Temple Secures Branch Federal Cotton Office

(By Associated Press)
WACO, June 13.—Acting on the petition of 400 farmers, Temple business men today had practically completed arrangements to guarantee the expense incurred by maintaining a branch office of the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association there.

Ellis county business men and farmers planned to meet today to consider plans for a branch office at Waxahachie. Other meetings were scheduled for Hillsboro and Hutto.

WACO, June 13.—Calvert, celebrated for almost a century as the center of rich Brazos valley cotton plantations, has been awarded the first branch office of the Waco district, it was disclosed by district headquarters of the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association. The Calvert office will be one of a half dozen to be allotted to important cotton points in the 27 counties of Central Texas which constitute the association's district No. 3.

It was also announced that the first general meeting for the district will be held in Waco June 20. At that time district council is to be formed and an intensive campaign begun to enroll members under the association's liberalized marketing agreement and to arrange for marketing service by which members may sell through the American Cotton Cooperative Association. In towns where 5,000 or more bales of cotton are marketed annually, sub-offices will be placed if local interest warrants.

DALLAS, June 13.—First opportunity to sign the new cotton cooperative marketing contract of the Texas Cotton Cooperative Association will be given 25,000 present members of the association who constitute former Texas Farm Bureau Cotton Association members, Lawrence Westbrook, director of the organization, announced.

He said the new organization, not up in accordance with the Federal Farm Board program for Texas, will present a contract more liberal than the old contract. "Failure of any present members to sign the contract, however, means that the terms of the old contract must be fulfilled," he said. "whereas the signing of the new contract by present members automatically cancels the one which they previously signed."

It was announced that the district organization in the Corpus Christi area had been completed and the actual sign-up campaign will start soon in the 41 counties comprising the district. Preliminary district organization work is now being handled at Waco headquarters for the Waco district, which later will be followed by the sign-up campaign. The same procedure will be followed shortly at Abilene and Lubbock district headquarters, it was said.

The new contract has been liberalized from that of previous years in the cotton cooperative marketing movement, and includes the right of withdrawal, optional delivery of only part of the crop, right of prior fixation through the optional pooling plan, establishment of branch offices and receiving stations government supervision through the Federal Farm Board, national sales outlet through the American Cotton Cooperative Association and limitation of per bale association expense.

The Okmulgee, Okla., chamber of commerce, seeking to have every person in the city counted in the census, offered free theater tickets to persons turning in an unenumerated name.

Senate Finally Passes Tariff Bill

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 13.—The Senate passed the administration tariff bill today after a year and a half of almost continuous labor on its complex revisions.

Opening the last three hours of debate before the final vote, Senator Tom Connally, Democrat, of Texas, said the farmer would not be helped by the legislation, and could hope for little relief except through the export debenture plan, which was stricken from the bill by congress.

British Speed King Accidentally Killed

(By Associated Press)
WINDERMERE, England, June 13.—Major Sir Henry O. Segrave, 35, internationally known speed king, died tonight from injuries suffered when his speed boat overturned on Lake Windermere as he was testing the craft preparatory to leaving for the United States to seek the international trophy, now held by Americans.

The famous racer held the world's automobile speed record, 231 miles an hour. He was speeding along the lake at the rate of 100 miles an hour when his boat overturned, throwing the occupants into the water.

Beneficial Rains Cover the County

A good slow rain fell almost every section of Runnels county Friday morning. At noon Friday the south and west portions of the county reported a big rain, with showers falling in the northeast portion.

The heaviest rain was reported from Rowena where two and a half inches fell in a short time. Water was running over the highway at 11:00 o'clock and a slow rain was still falling.

Streams south of Ballinger were on a rise and traffic on the highway from Ballinger to Paint Rock was stopped for several hours waiting for small creeks to run down.

Bronte reported a two-inch rain and a rise in the Colorado River was expected here Friday night. This will stop work on the Seventh Street bridge across the river and will probably fill in excavations for piers on that piece of work again. Heavy rain continued south of Ballinger to Menard and Junction. Winters, Talpa and Truitt reported only showers, but it was believed that good rains fell in some of these places after the report was gathered.

To Give Scholastic Census Saturday

County Superintendent R. E. White is completing the county scholastic census and expects to announce the total for the entire county Saturday morning. All reports were in his office Friday with the exception of the negroes in Winters and that work was to be completed Friday and given to him Saturday morning. As soon as this report is received all scholastics will be tabulated and the results made public.

This will be the first year six-year old children have been included in the scholastic enumeration. All six year olds will be permitted to attend school next term without paying tuition. This will naturally increase the census to the largest number ever tabulated in Runnels county.

Supt. White stated that all county schools had employed teachers for the coming term. One school plans to add one teacher to its staff if enrollment justifies after transfers have been made. There are many applications for this place and it will be easy to secure a competent instructor.

A clean-up campaign is a fine thing in the spring but it does only transient good unless vacant lots, alleys and yards are kept clean afterwards. The campaign here this year was successful in every way but soon after rains fell and now most vacant lots are high in weeds. Following up a campaign is just as important as going over the top in the first push.

Rain which fell in Rumpels county Friday morning was beneficial and while no big amount was reported from any locality, coming just a few days after another rain it will do crops much good. If rains continue this spring and summer as they have started the county will probably make bumper yields. So far rains have fallen at the opportune time—just when farmers began to say crops needed moisture.

Citizens of Brady wished to pay a tribute to Harry Schwenker of the Brady Standard, and when he left a few days ago to attend the State Press Association convention, his entire editorial staff was arrested, placed behind bars, and citizens proceeded to publish a special edition dedicated to Schwenker. The edition was very complimentary. Harry was praised for the community work he has fostered for many years in which modesty forbade including himself among those who engineered the projects.

Friday the 13th brought no ill luck to anyone in this section. To open the day a slow, gentle rain began falling all over Rumpels county and continued through the forenoon. This precipitation came at a time when it was needed and fell in an ideal manner. Business went ahead as usual and the old pessimist who believes in superstitions was forced to admit that the day brought quite the opposite of bad luck.

School teaching is perhaps the most overcrowded profession in this land today. Practically every school reports about five applications for every position and in some instances more. At the rate colleges are turning out graduates with degrees there is no relief in sight. A large proportion of the students take straight literary courses and as soon as they receive sheepskins apply for positions as teachers. Most boards now demand experience and this makes it difficult for new graduates to secure positions except in the rural districts. This condition also causes many students to turn to some profession which is not so overcrowded.

Clint Penn and Willard Woodson have gone to Corpus Christi where they will buy cotton during the summer months.

DR. M. C. GLIDEWELL, MAGNETIC MASSEUR

DON'TS FOR BATHERS
Man is first and last a land animal and in water, no matter how good a swimmer, he is out of his element.
In water, therefore, you should always be careful. It is better to be over-cautious than drowned.
If you do not swim, learn how to swim, and while you are learning be content with the edge of the water. Don't wade out. Take no chances until the under-water has been explored and pronounced safe by an expert swimmer.
It is dangerous to go into the water during the first two hours following a meal. The blood during this time is drawn to the organs of digestion.
In the water, the cold and the muscular movements of swimming draw the blood away from the digestive organs and into the skin and muscles. Digestion, therefore, is interfered with and sickness may result.
It is also unwise to get into the cold water while overheated. The shock to the nervous system may be too great and serious cramps may follow.
Be reasonable in the length of time you spend in bathing. It is seldom wise to stay in more than 30 minutes. Better go in several times during the day. Don't allow yourself to become chilled in the water. Serious illness may follow such chilling.
If you are swimming in a pool or in an unknown stream or river, you must also be cautious about the cleanliness of the water.
Several serious diseases are sometimes picked up in the water. These affect the eyes, the nose and throat, the ears and the various cavities in the head.
Sometimes you can't help it but when you can, don't swallow any of the water in which you bathe and don't rinse your mouth with it. That's a good way of picking up intestinal diseases.
PIG NEVER PIGGISH UNTIL MAN FORCED HIS APPETITE
(By Associated Press)
ST. PAUL, Minn., June 13.—The pig should worry if a neat civilization becomes self-conscious about him.
He has proof that it was civilization that made him piggish.
The agricultural research center at the state college here stands ready to testify that the reason the hog 'hogs' his food—five times as much as ordinarily would be necessary for him—is that the demands of civilized man, his keeper, for rapid growth in the porcine carcass are the cause of his overgrown appetite.
E. F. FETTER, swine specialist, says that in their natural state hogs grow at about only one-fifth the rate maintained by good swine raisers.

Discoverer of King Tut's Grave
Seeks Tomb of World Conqueror

The mosque of Nebi Daniel in Alexandria, beneath which scientists hope to find tomb of Alexander the Great.

(By Associated Press)
ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, June 13.—Howard Carter, who discovered the tomb of King Tut-Ankh-Amen in the Valley of the Kings, is starting excavations here at the mosque of Nebi Daniel in the hope of discovering the real burial place of Alexander the Great. The government has authorized the antiquities department to proceed with the digging. The authorities, however, have laid down the condition that the body shall not be touched, if it is discovered. There is no certain record of the burial place of the world conqueror. Only tradition places it in this city which he founded and to which he gave his name. But checking up of tradition has convinced archaeologists that there is a chance that legend has been right in this instance. Alexander, as every school boy knows, died at the age of 33 sighing for more worlds to conquer. The death was caused by a malignant fever and took place in Babylon after eleven days illness on June 29, 323 B. C. He had founded Alexandria in the previous year. There is an elaborate sarcophagus in the Turkish National Museum at Istanbul which was for a time thought to have been the last resting place of the son of Philip of Macedon. But the Turkish authorities themselves now acknowledge that it was misnamed, the mistake arising because the frieze on it depicts some of Alexander's battles. It was found at Sidon in Syria in 1887.

GIFT FROM AMERICAN
(By Associated Press)
MADRID, June 13.—King Alfonso, considered one of the best dressed men in the world, has probably possessed thousands of neckties. But he is said never to have had any he liked better or wore oftener than those given him by the late A. P. Moore, when the latter was American Ambassador here. Ambassador Moore once saw some neckties that he fancied and thought the king would like them. So he bought a half dozen and gave them to Don Alfonso, as casually as he might have done with any American friend. Some of the court officials gasped. No Spaniard could have done such a thing. His gift to his King, were he of a rank permitting him to make one at all, would be much more costly and elaborate. The experience pleased the King immensely. Nobody had ever given him six neckties before—or dared to dream of doing so. A Valparaiso, Ind., woman was convicted 49 times in 12 years on liquor charges.

Career of Alice White Like That of "Bixie Dugan"

The character of Dixie Dugan, in which Alice White attained her first great screen success over a year ago, has never been given to the peppy blonde star by First National. The first occasion was in "Show Girl." The present one is in the sequel, "Show Girl in Hollywood," coming Sunday to the Palace Theatre for three-day engagement.

J. P. McEvoy wrote both stories, the Hollywood sequel recently running serially in a widely read magazine.

The story of Dixie Dugan, who comes to Hollywood an unknown and makes good, is strangely like that of Alice White. Coming to the film colony first as a stenographer, the baby vamp quickly rose to screen fame.

She was born in Paterson, N. J., and received her academic training from prominent business men in the film city. Then came the opportunity to be script clerk with a movie company.

The script clerk's work is like that of a secretary, handling details relating to the shooting schedule. One day the director needed a "bit" player and sent Alice from her chair back of the camera to the "set" in front of it. After fifteen feet of film she was made.

"Hot Stuff" and "Playing Around" were two of her recent pictures.

"Show Girl in Hollywood" contains Technicolor and musical sequences, and is laid in the studios and far-famed resorts of Hollywood. Jack Mulhall, Blanche Sweet, Ford Sterling and others are in the stellar cast.

Thrilling New Song-Drama Stars Bebe Daniels

Fresh proof that Bebe Daniels has relinquished once and for all the light, farcical comedies in which her athletic prowess was the chief essential, is evidenced in "Love Comes Along," at the Palace Theatre today and Saturday.

In this, her second Radio picture, a new Bebe Daniels flashes upon the screen. She is neither the lissome charmer of "Rio Rita" fame, nor the all-American sports girl of earlier productions. She presents an entirely new characterization as "Peggy," an American actress left destitute when her company disbands on a tropical island.

Without question her portrayal is the most dramatic Bebe has given the screen. Not since she appeared with Rudolph Valentino in "Monsieur Beaucaire," she she had an opportunity to display such emotional depth.

There is a charm and sparkle about the picture that captures the audience's fancy from the first moment. Lloyd Hughes in the role of a swaggering sailor, makes his debut in audifilms as a singer and pleases with an exceptionally good voice.

A feeling of spontaneity accompanies the songs interspersed throughout the play; at no time do they seem merely injected between lines in the dialogue without apparent reason.

Bebe's voice grows in beauty and range with each succeeding film she makes. When she sings the song, "Love Comes Along," straight to her lover at the gay fiesta, and later when it reaches him over the water and brings him back in time to rescue her from the island's dictator, Montague Love, she imbues it with a warmth and appeal that strikes a corresponding note in one's heart.

Ned Sparks furnishes excellent comedy, and the direction shows the fine hand of Rupert Julian. It is his first talking picture, and he has made one well worth seeing.

Firemen Back Home From State Meeting

Ballinger firemen returned Thursday night from San Angelo where they had been attending the State Firemen's Association convention. The meet closed early Thursday afternoon with a business session.

Bryan was selected as the next convention city and D. B. Clark, of Beaumont, was named fourth vice-president. All other officers were advanced in order, making C. E. Jenkins, of Bryan, president; E. V. Easterling, of Del Rio, first vice-president; Frank Williams, of Winters, second vice-president; and C. H. Humason, of Lufkin, third vice-president.

Ballinger firemen were delighted with the convention this year, believing that much good was accomplished. A number of resolutions were adopted at the close of the last day's session looking to better fire protection and better fire fighters. One resolution will ask for an appropriation for the starting of short courses at A. & M. College to better teach Texas firemen.

A change in arson laws will be asked according to another resolution. It was shown that fires during the past decade cost $20,000,000 and 250 lives. The firemen urge a law with "teeth" in it so that courts can secure convictions on circumstantial evidence and to consider attempted arson as great a crime as actual incendiarism.

The state legislature will be asked to raise the tax on fire-works to $1 on the $100 in order to stop the sale of fire-works in the state.

People and cities and towns were asked to see that fire marshals are paid a salary, pointing out that many such officers receive no pay for this work and live off the salary drawn in another position.

Cup races will be resumed at future conventions. A total of $600 was set aside by the convention to pay prizes of $300, $200 and $100 to winners of the races.

The retiring president, John Parker of San Angelo, was rewarded with a white gold watch, a gift from the association for his services during the past year.

Many firemen remained over for the dances and other entertainment Thursday night, and a long line of cars bearing firemen to their homes passed through here Friday morning.

YOU HAVE A DOCTOR'S WORD FOR THIS LAXATIVE

In 1875, an earnest young man began to practice medicine. As a family doctor, he saw the harm in harsh purgatives for constipation and began to search for something harmless to the sensitive bowels.
 Out of his experience was born a world-famous prescription. He wrote it thousands of times. It proved an ideal laxative for old and young. As people saw how marvelously their sluggish bowels were started and bad breath, headaches, feverishness, nausea, gas, poor appetite, and such disorders were relieved by the prescription, it became necessary to put it up ready for use. Today, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, as it is called, is the world's most popular laxative. It never varies from Dr. Caldwell's original effective and harmless formula. All drugstores have it.

Club Party Is Gay Affair

Miss Mary Lou Patterson entertained Tuesday afternoon to honor members of her club and a few friends who played bridge at three tables.

Dainty place cards seated guests at linen laid tables where a salad course with limeade was served in rooms prettily decorated with varied summer blooms.

Club favors for high and low score went to Miss Maggie Hering and Mrs. Winfield Wood; guest favors to Miss Katrina Dooose and Mrs. Clyde Bush.

Other guests were: Mmes. James Trail of College Station, Ray Sherley, Lawrence Grier, James Parrish, J. C. Sturges, Jr.; Misses Mamie Gene Hale, Marjorie McAdams, Verda Nell Trail and Mabel Brewer.

Recent Bride Is Honored

Entertaining to honor Mrs. Milton Boggess, who before her marriage last week was Miss Sarilda McMillan, Mrs. C. R. Stephens and J. M. Pyburn gave a prettily planned surprise shower on Wednesday afternoon.

The interior of the Stephens home on Eleventh Street had been given a beautiful floral adornment for the occasion which was the regular monthly meeting of the Young Woman's Circle of the First Presbyterian Auxiliary.

At the conclusion of the regular program little Misses Cordelia Lynn and Nancy Pyburn asked the guest of honor to accompany them to the dining room where a lovely array of gifts on the dining table centered with a bride with a veil of tulle was presented. Little Miss Evelyn Cox of Temple, sang and played on her celele an appropriate number.

Ice cream with angel squares, together with mints simulating flowers in miniature colonial baskets with sweet peas as favors, stressed a pink and green color theme. The bride's favor was a lovely corsage of sweet peas and maiden hair fern.

Mmes. Stephens and Pyburn were assisted by Mmes. Estes Lynn and Jack McGregor in entertaining the following: Mmes. Boggess, Jeff Huey, James Dankworth, Cora Boggess, James Trail of College Station; Misses Verda Nell Trail, Helen McCamey, Katrina Dooose, Cordelia Batts, Louise Batts and Edelbel Walker.

The beauty of the rooms of this attractively furnished home on Fourth Street was enhanced by the addition of a profusion of summer blooms in a riot of colors.

Summer Round-up To Begin Thursday

The annual summer round-up of pre-school age children will be held in Ballinger next Thursday, June 19, at the American Legion hall from 9:00 to 11:00 a. m. This announcement was made Friday morning by Mrs. Paul Trimmer, chairman of the health committee of the Ballinger Parent-Teacher Association, who is in charge of the summer round-up work. Miss Addie Alexander, county health nurse, is cooperating with Mrs. Trimmer in preparing for the examination of all pre-school age children.

According to the census reports there are about 170 children here to enter school this fall and this large number makes it impossible to examine babies at the two-hour period Thursday. All children who are to enter school in September are expected to report to the round-up for examination. Following the examination, all defects found will be made known to parents, so that many of these, if not all, can be corrected before the beginning of school.

Cards for each child examined will be filed in a permanent record and after school starts, a check will be made to see if all defects have been corrected. By a ruling of the board, announced several weeks ago by City Health Officer E. R. Walker, all children must be vaccinated against smallpox before they can enter school. This ruling was passed by the board several years ago but has never been enforced. Last year many children missed time from school on account of smallpox and vaccinations during the school term. To avoid this loss of time and the possible outbreak of an epidemic, children will be required to have been vaccinated this year.

Those in charge of the round-up here are anxious that all children report to the hall on time. It will require several doctors and nurses to inspect 170 children in the short time allowed and for this reason parents are asked to see that their children arrive on time.

There is no charge for the examination. This service is made possible by the health committee of the P-T. A. and every mother is requested to take advantage of this opportunity.
