17 DEAD; 60 INJURED IN OKLAHOMA STORM

Panhandle Gets First Snow; Wind Does Much Property Damage

(By Associated Press)
DALLAS, Nov. 19.—Snow, rain, and sunshine was the weather combination in Texas today as a cold wave moved in from the Rocky Mountain region.

Amarillo and Borger received their first snow of the season, the flakes melting as they fell, however. The temperature was reported at 35 degrees.

A cold, 30-miles-an-hour wind reached Wichita Falls and Vernon.

El Paso reported 33 degrees with rain and a trace of snow. The nearby mountains are blanketed in snow. Wind unroofed the home of C. E. Wright, whose family escaped without injury.

A report from Gainesville told of a sudden drop in the temperature which was accompanied by a light shower. Dallas and vicinity received a brief sprinkle.

The United States weather bureau forecast freezing temperatures for the Panhandle and North Texas within twenty-four hours. The West Texas temperature was predicted to fall to 32 degrees.

Western United States today generally saw a headlong flight of the protracted Indian summer. Western Kansas reported heavy snows at St. Francis and Spring, and showers at Elsworth and Hays.

A dispatch from Denver said heavy snow had closed the mountain passes in that area. Stockmen in that section are jubilant as protracted fair weather threatened to deplete range land and storage reservoirs are nearly dry.

Helena, Montana, today reported 12 degrees below zero, and said from six inches to two feet of snow covered Wyoming.

A three-inch snow fell at Denver.

Heavy snowfall is reported to have covered the Southern California mountains. Frost warnings were issued by the federal weather bureau for the San Bernardino and San Fernando valleys.

SCOUT COURT OF HONOR POSTPONED ONE WEEK

The Boy Scout court of honor scheduled to be held here next Friday night has been postponed for one week by the leaders. On account of the Ballinger-Winters football game it was decided not to attempt it this week as many local citizens will return home late and will not feel like attending after supper. A later announcement will give the time and place of the court.

Atlantic Flight Not to Be Made

(By Associated Press)
LISBON, Portugal, Nov. 19.—Maurice Dornier announced here today that it is almost certain the projected transatlantic flight of the gigantic German seaplane, DO-X, will be abandoned on account of adverse weather all along the Portuguese coast and across the Atlantic.

Lions Program Being Planned

The Ballinger Lions Club is looking forward to some fine programs in the near future. Next Friday noon the program will be devoted to the American Red Cross, and C. R. Stephens, of Ballinger, chairman of the Runnels county chapter, will talk to the Lions on the work done in this county and outline accomplishments in the roll call and relief movement recently completed by the great charity organization.

The club's program committee will have entertainment numbers to present in connection with this special program and urge all members to attend.

On Friday night following Thanksgiving V. S. Stone again will be here with the Lions Club and will deliver a public address. Definite arrangements have not been concluded for this engagement but an announcement will be published as soon as the committee decided on the place and hour. Judge Stone is one of the foremost lecturers of the nation and those who heard him here a week ago are anxious to have the same privilege again.

(By Associated Press)
HOUSTON, Nov. 19.—The Women's Christian Temperance Union in convention here today, through action by the executive committee, appealed to merchants to stop advertising and exposing for sale, and selling "hip pocket flasks," declaring the flasks are "used for transporting liquor for beverage purposes, hence contributing to violation of the prohibition law."

CONVENTIONS BOOKED FOR SAN ANTONIO IN '31

(By Associated Press)
SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 19.—The Alamogordo is booked to play host to approximately 75,000 visitors in 1931, brought here by conventions and organization meetings and not including the winter's quota of tourists, according to a survey by the conventions department of the chamber of commerce. It is estimated convention visitors will spend almost $2,000,000 here.

Twenty-six large conventions, international, national and state, have been scheduled by the department this year and negotiations for three other big meetings are under way.

Spanish Outbreak About Subsided

(By Associated Press)
MADRID, Spain, Nov. 19.—Fears of revolution, which last night caused the authorities to rush troops into Madrid with orders to shoot first and investigate afterwards if mobs assembled, apparently are subsiding today.

Grim cavalymen, looking like Texas rangers, continued to patrol the streets with riot gun, however.

Disorders also are reported from Seville and Barcelona.

Practically all the turkey raising sections of West Texas report about 40 per cent of the crop marketed on the Thanksgiving market and the balance being held for the Christmas trade. One reason for the shortage on the Thanksgiving market was due to the fact that only No. 1 birds were sold for that trade. Turkeys too light to class as number ones were saved for Christmas, and by that time, with proper feeding, will sell as No. 1 fowls. And many thought the market would be better during the Christmas season and held back on that account. The Yuletide market will open here early and it is predicted that many cars will be shipped to eastern centers.

Runnels county farmers are commencing early this year to diversify and the amount of acreage sown in small grain shows cotton acreage will be cut considerably next season. Shortage of food here this year will cause a large amount to be planted next year and that also will slash the cotton acreage. Practically every far-seeing institution and organization is taking up the plan outlined by the Texas Bankers' Association and will encourage balanced crops with plenty of livestock and poultry to supply each family's needs at least. Experts agree that this is the salvation of the country and many farmers are beginning to realize that cotton is a poor man's crop and one that will keep him poor.

There is considerable agitation in Texas for a law to regulate the issuance of drivers' licenses. States that have tried the plan have made a great stride forward in eliminating traffic accidents and it is predicted that the next session of the Texas legislature will consider and pass a bill of this kind, similar to that tried and tested in other states. It is foolish to allow individuals who drive carelessly to continue to operate a motor vehicle. The law should contain the provision for revoking the license of a driver after it had been proven he was not qualified. Boys and girls of any size and age are turned loose in Texas with a car and sometimes they are so small that it is impossible for them to reach the brakes. Many of them become regular daredevils and speeding is their daily amusement. This class of drivers is a menace and the only reason more accidents do not occur is because other motorists see them coming and make way for them.

The compulsory education law becomes effective December 1 and for 100 school days all children in the school age are required to attend. In towns the size of Ballinger where there is no regular truant officer the superintendent of schools acts in that capacity and with his many other duties

Says Puffy: "I must confess it now—of Reindeer I am fond. That's true if they are brunets, and likewise if they're blond. Each year about this time they always grow to be the rage—They must be smart to do that in this mechanistic age."

he needs the full cooperation of the citizens to enforce this law as it was intended. Truant officers meet many difficulties in trying to enforce this law. Many times poverty is the excuse offered, parents asserting that they can neither provide suitable clothing nor lunches for their children. When this is true the officer should receive assistance from organizations in providing necessities for these unfortunate. Some parents are merely indifferent and try to hide their children—creating another difficulty that only can be overcome by the aid of neighbors of the family. When children are out of school and a neighbor knows it he should lend every assistance to the authorities in seeing that the youngsters are given at least the advantage of 100 days' instruction. Recently two youths were convicted of crimes in district court here and when questioned by the judge each stated that his education stopped at the end of the fifth grade. The laws of this state require more than that and every citizen interested in the rising generation should consider it as much his duty as that of the truant officer to see that the future manhood and womanhood of this community is given a fair chance to gain useful knowledge. Remember December 1st and make it some of your business to learn why some youngster is out of school and loafing about town, thus assisting the authorities in enforcement of this law.

NOTICE
Evangelist Chas. W. Watkins, of Petersburg, Texas, will begin a revival meeting at the Church of Christ at Hatchel, Saturday evening, November 22. Preaching services will continue to December 1, starting at 7:15 each evening.

HOW'S your HEALTH

Edited by Dr. Iago Goldstein, Academy of Medicine

PESTILENCE AND DISASTER
Pestilence is the companion of disaster. When earthquake, hurricane, flood or conflagration strikes at a community, disease, like a scavenger, follows in the wake.

And those that come to the rescue of the stricken peoples must bring not only supplies to fill the immediate needs of the sufferers, but also, medicines, antiseptics, vaccines and the like.

Disaster disrupts community life. It also disorganizes the machinery for safeguarding the health of the inhabitants. Water mains are broken, sewer lines are disrupted. Garbage remains uncollected. Wastes are strewn about.

The sick and the well are huddled together in makeshift shelters. People are compelled to live in unnatural closeness. And all of this engenders disease.

Typhoid is bound to appear. In every large group of persons there are some typhoid carriers, who, though not sick of the disease, shed typhoid bacilli.

With all the common sanitary precautions forgotten in the stir of the disaster, with the water lines and sewer lines disrupted, and with all the crowding resulting, typhoid spreads like wild fire.

Small pox, and in certain communities, cholera and typhus are also bound to flare up. For these diseases thrive on crowding. Contacts are increased, the want of adequate food and rest soon tell on the sufferers, and unless appropriate preventive measures are taken, the ominous head of pestilence is soon seen above the

And that is why, with food, tents, clothing and other emergency supplies, the rescuers also bring typhoid vaccine, small pox vaccine, tetanus antitoxin and such other of the products of modern science as are required to combat the disease that follow disaster.

MUCH TRAVELED HANDBAG SHOWS UP IN ABILENE

ABILENE, Nov. 19.—Consigned "to hell and back," a much-traveled handbag, property of nobody in particular and shifted about from town to town at the option of bus drivers and baggage-men, was handled through a bus terminal here recently and sent a long on its ever-widening "tour."

The bag, which originated in El Paso more than two months ago, bears labels and stickers from towns throughout the southwest, along the Atlantic seaboard and as far east as New York. It has no definite destination.

In its rounds it has picked up a varied assortment of articles, an empty tin can, a pink bottle labeled from Louisville, Ky., tooth brushes, soap, newspapers, a beer bottle, one sock, smoked glasses, tin pans, etc.

PLAIN COLORS DOMINATE IN 1931 AUTO LICENSES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—The color "fashions" for 1931 automobile licenses will remain much the same as this year.

First rank will be divided between two color combinations, white on black and white on green, each being adopted by five states.

Where 13 states and the District of Columbia retained their 1929 colors for 1930, merely reversing them, 11 states and the district will reverse 1930 colors.

SUNDOWN STORIES

CURLING SMOKE

By Mary Graham Bonner
The Little Black Clock led John and Peggy to the roof of a house where he wanted them to meet another friend of his.

And there they saw smoke curling out of a chimney.
"Hello, Curly," said the Little Black Clock.

"Hello," answered the Curling Smoke, as it came out of the chimney, and no sooner had the first "hello" been said than more and more Curling Smoke came following along, out of the chimney, and these kept on saying, "Hello," "Hello," "Hello."

"This is the Curling Smoke family," said the Little Black Clock. "They're all so fond of curling their way out of chimneys up in the air."

"Sometimes they make their homes in chimneys and sometimes in the engines of trains. But they love to curl and they love to play Follow the Leader."

"We play that sometimes," said John.
"Then you know the game," said the Little Black Clock.

"That's what the Curling Smoke Family likes to do, and you'll watch them now as they're playing."

John and Peggy watched and more and more Curling Smoke kept coming out of the chimney, twisting around a little and then going up into the air.

"When they get up a little distance they just like to lose themselves in the air," the Little Black Clock said.

As the Curling Smoke family kept coming out of the chimney they spoke to John and Peggy.

After a little while the Little Black Clock took the children down from the roof and they watched the Curling Smoke Family coming from the engine of a puffing train down by the railway station to which he took them.

Yes, they were playing Follow the Leader too!

WILL ASK GOVERNMENT TO PAY FOR CAMEL HERD

AUSTIN, Nov. 19.—Heirs of the late Col. Bethel Coopwood of Austin and San Antonio are preparing to ask the federal government for payment for a herd of camels they claim was confiscated at the close of the Civil War.

According to the heirs, a herd had been placed at Kerrville prior to the Civil War and at the start of the conflict was taken over by the Confederate government, some being used and others turned loose. At the end of hostilities camels again were herded together and purchased by Coopwood for $31 a head as the nucleus of a commercial herd which he planned to use in the dry southwest.

They were taken from Coopwood by federal soldiers who

LOVED PASTRIES BUT SUFFERED IF SHE ATE THEM

"I like pies better than most any food, but I used to suffer when I ate pastry," says Mrs. Emma Brooks, 24 Morgan Blvd., New Orleans, La.

"I suffered like that from indigestion for over five years and tried all sorts of things for relief before my sister told me about Pape's Diapepsin."

"It took me right out of my indigestion. I now have a much better appetite, eat pastry or anything I want and have no after-effects. I will never forget Pape's Diapepsin and recommend it to everyone I know."

If you suffer from indigestion, often or just occasionally, get a package of these candy-like tablets from your druggist. Thanksgiving is Family Cook's Test

By Mrs. Alexander George (Author of "Meat of the Day")
Since colonial times Thanksgiving has been a traditional home festival day with the dinner a center of joyous gatherings of families and friends.

From the kitchen comes the inviting fragrance of old-fashioned foods, which after all are the most popular at this season. Any fowl or roast can be selected, as the housewife desires. The accompanying foods, however, are about the same regardless of meat or fowl choice.

If duck or goose are served, apple sauce or baked apples and currant jelly should be substituted for the cranberry mixtures.

The gifts of the harvest are suggested for table decorations. A basket or bowl of fruit, nuts and raisins is an attractive centerpiece for the table. Favor cups and place cards of course should contain emblems of the season.

Thanksgiving Dinner Menu
Oyster Cocktail, Salted Walrus, Roast Turkey, Low's Stuffing, Giblet Gravy, Vegetable Mold, Cranberry Sauce, Harvest Salad, Pumpkin Pie, Cheese Assorted Nuts

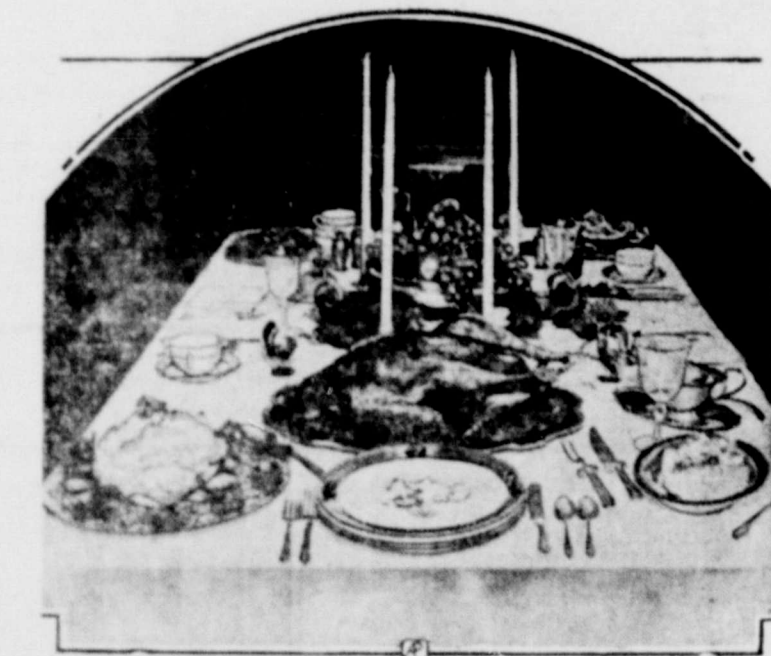

Low's Stuffing, for 12-pound fowl
Two loaves white 2 1/2 teaspoon salt bread (day old) 1 1/2 teaspoon paprika (Pound loaves) 2 1/2 cup butter, melted

Break the loaves in halves and remove and crumble the soft part. Do not use the crusts, but rub them together to remove all crumbs. Using a fork, lightly combine the crusts with the rest of the ingredients and carefully stuff the fowl.

This is a delicious dressing and it will not become soggy when cooked.

Vegetable Mold
1 large cauliflower 1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup sliced 1/4 teaspoon paprika
2 cups peas 4 tablespoons butter

Soak the cauliflower 30 minutes in 1 quart of cold water and 1 teaspoon of salt. Rinse in cold water. Steam until tender. Boil the carrots and peas. Arrange the cooked cauliflower on a large serving platter. Surround with a ring of carrots and then add a ring of peas. Season with rest of ingredients and garnish with parsley. Serve at once.

Here is the Thanksgiving dinner table loaded with traditional foods for the family festival.

Cranberry Sauce
1 cup berries 1 cup sugar
1 cup water

Carefully look over the berries and remove all stems and soft berries. Add the water and boil gently 15 minutes. Add the sugar. Boil 6 minutes. Pour into small glass cups. Chill.

Harvest Salad
1 package lemon 1 cup chopped flavored gelatin
1/2 cup cabbage 1/2 cup chopped mixture
1 cup boiling 1/2 cup grated raw water
2 tablespoons carrots 1 tablespoon finely sliced walnuts
1 tablespoon sugar 1/2 teaspoon salt

Pour the boiling water over the gelatin mixture and stir until it has dissolved. Add the vinegar, sugar and salt. Cool. Add the rest of the ingredients and pour into a mold which has been rinsed out with cold water. Set in cold place to stiffen. Unmold on lettuce. Cover and surround with salad dressing.

Pumpkin Filling for 2 Pies
3 cups mashed 1/2 teaspoon cloves cooked pumpkin 1/2 teaspoon ginger
1 1/2 cups sugar 1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons cinnamon 2 tablespoons butter, melted
1 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg 4 eggs, well beaten
1/2 cup milk 2 cups milk

Beat the eggs and add the milk. Mix well and add rest of ingredients which have been mixed together. Pour into 2 deep un-baked pie shells which have been placed in the pie pans. Bake 1 hour in very slow oven.

Thanksgiving Hints
To prevent a soggy undercrust of pumpkin pie, bake the crust 5 minutes in moderate oven before adding the filling.
Pumpkin pie requires long, slow cooking.

Whipped cream, ice cream or chopped nuts can be served on top of the pie when served.
Small oysters, cooked, mashed chestnuts or nuts can be added to turkey stuffing.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Catchers use only honeyed words to their pitchers when things are going wrong, if you believe Gabby Hartnett of the Chicago Cubs.

Hartnett was asked by the master of ceremonies this question at a local theater: "Gabby, the fans would like to know what you say to a pitcher when you walk out to the box after you dig one out of the dirt?"

"Well," said Gabby, "I just say, 'Harold, you really mustn't do that.'"

Ballinger Fans Line Up for Winters Game

"A Friendly Game Between Old Rivals"

It has a compelling dramatic quality that makes it grip audiences. It has a love interest manifested only conversationally in dialogue between male characters regarding a girl who is never seen.

Besides Colin Clive, the cast includes Ian Maclaren, David Manners, Anthony Bushnell, Billy Bevan, Charles Gerrard, Thomas Whiteley, Jack Pitcairn and Walter Klinger.

"Back Pay" is Strong Drama of Society's Heights and Depths

"Back Pay," Corinne Griffith's latest starring picture for First National, which closes at the Palace Theatre tonight, is founded on the most famous of all Fannie Hurst's short stories. The period of "Back Pay" is during the late World War and one of the important sequences is laid in no man's land in France, but Director Wm. A. Seiter has chosen intimate sidelights of the war rather than any spectacular battle scenes. There are no shots of thousands of soldiers on the march or huge enemy armies fighting in the trenches. Instead, the main action is concentrated on a small group of eight American doughboys in a dugout detailed to lay barbed wire entanglements.

In addition to Grant Withers, who plays opposite Miss Griffith, the star's supporting cast includes Montagu Love, Vivian Oakland, Hallam Cooley, Geneva Mitchell, William Bailey, Virginia Sale and Louise Beavers.

The struggle between love and luxury is at the basis worthy of Miss Griffith's emotional talents. According to Director Seiter, all the witticisms and deep currents of humor, drama and characterization which have brought fame to the author of "Lummox," "Humoresque," and "Back Pay," have been retained in Francis Edwards Faragoh's screen adaptation of Miss Hurst's story.

U. S. ENGINEERS BUILD PLANE PLANT IN CHILE

(By Associated Press) SANTIAGO, Chile, Nov. 19.—The first foreign airplane factory built by American aviation interests has been completed here, and work started on its first order of 40 military planes for the Chilean air corps.

During construction of the plant by the Curtiss-Wright export corporation 25 Chilean engineers received instruction at the company's military aircraft factory in Buffalo, N. Y.

They will form the nucleus of the staff, which will be made up of native Chilean labor, though a small group of resident American engineers will supervise plane production.

All the planes on order are military observation ships, but the government contract stipulated that one-half of the order may be changed later to pursuit ships.

Wisconsin's state institutional farms, totalling more than 9,000 acres, made a profit of $88,584 during the 1929 crop year, an audit showed.

City to Close Up for Friday's Grid Game

A list was circulated here Wednesday for firms to close their places of business at 2:00 o'clock Friday and attend the Winters-Ballinger football game at 3:00 that afternoon. The reporting committee did not take its list to any grocery stores as the understanding was that this group would be interviewed by another committee. Most business heads seen were eager to close, go themselves and to permit all their employees to attend.

Following is the petition: "We, the undersigned, for the purpose of giving our full support and encouragement to the activities of the city public schools, agree to close our places of business at 2:00 p. m. Friday, November 21, in order that our employees may be given an opportunity to witness the Ballinger-Winters football game, same being the last conference game of the 1930 football season:

MAY CREATE DOMESTIC RELATIONS COURT AT S. A.

(By Associated Press) SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 19.—Creation in Bexar county of a court of domestic relations for handling wife abandonment cases and other domestic problems exclusively was recommended in the final report of a grand jury in the thirty-seventh district court here.

The jury reminded Judge W. S. Anderson, in a special note, that there now were hundreds of domestic cases cluttering up the dockets of the San Antonio district courts and suggested that a special court be created to work exclusively on domestic problems.

SPORTS

Tickets for the Winters-Ballinger game Friday are selling fast and indications are that it will have the largest patronage ever known before at this annual clash. It is safe to say that everyone in Ballinger who can get off from their employment long enough to attend the game will go and the Ballinger sideline will have more people on it than at any time this year.

Winters has a backfield that will cause plenty of trouble for the Bearcats. Pratt, Smith, Coley and Baldwin are all good ball carriers and their runs are built behind a mass of interference. The biggest problem confronting the Bearcat coaches is how to break through this interference and stop the gains of these backs. There is no doubt that it is a real problem as no team has accomplished the feat this year so far and if the Bearcats fail it will be a perfect season for the Blizzards.

The Blizzards have two good wingmen also and one of the outstanding tackles in the district for the Winters team is a real man on both offense and defense. Weighing about 180 with plenty of fight and experience he will be hard to handle. All these facts are known to the Bearcats and they will enter the game knowing that they have a full-sized days' job on their hands.

There is no denying the fact that Ballinger has played in luck this season. Some call it luck, others call it hustling. Anyway, they have taken advantage of all the breaks and if the breaks happen in the Winters game and Ballinger can help themselves by these breaks it will give them their chance to win. Remember the A. C. C. game here when the opponents piled up twenty-odd first downs to our nothing and yet the fighting Bearcats beat them 19 to 6. Again at Brady the first downs were against the Bearcats 19 to 3 and the Bearcats were winners. One thing sure, the Bearcats will never be defeated until the last gun is fired.

One thing about those Blizzards, it is one of the best balanced teams in this section. There are no little men and no big ones. They are all plenty big, plenty fast, plenty smart, well coached, can fight and have a big supply of reserve material.

Fans and players alike should realize that such a team will be hard to beat and yet they are not invincible as Coleman proved when the Blizzards could not score on that team Armistice Day.

Entire Staff Knew Its "Journey's End," War Spectacle Next at Palace

No chances were taken by Tiffany Productions, Inc., with the technical detail and scenic investiture in filming "Journey's End," the R. C. Sheriff war play that critics have termed the most sensational stage success of today.

Col. Gordon Magee, perhaps the foremost authority in Hollywood on British and other foreign military regulations and atmosphere, was the technical adviser, with the aid of practically the entire staff and cast of the production. Nearly every member of "Journey's End" has seen the type of war service depicted, and this is an assurance of absolute perfection in detail.

James Whale directed this all-talking picture, recorded by RCA Photophone, and to be shown in Ballinger Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday at the Palace Theatre. Whale is a war veteran and also directed the original London and New York stage productions of the play. Colin Clive, who created the original role of Stanhope in the first stage production, plays the same role in the screen version. He traveled from London to Hollywood to do it. His round trip involved twenty days of traveling for twenty-eight days of work before the camera. He had to be back in London on a definite date to resume the stage role.

George Pearson, supervisor of the entire filming, is one of the best known English directors and film producers. He has combined a lifetime of experience in both dramatic and film work in planning and making the talking picture of "Journey's End." The story is the oddest in stage history. Vocational Program Pleases Rotarians

A large attendance of Rotarians was present Wednesday noon at the Central Hotel to hear an excellent program and attend the regular weekly luncheon.

After the usual opening ceremony and the serving of the menu, one of the best programs in several months was heard.

R. G. Erwin was introduced by the program committee for a talk on his vocation. Instead of the usual dry vocational talk of how a certain type of business is conducted, Mr. Erwin spoke first of the passing of the old time country banker. He described him as a big pompous fellow with a gold studded shirt front and a double breasted vest. A man who wrote all the leading editorials, presided at all meetings, appointed committees, passed resolutions and then passed the buck. He not only saved the state and nation but saved the farmer at least twice each year for 25 years. He was president of all the organizations in the community with the exception of those of which he was secretary. He was a man so busy telling the other fellow how to run his business that he had not time for his own.

Mr. Erwin then changed to the other side of the picture and the conditions as we find them today. His advice to bankers was, "If you wish to gain this leadership, keep your utterances and picture out of the paper and stick your own feet under the desk more regularly." To the public, his advice was "Get to work, live within your income and buy what you can pay for."

At this point in his talk Mr. Erwin demanded an apology of J. W. Macune for an incident which occurred several weeks ago when Macune as chairman of the attendance committee singled out a few members including Mr. Erwin and embarrassed those whose attendance records were not as good as theirs. The apology was demanded by Mr. Erwin to be made publicly then and in plain language that could not be misunderstood by anyone. A committee composed of E. M. Lynn, E. Shepperd and M. C. Atkins was appointed to pass on the apology and see if it was sufficient to satisfy. Dr. Macune in selecting his "plain language," used Spanish for the apology and when he finished it was translated into English and read as follows: "A circumlocutory and pleonastic cycle of oratorical sonorosity circumscribing an atom of ideality lost in verbal profundity."

L. R. Tigner was the next speaker and talked about his vocation, using as his subject, "The Evolution of Table Utensils." He pointed out that these were used in the earliest history of the race. The spoon he proved the earliest used and was first mentioned in the history in Exodus. The knife Mr. Tigner stated, was made in the earliest prehistoric times of bone and was probably used for hunting and not for eating. Knives came into general use about the 18th century. Forks were first used as a table implement about 600 A. D. for use with certain meats only, and became a part of table equipment early, being first used by the Italian nobility, lower classes objecting to the custom, declaring it was effeminate. At this time the host did not furnish the utensils for their guests but each brought, fork and spoon just as a man today carries his pocket knife.

Ballinger Women Attend Meeting

A large number of Ballinger women left early Wednesday for San Angelo to attend the Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Association convention.

They will remain there for the entire day's program which will be held in sections allowing anyone to hear that phase of the work they are most interested in.

Those attending Tuesday heard 3 M. N. Marrs address the convention on school work and the help the P-T. A. is proving in all sections of the state.

A varied program is scheduled for today, starting with publicity and program-making classes at the Hilton hotel at 8 o'clock this morning and climaxed in the evening program beginning at 7:15 o'clock at the First Baptist Church with the hearing over the radio of the Child Conference inaugural address of President Hoover at Washington.

From 9:45 o'clock to noon today a business meeting will be held at the ballroom by the association. Mrs. Noyes Darling Smith, state president, will present eight of the district presidents for address.

Dinner to day and tomorrow will be served the delegates by the women of the Trinity Methodist Church at the Masonic Hall at a 50 cent plate charge.

Mrs. S. M. N. Marrs, member of the White House Conference, will preside from 1:30 to 2:30 o'clock at a conference in child and parent education. Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham, representative for the Foundation for Child Welfare and Parent Education, will speak at 5 o'clock two other conferences will be conducted, one on parental education at the ballroom by Dr. Myers and another on city councils by Mrs. Jack Little, state chairman of city councils, at the modernistic dining room.

A twilight tea honoring the visiting delegates and with the presidents of local P-T. A.'s hostesses will be had at the Hilton hotel from 6 to 7 o'clock in the evening.

Vocal and instrumental music will be featured in the evening program at the First Baptist Church over which Mrs. Smith will preside. The program will be closed with President Hoover's address to the White House Conference delegates.

ARMADILLOS INVADE EAST TEXAS; WORK IS STARTED
(By Associated Press)
BEAUMONT, Nov. 19.—Dan Foster, field assistant of the United States Biological Survey, has lined up on the side of the armadillo in a battle centered on that hard-shelled mammal which has recently invaded southeast Texas in large numbers.

The specific charge against this poacher is that he devours eggs of quail and other birds that frequent this section and nest on the ground, thereby depleting the game supply.

Foster declares that the armadillo is invaluable from the view of agriculture in that he is a bug and beetle eater, devouring millions of pests that are enemies of farm crops.

Armadillos are native to West Texas and only recently have they become a problem in this section.

More than 26,000 oil wells were drilled in the United States in 1929, with 15,500 producing oil, 2,900 gas, and 7,600 being dry holes.

About New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Leaves from a New Yorker's notebook: Apple knockers have disappeared from the city sidewalks and now every important corner is occupied by apple sellers. That's progress.

The vendors are deserters from the army of unemployed. They buy a box of fruit apiece and hawk it at 5 cents a piece (I read my dictionary). Some are so near each other they could hold hands, if they weren't competitors.

Apple-carts long have been among the vehicles on New York streets. The Wall Street zone has had most of them. In Horatio Alger days, old women wheeled them. In recent years they have been presided over mostly by men, which somehow spoiled the picture.

Standing Room Only
On the great red doors of the Riverside (Rockefeller skyscraper) church is hung this sign:

"The doors are finally closed for the Sunday morning service at the beginning of the sermon."

Policemen stand outside, watching the curious who fall to get in before the doors are closed. The other Sunday four were left in the line that had formed before the service. These soon were joined by late arrivals.

By the time the service was over a large cluster of sightseers was waiting on the steps, as at a movie opening, to see the audience depart.

They made the mistake, however, of standing at the exit from the elevators, which whisk a large part of the audience to the balcony instead of the exit from the reserved pew section, where most of the silk hat wearers sit.

The congregation was slow to leave the vast auditorium (it seats 2,400). Many filed up to shake the hand of Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, the pastor, who stood, in his academic gown and hood, on the steps leading from the pulpit.

As soon as church was out, a miniature golf course in the rear was opened for business.

Luxury
Mrs. Harriet Schulte, former wife of David A. Schulte, the tobacco merchant, has one of the most elegant lofty apartments in town.

It is a duplex on the top two floors of a new hotel and is virtually a penthouse, with terraces overlooking all Central Park on one side and downtown Manhattan on the other.

After going through it, one is left with a mixed impression of rose walls, marble baths, stone stairways and tidden cupboards.

The hotel is continental throughout. All English signs are duplicated in French and the entire staff, excepting an assistant manager, is French, German and Swiss.

The Duke of Manchester, whom I last saw in the cocktail room of the Savoy in London, is stopping there. One of the men-about-London, he now is seeing New York, with Fanny Ward as a guide.

That makes two British noblemen in our midst, the other being Lord Castlerosse, who is columnist—no less. A precedent for his visit was set last year, when the Earl of Amherst wrote a local theatrical column under the name of Jeffery Holmesdale.

As though there were not enough already.

TWO TEXAS WOMEN ON AUXILIARY'S POSTS
(By Associated Press)
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 19.—The appointment of two Texas women to important national posts in the American Legion Auxiliary has been announced at the Auxiliary's national headquarters here. Mrs. F. M. Hardin of Harlingen, Texas, has been appointed Divisional Poppy

Chairman for the southern division and Mrs. W. D. Armstrong of Brownwood, Texas, has been named a member of the national Trophies, Awards, and Emblems committee. The appointments were made by Mrs. Robert Hoyal of Douglas, Ariz., national president and ratified by the Auxiliary's national executive committee.

In her new office Mrs. Hardin will have general supervision of the manufacture and sale of the Auxiliary's memorial poppies, all the southern states. "CRY BABY" HASN'T LEARNED TO KEEP ITS MOUTH SHUT
(By Associated Press)
BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 19.—A "cry baby" isn't so different from any other youngster, except he hasn't learned to keep his mouth shut.

One child expresses his feelings with wailing and tears. Another may experience similar emotions, but he doesn't tell the neighbors about it.

This is the explanation of Dr. Harold Ellis Jones, director of research for the University of California Institute of Child Welfare, who has completed a group of experiments with infants from three to eleven months of age.
