Press Offers $30,000 For Slayer of Lingle

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, June 10.—One of the greatest murder hunts in the history of Chicago was being organized today. Police, state's attorney's operatives, private detectives and the organized power of the press joined to trace down the man who killed Alfred Lingle, 38, Chicago Tribune reporter, yesterday.

Rewards totalling $30,000 were posted for the slayer, $25,000 by the Tribune and $5,000 by the Chicago Evening Post.

Lingle was the first newspaper man murdered since Don Mellett, editor of a Canton, Ohio, paper, was slain in 1926 after a crusade against gangsters there.

Lingle's eighteen years as a reporter was devoted to police investigations, a job that brought him into contact with most of the "big shot" gangsters in this vicinity.

Personal enmity rather than gangland revenge as the incentive for the murder was advanced today by Commissioner of Police William Russell, who said gangsters did not slay in such fashion as the man who shot Lingle down. The belief was expressed that an expert killer fired the shot.

PATIENT BREATHES IN TANK 3 WEEKS BY RESPIRATOR

(By Associated Press)
CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 10.—Effortless breathing is accomplished by a respirator perfected by Professor Philip Drinker and A. L. Shaw of Harvard.

The patient is placed inside an air tight tank. A suction pump creates a slight vacuum about the patient's body.

Air rushes through the nose and throat into the lungs, expanding them to fill some of the vacuum about the body, and so to equalize pressure.

This breath is forced out by reversing the pump. This respirator has been used continuously on one patient for three weeks.

PEAT LAND VEGETABLES BRING IOWA MAN HONOR

(By Associated Press)
CLEAR LAKE, Iowa, June 10.—Sam Kennedy, Jr., has demonstrated that an Iowan can become a "master farmer" even without the traditional hogs and corn.

Vegetables gave Kennedy his title. He grows and markets more than 22 carloads of onions, onion sets, cabbage and potatoes each year. He owns 400 acres of peat land and rents 30 acres more, which produce his vegetables and have given him the highest sugar beet yield in the Iowa-Minnesota territory of the American Sugar Beet Company for four of the last five years.

He is a thorough student of peat land problems and one of the most successful users of this type of soil in Iowa.

Ex-Open Range Cowpuncher Returns in Covered Wagon

The day of the covered wagon returned to Ballinger Tuesday, and many rubbed their eyes in wonderment as they viewed an entourage common here in the early days. The wagon was a solid steel wheel type, home-made body, sides and top of sheet metal, with sloping roof. A stove and bunk were contained inside the wagon to provide a complete home. Three dogs stuck their heads out near the driver's feet and barked lustily.

J. A. (Joe) Pruno, an old fellow who pioneered in this country around '68, was the driver. He pulled his four horses and two burros to a stop here at 1:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon to seek directions to other points and inquire about work.

He stated that he left Midland on May 20th, came to San Angelo and on here. A few days labor had been found along the route. Pruno said for four years he had been farming around Midland. The drought last year finished him and he lost everything he owned except the stock he was driving and his wagon. Hearing that crops were in fine shape in this section and hands

81 Texas Youths In Edison Test

The state examination is divided into five parts: to ascertain the student's mental ability, to determine his knowledge of chemistry, mathematics and physics, and to furnish a written paper on chemistry or physics.

PIONEER TEACHER RETIRES FROM AUSTIN SCHOOLS

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, June 10.—Miss Minnie G. Dill is to retire at the end of her present term after having taught more than two score years in Austin public schools, 42 years in one building.

Miss Dill maintained her interest in scholastic affairs to the end of her active career, counting each day spent in the classroom as an "adventure." "That is why I never lost interest in my job. I've found human nature a fascinating thing with which to deal," she stated. "I have watched youngsters enter school, finish grammar and high school and then pass through college to the workday world and I have found each youngster in the procession different from all the rest."

Modern children, she says, have more initiative and freedom than that handful of students she found in her first class years ago.

The veteran instructor believes she has established a record for teaching children in that in 42 years she has been engaged in the work she never once wielded the "big stick."

"I don't believe in spanking children and I never have," she stated. "I want them to like me and I want to treat them like human beings. Why, people don't beat animals any more and we ought to think as much of our children as we do the neighbor's dog."

MOTOR PILOTS HELP TOURISTS IN BERLIN

(By Associated Press)
BERLIN, June 10.—Harbor pilots for incoming automobiles have proven so popular with motor tourists visiting Berlin that 15 more of them have been placed in service by the National Automobile Club, making 24 in all.

Pilots' stations are to be found on all the trunk highways entering Berlin. The motorist can relinquish the wheel to a pilot thoroughly familiar with the city and get to his destination without nervous strain.

Ex-Open Range Cowpuncher Returns in Covered Wagon

needed, he started to Runnels county. He showed undeniable signs of disappointment when informed that there were several hands for every job here, and inquired the way to Buffalo Gap and Abilene.

Talking of the early days, Pruno said he had been on the "open range" here with cattle and horses in the '60s. His brand was seen over a wide territory. "Roads were not so good those days, but we had good government trails to all the towns," the old-timer declared.

Joe is not a West Texas booster, asserting this country had robbed him of everything he had. "North of Abilene I have a friend that I befriended in the early days and kept him from losing his place. I am going to look him up and see if he will help me now. He may tell me to go to h—, but I'm going to give him a chance," he said.

The ex-open range cowpuncher bid good-bye to those with whom he had talked and shouted to his team to get moving. No response from the nags brought a crack of his long whip and a special appeal to "Grover Cleveland," the wheel horse, to pull out.

Many Programs Set For Fourth of July

West Texas will offer plenty of entertainment on July 4th this year.

Automobile and motorcycle races will be staged at Abilene with prizes totaling $3,200 for events on the afternoon of the 4th.

The five-eighths mile dirt track is being put in excellent condition and given chemical treatment. More than one hundred of the fastest drivers in the country are expected to take part.

Brady citizens will celebrate on the Fourth with horse races. Additional grandstand space is being provided at Richards Park and concession rights have already been sold for the big three-day event. Picnics and barbecues will be numerous and at each gathering varied entertainments will make the holiday a gala one.

Agents Visit Clubbers; Explain Record Contest

Miss Helen H. Swift, district home demonstration agent for the extension service of A. & M. College, spent all Monday and Tuesday with Mrs. Lura Hollingsworth, county home demonstration agent. Several clubs of the county were visited by the officials and each was addressed by Miss Swift on various phases of the work.

The girls' club at Crews was visited Monday morning. The appropriate dress contest to be held in Ballinger on July 5th was discussed by both agents. Five contestants will enter the competition from Crews. Other club activities were discussed by Miss Swift.

The agents met Monday afternoon with the girls' club of Content, where they were greeted by twenty-six members of that organization. Miss Swift talked to the clubbers on the women's house dress contest and round-table talk on plans for the Live-at-Home Fair at Winters was held. The Content club will take an active part in this fair and enter many exhibits. Content women are raising money to send delegates to the short course at A. & M. College.

In referring to the trip over the north portion of the county Miss Swift complimented the many fine gardens she saw and especially the variety of produce being grown. She spoke of the amount of asparagus found in the gardens and said it was unusual to find this vegetable planted. Owen Bragg, poultry demonstrator, was visited, and although he was not at home his English White Leghorns, poultry houses and feed were examined by Miss Swift.

Senate Committee May Recall Cannon

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 10.—A proposal to ask the Senate for specific power to investigate political activities was made today by Senator Thomas J. Walsh, Democrat of Montana, as the way out of the problem resulting from defiance of the lobby committee by Bishop James Cannon, Jr. Walsh, acting chairman of the committee when Cannon refused to answer questions and walked out, said he did not know the attitude of the other committee members toward the suggestion.

Informal conferences are in progress in an effort to decide what procedure to take in the case.

TEXAS FUR CROP WORTH MORE MONEY THAN FRUIT

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 10.—The annual Texas fur crop is greater in value than either the peach, pecan, citrus or watermelon crops or the yield of fish, oysters and other marine products, according to statistics compiled by J. G. Burr of Texas game, fish and oyster commission.

Trappers of the season just closed reported the taking of 1,248,485 fur pelts with a value of more than $2,500,000. The figures do not include pelts of coyotes, wildcats, cougars, bear and rabbits which are not taxed and one which no reports are made.

Reports to the commission show that the lowly opossum leads the list of animals caught, 756,502 opossum pelts having been taken last year. Skunk pelts were second with 235,805 while 75,867 muskrat pelts were taken. The total also included 45,317 raccoons; 41,633 ring tail cats; 11,490 mink; 19,908 foxes; 58,074 civet cats; 3,878 badgers and 11 other pelts.

PLANTS, TOO, CAN TAKE ON THAT MODISH TAN

(By Associated Press)

ROCHESTER, Minn., June 10.—Tanning in human beings is considered to come from ultra-violet rays, but other light rays can cause similar results in plants.

Tanning in leaves is defined by Charles Sheard and A. Frances Johnson of the Mayo Foundation in a report to the American Association for the Advancement of Science as a darkening process.

It can come, they say, either from ultra-violet rays, or from infra-red, that is, heat radiations.

Gray, state superintendent of banks after a shortage of at least $575,000 was found in the bank accounts of the Henry L. Doherty Company, Cincinnati branch. The Doherty Company was one of the largest depositors in the Cosmopolitan.

Examiners and county officials said a shortage of more than $1,000,000 existed in the books of Amos Shafer, former district manager of the Doherty Company.

The seriousness of the shortage was declared to be emphasized by the fact that the bank's capital was only $637,000, according to its March financial statements. Officials said the shortage was caused by Shafer's stock market gambling operations.

TO BUILD BAT ROOST TO INCREASE PECAN CROP

(By Associated Press)

SAN SABA, June 10.—A bat roost has been proposed as one of the methods of saving pecan growers in San Saba county many thousands of dollars annually. The proposal was made by E. E. Risien, veteran pecan raiser, who stated that a roost filled with bats to consume moths and other insects in the pecan orchards for a radius of 10 miles, not only eliminating the expense to the grower of pecans in killing the insects, but also preventing heavy damage to the crop.

Risien advocated establishment of the bat roost near the large pecan orchards. The bat roost would cost $1,000. Risien has offered $100 to be added to a $900 fund to provide money to build the roost.

HOW'S your HEALTH

IN CASE OF DROWNING

Should you be present when some unfortunate person is drowning, here are some points you ought to bear in mind.

First, rid yourself of the superstition that every drowning person sinks three times before he goes down.

Some sink once and for all time and others may bob up and down many times.

If you can help the person by remaining on shore, do so; you may be of greater help to him in this position than in the water.

You can help by throwing out some object that will float and to which he can hold on until aid comes.

This object doesn't always have to be a life preserver. A log, or any fairly large piece of wood will suffice for this purpose.

If he is far out, you have to go after him. If you have a boat handy, your problem is easy.

If you can swim well, the matter isn't hard or dangerous provided you bear in mind a few simple points.

Swim out as quickly as possible but don't exhaust yourself going out. Remember you've got to come back and bring the drowning person with you.

While swimming out, keep your eye on the drowning one. If he goes down you will want to know the exact spot.

If he does go down below the water you can sometimes locate him by the air bubbles.

When you are near the victim, first calm him by reassuring him that you are going to help him, then take hold of him by the hair or by his coat collar, or swimming suit, and draw him after you.

In this position, his face is up and out of the water and he can breathe.

The so-called death grip of the drowning person is more formidable than fact. A drowning person becomes exhausted quickly and is no match for the rescuer.

When you have finally gotten him on the shore, look to see if he is breathing. If not, apply artificial respiration and send for a doctor.

If you are in doubt, give the drowned one the benefit of the doubt and try the prone-pressure method of resuscitation.

SUNDOWN STORIES

FATHER TIME'S SPEECH

By Mary Graham Bonner

Father Time was an elderly looking gentleman, but very strong and fine looking.

He was now addressing the meeting. Everyone was quiet.

"Friends," began Father Time, "a great many of you have become so used to getting to this place in less time than ever, and going to that spot in fewer moments than ever that you've been anxious to move the time ahead too."

"You see," the Little Black Clock explained to John and Peggy, "I can move the time ahead for our adventures because I have magic but the ordinary usual time must go along the regular way."

"You've been too impatient," continued Father Time. "You've been able to get to places in a day that used to take a week and in one hour that used to take a day—and so on."

"You've been going at such terrific speeds that you almost get back from a place before you have started—almost—not quite.

"And now that you cannot see for the time being what to hurry up next you have been wondering if you couldn't make the hours turn around in half the time."

"But that you can never do. You can do twice as much in one hour as you wish, or go twice as quickly, or three times as quickly but you cannot change old Father Time."

"You will probably say that he is old and set in his ways, but you cannot change him."

"Do twice or four times as much in one of his hours if you wish, but his hours remain the same."

"And the people at the meeting nodded their heads and said: 'After all, that is only right and fair.'"

Ralph Graves Opposite Belle Bennett in "Song of Love"

Ralph Graves, popular star who plays opposite Belle Baker in "Song of Love," the Columbia musical drama which closes at the Palace Theatre tonight, was selected for this role after an exhaustive search was made for a leading man possessed of great versatility. The part called for an actor who could sing, act, and play the piano. Graves filled the bill.

Belle Baker has been a vaudeville headliner for years. Her appearance on a bill always means S. R. O. business. Miss Baker has such a tremendous hold on the public because she puts her heart and soul into her songs. No one who has ever heard her sing one of her famous dialect songs can ever forget the deep, sincere feeling she is able to convey through her voice. Belle Baker sings some of her great hits in "Song of Love" in addition to several songs that were written expressly for the picture.

Tin Pan Alley Screened in "Children of Pleasure"

"Children of Pleasure," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer singing and dancing romance of Tin Pan Alley, will open at the Palace Theatre tomorrow, with a cast which includes Lawrence Gray, Wynne

Gibson, Helen Johnson, Benny Rubin, Kenneth Thomson, Lee Kohlmar and May Boley.

The picture was adapted by Richard Schayer from the play, "The Song Writer," by Crane Wilbur. Harry Beaumont, producer of the successful "The Broadway Melody," directed.

Report has it the picture concerns the romance of a Broadway song writer with the daughter of a millionaire and revolves about the conflict between class distinction. The settings are laid in the homes of society, in Broadway music publishing offices, on vaudeville stages and in night clubs and are said to have been constructed without regard for expense. The interiors were done in a modernistic motif and contain a number of novel features among which is a fireplace which burns quicksilver and which report has it will be used for the first time on the screen in this production. The effect is produced by vertical bars of radiating light and heat made by long glass tubes in which glowing mercury vapor is generated by an electric current.

The picture will introduce a stage star to the screen in the person of Helen Johnson, who has the part of the society girl. Miss Johnson, who is the daughter of Merle Johnson, the cartoonist, was seen on the stage in "The Brass Ring," "New Year's Eve," and "Everything's Jake." She is said to resemble both Ann Harding and the late Jeanne Eagels.

INTELLIGENCE AND HEALTH GO TOGETHER IN CHILDREN

NEW YORK, June 10.—Children of superior intelligence are usually large and strong for their ages and healthier than the average, says Leta S. Hollingworth of Columbia University.

"The contributors less than the quota to juvenile misbehavior and is noticeably emotionally stable," she says. "It is hard however, for such a child to find playmates who are congenial both in size and mental interests. Gifted girls are a special problem because they have a strong preference for activities hard to follow on account of their sex. They are less interested in traditional girls' play."

CHERISH THOSE LOVELY ARMS

"Coming events cast their shadows before"

When tempted to over-indulge

"Reach for a Lucky instead"

Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. Avoid that future shadow* by avoiding over-indulgence, if you would maintain that modern, ever youthful figure. "Reach for a Lucky instead."

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Lucky Strike has an extra, secret heating process. Everyone knows that heat purifies and so 20,679 physicians say that Luckies are less irritating to your throat.

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough

"There is only one remedy for fat, and that is eat the right food . . . There are at least one hundred so-called obesity cures. None of these is permanent. All of these are injurious," says Vance Thompson in his famous little book, "Eat and Grow Thin," published by E. P. Dutton & Company. We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky instead," you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

Ballinger Firemen Storm San Angelo

Eighty-five Ballingerites left here early Tuesday morning for San Angelo to attend the State Firemen's Association convention. The entire local company of thirty-odd men, sponsor, chaplain and mascot were in the party headed by the Ballinger Band and accompanied by a number of citizens.

Upon arrival at San Angelo the party was joined by the Coleman delegation and a number of boosters from other West Texas cities for a parade and stunts on the streets before going to the city auditorium for the formal opening of the convention.

Early Monday firemen from various points in the state began to arrive here on their way to San Angelo to attend the convention. Late Monday afternoon more than fifty cars stopped in this city for a short time and men left for San Angelo to be present for the opening of the first sessions. Tuesday morning other caravans passed this way and reports from San Angelo indicated that that city would be thronged for the beginning of the gathering. Preparations had been made at San Angelo to entertain more than 2,500 delegates, representing practically every town with a fire company in the state.

J. D. Motley, secretary of the Ballinger Chamber of Commerce, extended the address of welcome in behalf of all West Texas at the opening of the morning session. As Mr. Motley closed his address the Ballinger Band and delegation commenced a rousing demonstration which carried with it a genuine West Texas welcome. Delegates from Coleman, Winters and a number of other towns joined in the demonstration.

Mayor A. A. Glover gave the welcome for San Angelo, and Miss Edna Parker, sponsor of the San Angelo company, extended the welcome for the San Angelo Board of City Development. The addresses were responded to by John Parker, president of the state organization. The remainder of the morning was spent in appointing committees.

Leon Wolf, of the Cincinnati fire department, began a school of instruction at 1:30 p. m., and following the school the meeting was adjourned for the day. The firemen were to take part in a number of entertainment features provided for all visitors.

Most of the Ballinger delegation will return home following the baseball game this afternoon.

JAWBREAKING WORD STARTS RADIO JOB

(By Associated Press)
 CHICAGO, June 10.—Pat Flanagan of the WBBM staff gives one word credit for the fact that he is now a radio announcer.

The word is the jawbreaking polymorphonuclearleucocytosis. Flanagan chanced on the word four years ago. Tracing its history led to a decision to find out about words and their correct pronunciation. A year and a half later he took up announcing as a livelihood after an unexpected opportunity to introduce his first program at WOC, Davenport.

Incidentally this numerically strong word means "White blood corpuscles with vari-shaped life spots filtering from the blood stream in cellular tissues of the body."

South Carolina led the nation in active spindle hours during March, with a total of 1,779,909, 677.

GRANDI BROS. SCORE HIT WITH FIRST NIGHT CROWD

Grandi Brothers tent show opened here Monday night before a small but appreciative audience. The presentation of "Know Your Groceries" kept the crowd in a roar of laughter from the first curtain to the conclusion of the final act.

Bob Grandi, manager of the troupe, stated that their feature bill, "Be Yourself," would be presented Tuesday night. This is a three-act comedy drama which depicts American home life of today. The story is interesting and in addition to the play, vaudeville will be given between the acts. The Calkin Sisters will be featured musical diversifications.

Mr. Grandi announced that Tuesday would be a "two-for-one" night. One person will be admitted free with every paid admission. This is unlike "ladies night" as man woman or child will be admitted free with each regular ticket bought tonight.

The orchestra scored a big hit with Ballinger theatre goers on the opening night. The eight piece orchestra enters the pit promptly at 8:00 o'clock each evening for a twenty-minute concert. Singing is featured during the concert.

The show is located on the lots on Eighth Street at the rear of the Healer Chevrolet Company. Plenty of parking space makes this one of the most convenient show locations in Ballinger. The performers will be here all this week under the auspices of the local post of the American Legion.

One Healthful form of Necessary Nourishment that kids need no coaxing to drink

Little "human dynamos" run out of "juice" between meals. That's why they tease for sweets. Sugar is the quickest energy food and Mother Nature knows it. She prompts the appetite. It's as natural as hunger can be.

If your kiddies crave sugar, give them as much as they want... but in a form that can't be abused. Dr. Pepper contains fruit juice for flavor and health... pure sugar for quick-energy supply... and sparkling water for bulk and thirst. No tax on digestion. No ingredients that can possibly harm. The small proportions of sugar to water is a safety-valve against excess.

Constipation Troubles Soon Go Away Following Use of Black-Draught.

Burke, Texas.—Mrs. Orea Crawford, of this place, tells of her use of Theoford's Black-Draught which she says covers a period of "a good many years."

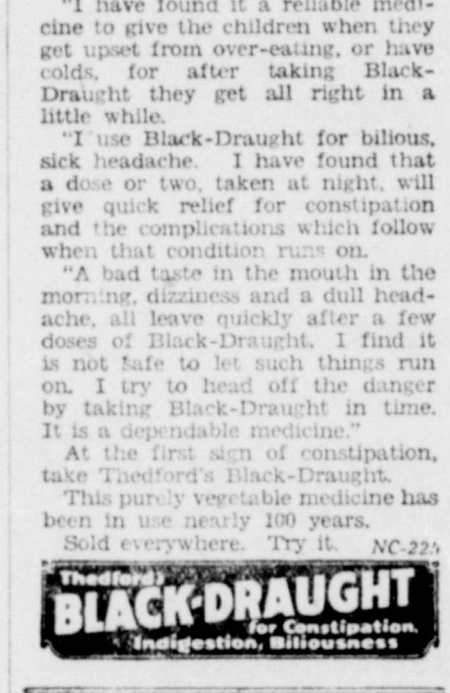

"We use Black-Draught as a regular family medicine for constipation, and I try always to keep it in the house."

"I have found it a reliable medicine to give the children when they get upset from over-eating, or have colds, for after taking Black-Draught they get all right in a little while."

"I use Black-Draught for bilious, sick headache. I have found that a dose or two, taken at night, will give quick relief for constipation and the complications which follow when that condition runs on."

"A bad taste in the mouth in the morning, dizziness and a dull headache, all leave quickly after a few doses of Black-Draught. I find it is not safe to let such things run on. I try to head off the danger by taking Black-Draught in time. It is a dependable medicine."

At the first sign of constipation, take Theoford's Black-Draught. This purely vegetable medicine has been in use nearly 100 years. Sold everywhere. Try it. NC 225
