Seven Arrests Made in County Over Week-end

Peace officers did a rushing business in Ballinger and nearby towns over the week-end with the result that seven arrests were made according to a report by the sheriff's department Monday. Sheriff R. E. McWilliams and Chief of Police Lee Moreland arrested J. L. Reed at the request of San Angelo officers and he is being held in the Runnels county jail here.

J. T. Brown was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Byers at Winters on a charge of aggravated assault. Jimmy Slade was arrested by a deputy at Miles for investigation and he was still under arrest Monday morning.

Deputy Carl Henson arrested Archie Reese on a charge of drunkenness Sunday.

Henson also arrested B. U. McQueen and B. A. Halfmann Sunday afternoon and filed charges against them for transportation of liquor. Mr. and Mrs. Henson and Mr. and Mrs. John DeBusk were driving on the highway near Rowena Sunday evening about 8:00 o'clock when they met an automobile coming in the opposite direction. The car was speeding, the officer said, and crowded his machine from the pavement and into the ditch at the side of the road. Henson turned his car around and overtook the speeding machine, forcing it to a standstill. He declared both men were drinking and that a ten-gallon keg was found in the rear of the car. He arrested the men and brought them to the county jail here. A search of the car revealed another ten-gallon keg of liquor in the rear seat, it was stated.

Halfmann made a confession, entered a plea of guilty to transportation of liquor and reckless driving, but McQueen had refused to make a statement Monday. Sheriff McWilliams said.

Deputy Henson also arrested a Mexican on charges of disturbing the peace and possession of intoxicants.

McWilliams Back From Convention

Sheriff and Mrs. R. E. McWilliams and Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Dickey returned Saturday night from El Paso, where they had been to attend the State Sheriffs' Association convention which was held on September 3, 4, and 5. Sheriff McWilliams served the organization as president for the past year and was in charge of the business sessions at El Paso.

Both gentlemen report an excellent convention with more than 200 peace officers attending. All business sessions were filled with good addresses and other entertainment was praised highly by both Ballinger representatives.

Mr. Dickey addressed the association on the search and seizure law and the convention voted for a modification of the act by the state legislature.

Among other items on the entertainment program was a supper served in Juarez, Mexico, which was attended by all delegates.

At the close of the meeting Houston was selected as the convention city for 1931.

Reporter Hits Gov. Long On the Nose

(By Associated Press)
NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 8.—William G. Wiegand, reporter for the New Orleans Item, struck Governor Huey P. Long on the nose today after Wiegand alleged the governor called him a profane name.

The reporter went to the governor's quarters ahead of federal officers and was grabbed by the governor's bodyguards. The alleged name calling followed. Wiegand hit Long's nose, Long hit the reporter twice. Both later apologized.

Coleman to Stage Fair; Sweetwater's Postponed

Meetings were held in Sweetwater and Coleman this past week-end to decide the fate of fairs billed in those two cities this fall. Directors of the Mid-West Exposition at Sweetwater decided to postpone their annual show until next year. The association had gone to some expense in an advertising way but felt it was best to lose that rather than take chances of a bigger financial loss. The directors pointed out that conditions were not such as to have a fair in keeping with former years. Displays would necessarily have to be under par due to short and stunted crops and livestock as a whole is in no show condition.

At Coleman the directors decided to go ahead this year but to cut down on entertainment and all other expenses as much as possible. The Coleman situation was different in many respects. That city is preparing to stage its second annual show and the officials and leaders felt that to call off the second attempt would be taking chances of injuring the organization to such an extent that it would be hard to overcome. Many items were eliminated, however, to save expenses and every effort will be made to enlist the loyal support of all exhibitors and workers to stage a good fair at a minimum cost.

In Ballinger and Runnels county many motorists have fair banners advertising dates here on their cars. They are asked to please remove these banners so that people will not be confused into thinking the fair will be held here this fall. Banners were bought early in the summer so that autoists might have them all other expenses as much as possible. The Coleman situation

11 New Cars are Sold in August

Automobile registrations for the month of August dropped to eleven new cars in the county. This information was furnished in a report given out by County Tax Collector W. L. Brown compiled in his office after the close of the month.

This is the lowest monthly registration reported in many years and shows no activity by any particular firm in this county. Two new trucks also were reported during the month which makes 13 new motor vehicles sold in this county.

The following Fords were sold and registered during August: Harwell Motor Co., 4; Rowena Motor Co., 1; and Nance-Brown Motor Co., 1.

Chevrolets sold were: Healer Chevrolet Co., 2; C. & C. Motor Co., 2; F. F. Ligon, local Buick sales agent, reported the sale of one car, Harwell Motor Co., sold one truck and the C. & C. Motor Co., one.

All dealers have been pushing second-hand car business and a number of sales have been made during the past month in used car departments. These sales are not included in the registrations, only new machines being reported. Most used cars have license numbers bought for the year and a transfer is made when a sale is reported.

City Departments Have Busy Week

All departments of the city of Ballinger filed good reports for last week. The various reports were unified by City Secretary K. V. Northington and placed before the mayor and commissioners. Municipal employees are preparing to move to the new city hall and unless something unforeseen occurs to prevent they will move the latter part of this month.

Carpenters and painters are finishing the interior and soon will be ready to turn the building over to the city. Workmen are setting tile on the roof and clean up work around the premises has started.

At the water reservoir workmen are laying stone in the masonry spillway, stripping and quarrying rock for the spillway, and clearing out the flooded area. Work on the distributing system continued last week, much being accomplished. The new elevated tank was tied onto the new system and tests were made. The tank is being painted inside and the top will be put in place this week. Copper service lines have been laid along Hutchings Avenue ahead of paving so that no changes will be necessary after pavement is completed. Two-inch line has been laid ahead of the grading on highway No. 4 near the new bridge on the Colorado River. Workmen at the pump station installed a drain line for the pump pit and set the new pumps.

Engineer Roy Davis has had a busy week overseeing all the construction in progress and making final settlement of the water system extensions.

Office employees were busy last week sending out regular monthly statements and receiving collections on water and other obligations.

The police department reported four arrests, two fines assessed, one fine collected, and a fire report.

The fire department had one fire during the week to which it

Bearcats to Open Season Friday

The Ballinger Bearcats will open the football season at Fair Park Friday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock when they meet the team from Paint Rock high school. Coach Felton Wright is whipping a crew of players into shape as fast as possible and will have varieties and 80 percent seedlings, perform against opposition.

Paint Rock, while not figured as a conference contender this year, may bring a surprise for local fans. Reports indicate the Paint Rock players are big, fast, well coached and a number of men on the team have had plenty of football experience. Football is practically new to the school but with the experience gained last year the visitors will give the Bearcats some hard going in the opening game of the season.

The football committee of the local school is preparing advertising matter for the opening game and are urging all patrons to support the team with their presence. Coach Wright has not indicated what his starting lineup will be and in case the Bearcats can handle the situation a large number of reserve probably will see service in the game.

"Jolly" Reese was elected captain of the team this year. Reese is playing his last year with the Bearcats and was one of the outstanding centers of the district last year. Sam Jones, fullback, alternate captain, is also a four-year student and was a star at guard last year. Both player's will be in the line-up Friday.

The pep squad is getting ready for the opening game and rehearsals are being held at the high school building. All girls desirous of becoming members of the squad are working hard to keep the standard of the squad up to the mark set by previous organizations. A membership of about 100 is expected in the squad this year.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The department of agriculture today announced this year's indicated cotton crop production, based on conditions as of September 1st, as 14,340,000 bales as compared with 14,362,000 bales indicated a month ago, and 14,828,000 bales ginned in 1929.

The condition of the crop on September 1st was given as 53.2 per cent of normal as compared with 55.4 per cent a year ago.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—The census bureau today announced that cotton ginned of the 1930 crop to September 1st totalled 1,878,253 running bales, including 43,309 round bales (counted as half bales), as compared with 1,568,912 bales on the same date last year.

Texas ginnings to September 1st totalled 1,120,441 bales.

Local Girl Enters Canning Contest

Myrtle Crockett, of Ballinger, has entered the National Canning Contest, which is to be held in Shenandoah, Iowa, on October 1st, to pick America's 1930 champion home canner.

The contest is sponsored by the Household Science Institute of Chicago, in cooperation with a number of public-spirited groups as a means of focusing the attention of American housewives on the economy and healthfulness of home canned foods. Cash prizes of $4,250, cups and ribbons await the 470 winners, including a grand sweepstakes award of $600 in cash.

Not the extent of the canning but the quality of the finished product will be the basis on which the champion canner of 1930 will be chosen. The winners will be selected from among the entrants in the Shenandoah contest.

The contest is open to every woman and girl. There are no restrictions as to the nature of the food sent. Contestants may enter the fruit, vegetables and meat divisions, any two of these, or all three. Any preferred method of canning may be used although the federal department of agriculture finds that the hot-pack method together with the use of a pressure cooker for the sterilizing is best, especially for the meats and non-acid vegetables. The list of contest judges includes five of America's outstanding home economics experts and nutrition authorities, headed by Dr. Louise Stanley, chief of the bureau of home economics, U. S. department of agriculture. A sample ball-mason jar, together with prize entry labels and all information on the contest, may be secured without cost simply by writing to the National Canning Contest, Shenandoah, Iowa.

SUNDOWN STORIES

THE WORD'S STORY

By Mary Graham Bonner

John and Peggy had been introduced to word Welcome.
 It was the first time they had ever met a word out of a book, and it was indeed an unusual experience.
 Welcome looked quite large outside of a book. And he looked ever so generous and pleasant and nice. He had refreshments for them, and as they sat and ate he told his story.
 "Your friend, the Little Black Clock," he began, "has magic so he can turn the time backward or forward."
 "This time he has turned it backward."
 "Everything looks as though he had," Peggy said. "And I like it," she added politely. She meant what she said too. There was something so interesting about the world when the time was turned back.
 "Yes," continued the word Welcome, "he turned it back to the twelfth century—that's quite a while back. And my name has been changed."
 "In fact it has just been changed, and I like the change ever so much."
 "It's a fine name," John said. "Of course for every day use I would just as soon have my own, but I think it's a fine name all the same."
 "I'm glad to hear you say that," Welcome answered.
 "Up to now," he continued, "my name was Welcome. But as I said before I like the change to Welcome. To be sure I'm pleased at knowing how my name began."
 So John asked Welcome to tell them all about it.
 Welcome smiled broadly and went on talking.
 "Before I was called Welcome they used to speak of me as Wilcome and that meant that I was one who came along because of the wish or will to come. I didn't have to be forced to come, and so anyone about to receive me as a guest knew I had come because I wanted to do so, and of course that would always please any host of mine."
 "But now that I'm called Welcome, it's nicer somehow. It means that I want to go a-visiting and that I am wanted too."

Weather men say that the tail end of the hurricane will break the drought in many sections of the United States. Warm moist air coming in over the Gulf of Mexico is due to a wet spell and Runnels county citizens hope this will prove true and that this county will get a good soaking. Many benefits would be derived from a good rain just now and the summer heat would be broken.

Ballinger merchants are optimistic over fall business and have not cut down on their purchases for the season. Shoppers who come this way will find stores ready to serve them with quality merchandise new in material and style. Realizing that people must continue to have merchandise local merchants have prepared not only to furnish the regular trade territory but have arranged stocks and prices so that shoppers will be drawn here from a great distance, saving dollars by trading with Ballinger firms. Realizing that money is not so plentiful this year, prices have been cut as low as good merchandise will allow and at the same time sell goods that bear a guarantee.

One of the two main items on the health program here has already been accomplished. Practically every child enrolled in the Ballinger schools has been vaccinated and the few who were sent home are complying with the request rapidly. In a few years this will make smallpox almost unheard of in this city. Another movement equally as important is the immunization against diphtheria which has been started by the Parent-Teacher Association. Doctors have been asked to assist and are ready to do so in cases where parents are not able to pay for the service. No one who is able to pay for same should expect a physician to administer the serum free and yet every child should be given this preventive. It is a sure preventive against the dread disease and if parents cooperate with the move it will cause fewer cases and eventually rid the city of the contagion, thereby saving many lives. Parents who do not know the benefits should consult their family physician and become convinced of its merit.

COTTON COMING HERE?

While conversing with a fellow citizen the other day we were informed that much of the cotton in the Millersview territory and some around Paint Rock was being hauled to Ballinger to be ginned. While there the farmers buy their supplies and haul them back. We have been wondering just what the trouble is—whether Paint Rock has failed to put forth the efforts necessary to keep home people at home and bring in outsiders or whether there is just a larger percentage of the people of Concho county who are possessed of the "mail-order" or out-of-town ideas about purchasing their supplies.
 If we have not done our part to keep trade here in Paint Rock, then it is time for some of us to get busy. If we have, then it is time to try to instill into the minds of the people that they do not really gain in buying away from home. Probably it is a little cheaper, but then there's the expense of gasoline, oil, and wear and tear on your car if you go after them. If you don't go after them and have them sent down, then there's the freight or express to pay on them which will increase the cost to approximately the same price, and often more than the home merchant asks for his merchandise. If you don't trade at home just figure it up some day and see how much you save—if any.—Concho (Paint Rock) Herald.

Camera Records Action of X-Rays As Minute "Bullets" Hit Electrons

By Howard W. Blakeslee (Associated Press Science Editor)

ITHACA, N. Y., Aug. 23.—An odd, drum-shaped camera at Cornell University records hits made by "bullets" only a millionth of an inch long.
 The bullets are made of X-rays. The targets are electrons, the negative bits of electricity that form the bodies of atoms of all substances.

The camera was set up by Dr. Paul Kirkpatrick, professor of physics at the University of Hawaii, at Cornell temporarily for special research, into some little known marvels of X-ray action.
 The rays are same as physicians use. They are produced in a lead-sheathed booth, having a small slit in one side. From this slit a beam passes through a crystal outside. The crystal serves as a sort of sieve or filter, passing through certain desired waves and discarding others.
 Next the filtered X-rays shoot at their targets by passing into a gas chamber, where occasionally they make it direct hit upon an electron of the gas atoms. A camera views this gas chamber at close range, recording what happens.

The gas is argon.

The stricken electron flies out of its atom, leaving a little white trail, like smoke-writing. The material of these trails however is not smoke but water vapor.

The hits are not thought to be made by a single wave length, which in an X-ray is about one-billionth of an inch long, but by a train of them, which Dr. Kirkpatrick says "is probably something like a thousand wave lengths long."

These X-ray hits do a peculiar thing to the electrons—something amazing to laymen. Instead of knocking them haphazard in every direction, they drive the electrons in definite directions.

Dr. Kirkpatrick says it is like studying "an apparent ability of the rays to remember the directions involved in the atomic collision which gave them birth."

The story told by the photos is that the rays, as they come from the X-ray tube, have certain unsymmetrical or biased properties, and are not the same on all sides. This is "polarization."

Dr. Kirkpatrick's work is collection of fundamental facts about the connection between polarization and X-ray wave lengths.

PEDDLERS HAWK BIBLES ON STREETS OF MADRID

(By Associated Press) MADRID, Sept. 8.—The Bible is now sold openly by street peddlers here.

That may not seem surprising, unless one reflects that there was a time when men were imprisoned for that and during the Inquisition ran the risk of being burned at the stake.

George Barrow, an Englishman, came to Spain to sell Bibles a century ago, was jailed for it, and wrote a book about his adventures.

Now there seem to be no obstacles placed in the way of those who would sell or buy Bibles. The street hawkers are not missionaries of any creed, but professional peddlers and they sell garters, shoe-strings, dime novels, or anything else they get hold of along with the Bibles.

41,000 IN CITY SCHOOLS

(By Associated Press) SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 8.—Aided by the inauguration of the new law allowing six-year-olds to attend public schools, San Antonio will have an estimated attendance of 41,000 children in schools this year. This is an increase of approximately 6,000 students over last year.

The most intensive building program in the history of the local school system was put into effect during the spring and summer months, in order that these additional students might be accommodated. Among the improvements are many new elementary school additions.

Gross cash disbursements for the school system during the 1929-30 year totaled $5,058,446.33, of which $1,021,633.35 was expended on the building program.

A Few Facts on Texas Athletics

By Gayle Talbot, Jr.
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
DALLAS, Sept. 8.—A few facts and fancies, some of which might even be news.

Cy Leland, a great halfback last year, will play quarterback for Texas Christian University this fall. There is no reason why he should not make a good one. He is smart and, well, fairly fast. Coach Schmidt expects to develop him into a capable passer, but he doubts he will ever sling a football like Howard Grubbs did last autumn.

Hap Morse, the veteran Dallas infielder, has been lucky since he entered professional ball some 18 years ago. He has played with eight pennant winners, which might be a record for all we know.

Howard Fitzgerald, Spud centerfielder, has been with the same club longer than any player in the Texas League. Six straight years, and the former Southwestern University star still is much of a ball player. Less capable players, but with more color, have gone up to the big tent and stayed there.

Some kind providence, perhaps, caused Mary Zita McHale, Dallas tennis star, to get on the wrong train at St. Louis on her way home from the eastern tournaments. The train she should have caught was wrecked, killing six and injuring many others.

President Alvin Garner did not award Wichita Falls the disputed game with Beaumont and then reverse his decision. The first ruling was made by the second in command at Texas League headquarters while Garner was on a fishing trip. Upon his return he reversed it, pronto, which was a popular move, indeed.

Football players are going to find it plenty warm in the State Fair Association's new stadium here. That is, at least, in the early games. The grass will be some 15 feet below ground level and completely encircled by the sweeping stands. Not an opening for even a vagrant breeze. But is should be nice along in November.

Johnnie Dunsmore, products of San Antonio sandlots, is the latest edition to the Texas League's umpirical staff. They say he shows much promise. He was given a tough spot when they assigned him to the last Fort Worth series at San Antonio. An Indian hit a long fly down the left line with the bases crammed, and Dunsmore called it fair. The Cats raised red, claiming it was foul by three feet, and there almost was a riot. In fact, there was a scrap after the game, in which a friend of Frank Snyder, Panther foreman, was said to have beaten up an Injun fan. They arrested Snyder, but found they had the wrong man.

They say that Weldon Mason, versatile Mustang halfback, is returning from the mountains weighing 170 pounds and fit as a fiddle. That is about 10 more than he scaled last year, when he was the Southwest greatest sophomore back. He and Bruce Kattman should give the Ponies' opponents plenty to think about.

Juanita Bills, freckle faced little tennis star of Masonic Home, Ft. Worth, is not overburdened with technique, but what a fighting heart that youngster has. She is the new state municipal girls singles and doubles champion. In her final singles match Emily Reichert of San Antonio had her 5-2 and match point, yet Juanita pulled out and won.

Dick Whitworth, whose great pitching has featured the Cats' climb to the top in the second half, twirled in 47 games for Austin in the Texas Association a few years ago. He was then, as now, a railroad brakeman in the off season, and he arranged his program so he could work his regular job at night and pitch in the afternoon.

There are fewer experts each season who will come out flat-footed and pick the Southwest Conference winner. Up to now, we haven't heard nor seen a prediction that didn't carry a half-dozen "ifs" and "providing that's."

Century-Old Tale Basis of Plot of "Bride of the Regiment"

A century old tale is the basis of "Bride of the Regiment," First National's special all-Technicolor, all-Vitaphone film showing at the Palace Theatre where it began a three-day engagement yesterday.

Of course, strictly speaking, "Bride of the Regiment" is directly based on the Schnazer and Welsh operetta, "The Lady in Ermine," but beyond that it goes back to an incident, supposedly true, of the Austrian invasion of Italy in 1830.

Since it happened in real life, the story itself has been a short story, a novel, a play, and an opera in practically every language. The crux of the plot deals with the marriage day of an Italian count, who has to flee from the Austrians on the eve of his wedding night, leaving his bride to entertain a handsome colonel of the invading army instead of himself.

A picture of an ancestress of the bride, called "The Lady in Ermine," is supposed to protect the honor of the women of the house, and in a novel way it saves the bride. The ingenuity of the plot accounts for its century-long popularity.

According to John Francis Dillon, who directed the First National film, this plot is "the ideal story for talking pictures, while the colorful time and locale make it the ideal subject for color photography."

A big all-star cast seen in the picture is headed by Vivienne Segal, Allan Prior, Walter Pidgeon, Louise Fazenda, Ford Sterling, Myrna Loy, Lupino Lane, Harry Cording and Claude Fleming.

"With Commander Byrd at the South Pole" is booked at the Palace for a three-day engagement, starting next Sunday, September 14th. This is one of the most marvelous pictures ever produced and has had enormous success wherever shown.

An American in Paris

By Hazel Reavis

PARIS, Sept. 8.—Needles are flying and tongues are wagging happily again in the sewing rooms of the dressmaking houses where midnettes recently struck for more money.

They got it. Now their pay envelopes contain from $1 a week to $9.50 weekly, depending on whether they are apprentices or experienced first hands.

The new wages are an increase of six percent over the old. Thousands of sewing girls in Paris receive the same pay.

Their share of the prices paid for clothes in the big dressmaking houses is infinitesimal. The recent 12-hour strike occurred at a world-famous house where prices begin at $100 and work rapidly upward.

In addition to their wages the midnettes receive a hot lunch. For some of them it is the one solid meal of the day, for $9.50 a week will only go so far, even in Paris.

C'est la Vie!

In spite of their forced frugality the midnettes manage to enjoy life. Most of them love their work and take pride in it.

Nevertheless the bogey of unemployment is never far away. They may be turned off on eight days' notice if a dull season descends on the dressmaking trade.

Style houses have been known to suddenly close down all but a few ateliers, throwing hundreds out of work without a chance of being taken on elsewhere.

No Nonsense

Uncertain as their trade is, most of the sewing girls take it seriously. A large percentage of them expect to one day own their own little dressmaking establishment.

Others are working as a means of accumulation a dot which will make a good marriage possible.

In fact, despite her witty tongue and quick smile Mile Midnette is a serious minded person who works conscientiously and glories in the knowledge that without her nimble fingers Paris could not maintain its style authority.

J. Walton Leader, of Austin, spent a few hours here Monday morning greeting old friends. Mr. Leader lived in Ballinger for eight years, leaving here in 1912 and since making his home at Austin.

Youth to Guard Millions Of Children from Traffic

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—School bells this fall ring the call of duty to nearly 200,000 young patrolmen who will guide nearly 5,000,000 children daily across lanes of traffic.

Identified by shiny badges and white Sam Browne belts, they will stand guard at street intersections to stem traffic casualties.

For the new school term the American Automobile Association, sponsor of the patrol system, has adopted uniform standards for the entire nation to increase efficiency and foster public interest.

In addition to work in this field, which has even spread to Hawaii, where patrolmen are known as junior police, safety education will reach nearly 2,500,000 children as a part of the regular curricula of schools.

The value of this comprehensive program of promoting safety has been credited by the national conference on street and highway safety, operating under the chairmanship of Secretary of Commerce Lamont, with a marked reduction in child fatalities.

Reduction in child deaths, credited to safety education and school patrols, Secretary Lamont said, "is the one redeemable feature in the whole situation of traffic mortality."

"In seven years motor vehicle accidents increased 82.2 per cent, but fatalities among children under 15 years of age increased only 22.9 per cent, while adult fatalities increased 106.9 per cent."

"Child fatalities registered a decrease in 1928, and partial returns for 1929 indicate a still more marked decrease."

Safety records of Chicago show that the number of children under 15 years of age who were killed by automobiles was reduced from 188, when the patrols were first established in 1926, to 166 in 1928.

Detroit, with 108 fatalities among children in 1926, when 340,111 pupils were enrolled, had a reduction to 88 fatalities in 1928, when the enrollment was 402,670.

BATHING IN PEARLS DEAUVILLE'S NEWEST

(By Associated Press)

DEAUVILLE, France, Sept. 8.—Bathing in pearls is the latest craze of the ultra-fashionable here.

Sea water is good for pearls, they claim to have discovered. It freshens them up and adds to their luster.

At least that is the explanation offered by members of the smart set who take their morning dip festooned in ropes of pearls.

DROUTH HAS CAUSED REMOVAL OF MANY FISH

(By Associated Press)

KERRVILLE, Sept. 8.—Threatened with death in drying creeks of the Hill country hereabouts, thousands of fish are being scooped and transferred to the Guadalupe river and a number of spring-fed pools. The rescue work is being carried on by employees of the state game, fish and oyster commission under the direction of E. C. Brady, superintendent of the state fish hatchery near here.

The best specimens are being held in the hatchery for brood purposes. Bass, perch, catfish and bream are among the species being saved.

CUYLER LIKELY TO BEAT HIS BASE THEFT RECORD

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Kiki Cuyler, baseball's most notorious base robber, threatens to beat his National League record of 43 stolen sacks. It was set last year.

Lightning speed, a shrewd knowledge of every pitcher's movements and ability to make an inside or outside hook are Cuyler's stock in trade. Batting ahead of Hack Wilson also has its advantage. This year Cuyler deliberately beat a pitch out.

Cuyler has averaged 35 stolen bases a season.

Deaths

G. W. Ray

G. W. Ray, age 54, died at his home at Talpa Sunday at 4:00 a. m. after an illness continuing for several months. He was up a part of the time until shortly before his death Sunday.

Decedent is survived by his wife, four sons and six daughters, two brothers and an aged father. A short funeral service was held at the family residence Sunday and the body was taken to Norton where the rites were concluded and interment made.

Undertakers from Higginbotham Funeral Home were in charge of the funeral arrangements.

T. J. Starkey

T. J. Starkey died at his home on Ninth Street Sunday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock. He had been in ill health for several years and for the past two weeks has been confined to his bed, but had been able to be about until recently.

Mr. Starkey and his family moved to Runnels county from San Marcos and settled near Hatchel where he farmed for a few years. He engaged in the transfer business in Ballinger 25 years ago and continued to operate this until a few years ago when his health became such as to demand his retirement.

His death causes many to grieve for he was widely known and had many close friends. Mr. Starkey was a consecrated Christian and was a regular attendant at all church services. In recent years he attended the Nazarene Church and his funeral was held at that church with Rev. W. Lawson Brown, officiating assisted by Rev. W. H. Doss, retired Methodist minister. Rev. Doss was Mr. Starkey's pastor for a number of years and a close friend.

Decedent is survived by two sons, Sam Starkey, of San Marcos, and Levi Starkey of Dallas; five daughters, Mrs. M. T. McKay, of California; Mrs. Maud Sharp, of California; Mrs. Sid Caskey, of Winters; and Misses Lula and Tommie Starkey, of Ballinger.

Iowa Farmer Uses Plane In 400-Mile Hop to Market

(By Associated Press)

DENISON, Iowa, Sept. 8.—Ralph Weberg, farmer and stockman near here, lists the airplane as "an implement" in his business.

He jumps in his plane and flies across two states to Chicago, for example, to sell cattle which he has shipped.

He arrives in Chicago four and one half hours after he takes off from the private landing field on his farm. The trip requires 12 hours or more on a train.

With the plane he can personally supervise the marketing of his cattle and return home the same day, if necessary. His speciality for years has been prime beef cattle.

Flying is more necessary for the farmer, he thinks, than it is for the city business man, because time often is more important, and distances, especially in the west, sometimes are long.

Some day he expects to be able to take advantage of early market reports by radio run a load of cattle or hogs into a large plane, fly to Chicago to catch the day's market and return home in the afternoon with his check.

Ballinger Students Entering School

Ballinger boys and girls are beginning to leave for schools over the state. A number left the past week-end to enter college Monday morning and others will continue to leave until late in September.

It has been impossible to secure a complete list of those going away this year. Some are still undecided as to whether they will go and some are debating what school to attend.

Most of the 1929 Bearnats have selected their schools and a large number of them are in training camps this week fighting for places on the varsity teams. This is the last year that freshmen can play in the T. I. A. A. and the Texas Conference and most of the boys are in schools where have a chance to continue football without losing a year on the freshman team. Schools in the Southwestern Conference have the freshman rule now and all boys must attend school one year before coming out for football.

Howard Payne College, Brownwood, drew some good material and all students going there left Sunday to enter school Monday morning. Those going from here included Clarence ("Nig") McCarver, Ernest Nance, Wilbourne Underwood, Earl Schuhmann, Woodrow Wilson, Wallace Chastain and Robert Lusk.

Daniel Baker College, Brownwood, gets Frank Coker. Coker has been with the Hill Billy football team for the past week in early training.

Among students who will attend Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, this year are: Evelyn Stobaugh, Mary Jane Kiechle, Bill Ueckert and Chester Ueckert.

Southwest Teachers College, San Marcos, gets Jones Parrish. Sul Ross Teachers College, Alpine, has signed J. B. Arthur, W. O. Middleton, Doy Smith, Vernon Dankworth, Jervis Robinson and George Doherty. This school is receiving more football material from Ballinger than any other school in the state.

Other schools which will draw Ballinger students are: Simmons University, Abilene—Velma and Thelma Parrish, Wix Currie, Horace Gustavus and Ruby Ferguson.

Texas Technological College, Lubbock—C. A. Doose, J. P. Rhuman, and Drew Dickson.

College of Industrial Arts, Denton—Carmen and Joe Demmer.

University of Texas, Austin—Frank Reese.

There may be others who have been overlooked in compiling this list. Students who were going away to college were consulted and the list prepared from information they furnished.

Sends Greetings to Teachers and Pupils

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, Sept. 8.—S. M. N. Marrs, state superintendent of public instruction, today extended his greetings to pupils and teachers on the opening of a new school year.

"I wish to extend greetings and all good wishes," he said, "to the one and one-half millions of boys and girls, to the more than forty thousand teachers, and to practically the same number of school officials who will engage in the great business of public education during the ensuing year.

"The conception of education as a function of the state involves the training of boys and girls for good citizenship. This includes more than the mechanics of the fundamentals—it is not enough that the children shall be well versed in the common school subjects, but there must be a thorough training in those virtues that contribute to the strength of manhood and womanhood.

"Excellence in arithmetic may be a mark of brilliance but to be excellent in effort is a mark of character."

"Today thousands of boys and girls will begin the school work of the year. Very few will have the traditional attitude of the snail's pace; by far the large majority will rejoice that the vacation is over and that old friendships can be renewed and new fields explored. Punctuality, regularity of attendance, promptness in discharge of obligations are school virtues to be cultivated. The waste caused by irregularity of attendance should be reduced to minimum.

"Youth can render its greatest service to the state and society by contributing to the efficiency of the school through the observance of regulations and by exercising that kind of cooperation with teachers and students which in later years will evidence the qualities of good citizenship."

BETWEEN WAVELENGTHS

By C. E. Butterfield

(Associated Press Radio Editor) There's a young man in radio who seems to be getting along right well.

His mail, and he gets loads of it, comes addressed "Phillips H. Lord." Maybe those who listen know him much better as Seth Parker, and then again maybe he is more familiar as Uncle Abe of the new Uncle Abe and David sketches.

This artist dotes on portraying aged Yankee characters, although he is comparatively young in years. His birth came July 13, 1902.

The son of a minister, Lord grew up on a Maine farm.

Besides "Sunday at Seth Parkers," heard Sunday nights on WEAF and NBC coast to coast chain, and the Uncle Abe and David daily skits, also over a WEAF chain, he is the originator of Seth Parker's Singing School, heard weekly from a number of individual stations.

To accomplish all of his tasks, and radio does not get all of his attention, requires just about 15 hours of plugging a day. Here are some of the other things he does besides writing and acting the radio skits: Writes books, composes hymns, makes records, and writes four newspaper articles a week.

It is estimated that his prolific pen turns out the equivalent of three 3-act plays a week. Then there are rehearsals for his radio appearances to be taken into consideration.

To sneak up on the young man when he is writing his script is almost like attending a show.

The busy pencil rushes over the paper at a happy thought. A quick turn of the head to the right, and Seth Parker comes into being as the author tries out a phrase in that particular style. The pencil again.

A turn of the head to the left, another character is speaking. Back to the paper time after time, more twists of the head, and another sketch is turned out.

Notice to Subscribers

Patrons of The Daily Ledger are asked not to pay "subscriptions" to carrier boys on the routes. When desiring to subscribe for the Ledger, if it is inconvenient to come to the office, phone us and we will send a collector for the first payment. The habit of paying carriers is not satisfactory and caused many people to be cut off the routes when a change is made. Boys are not supposed to sell papers in anyway and we ask our patrons to cooperate with us in this way so that an accurate check can be kept of all subscribers and payments. We are always glad to have new subscribers and will be glad to send a collector to any part of town.
