MERRY WIVES CLUB

The Merry Wives Club met Tuesday at their club rooms. Sixteen members and four visitors were present, also Mrs. Hollingsworth, who we were proud to have with us.

Re-upholstering and finishing furniture was discussed. Mrs. Batts gave a demonstration on vacuuming a chair.

Refreshments were served. The meeting adjourned to meet the third Tuesday with the following topics to be discussed.

Roll call. A time saver in dairying.

Cooling of milk. Care of utensils.

When milk is ready for churning. The proper molding and wrapping of butter.

The price and value of marketing butter in standard cartons.

Butter and how to score it.

SUNDOWN STORIES

THE NEW APARTMENT

By Mary Graham Bonner The Little Black Clock had kept the time 'way, way ahead, for they had landed in their plane on top of the apartment house roof and others were doing the same.

The Little Black Clock led them down from the roof to an apartment which was evidently a new one.

"You see, it has become so crowded in the city," said the Little Black Clock, "that every bit of space is needed. And people are finding these new apartments just the thing. Come and I'll show you."

John and Peggy saw that the apartment was just about the size of an apartment where some great friends of theirs lived, but the look of the place was quite different.

And then the Little Black Clock showed them the difference. First he showed the living-room. There were tables and chairs and a piano and there were books on the tables.

Then the Little Black Clock turned a handle at one side of the wall and the chairs and the piano and tables all were turned into bedroom furniture with a bed and bureau and chest of drawers.

And next the Little Black Clock turned the handle further around and the room was changed into a play-room with toys and airplanes.

"You see," he explained, "the furniture in these days 'way, way in the future is made so it can be folded up and turned into something else. As the tables fold the books all fall into a center place made for them and the tables are turned into bureaus—just as the piano is turned into a bed, and now it is all spread out and is the airplane shop of the playroom."

"They just decided whether it's the time for the playroom or the bedroom or the living-room, and then they turn the handle so the furniture will become what they wish. Quite an idea, eh?"

"Oh, yes," the children said, "but it's just a little bit too much like playing a game all the time."

CYCLES 25,000 MILES

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 6.—(AP)—Riding to fires doesn't take in enough territory, says Leslie Seward, Savannah fireman. He averaged better than 2,000 miles a month in 1929, totalling 25,082 miles and won a trophy in the "century contest" sponsored by the Century club of America.

HOW'S your HEALTH

THE COMMON DENOMINATOR

The common unit of the state is the citizen. Our constitution assures us that all men are created "free and equal." And yet men do differ in a variety of ways, and principally in their work.

The common unit of the human body is the cell, and all cells have certain properties in common. And yet cells differ greatly, and mainly in the work they perform.

Discovery that the human body and the bodies of all living things both plant and animal are composed of single units called cells, stands to the credit of two German scientists, Schleiden and Schwann.

Robert Hooke, the great erratic English genius, had somewhat anticipated them in their discovery when in 1665 he looked through a microscope at a thin slice of cork and announced that the substance was composed of "cells. But science had not advanced far enough to enable Hooke to profit in full from his observation. Indeed, what he saw were not what today are known as cells, but rather the pulpy walls of what had once been vegetable cells.

Addressing the congress of scientists in 1900 the great Oscar Hertwig said, "I believe that one of the greatest acquisitions of biology during the 19th century is the discovery that plants and animals are built up of cells."

Since the days of Schleiden and Schwann the cell has been studied intensively, and many of its properties are known to us. But still remain many mysteries of disease, and the entire secret of life and death.

The cells composing the human body have been subjected to painstaking scrutiny. Many of the workings of the body have been accounted for through these labors. But sustained study has only enhanced our marvel at the common denominator, the cell, at the complexity of its structure, and the variety of its powers.

Breckenridge Lady Talks About Trouble

She Suffered for Five Long Years Despaired of Ever Seeing a Well Day Again.

The remarkable experience of Mrs. B. F. Trickett, residing at 303 South Camden, Breckenridge, Texas, is another striking evidence of the extraordinary merits of Orgatone. In speaking of her long time suffering from indigestion and gas formation crowding her heart and subsequent relief, Mrs. Trickett said:

"I am telling all my friends about Orgatone and if they suffer the same as I have, I want them to take it for I am thoroughly convinced after the way it helped me.

"My trouble had been growing worse instead of better, all the time," she continued. "It was almost impossible for me to eat a meal without suffering from gas and sour stomach afterwards. Gas would form in my stomach and it would crowd my heart and make me short of breath and I always felt tired and worn-out. And I could not find anything to relieve my pain or build me up.

"After I had suffered month after month without getting any better, some one gave a statement on Orgatone that convinced me and I started taking it. As I have said before, it has helped me wonderfully. I haven't felt a sign of that old indigestion pain since I started taking Orgatone. I can eat anything I want with no ill effects. I am no longer troubled with gas on my stomach and I have no spells with my heart. I feel better than I have ever felt in a long time. I have only taken one bottle of Orgatone but from the way I have improved already, I am glad to recommend it to everybody."

Genuine Orgatone may be bought in Ballinger at the Weeks Drug Store.

HATCHEL NEWS

Well, we are still living in hopes of the much needed rain that we have never received. But from reports of past years we will more than likely get plenty of rain in this month, so if we do we will have plenty of moisture for planting, as most people plant maize in March if the weather is favorable. In our community it seems that the farmers who plant maize early are most likely to be the ones to have plenty of feed in the fall.

We have been having a fine singing at the Church of Christ on Sunday nights and if you are a lover of real old religious songs with plenty of pep, wive out and spend an hour with us. We meet every Sunday night at 8 o'clock. We believe the Hatchel people like to sing and the ones who can't like to listen, so if you are a singer come and sing and if you can't come and hear. You can enjoy it either way.

L. M. Bales and Mrs. Ethel Ratliff and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Gill and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Mord S. Tucker.

Starting last Wednesday and continuing over the remainder of the week was one of the biggest celebrations that the Hatchel community has ever had. Mr. and Mrs. Vinson celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Vinson have been citizens of our community for a number of years, rearing a large family of fine boys and girls, and we are very glad to wish them great joy. May there yet be many happy years to come to this fine couple. There were a number of kinspeople present from out of the county, but not knowing their addresses will give more information on this next week.

Our school is progressing nicely. We have been having such fine weather this session that the entire enrollment has been able to answer the roll nearly every day. We have been quite lucky this year in not having so much sickness in our community, some schools have had to close down on the account of sickness, but our school has not suffered much so far. A week or so ago Miss Addie Alexander, our county health nurse, came out and organized a health club among the students of the high school. The club was formed with ten members which are as follows: Helen Hinkle, Gladys Vinson, Ruth Bailey, Rosmund Pruser, Leona Hoppe, Iva Honeycutt, Tommy Honeycutt, Anna Henniger and Lillian Reams. This club meets at 2:30 every Thursday afternoon in the high school room. Officers of the club are: Miss Lillian Reams, president; Miss Rosmund Pruser, secretary. On the next meeting day members are to bring eight health rules.

There is a meeting in progress at the Church of Christ, starting Tuesday night, March 4th. Bro. J. N. Cowen is doing the preaching. Bro. Cowen is well known in this part as well as other parts of the state as a fine preacher. If you have never heard him it is well worth your time to come to the meeting which will continue over two Sundays. If you can't come all the time, try to arrange it so you can attend part of the time. Tell your neighbors about this meeting and throw your shoulder to the wheel and help push—don't pull back.

Last week the ladies of the Hatchel community assembled at the school auditorium and organized a home demonstration club. There was a club here a few years ago but from some cause it did not thrive and finally died, but these ladies have met with new vim—the kind that works wonders—and say they are going to do things. Officers of the club are: Mrs. Bill Mathis, president; Mrs. Mord Tucker, vice-president; and Mrs. Jack Mathis, secretary and treasurer. They have permission to use one of the school rooms which is not being used for pupils, and from all indications they are going to have a fine place to make into a home-like room, with everything they need to do any kind of demonstration work. We are very glad that these ladies have started this good work going and am sure if they will just continue with the vigor they have commenced with that great things can be accomplished. The more clubs and things of that kind in a community you can get the better the community gets along for all get together and are sociable and that is what it takes to make a good community.

We failed to have a P-T. A. program last Friday night on account of a misunderstanding among the committee, but you can tell everyone you see that the next meeting night we will have a program long to be remembered. Our regular meeting night is the fourth but on account of the P-T. A. district convention which is to be held in Ballinger during that time we are going to meet on the third Friday night. Let everyone remember and be there.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mathis spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Horn, of Norton.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Schleyer, of San Angelo, were guests of Mrs. W. A. Guin and family Sunday.

Tom Ferguson and Mr. and Mrs. Key Williams went to Fort Worth Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Williams went to carry their baby who is taking treatment from a

Adventureful Stage Hit is Ronald Colman's New Vehicle Coming to the Palace Sunday
 "If you really want adventure, I will expect you at the Green Bay Inn, four miles from Godalming, at midnight. Rooms will be reserved in the name of John Smith. If you are a gentleman you will not fail me because I am in hideous danger!"

If you were bored with life and wanted excitement, what would you do on receiving the above note? Ronald Colman gets it in answer to a want-ad in "Bulldog Drummond," his new starring picture which comes to the Palace Theatre Sunday for first showing in a three-day engagement.

Needless to say, it leads him off on a mad chase of adventure and romance with few parallels in cinema history. Incidentally, the picture takes a humorous slap at every screen melodrama which has ever been conceived in Hollywood. Samuel Goldwyn, its producer, describes it as "satirical melodrama," and it is said to be the last word in laughter, thrills and excitement.

Ronald Colman appears in "Bulldog Drummond," in an entirely new type of role for the famous screen lover. He is virtually chucking throughout every scene, a decided change from the sombre hero of his earlier screen vehicles.

Joan Bennett, youngest daughter of the famous Broadway actor, Richard Bennett, makes her screen bow as the writer of the above note and heroine of the picture, while Lilyan Tashman, Montagu Love and Lawrence Grant furnish a trio of thorough-going villains. F. Richard Jones, who directed "The Gaucho" for Douglas Fairbanks, handled the direction.

"They Learned About Women" Has Swift Plot and Lifting Tunes

With ten new song hits, Van and Schenk make a tunelessly triumphant debut as motion picture stars in "They Learned About Women." Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's new musical sound feature, which opened this afternoon at the Palace Theatre.

The famous singing stars bring a bit of the life they have known as vaudeville performers and baseball players into the picture, enacting the roles of ball players who drift onto the stage to fill in the gap between seasons on the diamond.

In their song numbers, written especially for them by Milton Ager and Jack Yellen, Van and Schenk have the theme of the film incorporated, the new hits including "Does My Baby?" "Ain't You Baby?" "Harlem Madness," "He's That Kind of a Pal," "Ten Little Mamas," "Partners," "I'm and Old Fashioned Guy" and "Dougherty."

Not to be outdone, little Beasie Love, who plays the leading feminine role, divulges a song number of her very own, "I've Got a Man of My Own," cleverly rendered and appropriately titled.

Jack Conway and Sam Wood directed the picture from an original story by A. P. Younger—a swiftly moving plot that is climaxed in a thrilling World Series sequence. Sarah Y. Mason adapted the story for the screen and "Bugs" Baer, noted humorist, wrote the stange baseball dialogue.

Included in the supporting cast are Mary Doran, Eddie Gribbon, J. C. Nugent, Benny Rubin, Tommy Dugan and Francis X. Bushman, Jr.

COLLEGE PRESIDENT TO SPEAK AT HATCHEL

TENNIS TEAMS ARE NAMED TO REPRESENT LOCAL SCHOOL

Tennis teams to represent Ballinger high school in the county Interscholastic League meet March 14 and 15 have been determined here by elimination contests during the past few days.

Three of Ballinger's tennis players went as far as the state meet last season. These racqueteers are John Bill Jones and Drew Dickson, boy's doubles and Halley Cooper who seems to be the most likely candidate to represent Ballinger in the boys' singles division.

The girls who are winners here are Madeline Kerley and Evelyn Stobaugh, doubles, and Virginia Holman, singles.

Fort Davis—Local Masons are to add a second story on their building for use as a lodge room.

Perryton—Work is to start in the very near future on improvement of the telephone service.
