Fourth of July Celebrations Claim Toll of 178 Lives Over Nation

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, July 5.—America paid the seemingly inevitable price of human life in celebrating the 154th anniversary of Independence Day yesterday. The death toll numbers 178, and hundreds of others were injured.

Twelve deaths were due directly to fireworks, which was the largest casualty list from this cause since the Associated Press started three years ago to keep a nation wide check on Independence Day fatalities.

Automobile accidents took 81 lives, and drownings 57.

NEW YORK, July 5.—Two hundred and seventy-five persons were injured in New York and environs yesterday by bootleg fireworks.

Runnels Featured At Short Course

Runnels county will play a big part at the short course to be held at A. & M. College this year commencing the latter part of July and continuing for a few days in August. C. W. Lehmburg and Mrs. Lura Hollingsworth have received a number of calls for participation and with the large delegation this county will be well represented.

The latest call for work from this county has been received by Mr. Lehmburg in which the program committee requests that the Runnels county group take part in the big pageant to be staged one night during the short course. This will be "Turkey Production" and six boys in the county will be selected to dress and portray a flock of turkeys. Another boy dressed as a farmer with a large hatchet will endeavor to kill the turkeys which escape through the entrance to the stage.

On the program for Tuesday, July 29th, Mr. Lehmburg will address the short course on "Marketing Turkeys." W. H. Darrow, extension editor, has requested Mr. Lehmburg for a copy of his talk or a brief synopsis which he wishes to publish in a number of papers and bulletins prior to the meeting of the short course.

Indications are this year that the largest crowd ever to attend the short course will make the trip. Last year Runnels county had the largest representation of any county in the state.

Boat is Wrecked; Sixteen Drowned

(By Associated Press)
CONSTANZA, Rumania, July 5.—Sixteen people were drowned in the Black Sea when their boat was wrecked today.

PITCHUM WITH TWO HANDS; INJUN FOOL 'EM BATTERS

(By Associated Press)
LAC DU FLAMBEAU, Wis., July 5.—Pierre Jeroux is the pitcher for a baseball team here, made up entirely of Indians.

Pierre is worse than two men—for the opposition. His right hand is as good as his left. When he stands up on the mound ready to pitch, he holds his hands behind him and has adopted a stance which makes it difficult for the batter to tell from which hand he will serve.

He also is adept at catching the base-runners. He throws to first with his right hand and to third with his left. He wears no glove. He bats from either side of the plate.

Besides being ambidextrous, Pierre has plenty of stuff on the ball to fool the batters of the teams he meets, including those of Duluth, Minn., and Superior, Wis.

A Japanese farmer near Westmoreland, Calif., produced $20,000 worth of tomatoes from 16 acres.

Resurvey Lines of Gas Corporation

A resurvey of the Oklahoma Natural Gas Corporation's pipeline from San Angelo to Coleman county gas fields is being made under the supervision of C. L. Langley, survey and land agent of the organization. This survey is for the purpose of listing the valuation of the line for tax renditions in each county, survey and school district. When the line was laid by the Barney Carter interests no record was kept of the information necessary to the company.

Mr. Langley with a crew of four is making the survey and stated that no extra labor will be needed on the task. The survey was begun June 27 and Mr. Langley expects to complete the project on Wednesday, July 9. The 3-inch line extending from the San Angelo city border station 85 miles to the Morris ranch, twelve miles north of Coleman. All lateral and service lines to towns and farm houses and main road and stream crossings in addition to other information will be secured by the survey crew.

Much of the gas passing thru this line comes from the Goldsboro area in the northeastern part of Runnels and the northwestern part of Coleman counties and is drawn to the local booster station by vacuum force and pushed westward in the line by compression.

Many Members of Clubs Meet Here

An exceptionally large group of Runnels county home demonstration club members met in Ballinger Saturday for the annual house dress contest and a business meeting to perfect plans for the banquet to be served by the clubs at the Live-at-Home Fair at Winters July 11.

Seventy-five dresses, a greater number than has been entered in any previous affair in this county, were entered in the women's and girls' division of the contest.

Each member of the Maverick group entered a garment and this group was the only one with 100 per cent of the membership in the competition.

Miss Martha Buttrill, home economic instructor of the Abilene high school and Miss Gertrude Brent, Coleman county home demonstration agent acted as judges in the dress contest.

Two of the balloons passed over Hope, Arkansas, at noon.

INDIANS TAKE UP HUNT FOR CACTUS BUSH FRUIT

(By Associated Press)

Most families will make three to ten gallons of syrup and smaller quantities of preserves from these fruits, using no sugar in the process.

Tilden is Winner Of Tennis Singles

(By Associated Press)
WIMBLEDON, England, July 5.—In the presence of the king and queen of England, Bill Tilden won the British singles tennis title from the sensational player, Wilmer Allison, of Austin, Texas, in straight sets.

Geo. Dean No. 1 Drilling at 600 Ft.

John Castor reported Saturday morning that the Geo. Dean No. 1 was drilling around the 600-foot mark and making good progress. Fifteen and one-half inch casing has been set at the top of the hole and the bit is working in a 15-inch hole.

Driller C. J. Dutton is running a 24-hour shift on the well and will continue to a depth of 2,500 feet or more. Mr. Castor stated Saturday that if the hole was kept in its present good shape he hoped to be able to go to a depth of 4,000 feet or until pay was struck.

Formations so far have been slightly different from those found in the old Safety First and the Rowena well. More sand formations have been encountered to the present depth.

In the Safety First the first showing of gas was encountered at 675 feet. The Dean well is about 75 feet lower than the Safety First and drillers expect to encounter this showing at any time now. The first oil showing in the Safety First was found at 1,330 feet. At this depth drillers expect to find a showing in the Dean well.

Mr. Castor said he expected to continue operations without shutdown unless hard luck is experienced.

C. A. Dooze, Jr., who has been attending Texas Tech at Lubbock is here on a visit with home folks.

'LEMONS' GOOD ONLY ONCE IN FOOTBALL OR LEMONADE

(By Associated Press)
OMAHA, Neb., July 5.—Malcolm Baldrige, former Yale athlete, submits this as one of the prize "come-backs":

In 1915, Tom Shevlin developed at Yale a team that downed Princeton only to bow to Harvard, the following Saturday.

"How is it possible, Mr. Shevlin," a Boston sports writer remarked, "that you can develop a football team that looks so good one Saturday and so terrible the next Saturday?"

"Very easy," came back Shevlin, "you can't make two lemonades out of one lemon."

Sweetwater—The State Highway Commission has authorized an initial appropriation of $10,322 for the construction of an underpass and a box culvert at the Texas & Pacific crossing on the Bankhead highway west of here.

WHEAT EXPORTS SET NEW RECORD AT GALVESTON

(By Associated Press)
GALVESTON, July 5.—Customs receipts for the Galveston district during the fiscal year 1929-30 were about $8,500,000. The bulk of these receipts were from the port of Galveston.

Wheat exports during the year set one of the highest marks ever made, figures showing about 25,000,000 bushels having been exported, almost double the amount of the fiscal year 1928-29. Other grains, however, decreased in export volume.

Although the cotton export season does not end until July 31, exports now stand at 1,570,843 bales. Galveston, in company with practically all other important cotton ports, lost heavily in this commodity.

The flour market also gained sharply, as did sulphur exports. New marks were also set by the port's passenger business, heavy gains in passengers being reported by steamship lines.

STRAWBERRY GROWERS TO FORM ASSOCIATION

(By Associated Press)
CARRIZA SPRINGS, July 5.—The Winter Garden Strawberry association has been organized with a membership of 50 farmers from this section. The object of the association is to promote the growing of strawberries in the Winter Garden district in commercial quantities.

Jury Disagrees In Second Trial

(By Associated Press)
GALVESTON, July 5.—The jury disagreed today in the second trial of W. S. Shiloh Scrivener, after deliberating for thirty-three hours. The defendant was charged with robbing the First National Bank of Texas City.

Scrivener was given ninety-nine years in the penitentiary in his first trial which was reversed and remanded by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Mrs. Mellie Pierce and Mrs. Henry Leach completed the examinations Saturday.

Children Urged To Attend Fair

Circular letters have been mailed by County Superintendent R. E. White to all trustees and teachers of Runnels county schools urging scholastic support and attendance at the Live-at-Home Fair in Winters July 10, 11 and 12. Largest attendance of school children is expected July 11 when all pupils will be admitted free to the fair grounds and exhibits.

MAGAZINE COVER GIRLS MAKE FOR 'ARTY' PUBLIC

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 5.—The girl on the cover sells the magazine, the annual convention of the American Federation of Arts revealed.

Magazines sell in direct ratio to the beauty of the feminine face on the cover, it was brought out. J. Scott Williams, noted mural painter, sees in this evidence that the public is becoming art-minded.

(By Associated Press)
EMELEE, Alabama, July 5.—Six persons were killed and two injured in race riots here yesterday and today, including Grover Boyd and a man by name of Marrs, both white, and five unidentified negroes.

The trouble is reported to have started from an argument over money owed Clarence Boyd on an automobile battery. Armed negroes went to Boyd's store, calling Clarence Boyd outside and striking him down when his nephew, Grover Boyd, came to the rescue and was shot dead.

Two hundred white men thereupon sought the negroes and Marrs was shot dead when the crowd attempted to search in which the negroes were believed to be hiding, and Jim Ayers was wounded by bird shot. A negro was shot, Marrs was killed and an explosion of cartridges and shells followed in the burning negro house from which none of the occupants escaped.

The negro who struck Clarence Boyd was found hanging this morning.

The negro who killed Grover Boyd still is being sought, but the major fighting is believed to be ended.

July Fourth was a very quiet day in Ballinger. Officers report that very few people were in town and what were here were well behaved and nothing out of the ordinary happened. A large number of Ballingerites attended celebrations in other towns or spent the day on the river fishing and taking a short outing.

Recently published bank statements in Ballinger show around a million dollars on deposit in the three banks which proves that there is still some money in the country and hard time are not as hard as some people picture them. Deposits have slumped here this summer due to no money crop coming on the market. The county depends largely on cotton and nothing can be realized on this crop before September. Dairying, poultry, and what have brought in some ready cash for farmers and stockmen but not in large amounts.

The Live-at-Home Fair will open at Winters next week and Ballinger citizens plan to visit the affair in large numbers, especially on Friday, July 11. Committees will make an effort to line up a large delegation to leave here at noon Friday and take part in the big parade at 2:00 o'clock. Ballingerites should be urged to make this trip. They should be sufficiently interested in what our neighbors are doing to send the band and a big crowd labeled Ballinger. We expect a crowd here when the Runnels County Fair is in progress and for a number of years Winters has sent big delegations here on School Day to watch the Billiards play football and to take in the fair. Let's cooperate and repay these visits with 1,000 people in the Ballinger delegation. Those who can are urged to secure tickets and remain until Friday night for the live-at-home banquet served by the club women of the county. Tickets are 50 cents each and 1,500 will be provided.

SUNDOWN STORIES

THE STOWAWAY

By Mary Graham Bonner

John and Peggy and the Little Black Clock were taking a ride in a plane.

The pilot was in the plane but they hadn't seen anyone else with them when suddenly they noticed a stranger in the plane.

They wondered how he could have got in when they hadn't seen him. Who was he? And from where had he come?

He wore rather old clothing. Yet the strangest thing about it was that they couldn't decide whether he was well dressed or shabbily dressed. They looked at him one moment and he looked very handsome and the next moment they thought he looked very untidy!

"Well, well," said the Little Black Clock. "We've got a stow-away with us. He must have got into the plane when we weren't looking. I didn't notice him before, did you?"

"No, I didn't notice him before," said John.

"Neither did I," said Peggy. "We only just saw him."

The stowaway laughed. He didn't seem to have the slightest objection in having them talk about him.

He had a sunny smile. Then he frowned and his frown made him look as though he had a stormy temper.

"What is your name?" John asked him.

"I'm known as the Old Weather Man," the stowaway answered. "You never know where Weather may turn up or just how he may turn up. He stows himself away in the most unexpected places. I hope I'm not unwelcome."

"Oh, no," said John. "I think you're interesting."

The Old Weather Man grinned. How bright his eyes were now! But the ends of his coat were very fringed. The Little Black Clock was looking very much amused.

"I wanted to have a part in one of your adventures too," the Old Weather Man told the children. "I should have liked bringing my children along, but I couldn't manage them, all at once. I've such a dear, funny family. May I talk about them a little?"

The Little Black Clock nodded, and the children said, "Oh, yes!"

HOW'S your HEALTH

Edited by DR. JACO GALTSTON, for the New York Academy of Medicine

LOOKING BACKWARD

Looking backward over the last two centuries, we can see plagues that heretofore beset mankind faded into insignificance. Small pox has been conquered by vaccination.

Cholera, typhoid, bubonic plague, yellow fever, these and a host of other disease conditions have yielded to science.

Tuberculosis has been reduced from first among the causes of death to the fourth or fifth place. Infant mortality has been markedly reduced. A number of diseases have been stemmed through the discovery of specific remedies.

All of these achievements warrant a deep sense of satisfaction. However, we should not only look backward but also ahead.

Tuberculosis has been reduced but heart disease is on the increase. So is cancer.

We are saving many more babies, but fewer survive in the older age groups.

The degenerative diseases are claiming as many victims as ever before. Deaths due to accidents mount yearly.

Mental disorders, too, are making serious inroads on public health. In the last fifty years the rate per 100,000 under the care of state hospitals for the insane has nearly tripled, and the actual number of cases has increased six times.

It is estimated that there are 500,000 feeble-minded persons in the United States today.

The backward sight is gratifying, the forward sight is provoking.

Most of the problems of today, however, are not mass problems, they can hardly be solved by a brilliant discovery.

They are, on the contrary, individual problems, to be solved, if at all, by each individual setting himself to the task as it faces him and those immediately dependent on him.

IN NEW YORK THEATERS

By Mark Barron

NEW YORK—This is the age of satire, and playwrights are its most ardent exponents.

Evangelism, politics, big business, prohibition, the arts and many institutions of American life have been targets for satirical attacks on the stage.

Hollywood and the movies come off second best in a tilt with a new play called "Once in a Lifetime." It is the work of Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, now playing in the suburbs of New York.

The play is not only thorough, sardonic indictment of various Hollywood foibles, but it also is a thoroughly humorous, delightful bit of fun. It has the same touch of amusing burlesque that was seen to such advantage in "June Moon" and "The Butler and Egg Man."

The authors conceive three bankrupt vaudeville actors on their way to Hollywood. However, one of them really isn't an actor, being just as dumb but good natured usher whom the other two have picked up as an assistant. He has assumed the name of Dr. George Lewis and is introduced as a technical expert.

Pure Comedy. The three beggars on horseback, storm into Hollywood as professors of voice culture. With the assistance of a gossip writer they meet a producer and persuade him that they will be valuable officials in his company.

Dr. Lewis played to the perfection of pure comedy by Hugh O'Connell, decides that he doesn't want to be a yes-man and so starts a sort of independent organization of his own. It consists of himself, a blond ingenue who never has had a job because she cannot act, a waiter and a cigarette girl who writes scenarios which never sell.

Turns Genius. Then Dr. Lewis meets a playwright who has had almost enough of the picture business.

He repeats the playwright's complaints to the producer as his own and, as result, is called a genius.

With the next swirl of the Merry-go-round, Dr. Lewis finds that he is allowed to make a picture with his own organization. The picture is inferior, but nevertheless a box office success. Such are the ways of Hollywood in "Once in a Lifetime."

Sam H. Harris has assembled an excellent cast headed by Mr. O'Connell. Others who contribute to the show are Leona Maricle, Marjorie Gatenon, Charles Brown, Mary Murray and Marc Lobell.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds. By Robin Coons. HOLLYWOOD, Calif., July 2.—It seems fitting that the Dominions, Hollywood's new counterpart of the New York stage women's Twelfth Night Club should have a home which on the eve of its acquisition by them was the scene of activities reminiscent of many a movie scenario.

When a little group of women engaged in picture work, including Lucile Geason, now president, decided to form a club the first thought was of a clubhouse.

It had to be conveniently located, roomy, with a little theater room where club "revels" could be presented.

Behind Locked Doors. The ideal one, the women were told, was this large rambling residence, set in a pleasant lawn amid shrubbery and shade trees.

The only drawback, they were informed, was that the place was used as a gambling den.

So the ladies looked elsewhere.

but about this time the police stepped in and staged a raid, and the ladies stepped in, too, next morning, to look it over.

They were ascending the stairway when a gruff male voice from above inquired what they were doing there.

Led by the rental agent escorting them, they all went up to learn what he was doing there.

They did—the owner of the voice and the others arrested in the raid, out on bail now, had returned to sleep it off on the floors of their erstwhile gaming hall.

The agent, opening a door to a side room, shut it again quickly and in anxious tones implored the ladies to wait. There was, he said, a body in there!

Thrills and Chills. They went in, slowly, all a-tremble. There was a body. It awoke (spoiling the scenario), and announced itself as the night watchman.

Well, they took the house, and an ideal place it is, perfect for the purpose as though built to order.

But memories of its past remained in the raid-smashed front door, the dark nailed draperies at the windows, and the numerous caches in walls and floor.

Forman Again Wins Golf Tournament

Joe Forman was champion of the annual Fourth of July golf tournament held at the Ballinger Country Club Friday for the third consecutive year. Going into the finals against Morris Nicholson with a bad start, Forman settled down on the third hole and in a short time had five holes in his win column.

He was awarded the golf trophy given by the Farmers & Merchants State Bank which he must defend for three years before it will become his permanent possession. The trophy is a handsome object, standing about thirty inches high.

E. R. Griffith was the medalist of the meet by making the lowest score in the qualifying rounds. Griffith shot a score of 39 in these rounds, which was not equaled. Forman by reason of being champion last year was not required to qualify. Forman also received the prize for winner of the first flight and Nicholson for the runner-up in the flight.

Arthur Giesecke won the second flight with Neil McAlpine the runner-up. R. W. Earnshaw won the third flight with H. W. Lynn runner-up. Chas. Thorp won the fourth flight with A. McGregor runner-up—this match taking ten holes to decide the winner. In the fifth flight, Harry Lynn was winner, three men playing the final round. Lynn's opponents in this match were Clarence McCarter and R. E. Bruce.

All 40 of the golf players who played in the tournament entered the long driving contest with Morris Nicholson winning first honors. Nicholson zoomed 609 yards in three drives down the fairway. W. A. Nance, Jr. was second, and Dr. J. G. Douglas, third.

The booby prize in the qualifying rounds went to E. M. Lynn who made a score of 62.

At noon Friday all members of the country club, their families and caddies enjoyed a delightful barbecue. Ben Smith began cooking meat the night before and by noon Friday was ready to feed the hungry crowd. All the necessary trimmings were served with the barbecue including a big assortment of drinks. A large number remained at the club house for supper late Friday afternoon following a swim in the lake.

Ladies began a bridge and "42" party Friday morning at 10:00 o'clock which lasted until late Friday afternoon with Mrs. C. L. Baker winning the endurance contest. The event was one of the most successful ever held by the club.

"No, No, Nanette" Scheduled for Palace Tomorrow

"No, No, Nanette" will open at the Palace Theatre tomorrow for a three-day engagement.

First National's screen version—partly in technicolor—of the famous musical comedy is on a vastly larger scale than the stage version. There are 150 girls and men in the chorus, with a large cast of principals headed by Bernice Claire, Alexander Gray, Lucien Littlefield and Louise Fazenda.

"I Want to be Happy" and "Tea for Two," the big song hits of the stage production, are sung by Gray, Miss Claire and the beauty chorus. Other song numbers are "King of the Air," "The Dance of the Wooden Shoes," and "Japanese Ballet." The latter three songs are becoming as widely popular as were the two original hits.

"No, No, Nanette" is the story

HURT TO STAND

"Cardui Seemed to Build Me Up and I Was Rid of Pain," Says Virginia Lady.

Roanoke, Va.—"Some years ago, I was in a very run-down condition," writes Mrs. T. B. Akers, of 533 Nelson Street, S.E., this city.

"I suffered a great deal with pains in my sides and back. Standing on my feet hurt me so much, that I would get very weak and nervous."

"I knew that if I didn't get something to help me, I would have to go to bed and stay there, which is hard to do for a woman who has small children. So I kept dragging about, until one day, when feeling unusually bad and discouraged, I happened to pick up a little book with a Cardui advertisement. I decided to try it."

"Cardui seemed to build me up at once, as I was able to do my work with ease, and was rid of the pain by the time I had taken six bottles."

"I have taken Cardui since then, whenever I feel that I need a tonic, and it always helped me. I recommend it to my friends."

Thousands of other women have written to tell how Cardui had helped them to health.

Cardui is a purely vegetable remedy and contains nothing harmful or injurious. It may be safely taken by a delicate young girl as well as by a feeble old lady. NC-274 of a kindly millionaire who wants to make others "appy—especially young girls. Written by Otto Harbach and Frank Mandel, the musical play has been adapted for the screen by Howard E. Rogers, himself the author of several successful musical shows.

"Hell Harbor" Exciting Film Brilliantly Played

That gay lusty meadep of a Mexican girl, Lupe Velez, came to town again yesterday at the Palace Theatre where she is appearing with Jean Hersholt and John Holland in "Hell Harbor," the United Artists-Inspiration conception of what it is like for a young girl to match her wits with a mercenary father and an avaricious trader.

The story brings one back to those glamorous days when pirates really had cutlasses and black-eyes. It winds its way thrillingly through a series of murders and scimmages and concludes as all stories must conclude—with the vivacious Lupe fast in the arms of her man and the moon shining down upon them. But there is really substance to the tale. It recounts the hardness of a father to his daughter and of his attempt to marry her to his own monetary advantage; and of her refusal to bow to his selfish will.

Acted to the hilt by the cast which includes, besides Miss Velez, Jean Hersholt and John Holland, also Gibson Gowland, Harry Allen, Al St. John, Paul Burns and Geo. Book-Asta, "Hell Harbor" also has the distinction of having been made completely outside studio walls, most of the scenes having been shot in a romantic setting outside Tampa, Fla. ## Jungle to Yield Lost Maya Rites For Oldest Chicago Fair Exhibit

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, July 5.—A Mayan temple will rise on an island of Lake Michigan on Chicago's waterfront in 1933.

The tentative plans are announced by the anthropology section of the National Research Council, as part of the coming Chicago World's Fair.

The Mayans are a vanished people, who built in Yucatan, Mexico, a civilization of fairly high order, the beginnings of which are estimated by some scientists as long as 7,000 years ago. It was over the jungles now obliterating this civilization that Lindbergh demonstrated uses of the airplane for archaeology.

Dr. Franz Blom of Tulane University is in Yucatan collecting data for erection of the relics which are planned as the oldest of all the Americana at the fair. It is proposed to reconstruct the four famous buildings known as the Monjas of Uxmal, said to be the greatest achievement of the American Indian.

Actors will impersonate the Mayans, and their dress and ceremonial dances will be reproduced faithfully from carvings now found in the Yucatan wilderness. Worship of the feathered snake, Kukulcan, will be included.

in a cigarette it's Taste

THROUGH COMPETENCE, the individual rises to positions of responsibility and respect. Through dependability of taste, a cigarette attains ever greater popularity.

INCREASING MILLIONS of Chesterfields are lighted each day because smokers find that in this cigarette good taste is unflinching.

CHESTERFIELDS ARE RICH IN AROMA, flavor and fragrance, which come from the right selection of choice tobaccos, blended and cross-blended to a rare cigarette goodness. They offer the utmost in smoking enjoyment... "TASTE above everything".

We state it as our honest belief that the tobaccos used in Chesterfield cigarettes are of finer quality and hence of better taste than in any other cigarette at the price. LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

SAN ANTONIO SPENDS MUCH FOR ADVERTISING

(By Associated Press)
 SAN ANTONIO, June 28.—Expenditures totaling $157,000 were made during the past winter season in San Antonio's municipal advertising campaign.

AROUND THE WORLD

TOKYO—(AP)—The Dowager Empress Sadako, mother of the reigning sovereign, has moved into a new palace in the Gondawara district. It was built on strictly Japanese lines for the secluded widow of Emperor Taisho. She is 46 years old.

SHANGHAI—(AP)—All Shanghai dealers in foreign manufactured products using Chinese newspapers as advertising media, are taxed upon the space contracted for by a new decree of the Chinese municipality.

FRANKFORT-ON-MAIN—(AP)—"Frankfort-on-Main is full of remarkable sights—Goethe," reads a cancellation stamp which local postal authorities have adopted to advertise the city. The quotation is from the great writer's "Dichtung und Wahrheit."

LENINGRAD—(AP)—The "North Research Institute" this summer has an expedition exploring Severnaya Zemlya, an Arctic island near Franz-Joseph Land which has never been thoroughly examined. The explorers may spend next winter on the island.

VERONA, Italy—(AP)—One of the largest refrigerating plants in Europe has been completed here. It contains 21 miles of piping and has capacity for 400 carloads of fruit.

BAKU, Azerbaijan—(AP)—This port on the southwest coast of the Caspian Sea is now connected with Batum on the Black Sea by an oil pipe line which cost the government $25,000,000. It is operated by thirteen pumping stations.

BERLIN—(AP)—The German Freethinkers' Society on its 25th anniversary claimed more than 32,000 persons joined last year, bringing the roster of the movement to 600,000. It was said that in Berlin alone 6,000 persons severed connections with the churches.

By C. E. Butterfield
 (Associated Press Radio Editor)
 Television has been given what might be considered official recognition by nation-wide broadcasting.

To quote: "Television, it is true, is still largely in the toddling stage but the vast possibilities of sight added to sound in nationwide broadcasting cannot be ignored in planning for the future."

These words were uttered by M. H. Aylesworth, president of the National Broadcasting company in connection with the announcement of plans for the construction of a great entertainment center in New York.

The center which is to include a 60-story building containing 27 broadcasting studios for NBC is to be put up at an estimated cost of $250,000,000. There will be provisions for a variety theater, a sound movie theater, and theaters for musical comedy and drama all equipped for broadcasting.

The managing director is expected to be Samuel L. (Roxy) Rothafel, according to a statement issued for the John D. Rockefeller, Jr. interests and a group headed by the Radio Corporation of America. Financing is to be "by the Rockefeller interests."

From the tenor of Mr. Aylesworth's reference to television, there is an indication that the nation-wide networks hope some day to be able to distribute vision through the country in a manner similar to that now used for sound. Present available data would tend to bear out that statement. Engineers do not hesitate to say that signals generated by a single television camera or transmitter could be fed by wires into a dozen or more radio transmitters scattered throughout the country for rebroadcasting.

However, the television art, if it can be called that, has not advanced very far in studio technique.

It would seem that studios designed for television under the present status of development would have to be considerably altered from time to time to keep step with the changes that are bound to come.

DOG SAVES CHILDREN WHEN GARAGE BURNS

(By Associated Press)
 SAN ANTONIO, July 5.—Three children of R. Rohr of San Antonio today owed their lives to "Teddy," a pup of alley heritage taken in by the children some time ago.

The children, Edith, 13, Charlotte, 11 and Eleanor, 9, were sleeping in the servants' quarters in the back yard of the Rohr home, due to the excessive heat. An adjoining garage caught fire. The flames were spreading to the house where they were sleeping, and Teddy, outside, decided that things were not as they should be.

The dog clawed until he got a screen door open enough to slip into the house and succeeded in arousing the children.

MANY AMERICANS VISIT MEXICO DURING JUNE

(By Associated Press)
 LAREDO, July 5.—Approximately 2,025 American tourists passed through Laredo enroute to points in Mexico during June, according to report by Mrs. J. A. Wilson, in charge of the tourist permit division of the Laredo Chamber of Commerce.

A total of 405 permits for automobiles were issued, and these cars averaged about five persons each.

With the summer rush of tourists to Mexico on, it was expected that a record for the number of tourists to Mexico through Laredo would be established in July and August, as Mexico's improved highways are attracting American tourists to that country, as well as the many attractions that Mexico resorts offer.
