Four States Naming Men for Fall Election

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Four states today were nominating candidates for the fall elections.

Governor Milton K. Young, of California, is on both Republican and Democratic ballots for re-nomination, which California law permits. He was unopposed on the Democratic ticket but had four Republican opponents. Upton Sinclair, noted author, is seeking the Socialist gubernatorial nomination.

All California congressmen are seeking reelection.

South Carolina's stormy senator, Cole W. Bleasie is opposed for the Democratic renomination by Leon Harris, a lawyer, and former Congressman James E. Byrnes.

There are eight aspirants for the gubernatorial nomination in South Carolina.

Both Republicans and Democrats were holding conventions in Idaho. Prohibition is the chief issue between the Democrats, many of the delegates seeking a strong anti-prohibition plank.

Senator Pat Harrison and seven of Mississippi's eight congressmen are unopposed for renomination.

Congressman Ross Collins is opposed for his seat, the opponent claiming that Collins failed to electioneer for Al Smith in the last presidential campaign.

Eighteen Ready At First Workout

Eighteen men reported to Coach Felton Wright at Fair Park Monday afternoon for the first football work-out of the season. Training will continue every afternoon this week for men desiring to try for the team. Additional recruits are expected to report one week later, when the 1930-31 school term opens. Equipment was issued Monday afternoon and light training given the candidates.

Coach Wright did not express himself following the practice as to the possibilities he saw in the raw material. Most of last year's veterans will be out later, however quite a number from the championship squad took part in the first training period. Flynt, Robinson, Reese, Middleton, Brown, Dodson, Reneau and Batts are all shining prospects. Many of these men, who made their letters last year, are tried and true. Dodson, a big husky, is coming here from Winters high. He lettered at tackle with the Blizzards last year and will add fiber to the Bearcat line.

Jack Lynn, freshman, with football experience in the junior high school, looks good at center. Jack can pass a ball perfectly, any style, and has plenty of weight and strength to make a hustling center this season. Jacobs and Sarley, two new men, were tried on passing and kicking and made good impressions.

All rookies reporting Monday have had no experience in the backfield and the coaching staff is confronted with the task of developing this section in its entirety this season. There is little to be done about the line. Enough veterans have returned and big husky recruits at hand assure a front wall that will withstand keen competition, but the backfield problem will cause the coaches some sleepless nights, unless new material shows up at the opening day of school.

A few members of last year's machine who completed school courses in the spring reported for a little workout and their presence looked good to fans who expressed the wish that they could be used again this season. Most of these boys will report to colleges within the next two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Self have arrived in Ballinger and are getting located prior to the opening of the Ballinger schools. Mr. Self will be principal of the central elementary building and Mrs. Self will teach the fourth grade at West ward.

F. E. Smith, Timken, Kans. truck driver, escaped possible death when a bridge fell into a stream as he started to cross it.

Ousted President Ordered to Return

(By Associated Press)
LIMA, Peru, Aug. 26.—General Maria Ponce, heading the military junta which seized the government today, ordered former President Augusto B. Leguia, who is fleeing the country, to be returned here to face punishment for his "misdeeds."

Lima remained under martial law following street fighting yesterday in which several killed.

T. J. McCaughan, of Norton, was here Monday afternoon attending a meeting of the executive committee of the Runnels County Fair Association.

Run-off Ballots to Be Checked Monday

A meeting of the Runnels county Democratic executive committee has been called to convene in Ballinger Saturday morning at 10 o'clock for the purpose of counting the ballots and certifying the Runnels county vote to the state Democratic committee. All members of the county body have been notified to be present and voting boxes and tally sheets will be brought here for checking. No convention will be held following the executive committee sessions. Delegates to the state convention already have been elected at the convention following the first primary. These delegates will go to the state convention which opens in Galveston on the morning of September 1st. A number of the Runnels county delegates have signified intentions of attending this convention and will leave here on Saturday or Sunday of this week.

There are no very close races to be checked by the executive committee with the exception of that for governor. The unofficial count in the gubernatorial run-off showed Sterling leading by 18 votes. A close inspection will be made of all tally sheets to see if errors were made.

This meeting will conclude the year's business for the Democratic executive committee. The general election will be handled by other means.

Republicans held no second primary in Runnels county and no convention will be held by them Monday.

May Establish Claims Court

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Aug. 26.—Work toward preparing a bill to establish a court of claims has been started by Representative Dewey Young of Wellington. The court would consist of three or five members whose duty would be to pass on all claims for damages and reimbursements made on the state. Young said that a committee of the house and senate now was charged with the duty of passing on these claims and that it was a physical impossibility for the members of the committee to give the proper time and consideration to determining the merits of each claim. The committee would have to be in session continuously during the regular legislative period to come near to completion of the task, Young said, and many of them were unwilling to be away from the floor of their respective houses while legislation was being enacted.

The court of claims, according to Young's plan, would sit in Austin continuously and would pass on the claims as they were filed. All investigations would be centered in this body. The court, however, could not make any awards and their duty simply would be to pass on the claims and make recommendations to the legislature. A specific article of the constitution makes it the duty of the legislature to finally approve all claims since the money to pay them must be appropriated.

Lon Chaney, Noted Film Actor, Dies

(By Associated Press)
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—Lon Chaney, 47, screenland's "man of a thousand faces," died here today of a hemorrhage of the lungs after he had been reported to be recovering from anaemia and bronchial congestion.

Chaney entered a hospital August 15th, receiving three blood transfusions, and was believed to have passed the crisis yesterday. The hemorrhage struck with unexpected suddenness, death following within thirty minutes.

His wife, a constant attendant throughout the star's illness, and their son, Creighton, were at his bedside when the end came.

Father Arrested For Girl's Death

SAN ANGELO, Aug. 26.—Ermilio Ortiz, middle-aged father of Maria Ortiz 15-year old girl whose body was found near Paint Rock the afternoon of Sunday, August 17, was arrested in Presidio Sunday as he sought entry into Mexico.

Sheriff W. E. Warren of Concho left Paint Rock late Sunday night en route to Presidio to get Ortiz on a warrant charging murder.

Ortiz had been sought by officers after he had failed to appear at an inquest held shortly after the body was found on the W. R. Haynes ranch nine miles from Paint Rock. He disappeared from sight for a week. He and his daughter had been camped only 75 yards from where the body was found.

The girl's throat had been slit from ear to ear. A butcher knife and a man's shirt bearing bloodstains were found in the camp nearby.

The 15-year-old girl had been married. Her husband and his family lived near Albany, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Curmutte, Jr., of Snyder, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Wood of this city.

No Conflict Now in Dove Hunting Law

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Aug. 26.—Texas nimrods will enter the fall hunting season with one of their most perplexing problems solved. The problem arose due to a conflict between the state and federal laws regulating the killing of mourning doves. The last session of the legislature, however, harmonized the two statutes and divided the state into north and south zones.

Open season in the north zone is in September and October and in the south zone in October and November.

The line dividing the north from the south zone starts on a line of the Rio Grande directly west of Del Rio, east to Del Rio, and then east along the Southern Pacific to San Antonio. From San Antonio the line follows the I & G N. railroad to Austin and then follows the H & T C. railroad to the Brazos River, and then runs in a general northerly direction to where the Beaumont branch of the Santa Fe crosses the stream. It then follows the G. C. & S. F. railroad tracks to Navasota, Montgomery and Conroe to near Cleveland where it follows the H. E. & W. T. railroad to the Louisiana line.

Numerous inquiries asking the state game, fish and oyster commission to clarify the limits of the north and south zones have been received during the past several days.

Rev. and Mrs. T. E. Bowman returned to Ballinger Tuesday at noon from Temple where Rev. Bowman was operated upon two weeks ago. He is greatly improved in physical condition and will soon be able to resume his duties with the First Methodist Church.

Miss Margaret Kirk, of Dallas, is visiting her mother, Mrs. R. P. Kirk. Another daughter, Miss Louise Kirk, will arrive Wednesday to spend a short time with her mother. Miss Louise has a position in Austin.

AUSTIN, Aug. 26.—Governor Moody today telegraphed governors of cotton producing states urging that they join in a "buy-a-bale" movement, similar to that inaugurated in 1914.

The Texas executive appealed to the nation to buy cotton at fifteen cents a pound, taking off the market "distressed" cotton or that which is not under cooperative contract where the owners are actually needy.

Moody explained that "if they join me and the people respond as they should, we ought to take 5,000,000 bales off the market and raise the price."

SUNDOWN STORIES

AIR SWINGING

By Mary Graham Bonner The Little Black Clock had certainly turned the time forward. The children could almost always tell when he had even before he said anything.

There were always so many planes about and the world had such a high-up look. Buildings were so much taller, and so much took place in the air.

He led them to a field and there were a number of planes flying about which did not seem unusual. But attached to these planes were swings and from the swings children were swinging.

"The children of these times," said the Little Black Clock, "like to swing from planes instead of from trees. In fact tree swings would seem old-fashioned to them."

"How brave they are to swing from the planes," said Peggy. "Oh no, they're quite safe," said the Little Black Clock, "and they are not very high up. Of course they're higher than you would be in a tree swing, but the swings are very strong and safe, and you see what nice little enclosed seats they have in the swings."

That was quite true as the children noticed. The swings had enclosed seats so no one could fall out and they swung about as the planes flew.

"Now you can both have a swing," said the Little Black Clock. "Here comes our plane."

At first John was not quite sure that he would like that kind of swinging, and Peggy was almost sure she would not like it at all, but the pilot of the plane looked as though he knew so much, and the Little Black Clock never let harm come to them.

So they swung about and had the most exciting swinging time. When they came down again they told the Little Black Clock how thrilling it had been.

"It was great!" John exclaimed. The Clock was so much pleased that they had both enjoyed their adventure.

TRAVELING TOUR ENDS

(By Associated Press) COLLEGE STATION, Aug. 26.—Success of the recent "traveling" course offered by A. & M. College under the name of "A Practical Study of the Relation of Industry to Industrial Education" has led to the formulation of plans to make the tour an annual affair...

The tour was made through eleven states, Arkansas, Tennessee, Kentucky, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma.

According to Prof. Williams, the name of the course gives a complete idea of the purpose of the tour and what was accomplished. First hand information pertaining to the industrial processes being used in the large industries of the country was gained from actual inspection of the industrial plants under supervision of men qualified to instruct, he said.

When a Man 'Phones a Dog -- That's News!

Frederick Burton, movie actor (left) regu larly telephones from Hollywood to talk to his dog, Boysie (right), in Norwalk, Conn., much to Boysie's delight.

By Robbin Coons (Associated Press Staff Writer) HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Aug. 26.—

When a man telephones his dog—that's news, too.

Especially when the man is a movie actor in Hollywood and the dog is back home in Norwalk, Conn., a continent's width away.

Frederick Burton, who came from the Broadway stage to play in a Hollywood talkie, got in the habit of phoning Boysie, his two-year-old Irish terrier, from the Lambs' Club in New York.

When he came west he couldn't resist the urge to have more "barkle" conversations, although the high tolls prohibited as frequent calls as before. Mr. Burton and his wife, who remained in Norwalk during his sojourn here, adopted Boysie, a founding, just before they moved from a New York apartment to "the country" in Connecticut.

Boysie, says Burton, is not a real Irish terrier—"but he thinks he is."

With Mrs. Burton as Boysie's assistant in telephoning back home, Burton and his pet have had many a pleasant chat. The dog, after the first few calls, soon began running to the telephone whenever it rang, thinking the call was for him. Their conversation, says Burton, usually runs like this: "Hello, Boysie!" "Woof-woof!" "Been getting your rations all right, boy?" "Woof-woof!" "And how's Otache?" "Gr-r-r!"

Otache, Burton explains, is the terror of Boysie's existence—a big police dog in the neighborhood.

After much more such small talk, Mrs. Burton takes the phone again. And Burton, a tall, genial fellow, admits he probably gets more fun out of it than Boysie does.

Benny Rubin Not Too Serious in Inventing Comedy

Undoubtedly there are two sides to every question, but so far as Benny Rubin is concerned, that old saw about the seriousness of a comedian's work is badly overdone.

Benny is a comedian—never has been anything else—has never wanted to be anything but a funny fellow, and he declares that it is perfectly true that he goes home at the end of the day's work of being funny and thinks about gags, situations and dialogue.

"So does any comedian who has his heart in his work," Benny declares. "On the set, also, we occasionally have our moments when everyone is deadly serious for a few minutes trying to solve a knotty problem involving the clash of logic vs. laughs."

"But," says Rubin, "if we were serious all day long and never clowned there wouldn't be a good laugh in the picture. Clowning, kidding each other and feeling happy is the natural procedure for making funny pictures."

Benny Rubin is a baseball player in the Tiffany baseball operetta, "Hot Curves," which begins a two-day run at the Palace Theatre tomorrow. He is assisted by Rex Lease, Alice Day, Pert Kelton, Paul Hurst, Mary Carr and some others of nearly equal fame. It is RCA Photo-phone recorded.

SICK HEADACHES

Disagreeable Feeling All Went Away Following Use of Black-Draught.

Paducah, Ky.—"For a long time I suffered with severe sick headaches that would unfit me for my work for two or three days at a time," says Mrs. C. H. Hall, of 222 Tennessee Street, this city.

"I would have these headaches if I let myself get constipated. I would also feel very dull and stupid and have a very bad taste in my mouth."

"After I heard of Theford's Black-Draught and began taking it, all this bad feeling would disappear and I would not have the headache, so that now I just keep a box of Black-Draught on hand, and when I feel the least bit bad I take a dose and it relieves me at once. I am glad to recommend Black-Draught, in fact I have done so many times, to friends and neighbors."

Theford's Black-Draught is a purely vegetable cathartic or laxative medicine, composed of selected medicinal herbs and roots. Black-Draught is finely powdered, which enables the juices of the stomach to extract its medicinal properties in an easy, natural way.

talking vehicle, for the Ursula Parrott story of a woman who attempts to show her husband that there is a double standard for women as well as men, contains far more meat than does the average film plot.

The general atmosphere of "The Divorcee" is in the vein of Miss Shearer's past success, "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney," with this difference, that the latter vehicle was done in the manner of a farce, while the new film is powerful in its emotional significance.

"The Divorcee," with a plot which might easily have verged onto the melodramatic, is handled with the utmost care by both Robert Z. Leonard in direction, and Miss Shearer and her supporting cast in portrayal of the vivid roles. The entire cast is uniformly excellent, including: Chester Morris, Conrad Nagel, Helen Johnson, Robert Montgomery, and Florence Eldridge, Helene Millard, Robert Elliott, Mary Moran, Tyler Brooke, Zaida Sears and George Irving in minor roles.

M-G-M apparently left no stone unturned in an effort to give the production an adequate background, the environment of New York's millionaire society being brilliantly achieved in both costuming and scenic effects. Scenes of special merit include a beautiful yachting sequence and modernistic interiors in a Parisian cafe.

In "The Divorcee," which closes tonight at the Palace, Miss Shearer has made no mistake in going back to her sophisticated characterizations for which her calm assurance, immaculate beauty and mature acting have preeminently fitted her.

"SAY ANN
HERE'S THAT OIL I WANT
YOU TO START USING!"

CONOCO
GERM
PARAFFIN BASE
MOTOR OIL

Women who know the fine points of mayonnaise, facial creams, and mechanical refrigerators, are not apt to overlook such a radical improvement in motor oils as Conoco Germ-Processed... The family car is a big item in every woman's budget, and an oil that lessened motor wear 76% over other oils, used in the Pike's Peak Tests, protects the investment and cuts down operating costs. Racing motors at Indianapolis and Altoona at speeds of from 92 to 120 miles per hour demonstrated stamina and heat resistance of Conoco Germ-Processed oil—something to remember during summer months.

Some say it is idle to discuss technical things with you women. Yet all of you know how a good cold cream penetrates the skin, and seeks the very bottom of the pores.

Well, that is what we mean by the unique metal-penetrating quality of Germ-Processed oil. This splendid motor lubricant penetrates the very "pores" of the metal, and stays there!

So really, with the other products you buy, you women are better equipped to realize the urgent reasons for changing to Germ-Processed oil, than are the males who will probably read this too.

Now that you know the story, when may we expect you... at the Sign of the Conoco Red Triangle?

Following the Pike's Peak Tests, where Conoco Germ-Processed Motor Oil was tested side by side with three other popular, nationally known oils, the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association issued Certificate of Performance number 2268, comprising 14 points, of which the point below is one.

POINT NO. 7

"That less oil consumption as shown by the records of these tests occurred with the use of the subject oil."

BUILDING PERMITS OVER STATE AT STANDSTILL

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Aug. 26.—Building in Texas in July continued on the same low level at which it had stood for the past few months, according to statistics compiled by the bureau of business research of the University of Texas. Not only were building permits in the 35 cities reporting to the bureau considerably below those of last year but construction undertaken in July was less than in June and in July 1929.

The volume of building permits reported for July was the smallest for that month in the past five years.

Total permits in the 35 cities for the month were $5,922,000, a slight increase over the amount in June but a decrease of 25 per cent from the volume of July last year, when $7,870,000 was reported. With the exception of Amarillo, Brownsville, Corsicana, Dallas, Denison, Houston and Port Arthur, all the cities in the state showed a material loss from last year, the report said.

Construction undertaken during July was valued at $14,004,000, as compared with $28,692,000 in the preceding month and $27,460,000 in July last year.

YOUR CHEAPEST NECESSITY...

YOUR fire insurance dollar pays for indemnity—for immunity against financial loss when calamity overtakes you. But that dollar buys so much more than the indemnity it pays for that it ranks as one of the most effective dollars you spend.

Fire insurance, from the indemnity standpoint alone, is one of the cheapest of present-day necessities. Its cost has consistently declined for many years—even during the period of war inflation.

And this in spite of the fact that insurance service—as rendered by the more than 250 Stock companies constituting the National Board of Fire Underwriters—has multiplied its activities for the public welfare and greatly enlarged their scope.

Research and Engineering

Your fire insurance dollar may pay for indemnity only, but for good measure provides engineering and research services to make life and property safer—laboratories in which to test materials and devices—scientific measurement of fire hazards—building construction codes—arson detection and investigation—organized fire prevention—and other voluntary measures designed to lower the fire waste and thereby reduce the cost of fire insurance.

STOCK FIRE INSURANCE

A thorough understanding of what Stock Fire Insurance really means and does—and greater public use of its facilities—will result in a still further reduction of the fire waste and a consequently greater service to the insuring public.

EGYPTIAN PYRAMIDS OWE DEBT TO ONIONS

(By Associated Press)
CARIO, Egypt, Aug. 26.—After a fashion, onions built the pyramids.

It was his appetizing dish of onions at the end of each day's labor that solaced the weary slave as he placed block on block of stone.

Moses, leading the Israelites out of bondage, reported that they constantly longed for this delicacy left behind in Egypt.

TERRACING PROVES WORTH IN McCULLOCH COUNTY

(By Associated Press)
BRADY, Aug. 26.—In spite of the dry conditions terraced land in the Brady territory has yielded a good maize crop this year, according to County Agent J. D. Prewitt.

A 38-acre terraced maize field belonging to Leon Browning of the Pear Valley community topped the maize yields in this territory with an average of 2,150 pounds, or an average of 43 bushels per acre of threshed maize. This tract of land had been terraced two years ago.

While the county-wide average of sorghum grain crop was shorter than last year, McCulloch county has nevertheless harvested a greater amount of feed since more acreage had been put into feed crops, the agent said.
