Millions Brave Cold to Attend Joffre Funeral

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, Jan. 7.—The body of Marshal Joffre today rested in Les Invalides, hall of the French immortals whose massive dome shelters the bodies of Napoleon the emperor, and Foch, another great military leader.

Two million Frenchmen braved freezing weather today to stand outside the Cathedral of Notre Dame, and along the route to Les Invalides, while the sombre funeral cortege proceeded to the temporary resting place of the man who saved France from the invaders in 1914. Later, the body will be removed to a private mausoleum to be constructed at the Joffre chateau at Louveciennes.

WRECK VICTIMS HERE ARE NOW RESTING WELL

Ollie Batchelor, Geo. Fowler and Eldredge Seldon, who were injured in an automobile wreck here Monday night, are all reported to be resting well at the Halley & Love Sanitarium and are expected to soon be able to be up and be taken home. The three men are still suffering from their wounds but no injuries of a fatal nature developed from complete examinations and as soon as the wounds heal they will be able to leave the institution.

James Matheny, of San Antonio, representative of the American La France fire truck company, was in Ballinger Monday, spending the day here inspecting the new pumper recently bought from that company. John Parker, chief of the San Angelo fire department, was here with Mr. Matheny and after going over the equipment they reported it in first class shape.

Eight thousand acres of buckwheat produced 120,000 bushels of grain for North Carolina farmers in 1930.

The average English farm is 94 acres and that of Wales 83.

City to Register Births and Deaths

A new state law went into effect on January 1, 1931, changing the place of keeping vital statistics from the health officer to the city secretary. This applies to records of births and deaths. The city of Ballinger, in compliance with the new law, has purchased a set of the best records that can be obtained and with the cooperation of physicians and undertakers will endeavor to keep a strict and accurate record.

The law requires that the record be kept by months and those whose duty it is to furnish the information to the secretary are requested to give the information in prompty each month so that errors may be avoided.

The first baby born to be reported here under the new law was Ruth Ann Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lee Smith of Ballinger. The young lady was born on January 3. Mr. Smith, who is an employee of the Harwell Motor Company, has resided here with his wife for some time. Dr. F. M. Hale made the report Wednesday morning.

K. V. Northington, city secretary, stated that the job of keeping this record was thrust upon him by the legislature but that he earnestly solicited the cooperation of those who compile this information, so that his records will be authentic. Hereafter the city secretary will issue burial permits and keep a record of all deaths in the city limits.

The new vital statistics law is the result of several years' agitation to secure more systematic records.

"Trade Wind" is Off on Second Try

(By Associated Press)
HAMPTON ROADS, Va., Jan. 7.—The monoplane "Trade Wind" reached Hamilton, Bermuda, the objective of its first leg, at 1:45 o'clock this afternoon after a flight of six hours and fifty-five minutes.

HAMPTON ROADS, Va., Jan. 7.—The monoplane "Trade Wind" piloted by a red-haired widow, Mrs. Beryl Hart, and the man who taught her how to fly, Lieutenant William MacLaren, took off today for the second time on the first leg of its projected flight to Paris.

The "Trade Wind" was reported 300 miles from the Bermuda Islands at 8:45 this morning.

Head of Paris Schools Dies

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, Tex., Jan. 7.—Professor J. G. Wooten, 75, head of the Paris public school system for 37 years, died here today from an illness which had continued for several days.

J. G. Wooten devoted the major portion of his life to development of the public school system of Paris and his adopted state of Texas.

Born in Warren county, Kentucky, March 5, 1855, he grew to manhood there, receiving his early education at Bethel College. Later he attended the University of Virginia, afterward studying law and passing his examination for the bar.

With Opie Read, the novelist, a close associate of early manhood, Wooten did newspaper work for the Russellville Weekly Herald and served as Russellville correspondent for Colonel Henry Watterson's Courier-Journal and other dailies.

He often said he began his teaching career by accident. He filled a vacancy in a school temporarily, became enthusiastic over the work and since taught continuously. He resided eleven years in Mississippi and once was president of the Eastern Mississippi Teachers' Association and secretary of the state association. He resigned as superintendent of Oxford, Miss., schools and removed to Paris, Texas, in 1893. Since he was closely affiliated with the Texas State Teachers Association and the Texas State Superintendents' and Principals' Association.

In Paris he saw the system develop from three buildings to six ward schools, a high school and two elementary schools and a high school for negroes as well as the present Paris junior college.

Arranging Program For Teachers' Meet

H. C. Lyon, city superintendent, and R. E. White, county superintendent, left Wednesday morning for Brownwood to meet with the program committee of the Mid-Texas Teachers Association. This meeting was called by President C. H. Hufford, superintendent of the Coleman public schools. The committee will be in session all day Wednesday and expects to formulate the three-day program for the association meeting which probably will be held in April.

The convention will be held in Brownwood this year, that city being selected at the close of the meeting at Brady last year. For a number of years Brownwood was the regular meeting place of the association. Later it was decided to meet in other cities of the district and since that time Coleman, Ballinger and Brady have entertained the convention.

Attendance at the mid-state teachers gathering usually runs between 700 and 1,000 and cities comprised in the district are always desirous of entertaining the association. The precise date for the meeting this year has not been set but local educators expect it to be held in April as previously.

Superintendent of city and county schools compose the committee which will supervise arrangement of the program which will include all phases of school work.

Tourists Robbed by Bandits on Volcano

(By Associated Press)
MEXICO CITY, Jan. 7.—High amid the snow and ice of Popocatepetl and Ixtaccihuatl, two extinct volcanoes which do eternal sentry duty outside the valley of Mexico, bandit gangs have taken to robbing mountain climbers.

The climbers claim the robbers have placed guards at the approaches to notify confederates of likely prey. The climbers then are trapped and robbed at inaccessible spots.

Repression of Law Is Asked by Olson

(By Associated Press)
ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 7.—Repression of Minnesota's newspaper suppression law was recommended to the legislature today by Floyd Olson in his inaugural address as the state's first Farmer-Labor party governor.

Gov. Olson urged repeal of the act, explaining that "possibilities for abuse make it an unwise law."

Roy Mack of Winters was in Ballinger Wednesday attending to business and visiting his parents.

Commission May Report Jan. 14

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The Wickersham law enforcement commission recessed unexpectedly today to January 14.

Secrecy was maintained as to whether this means the long awaited prohibition report, now virtually complete, was ready for submission to President Hoover, or whether there would be further deliberation among the commission members before taking it to the White House.

MANY PEOPLE WISH TO ADOPT MILES BABY

Peace officers at Miles received telephone calls all day Tuesday from people in different sections of West Texas wanting to adopt the baby left on a door step at Miles Monday night. Sheriff W. A. Holt was called there Wednesday on the matter and stated that a number of West Texas people had called him wanting to be given the baby boy. No clues have been found which might lead to the finding of the baby's parents. Birth records were investigated, in a number of West Texas towns Tuesday but revealed no births which might be that of the parentless waif.

Sam Behringer left Tuesday afternoon for San Antonio to look after business there for a few days.

Republican Asserts Lucas Made Mistake

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Joseph R. Nutt, treasurer of the Republican national committee, today said he believed Robert H. Lucas, executive director of the committee, had made a mistake in circulating campaign literature against Senator George W. Norris, independent Republican, of Nebraska.

Lucas is alleged to have used Ku Klux Klan propaganda against Norris in an effort to defeat him in the senatorial election in Nebraska.

10 Planes Reach Brazil; 1 Pilot Dies in Collision

(By Associated Press)
BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 7.—A dispatch from Bulama, Portuguese Guinea, said two planes of the twelve in the Italian trans-oceanic expedition collided shortly after taking off for Natal, Brazil, yesterday. One ship is reported to have fallen, burning. The other, damaged, returned to Bulama.

The body of the pilot of one of the ship was reported to have been recovered yesterday.

Government censorship relating to the accident was lifted today but details were withheld largely to avoid alarming families of the fliers.

In the meantime thousands of Brazilians gathered at Natal to view the ten planes which made a successful crossing.

The planes, floating at anchor on the River Potegny, are none the worse for their 1,700-mile hop across the Atlantic. Day after tomorrow the aerial caravan will continue down the Brazilian coast to Rio de Janeiro, alighting on Botofogo Bay near the presidential palace to complete the 7,000-mile odyssey which began December 17 at Orbetello, Italy.

SUNDOWN STORIES

THE SLEIGH-RIDE

By Mary Graham Bonner

"I've turned the time back for our adventure this evening," commenced the Little Black Clock, "but not nearly so far as I did for the one when we heard the old Snow King making his plans for storms and good-times and frolics and adventures of all sorts."

"Now we must be off. You have your warm sweaters and coats, as I told you?"

John and Peggy showed the Little Black Clock how well they had bundled up for the cold.

"We're going for a ride. Good! The sleigh is here now."

It was such an old-fashioned sleigh. John and Peggy thought it was wonderful, and they began thinking that perhaps the old world was nicer than the world when the Clock turned the time ahead, which was very thrilling and very much like a fairyland. But the old world, when he turned the time backward was so comfortable and so jolly!

They went along at a good speed, for a horse and sleigh, through some deep woods. They locked so dark and the white snowy road so interesting as it wound its way through the forest.

And then the horse turned to the right. Yes, that seemed to be the right road. But now a snow storm had come up and the snow was almost blinding the horse so that he could hardly see ahead.

The road was not so distinct and easy to follow now. The trees were being covered with snow. The Little Black Clock was letting the horse pick out the road. He said that the horse was very familiar with it.

Then they made another turn. The Little Black Clock had not been sure about it. And suddenly there was no road ahead of them.

They were entirely surrounded by trees. The horse became excited. He reared up on his hind legs and tried to turn around. As he did so the sleigh upset.

The Clock, John and Peggy landed in the snow!

HOW'S your HEALTH?

Edited by Dr. Logo, Graduate of the New York Academy of Medicine

THE WORKER'S HEALTH-IV.

The American workman in the skilled trades group is more subject to physical and functional defects and disabilities than is either the agricultural worker, the professional man or the business man.

This was revealed in a study by the research division of the Milbank memorial fund. Defects of vision and of hearing are outstandingly common physical disabilities in the workers' group. Particularly is this true of hearing defects.

What relation there is between this disability and the noises encountered by the workers in the skilled trades during their labor is yet undetermined, but undoubtedly there is some causative relationship between the two.

As much may be assumed for defective vision, for while many of the defects are hereditary, bad illumination and bad eye habits contribute to the aggravation of the defects.

Many a worker's teeth are often in a poor condition. He may often have pyorrhea, infected gums and caries. Only the farmer makes a worse showing in this respect.

The average worker is more frequently subject to colds than is the average farmer, business or professional man. He is also more liable to be constipated, and in consequence is an habitual user of laxatives and other patented remedies.

As might be expected, many more workers have ruptures, hernias and varicose veins than do any of the other groups.

The workers in the skilled trades show a higher prevalence of disease of the valves of the heart than do any of the other groups. This is also true of enlargement of the heart and of both slight and marked thickening of the arteries.

Fun for All Promised in Cyril Maude's Appearance in Film Version of "Grumpy"

Funs and thrills for young and old alike are furnished by the delectable doings of Cyril Maude in "Grumpy," the talking film version of the famous old stage play at the Palace Theatre today and Thursday.

"Grumpy" is a play built around a character. As that character, Cyril Maude carries with him the full burden of the show—furnishing comedy, thrills, delicious bits of amusing subtlety and withal a grand exhibition of real character acting. For as so many others have said with full truthfulness—"Grumpy" the play, is Cyril Maude, the actor.

Most of the action takes place in the luxurious country estate, near London, of the aged but far from dim-witted Grumpy, a retired criminal lawyer who had gained renown in his younger days before the bar of justice.

Comes to Grumpy's home Phillips Holmes, who has been dispatched from South Africa by his employers in possession of a valuable diamond which he is to deliver to a trading firm in London. Holmes is in love with Frances Dade, Grumpy's granddaughter. Another guest at the Grumpy home is Paul Cavanagh, a society ne'er-do-well.

During the night Holmes is robbed of the gem. Grumpy, being responsible for the welfare of his house-guests, takes up the hunt for the thief. The ensuing action is filled with plot suspense and of course with the effective and amusing character work of Cyril Maude.

Circulars in Red Banned From Mail As 'Bad for Eyes'

(By Associated Press) LONDON, Jan. 7.—The post office has refused to deliver several thousand red circulars.

This action was taken, not because the circulars were radical, but because it was decided that the color would be bad for the postmen's eyes.

The ban was proclaimed under authority of the regulations of the inland post, which rule that nothing shall be conveyed by post of a nature embarrassing to postal officers.

"Red," a post office official explained, "is very embarrassing to the staff. To sort thousands of red cards might easily cause severe eye strain."

Talkies to Acquaint Kenyon Sills with Father; Actor's Last Picture is Saved for Son to See Little Kenyon Sills, who was only a baby when his father died, some day will see and hear Milton Sills in the actor's picture which is being saved for the boy to see. Here Kenyon as a baby is shown with his father and his mother, Doris Kenyon.

By MARK BARRON

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—(AP)—A boy, not yet four years old, is awaiting the day when he will see and hear his father move and speak—his father who died shortly after the son was born.

The boy is Kenyon Sills, son of the late Milton Sills and Doris Kenyon Sills, hero and heroine of many motion pictures.

His mother has the golden, curly hair of his mother. As he was a mere baby when his father died, he cannot remember ever having seen him.

Through talking pictures, however, he some day will not only see his father, but also hear him talk.

A print of "The Sea Wolf," the last picture made by Sills before his death, is being preserved in a vault here. With it is a print of "Men of Steel," a film in which Sills and Doris Kenyon appeared together.

When he is old enough the pictures will be shown to young Kenyon so he may come to know, to a certain extent, the man who was his father.

So far Kenyon has seen only two pictures in his life.

"I have no idea what impression it will make upon my son when he sees his father move and talk on the screen," Miss Kenyon said. "But I think it is wonderful that he will be able to do so."

"I do not know whether I will look at the pictures with Kenyon. Now I do not think I could, but when the time comes to show them I may feel differently."

Mrs. Sills now is in retirement, but she plans to return to public life next spring. There will be no more work in pictures. Instead she will carry on her concert work as "singer and pianist."

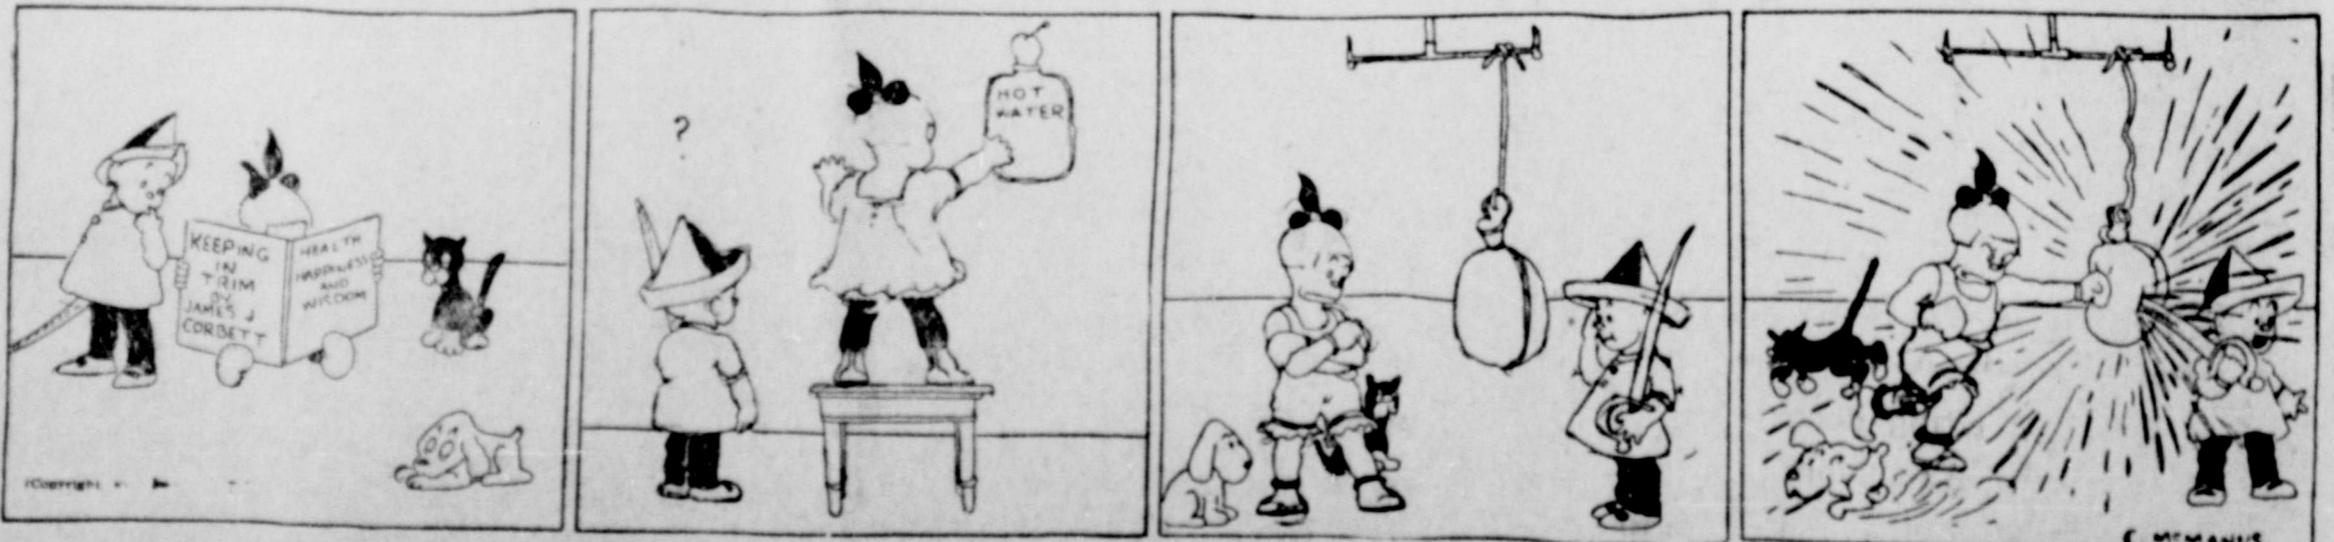

"I came to New York this winter to give several concerts, one with the Philharmonic," she said. "I postponed them until next year. My first concert will be in London in May, and later I will return to make a tour in this country."

"I always wanted to do concerts more than anything else. I may appear in another picture some day, but it is doubtful."

"Still, life changes so much that we never know what we will do. I once said I would never marry an actor, but I did."

CREWS GIRLS 4-H CLUB

On January 2 Mrs. Hollingsworth met with the Crews club girls. There were sixteen present. Mrs. Hollingsworth discussed the sewing work for the year and gave us new ideas about gardening and poultry raising. We were assigned our work for each month in the year. For this month we are to finish one pillow case and have the material for our next garment. Most of the girls are enthusiastic in their club work and expect to make this the best year in the history of the club. Their work is to be supervised and graded by their teachers and local leader. The next meeting will be held the first Thursday in February.

To the Sheriff or any Constable of Runnels County, Greeting: You are hereby commanded to summon Parker Hampton by making publication of this Citation once in each week for four consecutive weeks previous to the return day hereof, in some newspaper published in your County, if there be a newspaper published therein, but if not, then in any newspaper published in the 35th Judicial District, to appear at the next regular term of the District Court of Runnels County, to be holden at the Court House thereof, in Ballinger, on the 2nd Monday in February A. D. 1931, the same being the 9th day of February A. D. 1931, then and there to answer a petition filed in said Court on the 2nd day of January A. D. 1931 in a suit numbered on the docket of said Court No. 3700, wherein Ruby Hampton, is plaintiff, and Parker Hampton, is defendant and said petition alleging plaintiff and defendant were duly and lawfully married on or about the 21st day of July, 1919, and lived together as man and wife, except at intervals hereinafter mentioned, until on or about the 1st day of January, 1929, when, by reason of hereinafter mentioned circumstances, they became permanently separated, that immediately after the marriage of plaintiff to defendant, the defendant began a course of association and clandestine relations with women of bad character for immoral purposes; and during her entire married life, defendant continued said association and relations, and, on several occasions insisted on bringing disreputable and immoral women into their home. That all of said acts were done without the knowledge and consent of said plaintiff, and to embarrass, harange and disgrace her, and were done in a harsh and cruel manner;

That immediately after the consummation of said marriage as above alleged the defendant began a course of cruel, harsh and inhuman treatment of the plaintiff, that he was possessed of a violent, ungovernable temper, and on numerous and various occasions during said marital life, he would fly into a rage and cruelly beat and strike plaintiff with his fists and cause her much pain and mental anguish and physical suffering; That he continued said course of cruel and harsh treatment against plaintiff from a date immediately upon the consummation of said marriage ceremony to the time of their final separation.

That defendant's conduct and association with other women and the results therefrom have seriously affected plaintiff's health and caused her much physical pain and mental anguish and that because of said acts and misconduct the further living together of plaintiff and defendant as man and wife is rendered insupportable.

That there was born to the said marital union one child named Steve Hampton, a boy eight years of age; and that said child was left in the custody and control of plaintiff until about the 6th day of September, 1930, when the defendant returned without the plaintiff's knowledge or consent and took said child from the possession of the plaintiff in Runnels County, Texas, and carried him away; and that plaintiff has not known the whereabouts of said child and has sought diligently to find him, and is now reliably informed that said child is now located in Port Arthur, Jefferson County, Texas, and is being hid and concealed in said town by the defendant and others acting for him from the plaintiff. That plaintiff has, at all times, supported said child since she was separated from the defendant; and that defendant has wholly failed and refused to contribute the necessaries for the support of the child or the plaintiff since said separation and for a long time prior thereto. That said defendant has not ceased the acts of immoral conduct and has no care for the welfare of said child; That defendant has become a shiftless and worthless person, has no regular employment and will not work and is incapable of caring for and maintaining said child; and that for the foregoing reasons, he is morally and financially unfit to have the care and custody of said child;

Wherefore, premises considered, plaintiff prays that defendant be cited to appear and answer herein, and that said minor child, during the pendency of this suit be placed in the custody of the plaintiff, and that defendant be restrained from interfering with said child or the custody of said child or this plaintiff; That, on final hearing, plaintiff have judgment of divorce dissolving the marriage between plaintiff and defendant and a permanent custody of said child; and that defendant be permanently enjoined and restrained from interfering with plaintiff's care and custody of said child, and for costs of court, and other and further relief both general and special.

Herein Fail Not, but have before said Court, at its aforesaid next regular term, this writ with your return thereon, showing how you have executed the same.

Given under my hand and seal of said court, at office in Ballinger, this the 7th day of January,

The junior class organized December 18. Norma Bradley was elected president; Fred Martin vice president; Viron Wilkerson, secretary and reporter. Their colors are blue and white; their flower, the white rose; their motto, "Make room for us; we are coming." This motto suits the juniors for they are coming. Mr. Grounds is sponsor.

The senior class organized by electing Loy Brevard president; Neoma Cox, vice president; Selma Morrison, secretary and treasurer; Lois Dietz, reporter; and Mr. Beard, sponsor. The class colors are green and gold; class flower, the dandelion; the motto, "Progression."

Our boys will play Maverick at Winters Jan. 9, and on Jan. 10 they are to play Wingate at Winters. Both games are at night.

MOROCCAN TRIBES BUY SECOND HAND RIFLES

(By Associated Press)
MOGADOR, Morocco, Jan. 7.—Gun running is a flourishing industry along the Anti-Atlas range in southwestern Morocco, in spite of every effort of the French patrols to stamp it out.

Anything that will go off with a bang finds a ready sale among the untamed, marauding tribesmen of the region.

Old Mausers, Martinis and Winchester are much in demand, fetching as high as $50 apiece, and cartridges, when they can be obtained, bring 50 cents each. It is estimated that there are 35,000 magazine rifles in the possession of tribesmen.

SEEKS PADEREWSKI AS VILLAGE DANCE PIANIST

(By Associated Press)
LAUSANNE, Switzerland, Jan. 7. Ignace Paderewski, Polish pianist and statesman, has proof of the saying that a prophet is without honor in his own country even when that country is but an adopted one.

Recently a dance committee in a village near his Swiss estate at Morges needed a pianist. Some wag suggested writing to Paderewski as one who played well and would likely be glad of the job.

The secretary, in all seriousness, wrote and offered the master a small fee for his services.

Abyssinia Enlists Histerian of Ohio To Teach Millions

(By Associated Press)
ADDIS ABABA, Abyssinia, Jan. 7.—An American educator has undertaken the huge task of educating 10,000,000 Abyssinians.

He is Dr. F. Ernest Wo-k, professor of history in Muskingum college, New Concord, Ohio. How big a job is his may be seen in the fact that less than one per cent of the natives are able to read or write.

Many members of the upper classes use a metal or rubber seal for their signature, while others simply use a thumb-mark.

The finger-print system is used throughout the country. When an Abyssinian merchant enters into a commercial agreement, he merely impresses his inky thumb at the bottom of the paper.

Except for a few scattering foreign missionary institutions, there are practically no schools in Abyssinia.

The Abyssinians have no school-books and no secular literature, and nothing upon which an education can be based. Professor Work hopes to have American schoolbooks translated into Amharic, the native language of most Abyssinians, and later to educate the students in English. His assistants are several Abyssinian students who went to America and studied under Professor Work at Muskingum.

The American educator, who is living in Addis Ababa, has been given the title of "Director of Education of Ethiopia" by Emperor Haile Selassie.

EMMA GOLDMAN COMES BACK INTO RED SPOTLIGHT

(By Associated Press)
NICE, France, Jan. 7.—Emma Goldman, unable to obtain a visa for returning to the United States, has resumed her communitistic activities.

For more than a year she had been residing here in semi-obscure, keeping well out of the spotlight in the hope that this course would aid in obtaining a revocation of the United States government edicts which several years ago banished her and some other rabid "reds" to Russia.

She had been the recipient of numerous invitations to attend meetings of local communists but had steadily declined them. Then suddenly she accepted one and even agreed to address the meeting.

WHAT A WORLD OF GRIEF IT SAVES YOU!

We know a seed house that proves each season's crop of seeds in their own trial gardens before they offer them to the public. Flowers and vegetables grown from these seeds must measure up to definite standards, or else the entire crops from which the samples were taken are burned.

We know a manufacturer of dry batteries who tested a new product two years before he sold a single battery to a single dealer.

We know a manufacturer of an anti-freeze solution for automobile radiators who spent two years testing his product under all conditions before he said a word in advertising about the merits of his goods.

We know a manufacturer of household pharmaceutical products whose self-imposed standard of purity and efficacy is even higher than that laid down by the United States Pharmacopoeia and the National Formulary.

If we mentioned their names you would recognize them immediately. You probably would say, "I plant those seeds," "I use that battery," "I use that anti-freeze," "My medicine cabinet contains those products."

The four instances cited are typical of every reliable manufacturer in America. Millions of dollars are spent annually to develop, to improve, to standardize, and to take the guesswork out of merchandise. Other millions of dollars are spent in advertising to tell you about them.

All of which is to say that in putting your trust in advertising merchandise you save yourself the bother, the expense, the disappointment—yes the danger—of experimenting and discovering for yourself which make of soap, breakfast food, radio tubes, lingerie, gasoline, tea, electrical device, stationery—or what-not—gives you the most service for your money.

The news columns of this paper keep you informed of the latest international, national and local happenings. The advertisements keep you informed of the newest, most advantageous, most reliable merchandise that America's most progressive makers are producing.

ELECT SECRETARY FOR LOCAL SCHOOL BOARD

At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Ballinger independent school district Tuesday night the resignation of H. S. Strain as member of the board and also as secretary was accepted and other business attended to.

Harry Lynn, formerly first vice-president of the board, resigned that place and was made secretary, and A. J. Thorp was elected to the office of first vice-president.

A successor to take the place of Mr. Strain as trustee has not been announced to date by the board. As soon as a suitable man who is willing to serve can be found he will be elected.

BARNETT P. T. A. HOLDS SPELLING MATCH, SOCIAL

Last Friday night the Barnett Parent-Teacher Association met in a social gathering with a large number of the members present. A short program was presented after which an old time spelling match was staged with C. L. Howard and Arch Tyree acting as captains of the two teams.

Following the spelling contest women of the organization served hot chocolate and cake.

The next meeting of the organization will be held January 16.

About New York

By Richard Massock

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—(P)—Torsio murder mysteries and South American revolutions are bad for some, but good for the tattooing industry.

They send young men, you see, into tattooers' studios to have identification marks drilled into their epidermis.

Torsio murder mysteries, as readers of headlines know, are those in which a decapitated body is found, but the distinguishing head is missing. As for South American revolutions:

Young and wanderlust men, would-be soldiers of fortune, who hang out around the port of New York, are ever stirred by reports of trouble elsewhere and are promptly off in the search for adventure.

Human Document

Sometimes, they have found, it is hard to get back into the country as an American citizen, or something may happen to them in the tropical brush. So they want to be sure that their identity will always be on their bodies.

It was for this reason, then, that during the recent difficulties below the equator, one young man had his honorable discharge from the United States navy tattooed across his back by Charlie, veteran tattooer of the Bowery.

Charlie has been on the Bowery 40 years, inscribing sweethearts' initials, flags, the buxom figures of girls and other insignia of romance or adventure on the arms and torsos of sailors, their girl friends and anybody else who craved indelible adornment.

He has seen others take up his trade, until there are about a half-dozen tattooers in town, most of them on the Bowery or the Brooklyn waterfront.

One of them is a tailor, Charlie said, who once rented a bit of space in his shop to a professor of tattooing. The professor disappeared one day, owing his rent, so the tailor kept the outfit and took up tattooing as a sideline.

Women Customers

Women are more frequent customers than one might suspect. They have beauty spots tattooed on their faces, butterflies on their shoulders, or over vaccination scars. One woman, who didn't know about the Bowery, wrote to Washington to enquire where she could find a tattooer. The patent office sent her Charlie's address.

When she came to him, she asked to have her marriage certificate tattooed across her back. She explained that she and her husband were about to embark on a European trip.

Charlie's studio is in the back of a barbers' shop, near the public baths. (The Bowery barber shops still have bathtubs in them.)

There Charlie also paints black eyes, making them, to all appearances, as good as new, and twice as natural. First he paints the offended member flesh-color. Then he touches up the other orb, to make them match.

He is proud of his artistry, which leaves only the swelling to be explained. It is easy work, too, he says.

The price of a bit of tattooing is from 50 cents to $1, according to design. Charlie charges 50 cents for painting a black eye.

"I wish I had 'em to do all day," he said.

One-Act Play is Chapel Program

The chapel program Friday morning at Ballinger high school will feature a one-act play with local students taking part and directed by A. F. Ligon, principal of the high school. The program will start at 10 o'clock and patrons of the school and those interested in such work are invited to be present.

"The Valliant," an one-act tragedy by Robert Middlemass, is the play to be given. This is perhaps one of the best known one-act plays in this day and is said to have been used more than any other play and won more contests in schools. Mr. Ligon, who will direct the entry of the one-act play in the Interscholastic League contest at San Angelo this year, stated that this play would not be used, but was presented here as a chapel program because it had never been seen here and as a workout for the material which may get a chance to work in the contest bill this spring.

Those taking part in the play Friday morning are William Duncan, Rosa Crockett, Price Middleton, Harold Clark and Bill Ruhmann. Most of these characters were used in the senior play and have had other experience which makes them well suited for the parts assigned to them.

Mr. Ligon has had experience in presenting one-act bills and has won second place with his performances at district contests several times. He was defeated last year by the cast that won the state championship and expects this year to furnish even harder competition at the meet at San Angelo. He has not announced what play he will use this year but will start to work on it soon so as to have it perfectly rehearsed for the district meet in April.

Everyone has an invitation to see the play Friday morning and no admission will be charged. The play will last for about 30 minutes and will start soon after 10 o'clock.

Head of Paris

The latter was founded in 1924.

Mr. Wooten's deep interest in education also was reflected in his widespread activities in Masonic circles. He was past grand commander of the Knights Templar and secretary of the Knights Templar student loan fund executive board, established in 1924. He administered distribution of a fund of nearly $150,000 without being under bond.

He took his first Masonic degrees in 1883 at Benton, Miss., and after transferring membership to other lodges in that state became a member of Paris, Texas, lodge No. 27. He became past master of the Paris lodge, past high priest of Lafayette chapter No. 48, past commander of Paris commandery No. 9 Knights Templar, a 32d degree Mason in the Dallas consistory, Scottish Rite, and a member of the Shrine at Moslah Temple, Fort Worth.

Always closely identified with development of the city of Paris, he belonged to the Rotary Club and civic organizations and was a member of the First Christian Church.

F. M. Williams of Norton was attending to business in Ballinger Wednesday and ordered The Ledger to his address for 1931.

FORMER BALLINGER WOMAN WANTS HOMELESS BABY

Sheriff W. A. Holt returned from Miles Wednesday afternoon where he had been to look after the baby found on a doorstep there Monday night. Sheriff Holt stated that the baby was in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Donaldson, the former a deputy sheriff, and was doing fine. The child is sleeping well and Mr. Holt said was healthy and pretty.

Mrs. C. L. Mohr, formerly Miss Anna Jean Sharp, of Ballinger, has made application for the infant boy and will come to Ballinger either Wednesday afternoon or Thursday morning to fill out the papers. Officers at Miles informed Mrs. Mohr over the telephone Wednesday morning that her application was acceptable and asked that she appear at the court house at Ballinger to take out adoption papers.

The baby, who is between three and five days old, received a "shower" from women of Miles Tuesday afternoon.

ROTARIANS HEAR REV. T. E. BOWMAN

The Ballinger Rotary Club met Wednesday in regular weekly luncheon with one of the best attendances that has been present for some time. Judge Paul Trimmer, president of the club, missed the first meeting Wednesday since he has been an officer of the organization. He was called to Austin late Tuesday afternoon and could not be present Wednesday. Mr. Trimmer expected to make up his attendance record by attending the meeting of some other club, and keep it 100 per cent for the year.

Rev. T. E. Bowman was the main speaker at the luncheon Wednesday and brought an inspiring message on international questions. The program for this day was in the hands of the international service committee and Rev. Bowman was asked to speak on this subject.

J. D. Motley, vice-president, occupied the president's chair.

Among those from out of town here Tuesday to attend the funeral of E. D. Walker were: Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Harris, Mrs. Henry Wylie, R. A. Hall, Vosberry Hall, and Mrs. Abe Millar, San Angelo; Bolly Warren and L. E. Collins, Coleman.

A well drilled near Logan, Utah, to supply a grade school produced water at 115 degrees Fahrenheit.
