2 Baccalaureate Services At Baptist Church Sunday

Ballinger citizens will have the opportunity Sunday of hearing two baccalaureate services. The first will be held at the Ballinger Baptist Church at 11:00 o'clock Sunday morning and the second at 3:00 p. m. at the same place. The morning service will be for the senior class of the Ballinger high school when Dr. J. H. Whalen, vice-president of Southern Methodist University, Dallas, will deliver the address. The afternoon service will be for all seventh grade graduates in the rural schools of the county, and Dr. H. R. Arrant, of Simmons University, Abilene, will be the principal speaker.
Each service will open with a processional at which time the graduates will march to the auditorium to seats reserved for them in the center section immediately in front of the pulpit. Juniors will act as ushers for the occasion. The Ballinger high school numbers fifty-three while the rural class will be composed of 197 who completed their work in the seventh grade this year.
A special musical program has been arranged for both baccalaureates and will be rendered by the same choir. Thirty voices selected from all the churches of the city will make up the choir with Mrs. J. H. McClain at the organ.

Vaccinations to Be Compulsory In Local Schools

In compliance with the law recently passed by the Texas legislature, and also in keeping with an order passed by it over a year ago, the school board of the Ballinger Independent School District has definitely decided to put into effect, the ruling which will compel all children of scholastic age to be vaccinated before being eligible for entrance in the local public schools.

Dr. E. R. Walker, city health officer, commenting upon the experience of the past school year, stated that it had been determined that children in the city schools had lost an average of ten per cent of their school time on account of small pox and it is this loss of time that all the authorities are planning to combat as much as the disease itself.
Before a pupil will be admitted to the Ballinger schools it will be necessary for him to have a certificate from a doctor, stating that he has been successfully vaccinated. In this way it is believed that the spread of this disease can be held within limits that it can be easily controlled.
The city health officer will be responsible for the enforcement of this rule and will receive the hearty support of the school trustees and other officials.

SHERMAN, May 10.—Driven to cover by a driving rain, the mob which took the life of George Hughes, negro, yesterday, burned the county's $60,000 court house, and destroyed three blocks of buildings in the negro section, had been broken up today by Texas national guardsmen. Apparently in control of the situation until the rain started, the mob stood on street corners in groups of twenty-five or thirty.
Fifteen men, charged with inciting riot, were arrested.
Eleven arrested were released later today. Another arrest also was made and four others rounded up for investigation.

AUSTIN, May 10.—One man is dead and several others were injured by a tornado which struck Anderson Bend, thirty miles north of here today. The tornado was accompanied by heavy rains.

S. V. Tucker, 36, was killed instantly when timber carried by the wind, struck him in the head. He was in a house when the storm broke. Four trucks in the yard were blown over, one being carried away.
Property damage is reported to be heavy.

War on Loco Weed To Be Made Soon

(By Associated Press)
ALPINE, May 10.—Alpine is to be the scene of a fight against loco weed—the greatest curse of Big Bend ranchers. An experimental station in which work will be carried on against the weed is to be located two miles out of Alpine on the Alpine-Fort Davis highway, according to Ernest Gibben, tri-county agent.
The site was selected by Dr. A. B. Conner, director of the Texas Experimental stations, Dr. H. Schmidt, veterinarian, J. M. Jones, range animal husbandman, and Dr. Mathews during a trip made over the Big Bend to find a suitable location.
Construction on the station and pens has begun. The work is to continue for several years under the direction of Dr. Mathews, resident veterinarian, who was brought to Alpine from Purdue University to take charge.

If a practical means of destroying the weed is discovered, millions of dollars a year will be saved Texas ranchmen, it is estimated.
Four inches of rain at Mexico put streams in that vicinity at the highest stage in seven years. Fears are felt for residents along the Navasota River.
Streams are reported to have inundated the lowlands near Georgetown. The San Gabriel River is at the twenty-foot stage. Three to seven inches fell in and near Liberty Hill, sixteen miles from Georgetown. Bertram and Burnet, near Austin, have been cut off from communication by the heavy rains which was accompanied by a strong wind.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF ORDER OF EASTER STAR

The regular meeting of the Eastern Star will be held Monday night at 8:30 and a full representation of the membership is urged as there will be the annual election of officers and other matters up for attention.

Moulton-Egg shipments from this place from March 3 to 31, totaled 3,067 cases.

WACO, May 10.—Mart, in this county, was under a foot of water today after a seven-inch cloudburst. Marlin, 15 miles south of Mart, had a six-inch rain. Highways in the vicinity are under water. Tehuacana Creek is on a rampage.

The Houston-Waco highway is also under water and traffic is not expected to be resumed for several days.

DALLAS, May 10.—Following heavy rains which reached cloudburst proportions in some places, sections of central and south Texas, just recovering from tornadoes last Tuesday, are battling flood waters today.

Observers See Independent Ticket in Texas this Fall

AUSTIN, May 10.—Political observers at the capitol see in Gov. Moody's statement pleading for harmony within the Democratic party in Texas and relegating to the "forgotten past" animosities of the 1928 Presidential campaign when enough democrats left the party and put in with the Republicans to give Herbert Hoover electors a majority in the State, an appeal to the faction that refused to support the Democratic nominees to forego their announced plan to place an independent ticket in the field this fall.

Those who have been barred by the State Democratic executive committee from participating as candidates for state offices in the 1930 primaries because of their leaving the party in the Smith-Hoover controversy, were expected to hold a convention and organize an independent group of candidates in the event the State Supreme Court upheld the right of the executive committee to proscribe the errant ones.

A gesture towards forming an independent organization was made recently by Alvin Moody of Houston, and other leaders in the Smith revolt of 1928, but definite action was deferred at the request of Senator Thomas B. Love of Dallas until the Supreme Court could act on his application for a mandamus to compel the State executive committee to put his name on the primary ballots.

The theory is that Gov. Moody hoped to avert by his statement a stampede of the bolters to an independent candidates' banner.

He pointed out, without referring to the threatened break that there were many perplexing state governmental problems awaiting solution, and to keep alive the differences engendered during the presidential campaign would be ruinous to their proper disposition.

"Any dissention or disintegration in the Democratic party in Texas is felt throughout the Nation, because our state heretofore has been the banner Democratic state of the Union," was regarded as a significant passage in Gov. Moody's statement, designed to attract the faction that would be likely to support an independent movement in event the Supreme Court upheld the committee's right to bar as candidates those who bolted. This declaration was followed by the suggestion: "We should settle our differences within the party and present a united front against the enemies of good government."

Going further he laid emphasis in this manner, designed, they say, to make the wavering ones take a second thought before going off behind another party flag. "The Democratic party is one of progressive principles and good government, the economic welfare of the South depends upon the Democratic Party advancing its progressive principles which are designed to protect and promote the welfare of the common people."

"The welfare of Texas very largely depends upon a united Democratic party standing for honest and efficient government. It is the place for friends of good government in Texas. People in sympathy with the established principles of the party should help build it up and promote harmony within its ranks."

"The vote and influence of all supporters of good government is needed, and when some Democrats are busy fighting other Democrats over the issues of the last National campaign, a situation is erected which does not help solve state economic problems."

An appeal to the prohibitionists among those who might be expected to stray off was seen in this passage: "Some people seem to think the Republican party is more friendly to prohibition than the Democratic party, but in my judgement the Republican party is more the enemy of prohibition than is organized Democracy."

Political prognosticators see in these excerpts the main cause for the governor's statement appealing for party harmony at this time. They regarded it as timed to precede any outbreak that might occur from the Supreme Court's action, and intended as a timely admonition against hasty action.

Amusements

Realistic Fight in "Untamed" Joan Crawford Film at Palace Opening Run Tomorrow

A fight in a ballroom is one of the novelties of "Untamed," the new Joan Crawford all-talking vehicle for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, which opens a three-day run at the Palace Theatre tomorrow afternoon.

Contrary to general custom, when Robert Montgomery and Don Terry argue over Joan Crawford, they do not go "outside" to complete the discussion. Curtain cords are dragged down to make a ring, and fair young female seconds in evening clothes fan the battlers between rounds with their own dress shirts!

The battle between the two players has decided reality, because both players are boxers of experience. Don Terry, as Bobbie Dinsmore, won the light heavyweight championship of England in 1926. Montgomery had a fight in his last stage play, "Possession," and also in his first talking picture, "So This is College."

"Untamed," written by C. E. Scoggins, former Ballinger citizen, and adapted by Willard Mack, is a story of a girl brought up in a Central American jungle. On her way to civilization she falls in love with the first white young man she meets—and stays in love.

Fine Acting and Good Plot in "The Locked Door"

Featuring an all-star cast composed of Rod La Rocque, Barbara Stanwyck, William Boyd and Betty Bronson, "The Locked Door," United Artists picture, will close its engagement at the Palace Theatre tonight.

The story of this all-talker is laid in modern New York and mingles an ample quantity of romance for the girls and action for the men into an entertaining whole. The recording is good, as is the photography and little is to be desired in the performance of the featured players.

Ann Carter, played by Barbara Stanwyck, noted stage star, is betrayed into a compromising position by Frank Devereaux (Rod La Rocque). She marries Lawrence Reagan (William Boyd), fails to tell him the adventure with Devereaux and regrets it later. There is a shooting scene with Devereaux as the victim. Ann, who has been locked in the room with the dying man, takes the blame, fearing her husband had committed the crime. Everything turns out right in the end and Helen Reagan (Betty Bronson), whose honor was at stake, returns joyfully to her brother and sister-in-law's home.

Amusing parts are admirably played and spoken by Mack Swain, Zasu Pitts and Harry Stubbs. Harry Mestayer gives a remarkable performance as the district attorney.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS GO ON "TREASURE HUNT"

Group "We-Stri-We" met Friday afternoon with Mrs. Q. V. Miller on Sixth Street. All girls were present except two. The girls were called out on the lawn and told to prepare for a "Treasure Hunt." The hunt started at the Miller home and from there they went to the pump station and to her surprise, Jennie Krempin found the treasure which consisted of two large boxes of "home-made candy." The girls then returned to the Miller home where several of them played tennis. Those present for the meeting were: Faye Wardlaw, Virginia Keel, Gertrude Keel, Helen Routh, Billy Teague, Irene Bradford, Lanie Tillery, Dorothy Wooten, Dorothy Teague, Helen Thomson, Elva Sykes, Ruth Yeager, Laura Edith Miller, Jennie Krempin, La Verne Chaffe, Merina Sue Clark, Mary Ruth Reese, Ruby Schmickle and Mrs. Q. V. Miller.

VITAMIN D PROVES HELP IN FIGHTING TUBERCULOSIS

(By Associated Press) ZWICKAU, Germany, May 10.—Exceptional success with D vitamin in treatment of tuberculosis of the lungs, larynx, skin and bones is reported by the Saxonian Research Institute.

A one per cent oily solution of the vitamin, as commercially manufactured, was given to patients in doses of five drops daily in addition to ample food rations. The institute reports that this led to pronounced improvement in all patients. In some cases the results verged on apparent cure. No detrimental effects were observed in any case.

Fruit Given Dizzy Ride To Test Grade by Color

By Frank I. Weller (Associated Press Farm Editor)

WASHINGTON, May 10.—A machine that whirls hay, apples, cotton and other farm products at such a high rate of speed that the object appears only as a band of color has been developed by the department of agriculture as an aid in establishing standard grades.

The hue assumed by the revolving product is compared with accepted colors for the various grades by which the commodity is marketed, the specific lot in question being classified according to the color approximated by the test.

"The element of color," says Miss Dorothy Nickerson, color technologist, "is an integral grading factor in numerous standards established for agricultural products. Cotton, for instance, is sold according to grade and staple."

"The grade factor consists of three variables—color, leaf and trash, and preparation or ginning. Hay is graded on color, foreign material and condition.

"Color is an important element in grading fruits and vegetables; it is a part of the specifications for cotton-linters standards; it plays a part in grading rice, honey, meats, grains, breads, mayonnaise, and innumerable other agricultural commodities or the manufactured products thereof, often with direct correlation in protein content, diastatic activity, or money value."

Since color is an important grading factor, Miss Nickerson adds, it is necessary that a measure be made of color itself.

Standards thus may be kept constant from year to year, the real importance of color as a factor of utility may be determined, and the intervals at which color gradations are fixed in the standards may be specified according to such determinations.

U. S. Strikes Lindy Medal To Honor Atlantic Flight

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, May 10.—To the many tributes in the collection of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, a special gold medal will be awarded in the name of congress.

The award will be faced with a profile view of the famous aviator dressed in flying helmet, the design being conceived by Mrs. Laura Gardin Fraser and selected by Secretary of Treasure Mellon. On the reverse will be pictured a lone eagle, its wings stretched in west-to-west flight and the rays of the sun and a group of stars symbolizing the day and night trans-Atlantic flight.

The medal will be struck in gold in the United States mint in Philadelphia and bronze copies distributed there to the public on payment of $1 and postage cost.

It is the third distinction to be conferred by congress because of the feats of the flier, the distinguished flying cross and title of colonel in the air corps reserves being given on his triumphant return from Europe.

Mrs. Fraser, the designer is wife of James E. Fraser, noted sculptor. Her works include designs of the Grant memorial gold dollar and three 50 cent coins, memorials of the Alabama centennial, Fort Vancouver and the Oregon trail.

HURT TO STAND

"Cardui Seemed to Build Me Up and I Was Rid of Pain," Says Virginia Lady.

Roanoke, Va.—"Some years ago, I was in a very run-down condition," writes Mrs. T. B. Akers, of 533 Nelson Street, S.E., this city. "I suffered a great deal with pains in my sides and back. Standing on my feet hurt me so much, that I would get very weak and nervous. I knew that if I didn't get something to help me, I would have to go to bed and stay there, which is hard to do for a woman who has small children. So I kept dragging about, until one day, when feeling unusually bad and discouraged, I happened to pick up a little book with a Cardui advertisement. I decided to try it."

"Cardui seemed to build me up at once, as I was able to do my work with ease, and was rid of the pain by the time I had taken six bottles. I have taken Cardui since then, whenever I felt that I needed a tonic, and it always helped me. I recommend it to my friends."

"Thousands of other women have written to tell how Cardui had helped them to health. Cardui is a purely vegetable remedy and contains nothing harmful or injurious. It may be safely taken by a delicate young girl as well as by a feeble old lady."
