Santa Fe Farm and Home Special Here on March 11

The Santa Fe farm and home special will be operated through this section of the state in March making stops and staging demonstrations to farmers and home owners free of charge. The train, made up of nine cars loaded with exhibits, is on the most extensive campaign of this kind ever staged by the railroad.

The train will arrive at Ballinger and be placed on the siding on March 11, at 7:30 p. m. The exact location of the train here will be announced later. Electrical connections will be ready when the train arrives and as soon as the connections are made machinery on display will be started and the doors thrown open to visitors.

This special train is operated jointly by the Santa Fe Railway and Texas A. & M. College. The program covers all modern and practical farm ideas and leading farm experts will lecture, show motion pictures, and give tested demonstrations for making farm operations more profitable and living more comfortable. The program prepared by A. & M. College is based on experiments made by college agriculturists over a long period. Featured will be dairying, poultry raising, better livestock, soil improvement, better farms and crops, home improvements and 4-H club work.

The special will make stops daily in leading agricultural sections for seven weeks. The tour will begin at Navasota on February 15, gravitating westward until the middle of March when it arrives in this section. L. F. Dinan, agricultural agent of the Gulf lines and J. D. Tinsley of the Panhandle lines of the Santa Fe system, have completed the itinerary and advised agents of the plans.

This one-day school and demonstration will be the second big occasion of this kind presented to Runnels county farmers and housewives this spring. The short course presented in Ballinger by extension service workers of the International Harvester Company will be held on February 11 and 12 and many hundred farmers and their wives will take advantage of the six programs.

The Ballinger Chamber of Commerce and business interests will lend their full cooperation to both visits and the county agent and county home demonstration agent will devote a portion of their time in creating interest among rural citizens to visit both attractions.

It is not known how long the Santa Fe special will remain in Ballinger but an announcement will be made as soon as this information is received.

Motley President Of Texas Fairs

J. D. Motley, for the past ten years secretary of the Ballinger Chamber of Commerce, was elected president of the Texas Association of Fairs at the closing session of the convention of the association in Dallas Saturday. Mr. Motley of the Runnels County Fair, in company with Charles Coombes, president of the same organization, attended the meeting.

The Ballinger men returned here Sunday and reported a fine gathering of fair managers and secretaries stating that many fairs would be resumed this year. Dallas was selected for the 1933 convention of the fair officials.

Resolutions were passed asking the legislature for appropriations to pay premiums on agricultural and livestock exhibits at county and district fairs. A resolution also was passed endorsing the congressional authorization of a national celebration of the 200th birthday anniversary of George Washington. A proposed resolution for legalizing betting on horse racing died without a vote being taken.

The Ballinger representatives stated upon their return here that many amusement managers attended the meeting, seeking to book programs on circuits at fairs this year. Carnival managers were also present to secure dates.

It was decided to invite the South Texas Fair to join the Texas Association of Fairs making the latter organization state wide and much more effective.

Mr. Motley has attended the meetings of this organization since its establishment and has taken part on most of the programs. He has studied the history of fairs and is one of the best qualified men in the state to head the association. He will look after the duties of the association from his office here and will be in position to secure for this county's fair the best available in the way of amusements, new ideas for displays, etc.

Other officers elected were George Barber of Mineral Wells, secretary; district vice-presidents, E. C. Knox of Iowa Park, M. D. Abernathy of Longview, J. N. Ramey of Madisonville, A. B. Davis of Lubbock and W. Hammond Moore, of McKinney.

Motley succeeds Russel Rhodes of Tyler as president.

CHARGE OF THEFT FOLLOWS ARREST

The sheriff's department Monday reported the arrest and charge of theft filed against Neil Byers. The theft of some hats is alleged to have occurred at an entertainment in a private residence in the western part of the city last week.

Dave Littlefield and Miss Verna Gibson were arrested and charged with affray.

RUMBLINGS OF WAR IN THE FAR EAST

The evacuation of Americans from China may soon begin. After anxious days through which the United States and Great Britain have stood alone, France and Italy have united with them against the Japanese using the international settlement in Shanghai as a base from which to attack the Chinese. The four great powers have transmitted vigorous protests to the Japanese government, the nature of which is carefully guarded by the state department.

Following the Asiatic fleet the U. S. Chaumont sailed from Manila Monday with the crack 31st U. S. Infantry aboard. The regiment will join the force of blue-jackets and marines already on duty in the Far East.

Leading briefs on the war condition at this time are puzzling to American citizens who now fear a break at any time. A leading Wall Street banker stated today that neither Japan nor China could finance a major war and that neither could obtain a loan in either New York or London.

Dr. John Hawks, American mission official, filed a protest with the American consulate Monday night after Japanese marines tore down an American flag flying from the mission. He demanded compensation from the Japanese government and asked that Japanese marines be ordered to replace the colors.

Japanese and Chinese troops are being rushed into the Shanghai area to strengthen armies already on duty and martial law declared there only quieted actual fighting for a short time. Machine guns became active again after a few hours and Japanese airplanes soaring over the city indicated a heavy engagement between the opposing troops was momentarily anticipated.

NANKING, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Under the cover of a two-hour bombardment on the Lion Hill forts 5 miles from Nanking proper, the Japanese today landed blue-jackets from their ships in the Yangtze River.

The landing party encountered detachments of the 30,000 veteran Chinese troops shipped into Nanking during the last two days, who had set up strong defensive positions behind sand bag barricades in the water front area.

For half an hour machine guns spluttered. What success the Chinese had in their attempt to repulse the attackers could not be immediately established, nor was it possible to determine the number of casualties.

The United States destroyer Simpson, on duty in the Yangtze to protect the 200 residents of Nanking, was reported to have lifted its anchor and changed its position to get out of the line of Japanese fire.

Chinese eye witnesses said the warships altogether fired 20 shells and scored several hits on the forts. While the firing was in progress a party of Japanese marines was landed on the waterfront and went into action against the defenders.

The confusion of the bombardment was intensified when all

Bigby Store Robbed Of Shoes, Clothing

Robbers entered the Walter Bigby store here Friday night or Saturday morning and stole merchandise amounting to several hundred dollars. Mr. Bigby did not discover the robbery until Saturday morning when he opened for business.

Entrance was gained through the back door after a transom was broken and the bar removed from the inside door. The robbers apparently worked with deliberation, taking just what they desired from the stock, and selecting sizes and styles to suit them. Some merchandise was taken from racks, inspected and left on the counters. Shoes stolen were removed from the boxes and the boxes scattered about the floor.

Mr. Bigby does not know exactly what his loss is but as far as he can determine from a list he compiled the following were stolen: Nine pairs of Nunn-Bush shoes ranging in size from 6 to 10½, three overcoats, two suits which belonged to customers and were in the cleaning and pressing department, one leather coat, a number of boxes of men hose, two drawers full of men's shirts estimated to be between 15 and 20, three sweaters and all the dress gloves in stock.

Other cases and goods stored in the shelving may have been stolen but this has not been positively determined.

Someone removed all the screws from the back door of the C. O. D. Grocery Company Wednesday night but was evidently frightened away before gaining admittance to the building. This door is near the back door of the Bigby store which was opened Friday evening.

Also on Wednesday night the locker room at the Ballinger Country Club was entered and robbed. Steel doors on the lockers were pried open and clothing and

3,973 Poll Receipts Issued in County

W. A. Forgey, county tax collector, announced Tuesday that poll tax receipts issued in this county up to February 1 totaled 3,973. He also stated that all letters had not been opened and that it was possible that enough more checks would be taken from the mail to increase the total to 4,900.

This is one of the lowest numbers of poll tax receipts issued in the county in many years, however the overs and unders could allow a normal vote in the elections to be held this year.

Registration of automobiles this year exceeds that of the same date last year. On February 1 this year there had been 3,112 passenger cars and 317 trucks licensed. Last year on the same date 3,102 passenger cars and 336 trucks had been registered.

Mrs. Deta Butler is moving her beauty shop from Ballinger to Ft. Worth. She left here Tuesday for her new location.

H. W. Lynn, chairman of the general steering committee for the farmers' short course to be held in Ballinger on February 11 and 12, stated that he would call all committees together this week to check up on what had been accomplished. Mr. Lynn said all committees had been working faithfully and that he had never seen any more create more interest or receive fuller cooperation. He expressed the belief that weather conditions only would prevent large attendance at all programs.

C. W. Lehmborg, county agent, stated that he thought the entire county was aware of the short course and that he expected hundreds of farmers and their wives to be present both days. Mr. Lehmborg, chairman of the program committee, said some of the subjects on the program might be changed as they were not pertinent in this territory.

R. E. White, in charge of the special features which will open each session, announced that he had been successful in securing excellent entertainment for each of the six programs. Every person asked to take part has agreed

The lure of office is still strong and more candidates are announcing every week. There are already more candidates than usual in this county and there are rumors that others expect to hurl their hats in the ring. The long list of candidates insures interest in politics this summer. Election managers for the primaries have not yet been named by the Democratic executive committee but will be announced shortly.

Runnels county farmers are assured of a two-day short course to be held here on February 11 and 12, and a visit by the Santa Fe agricultural special on March 11. These two similar attractions will show farmers ways of bettering their condition through seed improvement, soil conservation, etc. Methods that have been tried and found satisfactory will be demonstrated and all those who witness their exhibitions will be benefited and at no expense whatever. An invitation is extended everyone to attend.

The last minute rush of poll tax paying in this county ran the total of eligible voters up to 4,000-plus. The jam was so dense in the collector's office that it was impossible to issue everyone receipts and many left checks with instructions that receipts be sent them when the staff could catch up with its work. With the overs and unders the vote possible in elections this year will be upwards of 4,500, which is nearly equal that of previous years. The 4,000 polls paid, however, are far short of the 6,000 assessed in this county and many citizens denied themselves the right to cast ballots this year by not visiting the collector's office before February 1.

War clouds in the Far East are recreating the excitement many people felt in the days of '17, just prior to the United States' entry in the World War. As a whole citizens are bitter against war and it will take much to bring them to the attitude they held before the last great conflict. More than 4,000,000 youths of the land tasted war then and for their part are not anxious to participate in another. Many mothers still living know what it means to have a son in the war zone with constant fear for his safety. Wives, sisters and sweethearts dread the word and will fight for peace almost to the last breath. American lives should be protected but thousands are praying that wisdom be used in gaining this protection. Universal draft of both man power and wealth is discussed with more favor now than at any time since its proposal.

HOW'S your HEALTH

CHILDREN AND ADULTS

When an acorn grows up it becomes an oak tree and not merely a larger acorn. This simple fact is readily appreciated when applied to oak trees, but its counterpart in humans is overlooked. Too many children are merely small adults.

They not only look upon them as such but also treat them from that viewpoint. Such persons fail to understand why children require more rest, different foods, why they fatigue readily, and why they respond differently to nervous and emotional strains.

The child is unlike the adult, and the difference is greater than mere size.

Were the child to be proportionately enlarged in all its parts to the size of the adult the result would be a grotesque human.

Such a creature would have a gigantic head, an excessively long spinal column, a small chest and short limbs.

The most prominent feature in the infant's constitution is its head. Its brain and nervous system bulk large in the total mass of the child's body.

At birth the brain is one-fourth its final size, while the body is but one-twentieth, or thereabout, of the adult weight.

Despite its size the brain and the nervous system of the child are undeveloped.

The important portions of the nervous system, dealing with movement, and a large portion of the brain, at the time of birth and for years after, are not developed and hence are not available to the child for use.

Thus, as Professor Terman fittingly observes, "The lack of judgment, the irresponsibility and the mental unripeness of youth have a more material basis than the mere lack of experience."

Developed brain cells and a rich network of connections are necessary.

JESSE SMITH FOR TAX ASSESSOR

To the Citizens of Runnels County

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for tax assessor of Runnels county. I believe I am qualified to do the work of an assessor and if so honored with this office will certainly do my best to make Runnels county a good and efficient assessor.

I am thirty-seven years old, born in Coleman county and have spent the past eighteen years in the Hatchel community with the exception of eighteen months I spent in the army during the World War.

I will try to see each voter personally before July 23rd, however should I fail to see you it would be a personal favor if you would consider this announcement a solicitation of your vote and influence.

Yours very truly, JESSE SMITH

Sea Melodrama is Realistically Staged Thriller

One of those exciting, red-blooded action stories, which were so much a part of the silent era, but which unfortunately were relegated to the background while drawing-room talkie dramas held sway will be flashed on the screen of the Palace Theatre Friday and Saturday. It is "Shanghai Love," a sea melodrama of the colorful days of the American clipper ships, produced by Columbia Pictures with an all-star cast of players from the story by Norman Springer, Richard Cromwell, Noah Beery and Sally Blane, play the principal roles.

For honest-to-goodness adventure, it is said to have them all stopped. Battles with the angry sea, mutiny and fist fights and a battle of emotions all contribute in making "Shanghai Love" as tempestuous as the sea itself. This saga of life on a vessel that was known as the "Hell Ship" will set your blood tingling, while the love story of a young and able seaman and the beautiful daughter of the cruel old Yankee skipper is moving.

The inhuman treatment by Captain Angus Swope of his crew has made him the most hated seaman. He can never get a crew to sign up voluntarily for the "Hell Ship." After each trip his crew would desert and leave the ship behind, and a new one would have to be shanghaied. He is aided in this notorious practice by the crimp, "The Knitting Swede." It is in the dive of the Knitting Swede that a young and handsome able seaman, John Shreve, becomes involved in the complicated affairs of the "Hell Ship." And much happens before that vessel is restored to its rightful captain. Mutiny, intrigue, love, hate, revenge and punch-filled action all contribute in unraveling the plot.

Few actors could approach the despicability of Noah Beery in his interpretation of the rascally captain. It is a masterpiece in villainy. The romantic angle is very sweetly handled by Sally Blane, charming, attractive and capable young actress, and Richard Cromwell, who startled the screen world with his performance in the title role of "Tolable David." Willard Robertson, Dick Alexander, Edwin Brady, Erville Alderson, Fred Toomes and Lionel Belmore have other important roles.

Odd Technique Kills Lulls Hailed as a startling innovation in unfolding a screen story, the "space shot" technique was used throughout in the adaptation of Louis Bromfield's fascinating story of city people, "24 Hours" to the screen. This novel production will be on view at the Palace Theatre two days, beginning Wednesday.

There is only one fade-in, when the picture opens, and only one fadeout, at the end. The space shot device employed in shifting from scene to scene aims to give the audience the feeling of movement through New York, heightening the atmospheric and dramatic effect.

As the title implies, all the action of the story occurs within a period of twenty-four hours.

and in the picture the action is continuous, without time lapses. The unusually large number of scenes in "24 Hours," ranging from skyscraper pleasure haunts of the fashionable rich to hide-outs of the underworld element, are so connected by "space-shooting" to insure low standards in flow of action, according to studio executives.

Clive Brook, Kay Francis, Miriam Hopkins and Regis Toomey play the featured roles in this mystery story of tangled lives laid in modern New York.

Adrienne Ames, New York society girl, formerly of Fort Worth, also has an important part in this picture.

SMITH ASKS PLACE ON COMMISSION

To the Voters of Commissioner's Precinct No. 3, of Runnels County, Texas.

I herewith submit my announcement for the office of commissioner for precinct No. 3 of Runnels county, and in doing so, without boasting, I desire to make a few statements about my qualifications and platform.

I have been a resident taxpayer citizen of Runnels county for 32 years and of said precinct No. 3 for 21 years, and as such I have tried to meet the duties and responsibilities as best I could.

As many of you already know, I served as the commissioner of this precinct for about six years, from 1914 to 1920, and while handling the duties and responsibilities of this office during that time I tried to give the public matters that came under my supervision the same care and attention that I would have given my private affairs, and I think and believe that my work will support me in this statement.

I have been, for some time, and am now of the opinion that there must be a retrenchment in public expenditures from the highest to the lowest department of our government, and I will favor such a retrenchment, if elected, although it may affect my own salary, as I believe that a public official should be consistent in his handling of public affairs.

I think I know how to perform the duties of commissioner, and I feel that my former service of six years in this office will be of some benefit to me, should I be fortunate enough to be elected.

I have no extravagant promises to make my constituents, other than to do my dead level best to make you a good commissioner, spend your money with care and economy, and make of your roads the very best that the money, at my command, will permit. It is my purpose to see, personally, every voter in my precinct, before election day in July, but should I fail to do so, please take this announcement as a personal invitation for your support and influence.

Evangelist Dunn is an outstanding revivalist in the South, and has a national reputation as being one of the strongest Bible scholars of the region.

EVANGELIST DUNN RETURNS TO DALLAS

Evangelist G. A. Dunn Sr., who has been doing the preaching during a 14 days revival at the Eighth Street and Bonsal Avenue Church of Christ, was compelled to return to Dallas for a few days treatment by a Dallas specialist. The evangelist has been under the care of the doctor for some time and it was decided not safe to postpone treatments longer at this time, however it is his plan to return to Ballinger, and take up the work as left off, starting at the 11 o'clock service on the second Sunday in this month.

The past two weeks have seen the most successful revival in the history of the local church, in every way. Attendance has been good from the start, and both attendance and interest have grown. The largest congregation of the meeting was on the past Sunday night when the auditorium was filled to seating capacity. There were 13 responses to the invitation to accept Christ on the last Sunday. A total of twenty-four have been added to the local church during the revival and a total of 16 baptisms have been administered.

One especially interesting thing during the meeting has been the evangelist's answering of many

Wake Up Your Liver Bile - Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas blows up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resists a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931, C. M. Co.

Poor Home-Lighting Will Affect Your Boy's School Standing

THE kind of home-work your boy is able to do is, to a certain extent, governed by the efficiency of your home-lighting—and largely determines his progress in school. Are you giving him the benefit of the good light he needs? If not, his education will suffer.

If he finds concentration difficult... if he becomes drowsy quickly... if he complains of headaches, or if his eyes become bloodshot easily—it is entirely possible that poor lighting is the cause.

Lamps must be of sufficient wattage to give plenty of light, and fixtures must be so arranged as to produce no glare—either direct or indirect. Check your lamps and your lighting arrangements... Are you giving your boy a fair chance?

Lamps, fixtures and electricity cost but little—and they may mean the difference between success or failure. Check yours today—or ask one of our Trained Employees to inspect your home. There's no obligation, of course.

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule... and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

BABY FRETFUL, RESTLESS?

Look to this cause

When your baby fusses, tosses and seems unable to sleep restfully, look for one common cause, doctors say. Constipation. To get rid quickly of the accumulated wastes which cause restlessness and discomfort, give a cleansing dose of Castoria. Castoria, you know, is made specially for children's delicate needs. It is a pure vegetable preparation, contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics. It is so mild and gentle you can give it to a young infant to relieve colic. Yet it is as effective for older children. Castoria's regulative help will bring relaxed comfort and restful sleep to your baby. Keep a bottle on hand. Genuine Castoria always has the name: Dr. J. C. Hathcock

New Publishers Of World Almanac Keep Old Makeup

(By Associated Press) NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Except for the line crediting its publication to the New York World-Telegram, there is no indication in the appearance of the 1932 World Almanac that it was sold, along with the World itself, to the Scripps-Howard newspaper group last spring. The new almanac, distributed throughout the country January 8, was produced by its old editor, Robert Hunt Lyman, and retains its old name, cover design and internal arrangement.

Condensed tables from the 1930 census, summaries of President Hoover's messages to the present congress, tables of election returns from all state and a general revision of the latest names and facts are distinguished features.

The financial and economical review of the year is enlarged, and there is a concentration of attention to the "Big Problems of 1931-32." These are named as prohibition, disarmament, the League of Nations, and World Court and labor and unemployment.

There are the sport records, astronomical and tide tables, day by day record of the year from December 12, 1930 to the new Australian election of December 19, 1931, necrology, a revised chronology of world history sketches of states and nations, rosters of officials and societies.

Likewise the volume contains its customary oddities and curiosities of information. One may discover the exact price paid for Button Gwinnett's signature the last time it was sold, the number of persons and dogs who have safely gone over Niagara Falls and how to address members of the British peerage.

Moon to "Blot Out" Six Stars Of the Pleiades February 14th

By Robert H. Baker (Professor of Astronomy, University of Illinois)

URBANA, Ill., Feb. 1.—(AP)—A fine opportunity to watch the moon occult stars will be offered on the evening of February 14.

In two hours' time during that evening the moon will pass over six of the brighter stars of the Pleiades in the western sky.

For observers at Washington this interesting spectacle begins shortly after 9 o'clock, when the first star disappears behind the dark edge of the advancing moon. It ends soon after 11 o'clock, when the last star of the cluster to be hidden appears again at the bright western edge.

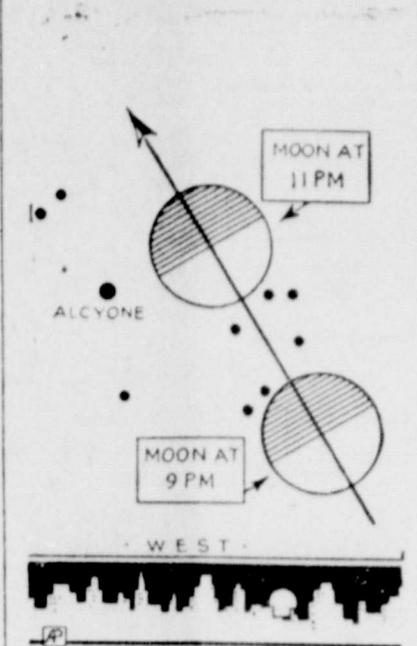

But the scheduled times are different for different parts of the country. To avoid missing some of the occultations it is well to begin watching at an early hour. If a field glass is available, it can be used to advantage.

At nightfall on February 14 the familiar cluster of the Pleiades or "seven sisters" can be found a little way south of the zenith. The moon, then at the quarter phase, will appear to the west of the cluster, moving toward it.

In its eastward motion among the constellations the moon passes over its own diameter in about an hour, and it proceeds in the direction at right angles with the line separating its bright and dark halves. Keeping these facts in mind one can estimate roughly when the occultations will begin.

The stars will not, of course, disappear at the "ragged edge" of the moon. The poet who pictured a star between the horns of the crescent moon overlooked this fact. Such a sight can never be seen in the heavens.

The stars will disappear when the dark edge of the moon

Sky observers on February 14 will see the moon pass over six of the brighter stars of the Pleiades. Here is shown the moon's course on that night between the hours of 9 and 11 as seen at Washington.

reaches them. An hour later, or less, they will come into view again at the bright edge.

It is interesting to notice that the stars do not grow dim and red as the moon approaches. There are no atmospheric effects of the sort that we observe in the setting sun. The disappearance is sudden. Thus we are convinced that the moon is not surrounded by an extensive atmosphere.

The sudden disappearance of stars behind the moon shows also that, despite their enormous sizes, they are reduced by distance practically to points of light. Otherwise they would fade gradually, like the sun in eclipse.

Health Committee In Session Friday

The Runnels County Public Health Committee met here Friday afternoon in regular session to hear reports on the work in this county for the past month and to plan other campaigns to be staged during February.

The meeting was held in the office of Mrs. Jennie Kirk at the court house with eight members of the committee present. R. E. White, chairman of the organization, presided.

The district nurse's report of work done in this county for the past month was heard. This included giving the Shick test and typhoid serum to the crews of school students, and giving small-pox vaccination to Eagle Branch students. The vaccination program was necessitated by a case of small pox in the Eagle Branch community where some thirty-odd were vaccinated by Dr. J. W. Macune, county health officer. Diphtheria immunization was given at the Brookshier school and dates set for campaigns at Bell, Red Bank and Harmony.

The first of these will be started at Harmony Friday morning, February 5. The next will be held at Red Bank and Bell on Friday, February 12. Mrs. J. H. Herndon and Mrs. Ed Janson, of Miles, were appointed as a committee to do the preliminary work in these two schools and have the children ready to receive the first injection.

The matter of a county-wide health survey was discussed and adopted and Chairman White was instructed to work out a schedule of visits to all rural schools at a time when J. H. Wintrey, state sanitary engineer, can be present. A group of three of the health committee will accompany the state engineer, with each assigned Dangerous complications can follow the neglect of "a common cold." Every case of tonsillitis began with "just a sore throat." It's a wise plan to take aspirin after any undue exposure to bad weather, or whenever there is any chance that you've caught cold. If it's genuine aspirin it can't possibly hurt you; and how it does banish the aches and pains caused by colds, neuralgia, neuritis, lumbago, and even rheumatism.

Bayer Aspirin will insure your comfort through the worst cold season. The more susceptible you are to colds, the more you need it. Does not depress the heart.

Is Your Gasoline Tax Money BUILDING GOOD ROADS OR ENRICHING RACKETEERS?

You pay a tax on every gallon of gasoline you buy. Your state levies this tax to pay for building good roads.

But your state is not getting all the money paid as a gasoline tax. RACKETEERS ARE TAKING AN ALARMING AMOUNT OF IT! They are selling bootlegged gasoline on which they pay the state no tax—but they make motorists pay all or a part of the tax. The racketeer keeps this tax money himself!

You get your tax back in the form of good roads when the state collects the tax. You get nothing when racketeers get your money. And remember—if your state got all the money paid as tax, it could well afford to lower its gasoline tax!

If you want your money to go into road building instead of into the racketeers' pockets, make sure the gasoline you buy is not bootlegged. Buy gasoline made by a reliable, law-abiding company and sold under a dependable, well-known brand name, and be certain that your tax money goes to your state and not to the racketeers. That's the only way to beat the racketeers.

CONOCO Gasoline is a branded gasoline you can buy with safety at the sign of the CONOCO Red Triangle.

In Friday's issue of The Ledger the complete program will be published so that those contemplating attending can pick the items they most desire to hear. All sessions will be held in the Ballinger Baptist Church auditorium, the largest in the city. The group of workers will arrive the day before the sessions begin to wire in their motion picture machines, set screens and get all demonstration material ready for use.

Motion pictures will be a big feature during the short course, films being shown at each session. The pictures to be projected will not only entertain but will instruct as perhaps no speaker could do. The many reels which will be brought here deal with town and rural problems and experts have declared them to be the best on these subjects ever produced. "Cherryland" pictures the world's largest cherry orchards and demonstrates the use of knowledge. "Power in the Farm Home" demonstrates how many of the drudgeries can be eliminated for the housewife in her everyday tasks, while "Household Conveniences" shows how mother's work can be made easier. Business Trends—Auto Production Up

(By Associated Press)

Automobile production swung sharply upward and department and five and ten cent store sales increased more than expected at this time of the year, according to the business charts of the National Industrial Conference board, several of which are reproduced above.

The charts, representing a unique effort at portraying the course of commerce, indicated, however, that general business did not respond to the usual upward seasonal influences—seasonal meaning the changes upward and downward in business that normally occur at certain times of the year.

Automobile production, as shown in the chart, actually moved sharply upward in December, as indicated in the curving black line. The average movement between November and December in the years 1925 to 1929 was downward, as seen in the thin staircased black line, and this line reflects the average or "seasonal" changes which may be expected at various times of the year.

The arrow to the right, in pointing upward, shows that car production actually went up in December. But the cross marks on the arrow show that this is against the average trend. The present gain in contrast to the usual downward swing at this time of the year is attributed to the concentration on introduction of new models now.

Similarly the other charts indicate the course of business in other industries, while a consideration of all of them gives a composite picture.

Under prices and finance, "bank debts outside New York city" represent check transactions largely for commercial purposes, since they eliminate the purely financial purpose transactions on the stock exchange.

"Loans and investments, member banks" are the loans made by the banks of the federal reserve system to commercial borrowers, and they indicate the other investments of the banks. "Federal reserve credit outstanding" shows how much money the big federal reserve banks are lending to the member banks.

Hicks Co. Praises Newspaper Ads

An increased newspaper advertising program for 1932 is announced by the Hicks Rubber Company, through its local associate Star tire merchant, Tommie Hall.

About 100 per cent more newspaper space than in 1931 will be used, according to a letter received by Mr. Hall from Richard C. Bush, advertising manager of the Hicks company.

"The newspaper is probably the best medium for the kind of advertising it takes to snap out of the conditions that prevailed in 1931," the letter stated. "The advertiser with a real message can get it over now by newspaper advertising—more effectively than in several years."

"The public is tired of bunk. There has been so much bunk that the facts now stand out in bold relief. Any concern, large or small, that is operating on a sound basis and offering sound values, has a newspaper advertising message that is interesting to newspaper readers."

"Our own investigation convinces us that newspaper ads are getting a closer reading than ever before. The public is eager to read about values—sound values. There is no greater indication than this that we are definitely on the upgrade."

Search for "Lost Mine" Continues

A. L. Parr and George Watkins, of Ballinger, are continuing their search in San Saba county for old mines which they expect to locate and operate some day. They have already picked up old trails and signs as clues that they hope will lead to the old mines or to buried treasures.

Following arrow signs on stones recently they found where they believe pots of money have been dug up and removed within the past year. Mr. Parr has here one of the lids said to have been taken from one of these pots and an old gun barrel driven in the ground as a marker where the money was buried. According to the story told in that section seven planes from a foreign county made a landing in that vicinity last summer, hurriedly unearthed the pots of money and flew away.

The Ballinger men have spent many months trying to locate the old Spanish mines in that county and have already found openings to some that were worked many decades ago. At present they have several cars of ore ready to ship taken from holes that will bring from $12 up per ton. This ore is well infused with silver and it is believed that the mines sought will reveal rich deposits of this valuable ore.

The prospectors will continue working on the clues they have secured and are able to read many of the markers found in the section which they believe should direct them to the richest mines ever discovered in this region.
