LIGHT RAINS FALL OVER THE COUNTY

To Use Convict Labor On New Scenic Highway

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Nov. 8.—Right-of-way for the proposed Davis Mountains state scenic highway has been obtained with but three exceptions and negotiations will be completed soon for these tracts, according to a report made to the state highway commission by D. E. Colp of San Antonio, chairman of the state park commission.

Colp recently conferred with the commission relative to the project but was told that no action would be taken until all the right-of-way had been obtained and deeded to the state. Work on the proposed highway was expected to be started early next year.

The plan was sponsored by Senator Thomas B. Love of Dallas who said proper development would give Texas one of the greatest natural scenic parks in the United States. Colp told the commission the plan had met with the hearty approval of landowners in the section through which the highway will be routed and that no hitch had been encountered in the right-of-way negotiations. Adequate land has been deeded to the state, he said, for tourist camps and accommodations.

Construction of the highway will be carried out with convict labor from the Texas prison system. It will afford, according to Senator Love, a good opportunity for the state to test the value of labor on this kind of highway work and at the same time provide a recreation spot for Texas residents.

State highway engineers will supervise the convicts with the equipment being furnished by the highway department. Food and housing will be provided by the Texas prison system.

A law was passed at the last session of the legislature directing the highway department, the prison system and the park commission to co-operate in the project.

SIGNS FOR STREAMS

(By Associated Press)
GALVESTON, Nov. 8.—Visitors and home people of Galveston county alike will be given an offensive lesson in geography soon when a movement inaugurated by the Federation of Women's Clubs of the city is carried out. The movement advocated the erection of signs naming the streams of the county crossed by roads and highways. The signs have been ordered and the commissioners' court has agreed to see that they are properly set up.

Conatser Hopes To Free His Son

(By Associated Press)
STAMFORD, Tex., Nov. 8.—C. J. Conatser, father of Lloyd Conatser who is serving a life term in the state penitentiary after conviction as an accomplice of Joyce Shepard in the slaying of Sheriff Bob Smith and Deputy Jake Owens of Fisher county three years ago reports he is gaining ground in his campaign to free his son. He said eleven members of the jury which convicted his son had signed a pardon petition for presentation to Governor Moody.

The elder Conatser is basing his appeal on a statement made by Shepard a few hours before he died in the electric chair. The statement, signed by Shepard with a scrawl through unseeing eyes that he had gouged out with a nail several days before his execution, recited that he (Shepard) had been feigning insanity in an effort to escape death, and that Lloyd Conatser had nothing to do with the double killing. Shepard contended in the statement that he had led young Conatser, then 19 years of age, into the affair after concealing from the youth the fact that he had been stealing cotton. He said Conatser was visiting in the Shepard home at the time.

The elder Conatser said he would present to Governor Moody "the longest list of names on a petition ever placed before him," adding that he had many friends in Fisher county, where he was operating a small grocery store at the time of the killing, and at Levelland, where he now lives and has a filling station. Lloyd has served three years and two months of his term.

Assistance of the trial judge and prosecutors also is sought by Conatser.

Mrs. J. M. Skinner left on the early morning train Saturday for Georgetown to attend the funeral of her brother-in-law, Geo. Price, who died there Friday.

QUADRUPLETS, BOYS, 1 YEAR OLD, ARE SELF SUPPORTING

(By Associated Press)
BEAUMONT, Nov. 8.—Four boys—one year old and self supporting. That is the record hung up by quadruplet sons of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Perricone, of this city, who already are known internationally.

The lads were born October 31, 1929, the only quadruplet boys known to be living in the United States. They have thrived like the proverbial green bay tree and this fall have been making rounds of fairs in this section, where they were among the most interesting curiosities.

Among fairs attended were those at Jasper, Lufkin, and Shreveport, and they will be at the South Texas State Fair, to be held here from November 10 to 15.

Bill Wright, assistant coach of the San Angelo football team was here Saturday morning on his way to Abilene to scout a game there in the afternoon.

Legion to Stage Armistice Meet

Monday evening, Armistice eve, the local American Legion post and Auxiliary will join with other posts all over the nation in holding a pre-Armistice meeting. The meeting here will be held at American Legion Hall at 7:30 and all members of both organizations and their friends are invited to attend.

Post Commander J. W. Macune and Commander-elect Frank C. Dickey were busy Saturday arranging a short program of fun and arranging for refreshments to be used Monday night at the gathering. Late in the evening a joint meeting of the two units will be held and important business pertaining to both organizations attended to.

All Legion officials elected at the last regular meeting will be installed and take their offices Monday night. Commander Dickey soon after taking his oath of office will read a list of the standing committees for the coming year and outline a program of work for the next twelve months which will conform to the requests of the state and national organizations. In speaking of the committee appointments Saturday, Commander Dickey stated that he would name all those to serve on the committees and that he expected each one to work. If any committee falls down on its work during the year he said he would relieve it of the responsibility and name others who would take interest and put the work over.

This year a number of standing committees will be combined with the women's Auxiliary's committees as both men and women are interested in the work and should serve on joint committees.

The meeting Monday night will carry a spirit of Armistice through it and disabled veterans will be remembered in all that is done. It will have "Lest We Forget" as a theme and men who served will recall those days of war that are only a short time passed.

The officers, both retiring and incoming, are anxious that all members of both organizations be present. They feel that it is the one time of the year when its membership should get together and plans will be made for the entertaining of everyone. The meeting will be filled with fun and no long talks will be heard on the program.

Sam Behringer has charge of preparing the refreshments to be served and promises something good for everyone present.

All posts in the nation will meet at the same time Monday in observance of Armistice. This is done so that Armistice will be observed in every town in the nation. On Tuesday many will be attracted away from their own posts to other celebrations and there will be no chance for every town to celebrate in any way.

Just as all roads in the county were about smoothed again and ready for travel the light rain has made them slick and easy to cut up. For more than a month this has been the case and road workers and overseers have had a hard time keeping them in good condition.

Hunters are beginning to get their camping outfits together and plan for their guns and ammunition for the annual hunting trip at the opening of the game season this November. Several will leave here a few days before the opening of the season so they can be in camp and ready to hunt the first day of the open season.

The way turkeys poured into Ballinger Saturday one would think that it was the principal industry here. They arrived in buggies, wagons, trucks and cars and the street around receiving station were filled with vehicles trying to get their stock graded and sold. During the next ten days there will be a big rush here of birds for the Thanksgiving market.

Have you done any Christmas shopping? To some the big event seems a long way off but to those who like to get everything done and out of the way it is the midst of the gift shopping season. Most stores in Ballinger are now offering unusual values and the wise shopper is taking advantage of these extreme values and laying aside gifts for their list at Christmas time. Don't be one who shops late but buy now and provide your entire list with suitable gifts while the stocks are complete and values better.

The tabulation of votes in Runnels county in the election of last Tuesday will be made Monday when election judges and managers meet here to canvass and make totals on all the boxes in the county. The vote will not amount to much over 1900 for the general election it is thought as all boxes reported a very light vote. Interest here was as little in the election that no unofficial returns were received by phone. As soon as the results are made known Monday they will be sent to the Texas Election Bureau at the Texas Election Bureau at afternoon paper here.

COMMUNITY CHURCH IDEA SURPRISES PARIS

PARIS, Nov. 4.—French men have discovered that the new American Church of Paris, of which the Rev. Dr. Joseph Wilson Cochran is pastor, is to contain a gymnasium, bowling alley, dance hall and stage. The church is being built on the Quai d'Orsay overlooking the Seine.

So far distant from French ideas is this American conception of the work of a church that newspaper accounts of what the building is to contain are ended with exclamation points: "A church with a community house!"

The house of worship is being done in Gothic. It is thus architecturally comparable with that to which the French are accustomed. But on modernistic ideas of ministry have taken root here.

HOW'S your HEALTH

Edited by DR. LAGO GALESTON

ANEMIA

The term anemia is meant to indicate a lack of blood. But blood is a complicated substance, and the lack may be in one or more of its several elements.

In anemia we are chiefly concerned with the red cells of the blood and the iron-containing compound known as haemoglobin. In normal blood, there are from five to seven millions of red cells in each cubic millimeter, and a quantity of haemoglobin in each cell designated as one hundred per cent.

Evidently, then, anemia may be due to a lack of red blood cells, or to a lack of haemoglobin in the blood cells. The difference may be appreciated in the following two contrasting instances.

When one has lost a quantity of blood, say a pint, a mild anemia results. The sufferer will appear pale, and examination of his blood will show a decrease in red blood cells, but no decrease in the amount of haemoglobin in each cell.

In the case of anemia due to a long infectious illness, or to bad nutrition, there may be a loss in red blood cells, but in addition, there will probably also be a loss of haemoglobin in each cell.

Anemia is chiefly classified as primary or secondary. In secondary anemia it is usually associated with some other, and usually known cause of disease. Primary anemia is a disease "in its own rights," and the cause is usually unknown. Not infrequently the cause of primary anemia is centered in the so-called blood making organs.

In recent years, great progress has been made in the treatment of primary anemia. It has been found that liver and liver extracts, as well as the extracts of certain other animal tissues, may act as stimulants to the blood making mechanisms of the body.

By this method of treatment, many cases which formerly would have terminated fatally, are now being effectively cured.

MASTER AOUADAD SHEEP

By Mary Graham Bonner

The creature was standing on a high rock in his yard in the zoo and John and Peggy stood outside the yard and called up to him.

"Hello," John said, "don't you want to talk to me?"

"Yes," said the creature, "I do, but I'd like you to talk to me, too."

"What is your name?" John asked.

"My name is Master Aoudad, because I belong to the fine aoudad family. Another family name is that of Barbary wild sheep, but I like the name of aoudad better."

"Before I came to the zoo my home was in the mountains of the north part of the continent of Africa. It was very hot there, but I do not complain of your weather."

He had splendid, curved horns, and shaggy hair down his front. Now he was standing in one position and then changing to another as though he thought he were very fine.

PASSPORT RACKET VICTIMIZES MANY POOR PORTUGUESE

(By Associated Press)

LISBON, Nov. 2.—The discovery of an organized gang of passport fakers has caused a setback in the negotiations for the mutual abolition of passport formalities between Spain and Portugal.

Suspicion of the Spanish authorities were aroused by an unaccountable increase of Portuguese immigrants and inquiry revealed that the newcomers were supplied with forged passports and labor certificates.

The Spaniards got in touch with the Portuguese police and the frontier was combed on both sides. Several hundred gangsters were arrested.

It was said the plotters had reaped millions of escudos and ruined hundreds of once prosperous peasants. Their agents went from house to house and induced peasants to dispose of land and cattle and emigrate but many of the victims found the frontier barred and tramped back to their villages to start life over again.

Two of the head gangsters were government officials at Antas and Aveiro. One of them, Manuel Paulino, was about to retire as a rich man when the trick was exposed.

Tap Dance Just Old Timer Gone Modern

Tap dancing, staccato child room dancing. Eleanor Powell shows three typical steps—the Maxine-4, a twist and "On to Buffalo."

By Richard Massock
(Associated Press Feature Service Writer)
NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—America's dance is a rap-a-tap-tap of shuffles, breaks and time-steps.

The tap dance, which syncretized America took up as a fad five or six years ago, has become a dance for stage and home alike.

Hundreds of thousands are tapping throughout the country. Debutantes do it. Business men try it. Stenographers double in taps.

The staccato steps are even punctuating ballroom dancing.

The tap dance is an American development, advanced by jazz time music, Jack Manning, a New York instructor, says.

Its roots are in the Irish jig, the buck and wing, the Lancashire clog and other old-time frolics.

Anyone with a sense of rhythm can tap-dance, Manning said.

The step most used is called the time-step, because it is set to the beat of the music.

The fundamental movements are the brush, the shuffle, the slap and the tap, with of course steps and hops. Cramp rolls, wings, pickups, heel grinds, toe touches and heel taps are more difficult movements in the advanced work.

The "brush" describes that movement. The foot is brushed forward or back, the weight of the body always being on the other foot, leaving the foot in motion free.

A forward and back brush combine to make a shuffle. A shuffle and a step together make a "triple."

A forward brush and a step form a slap. For a step the foot is set down as in walking. A tap is a quick movement in which the foot is immediately raised again.

There are thousands of breaks, a break being the manner in which the dancer changes from one step to another in his routine. Step here means a combination of movements.

The usual routine is one step to a measure of music. Six steps of the same kind are made. The break comes on the seventh and eighth measure. Then a different step is begun.

A sample time-step and break (L. R. mean left, right) in a beginner's waltz clog routine:

Step L, shuffle R, ball change (i. e. turning on the balls of the feet) R to L. The count is "one-and-two-and-three."

This is done six times, alternating the feet, through six measures of music.

Now the break:

Hop L, shuffle R, hop L, jump to R, shuffle L, hop R, back brush L, hop R. The count is "one-and-a-two-three-and-a-four-and-five-and-a-six," thru two measures.

It is easier than it reads. A tap dancer can be made in three to six months, Manning says.

MOVIES

Mystery on a Stormy Night in "Borrowed Wives"

"Borrowed Wives" is the intriguing title of the Tiffany all-talking production which opens a three-day run at the Palace Theatre tomorrow.

The story is by Scott Darling and concerns itself with a mad chase after romance, money and a few other attractive objects, with most of the action laid in a mountainous country where a lonely lodge on a stormy night provides a fine setting for mystery and comedy.

Frank Strayer directed and RCA Photophone recorded.

Thrills and Action in Outdoor Romance, "The Texan"

What one of the best beloved of American authors put into words, Paramount, with Gary Cooper in the leading role, has put into a lifelike, talking picture, "The Texan," which closes a two-day run at the Palace Theatre tonight, is taken from O. Henry's immortal story, "A Double Dyed Deceiver."

It is the second of the spectacular, outdoor, talking epics which Paramount initiated with "The Virginian."

"The Texan" comes in at a gallop and gallops his way straight into the heart of the audience. He's gay, debonair, swagging, the same Cooper who won hearts in "Seven Days Leave," "Legion of the Condemned," and more recently and particularly, "The Virginian."

Here he makes love to beautiful Fay Wray, who is devastating as a South American senorita.

Spectacular and beautiful scenes form a background for the ever throbbing action of "The Texan."

The wind-swept plains of Texas change to the rolling pampas of South America, where, in an effort to rob a wealthy widow, the bandit Cooper goes as the impostor son. Instead of robbing the widow, however, he stays to love and woo her niece. And his thrilling fight to make good his regeneration makes the rousing climax.

Twists of honest humor turn the tense dramatic situations. There is fun, as well as thrills, in "The Texan."

BURGLARS DODGE T. N. T. AND GAS IN PARIS LAB

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, Nov. 8.—Burglars, unafraid of the virulent poisons and deadly explosives stored at the Sorbonne, jimmied their way into the chemical laboratory of France's most renowned university.

Skillfully eluding the super T. N. T. contained in aluminum tubes and fighting shy of glass jars and cylinders filled with poison gases, they stripped the laboratory of all platinum and gold receptacles and bullion kept there for experimental purposes. Their loot was estimated at $12,000.

A touch of irony marked the burglars' work; they used some of the steel tools of the laboratory to open safes and strong-boxes.

Profits in Dairy Feeding

EAST LANSING, Mich., Nov. 8.—Records of 1,430 herds in Michigan show that farmers who fed home-grown feeds to dairy cattle received $25 a ton for good alfalfa hay, $6 a ton for corn silage, $1.50 a bushel for corn, 90 cents for oats, $1.25 for barley and $1.25 for wheat.

2000 Expected at Armistice Game

H. C. Lyon received a letter from "Red" Williams, coach of the Brady Bulldogs, Friday in which the coach stated that everything was ready for the big annual Armistice Day football game there Tuesday. The game will begin at 2:30 in the afternoon at Richards Park and the town is filled with enthusiasm over the grudge game of the year.

Officials have been agreed upon and the field will be decorated in the colors of the two teams before the game. Fans who make the day trip to Brady are requested to take with them some of the students of the school in case they have room in their cars. Transportation for the team has been arranged and there is the band and pep squad that should be on hand full strength for the game and 130 odd will need ways to ride.

Tuesday will be a holiday here for everyone and all roads from here to Brady have been graded and will be in fair shape unless more rain falls.

The following was taken from the Brady Standard this week telling of the plans for the big game.

BRADY, Nov. 7.—It's the Brady Bulldogs versus the Ballinger Bearcats at Richards Park, Brady, November 11, and when these two teams meet for combat, fans of this section are assured of an excellent afternoon of entertainment. Since this will be one of the best games in district 11 a capacity crowd of approximately 2,000 is expected to attend. Last year the contest was played in Ballinger and about 2,500 people witnessed the game.

The two teams are more evenly matched this year than last season when the Bearcats went through the season undefeated, winning the regional championship. Coach "Pooch" Wright's Ballinger boys will depend more on power plays, while the Brady Bulldogs will likely play an open game.

Coach "Red" Williams will be able to throw his most formidable team against the visitors, all the casualties on the Brady squad being about ready for the game. Captain Frank Junell's ankle is rounding into shape. Callihan's broken finger is responding to treatment, and Hardin's shoulder is about o. k.

According to Ballinger reports, Sam Jones, ace ball carrier for the Bearcats who has been out with a broken leg since the first of the season, will be ready to play Tuesday.

FINDING THE RIGHT KIND OF POSITION

Young people starting out in life are confronted with a serious problem—that of getting a good start in a profitable worth-while profession. To overcome this difficulty, specialized preparation is needed, and in addition to this, the effective cooperation of an influential organization.

To accomplish these two purposes, Draughon's Colleges have spent more than a million dollars in perfecting and advertising their courses, and in extending the reputation of the Employment Department. Consequently it is only natural for business concerns to call on D. P. B. C. when they are in need of office help of any kind.

Draughon's Colleges have facilities for putting you in touch with good positions which you will readily recognize as superior and far-reaching. To create a demand for your services after you qualify here, our Affiliated Employments at Dallas, Wichita Falls, Abilene and Lubbock frequently send messages, similar to the following, to thousands of business firms, wholesale houses, law firms, banks and important public officials throughout the Southwest:

"We are in constant touch with many bookkeepers, stenographers—all-round office assistants—with and without experience. Ours is a complete business-training school. Bookkeepers keep actual books, stenographers take actual letters—hundreds of them—before they are recommended for positions. If you will phone your requirements to our Employment Department, we will endeavor to send one or more applicants promptly. This service is FREE."

Through similar messages to thousands of firms, from time to time, through advertising in business journals that bankers and business men read, through big office appliance concerns whose products we use and who are in close touch with big business men everywhere, and through our assistance, we are creating a demand for YOUR services that will enable us to secure you a good position at an attractive salary when we can recommend you, as we have already done for thousands of others.

Through the extensive activities of our Employment Department and because of our broad reputation throughout the South, we now have many times as many positions every year as graduates to recommend. And while in the beginning we had to prove such claims, time and observation have established our reputation, and young people no longer question the fact that there will be positions for them when they merit the diploma and recommendation of Draughon's Colleges.

And so it is unnecessary for us to make extravagant claims in regard to positions as some institutions do. Our Employment Records are open to inspection, and prove month in and month out that positions are always open for those who master the world-famous Draughon Training.

Each month we issue an Employment Report showing names of firms calling on us for help, the kind of positions, the students placed, and the like—actual positive proof that we have more calls each month than graduates to recommend. This should prove an intense interest to young people seeking a worth-while career, for during the last month alone, even in the face of hard-times, we had 43 calls for Draughon Training young men and women, several of which we were unable to fill.

If you want to be ready for a similar place at the earliest possible time, then mail the coupon below for free booklet for "How We Secure Positions." It will convince you that there will be a good place for you as soon as you qualify. Address, Draughon's College, Box BL, Abilene, Texas.

CONSTIPATION ILLS

Black-Draught Praised By Illinois Woman Who Tells of Its Many Uses In Her Home.

Chiro, Ill.—"I have used Black-Draught in my home for fifteen years, and it is a splendid medicine," writes Mrs. Bernice Brack, of 220 Thirty-second Street, this city. "Sometimes I am subject to colds and constipation, and I find it to be the finest thing for this."

"My mother used Theodor's Black-Draught in her home for years, and it was there that I began taking it. She thought it was so good that she had me to use it, and I have never found any medicine that would take its place satisfactorily. I find Black-Draught fine for sour stomach and gas. A few doses taken for several nights rid the system of poison due to constipation and it makes me feel like a new person."

"I try to keep Black-Draught always on hand, and I treat all small illness with it. I can certainly recommend it for I have found it very good and dependable."

In thousands of families, this medicine has a corner all its own on the medicine shelf. Theodor's Black-Draught contains no chemicals. Composed of pure botanical roots and herbs. Get the genuine Theodor's Black-Draught which has been in use nearly 100 years.

MEN JUST CAN'T COOK. SAY WOMEN MANAGERS
(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Women are preferred to men as cooks by some managers of dining rooms catering to women.
"They are cleaner than men," says Mrs. Stevens, manager of the Junior League dining room. "They are also more willing to cook in small quantities and more careful to cook good food for employees."
Miss Thallman, dining room manager of the Women's City Club, says the cooking of men is good but too standardized.
"Men excel in cooking steaks and chops," she says, "and they get certain decorative effects, but they repeat certain dishes over and over. Women cooks are willing to try new things."

dents of medical science will aid in modernizing the Texas' system. Walthall said.

Perhaps the two greatest needs, he said, are fireproofing of all buildings and additional employees.

When Walthall retires from the board of control it is likely he will get another state post under Neff, now chairman of the railroad commission. He served in two other appointive posts—secretary to the governor and oil and gas supervisor for the railroad commission—before his appointment to the control board.

The board of control boasts of one of the most faithful state employees—J. D. Hall, chief of the budget. Hall was stricken with appendicitis a few weeks ago, while at work. He was taken to the operating room in a critical condition. Now he is back at his desk, having allowed himself a very short time to recuperate.

The reason for his hurry to get back to work was the necessity for completing the budget by the promised date, December 1. This voluminous document, which gives recommendations for appropriations for every department of state, must be gone over two and three times by him, checked and re-checked for possible error.
Like Walthall, Hall once served in the executive department, as assistant secretary to the governor.

No one could be found to pledge the accuracy of the following story—which concerns an error such as Mr. Hall so assiduously tries to avoid—but its relator deposes his belief that it is true.

Once there was an error made so the story goes, in an appropriation bill by which a stenog-

Kabul Goes Back To Ancient Ways Under Nadir Shah

(By Associated Press)
PESHAWAR, Northwest Frontier, India, Nov. 8.—Kabul, capital of Afghanistan, is gradually slipping back to many of the picturesque native customs which ex-King Amanullah tried to abolish after his tour of Europe in 1928.

Travels from Kabul say that the last "jirgah," a native mass meeting summoned by Nadir Shah, was attended by more than 300 tribal representatives from various parts of Afghanistan. Various subjects of vital interest to the country districts were discussed.

All the delegates wore tribal dress, a strong contrast to the practice under Amanullah when all were urged to don European dress and some of the tribesmen, never having seen a frock coat before they arrived at the capital, had to be instructed in how to wear one.

It was stated at the "jirgah" that the roundup of rebels in Kohistan and Kohidaman was proceeding apace, and that the prisoners included the father of Bacha Sakao, "the water boy of the north," who dethroned Amanullah, but was subsequently beaten and hanged by Nadir's men. Most of the captives from last summer's uprising have been blown from cannon.

rapher's salary was made to read "$15,000," instead of "$1,500." The error passed through both houses of the legislature, through the governor's hands, and became law.
The relator did not know whether the stenographer named collected the $15,000.

BALLINGER JUNIORS BEAT SAN ANGELO

The Ballinger Juniors defeated the San Angelo Juniors here Saturday morning by the score of 7 to 0. The game was played in a slow drizzle but the gridiron was not muddy enough to halt the speed of the players.

Elwin Williams counted the Ballinger touchdown on a spin play when he raced around right end for 30 yards. He featured in a number of other long runs and was well on his way for another touchdown when the game ended. He had just completed a 25-yard run, taking the pigskin to San Angelo's 20-yard line as the game was over.

Following the touchdown McWilliams took the ball across the line for the extra point. Ballinger was able to gain at will during the game and the short quarters kept them from scoring more.
