Bronte Woman is Killed by Horse

Mrs. Joe George Wilkins, 18, was kicked and dragged to death by a horse at the Wilkins ranch, 10 miles from Bronte, Tuesday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins were riding the pasture together and returning home about 10 a. m. Mr. Wilkins left his wife for a trip in another direction. When he was a few hundred yards away he heard her scream and rushed back to find that the horse had thrown his wife and her foot had hung in the stirrup. The animal was running in a circle dragging the woman on the ground and kicking her. When Mrs. Wilkins was released it was found that her skull was crushed and body severely bruised and lacerated.

Mr. Wilkins ministered to her as best he could then ran about a mile for aid but the unfortunate woman died in the meantime.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins were married last September and had made home on the ranch since. Decendent was a member of the Baptist church and a leader of the junior B. Y. P. U. Honorary pallbearers were members of this organization.

Funeral services were conducted at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon from the Bronte Baptist Church with Dr. M. E. Davis and Rev. A. R. Watson of Brownwood and the Rev. Raymond Van Zandt of Blackwell officiating. Surviving are the husband here; the parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Ault, a brother, J. C., and two sisters, Ozella and Lanell, all of Blackwell.

Higginbotham Funeral Home undertakers were called to Bronte to prepare the body for burial.

RUDD IS MANAGER OF BANNER ICE CO. HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rudd have returned to Ballinger to make their home at 708 Eighth Street. Mr. Rudd has assumed management of the Banner Ice Company plant here. For a number of years he was head of the Runnels County Creamery and is well acquainted with Ballinger and Runnels county citizens.

Floyd Stobaugh, who had been in charge of the Banner Ice Company plant here since the station was built, has been transferred to Coleman as manager of the plant there. He has already taken charge of the business at Coleman and Mrs. Stobaugh will join him there shortly.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Ellis, of Brownwood, are here for a visit with Mrs. A. G. Ellis and other relatives.

Mrs. Verne Conrad, of Brownsville, is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Patter-son.

Formation of Anti Prohibition Association in Texas Underway

Special to The Ledger:

HOUSTON, June 2.—Organization of the Texas Federation of Anti Prohibition Clubs with contacts and committees in 247 Texas counties was announced here Tuesday by John H. Kirby, chairman of the newly established liberal movement which is sponsored by a committee of prominent men and women distributed throughout the state and representing all class and groups of anti-prohibition voters. Mr. Kirby was selected to head the liberal campaign by Organized Labor's National Committee for Modification, which is active in a state and nationwide movement in opposition to prohibition. The Texas Federation of Anti Prohibition Clubs combines all groups of liberal voters in Texas that are working for prohibition modification and repeal into one central statewide organization with branches in every Texas county extending its membership into every voting precinct.

"All liberal minded citizens, including representatives of organized labor, business and professional men, women, ex-service men, fraternal and singing societies and all other anti prohibition groups have pooled their influence and voting strength to hasten the end of the prohibition farce," Mr. Kirby stated in announcing the formation of the new liberal organization. The immediate objectives of the federation, according

To Open Elm Creek Bridge to Traffic

The bridge across Elm Creek at the city limits of Ballinger was completed this week with the exception of the painting of the steel work. Pouring and finishing of the hand-rail were completed. Painting will be completed within a few days and the biggest job remaining is the riprapping of the dirt embankment on the east shore of the creek.

G. M. Garrett, state resident engineer, said Wednesday he expected the bridge to be open for traffic about the middle of June. In the meantime the bridge will remain closed and allowed to set perfectly before travel is allowed on it.

The curve in the long high dirt embankment on the east bank of the creek will have a guard fence on both sides but this will not be built until the road is surfaced, contract for which has not been awarded by the state highway commission.

Permanent improvements are being made on highway No. 4 at the Fuzzy Creek crossing where damage was done by recent high water. Guard fences have been removed from the highway along that portion affected by the floods and grouted riprapping is being placed along the sides of the grade to prevent washing in the future. The guard fence to be replaced will be cemented into the riprapping.

CONTRACT LET FOR HOME ON CICERO SMITH RANCH

A contract has been let to J. L. Hearn by Cicero Smith, of Dallas, for the erection of a ranch home near Ballinger on the Colorado River. The residence will be a modern six-room house with a double garage and will be situated on a rise above the wooded river valley which adjoins a lake on the property.

Plans for the building were drawn by the architectural firm of Korn & Morgan, of San Angelo and Dallas.

Mr. Smith owns a large ranch lying along the Colorado a short distance from Ballinger and spends a portion of his time there during the summer.

PRESTON DRUG CO. STOCK. FIXTURES GO TO WACO

Merchandise and fixtures of the Preston Drug Co. was loaded on trucks here Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and sent to Waco. The stock recently sold at public auction and was bought by John A. Weeks of this city for a drug company at Waco.

Final disposition of the fixtures and merchandise has not been made public, and no announcement has been made regarding the building being occupied by another concern.

Firemen Planning Public Program

Members of the Ballinger fire department are meeting every Tuesday evening to rehearse a special program which they will present here the latter part of this month, probably on Ballinger's birthday, June 29. The program will be staged on the court house lawn and will be a free entertainment for every citizen in Ballinger's trade territory. The band and other features may be added to the program.

Chief M. C. Atkins said the drills had just been commenced and all details have not been decided. The use of various kinds of equipment will be shown in the demonstrations, however, in a manner that will interest everyone who is in favor of preventing fires.

Salvage crews will offer a special stunt, bringing salvage covers into a demonstration to show their worth to the department's equipment. Gas masks and their use to firemen, hook and ladder features, and a number of pumper and chemical demonstrations will be made.

A section of the program will be devoted to fire prevention and bad hazards will be pointed out. Use of home pyrene as a means of fire prevention will be shown. An oil stove demonstration will be made, showing how it may become ignited and how easily the flames can be extinguished.

As soon as the program is prepared it will be published. In the meantime the entire membership of the department is meeting each Tuesday evening to practice for the public appearance.

N. E. Meyers returned Wednesday from Christoval where he had been for the past several months taking treatment for rheumatism. He will be at home here for a time at his place on Tenth Street.

Picking the PRESIDENTS 1856 - 1932

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of a series of articles describing national political conventions and campaigns from the 50's to now.

By Alexander R. George

WASHINGTON, June 2.—While there will be speeches and yet more speeches during the coming campaign it is doubtful if the candidates will even come close to equalling the remarkable record of Theodore Roosevelt in 1900.

Roosevelt, candidate for vice-president as William McKinley was seeking his second presidential term, made 673 speeches, traveling 21,209 miles in 24 states and visiting 567 towns and cities. Bryan had hung up the high mark of 569 speeches in his 1896 campaign.

President McKinley, like Calvin Coolidge, grew politically stronger in the sunshine of a rising tide of prosperity. Sagacious Mark Hanna, then generalissimo of the Republican political forces, saw in prosperity the most potent campaign weapon of the G. O. P.

To offset the plutocracy charges of Bryan, the "full dinner-pail" slogan of 1900 was pounded into the ears of the voters.

Despite prosperity, Bryan made a remarkably strong race. Some political observers were of the opinion that Bryan might have won the presidency if Theodore Roosevelt had not been McKinley's running mate and campaigner extraordinary.

Roosevelt, rough-riding exponent of "rugged individualism" and "sound nationalism," breezed through the country, winning favor particularly in the West and offsetting the strength of Bryan among the plain people.

McKinley was placed in triumph and "the cowboy" resting at Oyster Bay dreamed of greater glory—glory that came most unexpectedly.

Along about this time there was a mining engineer in China who was uninterested in politics. His name was Herbert C. Hoover. Coming up in the New York Democracy was Alfred E. Smith, clerk of the commissioner of juries.

In vogue were electric belts, fleece-lined women's underwear,

Speaking tours in political campaigns of today scarcely compare with that made by Theodore Roosevelt in 1900 when he was a candidate for vice president. He made 673 addresses. He is shown below in a typical pose and above addressing a crowd. The woman at the right and the boys in the center give an idea of styles of that day.

cause in the big coal strike and by other progressive actions, Roosevelt stole much of Bryan's thunder. He came to be regarded as a radical and so the Democrats turned to the conservative wing, gave Bryan his first defeat despite his dramatic appeal for a progressive platform.

With the "great commoner" out of the race, Alton B. Parker, conservative New York judge, defeated William Randolph Hearst, then a 41-year-old congressman, for the Democratic nomination. But the 1904 campaign was tame. Roosevelt won by the unprecedented plurality of 2,544,000 votes.

Eastern Democratic papers described Bryan as a broken, pathetic figure but four years later he again was a presidential nominee and for almost 20 years was a powerful personality in the Democracy.

Will Raise Funds for Trip to Short Course

Rural citizens of Runnels county are already planning to attend the farmers' short course at A. & M. College this summer. On June 7 the Crews community will stage a big social. The Ballinger Band and a large delegation will attend this affair. Other towns in the county have been invited to send delegations and all candidates issued a special invitation.

Crewe women will sell ice cream, cake, drinks, etc., to raise money to send club members to the short course.

Arrangements are being perfected at this time for members of Ballinger civic clubs to dine with the women's club at Maverick. This move was launched by the club women who are anxious to make money for their members to attend the short course.

A number of similar social gatherings will be held in the county. One has already been announced for Herring on June 14, and with cooperation of all the citizens Runnels county will again lead the state in attendance at College Station.

The question of operating a special train from Ballinger has not been definitely settled. Special Agent Z. A. Polk of the Santa Fe on a recent visit here stated that the special would depend entirely upon the action of Runnels county. The Santa Fe is anxious to operate the train, making a daylight run from here to College Station and returning the same way. As soon as the number who will attend from this county is determined transportation will be decided.

FARLEY BUYS MARKET FROM HINKLE & HOWELL

Ed Farley closed a deal this week in which he becomes owner of the H. & H. meat market. The style of the business has been changed to the Farley Market and will be operated at the same stand. Mr. Farley is no stranger in the market business here and promises the same excellent service to his patrons as has been his custom in the past.

MRS. MACK BROWN IN ABILENE HOSPITAL

Mrs. Mack Brown was taken to Abilene Tuesday and placed in a hospital for treatment. A report from her bedside Wednesday evening stated that she showed little signs of improvement. Blood transfusions had been given her Tuesday night and Wednesday morning to overcome infection that has threatened her life for the past three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Shepperd and daughters, Misses Louise and Nell, returned Wednesday night from Waco. Miss Louise had been attending Baylor University the past term and is at home to spend the summer.

Miss Marianne McReynolds, of Mineola, is the guest of Miss Ruth Holliday.

At the regular meeting of the board of directors of the Ballinger Chamber of Commerce Thursday morning practically all members were present. A number of important business items were presented to the board for action.

The directors accepted the proposal for the staging of a Ballinger birthday celebration June 29. Details of this event will be commenced at once with the entertainment committee acting as the steering committee.

A home-coming of pioneer citizens of this county will be the central idea of this program and a platform will be constructed for those who lived here when the town was organized 46 years ago.

The plan will call for beginning the program at 2 p. m. in the court house park. The Ballinger Band will furnish music. A speaker from the ranks of the pioneers will enter into the festivities. A pistol shooting contest with expert shots from several West Texas cities participating will be played between fast teams. At night the streets will be closed while an old fiddlers' contest is held followed by square dancing on the pavement with everybody taking part. Visitors are invited to bring their baskets and spread supper on the court house lawn. The committee will make a more complete report on entertainment to be offered next week.

Committees were appointed to draft plans for assisting the revival of old time First Mondays in Ballinger and for a trade extension program for the city, to continue through the remainder of the year. The committeemen will meet at once and plans will be submitted at a called meeting of the directors within the next several days.

Miss Maunette Allamon, student of Abilene Christian College, has returned home for the summer.

R. L. Stephenson, of Lubbock, is here visiting his wife and daughter and other relatives.

Miss Sue Eppler, of Gorman, is the guest of Miss Eleanor Gates.

Ballinger Couple Married 57 Years

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Gressett, of this city, will celebrate their 57th wedding anniversary on June 2. They were married in Crockett, Houston County, Texas, in 1875, and after residing there for six years came to Runnels county in June, 1881, to make their home, where they have resided since.

Just seven years ago the couple celebrated their 50th anniversary, at which time all of the family gathered at the home here for the celebration. Mr. Gressett has continued in active business, operating a blacksmith shop for many years and lately a small store in West End.

Mr. and Mrs. Gressett built the first home in Runnels in 1881, then the county seat of Runnels county. They aided in organizing the first Methodist church in this county there in 1883, and later after moving to Ballinger, assisted in organizing the first church of that denomination here.

Mr. Gressett is the only living charter member of the I. O. O. F. Lodge which was organized at Runnels in 1882. The lodge recently celebrated its fiftieth anniversary and at that time Mr. Gressett was recognized as the only living survivor of those who formed the first lodge in the county.

For years Mr. Gressett was very active in church and lodge work in Ballinger. The couple have reared a large family and have grandchildren, and great-grandchildren.

J. Whit Patterson of the First National Bank commenced his vacation June 1 and will be away from his window for the next two weeks. He said he expected to spend a portion of his vacation fishing and otherwise getting recreation.

Roosevelt's 20 Years in Politics Underlie His Boom for Presidency

By Walter T. Brown

ALBANY, N. Y., June 2.—(AP)—In the same city, Chicago, where another Roosevelt was rebuffed by the republican party which had elected him to the presidency, Franklin D. Roosevelt, fifth cousin of the late "T. R.," will be presented as a candidate for the democratic nomination for the presidency this year.

"T. R.," angered by the renomination of William Howard Taft in 1912, broke away from his old party affiliations, inspired the progressive revolt and made certain the election of the democratic candidate, Woodrow Wilson. Wilson selected Josephus Daniels, North Carolina editor, as his secretary of the navy, and the North Carolinian chose the young Franklin D. Roosevelt as his assistant.

Two years before, Franklin D. Roosevelt had entered the political arena as a candidate for the New York state senate from a republican bulwarked Hudson river county. To the surprise of the state, the enthusiastic young son of the late James Roosevelt, wealthy country gentleman and a vice president of the Delaware and Hudson railroad, won.

Twenty years of participation in politics and affairs of the democratic party projected Roosevelt into speculation concerning the presidential race of 1932.

In two years his campaign for the nomination, conducted almost entirely by his friends, was carried into every state. He will enter the convention on June 27 with a likely strength of more than 500 votes, far more than any other candidate.

Roosevelt was the vice presidential nominee in 1920 and with James M. Cox as the presidential selection was badly beaten by the republican ticket of Warren G. Harding and Calvin Coolidge.

In July, 1921, while vacationing

Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt stands far out in front in the number of delegates at the democratic national convention nears at Chicago. Above is an interesting study of the New York chief executive.

at Campobello, New Brunswick, Roosevelt was stricken with infantile paralysis. He was 39.

Three years later he nominated and managed the drive of Alfred Smith for the presidential nomination. The Smith-William G. McAdoo deadlock ensued, broken only by the compromise selection of John W. Davis as the candidate. In 1928 Roosevelt nominated and the democrats selected Smith to head their ticket.

The Smith-Roosevelt alliance, a friendship of a poor son of "the other European war and describes the forces which might influence such an event.

The author of "New Russia's Primer," M. Ilin, adds two books, "What Time Is It?" a study of the history of time, and "Black on White: the Story of Books," to the group of books planned for children and for farm and factory workers.

"The English Lakes," by W. T. Palmer, gives a feelingful history and description of the lake country.

FARM WOMAN DEVISES "HOG KILLING WEATHER"

(By Associated Press)

CLAYTON, Ala., June 2.—"Hog killing weather"—those crisp, cold days of fall and winter—have been scarce in the south this year, but it hasn't worried Mrs. J. E. Parrish.

When the weather man failed to come through with the proper temperatures for chilling freshly killed hog meat, Mrs. Parrish turned her attention to an old drum. This, filled with ice, provided the right temperature for chilling hams and shoulders.

The county farm agent, F. C. Clapp, heard about it, and spread the news to other farmers in the county. Mrs. Parrish's cheap, simple and satisfactory method, he said, has been a great help to all who have tried it, and farmers have been able to cure their meat properly in spite of the mild winter.

U. S. and Chile Try for Peace In Chaco Area

By Harold Braman

SANTIAGO, Chile, June 2.—(AP)—Renewed joint efforts by the United States and Chile to bring about a more friendly spirit between Bolivia and Paraguay in the Gran Chaco boundary controversy, have clarified some of the contingent problems.

Most of Chile's negotiations have been through Miguel Cruceaga, ambassador in Washington, but Carlos Balmaceda, foreign minister, has just completed here a series of conferences with the Bolivian and Paraguayan envoys.

In them he emphasized that the two republics can count upon Chile's aid at any time in attempting to solve any problem and that general South American peace is the mainspring of this country's policy.

Official circles note with the word "exceptional" the assistance given by W. S. Culbertson, American ambassador here, and by Edward F. Feely, American minister at La Paz. Feely has for a long time handled the Bolivian end of neutral joint action.

This government's neutrality means that Chile will respect fully article 6 of the treaty of 1904 which gives Bolivia the right to transport what she desires, whether it be arms or what not, by way of the Arica-La Paz railroad.

This provision, has been for Bolivia a sort of "corridor to the sea," a right to transport into her territory whatever may be marked for Bolivia and discharged by a steamer at the Chilean customs house in Arica. This neutrality is upheld also by Tito V. Lisoni, chairman of the foreign affairs committee of the chamber of deputies.

In return for this re-affirmation of neutrality, which was given Bolivia recently through diplomatic channels, according to reliable information, Chile believes Bolivia will give the fullest cooperation and that this will lead to more effective joint effort in the task of trying to straighten out the old Chaco puzzle.

Paraguay, which always has had a close relationship with Chile, many Chileans having settled there, will continue to receive this government's friendly aid in all her international problems where Chile may have an interest.

MINE CLAIMS PERPETUATE FOOTBALL GAME SCORES

(By Associated Press)

BUTTE, Mont., June 2.—Recent litigation over mining claims in the Butte district developed names that were only hieroglyphics to miners but tell a tale to sports followers.

The "36 to 0," the "34 to 0" and the "12 to 0" are claims owned by the Basin-Montana Tunnel Company.

Testimony revealed that the figures commemorate scores of the Princeton-Harvard football games of 1926, 1927 and 1928, which were perpetuated in Montana mining records as a compliment to Neilson Poe, a member of the famous family of Princeton gridgers and a prominent stockholder in the company.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rin' to Go

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up."

They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931, C. M. C. Co.

Scanning New Books

By Ware Torrey

NEW YORK, June 2.—(AP)—Glenway Wescott, the Wisconsin boy who broke into the literary big leagues several years ago with "The Apple of the Eye" and with "The Grandmothers," in a new book "Fear and Trembling," takes an observation of the dangers threatening a wobbly world.

Wescott was calmly at work on a novel last year in his Paris home when suddenly it occurred to him that such a proceeding was nonsensical at a time when everything seemed so unstable. "Fear and Trembling," a series of 50 short essays, was the result.

The book is written in the lush prose of the Conrad and Lewisohn tradition, but unfortunately the answer that will settle all of our problems is not included.

Wescott sees western civilization headed for another war, with men accepting the prospect fatalistically. He suggests an international police organization to enforce peace.

The book will interest principally those who are curious to know how a sensitive young writer feels about the world, 1932-model. Wescott incates that with his duty performed he is going back to his "ivory tower" and write about the things for which he cares most.

Up from the Circus "A Modern Hero" by Louis Bromfield is the story of a boy who starts life as a circus rider and makes his way to a position of financial power.

Through his life a succession of women interest and influence him. The colors of his personality change and become definite, as he associates each. Through them he also learns his own characteristics and limitations. "Pity of God," by Beulah Marie Dix, follows the fortunes of a suburban family of Hollywood. The author gives a bitterly forceful picture of members of a family living and talking with each other, caring for each other, and hopelessly separated from a true understanding of each other.

Awakening Japan Erwin Baelz in "Awakening Japan: the Diary of a German Doctor" in day-by-day account underlines Japanese customs, trends of thought, and characteristic reactions.

"Banana Gold" by Carleton Beals gives colorful, first-hand description of Central America from the lines of the broken country to the involutions of politics and graft.

The splendid rains are appreciated, but the farmers are anxious for a chance to use the hoe and the plough for a while now, as the weeds and grass are about to get ahead of the garden truck and the crops. Grain cutting is also delayed by the frequent rains. Berries are fine, and early peaches and plums are found in most orchards.

The heavy rain last Sunday night made roads too muddy for folks to get to Sunday school in the morning, but the singing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Burson Sunday night was well attended.

The home economics class repeated its play Saturday night. The auditorium was well filled and the performance was enjoyed by all present.

On May 12 a very enjoyable program was presented by the school children. All grades below the graduating class participated in the program and each number was well applauded by the large audience.

Several cases of whooping cough have been reported here. The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Dick was buried at Dewey last week. Sympathy is extended to the bereaved parents.

Graduating Exercises

On May 13 diplomas were issued to the graduates of the Content consolidated school. There were six girls and four boys in this class. Dr. Thos. Taylor, president of Howard Payne College, Brownwood, was to have delivered the main address, but was unable to be present. The following program was presented:

- Opening remarks, by Miss Emma Mae Smith, class sponsor
- Song, "Come Spring," by class
- Piano solo, "Warblings of Spring," Miss Elma Bush
- Vocal duet, "Tell Us Merry Birds of Spring," Misses Alpha Pierce and Danie Mae Smith
- Song, "Happy Song," by class
- Remarks to class and awarding of scholarships and diplomas by Supt. Williams
- The processional and recessional were played by Mrs. J. W. Bright.
- Diplomas were handed to the following: Lou Addie Aldridge, Alpha Pierce, Elma Bush, Myrtle Hudson, Danie Mae Smith, Evelyn Parker, D. B. McCombs, J. R. Willis, Eldon Mathis, and Lloyd Marsh.

The scholarships given by John Tarleton College, were awarded to Miss Lou Addie Aldridge and D. B. McCombs.

The Happy Hour Club held two regular meetings in May. Mrs. Lura Hollingsworth was present at the first meeting and gave a very interesting talk on harmony of colors. Those present report this as one of the most interesting meetings of the year.

The second meeting was held at the home of Mrs. H. S. Bright. Interesting reports and talks were made by Mrs. Clyde Jenkins and Mrs. W. D. Smith. Mrs. Ruby Knutson and Mrs. C. E. Coats demonstrated stuffed cabbage, Cookies and grape juice were served to sixteen members and a number of children.

SPRING HILL NEWS

The rain which fell Saturday night was very beneficial to crops and after a few days of sunshine the farmers will be very busy again as the fields need cultivation very badly. Previous rains caused weeds and grass to grow rapidly as well as the field crops.

Sunday school was well attended Sunday considering the muddy condition of the roads. All are urged to attend regularly. The hour is 3 p. m. each Sunday.

Leldon Clifton spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wheeler.

Mrs. Herbert Dean is reported to be on the sick list. It is hoped she will soon recover.

Miss Lillie Mika, who has been attending John Tarleton College, Stephenville, returned home Sunday to spend the summer with home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Davis are the proud parents of a fine baby boy, born May 25. The young man was named Malcolm Carl. Mother and baby are doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Clifton and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wheeler Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pensick, of Ballinger, were guests in the Mika home Sunday.

There will be an old time singing Sunday evening, June 5, beginning at 7:30, at Spring Hill school house. The public is invited to come and help with the

Mrs. Alton Fox, of Coleman, spent the week-end with the Mat Fox family.

Mrs. John Stokes underwent an operation at the Sealy Hospital Thursday. She was doing nicely Monday afternoon.

Katherine and Dorothy Ray are visiting their father, Truman H. Ray, at Las Vegas, New Mexico.

Miss Mary Roach, of Miles, spent the week-end with Miss Myrtle Tate.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Gassiot and little son, Maurice, of Plainview, spent Sunday with Mrs. Gassiot's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Batsell.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Sayers and daughter, Elizabeth, spent Saturday night and Sunday in San Angelo.

Garrett Nalley returned to Talpa Monday afternoon from Georgetown, where he has been attending school.

DALE TOPICS

This community received another large rain Saturday night. It was estimated that about an inch and a half fell. Most of the farmers have their cotton up, and the downpour did little damage.

Dale school closed Friday. It has seemingly been a very successful term, with a ninety per cent promotion record.

The school entertained a large audience Friday night with a very interesting program. Every-one reported an enjoyable time.

We regret to report that little Vera Mae Wessel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Wessel, has been ill with pneumonia since Thursday. We sincerely wish her a speedy recovery.

Miss Frankie Pierce and her mother, Mrs. Millie Pierce, teachers of the Dale school, moved to their home at Winters Friday. They will return in October, however, and resume their former duties.

Misses Fern and Faye Campbell, nieces of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kruse, Jr., went to Ballinger Saturday on an indefinite visit in the home of their grandfather, L. B. Barker.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams, who have been visiting relatives here, left Saturday for Colorado on a business tour of that state.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kruse, of the Victory community, and Miss Hattie Hennigar, of Winters, were guests in the Pete Wessel home Sunday.

WILMETH EVENTS

All school closing exercises were well attended and thoroughly enjoyed.

Sam Freeman is on the sick list this week. We are glad to report Miss Doris Hill greatly improved and Miss Alice Ensor doing as well as can be expected.

Little Carrol Douglas Simon had the misfortune to break an arm Thursday when he fell from the top of a cellar upon which he was playing.

Not much rain fell here Wednesday but several farmers reported damage done crops by the hail. A good rain fell Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Caskey will go to Rising Star this week to visit Mrs. Caskey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Cochran. Later they will go to Alpine where they will attend summer school.

Johnnie and Merle Wilson visited in Ballinger Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Doss Freeman, of Lamesa, are here for a visit with relatives.

Miss Eula Mae Virden went to Abilene Monday. Miss Virden will attend Simmons University this summer.

The B. T. S. will meet here this week. The course of study, "The People Called Baptists," will be under the direction of Rev. Frank Steele.

Felton Towler, of San Angelo, spent the week-end with his sister, Mrs. W. T. Moreland.

A musical entertainment was presented in the home of T. A. Weathered Saturday night.

Ethann Boynton attended to business at Brownwood Friday.

Our hearts go out in sympathy to Ernest Proctor and family in the loss of his dear father who passed away quite unexpectedly Thursday morning. Heart failure was pronounced as the cause of death. Decedent was 72 years of age. Funeral services were held in the Wilmeth cemetery, where the remains were laid to rest.

SINCLAIR Pennsylvania Motor Oil is refined 100% from Bradford-Allegheny crude oil of the Pennsylvania field—Pennsylvania's costliest crude. This remarkable crude owes much of its superior lubricating quality to the fact that it was formed in the Devonian Age—that wonderful age in the earth's history when conditions were nearest perfect for the forming of crude oil. Much of its quality, too, is due to this hundred million years of filtering and mellowing—years which ran their course while monster dinosaurs lumbered over the earth. In process of refining, Sinclair Pennsylvania is de-waxed and freed from non-lubricating petroleum jelly at as low as 60° F. below zero. Ask for Sinclair Pennsylvania.

COFFEE

There is on record a diverting bit of correspondence exchanged between the great German poet Goethe, and Frau von Stein, a lady of the court.

Frau von Stein complained to Goethe of many things, including certain slights she suffered at the hands of the poet.

Goethe, with remarkable, but no doubt studied obtuseness, replied that her temperamental biliousness was due to her addiction to coffee, and he advised her to give up this beverage.

Coffee has been blamed for many things. In compensation, however, as many groundless claims have been made on its behalf.

Millions of pounds of coffee are consumed in the United States every year. Relatively little, however, is known of the actual effects of this beverage.

While the quality of coffee—its aroma, taste, etc.—depends upon the essential oils contained in the coffee bean, the physiological effect of the beverage is due mainly to the drug caffeine.

Caffeine is a mild stimulant, affecting the heart and the blood vessels. It also apparently stimulates metabolism.

When taken in excess coffee may produce sleeplessness, nervous irritability, headache, palpitation of the heart, nausea and even vomiting. Some are able to consume it in large quantities and show no effect at all. Others are highly sensitive to it.

Caffeine is useful in the condition known as collapse, when it helps to raise blood pressure.

The medicinal dose of caffeine is two and one-half grains, and the average cup of coffee contains from one and a half to three grains of caffeine.

There is current a widespread objection to the use of coffee by children. In the main this objection is warranted, but its reasons are not fully appreciated.

MOVIES

Wheeler and Woolsey Riot as Cowboys

A South-of-the-border resort, where men are caballeros and girls are señoritas, is pictured with all of its romantic glamor in "Girl Crazy." RKO-Radio's all-star merry melange of mirth and melody, which comes to the Palace Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

This home of the clicking castanets, marimba bands, and gay fandangos, shares atmospheric appeal with a western dude ranch as the background for the hilarious adventures of Bert Wheeler, Robert Woolsey, Eddie Quillan, Mitzie Green, Dorothy Lee, Arline Judge, Kitty Kelly, Lita Chevret, Stanley Fields and fifty beauties.

Based on the musical hit which ran for more than a year on Broadway, "Girl Crazy" tells the story of a city youth who goes western in a whoopee way by turning his father's cattle ranch into a dude resort and bringing his bright light pals out to keep the rattlesnakes and cacti company. The musical hits are all original compositions of George Gershwin, famous creator of modern melodies.

Will Rogers Plays Role He Made Famous in Real Life

Will Rogers dressed in a boiled shirt, as the backwoods American ambassador attached to an etiquette-ridden European court. Such is the guise in which we see the famous funster in "Ambassador Bill," his latest Fox picture, showing at the Palace Theatre Friday and Saturday.

"Ambassador Bill" is a perfect "fit" for the famous reporter-actor due to the fact that it allows him to "be himself." Famous as a pungent commentator on current topics, and as an "unofficial ambassador" sent to laugh international troubles away, this film simply makes him re-live events that he must know by heart.

The picture is not limited to wisecracks. No more than is Rogers himself in his daily writings. Even some of the laughs themselves come close to tears. Many of the wittiest quips in "Ambassador Bill" are said to have been written, or re-written, by Rogers himself. The cowboy humorist seems to find it almost impossible to go through a picture without injecting some of his own pungent comments in it. For which it does not suffer in, the least!

Leading supporting players include Greta Nissen, Marguerite Churchill, Tad Alexander and Gustav von Seyffertitz.

Garner's Lack of Interest in Getting Nomination Puzzles Newspaper Men

By Herbert Plummer
 WASHINGTON, June 2.—(AP)—Speaker John N. Garner employs a very significant gesture whenever he is approached in the capital and questioned concerning his chances of obtaining the democratic nomination for President at Chicago this month.

He holds up his right hand, index finger extended and shakes it back and forth in front of his face several times.

"That means," he told a group of newspapermen in his office the morning following the somewhat stormy state convention at Houston that gave him 46 votes, "that I have nothing to say on that subject."

What he thinks about it all is a secret that perhaps only he knows.

Consider, for example, that morning after the state democratic convention at Houston ended, a declaration for resubmission of the prohibition question had been adopted.

All Dressed Up
 To newspapermen who assembled in his office 15 minutes prior to the opening of the house, Garner seemed vastly more intrigued and interested in a frock coat he was wearing for one of the first few times in his career than anything that had happened in his home state the day before.

The house was to hold its annual memorial service for deceased members that morning and the speaker had dressed for the occasion.

"I don't have very much to say about what I wear," said Garner. "Mrs. Garner does all the deciding. She just lays out every morning the clothes I am to wear that day. And I put 'em on."

Mum on Politics

"Do you suppose Mrs. James Hamilton Lewis picks out the clothes the senator is to wear each day?" some one asked him.

"If she does," Garner replied, "she must be some picker."

On and on went the conversation in this fashion. Finally some one asked, "Anything to say about Houston, Mr. Speaker?"

Up went that right hand with index finger extended—

And they all knew it was no use.

ROTARIANS HEAR CONVENTION REPORT

Ballinger Rotarians heard Judge Paul Trimmer make a brief report on the state Democratic convention at Houston at the local club's regular meeting Tuesday.

This month another bridge will be opened to traffic here, making a total of seven over the Colorado River and Elm Creek adjacent to the city limits. Three railroad bridges and four highway bridges will be in use. One of the highway spans probably will be discontinued after the opening of the new bridge but there still will be six others serving this trade center.

Texas railroads will launch an advertising campaign this month in all important newspapers of the state. In these advertisements the roads' story will be given the public, showing how these faithful servants have been affected by trucks and busses. The first of the ads will appear about the middle of June and others will follow until the middle of August. No individual line is doing this publicity but all Texas railroads are cooperating in the move.

Candidates are warned that June 18 is the last date for filing their names with the Democratic chairman. At that time expense accounts must be filed and other matters attended to that are necessary before their names can be placed on the ticket. On June 20 the county executive committee will fix charges for each office, to be divided among the candidates. The money will be used to pay the expenses of the elections in July and August.

Ballinger will be 46 years old on the 29th of this month. For many years it was the custom to stage some kind of celebration on that date but in recent years all public efforts have been centered on staging the Runnels County Fair. This year, however, a homecoming program is gaining ground and may be presented, inviting all those who lived here or nearby 46 years ago. This would be a great event if properly presented. The cost would be practically nothing and the plan discussed calls for an afternoon and evening of pure entertainment that would appeal to all ages. The local chamber of commerce will consider the proposed program and if adopted will begin making arrangements for the affair at once.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS and SOUNDS

By Robbin Coons
 HOLLYWOOD, June 2.—(AP)—For two months Fay Wray has been a leading lady without a leading man in sight. And that is just one of the many odd things about this picture. Marian Cooper is making on a sound stage where secrecy is so well preserved that even the heavy doors are not enough, there's a big black curtain over them.

Cooper, again with his companion of many adventures through the world, Ernest Schoedsack, who with him made "Chang" and "Grass" and "Four Feathers," now is head of the first studio department devoted exclusively to adventure, mystery and novelty films.

Instead of trekking through the wilds with a camera over his shoulder he sits behind a desk which will "bring real action and at Radio and plans thrillers excitement to talkies."

FAY WRAY

Action Wanted

"The reason gangster films enjoyed such a vogue for a time," he observes, "was that they brought the talkies sure-fire action and plenty of it. That vogue has passed but there is still the demand for action—and that is what we're trying to supply."

The mystery picture which is occupying Cooper's personal attention while Schoedsack makes another is a distinct novelty, involving many trick processes, and that is why its sets are so closely guarded.

It has been possible to work two months without a leading man, who will be selected shortly, for there will be six months' more work. Other than that, Cooper will not reveal details. But he chuckles confidently.

The type of films his department seeks to produce would probably answer the exhibitor's prayer for pictures that will appeal to children without being "children's pictures"—in other words, "family pictures."

They Like Adventure
 Cooper, however, does not intend to spend the rest of his life in a studio. Both he and Schoedsack plan to march off again to remote spots of the world. They are both adventurous spirits.

HALF MILLION PLAN DUBLIN PILGRIMAGE TO HONOR CHURCH

(By Associated Press)
 VATICAN CITY, June 2.—Vast preparations have been made in Europe and the Americas, for a pilgrimage of 500,000 persons to Dublin in June for the sixth Eucharistic congress since the war.

A dozen cardinals, many archbishops, 167 bishops and thousands of priests, monks and nuns are going. Pope Pius XI has chosen Cardinal Lorenzo Lauri, former legate to Peru, to represent him as papal legate.

Dublin may be the scene of the largest ecclesiastical gathering in history. Forty-four countries will be represented. Some countries, such as Argentina and Uruguay, will send special diplomatic envoys.

Irishmen whose forefathers scattered in the days of invasion and suppression generations ago, are taking this opportunity of visiting the green land of their ancestors. Chief among them is the Archbishop of Danzig, with the anything but German name of Edward O'Rourke.

MIRRORS AND LENSES USED TO BRING SUNSHINE INDOORS

(By Associated Press)
 PARIS, June 2.—A little bit of sunshine in every dark corner is the scheme of Jacques Arthuis, French inventor.

By a system of mirrors and lenses, solar rays are projected from a skylight into the interior of a building and reflected back from a mirror bowl on the ground floor.

The newspaper "L'Intransigeant" has installed the system.

What the Smart June Bride Will Wear

JUNE weddings are just around the corner, and Sylvia Sidney of the films offers a tip to brides on what to wear. The gown and veil she shows are of hand-drawn alençon lace. Once more the long train takes its traditional place.

THE bridesmaids are clad in frocks of apricot silk muslin with hats of tulle trimmed with velvet flowers of the same color. Lilies of the valley and gardenias from the bride's bouquet while the bridesmaids carry yellow roses.

Exchange of Ham for Stale Bread Brings Mad Rush to Moscow Stores

(By Associated Press)
 MOSCOW, June 2.—Scenes reminiscent of a New York department store's bargain day rush were enacted here when three stores of the Moscow swine trust offered the privilege of buying sausage and ham without the necessity of standing in line to all those bringing to it stale bread.

Seeking to stimulate its collection of feed for hogs, the swine trust neglected to take into consideration the large number of those wanting sausage and ham and the natural antipathy of the population—born of long hours of patient waiting to buy food—toward forming in queues to take their turn to enter the stores.

Hundreds of men and women with great packs of bread in their hands or strapped to their backs besieged the three stores in an effort to get in.

The scramble became so great, notwithstanding that bread like ham and sausage is rationed in such limited quantities as hardly to provide enough to grow stale, that the stores finally had to revert to the queue system in an effort to preserve order.

One citizen in his hunger for ham or sausage brought eight kilos of flour, which the stores refused to accept. He probably had been hoarding it for years.

A number of customers tried to sell fresh bread without success, and later it was found that sales from the bread stores had soared enormously during the period that the ham and sausage offer was in effect.

After the three stores had collected a ton and a half of stale bread before the first day ended they reduced their price for the bread to three kopecks a kilo.

The action of the swine trust was severely criticised by the

TREES SERVE TO OUTLINE PREHISTORIC POPULATION

(By Associated Press)
 ANN ARBOR, Mich., June 2.—Indians lived among the maples and not among the "tall whispering pines," according to Dr. Wilbert B. Hinsdale of the University of Michigan, who says that roughly the prehistoric population can be checked by noting the vegetation.

"Indians procured very little, if any, kind of food from conifers," he says. "Animals whose flesh made human food could not subsist upon resinoid kinds of trees, such as pines, spruce, etc. Surface geology is one of the determining factors of a population. The flora depends on which of the alternative drifts of sands, clays and gravels is uppermost.

"Coniferous trees did not furnish desirable wood for fires because these woods throw sparks and if used inside would burn down the lodges."

Remember the R-101

BEAUVAIS, France, June 2.—(AP)—A monument to the victims of the R-101 is to be erected at Altonnes, where the British dirigible crashed the night of October 4, 1930, with a loss of 48 lives. The town gave the land and France appropriated $4,000 for the memorial.

About NEW YORK

By William Gaines
 NEW YORK, June 2.—(AP)—"I like New York," wrote Fannie Hurst, "because she is as human as the six million who daily pour through her steeped streets."

Miss Hurst, who speaks so intimately of (and sometimes so authoritatively for) this town, yet speaks of it with the surviving wonderment of a child of the hinterland. She was born, you know, in Hamilton, Ohio.

"I like New York," she wrote, "for the dazzling incongruity of Ninth avenue fruit stores blazing away beneath the roar of elevated trains; for the vitality of her ghetto; the astounding grace of her receding skyscrapers; the web-like beauty of her bridges; the metropolitanism of her Park avenue, and the cosmopolitanism of her Third avenue."

"I like New York because she has the heart of a child, against which she clutches that tawdry bauble known as Broadway."

Fannie In Wonderland

Miss Hurst spent last New Year's eve alone, wandering about the Bowery, observant and contemplative. She has poked into every nook and cranny of the town. She pops up at the Seabury investigation one day, and at the opera the next evening.

I talked to Miss Hurst the other day and she readily agreed that her sort of cat-like curiosity about the city is a manifestation of the enthusiasm New York stirred within her when it was a distant goal.

"Natives tend to take the city for granted," she said. And they do, most of them; the chances are you'll find they've never even been into the aquarium or Bronx zoo.

Miss Hurst was 18, just out of college, when she responded to the lure of the metropolis. She had written some things; she was fired with the ambition to write bigger things, and to be an actress, and to take advanced courses at Columbia.

From the day of her arrival she has been exploring the town, and she hopes her Alice-in-wonderland attitude will not abate. She is representative of the true metropolitans, the boys and girls from the home town out yonder who see in New York, as she does, "all cities in one, and yet no one city."

Bouquet for Talkies

All of her great liking for New York, Miss Hurst has seen fit to express in an original story for the talking pictures.

Now when Miss Hurst doesn't like anything, she is just as positive about saying so. Several times in the past, she has taken her cracks at the pictures for what they have done to some of her stories. So, it is interesting to find her now expressing the highest approval of the way Hollywood treated her story of New York which she wrote for Hollywood.

Miss Hurst's story traces the character development of an East Side family group through poverty, ambition, success, disillusion and ultimate redemption. She is delighted because the movie producer so closely "approximates" her original thematic material.

She believes that the screen, having caught the atmosphere of places, now is proving its capacity to treat the character of persons who move against the scene. The result, she says, will be the evolution of a new phase of screen literature.

BALTIC RUM FLEET FADES AS FINLAND BECOMES WET

(By Associated Press)
 STOCKHOLM, June 2.—Finland's abandonment of prohibition has cleared the Baltic of most of the boats and barges which used to conduct rum-running operations into Finland and, when business was bad there, into Sweden.

Swedish coastguards report that the big barges which formerly anchored outside the 12-mile line of the Swedish coast have been taken elsewhere.

Sweden does not have prohibition, but high prices are charged for liquors brought in the usual way.

FATES WEAVE TIGHT PATTERN FOR TWIN ITALIAN COUNTS

(By Associated Press)
 NAPLES, Italy, June 2.—Born together, Counts Federico and Carlo Fontana, bachelors, lived their 65 years together, died together and were buried in one grave.

An unusual bond, even for twins, united them. They were almost exact counterparts of each other and the last of their line.

They became ill with influenza on the same day and their condition simultaneously became grave. Count Federico when the end neared bade good bye to Count Carlo. Count Carlo watched his brother die, drank a glass of water and expired.

BILIOUS

"I have used Black-Draught . . . and have not found anything that could take its place. I take Black-Draught for biliousness. When I get bilious, I have a nervous headache and a nervous, trembling feeling that unfits me for my work. After I take a few doses of Black-Draught, I get all right. When I begin to get bilious, I feel tired and run-down, and then the headache and trembling. But Black-Draught relieves all this."—H. O. Hendrix, Homerville, Ga.

FAITH OF FATHERS DRAWS HINDUS FROM CHRISTIANITY

(By Associated Press)
AHMEDABAD, India, June 2.—Wholesale conversions of Indians from Christianity back to Hinduism are taking place.
The most recent instance occurred in the Dholka district of Ahmedabad, where the people of the village of Andhari, all of whom had been following Christianity, were readmitted to the Hindu faith.

Plaid Lends Chic To Summer Frocks

Plaid accents on street frocks are a smart style note for summer. Myran Loy of the films wears a frock of beige tissue tweed with puff sleeves and bow collar of brown and white plaid.

One Case Scarlet Fever is Reported

A case of scarlet fever was reported here this week and after diagnosis by City Health Officer E. R. Walker quarantine was established. The city health department also inspected a number of places that handle food and some were instructed to properly screen against flies. These inspections are made regularly and public reports made weekly.

The street department operated graders and tractors most of last week and dirt streets have been put in good condition for travel since recent rains. Pavement was swept and dirt hauled off. A total of 78 loads of dirt was removed from Broadway and Eighth Street.

The police department reported killing several dogs last week that were not wearing tags. The department also reported making 107 fire inspections. Two arrests were made but no fines were assessed.

Water consumption last week averaged 217,814 gallons daily. The usual work continued at the pumping plant and on the grounds.

The city audit has been completed and is now on file at the city office. The public is invited to inspect this audit at any time as well as all previous audits of city administrations which will be found on file together.

HUNTER TO SPEAK HERE SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Tom F. Hunter, candidate for governor, will address the voters of this county at 2:30 Saturday afternoon at the court house. Mr. Hunter is making a speaking tour through this section of the state, speaking three and four times daily.

A strict economy platform in which lower taxes are advocated is the basis of the plea the candidate is making for election to this high office.

The public is invited to hear Mr. Hunter in Ballinger Saturday.

REVIVAL AT PAINT ROCK WILL BEGIN SUNDAY

Rev. C. P. Jones, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Ballinger, will go to Paint Rock Sunday to open a two-week revival which will continue through three Sundays. Three churches of Paint Rock, the Methodist, Baptist, and Presbyterian, are cooperating in the revival and committees from the three denominations have been working for the past several weeks to get everything ready for the series of meetings.

Joe Trousdale, of Brownwood, will be in charge of the singing and will render special solos during the revival.

Tourists Travel Cheaply
PARIS, June 2.—(AP)—A million and a half tourists visited France last year, official figures show, but most of them came third class. First class trans-Atlantic travel declined, but 203,895 cheaper tickets were sold compared with 195,394 the year before.

Mrs. Pearce Entertains Luncheon Club

Mrs. George Pearce was hostess to her luncheon club on last Friday in her home on Ninth Street. A black and white color theme with a "Scottie" motif was employed throughout the luncheon and the bridge games which were the aftermath.

Various white flowers and potted plants were used to give floral beauty to the rooms. Black sateen covered foursome tables were laid in parchment dolles of white and silver with black scottie adornment. White china and crystal glassware were used exclusively. For centerpieces white petunias and amoor river blossoms were used in black bowls. Place cards were scotties on black and red Scotch plaid backgrounds. Score pads and cards used in the games matched these. The delectable luncheon menu served in four courses consisted of tomato juice cocktail, individual chicken pies with mushrooms, peas in carrot boats, egg salad simulating crabapples served on hearts of lettuce, hot biscuit in clover leaf shapes, crustless apple pie a la mode, and iced tea.

Mmes. Cheatham and Hartgrove Are Hostesses

The beautiful home of Mrs. Chas. Cheatham in Wilke Terrace was the scene of a smart morning party on Saturday, when Mrs. Mack Hartgrove of Paint Rock joined her in entertaining for Miss Leon Campbell of Coleman, whose marriage to Carl Carr will take place June 8.

A profusion of summer blooms filled the entire entertaining suite. Sweet peas were predominant in room and table decorations and corsages accompanied the refreshment plate of salads and iced tea.

In the bridge games high score award, a make-up case, went to Mrs. K. V. Northington. Miss Campbell's favor was a pewter cream and sugar set, and a pewter ice tub went to Miss Ruth Holliday.

Miss Holliday is Honoree

Miss Ruth Holliday was again honoree at a prettily planned party on Tuesday afternoon. Misses Verda Nell and Frances Trail were hostesses in their lovely Paint Rock home. Guests were welcomed by the Misses Trail and presented to Misses Holliday, Eleanor Hancock, Marianne Mc-

Reynolds of Mineola, Mavis Huston, Pearl Currie, Betty Kemp, Willie Jones and Imogene Waide, all of Paint Rock.

Seven tables in the spacious rooms were daintily appointed for games of bridge. The hostesses' gift to Miss Holliday was Italian cutwork linen.

Salads and ices were passed at the conclusion of the games. Included were: Misses Holliday, McReynolds, Evelyn Shepherd, Nell Russell, Dorothy Chancey, Hancock, Griffie Atkins, Hortense Holt, Maggie Herring, Kemp, Currie, Waide, Jones, Huston, Dotsy Sims, Mmes. C. W. Cheatham, Mack Hartgrove, J. C. Sturges Jr., Chas. Miller Jr., Robert Bruce, Rothall O'Kelly, Homer Carsey, Floyd Carr, W. B. Woody, Chas. Eyster of Temple, Ross Murchison, M. H. Watson of Colorado, Fred Holliday, R. W. Earnshaw, Chas. Bailey, A. C. Bauer Jr. of Menard, Loyd Herring, Leonard Stallings and Troy Simpson.

Miss Leon Campbell, bride-elect, was honored at Miles Saturday afternoon when the faculty members of the public school entertained for her with a "sweet-sour" shower.

BALLINGER BUMPS MILES BY SCORE OF 4 TO 0

The Ballinger baseball team defeated the Miles Giants Sunday by the score of 4 to 0. Good fielding and timely hitting behind the pitching of Brosig gave the locals an easy victory. Brosig allowed 4 hits and struck out 14 men during the nine innings.

Monday afternoon at Fair Park the locals lost a hard fought game to the Winters team, 3 to 2. Virdin pitched for the Bearcats and was effective all the way but hits did not come when they meant runs and Winters took the contest.

The Bearcats will go to Abilene June 12 for a game with the fast semi-pro team of that city.

Hereafter women will be charged the regular admission price due to expenses making it difficult to break even on games at Fair Park.

Miss Edith Miller will present her piano and voice pupils in a musicale at the high school auditorium at 8:15 o'clock Friday evening, June 3. The students of Miss Miller will be assisted by a choral ensemble of mixed voices and Miss Dorothy Chancey, violinist.

Public Invited to Musicale Friday

The program will be different from usual in that it is divided in four parts and the music used will be presented from a stage setting in keeping with the kind offered.

The mixed ensemble has been selected from pupils of Miss Miller and a few invited singers and some of the best talent in the city will be heard. These will be presented in part four of the program.

Mrs. Leonard Mauldin, of San Angelo, former pupil of Miss Miller, will appear as guest artist in the first part. Mrs. Mauldin, formerly Miss Emma Alice Walker, is remembered as a talented musician by her Ballinger friends.

Miss Chancey, another local artist assisting in the program, has been teaching at Odessa for the past school year and many will be delighted to welcome her on this occasion.
