NEW PARIS COLLEGE KNOWS CHIC BEST

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, Nov. 26.—A college of style, where designers and dressmakers of note will impart to aspiring future dressmakers the secrets of Parisian style supremacy has opened up here.

A regular course in the history of costume, practical designing and all aspects of the haute couture has long been needed, in the opinion of Mme. Rene-Jean, director of the new school.

Students Assigned Senior Day Topics

Ballinger high school authorities announced Wednesday the selection of thirteen seniors to take part in the program on Senior Day during commencement this year. These pupils are selected at this time and assigned subjects so that they may prepare their themes in advance.

Heretofore this day has been set for the Thursday of commencement week, the day before the graduation exercises. Being held at night many patrons attend the program.

The general theme for Senior Day this year is "Education and Business," and thirteen different phases of the topic will be handled by the following students: Louise Shepperd, Rosa Crockett, Esta Fulcher, Gladys Fulcher, Carrie Witter, Maunette Allamon, Vivian Esmond, Verda Dea Allen, Harold Clark, Fred Walter King, W. A. Nance Jr., Gilbert Ocker, Carlos Austin.

The purpose of this special program is threefold: First, to cause the young people to study and make a complete survey of the business side of education. Second, to inform the public what is being done by the school in this direction; and third, to make a sincere inquiry, especially from local citizens, to learn what business knowledge should be included in the public school course.

Court Decides Goodwin Must Die

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, Nov. 26.—Because his attorneys failed to take exception to the trial judge's charge to the jury, Dave Goodwin, convicted of murdering Lloyd Elliott in Bowie county in February, faces the electric chair unless executive clemency is granted.

MULE DEER NEAR ALPINE ARE STAGING COMEBACK

(By Associated Press)
ALPINE, Tex., Nov. 26.—Game preserves and the protection of the Berkeley deer law, which shorten the season on the mule deer of the Big Bend country, have saved the Big Bend deer herd from possible extinction.

The deer are increasing everywhere and in a few years they should be as plentiful as they were in the nineties, ranchers and hunters here say.

The Big Bend deer are called "black tails" locally, but they are a branch of the mule deer family of the Rocky Mountains.

When the six-week season was in effect on mule deer here the animals diminished steadily outside the game preserves.

DALLAS, Nov. 26.—Seventeen persons were known to be dead today as the result of storms sweeping the United States and Europe.

A dispatch from Germany reported eleven fishermen were drowned in a gale along an East Prussian lagoon.

Six deaths were reported from Chicago, these occurring through the middle eastern portion of the United States, and attributable directly or indirectly to the weather.

A report from South Bend said a six-inch snow covered northern Indiana.

Many parts of Texas experienced frost and low temperatures. Berger reported a heavy freeze with the mercury falling to 18 degrees above zero.

A cable from Paris, France, declared heavy rains were resumed there after a brief respite over night, and high waters were again endangering the Seine River valley.

Reports from Wisconsin, Iowa, Illinois, Ohio, Minnesota, North Dakota, New York, Pennsylvania and many other northern states detailed snow and ice.

A dispatch from Atlanta, Ga., reported smattering snows and freezing temperatures through southeastern United States, excluding Florida.

Thanksgiving will be a quiet day in Ballinger. More than 300 are expected to ride the special train to Lampasas, others are planning to attend college grid games out of town, some will visit relatives and friends and a number will head for the deer and turkey country late Wednesday evening. Besides a few golf games and theatre parties nothing is planned here.

Cotton men who early in the season set estimates on the 1930 cotton crop at 30,000 bales are now within 5,000 bales of that prediction and have good opportunity to say "I told you so." Ginnings are mounting slowly but within two more weeks should reach this mark. This county already is leading all other West Texas counties in production.

The sale of Christmas seals sponsored by the National Tuberculosis Association soon will begin its 24th year. The stamps sell for one penny each and the money derived from same carries on work of fourteen affiliated associations. An even greater effort will be made this year to go over the top. The quota is generally attained in this county. It is expected, however, that this county's quota will be slightly raised this year and will require more effort to put over.

December 1st is the date to commence paying taxes. The county collector will be in a receptive mood any time after that date and those who attend to the matter early can have that glorious feeling when the rush begins of knowing they are even with the government. Tax rolls of the county, city and school district all are ready for the taxpayers and anyone desiring to know what he owes can get it from the collectors. If you do not intend to pay now it still would be a good idea to know what the amount is so you can make proper arrangements and end suspense and worry.

COKE COUNTY FARMERS PROFIT BY DIVERSIFYING

(By Associated Press) ROBERT LEE, Tex., Nov. 26.—That Coke county farmers are learning to diversify is shown by a survey of the amount of live-stock in the county. Chickens and turkeys are to be found on practically every farm.

There are 4,967 mules valued at $88,160, 16,822 cattle, valued at $307,680, 48,545 sheep, valued at $125,460, and 19,217 goats valued at $24,307. These are revealed by the tax roll for 1930.

HOW'S your HEALTH

Edited by DR. LAGO GARDSTROM

SANATORIUM TREATMENT

When a diagnosis of tuberculosis has been made, and sanatorium treatment has been recommended, it is not uncommon for the patient to feel that something like a sentence of death has been passed upon him.

Usually, nothing can be further from the truth. In fact, there is a positive dearth of sanatoriums for the far advanced cases of tuberculosis. Most institutions for tuberculosis prefer to take, or accept only, the early or moderately advanced cases.

Sanatorium treatment is advised for a number of good reasons, among which the principal one is that the patient curing in a tuberculosis institution, learns there how to live with his disease.

Tuberculosis is a chronic disease. Its beginning is usually slow and insidious—its progress is seldom acute. Recovery too, is a slow process, requiring years for completion.

During this period the patient must literally live with his disease. It must enter into his everyday activities, into his working and sleeping hours. In fact, how quick and how permanent his recovery is depends very largely on how wisely he lives.

This wisdom which he needs to secure his recovery he can derive from a stay in a sanatorium. There he is taught in the most effective manner how to conduct himself so that he is neither a danger to himself or to others.

In a word, a sanatorium is an institution where the tuberculosis individual learns a new method of living. This method, with some modifications, he must follow when he returns home.

The average time spent by patients in a tuberculosis sanatorium is less than six months. But most of them gather enough experience and knowledge during this period to speed them on their path to recovery.

SUNDOWN STORIES

WILD STRAWBERRY FEAST

By Mary Graham Bonner

"Do you like wild strawberries?" asked the Little Black Clock.

"I should say I do," said John. "I could eat ever and ever and ever so many," said Peggy. "I just love them."

"Well, you sound as if you thought well of them, and so we're going on a wild strawberry feast this evening."

"It's away beyond the strawberry season," said John, and then he remembered what a foolish remark that was, for every once in a while he forgot about the Little Black Clock being able to make the time as he wished.

And now, sure enough, it was early summer again, and the Little Black Clock led the children to a field where there were ever so many wild strawberries. There were some buttercups and daisies growing in the field too.

"What perfectly delicious strawberries," said Peggy. "I like wild strawberries much better than garden ones."

"I rather had an idea that you liked them better," the Little Black Clock said knowingly.

The children had an idea that the Little Black Clock listened most attentively when they were speaking and when he was standing on the desk in the back hall, before it was time for their adventures.

Peggy remembered how she had made this remark about the wild strawberries a number of months before.

"And now we'll have a surprise," the Little Black Clock said.

He took them to one end of the field and there they beheld a little mossy table upon which was the most beautiful looking wild strawberry short-cake they had ever seen.

Certainly this was a splendid feast.

"Well, it's the season for feasting, isn't it?" the Little Black Clock remarked.

"Tomorrow," he continued, "as I don't have to tell you I'm sure, is Thanksgiving Day. That is, tomorrow will be tomorrow when you get back home and the time is the regular time once more!"

The introduction of the new Chevrolet Six marks the most impressive forward step in Chevrolet's twenty-year record of constant progress and improvement.

combine with this more attractive exterior appearance, a new degree of interior luxury.

For this Bigger and Better Six offers new beauty, new luxury, new completeness and new quality—yet it sells at lower prices!

The chassis of the new Chevrolet Six has also been refined and advanced in a number of different ways. The frame is heavier and deeper. There is a smoother operating, long lived clutch; a sturdier front axle; an entirely new steering mechanism; an easier shifting transmission.

The improvements in the new Chevrolet Six begin at the smart new chrome-plated headlamps and extend throughout the entire car. The radiator is deeper and unusually efficient. Due to the increased wheelbase, the lines are longer and lower, giving an air of exceptional fleetness and grace. And the new Fisher bodies

And along with these improvements, Chevrolet offers a 50-horsepower, six-cylinder motor—four long semi-elliptic springs—four hydraulic shock absorbers—a safety gasoline tank—and an economy of operation not surpassed by any automobile.

Bearcat Special Leaves at 7; Band, Pep Squad to Go

The special train to Lampasas was guaranteed Tuesday afternoon and O. C. Nelson, special passenger agent here, ordered 5 coaches and a baggage car to come to Ballinger and be ready to leave for Lampasas Thursday morning at 7 o'clock.

The train was made possible Tuesday afternoon when two committees made a canvass of the town and sold tickets on the train for the pep squad and band together with a large number of individual tickets. Wednesday morning the check on the three lists showed 214 already on the dotted line and members of the committee working up the special stated that they expected at least fifty more to join the train before it left Thursday morning.

J. J. Beck, Santa Fe agent, stated that enough equipment was being sent here to handle more than 350 people and anyone desiring to make the trip could secure tickets at the station Thursday morning any time prior to 7 o'clock.

The train will leave here promptly at 7:00 and will arrive at Lampasas at 11:00 where it will be met by the Lampasas band and citizens with cars to take the delegation to town. The game will start at 3 o'clock and the train will leave Lampasas at 7:00 and arrive in Ballinger at 11:00 at night.

MOVIES

Bebe Scores as Wife Who Fights Back

An hour of absorbing entertainment, according to reports, is "Lawful Larceny," starring Bebe Daniels, which opened today at the Palace Theatre. The engagement is through tomorrow.

It is an adaptation from an original stage success, presented by a group of former stage celebrities, including Lowell Sherman, Olive Tell, Kenneth Thompson, Purnell Pratt, Lou Payne, Bert Roach, Maude Turner Gordon, Helene Millard and Charles Coleman.

Sherman fresh from his triumph in "He Knew Women," directed the production and also enacted an important role.

Miss Daniels is presented in an entirely new and powerfully dramatic role, that of a wife who sets out to steal her husband back from the modern day "siren" who stole him.

Cameraman Runs Risks During Filming of "The Dawn Patrol"

It was a simple matter for most of the company to dodge stunt-flying airplanes during the making of "The Dawn Patrol," the First National-Vitaphone production starring Richard Barthelmess which is to be shown at the Palace Theatre next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

But for the cameramen—Ernest Haller and his battery of cameras—it was one that meant something like being buried alive. For nowadays in the era of talkies these necessary adjuncts of motion picture making are housed in sound-proof vaults from which it is not so easy to escape in case of danger.

"When we heard the zooming of the motor and knew that the plane was zooming towards the earth at the rate of 200 miles per hour," said Haller, "we knew

A flood of telegrams from Lampasas started arriving in Ballinger Wednesday morning from firms in that city extending a welcome to Ballinger people. Eating houses wired regarding their Thanksgiving dinners and inviting fans on the train to eat with them. Others simply sent greetings and offered a word to make the people feel the genuine welcome being prepared for the visitors there.

The football team is being provided with a separate coach and will be locked in so they can be quiet and get some rest on the trip and will not be tired for the game in the afternoon. Four coaches will be for the use of fans an music and singing will be heard as the train passes each stop on the way down. The train will make a stop at Brownwood so that anyone desiring to go to that city may get off and will also stop again at night to pick up these passengers. Those desiring to go to Brownwood on the special will buy regular round trip tickets to Lampasas.

The football association is having 300 Bearcat hatbands made and everyone will be furnished with one at the train. Banners were to have been made for the side of the train but this is against the law of the Interstate Commerce Commission and cannot be used.

There was no use in running for by the time we got out of the camera booth it would be all over with us.

"The Dawn Patrol" is thrilling drama of the British flying corps during the early years of the World War. It offers Barthelmess the most dramatic role of his career and he is supported by such a superlative cast as Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Neil Hamilton, Clyde Cook, Gardner James, Frank McHugh, James Finlayson, William Janney, Edmund Breon and others. The story is based on an original by John Monk Saunders and directed by Howard Hawks who is himself a flyer of note.

FOOTBALL IN MEXICO GAINING GROUND FAST

(By Associated Press) SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 26.—Football, just in its second year as a Mexican pastime, already has the best matadors looking to their laurels in Mexico City. For the last quarter century soccer was all the rage in the Southern Republic, but since Reginald D. Root, former Yale star, began coaching a football squad at the University of Mexico two years ago, the college "rah-rah" game has attained a great popularity. That was learned from players on the University of Mexico football squad which recently toured the southern part of the United States, including among its opponents St. Mary's of San Antonio.

Football crowds in Mexico City last year, when major games were scheduled at home, were greater than those at representative bull fights, Root declared. Almost 35,000 fans passed the turnstiles at Mexico City for each of two big games, he said. He explained that 30,000 persons was a big crowd for a bullfight.

The patent office received more than 75,000 applications for patents in 10 months.

SPORTS

Will the season be over for the Bearcats tomorrow? That was the same question that was being asked one week ago and we are still in the race. Little is known of the attack of the Lampasas team and both clubs enter the game Thursday more or less blind as to the other's formations. With this we predict that both sides will score more than once and that the game will be one of those thrillers with either side a winner until the last gun.

In a way it was hard luck that grades were due on the day before the big game, but we believe like our school officials that rigid requirements for eligibility to play football is the only thing and the student who does not meet the requirements should be left out. Another thing, when a substitute has to fill the place of a star, they generally star in the game and we predict that for Thursday.

Here is the shifted lineup we are guessing to start. This may be all wrong as Coach Wright has not intimated what he will start in the championship game. Center, Reece; guards, Dodson and Jones; tackles, Middleton and Brown; ends, Rencau and Robinson; quarter, Jacob; halves, Flynn and McIntire; fullback, Jones.

Tickets to the game will sell fast. Fight all the way; don't be discouraged until the last gun fires. Remember the Winters never over until the referee says so. The Bearcats have fought hard and Brown, ends, Rencau and Robinson; quarter, Jacob; halves, Flynn and McIntire; fullback, Jones. We have won games that we were due to lose by a big score by such fight and if the fans will fight hard and clean like the in Lampasas at 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students. Those desiring to secure tickets here can get them at Weeks Drug Store or on the train from a ticket committee. The game will begin at 3 o'clock.

Thursday we will be away from home. We may win and we may lose and Ballinger and the Ballinger school will be known by the kind of sportsmanship we display. Usually on specials and out of town trips some fan thinks that to properly celebrate he should have a few drinks and play drunk and usually fights are started and the entire party advertised as being poor sports and a bunch of "rough-necks." If such a condition should start on the trip Thursday, Ballinger people should make one car into a jail and make arrests of all offenders and leave them there until they are normal and willing to behave and be a credit to the party. Above all substitute has to fill the place of a star, they generally star in the game and we predict that for Thursday.

SMALLER COTTON CROPS Mean BIGGER COTTON PRICES

Reduce your cotton planting—devote a part of your acreage to the cultivation of a vegetable garden if possible, to dairy cattle, to hogs and poultry. And don't overlook to plant plenty feed—why not create a one year, or two year feed supply.

Results—your table freshly supplied from your own farm; stable branches of farming on which to rely when the cotton crop fails, or low cotton prices—enrichment of the soil through livestock herds and crop rotation—a SURE year-round income instead of uncertain one season profits.

Surely these are sufficient reasons for adding variety to your farming activities—it certainly is the most practical, in fact the only way to raise the price of cotton.

BALLINGER FIVE DEFEATS VALERA HERE 20 TO 17

The fast Ballinger basketball team won its fifth straight victory Tuesday night by defeating the Valera team, 20 to 17. A fair sized audience saw the game played on the court in the Sykes Motor Company building and the tilt proved a thriller until the whistle sounded to end the struggle.
 Below is the scoring of the game:

Player	Pos.	Pts.
Ballinger	G	8
Rhodes	G	8
Dankworth	C	0
Baker	F	12
Underwood	F	2
Stobaugh	G	0
Valera	Pos.	Pts.
Gassiot	F	2
Gann	F	2
Chenshaw	C	10
Cauder	G	2
Mitchell	G	1
Orffis	F	0

Other games are being scheduled for the Ballinger quintet to be played here at night and those interested in this sport will see some fast tilts in the near future.

Rotarians Observe Thanksgiving Wed.

The Ballinger Rotary Club held their Thanksgiving program Wednesday in connection with the regular weekly luncheon. A large per cent of the membership was present for the meeting and a real treat was enjoyed.

Two girls from the expression class of Miss Nona Diltz were presented in Thanksgiving readings and each was forced to respond to encores. Little Miss Ruth Smith first read numbers about turkeys and Thanksgiving dinners which was rendered well and appreciated by the club members. Little Bobbie Marie Avey completely captivated her hearers in a playlet of Thanksgiving and a humorous reading that brought down the house and received a big applause.

Rev. E. W. McLaurin was the speaker and brought an interesting talk in which a large amount of humor was interspersed with the serious side of the occasion. He pointed out a number of things in the club for which no one could feel so thankful and others that we should feel grateful for. He closed his talk referring to the wheat, cotton and other products that were enough to take care of all the nation and showed that the bread lines and poorly clad people were not an act of the Almighty but that he had been good to these people and the land had been fruitful.

Exhibition Fliers At Local Airport

They will pull some stunts for their Ballinger audience and among other things of interest will complete the "inside out" parachute leap which is declared to be a breath-taking spectacle.

Of course they must have a source of revenue, but there is no admission charge. The only charge is for airplane rides and this service has been reduced in price to meet present conditions. Read their ad elsewhere in this paper.

Senior Play Set For December 5

The Ballinger high school senior play will be presented at the high school auditorium on the evening of December 5. The offering selected for this year is an amusing comedy, "Much Ado About Betty," and twenty-two individuals chosen from the senior class will have roles.

The story concerns Betty, a motion picture star, going South on vacation. She loses her memory due to a railroad accident and is identified as a rival, Violet Ostrich, from a handbag that she carries. In this character she encounters the real Violet, who has just eloped with Ned O'Hare, and mixes up things sadly for both herself and the young couple.

It is an exceptionally bright, clever and effective play, with good negro, Irish and eccentric comedy parts. A real negro will be cast as Diamond, black comedian.

Pupils taking part in the show are: Price Middleton, Carlos Austin, Bill Rhuman, Corkill Motley, W. A. Nance Jr., Fred Walter King, Seldon Robinson, Aubrey Brunson, J. D. Rensu, Harold Clark, Lillian McMillan, Jo Dorothy Shiller, Gladys Fulcher, Mildred McMillan, Rosa Crockett, Louise Hash, Pauline Malone, Lurline Brookshier, Wylene Esmond, Betty Lou Ogbourne, Louise Shepperd, and Tommie Lee Shields.

The play is being directed by Miss Nona Diltz, head of the speech arts department of the school, and rehearsals are well under way. Admissions of 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults will be charged for the performance.

SOMBER COLORS PREVAIL IN FALL AUTO FASHIONS

(By Associated Press)
 DETROIT, Nov. 26.—Flashily painted automobiles have fallen from favor as black and somber colors prevail in autumn fashions.

Black, which a year ago was fourth in the list of popular automobile finishes, continues to lead all color families, says a Du Pont survey of September preferences. Blue, which was edged out of leadership in July, ranks second, while brown is a declining third.

School Inspector Here December 1

County Superintendent R. E. White has sent letters to every teacher in this county and to all rural trustees advising them that the state rural aid inspector will be here December 1 to begin inspections of all schools entitled to state aid. In the letter Mr. White urges all trustees be present for the inspection, that all children of scholastic age be in school on the date specified, libraries placed in good shape, text books arranged so they can easily be checked, and that all buildings be clean and in perfect order.

Mr. White also calls attention to the fact that compulsory attendance starts on December 1, and that every child from six years up is to be enrolled and attend school.

Inspector Frank Van Winkle will visit Runnels county from December 1 to 11, and a schedule has been arranged for his visits. The day and hour for each district is listed in the county superintendent's letter.

Mr. White is particularly interested in securing good attendance at every school. "A poor attendance makes a school appear poor in the eyes of a visitor, the county superintendent asserted, and he is urging teachers and trustees to do all in their power to have every pupil present on inspection dates.

Following is the schedule of inspection visits:

Monday, Dec. 1—9 a. m., Bald; 10:30, Drasco; noon, J. C. Watts; 1 p. m., Pamphrey; 2:30, Wingate.

Tuesday, Dec. 2—9 a. m., Hatchel; 10:30, Franklin; noon, Winters; 1 p. m., Victory; 2:30, Harmony.

Wednesday, Dec. 3—9 a. m., Dry Ridge; 10:30, Bethel; noon at Bethel; 1 p. m., Groenwald; 2:30, Sweet Home.

Thursday, Dec. 4—9 a. m., Spring Hill; 10:30, Cross Roads; 11:30, Red Bank; noon, C. H.

SIDE AND BACK

Lady Had Suffered So Much Pain Was Almost Desperate. Says Cardui Helped Her.

Denison, Texas.—"Before I took Cardui, it seemed like I had tried everything, for my health was wrecked," writes Mrs. Nannie Davis, of 418 W. Woodard Street, this city. "I was in bed most of the time," explains Mrs. Davis, "suffering so much with pain in my side and back, and weakness. I was so discouraged, I was almost desperate. "I knew there ought to be something to reach my case. I only weighed about 110 pounds. My eyes were hollow and I looked awfully bad. "A good friend told me about Cardui. After taking my first bottle, I felt better, but I kept it up until I had taken four bottles, and now I am well, have no pain in my side or back, and feel like a new woman. I can work most of the time, and feel fine. "For three years, I have been free from pain. That is why I recommend Cardui." If you are run-down, nervous, or suffer every month, take Cardui, a medicine used by women for over fifty years. As your health improves, you will share the enthusiasm of thousands of others who have praised Cardui for the benefits they have felt after taking it.
