DEMOCRATS GAIN SWEEPING VICTORIES

All Five Amendments Carry; One Republican Elected in Texas

County Vote is Light In General Election

The general election held Tuesday recorded perhaps the lightest vote in the history of this county. While no official report of the county returns will be available before next Monday, indications were that the total for the county would be around the 1,000 mark, with the straight Democratic ticket running about 5 to 1 ahead. All boxes returned to the office of County Judge Paul Trimmer Wednesday morning showed a light vote, with the Democrats receiving practically unanimous endorsement except in the larger precincts. First indications were that all amendments carried in the county and state, but the rural vote is expected to cut down the lead generated in the larger centers of population.

The total vote for governor in both Ballinger boxes was 363, a very low number. The primary vote on the same race in the two boxes was approximately 1,200. William E. Talbot, Republican candidate for governor, received more votes than any other Republican candidate, showing that most of the citizens voted a straight Democratic ticket with the exception of switching a little on the gubernatorial race.

Ballinger No. 1 was reported as follows: For governor: Ross Sterling, 175; William Talbot, 40; legislative term, for 120, against 57; legislative salary increase, for 105, against 72; supreme court terms, for 132, against 48; university investments, for 131, against 49; university land tax, for 137, against 49.

Ballinger No. 24 reported: Ross Sterling 107, Talbot 42; legislative term, for 71, against 60; legislative salaries, for 52, against 80; supreme court terms, for 73, against 50; university investments, for 62, against 70; university land tax, for 88, against 50.

Monday morning election judges began bringing in their returns to the county judge's office here

Federation of Women's Clubs to Hear Notable Speakers at Meet

(By Associated Press) GREENVILLE, Texas, Nov. 5.—When the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs opens its convention in Houston November 10, to be in session through November 13, a number of important proposed changes will be up for discussion, Miss Ollie Coon of Greenville, chairman of press and publicity has announced. The program for the 1936 meeting is being formulated by Mrs. A. H. Bailey, state program chairman, and Mrs. R. F. Lindsay of Mt. Pleasant, state president. Houston's welcoming program will be held the opening night at the city auditorium.

Serious plans are ahead for the women who attend this convention and Mrs. Bailey has carved down the usual voluminous program to fit the new four-day schedule instead of the customary five days. Miss Coon said. Chief among the business discussions will be that on the proposed Texas Children's Hospital. George Waverly Briggs of Dallas, representing the board of the proposed hospital will address the convention November 11, telling of the body of the hospital project, which has already received the formal endorsement of the federation board and the personal endorsement of Mrs. Lindsay.

On November 12, Clarence Westbrook, organizer for the Texas Cotton Co-operative Association, will speak. He will be introduced by John E. Owens, Dallas banker, and will appear on the program arranged by Mrs.

St. Louis Gangster Killed by Sheriff

(By Associated Press) ST. LOUIS, Nov. 5.—Sheriff Al Lill, of St. Louis county, today shot and killed James Dormondy, 22, Cuckoo gangster, after searching the gangster and taking a pistol from him, which Dormondy then attempted to retrieve.

A scuffle then followed, the gun being discharged.

CHURCH TO PRESENT "ST. ELMO" THURSDAY

The Eighth Street Presbyterian Church will sponsor the play, "St. Elmo," here Thursday evening at American Legion Hall. Advertising matter has been issued for several days and the women of the church are conducting a ticket sale in the city. The play will be very entertaining and everyone is urged to attend.

IRRIGATION WILL DEVELOP FAMED VALLEY IN OREGON

(By Associated Press) BURNS, Ore., Nov. 5.—One of the west's rapidly diminishing frontier lines "behind the range," the Harney valley, famed in fact and fiction as a land of cattle barons and limitless herds, is turning to well water for irrigated agriculture.

In the center of a huge flat valley on a tract picked for its relative poorness of soil, the Oregon experimental station has harvested abundant crops, irrigated by two large wells.

The drought turned attention of land owners to irrigation and with ample well water approximately 100,000 acres of land can be developed. Alfalfa, wheat, potatoes and field peas are principal crops.

City to Occupy New Hall Nov. 12

City employees are getting everything in shape to move to the new city hall building and will open for business there on November 12th. Some furniture and records have already been transferred to the new building and all steel furniture has been installed in the business offices with the exception of shelving in the large vault. This will be installed at once and all permanent municipal records placed there.

K. V. Northington, city secretary, said Wednesday that moving would be a simple matter as only the books and business records in daily use would have to be moved immediately. Other material can be transferred from the temporary quarters as needed.

Chamber of commerce officials are preparing their records for moving and will begin business in the city hall building on November 12. Furniture has been overhauled and repainted and some new furniture has been purchased for the new offices. Chamber employees will occupy offices in the northwest wing at the front of the building and will have plenty of room for routine business and most meetings of the directors. When extra large gatherings are held it may be necessary to use the auditorium on the second floor.

The fire department will move between now and November 12. D. G. Posey, driver of the big truck, is preparing his living quarters in the municipal building and will transfer all equipment to the new fire station.

New offices in the building will be occupied about the same date. These include city engineer, city health officer and dairy inspector.

Final inspection of the building has not been made by Paul G. Silber, architect. Tiling on the roof is yet to be replaced with that of another color, and when this is done the final check is expected to be made. All interior work has been completed and oiled with the exception of plumbing and electrical installations.

A contract in the yard to which a fill has been let by L. C. Polk will be planted in grass. Filling in probably will be done very shortly and the terrain will be smoothed and made ready for sowing grass next spring.

NEW FASHIONS BEST ON "PETITES FEMMES"

(By Associated Press) PARIS, Nov. 5.—The little woman is having her day after several seasons of snubbing at the Paris dressmaking establishments. Raised waistlines are her meat, in fact only small or average size women should attempt them, the couturiers say.

When long skirts first came in short women were warned that they were not for them. Dressmakers glorified the long-legged mannequins and thought in terms of five feet four and up.

Now there is a demand for mannequins of lesser stature to wear the almost Empire-waisted dresses some designers approve for fall.

All Roads are Being Dragged

R. J. Deens, county commissioner of precinct No. 1, stated Wednesday morning that he had all available road machinery in operation on roads under his control and if there were ten days of fair weather all roads could be bladed and put in shape for travel.

The wet month of October put roads in terrible shape all over the county. Rains came so close to each other that little dragging could be done in the intervals, and consequently dirt roads were cut with deep ruts and left in such bad shape after the last rains that ordinary drags could not be used.

Two maintainers are being operated in the Hatchel community and graders and tractors have been put on roads up the Colorado west of Daylight. These are running from daylight to dark and a good deal is being accomplished daily. Deep ruts are being bladed smooth. Until this is completed no other work will be done. It is thought, however, that the large graders and tractors can soon be taken from this work to be used in opening ditches where high water filled them with trash.

Similar work is being done in other road precincts of the county. This long delayed work is being pushed as rapidly as possible in order to open the main traffic arteries.

State highway department maintenance workers have been doing work on the unpaved sections of highways in the county since the rains. Drags and bladers have about covered these roads and most are in good shape.

Mrs. Horace Murphy was operated upon Tuesday at the Halley & Love Sanitarium and Wednesday morning was reported to be resting well and expected to soon be completely recovered.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Turning with furious assault against its ancient foe, the Democratic party yesterday raided Republican strongholds from coast to coast, lifting its favorites to new glory as it rocked state governments and threw serious doubt into the political make-up of the new congress.

The full extent of the smashing victory is undetermined this afternoon.

In New York and Illinois Democratic strength assumed landslide proportions, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, attaining a 700,000 plurality over Charles H. Tuttle, former federal district attorney. Illinois voters returned former United States Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, Democrat, with thundering emphasis over his opponent, Congresswoman Ruth Hanna McCormick.

In the "Sooner" State, Oklahomans returned the blind Democratic senator, T. P. Gore, after long political retirement.

Kansas, normally Republican, defeated Senator Henry T. Allen, staunch supporter of President Hoover, electing his Democratic opponent, George McGill.

"GENTLEMEN CONS" LIVE LIFE OF REILLY

(By Associated Press) JERUSALEM, Nov. 5.—In the future "gentlemen" who happen to be so unfortunate as to be sent to prison in Palestine will be given special privileges.

A new ordinance of the British prison administration says that "prisoners who by their status, education and habits of life are accustomed to a superior mode of living" are to be confined, as far as possible, in a separate part of a central prison.

They may have their food brought in from outside, but should their own means not permit this they will be given special prison fare, consisting of bread, potatoes, rice, sugar, beans, meat without bones or excess fat, fresh vegetables without outside leaves or stalks, milk, tea, salt and pepper.

Moreover, "gentlemen" are now permitted to wear their own clothes and they will be given a bed to sleep in and three blankets.

But convicts who are not "gentlemen," in the British sense of the word, are out of luck.

DALLAS, Nov. 5.—Texas Democrats yesterday elected all their candidates for state offices by usual overwhelming majorities, retaining seventeen congressional seats but failing in efforts to unseat Harry M. Wurzbach, the state's only Republican congressman.

The voters apparently endorsed all five amendments proposed to the state constitution.

The vote was the lightest since the general election of 1926. Texas Election Bureau officials estimated that not more than 200,000 votes were cast. The Republicans did not obtain the 100,000 votes necessary to hold a primary two years hence.

United States Senator Morris Sheppard, of Texarkana, major of the eighteenth amendment, was returned to office with a top heavy majority.

Hidalgo county elections were quiet, with state rangers policing the voting booths. A number of races in that county were reported to be close between the regular Democratic organization and the Good Government League, coalition group.

DALLAS, Nov. 5.—Col. William E. Talbot, of Dallas, Republican candidate for governor, today telegraphed his successful Democratic opponent, Ross S. Sterling, "May I express the sincere hope that you will enjoy good health and a profitable administration for our Texas."

(By Texas Election Bureau) Returns from 160 counties out of 253 of 253, including 9 complete, gave the following results: For governor—Sterling, 120,763; Talbot, 25,952.

Legislative terms amendment—for 66,701, against 27,339.

Legislative salaries amendment—for 62,474, against 34,732.

Supreme court amendment—for 73,544, against 25,324.

University investment amendment—for 65,900, against 31,409.

University land tax amendment—for 69,109, against 28,782.

Returns from the 14th congressional district, 9 counties reporting and none complete, gave Diehlmann, Democrat, 13,112; Wurzbach, Republican, 17,925.

HOW'S your HEALTH

Edited by DR. JAGO GALDSTON for the New York Academy of Medicine

THE KIDNEYS

One of the great chapters in the science of physiology (the study of the workings of the human body in its various parts and organs) deals with the kidneys.

Some of the greatest names in medicine are associated with this organ, and on its structure and functions, monumental books have been written.

If organs may be said to deserve anything, the kidneys certainly deserve the interest and study centered on them. They are marvelously constructed and the study of their workings provides an ever constant source of wonder.

The kidneys are organs of elimination. It is their function to rid the body of certain wastes. They eliminate fluids, and through them also solids which may be dissolved in water.

All of the body's blood circulates through the kidneys. It is from the blood that the kidneys abstract, that is, take out, wastes and excess fluids. But this abstraction is a selective process.

The kidneys are no mere filters in the ordinary sense. They choose the substances to be abstracted.

An illustration of this selective action may be seen in the simple act of drinking water. If the body has a need for water, and one drinks an appropriate quantity, the water will remain in the body. But, if one has no thirst, the body having no need for extra water, and one drinks a glass or more, then, within approximately one hour the excess water is eliminated.

Life is impossible without the kidneys. In the experimental animal, removal of these organs causes the animal to die as a result of the accumulation of wastes. But life is possible with but one kidney, the removal of one kidney usually causing the other to develop.

Television Pick Type of Beauty

Mildred Potter, selected as just the type for a "television girl," by John Gihan (left), director of the television station, W9XAP, Chicago.

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Television hasn't waited long to pick a type of beauty undeniably all its own. Besides, it has frowned on the red of the lipstick and the white of the powder puff.

Assets of the young lady so fortunate as to be one of the first "television girls," differ considerably from the generally accepted ideas of beauty.

To reproduce well at the other end of the invisible broadcast television circuit the radio camera miss must have a broad face and big eyes.

Her lipstick must be green. There must be no siftings of powder on nose or face, nor the rosy flush of rouge on her cheeks. Her eyes must not be shaded.

Already television studio pioneers have found that special treat must be applied. The grease paint is of a type that will best reflect light rays, and outside of the green lips the only other application is the moderate use of mascara on the eyelashes.

What the proper television makeup ultimately will be remains to be determined, but so far these are a few of the things learned by John Gihan, program director of W9XAP, the television station owned by WMAQ, the Chicago Daily News' broadcast unit.

As a particular type for television, Gihan has selected Miss Mildred Potter of the Daily News' art staff, whose face seems to register particularly well over the air. He has found out, too, that profiles must be avoided, and that the close-ups must be face to face.

Since going on the air with a regular schedule, W9XAP has broadcast seven times daily—four periods of "sound and sight" and three periods of television alone. The sound goes out over WMAQ, and is included in its regular programs.

Arrangement of television programs still is largely experimental. Gihan said that he was ready to "try everything." Girl boxers, acrobatic dancers, pantomime, puppet shows, dramatic sketches, chalk talks, and close-ups, including visitors to the station, have been used.

A singing parrot was tried. The rapid movements of xylophonist and a trap drummer made good tests, he discovered.

Because of the tieup with WMAQ, all "sound and sight" features have to be interesting enough, from the standpoint of sound alone, to satisfy the vast majority of fans who have no television receivers.

For that reason, a checkup on reception in the Chicago area, for the present, must depend upon a few "looking posts." However, reports to the station indicate reception is good 12 miles away on the north and from 20 to 25 miles to the south of the city.

Walter Strong, publisher of the Daily News, said that he got good results on a set at his farm home in Oregon, Ill., more than 30 miles west.

There's a pest for television just as for sound. It's static—but without crashes and bangs. In the picture it is silent, a flashing black streak.

Lookers of W9XAP have discovered likewise that there is interference. A clash of signals has been noted in Chicago with W2XCR, Jersey City, N. J., which transmits on a wavelength close to that of W9XAP.

Love in a Paris Attic Told in Talkie at Palace

At the Palace Theatre the attraction today and tomorrow is the Tiffany all-talking production, "Just Like Heaven."

"Just Like Heaven" is an original story with continuity and dialogue by Adele Buffington. The delightful people of this story live and make their meagre living on the picturesque Rue des Indigents—Street of the Poor—in Paris.

There young Tobey lives in an attic, sells balloons on the curb and dreams of the day when he can study to be a designer of great parents. There Fifi sings in a cafe and uses all her wiles to win Tobey, who doesn't like girls, and particularly girls like Fifi.

To this street comes Jean's dog circus and selects the choicest stand—right opposite the school. This stand Tobey considers his by right of priority and strength—he has ousted every acrobat and peddler that has tried to take it.

Despite his hatred of girls Tobey falls in love with Fifi, but the race has narrowed down between the Winters Blizzards and the Bearcats. The local team has completed its district schedule with the exception of meeting Winters, while the Blizzards yet have three games to play.

Judge A. K. Doss, of Abilene, was here Tuesday attending to business in 35th district court.

he is the last person to realize it, and their love story, full of tempests and sunshine, is told in "Just Like Heaven" which R. William Neill directed and RCA Photophone recorded.

Famous O. Henry Story Makes Outdoor Picture

O. Henry's world famous story, "A Double-Dyed Deceiver," has at last been brought to the screen. Under the title of "The Texan," and featuring Gary Cooper, "The Texan" will be the main offering at the Palace Theatre, Friday and Saturday of this week.

LEGION TO AID POOR

AMARILLO, Nov. 5.—The American Legion is bringing two motion pictures to Amarillo November 17, 18 and 19 to provide funds for work among the poor during Christmas.

Bronte will be here Thursday afternoon (tomorrow) for the last home football game of the year, provided the Bearcats do not win the title in the western half of this district and play inter-sectional games after Thanksgiving.

The locals are in fine spirits this week with the return of Jones to the line-up. The big full-back began training again Monday and has been running signals with the first team, punting with the leg that was broken and doing everything that any football player can do.

The race has narrowed down between the Winters Blizzards and the Bearcats. The local team has completed its district schedule with the exception of meeting Winters, while the Blizzards yet have three games to play.

Chinese Invasion

Chinese restaurants have taken Broadway and the Bronx, and now chow mein is a once-a-week dish in drug stores all over town.

They have a whole block of houses down in Greenwich Village. In one noodle are fried all day long. In another the ingredients—bamboo shoots, bean sprouts and whatever else is in chow mein—are diced for the kettles.

Big business men, these Chinese. Now and then a Chinese enrolls in the course of Chi-Chen Wang at Columbia University to learn more about his own language.

Mr. Wang is Columbia's instructor in Chinese and he has 18 in his class this semester, most of them Americans who intend to teach Oriental history and allied subjects. Although the language has been taught at Columbia since 1901, enrollment has increased during the last three years.

Chinese, being an ideographic language, rather than a phonetic tongue, is one of the most difficult for Americans. Wang's pupils learn a vocabulary of about 1,000 characters the first year if they apply themselves like good pupils.

Few of those who study under Wang intend to have commercial relations with China, but a year or so ago one man was enrolled preparatory to going over as a fur trader. Chinese take the course to learn Wen Li, the classical Mandarin language, which is purer than most of the native vernacular.

Columbia has one of the largest Chinese libraries in America. About 30,000 volumes in the language.

Exclusive

Two of the most exclusive party spots in town are the Mayfair Club, in the Ritz, and the Embassy Club.

PREACHER PRIZES BIBLE FOUND NEAR BUNKER HILL

LAMESA, Nov. 5.—A highly prized possession of the Rev. J. Thomas Barr of this city is a Bible which, records show, was picked up at the foot of Bunker Hill by a soldier as he and his comrades left the historic spot on June 17, 1775.

The binding and pages of the book are stained with blood, and written in blood on the fly-leaf is the name "James Rush June." The writing appears to have been done with a sharpened stick, a thorn or piece of a finger nail. Apparently the writer was wounded severely, and was attempting to give his name and the date of the battle.

Mrs. George Pearce Entertains Club

The spacious rooms of the home of Mrs. George Pearce on Ninth Street were given a beautiful floral adornment on Thursday afternoon of last week when she entertained her club members and a few friends who played bridge at the usual five tables.

In the dining room vivid purple and red blossoms gave beauty; gorgeous yellow roses, cosmos and chrysanthemums adorned the bedroom while pink roses and lilies were used in the living room.

Included were: Mmes. Leonard Stallings, D. C. Middleton, Alex. McGregor, Robert Bruce, Joe Neff, J. G. Ogbourne, Ross Murchison, Chas. Bailey, Kathleene Drake, Will Doose, R. B. Creasy, R. L. Harwell, Estes Lynn, Victor Miller, Frank Pearce, Joe Simmons, Ralph Erwin, Malcolm McGregor, John Guion, Geo. Holman, Misses Long, Louise Orgain and Winnie Trail.

"NOW I EAT WHAT I LIKE," POPULAR WOMAN DECLARES

One after another, men and women all over the South and West are coming right out in public to tell others about this simple method to end indigestion and the gas, bloating, heartburn, headaches, etc. it causes.

Just the other day, Mrs. Rita Myers, popular young mother, of 2125 North Pearl St., Dallas, Texas, enthusiastically declared: "At last I have found real relief for indigestion. I eat what I like now without fear of that old, heavy feeling of stiffness or of heartburn, gas and sour belching."

"I suffered with indigestion for two years, tried soda and many other things for it without success. But a few tablets of Pape's Diapepsin convinced me it was just the thing I needed. The stuffy feeling, heartburn, gas, and sour belching after meals just disappeared. Our doctor got me started taking it."

Pape's Diapepsin is perfectly harmless; will not form any habit. Get a box from your druggist, and next time something disagrees, chew one of the candy-like tablets. See how the burning or pain disappears! If you wish to try them before buying, write "Pape's Diapepsin," Wheeling, W. Va., for a FREE sample box.

HATCHEL NEWS

Well it seems that old sun shine is going to remain for awhile now or any way it has for a few days and people sure have taken advantage of it for those who still have cotton to pick are putting in every hour they possibly can trying to catch up. You can see lots of different kinds of work being pushed at this time. Some are planting grain and cutting feed and everyone is getting ready for winter which will arrive before long.

On last Sunday the Bales family was visited by Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Love of Abilene.

Last Friday afternoon at the school auditorium the Hatchel P.-T. A. with the help of Drs. Lasater and Bladell gave the diphtheria serum to 73 children. We are very proud of our new officers of the P.-T. A. that they pushed this through so soon. We feel that if our P.-T. A. does nothing else we have accomplished something by carrying on this good work. We want to especially at this time thank Mrs. Earnest Graves for the untiring effort she put forth in carrying this work to the end. She is not an officer but she, knowing the need of the children of this community, put in two days of her valuable time with her car going to visit the mothers of this community talking of the immunization of their children. She was accompanied by our P.-T. A. president, Mrs. Erwin Mathis, who also deserves much credit for carrying on this work in such a fine manner.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Clark were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wirt Bales Sunday.

Next Friday night at the school auditorium there will be a program given by the Woman's club of our community at which time they will give away a Dutch girl quilt that they have made.

Mrs. Jack Davis of Winters spent Saturday night with her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Wirt Bales.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mathis and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mathis were the guests Sunday afternoon of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Bowen of the Dale community.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ferguson entertained a few friends on last Friday night with a Halloween party given in honor of the birthdays of Tom and Erwin Mathis.

Miss Lillian Reams spent Saturday night and Sunday with Miss Helen Hinkle of Ballinger.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Schyler of San Angelo were the guests of Mrs. W. A. Guin Sunday.

WHEAT PLUS DRY MASH USED TO FEED CHICKS

(By Associated Press)
FRANKFORT, Ky., Nov. 5.—Wheat, if properly fed, may take the place of corn as a chicken feed, the Kentucky experiment station here has found.

It is not considered a complete ration, however, and should be supplemented with a dry mash containing meat scrap, tankage or milk.

Wheat should be gradually introduced into the ration if chickens are not accustomed to it, officials said. At least ten days should be used to get chickens on a full feed of new wheat.

Little benefit is seen from grinding wheat to add to the mash mixture. It has been found more satisfactory as a grain ration.

Rotarians Discuss Vienna Meeting

The Ballinger Rotary club had a large number of guests present at their Wednesday meeting at the Central hotel. Guests from Brownwood, San Angelo and Abilene were present as well as several court officials from other towns attending district court here.

H. C. Lyon, chairman of the International Service Committee, had charge of a special program requested by Rotary International. The program dealt with the coming international convention to be held in Vienna, Austria, this coming year.

E. W. McLaurin spoke on Austria and Vienna giving their history and all interesting sights that will interest visitors to that country. He gave a fine description of the country and also told of the strength of Rotary in that country.

Geo. Garret next spoke on Vienna giving its size in acres and population and told something of the national debt it owed and what the United States had invested in that country. He spoke of music, opera, highways, railroads, hotels, boats for the trip and their sailing dates from American shores. His talk was very interesting and created a desire among the members to attend the great convention. He stated that round trip rates would range from $240 to $350 to the convention which will allow enough time to tour a large part of Europe after the convention is over.

M. C. Atkins told from his wartime experience, something of the sights he would recommend in other parts of Europe.

Following the program a meeting of the directors and attendance committee was held to discuss matters of business. Frank Pearce was elected to a place on the directory board to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Alfred Cramer.

T. C. U. PROFESSOR TAKES TRAMP THROUGH MEXICO

(By Associated Press)
FT. WORTH, November 5.—Alfred as a hobo, Prof. W. J. Hammond of the history department of Texas Christian University, tramps in Old Mexico during the summers in order to gather material for a course in "History of Our Southern Borderlands."

On a recent tramp through the hill country of northern Mexico, Prof. Hammond and an American traveling companion made a special trip into territory that was said to be infested with hostile bandits. The professor wanted to test his contention that Mexico is now a safe place in which to travel.

"We did not have to look long for the bandits," Hammond relates. "In fact, they saw us first. However, instead of being shot at sunrise, or held for ransom, we were given food and sent on our way by the bad men. We merely sang some of their folk songs," the professor said.

"I believe that President Rubio is doing much toward the betterment of the Mexican people," Hammond explained.

Heiress Who Spurned Own Debut To be Virginia Beauty's Sponsor

Carol Herndon (above) of Suffolk, Va., will be introduced into Washington society by Margo Cheuning, heiress who wouldn't have a debut for herself.

By Sue McNamara
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—One of the richest girls in America who eloped to escape the "fuss and feathers" of a big wedding soon will introduce to Washington society one of the prettiest girls of old Virginia.

Margo Couzens Cheuning, daughter of wealthy Senator Couzens, who started capital society last February by suddenly marrying William Jeffries Cheuning, Jr., a bank clerk, will sponsor the debut of her husband's cousin, Carol Herndon of Suffolk.

What she ran away from herself—the sparking but sometimes fatiguing social round—the young heiress now arranges for her

China Summons Yankee Expert To Stem Plague

By John B. Knox
BOSTON, Nov. 5.—In far-off northern China, where the seeds of the "Black Death" lurk, the authorities are calling frantically for an American physician, Dr. Percy T. Watson.

The disease which has wiped out millions of lives in the past is beginning another grim march and this quiet, unassuming little doctor-general is needed to halt the advance.

Cabled reports from the provinces of Shensi and Shansi tell of alarming outbreaks of bubonic plague—otherwise known as the "Black Death"—the same disease that swept away a quarter of the earth's population a few hundred years ago.

Dr. Watson, a medical missionary for the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, has devoted his life to fighting the battle of humanity out in the lonely land where plagues are bred. Plagues must be fought, Dr. Watson says, at their sources before they sweep through the world.

He came back from China this summer for a brief respite—a breathing spell in his hard and dangerous task—and has been with his family in Northfield, Minnesota.

During his visit to America he came to the headquarters of the motion pictures. On the same day Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker of Austin will appear.

For the publicity department luncheon November 12, J. J. Taylor of the Dallas News and W. O. Huggins of the Houston Chronicle will speak. Fine arts will be featured in the afternoon with Dr. Burt Roller Peabody, teacher and scholar, speaking on literature for children. The South's contribution to fine arts will be the subject for that evening, with Mrs. H. N. Peters of Waxahachie in charge. Needed legislation in Texas will be discussed by Senator Morris Sheppard, State Senator Clint Small of Wellington will appear on the same program.

Ross S. Sterling of Houston will welcome the visitors the morning of November 13. Mrs. George H. Hughes will discuss problems in delinquency and Dr. J. B. Slaughter of Rice Institute will speak on the American home. Mrs. Lindsay, president, will talk on "New Texas." That night Miss Kate Friend of Waco will preside at the pioneer dinner after which Miss Ella Hockaday will talk on "Woman as Educationist."

The federation's own project is the new club house to be erected soon in Austin. Mrs. J. F. Welder of Victoria, chairman of the headquarters committee will report November 12 and further plans will be made to finance the club house, which will cost about $100,000.

At this meeting, the federation will be asked to consider meeting biennially in convention instead of annually, and will also be requested to disregard a proposal to redistrict the federation and organize into more districts than the present seven. Mrs. A. H. Bailey will suggest that the convention year alternate with the biennial convention year of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Another attempt to make the state convention more convenient to the club public will be seen in a petition from the second district that the state meeting be held in the spring immediately following the spring district meetings when club interest is at its peak for the year. The fifth district through Mrs. Volney Taylor of Brownsville, has already submitted to the resolutions chairman, Mrs. F. B. Slater, formal

WILMETH NEWS

John Miller gave a Halloween party to the young people Friday night. Many ghosts and goblins were present. The basketball girls made some money by selling cakes to those present. A good time was enjoyed by all.

The Methodist people had quarterly conference Saturday. The ladies of the church brought dinner and everyone enjoyed the nice meal.

The Methodists had church Sunday and Sunday night. The pastor, Rev. Swearingen, was present but his child has been ill for quite a while. Everyone sympathizes with the pastor and many people have gone from here to sit up with the little girl and help the family as much as possible. Sam Freeman went and stayed Saturday night in order to help as much as possible. Darrell Harkins and Hugh Shakelford are in Fort Worth working. Darrell has been accepted as a member of the choir of the First Christian Church and is also taking voice.

Carl Harkins and Arch Hood have returned from a business trip to the plains.

J. E. Campbell has been ill but is better at present.
