Creager Loses $500,000 Suit Against Publishers

(By Associated Press)
BROWNSVILLE, May 15.—Rene B. Creager, Republican national committeeman of Texas, lost his $500,000 libel suit against the Crowell Publishing Company and P. F. Collier & Sons Distributing Company today when a jury in federal district court here rendered a verdict for the defendants.

Creager based his suit on an article in Collier's Magazine entitled "High Handed and Hell-Bent," by Owen White, which dealt with the political situation in Hidalgo county. Creager's name was mentioned several times in the article, which also gave notoriety to A. Y. Baker, of Edinburg, Texas.

Local Band to Enter Contest

H. H. Carsey, local bandmaster, will place two bands in the contest at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at Abilene the last three days of this month. The Ballinger Band will be entered in the class B high school division of the contest and nothing but high school pupils will be used. The Bronte Band will be entered under class C.

The Ballinger Band won first place in the class B division contest held in Abilene last year and holds a cup which it must defend. Mr. Carsey will be short on instrumentation in this band, only about 25 of the local musicians being eligible to take part. The director has had the music for some time and the band is well rehearsed in the overture and march to be played by all class B organizations.

The Bronte, also under the direction of Mr. Carsey, has a larger instrumentation and will furnish hard competition in its class. This band has been taught by Mr. Carsey for more than a year and good progress has been made by the members.

The contest at Abilene will be divided into three sections composed of high school, college and university, and municipal bands. Each of these will in turn be divided into from three to five classes and more than 100 bands are expected to be entered. One feature of the convention program will be a massed concert in which all bands present are expected to take part.

58 Graduate from the Seventh Grade

The central elementary school held the spotlight Wednesday presenting a two-act play, "Courageous," at the high school auditorium. This was given in advance of the presentation of diplomas to the seventh grade class by H. S. Strain, secretary of the school board. Fifty-eight graduated from the seventh grade this year and were given diplomas Wednesday night. Of this number nine had records showing perfect attendance for the term and were recognized for this at the evening's entertainment.

The play which was offered by students of the fifth, sixth and seventh grades was excellent. The children interpreted the roles with verve, showing perfect memory training, and the action was enlivened to such extent to make the two-act performance very entertaining. Each character did himself proud and spoke so that he could be heard in all parts of the auditorium.

Those taking part in the presentation were: Scott Strain, Wylie Stobaugh, Frank Cabiness, Luther Reese, Neil Shepperd, Dorothy Nance, Eula Mae Smith, Laura Edith Miller, Arden Strebeck and Raymond Matthesen.

At the conclusion of the play the seventh graders rendered their class song and diplomas given to all who will be ready for the high school next year.

Committee Reports Bring Discussion

(By Associated Press)
DALLAS, May 15.—Striking out the words "to serve and obey" from the marriage ceremony, enlarging the charges on which a minister may be charged, and retaining the present unwritten limitation of four years on terms of presiding elders, the quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, settled down today to steady work.

Delegates interpreted the memorial enlarging ministerial misconduct charges as the most important legislation of the day.

DALLAS, May 15.—A minority report of the committee on itinerary today asked the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, to extend to life the terms of the presiding elders of the church.

A majority report had asked that the presiding elders' terms be limited to four years, resulting in a long controversy on the convention floor.

Stockman Tells Of Sheep Raising In South America

(By Associated Press)
DEL RIO, May 15.—A great place for young sheepmen just starting out in the world is South America, but he should have at least $25,000 capital.

That is the opinion of Oscar Appelt, San Angelo and Sonora ranchman, who has returned from South America where he studied methods of business.

In the northern part of the Argentine ranchmen stock two sheep and one cow to the hectare of 2.47 acres and feeding isn't necessary as the rainfall in that area is 35 to 40 inches annually. Prices of land range from $5 to $12 an acre and the state loans allow a man to pay for it in a generation. There is a lot of land that has not been taken up though some of the ranches are so far from markets and shipping points that it requires three months to reach the market with the livestock. Swift and Company have packing plants located all over the ranch country and the meat is exported mostly to Europe.

In the northern part of the Argentine are found the Romney sheep but in the southern part where it is colder are to be seen the Rambouillet.

Offers of 11 cents a pound had been received for the lambs when Mr. Appelt was there. The sale of wool is by the same system as used in this part of the country.

There are no wolves or coyotes in the area and the tales of the American ranchmen of such troubles are thrillers for the easy-going Argentinian. Most of the ranchmen are either English, or Germans, with fine mansions for homes.

Slick wire fences of seven strands are used in the country.

The Argentinian ranchman never sells his lambs as they do in this country as there is no feeder trade. Usually he sells them as muttons. There is more lamb eaten than beefsteak and one can get a fine beefsteak in a restaurant for 40 cents.

Mr. Appelt is of the belief that the American ranchman perhaps makes more than the man in Argentina, that the American has it on the Argentine in some respects and that the Argentine has it on the American in others.

Mr. Appelt described the American club in Buenos Aires as the most magnificent he had ever seen. He was the guest of friends there.

On his ranch at the edge of Schleicher and Sutton counties conditions are fine, rains having fallen. He has a good lamb crop and begins to shear on May 25.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Odie Allen, of Shawnee, Oklahoma, are visiting Mrs. Allen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Lilly, of this city.

Judge Pierson Says Decision Next Week

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, May 15.—Associate Justice Pierson, of the Texas supreme court, said no decision would be made today in the mandamus suit brought by Tom Love, of Dallas, to compel the state Democratic executive committee to certify his name on the ballot for the July primary as a gubernatorial candidate. Justice Pierson indicated that a decision in the case might be forthcoming before the end of the week.

The jurist said an opinion in the similar case of former Gov. James E. Ferguson would be rendered next week.

Federal Farm Board Man to be at Abilene

(By Associated Press)
DALLAS, May 15.—Postponement of Carl Williams' trip to Texas, announced by the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association, will bring the cotton member of the Federal Farm Board here on May 30. A new schedule of speaking dates being worked out will be announced later, covering May 30 through June 3. The first will be at Abilene, for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, on Friday, May 30.

Williams' trip will be one of the means through which Farm Board plans for organization of Texas farmers will be presented as a preliminary step to actual campaigns for membership during the summer. Before the Board's program of organized production and marketing of cotton is put into effect, farmers must become members of a cooperative association, the approved association in Texas being the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association, which will supersede the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association, and will institute new marketing and service features, with a new and liberalized sales contract with its members.

Division of Texas into six districts, which will eventually become independent, establishment of branch offices in a large number of towns and cities, and receiving agencies in smaller towns, for the purpose of bringing producers into personal contact with the association's representatives; sale of cotton through either optional or seasonal pools, the optional pools allowing sale of cotton at any time the owners order it with immediate payment for practically the full price; classification of cotton at all branch offices by federally licensed classifiers on basis of grade and staple; daily market information according to grade and staple; and general service in providing farmers with information from the Farm Board's world wide network of fact-gathering agencies, will be among the items on the new program which it is expected will be in operation by the opening of the cotton season.

HOG RAISING GAUGED BY FARM CORN YIELD

(By Associated Press)
RALEIGH, N. C., May 15.—Unless a man's farm will produce 30 bushels of corn per acre he should not attempt to raise hogs.

Thus reasons W. W. Shay, swine specialist of North Carolina State College, who says production of hogs should be determined by production of corn on the individual farm. He suggests a ratio of one brood sow for each 150 bushels of corn.

Shay sees greater possibilities for profit in hogs than in either cotton or tobacco for the Tar Heel farmers, provided they enter into swine raising in a scientific manner.

Sherman Guards Shot Accidentally

(By Associated Press)
SHERMAN, May 15.—Sergeant Eddie Boyle and Private Sam Bryant, of the Dallas national guard company, are in the hospital today suffering from wounds received accidentally when Boyle's pistol was discharged accidentally. It was the second accidental shooting since martial law was declared here last Saturday.

Firemen and policemen who battled the mob in vain Friday night were called as witnesses before the military court of inquiry. Col. L. S. Davidson said he expected the court to obtain information warranting the return of at least fifteen indictments against the rioters.

Policemen and firemen appeared before the court of inquiry to identify members of the mob which burned considerable negro property.

Col. Laurence McGee, commanding the detachment while the city is under martial law, said thirty more guardsmen would be permitted to go home today, reducing the force here to a hundred.

Mrs. Brady Tells Of Love Affair

(By Associated Press)
DALLAS, May 15.—Taking the stand in the trial of her husband for the murder of Lehlia Highsmith, capitol stenographer, last November, Mrs. John W. Brady told of the clandestine love affair between Brady and Lehlia.

Mrs. Brady said the affair wrecked their home and transformed her husband from a brilliant jurist to the defendant of unsound mind.

The defense closed the case conditionally after Mrs. Brady's testimony.

SAYS FREE BANQUETS A THING OF PAST

(By Associated Press)
MIDLAND, May 14.—Free banquets for conventions and various assemblies, whether state, district or county, were decried in an official statement issued from the office of Paul T. Vickers, secretary of the Texas Commercial Executives Association. The statement said the chamber of commerce in Texas were seeking to end the "free entertainment evil."

Vickers declared Texas was not up-to-date on convention entertainment.

"Host cities are no longer expected to give free banquets, free dances and other free entertainment. All modern well organized associations pay their own expenses through a registration fee when they hold meetings, and we are organized as secretaries to discourage free entertainment," Vickers concluded.

STATE CHARGES TO GET 8 BARRELS OF WHISKY

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, May 15.—Eight barrels containing several hundred gallons of the "finest" bootleg whisky are to be delivered to the Board of Control by Breckenridge authorities. Under the law, contraband liquor, seized in raids, may be utilized by the state in a lawful manner.

The whisky, said to test unusually high grade would be dispensed on physicians' prescriptions to patients of state eleemosynary institutions.

Rivers Subsiding; Bring Big Relief

(By Associated Press)
DALLAS, May 15.—Subsiding flood waters of the Trinity River were expected today to offer the principal hope of relief for persons marooned in the flooded lowlands near here.

At Waco American Legion members and the police stood ready to assist East Wacoans in moving from their homes should the Brazos River flood that section.

Two Men Killed At Refining Plant

(By Associated Press)
PORT ARTHUR, May 15.—Two men were killed and another injured in accidents at the Gulf Refining Company plant here yesterday.

Silas Clay, pipe fitter, was killed when he was struck by a falling valve. Robert Junca was injured seriously when the valve struck him.

John Wilson, quartermaster on a tanker, was killed when he fell into the ship's hold.

Grandview—The organizing of a chamber of commerce here has been perfected.

The campaign here Wednesday afternoon for the sale of tickets to the banquet honoring the state highway commission at San Angelo Thursday night, netted a total of 69. The committee was called together Thursday morning and began solicitations to make it 100 by asking firms to take additional tickets and send representatives so that every chair would be filled in the Ballinger section. In a short time more than 100 were assured to represent this city at the banquet in the St. Angelus Hotel at 7:45 p. m. Those who will attend the banquet fell in line at Miles following the pageant and went to San Angelo in a body, led by the state highway patrol and car bearing the state highway commissioners.

An elaborate program has been arranged for the spread from material secured both in Ballinger and San Angelo. Principal speakers will be members of the highway board. These officials were introduced at Miles but given no opportunity to say anything at that time.

A number of laborers were kept busy on the highway between Miles and Ballinger Wednesday and Thursday, but according to State Engineer G. M. Garrett it was impossible to complete all the work. Heavy rains recently caused much extra work along this sector by washing away shoulders and doing other damage. Bridges were filled in with asphalt Wednesday, painting of the black stripe down the center of the roadway was finished, and completed before the caravans from Ballinger and San Angelo arrived at Miles.

The last stretch of road was opened Wednesday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock when the covering was scraped from the last concrete poured, detour signs removed, and travel routed all the way over the hard-surfaced, all-weather route between the two West Texas county-sites.

200 Chinese Killed; Property is Looted

(By Associated Press)
HANKOW, China, May 15.—Two hundred persons today were reported to have been killed and $600,000 worth of property looted by "reds" who attacked Szechwan, near here, burning the town.

The garrison fought bravely but was overwhelmed by superior forces.

Mrs. G. G. Odom, Mrs. J. E. Currie, Mrs. Condit Wylie and Miss Eddie Storm, left early Wednesday for San Antonio for a brief visit. Miss Storm, who has been a guest of her cousins, Mrs. Currie and Mrs. Wylie, since February, will not return to Ballinger.

"Konjola's Work Miraculous," Says this Lady

Waco Lady, Lifetime Resident, Enthusiastic About New Medicine That Relieved Stomach Ailment.

MRS. LILLIE COLLINS

"Konjola made a new person of me," said Mrs. Lillie Collins, 3617 Homan Avenue, Waco. "For the past few years I have had a severe case of stomach trouble. The food I ate failed to digest, gas formed and I was subject to chest pains and heart palpitations. I was always tired in the morning. Pains in the small of my back from affected kidneys often kept me from doing my housework. I often suffered with numbness in my hands and feet and was extremely nervous.

"I began to get relief immediately after I began the Konjola treatment. The gas on my stomach after meals has now been eliminated and I no longer find night rising necessary. I sleep well and I am no longer nervous. I am free from back pains and my kidneys have been regulated until they function perfectly. I have not an ache or pain in my body. The results I got from Konjola were miraculous and I heartily recommend this medicine to all who suffer as I did."

Konjola has become the most talked of medicine in America because it makes good. And Konjola makes good in the most stubborn cases when given a fair trial. Six to eight bottles are recommended for usual cases.

Konjola is sold in Ballinger, Texas, at the Weeks Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Mississippi Lady Says She Felt Stronger, Better After Taking Cardui.

Greenwood, Miss.—Mrs. W. D. Taylor, of 1313 Carrollton Avenue, this city, has written of her use of Cardui as follows:

"About five years ago, I was in ill health. I suffered a great deal of pain in my sides and in the lower part of my body. I was weak and nervous, and at the least noise I felt like I must scream.

"At times I would have to go to bed. My head would ache. It would take me three or four days to get over these spells.

"A friend told me to take Cardui, which I did. After my first bottle, I saw some improvement. When I had taken three bottles, I felt stronger and better than I had in some time. I did not have any more of these bad spells.

"I certainly recommend Cardui." "Thousands of other women recommend Cardui, after having found it of valuable assistance to them in building up their health.

Cardui is a purely vegetable medicine, and contains nothing harmful. The medicinal value of the herbs from which Cardui is extracted have been well-known in the history of medicine for more than six hundred years.

Four Directors Employed in Dix Theatre

The age of specialization has dawned in the movies!

Four directors, each an expert in his respective field, combine their talents in producing modern talking pictures such as Seven Keys to Baldpate, Richard Dix's first Radio starring vehicle, which opens at the Palace Theatre tomorrow for showing Friday and Saturday.

Instead of one man supervising all the details incident to a motion picture, as was the case with silent films, the talkie of today employs the services of pictorial, dialogue, sound and photographic directors.

In certain types of productions, where there are large dancing ensembles, orchestras and technicolor scenes, three additional directors specializing in dancing, music and color photography, are employed. The functions of these specialists are as follows:

1. Pictorial director, who guides the actions of the players on the screen.

2. Dialogue director, who coaches the players in their speeches.

3. Photographic director, in charge of the cameras, camera-men and lighting effects.

4. Sound director, responsible for the recording of music, voices and sound effects.

5. Dance director, who rehearses the chorus girls for weeks in advance, so that new and intricate steps will be ready for filming without a moment's delay.

6. Musical director, in charge of the orchestra and singers.

7. Color director, responsible for the photography of technicolor scenes.

"A Lady to Love" Closes at the Palace Tonight

What will undoubtedly be recognized as one of the finer all-talking pictures of the year began a two-day run at the Palace Theatre yesterday in the form of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "A Lady to Love," starring Vilma Banky in a story written by the celebrated New York playwright Sidney Howard.

Miss Banky gives a brilliant and sympathetic interpretation of the role of Lena, a waitress who trades her drab existence for marriage with a fifty-year-old Italian vineyardist only to subsequently fall in love with his young and good looking Irish assistant. The complications of the narrative have been skillfully worked out by Victor Seastrom, director, and the picture ends with a smash climax that is as surprising as it is logical.

Considerable credit must be given Miss Banky's supporting cast which includes Robert Ames, recently seen opposite Gloria Swanson in "The Trespasser";

Edward G. Robinson, Lloyd Ingraham, George Davis and Gum Chin.

The production has been beautifully photographed and contains a number of unusual vistas of southern California.

Model Gas Kitchen On Wheels

The Lone Star Gas Company has recently introduced a novel method of demonstrating compressed natural gas delivered in portable steel cylinders to homes not having pipe line gas service.

A modern kitchen has been especially designed and constructed on a truck chassis. This traveling kitchen tours the suburban communities of Texas giving special demonstrations with compressed gas.

The interior of the truck is equipped with standard gas appliances, including a cook stove, water heater, refrigerator, lights, small wall heater and iron. These appliances receive a supply of gas from a standard installation mounted on the rear in a steel cabinet exactly the same as the installation for service in the home.

Two cylinders are included in the installation. As one cylinder becomes empty it can be cut off and the other turned on; the
