy hostess, is Helen Ware, star of many stage successes. Her delineation of the difficult character is said to be amazing. Broadway knows her by reputation gained through long years of accomplishment with Belasco, Frohman, Harris, Woods, Selwyn, Brady and others.

The character of Cannon Delmont, crooked fight-manager and speakeasy operator, is done by Warren Hymer, scion of an old theatrical family and one of New York's best known actors. Hymer was playing the heavy role in "The Grey Fox" on Broadway when he was signed by Fox Movietone.

Sharon Lynn, Fox contract player, is seen in the role of Maizie, double-dealing gold-digger whose evil influence on Martin causes his rapid downfall.

Portraying the explosive newspaper editor of Erville Alderson, who has been associated with the stage and screen for nearly a score of years.

New Inventions Changing Lives For Frenchmen

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—A new epoch in French life and history is dawning—and the radio, automobile and airplane, all the contributions of modernism, are speeding its arrival. Dr. Fortunat Strowski of the University of Paris, who is visiting professor at Columbia University's summer session, finds that the same post-war influences have accelerated life here to a greater degree, endangering family life in America more than in France.

"Influences operating to force women out of the home and into commercial life have accomplished results in ten or twelve years under post-war conditions in France which normally could not have been accomplished in fifty or sixty," he declares.

Despite the pressure brought about by economic conditions which force mothers and sisters into the professions and industries to swell the family purse, the French family spirit is preserving the home, he explains.

Americans feel the need for this tenderness too, and it accounts for the poignant regrets they sometimes express for their disappearing family life," he says, but points a difference between the home-lovers of France and those of this country.

"The activity and enthusiasm of life in America is very intense as it is absorbing. The French man or woman takes more time to live, to enjoy others and perhaps to work out for himself his deepest capacities. Because of this milder tenor of existence, the American student in France may find himself happier than the French student who suddenly finds himself caught up in the accelerated swirl of life in the new world."

Lions Back Boast Made About Trip

In a story carried in Friday's issue of The Ledger concerning action taken by the Lions Club in connection with the trade trip next week a statement was made which said the Lions agreed to have more present on Lions Day than the Rotary Club had on Rotary Day.

R. E. White, president of the Lions Club, announced Saturday that his organization did not pass this kind of a resolution, but claimed that they would have more Lions to go on the trip on Rotary Day than the Rotarians would have on Lions Day.

Mr. White said that this appeared in the story Friday to be more of a competition than a co-operative move which it was intended to be. He also declared that the challenge made by the Lions would be made good, that they would have more Lions present on Rotary Day than the Rotary Club itself would show of its own members.

Advertising West Texas Fair Here

J. C. Watson, publicity director of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce and holding the same position with the West Texas Fair Association at Abilene, is in Ballinger today in the interest of the fair. He put up show-cards and other kinds of advertising matter here.

While here Mr. Watson will meet with the program committee of the Heart of Texas Press Association at noon to discuss plans for Press Day, September 27th, at the Abilene Fair. The newspaper men will go over all matters pertaining to the meeting and to the arrangements for the special day at the fair.

QUIET WOMAN TRAVELLER TURNS OUT TO BE A DOLL

(By International News Service) PARIS, Aug. 24.—The most quiet woman traveller France has ever seen came through Paris recently on her way to represent modern Danish industries at the Barcelona exposition. She had come all the way from Copenhagen and her fellow-travellers in the second class railway carriage vowed she had not spoken a single word during the entire journey.

For "she" was a life-size doll dressed in the national Danish costume, correct in every detail. One of the large newspapers had set upon this ingenious idea of publicity and met with the collaboration of the railroads who had offered the doll a free ticket which she wore suspended about her fair neck.

Eulogy On L. P. Wood

by Mrs. Bessie Hunt

It has been said that there is no true spirit of the West. His hospitality to friends and strangers alike was irresistible. His early life spent on the range, often on the old San Antonio to Wyoming trail behind his restless herd. His nights out under the stars with only a saddle for his pillow, with rivers to swim. The dash and danger hardships and freedom of the cowboy life gave him that love and loyalty to every cause of the West that burned with an unquenchable fire.

Knowing this kind and kindable man has left deposits in our souls which are bearing fruit in our daily lives, and we are glad that his "Westward Trail" of life was by friends and loved ones. We realize with sorrowing hearts that he has followed his last herd, eaten at his last mess wagon, sung his last cowboy's song around the camp fire, and has crossed over the Great Divide—but we also know that somewhere in the better country where the sun goes not down, where twilight breaks into eternal dawn, where God wipes away every tear, where there is no more pain, that L. P. Wood is still carrying on. That he associates with outstretched hands to welcome each cowboy as he draws near home. We believe that sometimes in the future, somewhere in the glad eternity, there will be a great and happy roundup of all the old time cowboys. There they will talk over the old days together, still sharing each other's joys but never to know the sorrow of parting again.

We remember Mr. Wood that he was noble, unkindling a like spirit in those with whom he was associated. We remember of him that he had that gift which is only known to great natures—the gift of being a friend. And old acquaintance of Mr. Wood, "He was a good man and the cowboy's friend." The thought of past association with this good man breeds a perpetual benediction in our lives. We think of him as one whose personality was felt through West Texas, whose love for the Cow Puncher's Association was genuine and whose faith in its success was serene.

He was ever ready to shoulder its responsibilities and share its burdens as well as enjoy its pleasures.

Fingerprint All Foreigners is Panama Decree

By James Ryan

(International News Staff Correspondent) CRISTOBAL, Aug. 24.—The recent order of Dr. Adriano Robles, Secretary of Government of Panama, to the effect that all foreign residents of the republic must register to be photographed and fingerprinted within the next ninety days has resulted in many letters from members of the diplomatic corps to their home offices.

Foreign residents and diplomats here, after having given the order careful thought, have failed to note any benefit which may be derived from the new order, except, possibly a new source of revenue for the Republic of Panama which will collect, it is said, $5.00 from each foreigner registered and "mugged" under the new law.

As one diplomat said: "It will be indeed interesting to see just how Panama will enforce compliance with the law. What if foreigners refuse to be treated as criminals and do not present themselves to be photographed and fingerprinted? Will they be jailed or fined or deported?"

A prominent banker of Colon, seeing only the humorous side of the situation said "it will be amusing to watch the line which will form in front of the Alcalde's office as the nationals of all countries pose as so many hardened criminals while sleuths take impressions from the fingers and photographers "mug" them.

"What a treat it will be," he chuckled, "to see Mr. J. H. Drummond, Manager of the National City Bank of New York who is known affectionately as 'the duke of Balboa' on account of his immaculate appearance, standing in line awaiting his turn while Mr. George Schaffer, Manager of the Chase National Bank poses in the photographer's chair."

The decree, as it has been issued excepts no one from its requirements, not even foreign diplomats unless, it is said, there is some existing law which makes their exemption unnecessary. Not even babies in arms are to escape the photographer and finger print expert. Panama, it is estimated, will get a revenue of approximately $195,000. The law, it was pointed out will work a particular hardship upon the vast number of Jamaican negroes who form the greater part of the population of Panama. Many of these negro families contain as many as fifteen children. Where they will secure the money with which to pay the $5.00 fee, is a mystery which only time will solve.

Do you know any car of its price that matches America's finest medium-priced automobile? Read the chart comparing today's Oakland All-American Six with twenty other leading medium-priced cars. Thirteen of these cars are higher-priced than Oakland. Yet despite this fact, in 278 individual comparisons Oakland is definitely superior on 451 or 51.37 per cent. And the competing cars, all combined, are able to equal Oakland on only 322 or 43.50 per cent.

Let us show you the detailed results of these comparisons—all serving to substantiate the statement that today's Oakland All-American is America's finest medium-priced automobile. What these features mean to you: Large piston displacement is needed to develop high power at moderate engine speed. Moderate engine speed is an important factor in the life of a car. No name in automobile coach building means so much as Fisher. Fisher bodies are famous for style, luxury and roominess. In addition, they hold such advantages as sturdy composite hardwood and steel construction, VV wind shield, side cow ventilation and adjustable drivers' seats. Reasonably long wheelbase gives greater riding ease and road balance. Also permits use of larger, smarter, roomier bodies. At the same time, a small turning circle is essential to handling ease. How Oakland compares with the field: Oakland's 228 cubic inch piston displacement is greater than 12 of the 29 cars in its price field. Of the 8 remaining cars, 7 are higher priced than Oakland. Only Oakland and two other cars in the field offer bodies by Fisher. And one of the two is nearly $100 higher in price than Oakland. Of the 18 cars which have less-known bodies, 11 are priced above the All-American Six. Only one car as low priced as Oakland has a wheelbase as long as Oakland's, which is 117 inches. That car requires a turning circle to the left of 42 feet as compared with Oakland's 36 feet. Six higher-priced cars have shorter wheelbases.

Consider the delivered price as well as the list price when comparing automobile values. Oakland's delivered price includes only reasonable charges for handling and for financing when the C. M. A. C. Time Payment Plan is used. $1145 AND UP. Ballinger Auto Co. OAKLAND ALL-AMERICAN PRODUCT OF OREGON

Quebec Handicrafts at Murray Bay. In the Lower St. Lawrence country surrounding Murray Bay the home arts have not been lost in the advances of our machine age. The Province of Quebec, through its Department of Agriculture, and Canada Steamship Lines, through its specialty shops, have done much to encourage these homely crafts. From September 8 to 14 the Provincial Government will conduct the first annual festival of Quebec handicrafts at the Manoir Richelieu at Murray Bay. The home economics branch of the department of Agriculture has been instructed by the Minister, Hon. J. L. Perron, to make every effort to secure the most representative types of handicraft workers as well as the most skillful. Spinners, weavers and wood carvers will be at the Manoir carrying on their work. The hotel, with its 18th century atmosphere, will provide an appropriate background for these workers, who are producing the woolen goods which have been famous for generations. As well as the workers, there will be on display and for sale some of the best work from the habitant homes of Quebec. The opening of the exhibition will be a significant event in the revival of the handicraft arts and it will be attended by many persons in public and private life who are interested in the promotion of this work.

Cats Off Top Rung By Cowboy Victory

Ballinger went into second place in the West Texas League standings Friday afternoon when the invading Big Spring Cowboys defeated the Bearcats 8 to 4. The game was a tussle all the way, however, it appearing that the locals had the game on ice when the seventh inning opened with the Bearcats holding a four-run lead. The Cowboys scored three runs in the first of seventh, and in the eighth tied the score when A. Carter hit one over the palisades. The fatal ninth opened in which Ballinger received one of the hardest jolts of the year. The first man up flew out to center field. The next was safe on an error. Neal Rabe hit a line drive back at Lybrand and he knocked it down with his bare hand but couldn't throw him out. The ball injured Lefty's pitching hand and he was forced to retire in favor of Harold Berndt. Walker was given four wide ones to fill the bases, and A. Carter with the count two and three hit one of the longest homers ever seen here. It was the visiting third baseman's fourth hit of the game and his second home-run.

Ballinger hitters failed to do much with Lee Hellums. Seven men in the game did not get a hit and the Cats were lucky to stay even with the Cowhands until the ninth. The locals' first two runs came in the fifth. Al Mueller hit the pill for three stations, Sam Scalings grounded out to second for no advance, the squeeze play was brought out and "Spec" Dockery laid the ball down for Mueller to race across the plate while Rabe threw high to first, allowing Dockery to go to second. Parma delivered a two-base blow scoring Dockery. Two more credits were put on the ledger in the sixth when Danny Lynch walked, Bill Bean sacrificed, "Heine" Mueller biffed for two bases scoring Lynch, and Al Mueller singled, scoring "Heine." Scalings hit safe, but no score was made on the play.

Saturday's game with the Big Springers will finish the home games here for the year and the team will go to San Angelo Sunday to complete the season with a three-day stand. In the meantime the Midland Colts will move to Coleman to engage the Bobcats in their final three tilts. With Ballinger one game behind and only three games to play the Colts have a big advantage.

IN THE REALM OF SPORT

If—if—those ifs came up today in great numbers and every one of them concerned a certain home-run knocked yesterday in the last stanza of the second game of the Big Spring series.

Every time A. Carter came to bat Thursday he got on base. He proved one of the biggest assets to his club in the last inning.

If—there it is again—Abilene or Coleman either beat the Midland Colts it may make a play-off necessary, that is, if the two teams are tied at the end. Now then—where will this series be played? That is a question.

Should the locals tie the Colts it will make it necessary that there be two play-offs in the league this year, something seldom heard of.

When Berndt went into the game with one out and two on, score tied, and in this special series an "if" again—he had fanned two in a row it would have been a feather in his cap. He would have been a hero today. But it was just too bad when Carter hit a wild pitch low and outside clear into the river with three on!

Monday starts the football season in Ballinger.

Candidates for the grid team will go to the high school at 3 o'clock for equipment and to the park at 5 for the first work-out.

It is expected that a good crowd will be on hand to see the pre-season prospects of the Bearcats, and many will follow each practice with interest.

Coach Felton Wright is a busy man this week getting everything in shape for the season, and he will be even busier from now until after Ballinger beats Winters at the last of the season.

And Now Baseball as well as Love Is Just Like a Sock on The Nose

By Davis J. Walsh (International News Staff Correspondent) NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—This will be a story entitled A Punch on the Nose or the Beginning of a Beautiful Friendship.

Its principal characters are Mr. Lena Blackburne, manager of the Chicago White Sox, and Mr. Art Shires, their field captain once removed. Once was enough its plot is laid in the clubhouse at the ball park, in the dugout at the ball park, under the stands at the ball park and so forth. Mr. Blackburne and Mr. Shires were like that. Always co-operating on a give and take basis; one might give the other a punch on the nose but the latter was generous. He always gave it back.

They began giving until it hurt back in the training camp last spring when Mr. Shires enjoyed the manual dexterity, for a one-year man, of being the field captain of his outfit. He lasted almost seventy-two hours, for some reason. Then Mr. Blackburne went to the dictionary and discovered that Mr. Shires was guilty of insubordination.

When Mr. Shires discovered what that meant, he naturally became irked and walked right out on Mr. Blackburne. Personally, he might have preferred to walk right out upon him, meaning over Mr. Blackburne's form. But this couldn't be arranged at the time. Mr. Blackburne expressing dissatisfaction with the proposal. Thoroughly enraged now, Mr. Shires departed for his home in Texas in a high dudgeon. At least, it was alleged to have been a high dudgeon; some said it was an upper berth. He stayed for several weeks, saw the light—I think this was around the first or fifteenth of the month—and returned.

By that time, another gentleman had Mr. Shires' position at first base and was giving entire satisfaction. He also was giving Mr. Blackburne's nose a much needed rest. So Mr. Shires had nothing to do but sit in the dugout and glower upon Mr. Blackburne in a very intimate manner. This amused Mr. Shires no end but it had its drawbacks. It lacked variety, for one thing. And for another, Mr. Blackburne's nose showed clearly that it was beginning to respond to kindness.

It was all very disquieting but there was apparently nothing to be done about it and, thereupon, Mr. Shires tried to do it. He appeared in batting practice wearing one of those red outing hats the boys often affect when they are taking the day off at Long Island City. When he returned to the bench, Mr. Blackburne met him sternly, rebuking him in a very scathing way. Mr. Shires hadn't been scathed in a long time and was badly out of practice. He did his best but lack of experience was beginning to tell. Just then, he happened to notice Mr. Blackburne's nose.

So they fell upon each other, and all was consternation among the athletes. "Gentlemen, gentlemen," they remonstrated, "try to remember that you are ball players."

This, of course, was asking a lot from men who were on the White Sox payroll. The Sox have been trying to remember that for the last eight years. They still were in a forgetful mood when they reached the dressing room after the game, so Mr. Blackburne and Mr. Shires had at each other again. It began to look like a serial, particularly when Mr. Shires, having chartered another dugout, left for his home, stayed several weeks, saw the light—in the paymaster's window—and returned.

But the scene shifts. On the curtain's rise, Mr. Blackburne is seen in the act of declaiming. This is what he says: "Modern ball players lack fight. The only fellow I have met in a long time who reminded me of the old timers is Art Shires. Yes, he reminded me with his fists, but I'd rather have that than the hand-shaking of the present day. Boys like Shires win ball games. I wish I had nine more like him."

And Mr. Shires? He is disclosed waiting patiently by the side of a taxicab after a ball game. Other players attempt to enter. Mr. Shires will have none of it. "I'm holding this cab for Lena," says he, and thereupon proceeds to hold it.

This is supposed to have happened in Philadelphia recently. By the way, have you squared yourself with your wife today? Be happy in your home life. Give the little woman what she wants. Don't hold out on her. Let her have a punch on the nose and make it a good one. For all you know, it might be her birthday.

Kindergarten Mrs. Brookes will open a Kindergarten September 2nd at 391 Fifth Street. Hours from 9 a. m. until 12. Mothers interested phone 1361. 23-6td-

N. Y. U. ENTIRE GRID SCHEDULE AT HOME (By International News Service) NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—New York University's football schedule-makers believe in "home sweet home." Every one of the ten games arranged for the Violet eleven will be played in New York City. The first two games will be played at Ohio Field, N. Y. U.'s home gridiron, where the Violet will entertain Vermont and West Virginia Wesleyan beginning with September 23 when the Green Mountain boys will help the Violet inaugurate the 1929 season. The next game calls for New York's appearance at the Polo Grounds where Fordham will play as host.

The seven remaining games will all be played at the Yankee Stadium, which has been the Violet's unofficial home grounds during the football season. Georgia, Missouri, Carnegie Tech, Butler, Rutgers and Georgetown will come to Ruppert's territory to meet the Violet. The Carnegie Tech game will be played on Thanksgiving Day, and will close the season for New York University.

ILLINOIS TOWN BARS BARE LEGS FOR GIRLS (By International News Service) CHARLESTON, August 24.—The "bare leg" fad will be barred here, according to the local chief of police. The chief announced recently that any girl caught "bare legged" will be put in jail.

Grid Prospects Seem to be Bright

With a host of old material on hand and many new men reporting for football the initial work-out will be held Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock at Fair Park. All men contemplating trying out for the eleven who will be ready to start Monday are to report to the high school building at 3 o'clock when equipment will be issued. Coach Felton Wright stated Saturday that the schedule had been practically completed, and that the complete calendar of games would be announced in the near future.

The boys have already started affixing football and planning for a big season. Many have started sneaking up on sweets and drinks, others have deserted cigarettes and started chewing the old plug, and everything points to a banner season with Ballinger high emerging on top of the heap in district eleven.

The old equipment has been overhauled and cleaned and the stuff that was not usable was discarded and new material purchased to replace it. The season will open with many old men on hand. Several will not be able to start the grid Monday, but will be ready to begin when school starts as they have jobs they cannot quite until the first of the month.

Among the old men is Captain Jervis Robinson, veteran tackle, who will bear the brunt of all the line work. Another tackle held over from last year is Chastain, who will hold down the other side of the line. Chastain is big, fast, and experienced. G. Smith, another from last year's crop of tackles, will be on hand and the race between these three will be a tight one.

Lusk is the only old end reporting and will do most of the pass catching for the Bearcats. Reese, Jones and Bailey are three good guards who are hold-overs, and who are sure of a berth on the squad. The above named men will form the nucleus for the building of a championship team. With these huskies and the reserves held over from last season the new men will find "tuff" sledging in trying to make the team this

Co-Operative Wheat Pool Expands Its Grain Marketing Facilities

WINDFALL, MAN.—When the three provincial wheat pools of Western Canada have completed their 1929 building programs, 1,600 grain elevators will be operated in the wheat belt. Saskatchewan will have the greater number, 1,055 being its share, with 390 in Alberta and 163 in Manitoba, according to a bulletin by the Department of Colonization and Development of the Canadian Pacific railway. "The elevators put an immense storage capacity under the control of the pools, which are owned and operated by the farmers themselves," says a bulletin. "The elevators will have a capacity of 45,000 bushels each. The building program of the Wheat Pool calls for the erection of 1,600 elevators this year."

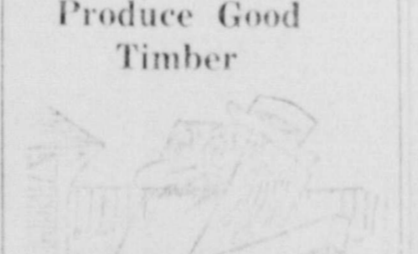

PAINFUL INDIGESTION

Lady Says She Obtained Relief By Taking Small Doses of Theford's Black-Draught.

Ardmore, Okla.—"I have recommended Black-Draught to a great many people, and they always thank me afterwards," says Mrs. Czarina Duke, 116 "B" Street, this city. "Fifteen years ago, I was in very bad health. I suffered a great deal with indigestion, and I traveled from one place to another in search of health, but nothing helped me. I lost in weight, and my food disagreed with me, and I could scarcely eat a bite that did not give me indigestion. "Often I had bad gas pains across my stomach, and I would wake up in the mornings with very bad headaches. I had a bad taste in my mouth, and would feel dizzy when I was on my feet. "I began taking Black-Draught and soon found that I was getting better. I took a dose about the size of a pea, four or five times a day, for three or four days. "After I had taken several courses of Black-Draught, in that way, I felt fine. I no longer had indigestion. I could eat what I liked, and enjoyed my meals. I gained in weight, and felt able to care for my children and do my housework. "In use nearly a hundred years. Twenty-five doses 25¢. THEFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT For Constipation and Indigestion.

By C. W. Lehmborg :
On August 11th a party of 56 men made up of bankers, merchants, professional men and farmers, left Waco, via the M. K. & T. to tour the states of Missouri, Iowa, Wisconsin and Illinois, for the purpose of making an intensive study of the dairy industry in these four states.

In order to get practical information, and to study conditions as they actually exist, both the large commercial plants as well as the small farm dairies were studied.

Upon our arrival at Kansas City, we were met by a delegation of business men, loaded into busses and cars and carried out to the Longview farm, about 18 miles from Kansas City, in the state of Missouri.

Mr. Long is a multi-millionaire and his hobby is fine Jersey cattle, saddle and harness horses and Duroc Jersey hogs.

This farm has six departments. The Jersey farm, composed of 250 of the finest Jerseys in the state. The horse farm of 40 head of thorough bred saddle and harness horses. The hog farm where we saw 300 Duroc Jerseys of the Stitts and Sension breeding.

The Greenhouse Department and the general farming department 150 acres on this farm are devoted to landscaping.

This farm is equipped with splendid barns, private race course and a large pavilion for the training of the harness horses. The home of the manager is centrally located on a beautiful hill overlooking the entire farm, composed of 1,600 acres. Longview farm is one of the show farms of the state.

On this farm we saw Jersey cows that produced from 640 to 1017 pounds of butter fat in 305 days. Horses that sell from $850.00 to $5,000.00 per head; hogs that weigh from 700 to 1023 pounds and sell from $500.00 to $3,000.00.

The manager told us that two years ago one cow bred on this farm brought the handsome sum of $6,500.00. This farm is conducted strictly on business principles.

Practically all the feed consumed on this farm is home grown. From here we went to the Chapman Dairy farm. This herd is composed of 120 high grade Jerseys and Holsteins. This herd is milked by hand, twice a day, the average production per cow per day is 3 gallons milk with a butter fat content of 4 per cent. This milk is used in the retail trade in Kansas City and brings 15c per quart delivered. On this farm we also found a small pure bred Holstein herd which was being milked four times a day, giving an average of 5.8 gallons per day, with a butter fat content of 4.1 per cent.

Next we visited the Steward farm. This herd numbered 13 registered Jersey cows of the Oxford blood lines. The interesting thing about this farm was the fact that Mr. Stewart was a tenant farmer working 120 acres of black land for which he paid a cash rental of $900 per year.

This farm was equipped with a two-story dwelling, a dairy barn 16x40 feet and other barns and out houses, all in good condition. Nine years ago Mr. Stewart bought nine heifers and one bull paying $2,700 for the herd. This herd was bought on credit. Three years ago Mr. Stewart sold $2,850.00 worth of cattle, offsprings of the ten head he bought nine years ago to one man and today his herd now composing 35 head is worth more than $10,000.00.

Mr. Stewart sells sweet cream bringing him 55c per pound, butter fat basis. His records showed an annual net profit per cow of $120.00. This does not include the value of the manure and of the skim milk which is fed to his hogs and chickens.

Our next stop was at the C. C. Stuart farm. Several years ago Mr. Stuart started out with two registered cows. Today his herd is numbering 17 head all daughters of Stoco Premier Lad. His herd bull is a grandson of Zenia Sultan.

Mr. Stuart's motto is "Quality, Not Quantity." Today through the use of bulls from the very best blood lines and by the practice of rigid culling he has reached the point where seven daughters from one bull are producing 160 pounds of butter fat more than their dams did. This herd shows splendid type and quality. One of our party selected two cows out of this herd and when he asked Mr. Stuart to state his price he said, "the least that I can take for these cows is $400.00 a piece." Mr. Stuart sells sweet coffee cream, which brings him 65c per pound, butter fat basis.

At the noon hour we were guests of the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce at their beautiful Country Club House.

In the afternoon we visited the Peterson and Sons dairy. In this dairy there are 70 cows. This is the highest producing Holstein herd in the state. The average milk production per cow per day is 4 gallons with an annual fat production of 395 pounds. This farm is located on the edge of Kansas City. The entire place contains less than 10 acres of ground. No pasture is available and all cows are lot fed. All feed is bought.

Peterson and Sons have been in the business 60 years and Mr. Peterson told us that during all these years he has never had a dry cow in the lot. As soon as a cow begins to go down in milk production I sell her and replace her with a fresh one. I always know where to get one, said Mr. Peterson when asked how he was able to keep up such a high milk production. Mr. Peterson gets 16c per quart at the barn.

At 5:30 p. m. we left Kansas City en route for our next stop at Waterloo, Iowa.

PORTUGUESE TRAVELLERS IN FRANCE GET INTO JAIL

(By International News Service)
TOURS, France, Aug. 24—Ignorance of French coupled with natural shyness recently caused two Portuguese travellers to see the inside of a police station.

They were on the Bordeaux express. Because they sat in a corner, said nothing (being unable to speak French) and seemed to be taking in everybody else, fellow travellers believed they must be criminals. In self-defense they both went to the wash room until the train arrived at Tours. There the police, forewarned, boarded the express and broke open the door.

The two frightened foreigners satisfactorily explained their plight at the station.

When your speedometer says 50 what would happen if a tire should go ?

You late when you are speeding to think about what would happen if a tire should go. Get rid of your tire worries before your engine starts—not after. Better yet—get rid of your tire worries for good while you are about it.

Here is the way: Don't buy cheap or "bargain" tires—they are a wide open invitation to all sorts of tire failures. Forget the price that buys risk. Buy safety. Buy Hoods. In every Hood Tire is an inherent extra margin of safety that sends you on the road with a free mind. No tire failures to dread. No plugging delays changing tires on the road. No danger of tire trouble in emergencies. Be safe. Buy safe. You are safe if you ride on Hoods.

Your Part In Prosperity

Getting all the money possible is not the individual's full share in prosperity. Each of us shares, also, in the responsibility of maintaining prosperity.

That means liberal buying to help keep stores, factories, farms, and mines busy. It also means sensible saving in order that a reserve may be accumulated to guard against slumps in the future.

This bank is a safe place to cache your extra cash and build up a bulwark of protection of present prosperity.

Use it for your benefit and because of its benefit to the business world from which your income comes.
