part in placing men on jobs and sites. Ballinger citizens can aid the movement by offering work in yards and gardens. There are many who are able to hire their yard work done this year and who will be giving someone without a job his bread and butter. The work is needed and the city can be beautified by a concerted effort of this kind. It is surprising how many odd jobs can be found when the homeowner looks. Some of these things probably will go undone, but if citizens interest themselves in this national movement and sacrifice just a little they will put the campaign over easily. Make a list of the odd jobs which ought to be done about your premises and give some unemployed person a job.
