Confederate Vets will Not Abolish Reunions

(By Associated Press)
MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 2.—The boom of cannon and the shrill notes of reveille today gave a military atmosphere to Camp Stephens, where five hundred Confederate veterans are holding their forty-first annual reunion. Answering the rumor that this is to be the last Confederate reunion, the veterans generally said, "So long as two of us can get together to raise the rebel yell and some Southern city wants us, there'll be a reunion."

Olympic Stadia Able to Handle 150,000 People

(By Paul Zimmerman)
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
LOS ANGELES, June 2.—More than 300,000 persons will be able to watch half a dozen varied forms of sports in the 1932 Olympics here next summer under the present completed plans for staging the international games. The Olympic stadium, where the greater share of the events will be staged, has been enlarged to seat by reservation, 105,000 persons, or by general admission, 125,000.

Just a stone's throw away, the swimming stadium, now under contract, will accommodate 10,000 more, while only a block from the Olympic stadium, the gymnastic and fencing events will be held in an armory equipped with 5,000 seats.

A few blocks farther stands the Olympic auditorium, with a 10,400 seat capacity for those who wish to watch the boxing and wrestling events.

Twenty miles into the foothills of Pasadena stands the Rose Bowl, boasting accommodations for 75,000, where the soccer football and several other events will be staged, while 20 miles in the opposite direction, a grandstand caring for 10,000 and a spacious beach which will accommodate an additional 100,000 will be available in Long Beach for the rowing races.

All equestrian sports, including the polo games, will take place at the Riviera Riding Club, where a grandstand equipped to seat 10,000 will be erected less than 15 miles from the Olympic stadium. All fine arts contests and exhibits will be housed in a building two blocks from the site of the track and field events.

Under present plans of the Los Angeles organizing committee, all physical improvements, including the pretentious village where all the athletes of the competing nations will be housed, will be in shape by next spring to turn over to the International Olympic committee, which will stage the cosmopolitan classic.

Mrs. W. H. Coleman and daughter and Mrs. W. H. Coleman, Jr., of Arlington, are here as guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Talbott.

Miss Addie Alexander, county health nurse, returned Monday from Houston where she has been visiting the past few days.

Dr. J. W. Macune had business in Paint Rock Monday afternoon.

Department Plans For Big Saving

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 2.—Conferees between President Hoover and Secretary Hyde have disclosed that the department of agriculture expects to save $20,000,000 in the next fiscal year.

Mexican Village is Wiped Out by Fire

(By Associated Press)
PUERTO, Mexico, June 2.—Fire originating in a bamboo hut kitchen today in thirty minutes wiped out the small town of Nachital in the coastal petroleum region. There were no casualties. British and American oil corporations have large holdings in this district.

County Teachers Sign Contracts

All schools in the county are closed and practically all teachers have been elected and signed contracts for the ensuing year. Supt. R. E. White stated Tuesday that the county would lose two teachers next year, the number of teachers under his jurisdiction being cut from 101 to 99. Of this number 100 have already signed contracts for the coming year and one teacher is to be named at Blanton.

Runnels county schools have done excellent work this year with little interference on account of illness or for other reasons. This was evidenced in the number in the county-wide graduating class here in May when nearly 200 received diplomas upon completion of courses through the seventh grade. This was practically double the class of the year before, and many of them will take up high school studies either in their community schools or transfer to high schools in the county.

Supt. White said some repair would be made on buildings and other school property during the summer. No big jobs are scheduled, but all equipment will be put in first class shape for the opening of the term next fall.

Much extra work has been done in Runnels county schools this year, including diphtheria immunization campaigns, interscholastic league events, school plays and entertainments, all of which have had the support of live Parent-Teacher associations.

Kidnap Case is Ready for Jury

(By Associated Press)
CORSIKANA, Tex., June 2.—Judge Hawkins Scarborough said he would charge the jury this afternoon, which with the arguments by counsel, probably will complete the case of Currie Caldwell, charged in connection with the kidnaping here on December 10, 1930, of Robert Cerf.

Cerf was released soon after the abduction at Dallas, on payment of $15,000 ransom.

First Proration Suit Next Week

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, June 2.—Assistant Attorney General Fred Upchurch today announced the first suit to enjoin the state railroad commission's East Texas oil proration orders would be heard next week.

VALLEY TO ORGANIZE POLO LEAGUE SOON

(By Associated Press)
HARLINGEN, Tex., June 2.—A polo league will be organized in the Lower Rio Grande Valley at an early date.

Other cities of the section now boasting teams are Alamo, Reynosa, Mexico, and the two Valley army camps, Fort Ringgold at Rio Grande City, and Fort Brown at Brownsville.

Mercedes is to have a team soon.

A polo schedule culminating in the annual mid-winter polo tournament at Brownsville, will be worked out soon. Teams from San Antonio, Houston and points in Mexico compete in this tournament usually held in December.

Mrs. Uel Stephens and Uel, Jr., of San Antonio, are here to spend the summer with Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Miller.

Parole Granted Dallas Forger

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, June 2.—Governor Ross S. Sterling today granted a general parole to Ben C. Richards, of Dallas, convicted in June 1930, for forgery, and sentenced to two to three years imprisonment. Richards' wife died recently, leaving him with a nine-year-old boy to support.

Akron to be Entrusted to Young Officers Who Favored Lure of Sky to Call of Sea

The navy's $5,375,000 air monster, the dirigible Akron, expected to fly this summer, and four of the officers who will be aboard. Lieut. Comm. Rosendahl, Captain, will command.

Jefferson Davis Statue Accepted

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 2.—The federal government today accepted the statue of Jefferson Davis, only president of the Confederate States, from the noted man's native state of Mississippi. Each state is permitted to place the statues of two of its greatest citizens in the nation's hall of fame, the space that was once the House chamber.

St. Lewis Named Federal Attorney

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 2.—President Hoover today appointed Roy St. Lewis, federal district attorney in Oklahoma, as assistant United States attorney general in charge of the admiralty, war risk insurance and related subjects.

P. J. Harris, manager of the Perry Bros. store here, and his wife, left Tuesday morning for Ennis, Tex., their former home, for a week's vacation trip and visit with relatives and friends.

Miss Evelyn Shepherd left Tuesday afternoon for Abilene to attend the annual reunion of the ex-cougars to be held Wednesday morning with a breakfast at the Abilene country club.

Hub Will Move For Remodeling

Workers will begin the last of this week to rebuild and repair the Hub store building and for several weeks the job will be under construction. While this work is being done the store will move into temporary quarters in the building formerly occupied by R. A. Williamson next door to the Tigner Jewelry Company.

The interior of the building recently was damaged in a fire that came near sweeping the entire building. All the damaged portion will be torn out and workers will replace it with new material.

R. E. George, manager of the Hub, stated Tuesday that a large amount of fixtures would be installed when the building is ready to be occupied again. All fixtures in the ladies ready-to-wear department will be new and modern and much of the shelf space downstairs will be made new.

It is expected that from two to three weeks will be needed to complete the work and the store will operate during that time in its temporary quarters. Just as soon as the building is completed, unsold stock will be returned and an opening of the new store held.

(Associated Press Aviation Editor)
WASHINGTON, June 2.—Flying days of the navy airship Akron will be ruled by men who found the lure of the open sky stronger than the call of the sea. Ten officers, seas salts once but now experts in an aerial field, head the crew selected to man the monster dirigible that is expected first to fly in mid-summer.

To their task they will bring the daring and quickness of youth—their average age is 34—tempered with the experience and judgment of years afloat and aloft.

As captain there is Lieut. Commander Charles E. Rosendahl, 39, slim, studious leader, quiet but direct of speech, on whom will rest the full responsibility for the $5,375,000 air queen.

Annapolis trained with the class of '14 he started his lighter-than-air career after nine years of sea and shore service because, he said, "I thought I would like flying."

Senior surviving officer of the Shenandoah crash in 1925, skipper of the Los Angeles for three years, first commander of the navy's rigid airship training and experimental squadron, he has flying time now equal to 138 consecutive days and nights aloft.

He was aboard the Graf Zeppelin on its first flight to America and again when it flew around the world. He has had more hours in the air as skipper than any other American officer.

Lieut. Comm. Herbert V. Wiley, as executive officer, will be his right-hand man. He is 40 a year and a day older than Rosendahl, Annapolis trained with the class of '15, served on the Shenandoah, and for a year was skipper of the Los Angeles.

Lieut. Comm. Bertram J. Rodgers, engineering officer, is 37, and has been executive officer of the Los Angeles.

Lieut. Roland G. Mayer, construction corps, is 29. He aided in the construction of the Shenandoah. On that airship when it broke asunder over Ohio, he escaped with Rosendahl and five others by free-ballooning 12 miles in the forward section.

He was aboard the Graf Zeppelin in 1929 as naval observer on its trans-Atlantic flight from America to Germany.

Lieut. Richard R. Dennett was a balloonist in two national elimination races and a watch officer on the Los Angeles for a year. He is 30.

The Akron will have another former watch officer of the Los Angeles in Lieut. Harold H. Pickens, 29, a lighter-than-air man since 1929.

Youngest of the officers is Lieut. Wilfred Bushnell, 28, a graduate of Annapolis in 1926. He served little more than a year on surface ships before he was detailed to lighter-than-air training.

Doctor is Found Dead in Apartment

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, June 2.—Dr. George Edward Deely, prominent specialist, was found dead in his fashionable Brooklyn home today. He had been stabbed and his head crushed with a mahogany ball torn from a bedpost.

Army Flier Near Death After Crash

(By Associated Press)
GALVESTON, June 2.—L. J. Conway, army air corps cadet, of Brooks Field, San Antonio, was probably fatally injured today when his plane crashed from a low altitude near here.

Conway was attempting a cross-country solo flight.

Presbyterians Not to Withdraw From Federation

(By Associated Press)
PITTSBURGH, June 2.—The general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America today refused to act on the motion to withdraw from the Federal Council of Churches in America, but disapproved of the "ecclesiastical pronouncements" of the federation on the subject of birth control.

BALLINGER GIRLS TO TEACH AT PAINT ROCK

The school board at Paint Rock in session Monday evening elected Miss Ruth Holliday as teacher of English and physical education in the high school there and Miss Eleanor Hancock as teacher of the sixth grade. Both young women have accepted the positions and will go there next September to start their work.

MEMBERS OF BOARD OF CONTROL WANT VACATION

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, June 2.—Members of the board of control hope that the legislature, if it is called in special session to consider appropriations, will finish its work in time for them to take a vacation this summer.

Last year they were unable to take any time off because they were busy making up the appropriations budget for recommendation to the legislature. It took four months to hear the appeals of the various colleges, departments of eleemosynary institutions and make up the budget. Claude D. Teer, chairman of the board, said.

Cardinal Believed Negotiating Crisis

(By Associated Press)
ROME, June 2.—Cardinal Pietro Gaspari, who as papal secretary signed the Lateran treaty in 1929, is believed today to have taken a hand in laying the groundwork for negotiations on the Italo-Vatican crisis.

Mrs. Robert Lee Jonas and little daughter, of Miami, Ark., are here visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Straley.

Miss Virginia Holman arrived Monday from Lindenwood College at St. Charles, Mo., where she attended school the past year.

Be wise and advertise.

THANKS

We wish to thank everyone who has attended our Fire Sale during the past two weeks. The crowds have been gratifying and we have tried to give every customer personal service and a real bargain for every dollar spent at this great money saving event.

Closed Thursday

Our store will be closed all day Thursday while our stock is being moved to temporary quarters across the street in the building next door to the Tigner Jewelry Co. We will remain in this building while our building is being repaired, repainted, redecorated and new and modern fixtures installed.

SALE WILL CONTINUE

The great money saving prices will remain on all our merchandise and the Fire Sale will continue in our temporary quarters and we invite our patrons to visit us there. We will be there two or three weeks before the building is ready for us to return to our new, modern home at the old location.

Again we thank you for the good business during the Fire Sale and hope to see you in our temporary quarters where you will find many unheard of bargains in men's, women's and children's clothing.

The wool crop this year in West Texas is unusually large and a large quantity of the clip has already been sold for a fair price. The wool this year is of especially good sample and ewes are shearing extra pounds due to the good weather conditions and plenty of winter weeds and grass.

The highway department has let a number of contracts for additional work in Texas which will also receive federal assistance. This year will likely see a new record in Texas for construction work and much good is being accomplished, aside from construction, in that thousands of local people are being given employment.

There are more gardens in Runnels county this year than ever before, according to those who keep a close check on this work. Practically every farm home is cultivating a garden and will practically supply the family table during the summer from their efforts. The gardens do not stop on the farms, however, and in Ballinger a good per cent of the homes have patches in back yards or on vacant lots planted in vegetables that will bear a large yield of food this summer.

The spring season here this year has been unusually cool and June comes ushering in the summer season with few hot days already experienced. No one should complain of a country where only about three months of the year can be considered hot weather and the remainder is only cool with little bitter freezing weather. One big redeeming feature for any faults West Texas may have is an ideal climate that people can enjoy.

Confederate veterans are meeting this week in Montgomery, Alabama, and the attendance each year sees a big decline due to members falling from the ranks. Where special trains from this section of the state used to carry whole trainloads, now, it is only occasionally that one will attempt the long trip. These old men are fast answering the call to fall in on the other side and few are left to keep alive the glorious organization that has meant so much to them in the recent years of their lives.

SILVER REVIVAL IMPERATIVE

Senator Borah of Idaho, chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations, asserted that the slump in the price of silver was an important contributing cause to the present world-wide economic depression and blamed the governments of the leading powers for delay in taking steps to remedy the silver situation.

Mr. Borah emphasized that reduction in the value of silver was steadily reducing the purchasing power of an overwhelming portion of the world's population, lowering world trade and more han doubling the indebtedness of countries using silver. He outlined in detail the dependency of many countries on silver as their basis of credit and said:

"The silver problem is one requiring governmental action. It cannot be solved or settled by resolutions or through action of the citizens. Governments must deal with it. And it is somewhat difficult to understand the delay."

MOTHER OCEAN'S PRIZE

By Mary Graham Bonner
John and Peggy were very curious to see what prize Mother Ocean was going to give to the wave which had made the highest jump.

As the children and the Little Black Clock sat on the deck of the boat they heard the deep, deep voice of Mother Ocean.

"They couldn't see her, but with the aid of the Little Black Clock's magic they could understand what Mother Ocean was saying. 'All my waves have done beautifully in these jumping matches,' she said in her low, rumbling voice. 'Mother Ocean has been proud of you.'"

"The waves were not jumping now, but at Mother Ocean's words of praise they rippled with delight and smiles rushed across their watery faces. 'Now I am going to give a prize to the one who has made the highest jump today. 'Stand over there,' said Mother Ocean, 'and you will now receive the prize.'"

The wave jumped a little and rocked back and forth in the spot to which Mother Ocean had pointed, and then Mother Ocean said:

"The rainbow is your prize. Of course we do not care about prizes we can keep forever, but we enjoy prizes over which we can have delight for a little while."

As the wave jumped up and down and back and forth, bowing over its prize, the sunlight made a beautiful rainbow through the top of the wave.

Perhaps, sometimes, you will see rainbows as the waves along the beach break in the sunlight, and you will know that Mother Ocean has been giving prizes.

VACATION BENEFITS

Summer vacations have become fairly well established in our scheme of life. Practical experience has proven them of value to both young and old.

The growing child who spends a few weeks in the country grows better for that experience. The factory worker who leaves behind him for a time the grind and turmoil of the work shop and goes camping or fishing profits by the change. And industry has found vacations a good investment.

However, few among us give as much thought to our vacations as they deserve, and in consequence, we do not always profit by them as much as we might.

The choice of the type, place and season for one's vacation deeply affects the profit to be derived from it.

A mail carrier would probably not plan a hiking trip over the country, nor would the driver of a transcontinental bus ordinarily yearn for a motor jaunt for recreation.

A wrong sort of vacation is worse than none. Cartoonists have used the situation for poking fun at mankind.

Numerous times they have shown a physical and nervous wreck being greeted with the question "Oh! have you been in an accident?" only to have the wreck reply, "No, I'm just back from my vacation."

But how should one go about arranging for just the right kind of vacation? Ideally, one ought to go to one's physician, for this advice.

The vacation period is a good time in which to correct the small defects that we may have, to gain weight, or to lose it, to limber up flabby muscles or to shed accumulated fatigue, to gather up the stimulus of social intercourse, or to relax in solitude.

An examination by one's physician, what is now called a health examination, is a good basis upon which to determine the kind of vacation that will profit us most.

MOVIES

Joel McCrea Walks 'Round the Corner to Success

Sometimes a player is not without honors in his own country.

Joel McCrea, who plays the leading role opposite Dorothy Mackall in the Fox movietone production, "Once a Sinner," was born in South Pasadena, Calif., less than six miles from Hollywood, was educated at Hollywood high school, in the heart of the film colony and completed his education at Pomona College, about 40 miles from Hollywood.

Despite this seeming handicap, he has succeeded in getting a firm foothold in pictures, climbing to play leads opposite Greta Garbo, Marion Davies and others.

In "Once a Sinner," coming to the Palace Theatre tomorrow for showing Wednesday and Thursday, he has a most dramatic role, that of a young inventor who meets and falls in love with a girl who has been "the woman" of a wealthy admirer.

His is the first real love the girl has known and before marriage she insists on telling him of her past. He agrees to forgive and forget, but he fails to keep his promise.

Then things begin to happen and the old question of must the woman pay, and pay, and pay, arises.

George Middleton wrote the story and dialogue and Guthrie McClintic directed.

Moguls of Show World Combine for "Whoopie"

The greatest names of stage and screen combine in the widely-heralded production, "Whoopie," the Samuel Goldwyn-Florenz Ziegfeld musical riot which comes to the Palace Theatre next Sunday afternoon for three-day showing. Its sponsors are respectively the greatest pioneer of the motion picture in America and the musical comedy king of the American stage. Its star, Eddie Cantor, is known wherever there are theatres as a comic artist of genius. In its stage form, produced by Mr. Ziegfeld in New York, with Cantor in the lead, it ran over a year and a half.

Included in its cast are Eleanor Hunt, the red-haired beauty whom Goldwyn considers one of his greatest finds; Dorothy Knapp, famed "most beautiful girl in the world;" Paul Gregory, $25,000 tenor; Ethel Shutta, and such famous Ziegfeld glorified girls as Jeanne Morgan, Muriel Finley and Virginia Bruce. Thornton Freeland, brilliant young director, who is known as one of the fastest rising people of Hollywood, directed this picture.

The stage production of "Whoopie" made New York gasp by its lavish beauty. In the freer medium of the talking screen, "Whoopie" has outdone even its stage incarnation. Such internationally famous beauty spots as Arizona National Park furnished the new era in pictures spectacle. Color is used lavishly throughout to enrich these unparalleled effects. Seventy-four changes of scene, 512 different changes of costume, scenes in which four and five hundred people are concerned, are figures which give some idea of the scale with which the Goldwyn-Ziegfeld combination have gone about bringing the fruit of their different experiences into focus for this one picture.

Mrs. D. C. Broyles, of Paint Rock, was here Tuesday, attending to business. Mrs. Broyles said the Concho River came down on a small rise Monday afternoon and that fishing was good at Paint Rock.

TENNIS COURTS LIGHTED

HOUSTON, June 2.—Six municipal tennis courts will be lighted for night playing. Twenty-four 1500-watt flood lights will be used. The installations, it was said, would provide recreational opportunity for thousands of daytime workers and would provide the most elaborate tennis lighting system in the southwest.

Don't Rasp Your Throat With Harsh Irritants

"Reach for a LUCKY instead"

When you visit your physician for your periodic health examination, one of the very first things he asks you to do is to open your mouth wide, and to say "Ah." He is examining the delicate lining of your throat. "Ah!" There is not a man or woman who could even make this simple sound, if in the throat there were no Adam's Apple. For your Adam's Apple is your larynx—the voice box containing your vocal chords. And what a delicate piece of Nature's handiwork the Adam's Apple is. A slight cold—even a tiny particle lodged in the throat—and our voice often grows husky. In acute cases, we may even lose our voice for several days. Don't rasp your throat with harsh irritants—Reach for a LUCKY instead—remember, LUCKY STRIKE is the only cigarette in America that through its exclusive "TOASTING" process expels certain harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos. These expelled irritants are sold to manufacturers of chemical compounds. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. No wonder 20,679 American physicians have stated LUCKIES to be less irritating. LUCKIES are always kind to your throat. And so we say "Consider your Adam's Apple."

LUCKIES are always kind to your throat

EXIT

by Harold Bell Wright

SYNOPSIS: Like a dream are the years which Tony Latour gave to the stage, but vividly he remembers his childhood with Harriet. Now in the village of Orchard Hill 70 years ago. Even today the derisive townspeople about shameful mystery in the abrupt end to the young actor's career and his return to his parents' home there. Philosophically tolerant Tony now views life as a play, with Harriet her exit made—watching her son Pierre, achieve theatrical fame. Pierre, endowed with his mother's talent, must have also from her inherited his soul. In Tony's mind Pierre's father Roy Donovan had none to begeth. Tony, happy that he has achieved Pierre's renown, mentally unravels his old associations with Harriet, whom he had loved devotedly.

Chapter 2 LOVE IN THE BUD

THE Latour house is on the brow of Orchard Hill, where the higher land upon which the village stands drops steeply down to the valley and the river. A half mile or so away, also overlooking the valley pastures and meadows, stands the old house where Harriet Noel lived.

About midway between the two homes there is one of those pretty half-hidden retreats, often seen in a country where hills and valleys meet. In Tony's boyhood this valley land was a pasture—as it is today. Always there is the pleasant smell of grass and flowers and trees and cattle and warm moist earth. The boy was fishing that Saturday afternoon in Cherry Creek. It was one of those days of late spring when everything is young and bursting with the sap of life.

When the shadows lengthened toward supper time the boy set out across the pasture for his home—bare feet and legs browned by the sun—rolled-up overalls, calico shirt torn and without buttons—a string of fish in his hand—his fishing pole over his shoulder.

The boy could not have told why, but he was thinking of Harriet when he reached the little retreat at the foot of the hill. Then, suddenly, he saw her gathering the violets that grew in the tall grass. Then, as he watched her, so un aware that any one was invading her privacy in that little retreat, a feeling he had never known before came over him—an awakening. For what seemed to him a long time he stood there, wondering at this new and strange emotion.

He had forgotten his purpose to rush upon her with a yell, but advanced slowly and with an elaborate effort to appear casual said, "Hello."

She smiled, her cheeks flushed, and her eyes told him she was glad he had come.

"Hello." And there they stood; the girl pretending an absorbing interest in the violets she held; the boy, for the first time in his life, painfully aware of dirt-stained hands and legs and face, and unable to speak a word.

At last she broke the embarrassing silence. "Been fishin'?" "Uh huh." He held up his string of fish for her approval.

The girl's voice thrilled with admiration. "Oh, did you catch all those? How do you ever do it?" A warm glow spread all through the boy; inside and out he tingled with rapture.

Late that night when his parents were sound asleep, the boy stole out of his bedroom window and followed the path to the house where the girl lived. For an hour he stood under the stars, watching the square of light which was the window of her room. Old Tony laughs now when he says: "I did not know until long afterward that it was the window of the old housekeeper's room, and that Harriet's room was on the other side of the house."

The paths which led from the two homes on the brow of the hill to their secluded nook were deeply worn during the years which followed.

All the life of their native village the boy and girl lived with their village mates. And always their young hearts were warmed by the enduring glow of that first awakening. They did not speak of it—boys and girls do not usually—but they knew.

During their last year in public school they were chosen for the leading parts in an amateur play and made their first appearance together on the stage. They met often in that little retreat between their homes to rehearse, and named the place their theater. No other member of the company was ever invited to meet them there.

Harriet's acting in the play was the talk of the village. But many of the villagers shook their heads in grave concern. To their simple country minds it might be all right for a boy or girl to appear in a school play or a church cantata, but in the eyes of Orchard Hill an actor ranked but little higher than

GRID PLAYERS ARGUE ON 'FEET VS. FAT'

(By Associated Press) FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., June 2.—"Such feet," said one. "Such fat," said the other. And that's the way the biggest football player in the country and the world's heaviest grid player stood and grinned as they were introduced recently.

The big footed player was Captain Charles Clements, University of Alabama tackle, who boasts of "number fourteen dogs."

The heavyweight was William Harold Clark, 350 pound University of Arkansas tackle. "I wouldn't want to have to carry so much weight around with me," the Southern conference tackle volunteered. "You'd have enough props to carry it though," the Southwest conference tackle replied.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Radio has its own type of humor, distinct from that of stage and screen.

And few are the comedians who have successfully made the transition from one entertainment medium to the other.

The mirth-making Weber and Fields are among the exceptions to the rule that radio creates its own comedians. Another is Roy Atwell, bubbling, witty, word-twister.

Amos 'n' Andy, Henry Burbig, Phil Cook, the Goldbergs, Ray Knight, Snoop and Peep—these are significant names in radio.

Phil Cook and Henry Burbig have risen to the top in comic broadcasts because of their distinctive type of humor—the former with his array of varied voices and Burbig with his dialect parodies.

Any industry or art proves its maturity when it can laugh at itself. Radio does just that when Raymond Knight, actor and playwright, burlesques various types of radio programs.

Radio is the object of more "kidding" in Sisters of the Skillet, created by Eddie West and Ralph Dumke, former vaudeville headliners. They interpret fan mail in an impractical and illogical manner, burlesquing "household hints."

Then there is Ray Perkins, sometimes called the "Will Rogers of the microphone." He intersperses humorous comments on timely subjects with songs and piano pieces.

The studios even have their Damon and Pythias—Brad Browne and Al Llewellyn. Their song and patter is of the nonsensical variety.

Snoop and Peep, master burlesque detectives of the comic opera type; the Goldbergs, Jewish dialecteers; Dale Wimbrow, ukulele-strumming philosopher; Ernest Naltager, jester, and Ari Gillham, imitator, are others who have been able to overcome obstacles in dispensing humor for the ear alone.

Art of Being Funny by Air Stumps Veterans of Stage

These veteran funsters are clicking with the radio audience as they did for years in the theater. Their broadcasting success, like that of a few others who have migrated to radio, is due to voice alone.

For the radio funny man must forego the use of furnishings, gestures and facial expressions which help on the stage.

And that, perhaps, is why radio has been forced to create its own style of comedy.

Amos 'n' Andy, Henry Burbig, Phil Cook, the Goldbergs, Ray Knight, Snoop and Peep—these are significant names in radio.

'Cooperative' Now Is Chief Word in Turks' Economics

(By Associated Press) ANKARA, Turkey, June 2.—"Cooperative" is the chief word in Turkey's new economic vocabulary. Following his personal investigation of Anatolia's political and economic situation, President Kemal proposes the creation of cooperative societies for each of Turkey's chief products.

Fig raisers in Smyrna already are banded in a cooperative, and the Gazi would extend this system to tobacco, silk, cotton, mohair, dairy products and other items on Turkey's export list.

Two great gains are expected for Turkey: first, peasant and manufacturer will gain through selling his products directly to the cooperative instead of through middle-men; and secondly, Turkish experts, whose renown suffers at present from lack of uniformity in quality, will be standardized through the control of the cooperatives.

Kemal advocates the development of consumers' as well as of producers' cooperatives. At his orders, a model cooperative grocery store for government officials is to be opened near the presidential residence in Tchan-Kaya, the Back Bay of Ankara.

IMPORTATION OF AUTOS SHOWS DROP IN BRAZIL (By Associated Press) SAO PAULO, June 2.—Imports of motor cars into Brazil, nearly all of which come from the United States, showed a decided falling-off in 1930.

Customs figures reveal that in 1929 there were 53,928 cars brought from abroad, while last year the total was only 19,446.

Part of this decrease is explained by the fact that two American automobile companies have opened assembling plants here. The parts pay duty only as automobile accessories.

Businesses Which Help Build City

Carr's Man Shop
Floyd J. Carr came to Ballinger in 1920 and was associated for some time with V. Weinberg in the tailoring business here. After leaving that firm he formed a partnership known as Hardin & Carr and opened a tailoring, cleaning and pressing, and gent's furnishing business on Eighth Street, operating there from 1923 until 1925.

In 1925 Carl Carr came in Ballinger and the firm became known as Carr's Man Shop, with the two brothers sole owners and operators. In the same year they moved to Hutchings Avenue in one of the best locations in the city, opening a modern store and dry cleaning plant, nicely furnished and with a good stock of merchandise for men with the exception of shoes.

The store is one of the prettiest in the city with modern, well-kept show windows.

In addition to the regular stock of merchandise carried the store represents the International Tailoring Company of Chicago, taking orders for tailor-made suits. Both the operators are expert tailors and know measuring so well they can obtain suits to fit any figure.

The modern dry cleaning plant is operating with a cleaning machine using a continuous flow of gas so that no garment is washed in the same fluid twice. Pressing and drying rooms are modern and fast delivery service is maintained at all points in the city. During the history of this firm they have followed the policy for one of the managers to give personal attention to all ladies' work taken in, especially silk cleaning. In this way no one ever touches the delicate fabrics except those who have had years of special training.

Both managers are expert tailors and look after alterations and other similar work. Insurance is carried to protect patrons' clothes while in the store, assuring every customer against loss of any kind.

Floyd and Carl Carr are both active in the city's commercial, social and religious activities and are boosters for organizations that look after the commercial progress of the city.

SUPREME COURT RULES ON CITY-COUNTY DISPUTE

(By Associated Press) BRECKENRIDGE, Tex., June 2.—A county commissioners' court at abide by the contracts made by a predecessor, the supreme court of Texas has ruled in effect in upholding the right of the city of Breckenridge to recover on a contract with the county for a share in the paving of a street here about five years ago.

The case involved a contract between city and county officials in 1926, whereby the county was to help bear expenses of widening a portion of the street, at a cost of $23,000 each.

Soon after the contract was entered into, a new commissioners' court came into office, and rescinded action of its predecessor and refused to pay the county's share of the costs. The city filed suit, and the county was victorious in all court proceedings until the case reached the supreme court, which ruled the contract was valid.

CAMERA CAN PICTURE NATION IN 50 "SNAPS"

(By Associated Press) MUNICH, June 2.—A panorama camera covering 270 square miles in a single exposure has been developed by a Munich optical firm.

With 50 clicks of the shutter an airplane photographer with this device could snapshot the whole of Switzerland.

It is a wide-angle camera with one central lens surrounded by eight supplementary lenses, and is said to accomplish with one exposure what would require 200 to 300 exposures with cameras ordinarily used in airplane surveys.

Yowell Delivers Opening Sermon

Evangelist Yowell delivered a very interesting lesson last night on his subject "Why Preach the Gospel." A splendid audience attended at the first appearance of the evangelist.

Services will be conducted each day from 12:20 to 12:50 noon. This hour was set for day services in order that the services might not conflict with any other services, and, too, that those working may have opportunity to attend day services.

The preacher announced his subject, "The Indwelling Christ," for this evening at 8 p. m. For Wednesday noon services his subject will be "The Divine Nature," as taken from 1st Cor. 13:13.

His subject Tuesday noon was "Prayer."

TRESTLE TO CARRY BIG PIPELINE BEING BUILT

(By Associated Press)
PAMPA, Tex., June 2.—The 3,176-foot trestle across the Canadian river, being built by the Missouri Valley Pipe Line company to carry two of its 24-inch pipelines, is nearing completion.

The multiple span type of construction makes the bridge the only one of its kind in the world, according to representatives of a Dallas construction company, under whose direction the work is being done.

Eight 320-foot spans and four quarter-spans of 160 feet each make up the bridge. It will cost $115,000. It is 22 miles north of Skellytown.

Of the eleven piers, nine are landed in quicksand, no rock being found in the 85 feet that the piers were sunk. Each pier is made up of two 45-inch castings and six concrete and steel piles, with an underground depth of from 75 to 85 feet.

Although the trestle is built to carry two 24-inch lines, only one will be put in place at this time. The line is already completed to Souix Falls, Iowa, and is one of three such lines leading from the Panhandle field to the mid-west and east.

CHEATING SCHOOLBOYS STIR FRENCH SOLONS

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, June 2.—Nervous schoolboys are going to feel the eyes of the whole Chamber of Deputies upon them next time they are tempted to cheat in examinations.

Charges that cheating is widespread in high schools shocked Mario Roustan, new minister of public instruction, when his department's budget was recently debated by the chamber.

He announced it would be stopped or he would know the reason why.

A. R. Jones Dies Tuesday Morning

A. R. Jones, one of Ballinger's most loved young men, died at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Z. A. Snell, on Fourth street, Tuesday morning at 11:15. For more than a week his many friends have known that death was slowly creeping on him and that the end might come at any time.

His passing brings real sorrow to the hearts of many local people. It is doubtful that any man ever left more friends than he, and if he had an enemy in this world, no one ever suspected it. His life in Ballinger has brought much gladness to people. He was always cheerful, a natural comedian and his extreme friendliness and humor caused many to know and love him.

Several years ago his health became bad and it was learned by his physician that he was afflicted with a disease that was beyond science to cure. Mr. Jones was aware of this fact but it did not affect his jovial nature and he struggled for the health that he so much wanted to gain.

Mr. Jones came to Ballinger in 1912 and made his home here since with the exception of a short stay in Brownwood where he was engaged in the cotton business. He has been associated with a number of leading firms here in the accounting departments. Last summer he retired from active life, and spent much time in outings and trips in an effort to regain his health. A few months ago he purchased the Underwood News Company and managed it until about ten days ago when he was forced to go to bed ill and was never able to get up.

He was married in November, 1916, to Miss Alma Snell in this city. His faithful wife has been his close companion and in his last illness she was constantly by his side to minister to his suffering. He was 41 years old on the 8th day of last February.

He was active in many local organizations. He took a part in all musical organizations of the town for many years and an outstanding member of the Legion Players, that have sponsored dramatic offerings here for the past thirteen years. He was a natural leader and on trade trips, amusement programs and other public work was always selected as one of the first mentioned to take an active part. He was a member of the Christian church for many years but last year placed his membership in the Ballinger Baptist church with his wife and was a faithful member of that church.

In his suffering he was surrounded by friends and appreciated them and every act of kindness shown him. Until a few hours before he passed away he uttered a word of thanks for every small favor and at most times knew those about him. His going from this world leaves sad hearts and his place in the life of this town will be unfilled.

Funeral services will be held at the Ballinger Baptist Church on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Rev. J. H. McClain in charge, assisted by Rev. E. W. McLaurin. Interment will be made in Evergreen Cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, his mother, Mrs. A. E. Jones, one sister, Mrs. Chas. L. Andrews, and five brothers, A. B., A. M., A. F., A. L., and A. H. Jones, all of Amarillo. All were present at his bedside with the exception of A. H., who will be unable to attend the funeral. Mrs. Jones' mother, Mrs. Z. A. Snell of Ballinger, her sister, Mrs. R. L. Stephenson, and a brother, Chas. Snell of Lubbock, were also with Mr. Jones when he died and Mr. Stephenson was due to arrive here late Tuesday afternoon. Several sisters-in-law are also here and have been for several days. Mr. Jones' father died in 1910 and no other death had occurred in the family until this time.

Active pallbearers selected are: Edgar Ellis, Claud Stone, D. C. Middleton, Jack Rudd, Troy Simpson, Floyd Carr, R. W. Earnshaw, Chas. F. Bailey and Sam Behringer. Honorary: Jno. A. Weeks, W. B. Halley, Lee Sykes, J. F. McMillan, E. Shepperd, W. C. McCarver, J. C. Richards, Delbert Vancil and R. F. Zedlitz.

Undertakers from King-Holt Company prepared the body for burial Tuesday and will be in charge of the funeral arrangements.

EVANGELIST TO SPEAK ON ROTARY PROGRAM

At the weekly luncheon of the Ballinger Rotary club Wednesday night, Rev. D. B. Doak, Methodist evangelist, will be the speaker for a program and will bring whatever message he desires. Rev. Doak will be given the entire time devoted to the program.

The last meeting of the club was one of the best held recently in respect to attendance. Only two members of the club were absent and the attendance committee is anxious to start June with every member present. The club has not had a 100 per cent attendance since its organization, but recent weeks has kept attendance almost perfect, with only one or two absent at each meeting.

The meeting will start and close on time with just one hour to be used for the luncheon and program.

MENARD COMING FOR GAME WITH BEARCATS

Manager Earnshaw of the Bearcats announced arrangement of a game here for Wednesday, June 10, with the last team from Menard. The Menard team is one of the fastest clubs in West Texas and in the Sunday league in that section of the country they have been winning a large part of their games.

The game will be played at Fair Park at 4:30 in the afternoon and little or no change will be made in the Bearcat lineup. Corbett will return to the game by that time after suffering with an injured leg for the past two weeks and will add strength to the hitting of the club. Earnshaw stated that he was not sure who would pitch the game but either Virdin, Brozick or Corbett will likely get the call to leave against the hard-hitting Menard club.

A number of other towns have asked for games here and contests will be arranged and announced within a short time.

Dr. C. W. Chestham returned from Corpus Christi Monday where he had been to take his wife and children for a vacation. Mrs. Chestham, her mother and a sister will be there several weeks.

Miss Lee Belle Barker left Tuesday morning for Alpine where she will attend summer school at Sul Ross State Teachers College. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Barker.

"Squatting Devils" Baptist Meeting To Start Sunday

Rev. D. B. Doak announced that he would preach Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Methodist revival on the subject, "Squatting Devils." A number of times during the meeting this subject has been referred to and is one of the greatest messages that will be brought during the revival here. Every Christian person in Ballinger is urged to be present Tuesday evening and hear this mighty subject discussed.

The Monday evening crowd was large and a great service was heard on "What Lack I Yet." The evangelist pleaded with those who were still not enjoying the full blessing of the Savior to give up that one thing between them and God and step over whole heartedly into the Christian life. His subject scripture was that of the rich young man that came running to the Christ saying, "What Lack I" and was told to sell all his possessions and follow the Christ.

Rev. Doak stated that he expected to preach Wednesday night on "The Deadliest Sin in Ballinger," and the remainder of the week will preach on subjects that deal with Ballinger people and the church life here.

The usual services were held Tuesday with good crowds attending each one. Five prayer meetings were held during the afternoon and for the rest of the meeting services will be held each morning and each evening at the church. The meeting will close next Sunday night.

PAINT ROCK COUPLE WED; WILL MAKE HOME HERE

Miss Bernice Opal Tillery and Verlin W. Davis of Paint Rock were married Sunday afternoon at the residence of the Methodist pastor here. They will make their home in Ballinger and Mr. Davis will be connected with Kemp's dairy here.

Mrs. Davis is the daughter of County Treasurer Tillery of Paint Rock, and has spent most of her life in that city, graduating from the Paint Rock high school. Mr. Davis is a nephew of Frank and George Kemp of this city and has worked for the last two years in a drug store at Paint Rock.

Miss Vernelle Bishop, of San Angelo, is here visiting Miss Eleanor Gates.

Baptist Meeting To Start Sunday

A two week's revival at the Ballinger Baptist church will begin Sunday morning and will continue with services twice daily. Rev. R. E. Day, Big Spring, will not arrive for the first service but the pastor, Rev. J. H. McClain, will open the campaign Sunday morning and evening and will be joined by the evangelist Monday.

Rev. Day is pastor of the Baptist church at Big Spring and has a reputation of being one of the leading preachers in West Texas. His accomplishments at Big Spring have been outstanding and members of the local congregation believe that they have secured the right man for the task here.

Rev. Day will be assisted in the services by his son, Morris Day, who will be in charge of the song services and music. He has had special training in this work and with his experience a great musical feature is expected.

Christian people of the town are invited to cooperate in every respect in the two week's meeting at this church.

Miss Helen Brewer returned Monday from Georgetown where she has been a member of the Southwestern University faculty for the past year. She plans to spend the summer here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Brewer.

Iodine in Soil Sought to Aid War on Goiter

(By Associated Press)
NEW ORLEANS, June 2.—South Carolina's exploitation of its iodine-charged soil has started other states on the hunt for the drug.

Discovery that vegetables grown in South Carolina soil contain more than enough iodine to meet medical requirements in combating goiter resulted in the state's automobile license tags bearing the legend, "The Iodine State."

Now Hal W. Moseley, professor of chemistry at Tulane University, is directing tests to determine if Louisiana does not have a similar advantage.

W. E. Merrill, graduate instructor in chemistry, conducts the tests. Vegetables are ground up in a sausage machine and the mass is pressed into small sticks which are dried in an electric oven. The dry sticks are heated in a silica combustion furnace in an atmosphere of oxygen. The resulting gases and residue are caught in glass receptacles and analyzed for the iodine content.

An iodine map, showing the relative iodine content in vegetables in every parish of the state, is the ultimate object of the experiments.

All parishes in lower Louisiana once were a part of the Gulf of Mexico. Tests already indicate that large amounts of iodine will be found in the sea-soaked soil products.

Florida is another state that has made limited iodine tests.
