Cochran Program Very Successful

A Thanksgiving program was held Friday night at the Cochran school which was very successful and enjoyable. Supt. R. E. White was present from Ballinger and stated it was one of the best programs he had attended so far this year. A large crowd was present and following the serving of a lunch and the sale of candy and cakes it was found that between $25 and $30 had been cleared to be used by the school in repairing and painting the building.

Miss Alyce Schlessler is teacher of the school and the program was under her direction. It was cleverly arranged and for nearly an hour the crowd was entertained and delighted with humorous renditions. Mr. White spoke for 25 minutes on school matters to the people at Cochran and 40 minutes were used with contests that brought down the house.

A pie eating contest was extremely funny and a little different from the usual contest of this kind. Paper bags were slipped over the heads of four men with large holes cut for the mouth and each contestant continued to feed himself through the hole in the bag until all the pie was gone. Another contest that brought forth much fun was a coin finding contest. A 25-cent piece was placed in the center of a paper plate and flour was sifted around the piece of money. The four men in the contest were supposed to secure the quarter with their mouths and not knowing that the plate contained flour, worked hard to get the money and were white all over the face and head when one finally succeeded in winning. The winner was to get all four quarters but he turned it back to the school fund.

The plate lunch consisted of chicken salad, home made cake with either chocolate or coffee to drink.

Mr. White Saturday morning was very complimentary of the Cochran school in referring to the appearance of the building, their pictures and the neat arrangement of the entire room.

MR. AND MRS. J. Y. PEARCE RETURN FROM CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. Pearce returned home Friday afternoon after several months' vacation in California and other points on the Pacific coast. Mr. and Mrs. Pearce left here in May in their automobile with Hugh Jones, colored chauffeur at the wheel, and made the entire 11,000-mile trip without any mishap and without even changing a tire.

Mr. Pearce, in speaking of the trip, was enthusiastic over the many points of interest seen during the summer. They visited practically every resort in California, driving along the high mountain chains and through redwood forests into Washington and Oregon, going up via the coast and returning inland.

They are both glad to be back in Ballinger and Mr. Pearce was busy Saturday morning shaking hands with friends.

G. O. Woolsey, general superintendent for Brown & Root, contractors on the water reservoir here, came in Saturday to check up on the work and will visit other projects the company has under construction in this section of the state.

Bill Griffiths, former Ballinger citizen, now of Coleman, was in this city Friday morning transacting business.

Denver Reports Rising Mercury

(By Associated Press) DENVER, Colo., Nov. 22.—Slowly rising temperatures, but with the mercury still below the freezing point, brought a measure of relief today to the Rocky Mountain and adjoining regions where ten lives were lost in winter's invasion.

Trains, forty hours late, this afternoon began arriving at their destinations.

High drifts from almost continuous snowfall, however, still blocked innumerable mountain roads in Wyoming, New Mexico, Colorado and Montana.

Two deaths, indirectly attributed to the storm in North Dakota, Nebraska and South Dakota, were reported. The lakes region also is hit by the cold wave.

Marking of Roads Will Start Soon

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, Nov. 22.—Work of placing distance and direction markers on all state highways will be started by the maintenance division of the state highway department December 1. J. B. Early, chief maintenance engineer has announced. The marking is expected to be completed in four months, during which approximately 40,000 markers will be made and set up.

Travis county has been marked under the supervision of Early and will be used as an example for the marking in other counties. Division engineers will be called to Austin during the last week of November to inspect the Travis county work so that the project can be carried out in a uniform manner throughout the state.

Early said the new markers would not replace the numbered route markers but would serve to clarify the present system and keep travelers better informed on the names of towns and cities and the distance and direction to the next city.

The work will be done by department labor. The signs will be manufactured by highway department employes in the division shops.

Early said on all county lines and city limits of incorporated towns and cities will be marked with large signs while the smaller towns will be marked with smaller insignias. The signs will be placed on the right hand shoulders of the roads and will show only the name of the village or town.

The distance markers will be placed between every two towns, one facing travel each way. Direction markers will be placed at each intersection of two or more state highways and at the intersection of a state highway with a paved county road. Other points at which travel may become confused also will be marked, Early said.

The signs will be fashioned from wood and will be black and white.

It should be open for traffic late in 1931.

MOVE FOR CANONIZATION OF NOTED SCOTTISH NUN

(By Associated Press) GLASGOW, Scotland, Nov. 22.—Preliminary investigation will be made this winter by the Roman Catholic church in Scotland, preparatory to reporting on the proposed canonization of Mary Sinclair, a Franciscan nun, known throughout the British Isles for her religious acts. She died two years ago.

Findings of the clerical investigation will be forwarded to the Holy See, which will determine whether the sister should be beatified or canonized, a long process in either event.

Should the Pope act favorably upon the petition, the Franciscan nun will be the first of her sex in Scotland to be canonized in almost 700 years, the last having been Queen Margaret, who was proclaimed a saint in 1250.

The University of North Carolina has added a music hall with a seating capacity of 900 and a 30,000 Reuter organ.

THE SWIFT TRIP

By Mary Graham Bonner

HOW'S your HEALTH

Edited by DR. LAGO GALESTON

COMPLEXION
 There is a beauty that is but skin deep, and another that reaches down to the very marrow of the bones.

The first sometimes is fostered by cosmetics, beauty treatments and the like. The second is furthered by proper living. The first is often the fortunate accident of heredity; the second, however, is within reach of all who will venture the effort.

The beauty that comes of and with health is expressed in many fashions. Posture is one. What we popularly call vim is another of its manifestations. In health the senses are keen and the muscular responses alert. The complexion is clear, and often "glowing."

In fact the complexion may be used as a sort of barometer of health—provided, of course, one bears in mind that even real barometers may deceive.

When the human machine is in order, the skin shares in the benefits. When function is disrupted, had before. Peggy and John did not feel nervous when they were told this. They knew how safe they were with the Little Black Clock.

Now they got into the plane and somehow there was a look about it as though it were a very advanced and wonderful machine.

Then they were off and up into the air. They went so quickly that John had the feeling that they would get somewhere almost before they got properly started.

None of them spoke. It was much too interesting to be traveling at such speed to think or talk of anything else.

John felt that he would not like to travel at this speed all the time. When he looked out of the window of the plane he felt as though the world was of little importance, for he could not make out the sights at all.

Only he could just tell the skin is bound to show the effects. Diseases of the liver, kidneys and of certain of the glands of internal secretion, radically affect the texture and color of the skin.

Constipation, and the lack of fresh air and sunlight will cause the skin to become shallow, blotchy, and easily subject to bacterial infection.

When such conditions develop it is foolish to smear the skin. The cause lies deeper.

The external care of the normal skin can have but one physiologic objective—namely, that of cleanliness. For that there is nothing better than soap and warm water.

When the skin is affected with any disease, remembering that it is a valuable and important part of the body, it should be given the same expert attention which one would secure for a broken bone or a sick stomach.

(Monday—Epilepsy)

they were certainly passing over a great deal of country, for everything changed so rapidly.

One moment they were looking at forests and in another moment at wide plains.

Speeding, speeding, speeding—how they did fly through the air.

At last they went slowly down, and now they were landing.

"Well," said the Little Black Clock, "that was a swift trip."

"What was our speed?" John asked. "Eight hundred miles an hour," said the Little Black Clock quite calmly. "We have been traveling in a very superior machine."

"I should say so," John gasped. "Eight hundred miles an hour," he kept repeating as they all went back home. "Eight hundred miles an hour. Gee!"

"Journey's End" Has War in a Subdued Key

War in a subdued key—without martial airs, mock heroes and profanity—is the subject of "Journey's End," the Tiffany-Gainsborough all-dialogue screen version of R. C. Sherriff's play which will be seen at the Palace Theatre tomorrow, Monday and Tuesday.

It is said that an actor veteran who saw it at its Hollywood preview, exclaimed, "Why I could feel the mud in my finger nails!" Of such realism is "Journey's End" made.

Real, too, are the characters—that splendid fellow, Capt. Stanhope, portrayed by Colin Clive, loaned from the London stage production by arrangement with Maurice Browne, Ltd. There is "Uncle" Osborne, laying down his glowing pipe to go out on a raid, knowing he will be dead before it is cold—a role entrusted to Ian MacLaren.

Raleigh is a lad to admire—hero-worshipper eager for adventure and getting it. David Manners plays Raleigh. Anthony Bushell portrays Hibbert, afraid of it all. Billy Bevan is the fat lieutenant who finds war bloomin' awful without pepper. Charles Gerrard is the long-suffering cook, Mason. Other roles are played by Warner Klinger, Jack Pitcairn, Thomas Whiteley and Robert A'Dair.

James Whale, who could do nothing less than the correct thing by "Journey's End," for he has directed several stage productions of it, directed the picture, which is recorded by RCA Photophone.

BEARCATS DISTRICT CHAMPIONS BY DEFEATING WINTERS 12-7

A thousand Ballinger fans rejoiced, then cried and later went into fits of enthusiasm as the Bearcats turned an apparent defeat into a victory in the last two minutes of the annual Winters-Ballinger game. Sam Jones, full-back returned to the game after being out two months with a broken leg, was the hero. Breaking through and grabbing a short Winters pass behind the line of scrimmage, he raced 50 yards down the field to a winning touchdown as one side of the field went wild. Ballinger fans rushed on the field throwing hats in the air and otherwise showing how crazy they can go over the great school sport. It meant a triumph over their big rivals and another championship for this city as the champion of the western division of district 11. Sam was not the only player however as every Ballinger player who saw service battled with superhuman determination from the first whistle to the last gun.

Three thousand people saw the game. No one went away dissatisfied. It was one of those games that had everything known to football in it and showed a Bearcat team fighting together in true "Pooch" Wright fashion. It was a contest of skill and fight so characteristic of a Ballinger team. It showed that part of coaching aside from the plays that Wright teaches his boys, the love of the game, the love for the coach and the loyal fans who support them.

Ballinger made 14 first downs to Winters 9. In the first half the Bearcats completely outplayed the Blizzards, making 7 first downs to their 0 and the ball was never in Ballinger territory. Three times the Bearcats knifed at the Blizzard goal line, kicking the ball within a few inches of a counter only to be turned back. Once as Partridge went over the referee's whistle blew before he stopped and cost the Bearcats a touchdown and another time he scored but it was claimed he went out of bounds and the ball was brought back.

Harold Flynt and Frank Partridge did a big part in the ball toting Friday and time after time crashed the Winters line for gains and first downs. Long, lanky Flynt proved to have more power than he has ever been given credit for, often carried five and six men backwards for yards. Reneau at end played a wonderful game with injured ribs suffered in the first quarter. His defense work was fine and he was a big factor in stopping the Winters passing attack.

The last play of the game, a long pass heaved by Smith, was intercepted by Reneau as the gun ended the game. Jones, Reese, Brown, Middleton and the rest battled all the way and offered a defense that completely stopped the great running attack of the Winters team. Coley, the whizz of a ball totter dreaded by so many clubs in this district never got started and was smothered at the line on practically every attempt to advance the pigskin.

Play by Play
Winters won the toss and chose to receive at the east goal. Davis received the ball and after a short run fumbled and Ballinger recovered. Partridge hit left tackle for 2 yards, Flynt crashed the same hole for 4, Partridge added another 3 yards, and Flynt plowed 6 more for a first down. Partridge whirled and went over center for 1 yard, Jones went over tackle for 2, Flynt hit right tackle for 2 and a pass fell incomplete and the ball went over. Pratt got 2 yards, Coley 2 yards and Smith kicked but Reese went through the line and blocked the kick and Ballinger recovered. Partridge got 1 yard on line, and the next play a pass fell incomplete over the goal line giving Winters the ball on their own 20 yard line.

Baldwin failed to gain, Pratt hit tackle for 4 yards, Pratt lost 15 yards on the next play and Smith kicked 40 yards with no return.

Flynt hit l. t. for 3 and came back at center for 2 more, Partridge gained 5 at tackle but Ballinger received a 15-yard penalty for holding. Partridge kicked 30 yards out of bounds.

A pass behind the line, Smith to Pratt, gained 2 yards, Baldwin went 1 yard out of bounds, and a pass was intercepted by Partridge on Winters' 45 yard line. Flynt and Jones hit the line for 3 yards each, Partridge made another yard around end and then kicked out of bounds on Winters 14-yard line.

Coley got 1 yard on an outback, Smith was stopped at the line and then kicked 45 yards.

Flynt hit r. t. for 2 yards, Jones l. t. for 3 yards, a pass Partridge to Reneau was incomplete and Partridge kicked out of bounds on Winters' 25-ard line.

Baldwin and Smith got 2 yards each at left tackle, and the quarter ended.

Second Quarter

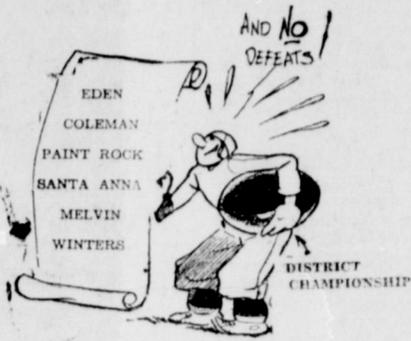

Coley on end run got 2 yards, Smith kicked 35 yards out of bounds, Partridge went around left end for 3 yards, Flynt broke through left tackle for 13 yards and a first down. Flynt hit center for 2 yards, Reneau hurt on the play but stayed in. Flynt went over tackle for 4 yards, Ballinger offside gets 5-yard penalty. Pass, Partridge to Reneau incomplete and the next pass intercepted by Davis of Winters who after a short return fumbled and Ballinger recovered on Winters' 45-yard line. Jones drove through the center of the line for 1 yard, Partridge hit off right tackle for 3 yards, Partridge fumbled but recovered for 1 yard gain, Partridge kicked 37 yards, Coley fumbled and recovered for no gain.

Baldwin fumbled and Jacob picked the ball up and raced across the goal line but the ball was brought back to where it was recovered by Jacob. Partridge hit left tackle for 6 yards, Partridge tried the same hole for 2 more yards, Flynt went thru the same place for 6 yards and a first down. Partridge drove at the left side of the line three times only to gain 2 yards and a pass was incomplete giving Winters the ball on their own 9-ard line.

Baldwin hit the line for 2 yards and Smith kicked 30 yards.

Flynt hit the line for 2 yards, Marsh in for Jacob, Flynt hit the same hole for 7 yards, Jones added 3 yards and a first down. Partridge hit right and left tackle for 4 yards each time, and Flynt added 3 yards and a first down.

SPORTS

Lampasas next. That town won the right to play Ballinger for the district championship by defeating Brady 31 to 20 and making the season so far undefeated.

started the ball to rolling Saturday morning for a special train to Lampasas on the day of the district championship game. He wired headquarters for three propositions for transportation and was submitted the following rates: 1. For party of 18 to 24 men, a round trip rate of $6. 2. Party of 25 to 99, one fare plus 25 cents which would figure $5.25. 3. Special train carrying 200 or more to run to suit convenience here, a round trip rate of $2.75.

The Bearcats will likely have to go to Lampasas for the game as that team played here last year and is due a return game. No definite arrangements have been made to date but school authorities and coaches will hold a meeting at an early date and make all arrangements.

Ballinger went football mad Friday. Those at home and those at the game acted the same way when Jones snatched that pass and raced forty yards for the last counter. John Weeks was standing on a stick trying to see the same and as he realized what had happened he started to throw his hat in the air and his feet went up as he sat down. One woman fell off the top of a car. People ran on the field and none was thinking of the way he looked.

It is useless to try to mention Santa Fe Agent J. J. Beck a star. Of course Jones made the winning touchdown and Partridge and Flynt carried the ball for many yards but why did they gain and why did Jones get thru to the pass? It was because line-men were making holes. Fourteen men played the game and fourteen men started. It was "Pooch" Wright's fighting Bearcats and they did themselves proud.

Fred Kiechle reserved fifty seats Saturday for the Tuesday night performance of the Legion show, and will have as his guests, the Ballinger school faculty and the football squad. They will occupy a block of seats together and enjoy the two hours of fun.

Saturday afternoon the First National Bank and the Ballinger State Bank purchased a block of fifty tickets to the Legion show Tuesday night for the entire Ballinger pep squad. Miss Elizabeth Parker stated that the girls would be there in their uniforms to enjoy the show and was very pleased with the thoughtfulness of the banks.

The American Legion, not to be out done, issued an invitation to all Boy Scouts and Campfire Girls to be their guests Tuesday night and a special section will be reserved for them. This about completes the house for Tuesday night with the exception of a small reserve section in the center of the house.

STUDENTS' FINANCE FUND
A prominent Texas capitalist who has watched the progress of hundreds of young people who have made good as a result of business training, will help a few worthy young people who are not able to provide all the tuition for a course in an approved business school.
To show that such young people are in earnest, they will be expected to finance as much of their tuition as possible so that the fund thus provided will benefit as many young people as possible.
If you need part of the money for a good business course, then enough time will be given on the plan so that you can complete your course and have an opportunity to repay the loan out of your earnings.
If you are earnest and ambitious, and can partly finance yourself, write Student's Finance Fund, Box 38, Abilene, Texas, for full particulars of this loan plan, stating the business school you prefer. 22-11d-itw

Legion Rehearsals Completed Friday
The Legion players Friday night completed their rehearsals for presentation of the eleventh annual Legion show, and the director states the play is now ready for the public on Monday and Tuesday nights.
Only three rows of reserved seats are left for the Monday evening performance and a number of seats have been checked for Tuesday night. In addition to the reserved section, however, there are more than 300 seats in the right and left sections to be sold at the door Monday and Tuesday nights at 25 cents for children and 35 cents for adults. These seats probably are as good as any in the house and those occupying them can see and hear as well as from the reserved section.
Stage carpenters Saturday began moving furniture from the King-Holt store to American Legion Hall and getting the stage dressed up for the dress rehearsal Sunday afternoon. The stage will have the richest setting ever seen here and characters will wear stunning costumes in all acts.
High class specialties have been rehearsed for between the acts. Miss Mada Jane Tittle, a member of the high school faculty, will be presented in cartooning. Miss Tittle is considered excellent in fits of laughter as she turns ordinary objects into funny faces with a few strokes of the crayon. A male quartet will be heard in Southern and humorous songs.
The play is claimed to be nothing but farce comedy. From the first to the last the clever dialog will keep the audience amused and entertained. Such well known characters as Harry Lynn, A. R. Jones, Neil McAlpine and R. W. Earnshaw will handle the comic situations, with McAlpine taking a principal role.
It is a show the Pat Williams Post stands behind and hopes will be greeted with two full houses. In case of cold weather the auditorium will be heated early in the day and made comfortable for everyone.
F. F. Ligon returned Friday Friday from the Junction country bringing with him two fine, big bucks.
J. D. Motley left Saturday for Abilene to look after highway business in that city and have a conference with Judge W. R. Ely of the state highway commission.
Miss Evelyn Shepherd and J. B. Pace came in Friday night from Tahoka and Mr. Pace left Saturday morning for Ozona to visit friends over the week-end. Miss Shepherd will visit here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Shepherd.

Legion Rehearsals Completed Friday
The Legion players Friday night completed their rehearsals for presentation of the eleventh annual Legion show, and the director states the play is now ready for the public on Monday and Tuesday nights.
Only three rows of reserved seats are left for the Monday evening performance and a number of seats have been checked for Tuesday night. In addition to the reserved section, however, there are more than 300 seats in the right and left sections to be sold at the door Monday and Tuesday nights at 25 cents for children and 35 cents for adults. These seats probably are as good as any in the house and those occupying them can see and hear as well as from the reserved section.
Stage carpenters Saturday began moving furniture from the King-Holt store to American Legion Hall and getting the stage dressed up for the dress rehearsal Sunday afternoon. The stage will have the richest setting ever seen here and characters will wear stunning costumes in all acts.
High class specialties have been rehearsed for between the acts. Miss Mada Jane Tittle, a member of the high school faculty, will be presented in cartooning. Miss Tittle is considered excellent in fits of laughter as she turns ordinary objects into funny faces with a few strokes of the crayon. A male quartet will be heard in Southern and humorous songs.
The play is claimed to be nothing but farce comedy. From the first to the last the clever dialog will keep the audience amused and entertained. Such well known characters as Harry Lynn, A. R. Jones, Neil McAlpine and R. W. Earnshaw will handle the comic situations, with McAlpine taking a principal role.
It is a show the Pat Williams Post stands behind and hopes will be greeted with two full houses. In case of cold weather the auditorium will be heated early in the day and made comfortable for everyone.
F. F. Ligon returned Friday Friday from the Junction country bringing with him two fine, big bucks.
J. D. Motley left Saturday for Abilene to look after highway business in that city and have a conference with Judge W. R. Ely of the state highway commission.
Miss Evelyn Shepherd and J. B. Pace came in Friday night from Tahoka and Mr. Pace left Saturday morning for Ozona to visit friends over the week-end. Miss Shepherd will visit here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Shepherd.
