Texas Tax Valuations Show Large Increase

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, July 22.—The comptroller's office today announced an estimated assessed valuation of taxable Texas property upon which the tax rate will be based, at $4,280,498,578 and increase of $136,000,000 over estimated figures of last year and $72,000,000 over actual valuation finally computed.

The increase it is said will probably be insufficient to make a marked difference in the tax rate.

The tax board may meet Thursday and possibly may not fix a rate until after the primary election.

Bogdanov Admits Communist Move

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, July 22.—Peter A. Bogdanov, chairman of the American Trading corporation began his testimony before a congressional committee investigating communist activities in this country without taking the regulation of to tell the truth. "Mention of God in this formula would mean no added compulsion to tell the truth," he said. Later he refused to answer questions until he was threatened for contempt. He then admitted that a communist program had been filed for the replacing of the capitalist governments.

Italian Lives in Castle as Soviet Sues for Million

(By Associated Press)
SAN REMO, Italy, July 22.—Cibrario, son of a Turin leman merchant, is living peacefully in the Devachan Castle here, with a nobleman as a secretary, while the Soviet Government is trying to get from the Italian courts an order for him and the National City Bank of New York to pay $1,000,000.

The Russians claim they deposited this money in the New York bank to Cibrario's order.

The Soviet's case thus far has not met with great success. It lost in the local San Remo court, and in the Court of Appeals at Genoa. Now it is before the Court of Cassation at Rome.

According to the allegations, Russia commissioned Cibrario to go to America and purchase for them American films and rights. They deposited a million dollars in the National City Bank, and told him to use it.

Also according to the Soviet's allegations, Cibrario did use it—but not for the Soviet. He found the New York weather rather cool and returned to the sunny Riviera and San Remo. He carried out his life's dream by buying the gorgeous Devachan castle.

The Court of Appeals at Genoa decided that the Soviet could not touch the National City Bank, but could still proceed against Cibrario. In this connection it is recalled that the Soviet seized branch offices of the National City Bank in Moscow, Petrograd and Vladivostock, confiscated stocks and bonds, imprisoned the staff, and never returned a dollar.

FAMILIES VIE FOR MARK IN COLLEGE ATTENDANCE

(By Associated Press)
STILLWATER, Okla., July 22.—A contest for college attendance record in Oklahoma is a sort of family affair, with two families far in the lead.

A few years ago the J. P. Hoke family of Stillwater, set a mark, when the eighth member was awarded a degree by the Oklahoma A. & M. College. This year Margaret Baldwin of Anadarko, Okla., was graduated from the same school after five of her brothers and sisters already had been given degrees.

With six of the Baldwins graduated, that family is in striking distance of the enrollment mark set up by the eight Hokes.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Wilke of Del Rio are here visiting with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wilke.

Mays Urges Aid in Texas Celebration

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, July 22.—Urgent request that state and civic leaders interest themselves immediately in the proposal to hold a centennial celebration in commemoration of the winning of Texas independence from Mexico are being made by Will H. Mays, former lieutenant governor. Although the centennial would not be held until 1936, Mays is conducting what might be considered a one-man campaign to arouse interest in the celebration. Mays is appearing before luncheon and women's clubs and other civic organizations in the effort to give momentum to the movement. He recently reported that a plan to hold the centennial in the state's capital was slowly but surely gaining headway. He also is sponsoring a publicity campaign on a small scale to educate the citizenry on the needs and value of the centennial.

(By Associated Press)
HURON Ohio, July 22.—William Frederick Martin, 26, Pontiac, Michigan, flying the Cleveland to Pontiac airmail was killed here today when his mailship crashed. Fog, rain and darkness coupled with possible engine trouble is believed as the cause. He had dumped his gasoline but apparently had no time to use his parachute.

Lonnie Coleman and Miss Ireta Cole were married here Monday night shortly after midnight by Justice of the Peace John White. The couple came here Monday afternoon from Gordon, Texas, accompanied by Miss Cole's sister, Mrs. J. A. Baker, and left Tuesday morning for Brady to spend a few days with Mr. Coleman's father.

Naval Treaty Work Waits On Others

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 22.—The London naval treaty today bore the senate approval and awaited ratification of Great Britain and Japan before becoming effective.

The treaty was ratified 58 to 6 yesterday and adjournment sine die followed with senators homeward bound today after nineteen months of almost continuous session.

They will reassemble in December of the regular short session to March 4, 1931.

Directors Hold Important Meet

The directors of the Ballinger Chamber of Commerce met in regular session Tuesday morning with practically all directors present. All committees made reports which showed much activity in the organization during the past two weeks.

Scott H. Mack, chairman of the agriculture committee, gave a report on the visit to Ballinger of C. O. Moser, explaining the plans of the cotton cooperative marketing association as approved by the Federal Farm Board. Following this report the probability of underwriting a branch office in Ballinger was discussed but no action was taken. As explained by Mr. Mack, the only object the chamber of commerce could have in the matter would be to carry out the wishes of the farmers in this county and not to take the lead in the matter. After hearing Mr. Mack the directors voted instructing the secretary to write letters to at least two key men in each community in this county asking them for a survey of the feelings of the farmers in their home sections. An answer will be asked for within the week and as soon as these letters are received the directors will have some impression upon which to base an opinion. The local men are anxious to co-operate with the cotton raisers in any way possible in the matter but only wish to follow and help in the undertaking.

E. M. Lynn, chairman of the entertainment committee, gave a brief report on the reception here of the Ft. Worth business men early this month. A letter was read from them in which Ballinger was praised for the part of entertaining them at their stop here. A report was also heard on the promotion of and the successful trip to Winters.

Paul Trimmer, speaking as a member of the highway committee, talked on the matter of the recent petition from here which has been filed with the highway commission asking for a change in the designation of highway 23 from Ballinger to Talpa. Mr. Trimmer, at the beginning of his remarks, stated that he wished it understood that the route asked for in the petition was acceptable to himself and Commissioner Deen. The state engineer has been so informed by Judge Trimmer and in case the highway commission should see fit to rename the location, it would meet with the approval of the commissioners' court in every way. The proposed route was at one time surveyed by engineers but no costs were made on the route as it is longer and considered more expensive by them.

Other minor discussions were held before the meeting adjourned.

Prisons in Texas Hold 635 Liquor Law Violators

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, July 22.—Prisons of Texas hold more violators of prohibition laws than any other state prisons, according to a recent tabulation to which Governor Dan Moody called attention.

Texas' nearest competitor was Alabama.

The governor interpreted that figure as meaning that prohibition laws can be enforced "and are better enforced in Texas than anywhere else."

Of 5,055 prisoners in Texas, 635 were prohibition offenders.

Alabama had 595 prohibition prisoners. Several states reported none, and New Jersey had one.

Have 6 Months To File Claims

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, July 22.—Answering a large number of queries which following announcement of an opinion by the attorney general in regard to the time limit for refund under the state gas tax law, Comptroller George H. Sheppard has mailed a circular letter to explain the purport of the opinion.

The attorney general held that a claimant for refund has six months, instead of two, in which to use his gasoline and make a claim for refund. Under a previous rule, it had proved difficult for farmers and others to use their supply of gasoline within the two month period necessitated by smaller quantities.

"From the language of the opinion," Sheppard said in the circular, which went to all claimants on the department's books, "I understand it may be retroactive and we will be glad to reopen any claim files that may have been rejected on account of having been filed after two months from the date of purchase."

"On all such claims which have been rejected, however, claimants cannot be refunded the tax unless they reported purchases within the time limit prescribed by law, by not later than 25th of the succeeding month of purchase. The six months limit for filing does not effect the law requiring claimants to first make their monthly report."

A large number of claims have already been reopened, according to the comptroller, and hundreds of queries have been made to the department for its interpretation of the law.

MORE OCEAN SIGHTS

By Mary Graham Bonner John and Peggy and the Little Black Clock were having a wonderful time seeing the creatures who lived under the ocean...

Now they went far up the coast where they watched seals going up to rest on the land where they trained their children.

"They have such sensitive whisker hairs," the Little Black Clock said, "and these help them when they dive."

"Then they are well-known for their blubber which keeps them warm and gives them their own heat in the cold climates."

After this they went to watch a number of members of the walrus family. They were lying down on some rocks and the Little Black Clock told the children that one was always on the watch-out for enemies.

"There are such odd creatures in the ocean," said the Little Black Clock. There are the mollusks, for example, which get enough material from the ocean for their shells so that they don't have to go away from their homes to shop."

"That's lucky for them," Peggy said. "Isn't it? And there are the sucker sharks which swim by the sides of the sharks or attach themselves below so they can get free rides," the Clock added.

They traveled now where they saw the coral creatures building on top of the pretty skeletons left by previous members of the coral family.

"They will keep on building until they reach the top of the ocean, but never above," the Little Black Clock said, "because they can't live out of water. Do you want to see some more of them?"

Both the children said that they did.

SOVIET CLEANING UP ASIATIC PLAGUE SPOT

By Associated Press BOKHARA, Uzbekistan, July 22—This ancient city whose swamps, stagnant pools and polluted water supply made it for centuries one of the plague spots in Asia, is being cleaned up by the Soviet government.

Enormous tanks, elevated on steel skeletons, are replacing the old surface reservoirs where, for a thousand years, the native not only drew their drinking water, but bathed and washed their clothes.

A new drainage system is being installed, which, it is hoped, will make the pernicious disease known as "Bokhara Button" a thing of the past.

Street sprinkling is still done by carriers who squirt water from pig skins. Eventually these relics of the past are also due to disappear.

Water is precious in this arid part of Central Asia. Housewives carry pitchers and jugs to the nearest water station and buy it by the quart or gallon as if it were milk or wine. The price is 10 kopecks a gallon and while this figures roughly as the equivalent to a nickel, coins are none too plentiful and water is a top item in household budgets.

CAPITAL SOCIETY—CUT

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, July 22—With half the women and girls transformed into potential "little Evas" with their locks curling round their shoulders, Washington is witnessing more original coiffures this season than it has seen in years.

The 1930 miss is trying to forsake the "bob." She employs every conceivable style of hair dress to care for the "tag ends" and stray locks.

Some part their hair in the middle from forehead to neck, then twist the ends on each side into little knobs over the ears. Some confine the ends with fancy combs at the nape of the neck.

If the hair is long enough, the fortunate possessors pin it in a simple knot. Impatient souls just rush to the barber and go back to the comfort of the bob once more.

At any evening affair the honors are almost evenly divided between the bobs and the "little Evas." The bobs generally are more simply gowned, while the half-length locks seem to call for trailing necklaces and dangling earrings.

Nowadays, however, we have witnessed how the intelligence quotient of a child may be raised through improved nutrition, the correction of physical defects, and the improvement of health habits.

In many a problem-child, so-called, the source of the difficulty lies in defective vision or impaired hearing or the irritability that so often goes with malnutrition.

Achievement in school work, it has been demonstrated time and time again, depends not only upon inherent intelligence, but upon the physical condition of the child—upon the tonsils and the size of the adenoids for instance.

In a recent study on the effects of the removal of tonsils and adenoids in children suffering from these and kindred conditions, it was found that even in those mentally below normal, intelligence improved as physical handicaps were removed.

"A healthy mind in a healthy body," is an old and hackneyed expression, but despite its bromide character it still is as valid today as it was when first coined. The physical underlies the psychologic, and the two are closely interdependent.

HOW'S your HEALTH

Physical and Psychologic The world of late, to use the common vernacular, has gone "psychologic."

As if to amend for the centuries of neglect and ignorance, psychologic ideas have caught the fancy of the man in the street and terms of the specialty have been incorporated in his every day speech.

In the long run this popular concern with psychology is bound to prove helpful. A certain amount of caution at this time, however, would tend to minimize the hazard involved in the too-ready acceptance of exaggerated ideas.

Even as formerly major emphasis was placed upon the physical condition and little thought given to the psychologic, so today there is a tendency for excessive emphasis upon the psychologic, with little or no thought of the physical. This is particularly true of child health.

It was not so long ago that the intelligence quotient of the child was considered a fixed, qualitative index to the child's intelligence.

Nowadays, however, we have witnessed how the intelligence quotient of a child may be raised through improved nutrition, the correction of physical defects, and the improvement of health habits.

Achievement in school work, it has been demonstrated time and time again, depends not only upon inherent intelligence, but upon the physical condition of the child—upon the tonsils and the size of the adenoids for instance.

Farm Population Drops, But Output Continues to Gain

By Frank Weller
(Associated Press Farm Editor)
WASHINGTON, July 22.—The exodus of workers from the farm to the city will increase rather than diminish in the future, and yet farm production will not suffer as a result.

That is the conclusion drawn by the American Research Foundation after a survey of the shifting agricultural population.

"The drift of population from the farm to the city need cause the United States no concern over agriculture's future," the foundation says, "since fewer farmers are now actually doing more work and producing greater crops."

More widespread adoption of power machinery is given as the reason a shrinking farm population is able to maintain and even increase agricultural production. Between 1870 and 1929 the acreage farmed per worker increased 48 per cent and the production in dollars per man increased 419 per cent.

In colonial times 95 per cent of the economic producing population was farmers, yet they produced scarcely enough to feed and clothe their families. In 1920 the agricultural population was 30 per cent of the total, whereas today it is estimated at less than 24 per cent.

"By 1950 there probably will be 150 million people in the United States," the foundation predicts, "yet they will be fed by fewer farmers than were required to feed the nation's 25,000,000 inhabitants in 1850."

The largest single development contributing to the farmers' augmented production capacity is the increasing use of trucks, petroleum driven tractors and other power machinery.

Only 11,500 trucks were manufactured in 1912. In 1929 approximately 200,000 were made and the number operated on American farms is approaching the 1,000,000 mark.

COLLEGE REPRESENTATIVE IN BALLINGER MONDAY

Lewis T. Nordyke, representative of John Tarleton college of Stephenville, was in Ballinger Monday calling on prospective students.

Ballinger and Runnels county have had a large representation in John Tarleton for the past several years. A number of Tarleton's best athletes and musicians were students from this county.

The two boys who took their Jersey cows to school with them last fall were Talpa residents.

These boys, Earl Berry and D. H. Grounds, paid nearly of their expenses in school by selling milk from the cows. Grounds is continuing the work in the summer session.

John Tarleton, being the largest junior college in Texas, and having a $75,000 student loan fund available to worthy students, is becoming very popular in this section of the state; and according to the representative who was here Monday, several Ballinger students are planning to enter there at the opening of the next regular session, September 18.

Dr. O. R. Lasater has returned from Kansas City where he has been taking postgraduate work for some time.

Acidity

The common cause of digestive difficulties is excess acid. Soda cannot alter this condition, and it burns the stomach. Something that will neutralize the acidity is the sensible thing to take. That is why physicians tell the public to use Phillips Milk of Magnesia.

One spoonful of this delightful preparation can neutralize many times its volume in acid. It acts instantly, relief is quick, and very apparent. All gas is expelled, all sourness is soon gone; the whole system is sweetened. Do try this perfect anti-acid, and remember it is just as good for children, too, and pleasant for them to take.

Any drugstore has the genuine, professional product.

East Texas Farmers Fight Pests With Imported Toads

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, July 22.—The State department of agriculture is watching with great interest a move started in the vicinity of Beaumont, Jefferson county, to rid farms of the boll weevil, cane borer, leaf worm, mole cricket and other insect pests that have taken an enormous toll in the past several years.

Recently a shipment of 89 giant surinam toads arrived from Porto Rico for distribution among farmers of the area. The toads were said to have prevented millions of dollars of damage to Porto Rico crops in the past 10 years. They have enormous appetites, feeding entirely on insects, are about twice the size of the American toad and multiply faster.

The toads first were introduced into Texas last year as an experiment to determine their adaptability to American soils and climate. A dozen of them were kept under observation during the past winter and apparently suffered little from the cold although they were only slightly protected.

The experiments were conducted by J. F. Combs, county agricultural agent. Combs, and others who have studied the actions of the surinams, believe the shipment of 89 will be sufficient to care for the needs of Jefferson county within the next few years, so fast do the toads multiply.

Observers reported to the state department of agriculture that the surinam's appetite apparently is insatiable. Texts disclosed that no less than 83 insects, most of them injurious to crops, form a part of his diet. One toad was seen to snap up 128 flies in about 30 minutes.

The toads are said to be especially fond of cut worms. According to Combs, a single toad would be worth $19.86 a season because of the cut worms he would kill alone.

That the rate of multiplication is extremely rapid is shown from the fact that the production from the spawn of one female a year is from 1,000 to 2,000 baby toads. The danger of over-production of the toads also is slight, it was reported, because the number is regulated by the food supply.

The shipment was taken to the experimental station of the United States department of agriculture at Amelia for observation before being released.

Should the introduction of the toads prove of benefit to Jefferson county farmers, the state department of agriculture plans to sponsor a campaign to introduce the surinam into other sections of the state that are infested with insect pests.

BASEBALL GAME IS CANCELLED TUESDAY

The Boy Scout baseball game between troops 30 and 31 was postponed Tuesday on account of the pageant to be presented Tuesday night by the Methodist church. The game will be played later in the season, according to K. V. Northington, local Scoutmaster. Troop 30 will meet the team from Offen Thursday afternoon in a regular scheduled game and will practice Wednesday afternoon. The game Thursday will be called at 5:00 o'clock and fans will be admitted free.

"Canned Fog" Used For Effect In Garbo Film, "Anna Christie"

One hundred gallons of canned fog were used up in the filming of waterfront scenes for "Anna Christie." Greta Garbo's first talking picture which is playing for its last day at the Palace Theatre.

The synthetic fog was created by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer technicians, using a combination of oil, sprayed into the atmosphere under pressure and mixing it with steam for added realism.

Clarence Brown directed the talking screen version of the famous Eugene O'Neill drama with the supporting cast including Charles Bickford, Marie Dressler and George Marlon.

DEVELOPED FROM MORE THAN 10 THOUSAND OBSERVATIONS DURING THE PIKE'S PEAK TEST, NOW BECOME YOUR GUIDE WHEN BUYING MOTOR OIL

Technical Report and Certificate of Performance . . .
Certified Test No. 2268
Summary of Results

It should be understood that statements made herein are applicable only to tests made under the supervision of the American Automobile Association Contest Board between September 6 and October 5, 1929, over the Pike's Peak Automobile Highway and Colorado Springs and Calhan Road, and the conditions stated, except in so far as the legitimate inferences might be extended.

In consideration of the readings, progress reports, calculations, analyses and general data submitted and accepted by the official representatives of the Contest Board, and in further consideration of the strict compliance of the same with the various regulations, we do certify to the statements made herein.

Free booklet, "Pike's Peak Tests Confirm CONOCO'S Challenge," gives you complete details of these unusual, fact-finding tests. Ask for it at any CONOCO station or the stations of CONOCO dealers.

Between September 6 and October 5, 1929, three popular nationally known brands of motor oil were tested side by side with CONOCO Germ-Processed oil on Pike's Peak under the supervision of the American Automobile Association Contest Board.

The Board's findings have been expressed briefly in the "fourteen points" below.

- 1 That the test procedure was followed accurately and that no deviation therefrom occurred which might seriously affect the soundness of any conclusions based upon the data;
- 2 That a reduction in the rate of wear occurring during the use of CONOCO Germ-Processed Motor Oil over that occurring with the other oils used to the extent of 76.4 per cent was shown during these tests;
- 3 That greater stability of the subject oil during these tests was shown by records of examination of drained oils being nearer the viscosity of the original or fresh oil and by chemical tests of drained oils with the fresh oils;
- 4 That frictional temperatures occurring during the use of the subject oil were lower than temperatures occurring during the use of the comparables;
- 5 That higher compression pressures were obtained with the use of the subject oil during these tests than with the use of other oils. It would be directly inferred that this was caused by better ring seal;
- 6 That using the subject oil and during each test, greater gasoline mileage for economy was obtained than during the use of the comparables;
- 7 That less oil consumption as shown by the records of these tests occurred with the use of the subject oil;
- 8 That carbon deposits collected from the combustion chambers and cylinder heads and weighed by the official chemist were shown by the records of the test to be less after the use of the subject oil than after the use of the comparables;

9 That the subject oil showed a reduction in the case of crank-case dilution during these tests;

10 That during these tests the subject oil showed improved compression pressure, decreased rate of crank-case dilution and decreased gasoline consumption, indicating an improved ring seal;

11 That a reduction in the operating fuel and oil cost occurring during these tests with the use of the subject oil is substantiated by the records;

12 That with the use of the subject oil there occurred less deviation from cycle to cycle in compression pressure at starting speeds (as shown by the records) would indicate that improved compression at higher speeds might have occurred during these tests;

13 That the reduction in the rate of wear occurring during these tests with the use of the subject oil as shown by the records would indicate a longer motor life;

14 That while there is no reason to suppose that results similar to those of this test would not show under other conditions, it is important that references to these findings be accompanied by the statement that, in so far as the report is concerned, they cannot, as conclusions, be extended generally. However, the inference that they might be so is reasonable and rational, although not conclusive.

NEGRO USE GASOLINE CURE; HOME DESTROYED BY BLAZE

(By Associated Press)

DENISON, July 22.—Rheumatism and gasoline may mix well—but when fire enters the scene that is a different tale.

When a negro here recently followed the advice of friends that gasoline when rubbed briskly on an aching rheumatic joint would relieve the pain things began to happen. The gasoline didn't burn his keen joints much but warmed them, up just enough to ease the pain. The sufferer, however, failed to notice he had placed the gasoline near an open flame lamp.

Consequently, when the flame ignited the gasoline, the negro, who lives alone, forgot his rheumatism and fled the house. It was the first time he had done more than just hobble around in many years. Neighbors said he did a foot race classic that would have put even a certain retired heavyweight boxing champion to shame.

The house was destroyed.

Again Konjola Gives Proofs Of Its Worth

Wichita Lady Glad to Praise Medicine that Relieved Neuritis and Stomach Disorders.

MRS. ETHEL RUSSELL

"Konjola well deserves to be known as the master medicine," said Mrs. Ethel Russell, 1320 S. Mead Street, Wichita. "My appetite was very poor, and nearly every meal was followed by severe indigestion pains. Gas formed, crowding around my heart, nearly shutting off my breath. I was constipated, and then there was the misery I suffered from neuritis. These pains struck me like electric shocks, passing from one part of my body to another, and I became very nervous.

"Only a very short treatment of this wonderful medicine, Konjola relieved me of stomach trouble and neuritis, and corrected constipation. I can now eat anything I care to without suffering afterward. Every trace of neuritis has disappeared and my nerves have become much stronger. I have been greatly benefited in every way, and I am glad to endorse this splendid medicine."

Konjola loses no time in getting to work; many are amazed at the quick results, but it is best to take a full treatment of from six to eight bottles for best results.

Konjola is sold in Ballinger, Texas, at the Weeks Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

NO KNOCKS HERE! LAW FORBIDS THEM

(By Associated Press) WAUCHULA, Fla., July 22.—Don't knock Wauchula.

Besides being unsportsmanlike it is also unlawful.

An old ordinance, passed in 1914, which prohibits knocking the city, was recently brought to light. The law provides a penalty of 60 days in jail, a fine of $100, or both upon the conviction of any person or persons "who shall run down, knock, slander or purposely speak or act in a manner detrimental to the welfare or progress of the City of Wauchula."

Wauchula is the home town of Gov. Doyle E. Carlton.

All Parts Of Old Cars Reclaimed

Antiquated machines from "graveyards" of cars (inset) now are dismantled of parts that may be reclaimed (below) before being flattened out by 22-ton press (above) for the furnace.

(By Associated Press) DETROIT, July 22.—Virtually every part of an aged automobile is salvaged in one way or another by modern methods.

After five months of experimental work, the practicability of reclaiming materials from old cars has been determined by the Ford Motor Company.

More than 18,000 antiquated cars of 60 different makes were purchased from dealers and put through the dismantling process before it was announced that the plan was successful.

A force of 120 men dismantles these discarded automobiles, salvaging many parts on their entireties, converting others into useful articles, and sending the remainder through the smelters to reclaim the steel and convert it again into an up-to-date motor-car.

"Derelict" autos are bought from dealers at a fixed price of $20 a car, regardless of make, age or condition. The cars are brought to the company plant on trailers, or are towed there by other cars whose capacity for locomotion has not yet been spent. Thus far salvaging has been confined to the Detroit area.

At present three conveyors are used in dismantling operations. One is used for Ford cars and one for those of other makes. The third carries scrap to open hearth furnaces, and salvaged material such as batteries, tires, and floor boards goes to waiting trucks.

Everything on the derelict car is salvaged, and even grease is saved. Hubcaps are reclaimed for aluminum; ignition wire for copper; oil cups for brass, bushings for bronze and other bearings for babbit.

Many of the tools originally used to make some of the cars now are used to tear them down. Just before the skeleton of what once was an automobile reaches the furnace a 22-ton press flattens it out and its journey is done.

Scanning New Books

By Richard Massock

NEW YORK—Samples of the new cut-price fiction, loudly announced by a band of generous publishers, are now available to give thrifty readers an inkling of the dollars power at the book counters.

Already there has appeared a new novel by the prolific Utopian, H. G. Wells—"The Autocracy of Mr. Parham," an ironic and satirical story of civilization, statecraft and the next war.

Then too, there is the latest foolery of England's P. G. Wodehouse, "Very Good Jeeves," in which the celebrated valet of Bertram Wooster, the young man bothered by his aunts, continues to be an indispensable aid to his master.

Norwegian Youth

Now comes the first of a series from another house intended to introduce new novelists at a low cost to the public. It is "Sinners in Summertime," by Sigurd Hoel, who is reported to be well and widely known in his native Norway.

"Sinners in Summertime" is a foreign version of the new generation story, which must, according to the usual pattern, be clever and witty when it is not merely of the flaming type.

Hoel, however, has not forced himself to write very wittily, or cleverly. It's true, the characters do talk a lot, mostly about avoiding self-deception.

They are four young men and four young women combining a holiday with work on a Norwegian fjord. They begin with the intention of letting no sentimental nonsense mar their association.

The men, however, soon find one of them fighting for what may be called his honor. As a result of the girl's importunate behavior and the disturbing effect of romance, jealousies, dramatics and kindred complications develop. The would-be realists, after all, find themselves perpetrating the same follies they derided.

Young Love

Slightly in the Wodehouse manner is "Father Means Well," the first novel of Hugh McNair Kahler, the short story writer.

Kahler has written a farcical story about the new generation and about a father is the big load of a one-load town.

He is determined to marry his daughter to one of the bright young go-getters of his adding machine factory and is particularly opposed to such young men as Gilbert Dolliver. Gillie is the easy-going son of a fond widow, who has tried six religions and finally has become to regard her boy as a new Buddha. This is very distasteful to Gillie, who wants only to learn to play a bassoon he won in a crap game.

Largely because her father objects to him, Gillie becomes involved in a romance with the magnate's modern young daughter, which has its hilarious moments.

Light fiction though it is, the humorous tale may contain more truth about the new generation than is apparent on the surface.

DRIVING HAZARDS STRESSED BY JUDGE IN TRAFFIC SCHOOL

(By Associated Press)

MINNEAPOLIS, July 22.—A traffic school where graduation doesn't mean diplomas but where attendance and punctuality are nearly perfect is operated here and has 1,700 "alumni."

It is directed by Judge Levi M. Hall, who believes that education rather than jail sentences and fines will improve driving and encourage more caution, and reduce the accident rate.

Instead of sending first and minor offenders to routine punishment, he suspends sentences and then "re-sentences" them to the school.

There they are instructed in traffic laws, accident hazards, first aid, and are retaught how to operate a motor vehicle. Those who "play hooky" find their original sentences levied. A class of 551 was graduated recently.

IN NEW YORK THEATERS

By Mark Barron

NEW YORK, July 22.—Exasperated by inactivity of theatrical managers, a group of vacillating actors have produced their own show to do their share towards relieving the unemployment situation.

The result is an often witty, often dull revue called "Who Cares?"

As it is performed by a cast of the most faithful members of the Lambs club, its sketches and scenes are largely lifted from previous editions of the Lamb's "Gambols." This is an annual amateur show produced by an assembly of Broadway stars, usually presided over by Mayor Walker.

Whether the ambitious ones have relieved the unemployment situation for long is a moot question, for "Who Cares?" gets by with some dull, creaky movements which should not be seen in a show bearing the Lamb's emblem. Offsetting these tiresome moments are several very happy ones.

The Better Side

One of its more delightful scenes is a burlesque of Harriet Hooter's hurdle ballet in the late "Simple Simon." Instead of Miss Hooter and the glorified girls, an ensemble of young men imitate the ballet with a fine scene of rude satire.

In addition, the revue turns its brick tossing in other directions.

There is the ubiquitous sketch which attempts to show that discourteous box office men are the reason that the theatre is going to pieces. There is another scene which teases Chicago inhabitants for their too nervous trigger fingers. And there is a blackout which would kid Lysistrata and her Hellenic ladies-in-arms.

Florenz Ames, an apt performer on more experienced stages, leads the cast which also introduces excellent mimics in Grant Mills, Percy Helton and William Holbrook. Then one must have overlooked charming and talented ladies as Olive May, Mary Ridgely and Sibylla Boman, especially the latter.

Inspired Moments

The songs have been turned out by Harry Clarke and Percy Wenrich. The two most tuneful bits are "Believe It Or Not" and "Who Cares?" Mr. Wenrich's music is something to hear several times and will undoubtedly remain with us long after the show is gone.

"Who Cares?" has its inspired moments and it is an ambitious idea that doesn't deserve full censure.

Certainly, it is as well done as many revues presented by professional managers, and this one has the added noble ideal of relieving unemployment.

TO THE VOTERS OF PRECINCT NUMBER 1

I take this method of extending to my many friends and the entire citizenship of Precinct No. 1 greetings and earnestly ask that they give me their consideration on next Saturday when they go to the polls to vote. I am seeking to be the next Justice of the Peace of precinct No. 1 and during the last four months have made a campaign that has taken me to most of the voters.

To the ladies I wish to say I have not made a house to house canvass because I believe that when a lady is busy with home duties, she had rather be left alone and not stopped to hear some candidate make an appeal for her vote.

I feel that I am thoroughly qualified to hold this office and my past life is known by almost every citizen of this county. I have made this my home since the early days and expect to as long as I live. It is my first time to ask for a public office and if elected I promise you the best I can put forth to look after its duties and be fair to all who come into my court. I have served my country in the Spanish-American war and also in the World war.

I will be very grateful to you if I am remembered when you cast your ballot next Saturday.

CITY WATER METERS SHOW MUCH IRRIGATION

City employees are finishing the meter readings for the water department and report them to be the highest since August, 1929. The last 30 days have been extremely dry here and all property owners have done more or less irrigation.

Water bills will run high this month but most people realize that they have used much water. All readings have been turned into the city office and statemnets are being made and will be mailed on the last day of the month.

The recipe is in the original for the construction of a new Catholic church here.

COATED TONGUE

Often Sign of Biliouss That Indicates the Need of Black-Draught.

Austin, Texas.—"In the sixteen years of my own housekeeping, Theford's Black-Draught has been my best stand-by in the way of medicine," says Mrs. J. M. Rich, of 1700 Holly Street, this city.

"I have found Black-Draught to be the best medicine I have ever used for the relief of colds. I have been using it in my home for years. My father used it also in his home and gave it to us children. Whenever we had the usual children's complaints, mother would make up a tea of Black-Draught and give us. We always felt better after taking it."

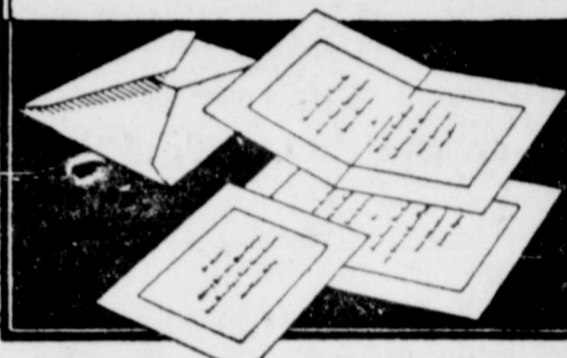

"I also give it to my children when they have colds or upset stomachs. Sometimes they get feverish from biliouss. If they begin to get yellow, or their tongues are coated, I make a tea of Black-Draught and give to them in small doses. They don't mind taking it at all."

In thousands of families, Theford's Black-Draught has a corner all its own on the medicine shelf. In use nearly 100 years.

Theford's Black-Draught is a purely vegetable medicine, free from harmful mineral drugs. Costs only 1 cent a dose. NC-231
