Treaty to be Signed by Naval Powers Tuesday

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Apr. 21.—All difficulties in the way of signing the London naval treaty appeared today to be straightened out and there was every indication that nothing would prevent the ceremony tomorrow morning, culminating the long and arduous work of the conference here.

The treaty is a three-power pact of limitations between the United States, Great Britain and Japan, with some five-power trimmings on less important phases which French and Italian delegates will sign.

NEW YORK, Apr. 21.—Speaking across the Atlantic to the annual luncheon of the Associated Press, Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson described the London naval agreement today as a long step forward in world diplomacy.

The treaty to be signed tomorrow represents the practical application of the Kellogg anti-war pact, Stimson declared.

Schools Agree to Cooperate; Will Aid All Students

(By Associated Press)
SHERMAN, Tex., Apr. 21.—A new departure in higher education in Texas is to be tried beginning with the next school year by Austin College, Southern Presbyterian senior college, and by Kidd-Key College and Conservatory, Southern Methodist controlled junior college and fine arts school, under a cooperative agreement entered into this spring. Duplication in courses excepting that in religious education is to be eliminated and the experiment here is being watched by educators all over the Southwest.

These old institutions are to maintain their identity and separate faculties. Austin is the second oldest college in Texas, having been established in 1849 at Huntsville and moved to Sherman in 1876. With the new school year, the consolidation of the three senior colleges of the Presbyterian Church in the state is to become effective, with Austin as the nucleus. Kidd-Key was established here in 1871 as the North Texas Female College and the name changed to its present form in 1919.

Until 1918 when the World War reduced its student body, Austin was a boys' school. Under a cooperative plan, all of the girl students of Austin will be housed in the dormitories of Kidd-Key but they will be enrolled as Austin students. For students of both colleges, academic work will be done at Austin and fine arts work at Kidd-Key, regular buses carrying students from one school to the other. Student publications and certain student organizations will function for both schools.

"These two institutions will bid for patronage from the same territory," Dr. T. S. Clyde, president of Austin for thirty years, declared. "Yet this plan of cooperation which we have entered into will serve to strengthen each institution financially because of a saving of overhead, thus reducing somewhat the cost of operation for each. Austin will be enabled to make its academic faculty stronger than ever before while Kidd-Key will increase the number of artist teachers on its conservatory faculty and otherwise present a stronger array of talent in its corps of instructors."

Austin will continue to award bachelor of arts and master of arts degrees while Kidd-Key will still give the bachelor of music degree in addition to the junior college diploma.

"Austin will have the advantages of Kidd-Key's fine conservatory and Austin students may take these courses at Kidd-Key," Edwin Kidd, president of the Kidd-Key, pointed out. "On the other hand, Kidd-Key will benefit by the senior college courses offered at Austin."

"Here at Kidd-Key we will increasingly devote our attention to our conservatory with a view of developing artists and teachers to do the cultural work of the Southwest."

Ten Prisoners Make Escape at Big Spring

(By Associated Press)
BIG SPRING, Tex., Apr. 21.—Ten prisoners escaped from the Howard county jail here early today by sawing bolt heads from the metal ceiling and prying through the roof.

Officers had noticed a restless spirit in the prisoners and found saws concealed in cells last week.

Forty Prisoners Taken to Prisons

(By Associated Press)
SHERMAN, Tex., Apr. 21.—Penitentiary Transfer Agent Bud Russell has been instructed to take forty convicts to the Huntsville prison from the most crowded county jails. Lee Simmons, manager of the prison system announced today.

Four prisoners were taken from Fort Worth to Huntsville yesterday. Wichita Falls, Houston, and New Boston jails are to be relieved at once, Simmons said.

Expiration of terms, paroles and the shifting of men to prison farms have made room for more felons, the manager added.

MANY ANIMALS TAKEN DURING MONTH OF MARCH

SAN ANTONIO, Apr. 19.—Six hundred and forty predatory animals were reported taken in Texas during March, the monthly news letter of the bureau of biological survey, United States department of agriculture, revealed.

Ninety-seven trappers were employed a total of 2,641 days at a cost to the bureau and state and county cooperators of $12,421.34. Predatory animals taken included 71 bobcats, 487 coyotes, 75 red wolves and seven eagles. In addition 412 unborn young were destroyed as follows: five bobcats, 313 coyotes and 94 red wolves.

The coyote poisoning operation carried on in South Texas by the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission in cooperation with the bureau was very successful, the news letter said. "One hundred and forty thousand poison baits were prepared and distributed. It is quite conservative to estimate that from 500 to 1,000 coyotes were destroyed on the 500,000 acres of land."

The largest reported catch was in Pecos county where seven trappers captured 10 bobcats and 151 coyotes. Operations in Pecos county from November, 1929, to March 1930, inclusive, resulted in a catch of 67 bobcats, 570 coyotes and 40 fur bearers, at a cost of $1,246.50 to the county and $1,259 to the state, the report said.

C. R. Landon of San Antonio, leader of the predatory animal control issued the news letter.

RUBBER TREE DISCOVERED THAT MAY GROW IN U. S.

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Apr. 21.—Experiments to grow rubber trees in the United States for economic use may find success in plants native to southern Madagascar.

About 25 young trees brought from that island more than a year ago are now flourishing under the scientific eye of the bureau of plant industry of the department of agriculture.

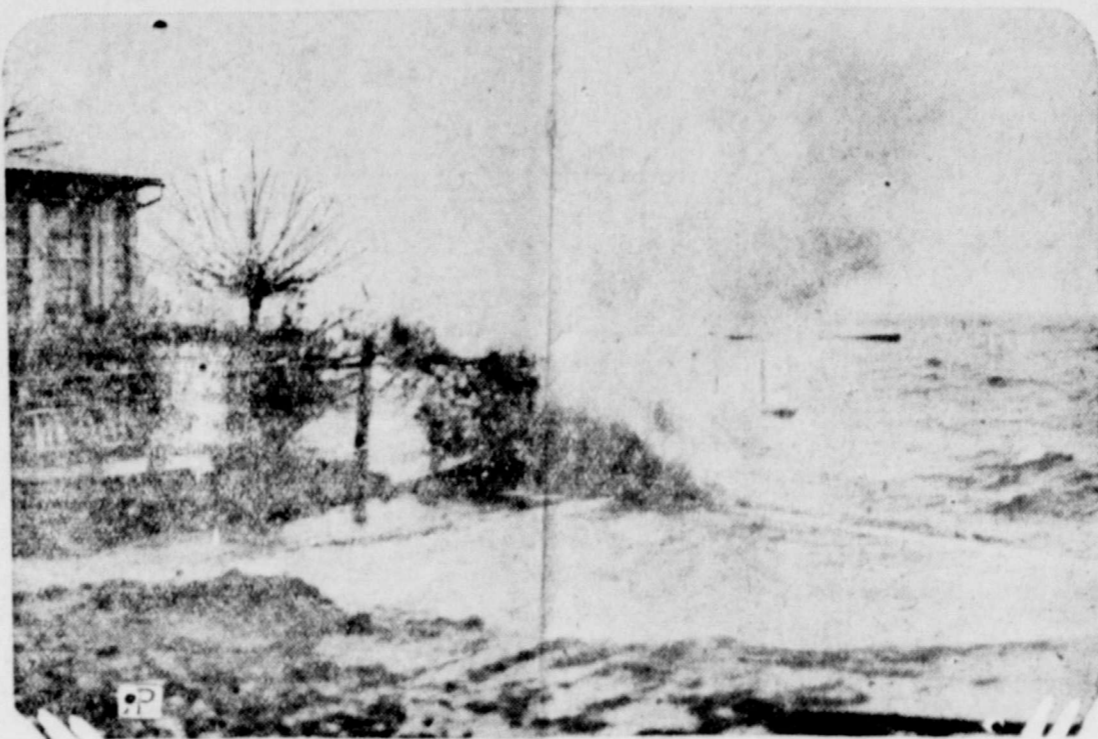

Transplanted at Bard, Cal., and near San Diego, as well as near Miami, Fla., all the plants survived under natural climate conditions.

In Madagascar where the trees have become practically extinct through commercial exploitation, they reach a maximum height of 24 feet with a maximum stem diameter of nearly nine inches, although generally these dimensions are less.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cox, of Aspermont, spent a few hours in Ballinger Sunday after visiting friends at San Angelo for several days.

The Austin College athletic teams in intercollegiate competition will include the Kidd-Key girls.

LAKE ERIE, ON RAMPAGE, OUSTS FAMILIES

Thirty families were forced from homes on Toledo's lake front by one of the worst storms in recent years. Waves from the lake are shown being dashed against a residence.

Winters Population Announced as 2422

The first report on population in Runnels county, was given Sunday when W. L. Turner, supervisor of census in this district, announced the population of the town of Winters and of district No. 4.

The total population of Winters on April 1st, 1930, was 2422.

In 1920 the population was 1509, which shows an increase of 913 during the past ten years.

This is lower than most estimates for that town. Estimates had been placed as high as 3500 but when the actual count proved much lower. Two farms near the city limits were enumerated in this report.

Justice precinct No. 4 was given a population of 1288 by the census. This district had 1014 people ten years ago, making an increase of 274. Two hundred and fifteen farms were enumerated in precinct 4.

Enumerators in Ballinger had about completed their work Saturday afternoon. One enumerator stated that he had finished and the other said that he expected to finish not later than Monday as he only had three or four families to see. Enumerators are not allowed to give out any figures that would be an indication of how the average would run here. Estimates continue to vary, ranging from 3500 to 3800. Ballinger's population in 1920 was 2767.

The report from Ballinger will be completed and sent to the district office at Brownwood within a few days and as soon as figures are tabulated there they will be sent direct to The Daily Ledger for publication. A final check-up is being made here to see that no one was overlooked but this will require only a short time.

Lindbergh Makes Another Record

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Apr. 21.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and his wife today held the record for a Los Angeles-to-New York flight, completing the 2,500-mile trip at midnight in fourteen hours and twenty-three minutes, three hours less than the record Captain Frank Hawks made several months ago.

The Lindberghs flew above 10,000 feet, making a single stop at Wichita, Kansas for fuel yesterday after taking off seven hours earlier.

MEXICANS AID CENSUS ENUMERATORS IN VALLEY

(By Associated Press)
LAREDO, Apr. 21.—Contrary to popular belief here, Mexican families in Laredo are not giving census enumerators trouble and in two cases families were anxious to have their names listed.

An American of Mexican extraction filed a blank for 13 members of his home circle and a day earlier an aged woman sought aid in listing her six girls and five boys, bringing that family total to an even dozen.

Beekeeping is taking its place as an important industry in Louisiana.

The nomination now will go to the Senate where another vote on the direct confirmation is in order.

First Texas Governor Returned for Burial

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Apr. 21.—The body of James Pinckney Henderson, first governor of Texas, came back to the state he served for final rest today, to be buried in the state cemetery after Texans pay homage at services in the Senate chamber of the capitol.

The rites for Gov. Henderson marked the statewide celebration of San Jacinto Day, the ninety-fourth anniversary of Texas independence from Mexico. All state capitol departments closed for the observance.

San Antonio's annual fiesta occupied the attention there, with the historic Battle of Flowers to begin at noon, after which Gov. Moody is on the program for an address.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY GETS OLD NEWSPAPER FILES

CANYON, Apr. 21.—A file of newspapers, published at Amarillo from 1897 to 1901 has been given to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society by C. G. Landis of Amarillo.

"The Evening News" one of the papers under date of September 20, 1900 relates "John James of Lamb County, in the city yesterday disclosed the fact that his county has not a single woman within its bounds. Lamb casts 75 or 80 votes and not a woman among them." The news, a four page four column sheet, is largely filled with advertisements, most of them announcing the offering of lively stables and saloons.

Other papers in the old collection are the "Livestock Champion," a four column weekly devoted to the agricultural and livestock industry of the Great Southwest. Many names appearing in this early paper are still familiar in Northwest Texas. Among them Lewis Anthony, whose widow still lives in Amarillo, W. M. Cunningham, H. M. Beverly, M. C. Nobles, Lon D. Marrs, C. G. Landis, W. H. Fuqua and W. G. Word.

Robert Bruce was operated on at the Halley & Love Sanitarium Sunday morning, having his tonsils removed. Mr. Bruce came to town Monday morning and is reported to be doing nicely since the operation.

Another Pioneer Citizen Passes On

D. A. Cameron died at his home on Eighth Street just before noon Monday. Mr. Cameron had been in ill health for some time and his death was not a surprise to his children and closest friends.

Mr. Cameron was a real pioneer of this county, coming here 56 years ago and engaging in the cattle business until he moved to Ballinger 35 years ago. He was one of the oldest residents of this county, moving here when this section was a wild frontier. He is well known by other pioneers of this section and has met practically all of them on the open range in the early days.

For several years decedent had been staying close at home due to his failing health and his children have felt considerable anxiety about their father. Mr. Cameron was 79 years old at the time of his death. His wife survives him and their long days of comradeship together will make his going doubly hard for her.

Five children survive, all of whom are present to attend the funeral Tuesday. They are: Mrs. Lynn Pope, of Lubbock; Dougal Cameron, of San Saba; and Stanley, Frank, and John Cameron, of Ballinger.

The funeral procession will leave the family residence Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 and the rites will be held at the grave at the Old Runnels cemetery with Rev. T. E. Bowman, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Ballinger, officiating.

Mr. Cameron's death takes another old timer from Ballinger and makes one realize their ranks are rapidly thinning. Of late a number of the pioneers who blazed the way in this section have passed on to their reward.

Decedent had many friends whom he made while he was active. All these join in extending their sympathy in this dark hour of sorrow.

Undertakers from the Higginbotham Funeral Home were in charge of arrangements.

Rev. Bowman Closes Successful Revival

The pre-Easter meeting at the First Methodist Church came to a successful close Sunday night and it is felt that much good was accomplished during the week's revival. At the morning service Sunday a large class of boys was received into the church and baptized. Preceding this, infant baptisms were administered and one baby girl was brought forward.

The Sunday morning attendance was the largest for any individual service during the week. The auditorium was filled at this service and Rev. T. E. Bowman, the pastor, brought a message on the resurrection. The auditorium and Sunday schools rooms were beautifully decorated in the spirit of Easter.

Before leaving for Bronte Monday morning Rev. Bowman asked that his thanks be extended to everyone who helped in any way toward the revival. The pastor will be away for more than a week but the pulpit will be filled at each service until he returns.

HOW'S your HEALTH

TRACHOMA

The greatest single cause of vision impairment and blindness in the world is trachoma. Fortunately, however, it is not widespread in the United States, though it is found in this country among Indians of Arizona and New Mexico and Appalachian and Ozark mountaineers of Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri and Arkansas.

Trachoma is found, to some extent, in practically every part of the globe. Its ravages are especially severe in oriental countries. Geographically, it is most prevalent in Egypt and along the borders of the Mediterranean Sea, in Palestine, China, the Balkan states and India.

The cause of trachoma has not yet been definitely determined, and some recent studies of its causation raise the question of diet as a possible causative or predisposing factor.

Economic and general health conditions appear to favor the prevalence of trachoma. Where there is poverty, crowding and unsanitary living conditions, trachoma appears to thrive.

Easter Egg Hunt Successful Affair

More than 1000 children gathered here Saturday afternoon to take part in the annual Easter egg hunt staged by the local chamber of commerce. The Ballinger Band furnished music for the occasion, the concert beginning at 2:30 on the court house lawn while the kiddies were gathering.

The children were separated into three groups according to age and marched to different parts of the city where eggs were concealed. Here they were turned loose and for more than an hour ran like they were wild, looking for eggs.

Small children from one to six were given the eastern section of the court house lawn and several hundred children with their mothers looked for eggs.

The middle group was taken to the Santa Fe right-of-way in front of the Central Hotel, and the larger children to Fair Park.

Paper sacks were furnished to each child who did not bring a basket and every one present found more than one egg. "Gold" eggs were thick and many children had the pleasure of taking slips to the firms donating and received prizes. These prizes ran from dollar bills to merchandise worth several times more. In their excitement some children broke their gold eggs and lost the slips of paper, failing to report to the stores. Those in charge explained about the prize eggs but some children evidently did not listen and a number of firms reported that no one ever came to claim the prizes.

Estes M. Lynn, chairman of the entertainment committee of the chamber of commerce, George Holman and Chas. Coombs, were active in putting over the successful hunt and deserve much credit for the affair. No candy eggs were used this year, a sufficient number of hen eggs being secured to take care of the entire hunt.

The crowd in Ballinger Saturday afternoon was the largest it has been since last fall, many coming here for the Easter egg hunt.

The plan of having three groups of different ages hunt in various parts of the city was very successful and will be used in the hunt for years to come. Little children were given an opportunity to take their time and find the eggs without being crowded out by the larger ones.

This is the first time in a number of years that Daniel Baker and Howard Payne have met in an athletic contest and much talk had been created about the race between Ratliff of Daniel Baker and McCarver in the 100-yard dash. McCarver had been training hard for the past two weeks and was in perfect condition for the intercollegiate clash.

GLIDING THRILLS WEST COAST SOCIETY GIRLS

(By Associated Press) SAN DIEGO, Calif., Apr. 21.—The coast is "glider mad."

The Lindberghs did it, with society names of lustre contributing.

The Stuyvesant Fishes of New York and California, the Crocker of California—dainty Ruth Alexander and a hundred more, the list swelling daily, are succumbing to the lure of soaring—as gripping in its appeal as that of the motored plane.

Glider factories are deluged under rush orders for more and more sailplanes—their numbers and design multiplying constantly. Additional factories are building or are in the blue print stages and a gliding era as universal as that of the bicycle day seems to be just ahead.

Sweet sixteen—sedate sixty—and the in-betweeners of both sexes are clamoring for craft, following the lead of Lindy himself who temporarily, at least, forsook the whirring propeller for the silent sailing ship.

Anne Lindbergh's inspiration gave as great impetus to feminine participation in the sport as did that of her illustrious husband. The biggest women's glider club in the world located here bears her name and she is honorary president.

One of the reasons attributed to the growth of glider activities is the improved safety of them. Light and easily handled, they can land in almost any spot without seriously endangering the fair pilot.

As the fad grows light auxiliary motors are being installed, so many of the girls have decided to take courses in aviation.

As one society girl expressed it, "I love my horses, my motor car, the parties, the supper dances, and my golf, but I want to go places faster and have new thrills."

They take a ground course, then complete a glider education before piloting the motored craft.

With increased enthusiasm for soaring, society women have adopted various styles. The latest is leather cowboy chaps, introduced by Mrs. Sidney Fish and Mrs. W. W. Crocker while they were students of Col. Lindbergh.

Rev. T. E. Bowman left Monday morning for Bronte, where he will be for the next ten days conducting a revival.

Gloria Swanson Charms in "The Trespasser," at the Palace

Gloria Swanson broke her cinematic silence and spoke from the screen for the first time when "The Trespasser," her initial all-dialogue United Artists picture, opened at the Palace Theatre yesterday afternoon for three-day engagement.

Miss Swanson reveals a stage voice that is a boon to jaded critics. Her tones are rich and well-modulated—and quite in keeping with the role of the lady of refinement that she essays in "The Trespasser." Another revelation is Miss Swanson's soprano singing voice. That she well might have succeeded on the concert stage is indicated in her singing of the two numbers that give lyrical heights to the feature. One of the pieces is Toselli's "Serenade," a standard work. The other, "Love," was composed especially for Miss Swanson by Edmund Goulding, author and director of "The Trespasser."

With a background laid in the fashionable Lake Shore Drive district of Chicago, this production enables Miss Swanson to appear in a role as millions of theatre-goers love to see her—as the gorgeously-gowned American lady.

In writing and directing "The Trespasser," Edmund Goulding has worked out a new technique in talking pictures. He tells his story simply and naturally—but packs it full of drama at every turn, with the result that the entire cast follow Miss Swanson's example in giving noteworthy portrayals.

Those who contribute so masterfully to the dialogue of "The Trespasser" include Robert Ames, the leading man; Purnell Pratt, Henry B. Walthall, Wally Albright, William Holden, Blanche Friderici, Kay Hammond, Mary Forbes and Marcella Corday.

Miss Alice Hord and Lloyd Hord, of Southland, spent the week-end here visiting their sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Richards. Mrs. Richards and daughter returned with them to Southland Monday to visit for a few days.

BOYS... Be Careful with YOUR KITES

Kite flying, in close proximity to electric power transmission lines—especially high tension lines, many of which carry 66,000 volts of electric energy—is extremely dangerous to property and to human lives.

A damp string, coming into contact with an electric wire, may result in grave danger, and many boys fly kites with light wire, the most hazardous practice of all. The wise thing is to fly your kites out of range of electric wires—and above all, do not attempt to rescue a kite entangled in the wires. Just notify the office of the West Texas Utilities Company.

Observance of these simple precautions will eliminate the possibility of serious injury.
