Brazilian President Declares Martial Law

(By Associated Press)
RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Oct. 6.—Owing to the gravity of the situation in the southern revolt, President Washington Luis Pereira de Sousa today decreed martial law throughout the nation until December 31.
The president's order followed similar action Saturday when the federal government declared a state of siege in two states where a revolution is in progress.
Air mail service on the Pan-American, Condor, and French Aero Postale lines has been suspended. Banks are not quoting exchange.
Reports from the south indicated that in eight of the twenty-one states revolutionists are driving northward in an effort to unseat the president and to prevent the inauguration of President-Elect Julio Prestes on November 15.
Francisco Flores, leader of the revolution, declared today that federal troops and thousands of civilians were joining the revolt.

British Dirigible Wreck is Probed

(By Associated Press)
BEAUVIS, France, Oct. 6.—A vigorous investigation of the wreck of the British dirigible R-101 near here yesterday continued today.
The number of dead is disputed. Not a single body has been identified. All are in coffins ready for shipment to England.
Air Commander John Holt, who is at the head of the investigating mission, admitted the possibility of one or two stowaways, and that one of them possibly was a woman.
Forty-eight persons officially were reported dead, but survivors insisted there were fifty-eight on the ship at the time of the disaster. Eight persons were saved, one dying later.

BELIEVE BUSINESS NOW ON INCREASE IN TEXAS

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Oct. 6.—Business leaders of Austin believe that business conditions now point to increased prosperity during the fall and winter months. They predicted that conditions not only in Austin but elsewhere, are "getting back on a firm foundation after the abnormal prosperity of the past few years."
The business men's survey, they said, showed that conditions during August and September were better than for the corresponding period in 1925.
The men stated that business had been abnormally good in the past, something that couldn't be expected to last, and that things were just getting back to normal. "We've lived through bad depressions before and we've already weathered this one," they said.

LYON WILL ADDRESS TEACHERS' INSTITUTE

H. C. Lyon, superintendent of the Ballinger schools, has received an invitation to address the joint teachers' institute to be held at Brady in the near future. The invitation requests that Mr. Lyon speak on Friday and Saturday during the three-day meeting, and he has answered with acceptance. Teachers of several counties assemble in joint institute at Brady each year.

Employees in the Chicago Board of Trade building are not allowed to work coatless.

Campaign to Plant 25 Acres in Grain Started

C. W. Lehmborg, county agent, began a campaign Monday morning to get every farmer living in Runnels county to plant 25 acres in some kind of small grain. A meeting of all farmers living in the north end of the county has been called at Winters Tuesday afternoon at which time Mr. Lehmborg will discuss the matter with them and also remind them of the offer of the Red Cross for free seed up to $10 per farmer, which offer will close on October 15th.
This 25-acre small grain campaign will be conducted as a drought relief measure and farmers will be urged to do this amount of planting and not to dispose of their milk cows and livestock but to raise small grain for winter pasturage.
Mr. Lehmborg talked to every banker in the county Monday morning and stated that they were 100 per cent behind the move and would heartily endorse it and help as far as possible in assisting farmers to secure seed. Farmers interviewed by the county agent were anxious to enter the campaign and many probably will plant more than the 25 acres minimum.
If the 2,500 farms of the county would be entered in the campaign it would mean in the neighborhood of 62,500 acres of small grain planted this fall and it is thought would be worth more to the county than anything else that could be done for relief. Mr. Lehmborg stated that most farmers would likely plant oats in case they signed up in the movement, however a fair acreage of wheat and some barley would be sowed.

The cost of the campaign will probably be about $1 an acre. It requires about half a bushel of wheat to the acre, one and half bushels of oats, and one bushel of barley. Wheat is selling for from $1.25 to $1.35 per bushel; seed oats from 64 to 70 cents; and barley from 85 to 95 cents at local grain stores. All local dealers will be prepared to take care of those entering the campaign and have good seed available at any time.
Mr. Lehmborg stated that he was rushing the campaign so that planting could start as soon as farmers could get into their fields.
Meetings will be held in different sections of the county as fast as they can be called and in various ways all farmers will be urged to use at least 25 acres of their farms for small grain planting at once. Those who are entitled to free seed from the Red Cross are asked to make their applications at once so that they can be approved or passed upon before the closing date of the offer on October 15. The maximum amount of free seed offered by the Red Cross will practically take care of half the acreage sought in the campaign and if additional help can be secured the full amount can be planted.
Those desiring information in the 25-acre campaign can get same from Mr. Lehmborg or by an interview with their banker.

CLEVELAND POLICE HALT RED DEMONSTRATION

Charges of mounted police and swinging nightsticks broke up an impromptu parade of communists and unemployed near Cleveland's Public Hall while President Hoover addressed the American Bankers association there.

Achievement Week Plans Progressing

At a meeting of those in charge of the Achievement Week program held Monday morning it was decided to use the money won by the county exhibit at San Angelo and Abilene to pay premiums to girls' boys' and women's clubs for best displays here during the celebration. Prizes to be offered in each division are $15 first, $10 second, and $5 third.

Merchants and individuals will not be asked to give anything for premiums, but several have agreed voluntarily to do so if needed. The county display won first places at both San Angelo and Abilene and County Agent Lehmborg stated Monday that premiums for club booths would be derived from that source.

It was decided to use the agricultural building instead of the merchants' exposition building at Fair Park as booth space for displays are already built in the agricultural building. The boys' clubs will use the center of the building to show their open-class individual stuff and those in charge believe the building will be filled by the clubbers. In case there is room the county booth which was shown last week at Abilene will be decorated and displayed as an educational booth.

Rain over the week-end caused several community meetings to be postponed and it will be a few days before local workers can get to the rural communities at night. The next scheduled meeting will be held at Bethel Wednesday night and in case of muddy roads letters and telephone calls will be used to push the work until visits can be made.

Mr. Lehmborg said no opposition had been encountered to the program at any place and everyone seemed ready to do his part in putting over a successful show here. Club members are busy gathering their produce and lining up their exhibits for the opening one week from Tuesday.

A number of club workers will be present at the farmers meeting at Winters Tuesday afternoon and discuss exhibits for Achievement Week with the county agent.

Hoover Addresses Legion Convention

(By Associated Press)
BOSTON, Oct. 6.—President Hoover, in the first of two speeches here today, told the twelfth annual convention of the American Legion that while nearly half the world was in a state of revolution and unrest, peace of the American republic "has never stood more assured than at this moment."
General John J. Pershing, Mrs. Hoover, former President and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge were on the platform with the president.

MILES MAN ARRESTED ON DRY LAW CHARGE

F. F. Dixon was arrested Saturday night at Miles by Deputy Sheriff Bob Barrett and brought to Ballinger Sunday morning where charges of possession and transportation of liquor were filed against him. Bond was set in the case at $500, which he made and was given liberty. He returned to his home at Miles to await action of the grand jury on October 20.
Two arrests were made during the week-end for drunkenness. One of these entered a plea of guilty and paid a fine and was released while the other case was disposed of without defendant being placed in jail.

An average of 100 bushels of oats an acre was harvested by Tom Muir, Canadian county, Oklahoma, farmer, from 25 acres this year.

Cardinals Even Up Worlds Series

(By Associated Press)
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 6.—Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics and Gabby Street's St. Louis Cardinals today were right back where they started from last week, all even, each with two victories tucked away. Four are necessary to claim the world baseball championship.

The government weather observer predicted a trace of rain here late today, but it probably will not fall until after the game is completed.
Both teams entrain tonight for Philadelphia to resume the series there Wednesday, Tuesday being an off-day.
Jess Haines' brilliant pitching and batting is generally admitted as the cause of the Red Birds' victory Sunday.

(By Associated Press)
BERLIN, Oct. 6.—A Lufthansa passenger airplane en route to Berlin and Vienna, crashed at Dresden today, killing all aboard. Occupying the plane were Pilot Erich Post, Mechanic Max Lange, two women passengers, Frau Graefe and Frau Bluemel; four male passengers, P. W. Blackwell, British business man of Shanghai and three other German and Austrian passengers named Knittel, Foeldes and Kuehnelt.
The cause of the crash was not immediately learned.
The plane was of the type long used by the Lufthansa line. It had a capacity of sixteen passengers, but was carrying a light load this trip. The machine was preparing to land when, according to an observer, it disappeared behind a tree-covered hill.

France Strengthens Corsican Defenses

(By Associated Press)
AJACCIO, Corsica, Oct. 6.—Corsica, the island department of France nearer Italy than France, is being armed Cannon are being placed, munitions are being stored and military airplanes soon can operate from here.

This follows a demand in the French parliament by the marine military commission which decided Corsica, keypoint of any Mediterranean conflict, to be almost defenseless.

Exactly what has been done is a military secret. Nevertheless it is known that the naval supply ship Loiret has brought loads of armament to strengthen Bastia, Bonifacio and Ajaccio.
It was said in parliament that there was but a single garrison on the island, at Corte, in the center. There were said to be no guns for reservists, no ammunition and only eight days' food and gasoline for the air service. There was provision for seaplanes but no field for land planes.

PLANES DISCOVER LAKE IN CENTRAL AUSTRALIA

(By Associated Press)
CANBERRA, Oct. 6.—A huge shallow lake along the banks of which are numerous aboriginal encampments was discovered in central Australia by an aerial expedition financed by Donald Mackay, a wealthy sheepman.

It was impossible for the airplanes to land, but, flying low, the airmen saw how startled were the tribesmen, the only blacks now remaining in Australia with whom white men have not established contact.

Over 6 Inches Falls Here

(By Associated Press)
DALLAS, Oct. 6.—Floods struck two Texas cities today as the state received general, soaking rains. The Brady River is flooding Brady, having reached the courthouse plaza and still steadily rising, sweeping away unpretentious homes near the banks. No loss of life is reported at Brady or elsewhere.

The Guadalupe River at Kerrville is the highest it has been in eighteen year. Several small houses were swept away, four of them near the United States' World War veterans' hospital at Legion.

Del Rio reported ten and a quarter inches of rain in the past few days. Wichita Falls received almost six inches, Austin over five, Brownwood, Llano and Fort Worth, four or more. Gainesville, Sweetwater, Breckenridge, Corsicana, Marshall and Grand Saline recorded from two to four inches.

The statewide precipitation is continuing today.

Sterling Resigns; Ely is Appointed

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Oct. 6.—Governor Moody today announced the resignation of Ross S. Sterling, Democratic gubernatorial nominee, as chairman of the state highway commission, and the appointment of Judge W. R. Ely, of Abilene, as chairman, and D. K. Martin, of San Antonio, as the third member of the commission.

County in Wisconsin Co-Op

(By Associated Press)
SHAWANO, Wis., Oct. 6.—The first county-wide farm cooperative marketing organization was completed here when 100 dairymen organized the Badger Cooperative Consolidated. Business will be handled through a county central plant here, with four receiving plants in other towns.

Modern Moslem Gets Bride Free, Women Decree

(By Associated Press)
DAMASCUS, Syria, Oct. 6.—Neither the purchase price ordinarily paid by the Moslem bride-groom for the bride nor the dowry customary among some Christians is in future to be regarded as an obligatory adjunct to marriage, the Oriental Women's Congress decreed during its four days sitting.

Moreover, the purchase price is to be reduced to the lowest possible limit, and both bride and bride-groom are to be at least 18 years of age prior to marriage.

Employment of children under 14 years of age is to be prohibited if the women have their way.

Though the delegates to the congress were distinctly modern in many ways, they demanded that divorce be made more difficult and that it be granted merely in exceptional cases and for weighty reasons.

This because in the East the woman is practically at the mercy of the man if he wants to get rid of her.

Other resolutions demand obligatory school attendance on the part of girls and boys and the provision of trade schools for both sexes.

WEATHER REPORT

(By Associated Press)
West Texas—Partly cloudy tonight and Tuesday. Cooler in the Panhandle tonight.
East Texas—Cloudy, with showers in the north and east portions except the Gulf coast region tonight. Tuesday, cloudy and showers except in the north and east portions.

(By Associated Press)

At last the drouth is broken in Runnels county. Rain falling for a 24-hour period in the county amounted to from 2.75 to 10 inches and every spot in the county is thoroughly soaked. A general rain started Saturday night and continued until late Sunday night with very few interruptions and gradually increasing late Sunday afternoon and night.

The heaviest rain was reported from Eden where a government gauge gave a count of even 10 inches in twenty-four hours. At Menard the fall was estimated but for the first time in many years water was running through the town from an irrigation ditch cut through the main street from the San Saba River. The lightest fall was reported from Abilene where only 1.94 was reported but additional rain had fallen there prior to the 24-hour reading.

At 8:00 o'clock Monday morning the rainfall here amounted to 6.37 and was more rain than had fallen here for the entire summer. Streams were on a rise Monday morning and all surface tanks in the county were filled with stock water.

North and northwest of Ballinger the rain was lighter while south of this city it was heavier in places and on an equal with the amount received here.

All sections reported a similar condition accompanying the rain. The early showers Saturday night and Sunday began slow and increased to a downpour Sunday evening. Very little water was wasted by running off and this is one reason that streams are not at a higher mark than they are.

Dirt roads in this section are in bad shape and almost impassible Monday. A number of these have been freshly graded and for several months have not received enough moisture to settle them. These grades were in need of just such a rain as received and will

HOW'S your HEALTH

THE IDEAL FOOD Many a patented food article lays claim to being the ideal food. But the only food substance that can with any justice lay claim to this title is milk.

Milk is a most important, if not the most important, of all human foods. Its composition is such that man could practically live upon it without any other substance.

From the viewpoint of digestibility, milk is food in an ideal condition. From an economic viewpoint, milk gives more fuel per unit cost than practically all other foods.

Milk ordinarily contains about 37 per cent of water, and 13 per cent solids. It is the solids in the milk that are valuable, though their suspension or solution in the water is important.

Of the 13 per cent solids, approximately 3 1-2 per cent is fat and 4 1-2 per cent to 5 per cent milk sugar. Milk also contains valuable mineral salts which are useful to the body.

In most communities where the production and distribution of milk is supervised milk is classified in grades A, B, and C.

Contrary to the common impression these gradations are not based upon the fat contents of the milk, but on the number of bacteria found in a cubic centimetre of milk.

While milk is an ideal food it is also a dangerous food—dangerous if handled in an unsanitary manner. To be on the safe side, milk should be pasteurized, and if pasteurization is not feasible it should be brought to the boiling point and quickly cooled.

Even pasteurized or boiled milk if not stored properly and kept cool, may become contaminated with disease germs and produce illness.

Amendment Facts Taken to Voters

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, Oct. 6.—Facts and figures will be presented to Texas voters by the joint legislative committee seeking to gain approval at the November election of constitutional amendments making radical changes in the set-up of the legislature.

Although an increase in pay would be provided, the committee has gathered figures which show members say, that any increase in pay would be more than offset by savings to be effected by the changes.

The average cost of a thirty-day session of the legislature is estimated by the committee at $108,000 or approximately $3,300 per day. On an average, two special sessions are had every two years, at a cost of from $35,000 to $50,000. Mileage for the two sessions costs from $20,000 to $25,000.

The amendment would provide for a single session of 120 days, which the committee figures would save from $60,000 to $75,000 in eliminating extra mileage and "wasted time," and in addition, legislators cite a saving of thousands of dollars in printing. "These savings will entirely offset, of not more than do so, the cost of the increased compensation to legislators," the committee said. Outranking in importance the quoted saving in money the committee believes will be the "more mature consideration possible." The plan provides for a session divided into three periods—30 days for introduction of bills, 30 days for committee hearings, and 60 days for actual law making. It was pointed out that with 30 days devoted exclusively to introduction of bills, with no extraneous matters demanding attention, bills may be more carefully written, and that the 30 days allotted committee hearings will insure that every delegation of citizens sponsoring or opposing a measure, will have an opportunity to appear before the proper committee with a full membership of the committee present.

Illinois had 7,000 men at work on highways this summer.

There is nothing like rain to bring smiles to the faces of citizens of this section. Everybody was happy Monday morning and as a result of the downpour which visited this section of West Texas over Sunday a good season is secured. Some called it a million dollar rain, while others placed the value higher. To say the least the county has a badly needed season and is now in position to start fall planting which will give winter pasturage.

The 25-acre small grain proposition for every farm in Runnels county in our opinion is one of the most worthy moves ever started here. This plan, if carried out with the cooperation of the farmers, will do much to put livestock through the winter and cause farmers to not notice the feed shortage as much. Everyone should cooperate in this move. Those who have no land should be for it and encourage it. Those who have a little extra money might assist farmers who are not able to buy seed to enter the campaign. The campaign is one that will mean as much to the merchant as the farmer and anything that will help in any way to bring about a return of prosperity will be of benefit to everyone. Small grain planted now will be up in a short time and get a good start before frost.

Road work in Runnels county was benefited by the rains. The new grade on highway No. 4 from Ballinger to the Concho county line was badly in need of just such a rain as was received. Since the beginning of work on this road, very little moisture has fallen and the entire grade was more or less just a pile of loose dirt. The rain falling slow as it did at first did not wash and make the roadway firm and solid. The work on the Elm Creek dam was in fine condition for such a rain. The dirt work needed a slow rain and the masonry work on the spillway was in position not to be damaged by high water.

POLICE TRY NEW STUNT TO CURB OVER PARKING

DALLAS, Oct. 6.—Dallas police have a new wrinkle to combat motorists who would park all day in a spot where parking is limited to an hour.

Formerly the coppers would place a chalk mark on the tire of the car. An hour later if the car and chalkmark were still there, the car would be hauled to the city automobile pound.

Motorists wise, the marks despised, so many marks simply were erased each hour by watchful owners after the coppers departed.

Coppers wise, their signs disguised—and here is how they do it. They now use dark chalk that the motorist doesn't notice. He glances at the tire and doesn't realize it is marked, so he doesn't erase it. Or, if he does erase it, he had better look further, for these unobtrusively dark signs are placed on two to four tires.

SUNDOWN STORIES

AIR MUSIC

By Mary Graham Bonner

"I hope you don't mind," the Little Black Clock said, as Peggy and John joined him, "but I decided we'd sometimes have a trip into the future between our trips into the past."

"I thought it would be rather fun to do that, but we're going to see all of the Seven Wonders of the World. You needn't worry about that."

The Little Black Clock had used his magic this evening to turn the time forward and told them they were taking a ride in a plane.

In a few seconds a plane landed close to where they were standing and a pilot who had taken them on a number of trips got out and told them that they would be starting just as soon as they were ready.

"We're ready, aren't we?" John asked the Little Black Clock.

"We are," he answered.

"Then we'd better get in," Peggy said, very sensibly.

Soon they were up in the air. As they were flying about they heard music.

"Where does that come from?" John asked.

"Ah," said the Little Black Clock, "that's our treat. The pilot just connected our plane with a concert that is being held on the earth this evening."

"We thought the program would be a nice one to hear."

They realized now that a band was playing.

"You see," the Little Black Clock explained, "we're in the air and we're hearing music from the earth but it is coming to us over air-waves."

"That's not so old-fashioned, eh?"

"We should say not," John answered.

And throughout their ride they heard the band from the earth playing so clearly and so spiritedly.

Scanning New Books

By Richard Massock

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Something novel in the writing of biography has been turned out by Hendrick Willem van Leen in "R. v. R."

The Dutch author has created an imaginary great-great-grandfather whose imaginary diary describes the life and times of Rembrandt van Rijn, the Dutch painter.

It is furthermore, informal history as well as biography, for Van Leen makes his diarist a garrulous old doctor who gives a voluminous account, not only of Rembrandt's life, but of Holland's seventeenth century hey-day.

Even the life of New Amsterdam, in America, is reflected through imaginary correspondence.

Thus, written in present tense, the story is vivid and colorful.

Solitary Artist

Rembrandt Harmenszoon van Rijn was the son of a London miller and the book opens with the account of his burial in 1669, an undischarged bankrupt, in a pauper's grave in Amsterdam.

The doctor meets Rembrandt for the first time when his wife, Saskia, is dying of tuberculosis.

He lived only for his painting, thought of nothing else. He drove his mind and body, sleeping and painting for weeks at a time without removing his clothes, until he pitched himself into an early grave.

He was always buying the pictures of others and ignoring his creditors' demands. His reputation of having married a rich wife was ill-founded. She never received an inheritance.

And Rembrandt lost favor with the public because he insisted on painting portraits to suit himself rather than the subjects.

Van Leen says he began the book 20 years ago. He has filled it with a century of Dutch civilization.

High Adventure

"The Conqueror's Lady" by Stella Burke May, is a biography of a hitherto unsung Spanish heroine of the sixteenth century—Ines Suarez, who accompanied the conquistadores into Chile as mistress of their community, Pedro de Valdivia.

It is a romantic biography in which Ines is a sort of passionate Joan of Arc.

A modern adventurer is glamorous Henri de Montfried, a Frenchman who wandered to the Red Sea, turned Moslem under the name of Abd-El-Hal and among the Arabs has become a gallant pearl fisherman, pirate and smuggler. His story is told by Ida Treat in "Pearls, Arms and Hashish."

The highest average price per pound ever paid for North Carolina tobacco was 53 1/2 cents in 1919.

OHIO FARMERS MAY QUIT POOR LAND AFTER DROUGHT

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 6.—Abandonment of some farms in Ohio will follow the drought, according to the Ohio Farm Bureau Corporation.

If farmers in poor farming sections transfer to better locations, the drought will be viewed as a benefit. In southern Ohio, where the effect was the worst, there have been three consecutive crop failures, the corporation said, dry weather this year following two years of too much rain.

No "Mother Goose" for Lindy, J.; Grandmother's Book Awaits Him

Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr. won't have to bother with ordinary "Mother Goose" tales when he starts reading. The first child book for him will be "The Painted Pig," written by his grandmother, Mrs. Morrow. Its jacket design is shown above.

By Sue McNamara
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr. will not start his education with the stereotyped "cat" and "rat." Nor will the offspring of the flying Lindberghs be launched into the alphabet on such words as fuselage or wing spread. Charles Augustus, when he takes a pink thumb out of his mouth, will utter the one word "pig." For "The Painted Pig" is the title of the first child's book which he will receive. It was written by his grandmother, Elizabeth Morrow, who stopped long enough from cam-paing for her husband, Dwight Morrow, for United States senator from New Jersey, to jot down some funny tales she picked up in Mexico while Mr. Morrow was ambassador there. It is not only the first book to be presented Baby Lindbergh. It is said to be the first picture book for children to come from Mexico. The first sentence Baby Lindbergh will trace with his forefinger when he gets old enough to read will be: "He was painted yellow with pink roses on his back and a tiny rosebud on his tail."

The story tells of the search of Pita and Pedro, two little Mexican children, for a painted pig bank. The pictures are unusual, done in brilliant colors and typical of Mexico. Mrs. Morrow got the idea of her book from the wonderful collection of toys owned by Count Rene d'Harcourt in Mexico City. The count made some colored pictures of the toys and Mrs. Morrow wove her story round them. Pita and Pedro are real children. They live in Cuernavaca, where the Morrows have a little week-end adobe house.

A Few Facts on Texas Athletics

(By Associated Press)
DALLAS, Oct. 6.—Another hazard hidden away amid night athletics has been ferreted out by the Houston public school board and exposed to the light of day. In banning night football contests between schools of the city, the Bayou City educators pointed out that such contests would be attended by unchaperoned girls and boys, placing a responsibility upon school officials.

that the players' share in Dixie Series was sufficient to compensate them for their efforts. Last winter, with Ray Hart and Jake Hess at forwards, the Rice Owls had probably the third strongest team in the Southwest Conference basketball race. With both due back, Owl supporters were predicting a championship for 1930-31.

The pennant fund of some $4,000 raised for the Fort Worth Cats, Texas League and Dixie champions, might be the last to be subscribed in Texas. Chambers of commerce in the eight cities of the league, which customarily have taken a leading part in raising such funds, have received a suggestion from John Boswell, secretary of the Wichita Falls Chamber, that they do not participate in future drives. Boswell said such movements were unpopular among members only of commercial organizations, also of Texas flash.

But, alas, the ineligibility bugaboo has stopped Coach "Pug" Daugherty's quintet before it could get started. Both Hart and Hess, a report from Houston says, failed to make passing grades and have been ruled out for the year. In addition to their prowess on the basketball court, where they ranked one-two among conference scorers in the last campaign, Hart and Hess were stars in other sports. Hess was the conference's second ranking netter, topped by Bruce Barnes, University of commercial organizations, also of Texas flash.

About New York

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Not since John Barrymore fled to safety in the movies has the Broadway stage had a matinee idol. True, Alfred Lunt and Leslie Howard get their share of feminine adoration, but they are more admired as our two best actors. But, the situation has been remedied with the arrival of two starry-eyed, handsome gentlemen from England. One is Leslie Perrins, a husky voiced swashbuckler. The other is Ivor Novello, a sort of Ramon Novarro type.

Perrins comes here in a play that is none too good. It is a drama from the Dutch called "Insult" and, although it has been a hit in Europe, it did not receive a very gracious welcome on these shores. It is the ancient story of the white man in the tropics, and not too well told. Lydia Sherwood, a blond girl from London, is in the cast. Passing quickly from "Insult," one comes to the opposite in "Symphony in Two Flats." This latter was written by Mr. Novello and he also has the leading role. It is a light, charming play that is difficult to describe, but it has a certain inexplicable beauty that remains long with one.

Two stories are told in "Symphony in Two Flats" and, as the title indicates, the action takes place in two apartments. A cartoon or motion picture continually is borrowed by Mr. Novello in his technique. An episode is first shown in the upstairs apartment and then one in the downstairs. In the upstairs flat a serious, heartbreaking tragedy is taking place. A young, poverty stricken composer is going blind. He is very much in love with his beautiful wife and he fears he will lose her.

Berserk, Burlesque
In the downstairs flat is a berserk, burlesque family who, too, has its troubles but they are all comic. The mother and daughter are struggling for the hand of the same man. The contrast of intermingling this human comedy with the human tragedy is an effect that is exceptionally impressive. Novello has shown a fine hand for sophistication, comedy, romance and tragedy in his writing. His love scenes are delightful in their departure from the heavy handed romances usually seen in Anglo-American manuscripts.

Novello and the beautiful Benita Hume head a splendid cast.

ANGELERS' TALL TALES ARE IN HEALTHY STATE
(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—The first narrative fruits of the 1930 fall fishing season indicate a healthy condition and normal prospects. At Cassville, Wisconsin, Ben Kirschbaum, an auto mechanic, landed a 12-pound catfish in the Mississippi River with a pair of pliers. The fish was caught on a sun-fish hook attached to a light line. Carefully leading the catfish to the shore, Kirschbaum whipped the pliers from his pocket and grasped the fish by the lower jaw, hurling it to the river bank.

Lillian Gish Gets A-1 Rating in New Talker
Through Ferenc Molnar's great play, "The Swan," is laid in a modern mythical kingdom, with bearded granddames and princely cavaliers, its exquisitely dialogued screen version, "One Romantic Night," by United Artists, which opened a three-day engagement at the Palace Theatre yesterday, presents the slender Lillian Gish in a romantic, up-to-date story that is as satisfying artistically as it is entertaining.

Not since "The White Sister" has the charming star of the early Griffith immortals appeared in a story and setting that contrives so well as "One Romantic Night," in showing off her unusual talents as an actress. She shows amazing versatility in a role that is unlike the hand-wringing specializations that have characterized her many years of stardom.

Sharing honors with a delightful romance is the rich splendor of the settings. Not since the screen reached its high tide in beauty at the death of the silent picture has sheer pictorial quality been attained in such generous proportions.

As a whole, "One Romantic Night" is one of the most satisfying talking pictures seen and it might reasonably be included in a list of the ten best. Appropriately enough, Miss Gish is surrounded by an all-star cast, including Rod La Rocque, Conrad Nagel, Marie Dressler and O. P. Heggie.

The story is laid in gay Vientia and concerns an heiress to an impoverished principality (played by Miss Gish), who is made the victim of her mother's plot to marry her to a neighboring prince. The girl believes, however that she is in love with a guileless, dreaming astronomer, but changes her mind when the prince's stolen, passionate kiss convinces her otherwise. She flees with her prince after many amusing scenes in which Paul L. Stein, director, managed with deft touches.

Miss Gish's voice in "One Romantic Night" is one of the most pleasing heard so far, and demonstrates the great value, to motion picture players, of an early training on the stage.

As Latin Lover Schildkraut is Very Magnetic Magnetic, handsome, in the role of a Don Juan whose charms lure women to his passionate embraces, Joseph Schildkraut, star of many vivid pictures and idol of thousands of women the world over, comes to the Palace Theatre here on Wednesday and Thursday of this week in his latest success, "Cock o' the Walk," a James Cruze production based on the novel of Latin love, "Happiness Insurance." As Carlos Lopez, Argentine sportsman, Schildkraut's life is a chain of love affairs, and his days filled with passionate intrigue. Beautiful women crave his affection and his attention, and the serapes in which he is continually involved would put a less sure lover to rout. Through it all, Schildkraut moves in his bland way, until he succumbs to the charms of an unhappy girl for whom life holds no more hope and no more love.

Novel situations in a plot of rapid fire movement and danger, beautiful women set in a background of the Argentine, make "Cock o' the Walk" one of the most enjoyable talkies of the season. An excellent cast enacts the important roles in the picture, and among them are Myrna Loy, Olive Tell, Wilfred Lucas and Edward Peil.

Much of the action centers in an Argentine cafe, full of animation, music and colorful figures, and it is here that much of the dramatic action of the story starts. Great care has been taken to make the background of the story exact in every detail, and the roles have been assigned by the producer, James Cruze, with an unerring eye to types.

Myrna Loy is seen as the unhappy girl who plays opposite Carlos, the charming Olive Tell as Rosa, whose affair with Carlos is menaced by her furious husband. "Happiness Insurance" from which the picture is adapted, was written by Arturo Mom. R. W. Neill directed, and the production was supervised by James Cruze.

COLLEGE GIRLS WILL LEARN BAREBACK RIDING

(By Associated Press)
DENTON, Oct. 6.—Riding "bareback" has always connoted the daring ridits in the sawdust circles of circuses, but students at the Texas State College for Women (C.T.W.) will be taught to ride bareback as the initial step in mastering the riding of horses in both English and western saddles.

Every effort has been made to secure gentle horses suitable for beginners to ride. Instructions will be given in two outdoor rings and provision has been made for an indoor ring to be used in inclement weather.

This is the first time horse back riding has been offered as a sport in the regular curriculum of the college.

A large amount of oats have been planted in the county and some were coming up last week-end. These will get a good start with the rain giving the entire county a good underground season. Many farmers plan to start fall sowing of small grain, with oats, wheat, barley and rye leading, as soon as it is dry enough to get into the fields. Grain dealers report that they have a large stock of seed on hand and will be able to care for the rush within a few days.

EUCALYPTUS GROVE AT BOGOTA PROVES COSTLY

(By Associated Press)
BOGOTA, Oct. 5.—A stately grove of trees, planted to insure this city's water supply, has caused a water crisis.

Several years ago a well capable of supplying a steady 12-inch flow of water was bored. Someone in authority had heard that trees would conserve rainfall and assist the well. So the city planted trees all around the well. Unfortunately, however, the trees selected were eucalyptus, and eucalyptus trees, it was discovered, absorb twice their weight in water daily.

Now the trees have reached an average size of eleven tons and each one takes about 22 tons of water daily from what was intended as Bogota's main water supply.

A new waterworks project, to cost $4,000,000 is contemplated.

Construction to be Started on New W. O. W. Chapel and Bird Sanctuary

Carillon of 25 Chimes in Beautiful Tower of $150,000 Building on Woodmen Hospital Grounds at San Antonio, Texas

This is the architect's drawing of the $150,000 Woodmen of the World Chapel and Bird Sanctuary to be built at San Antonio, Tex., on the W. O. W. Memorial Hospital grounds.

Construction will be started immediately on the $150,000 Woodmen of the World Chapel and Bird Sanctuary on the grounds of the Woodmen of the World Memorial Hospital at San Antonio, Texas. President W. A. Fraser announced today. The chapel will be built along similar lines to the Bok Tower and Bird Sanctuary located in Florida. As part of the chapel there will be a tower which will have a carillon of twenty-five chimes.

The chapel will be located on a 250 acre tract within a short distance from the Woodmen of the World hospital. Patients will be encouraged to go to chapel and worship God according to their own religions.

"The chapel and tower will be a unique architectural design," said Mr. Fraser. The outside will be of Indiana limestone. Dark oak with large ceiling beams will be used in the interior. The main stain-glass window of the church will be a production of Tiffany of New York.

The chapel will also have a path with a beautiful fountain, especially designed, according to Mr. Fraser.

"In my opinion, this chapel and carillon tower will be one of the most beautiful ever designed," said Mr. Fraser. "It will not be large, seating only two hundred, but the beauty will be there." He said that it will be one of the show places of Texas.

A special landscaping is now being carried on, and in the bird sanctuary will be various types of birds collected from various parts of the world.

Mr. Fraser said that the chapel and the bird sanctuary will be a memorial to the departed membership of the Woodmen of the World.

Phelps and Dewees of San Antonio are the architects.

City Activities Halted by Rains

The last details of work are being completed at the new city hall building and a final inspection by the architect will soon be made. A workman is resetting the steps leading to the upper floors that were condemned by the architect and had to be worked over. Ditches have been dug for drain lines and little other work has been accomplished there. Furniture for the building is due to arrive shortly and will be installed as quickly as possible so that the city officials can move in.

The heavy rain of this week-end caught the work at the new dam in excellent condition. Practically all dirt embankment had been completed and re-rapped and was ready for high water. Work of quarrying rock and placing it in the masonry spillway continues with the contractors making fair progress. Rain for the past week has interfered to some extent by making the ground too wet and slick for workmen to do their work. Grass is being planted on the south side of the dirt embankments and rains will help greatly to get this started to growing.

At the water plant the third wall was poured in the pump pit for the low lift pump but this cannot be finished until the electricity wiring for the motor is completed. The new high lift pump was set on the new concrete foundation which was poured last week and the pump has been connected to discharge lines. Cut section line and put in special fitting and valve to connect to new high lift pump. Changed two inch pipe connection from inside building to fire hydrant lead.

Office force reports general routine work of billing and collecting and work on tax rolls. Three gas inspections were made and two building permits were issued.

The police department reports the making of 118 fire inspections, 3 arrests with no fines assessed, and 3 dogs killed.

The fire department had no calls during last week but worked on 15 water meters, helped install cabinet in driver's quarters in new city hall. Dismantled, cleaned, painted and installed fire siren in new city hall building. The city health department assisted in the immunization of children in the local schools last week and did other routine work. The dairy inspector made a milk survey of the city for the state board of health; visited two dairies, inspected 7 cows and made four laboratory tests of milk.

In street work the city maintainer graded 60 blocks and pushed dirt off the pavement on Hutchings Avenue and bedded same on shoulders. The city tractor and grader covered 75 blocks in the residential section of the town. Downtown streets were swept and dirt piled in the gutter to be hauled away by wagons.

The water department reports turning off 9 connections, seven turned on, flushed dead-end plugs five times, repaired 9 leaks, 19 meters repaired and set six lock boxes installed, 3 meters tested, 12 meters re-read, 2-inch pipe removed from ditch between Tenth and Eleventh streets and placed in warehouse, 1 service line laid, valve at upper dam opened and closed twice, grounds at pump station leveled and basins washed.

All city work will be delayed for a few days on account of the muddy condition. Streets maintainers will be unable to start work again until it is dry enough not to stick. Contractors on the dam will be kept away from work there for several days on account of high water and mud.

Abilene Christian Reserves Here 10th

The Abilene Christian College reserves will invade Ballinger next Friday afternoon to meet the Bears in a football game at Fair Park. A. C. C. has a strong squad this year and the varsity eleven has not lost a game so far, nor has it been scored on. That means a team of good players will be sent here this week-end and the local high school team will meet some tough going.

The Bears are still suffering with casualties on the increase. Bob Straley was added to the list this week, suffering with an injured back received in the Edgewood game last Thursday. He may get in shape to go with a few days' warm-up as his hurt is not expected to last long but might prove hard to cure.

Jones, fullback, lost from service with a broken ankle, expects to return to the line-up in time for the Winters game on November 21. He declares he will be ready for service on Armistice Day against Brady, but that is hardly probable and as that is not a conference game he likely will be saved for the tough struggle expected this year with the Blizzards.

McIntyre, new halfback, is out of the game at present with boils but should be ready for some service this week-end. McIntyre will be eligible for the next conference game in case he can make the grade. Brown, big right tackle, was reported worse Monday. His ear was lanced again Saturday and it is not known how long he will be out of the game. The abscessed ear resulted from a bruise received in the San Angelo game. Partridge still has a stiff back but will be ready to play this week. Reneau is in better condition and will be able to do some work this week and enter the game Friday. Sims will likely be given a hard week's work in the backfield. This is his first year, but the power he showed in hitting the line at Eden Thursday has caused the coach and fans to want to see him in action again soon.

Following the game with A. C. C. this week the next week-end will bring the powerful team from Melvin to meet the Bears here.

REFEREE HALTS LAME BOUT HALF MINUTE BEFORE END

(By Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 6.—Lieut. Jack Kennedy is one arbiter for whom fight fans have no "raspberries."

The reason is that he has proved conclusively that he is their friend. His latest proof was supplied in an almost unprecedented decision.

Ace Hudkins, Nebraska tough boy, and Jack McVey, negro middleweight, staged a bout here that had all the ear-marks of pantomime.

Kennedy, the third man in the ring, ignored the slow tempo and the howling disapproval of the crowd. He went through his work in all seriousness.

But he stopped the show 30 seconds before the final gong. As a result the fighters were automatically suspended, and their share of the receipts turned over to charity. Kennedy apologized for letting the bout run, but added that he had hoped the fighters might give the crowd something for its money.
