NUMBER 72

348 Rural Pupils Coming Sunday for Graduation

Sunday afternoon at 3:30 at the Ballinger Baptist Church 348 pupils from schools of Runnels county will assemble for the county-wide seventh grade graduation exercises. Of this number 233 make up the graduating class and 115 represent those who are to receive health certificates on the 5-point project. Each member of the graduating class will receive a certificate from County Superintendent R. E. White, and those who have earned a health citation will be awarded these by the county nurse, Mrs. Georgie Stephens.

Dr. D. M. Wiggins, of Simmons University, Abilene, will deliver the class address. He accepted the invitation Monday and pupils and parents will hear a fine address from this able speaker.

A letter sent to all members of this year's class by Supt. White this week urged 100 per cent attendance. In cases where there is not transportation enough for the graduates the trustees have been urged to use school busses to convey the children here.

All members of the class will assemble in the church basement not later than 3 p. m. There the students will answer roll call and fall in line so that diplomas can be handed them as they march by in order.

Mrs. Stephens mailed notices Tuesday to the 115 pupils who have earned health certificates, asking them to be present for the program Sunday and receive their awards. She also included an invitation to the parents to attend. These pupils also will be arranged in order so that no time will be lost in presenting the certificates.

A musical program will be rendered by an orchestra formed by Ernest Moody, and songs will be sung by the Winters male quartet. The children in the two groups will march from the basement to reserved seats in the auditorium as the processional is played by Mrs. J. H. McClain.

Governor May Open Gates 'Texas Day' at Exposition

AUSTIN, June 1.—Governor Miriam A. Ferguson has been requested by the Century of Progress International Exposition to open the world's fair gates and preside over the fair during Texas Day, Wednesday, August 23, at Chicago.

The Texas Civic Opera Association, under the direction of Mrs. John Wesley Graham, of Houston, will present the opera "Aida" at a brilliant performance in the stadium of Soldiers Field on the exposition grounds as a part of the Texas Day celebration. More than 100 voices and performers from all parts of Texas will take part in the opera. Mrs. Graham has advised. They are doing this without salary or remuneration of any kind.

The opera association has raised funds through presentation of the opera in Texas with which to defray the expense of the trip to Chicago and return, and with other performances now scheduled for St. Louis, Detroit and other cities, expect to turn in a handsome sum to the Texas World's Fair Commission which will be used in maintaining the Texas exhibit at the fair until November 1, Mrs. Graham reported following a visit to the cities recently.

Three special trains bearing Texans on all-expense, and on partial expense tours to Chicago for Texas Day have been planned by the commission. These trips will permit the spending of three to six days in Chicago. They will be personally conducted and will provide the utmost in comfort and convenience at a very low expense.

Additional plans for Texas Day at the world's fair will be worked out by a committee to be appointed by L. E. Snavely, general chairman of the Texas commission at an early date. Assembling of the Texas exhibit at Austin with one large section being assembled in the Panhandle area, one in the Winter Garden district and another in the lower Rio Grande valley, with a pecan exhibit being assembled in the Guadalupe valley, is going forward rapidly, according to Ivan H. Riley and Professor W. T. Rolfe, architects and designers of the Lone Star exhibit.

Information regarding rail rates, all expense conducted tours, hotel rates in Chicago, and general information may be had from the Texas World's Fair Commission, 201-202 Casino Club building, San Antonio.

C. A. WOMACK WILL MOVE TO RANCH IN MILLS COUNTY

A very pleasant and unexpected social affair was held in the Bethel community last Saturday evening when friends and patrons gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Womack for a surprise party. Attendance at the party was approximately 175 men, women and children who have been associated with Mr. Womack in the years since he has been superintendent of the Bethel school.

Mr. and Mrs. Womack and family plan to move soon to their ranch near Goldwater where they will make their future home. For many years Mr. Womack has been connected with schools in this county and his educational and civic activities have made the family many friends who regret to lose them as citizens of this county.

BALLINGER SINGERS TO MEET AT FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

Mass Calisthenics Prove Popular at Galveston Beach

Any Monday, Wednesday or Friday morning you will see such a scene as this at Galveston, Texas, along the Gulf shore. The mass calisthenics inaugurated by the local Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. have proved very popular with Galveston people and visitors to the resort as well. At the present time there are about 1,500 participants. The exercises begin at sunrise three times a week, and those who attend regularly say they are fine for "that tired feeling."

Commissions Given Scout Executives At Rotary Meeting

Ballinger Boy Scouts, members of the executive board and scoutmasters received their commissions from national headquarters Tuesday in a special program presented at the Ballinger Rotary Club luncheon. The Rotary Club, sponsor of troop 30, is responsible for the organization here.

Prior to the presentation of the commissions, J. A. Killough, member of the executive board, spoke on financial work done for the scouts. He expressed appreciation for the cooperation of Ballinger business and professional men who raised the annual quota in less than two hours. Referring to what scouting is worth and why the work is carried on, he defined a boy, showing that he is man of tomorrow, the politician, the doctor, the lawyer and the banker.

He outlined what is taught in the boy and pointed out the many hours of leisure which youngsters have on their hands and in which they need supervision in their play.

Rev. E. W. McLaurin talked on the age of scouts, declaring that it was that time in which the boy leaves childhood days to become a man. He showed how the boy's will might be moved in the right way rather than in the direction of destruction.

President E. E. King presented K. V. Northington with his commission as chairman of the local board and director in the Concho Valley area. Board member certificates were issued to E. H. Boelsche, H. W. Lynn, E. W. McLaurin and J. A. Killough. Scoutmaster E. H. Forgy and Assistant Scoutmaster Walter Atwell were presented with certificates. The final presentation was the official commission of the troop.

Mr. Forgy read a resolution from the troop expressing appreciation to the Rotarians for their interest and sponsorship.

Be wise and advertise.

Rev. J. H. McClain, pastor of the Ballinger Baptist Church, stated that large attendance was anticipated at this important assembly. Two high spots on the program are the morning sermon by Rev. J. S. Bates, of Fort Worth, and a talk in the afternoon on the needs in Brazil by Miss Jennie Lu Swearingen, missionary to that country.

At noon dinner will be served at the church. The afternoon session will follow soon afterwards.

Ballinger Scouts Attend Camp Farr; 190 Boys Register

Ballinger Boy Scouts are attending the first outing of the year at Camp Farr, near Tankersley, this week. Six boys under the leadership of Towner Dickinson left here to register at the encampment Sunday and will take part in the program there the entire week.

Camp Farr is located west of San Angelo on Spring Creek. Over a period of years the grounds have been improved until it is one of the finest places for an outing in this part of the state. For several years boys and girls have gone there during the summer for supervised camp activities.

A program of work and play is carefully planned to take all the boys' time from early morning until lights are turned out at night. It includes the teaching of many of the arts and crafts of scouting and these are imparted by able instructors. Recreation includes swimming, baseball, hikes and other diversions that are educational as well as entertaining.

The encampment will close Saturday and the Ballinger delegation will return home. One hundred and ninety boys from this area registered at the camp Monday morning.

Local scouts attending are: Sam Hollingsworth, Louis R. Huma, Leonard Seales, Denman White, Lyle Currie, and John D. Beacham.

Thirteen Couples Apply for Permits To Marry in May

Thirteen couples made application for marriage licenses at County Clerk W. W. Chastain's office during May. All certificates had not been issued at the close of business Wednesday afternoon as some had not applied three days before the end of the month.

This is an increase over issuances in April when licenses granted here slumped to a very low figure. Those who applied for permits to wed during May were: Rupert Nixon and Miss Jessie Cash
W. A. Chapman and Mrs. A. M. Athey
Wesley Brown and Miss Annie Bell Young
R. T. Hutcheson and Miss Dollie Daniels
L. R. Minshew and Mrs. Della Bartlett
William Frank Atnipp and Miss Hazel Margaret Crockett
R. L. Stokes and Miss Amy Wilingham
Clifford Newton Korngay and Miss Marion Morgan Smith
Domingo Bernda and Miss Virginia de la Serda
Henry Clarence Mitchell and Miss Minnie Fay Wells
Ross Bush and Miss Alynn Melxner
Lucian King and Miss Marie Fuller
O. T. Toney and Miss Grace Murchison

Mrs. Minnie Kaechele and Miss Nora Dorothy Tefs, of Kenney, and George Bartay, of Bellville, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McNutt last week. Miss Tefs remained for a longer visit, Mrs. Kaechele and Mr. Bartay returning home Saturday.

Four RFC Projects Using 75 Workmen, Two Crews a Week

The local RFC committee is pushing work on four major projects this week and will continue until each is completed. Fifty-four men were employed Monday morning and a new crew of 75 began work Thursday morning for the last three days of this week.

A large gang is now working on the scenic drive around the bluff overlooking city park and the water reservoir property. It will require considerable time to complete this lane as a stone wall will be constructed on the lower side of the road all the way. Plans call for caliche topping after the proper grade has been built and rolled.

Clearing off of a playground on the crest of the bluff just west of the playground in city park began this week. The new playground will be prepared for all kinds of outdoor games such as football, tennis, baseball and races. Shrubby will be removed, rocks hauled off and the ground levelled and rolled so there will be no danger of stones or sticks when children fall.

A crew commenced work on the central school campus Thursday and will be used there for some time. Rocks will be dug from the ground and hauled away. Good soil will replace the rocks so that a grass lawn may be sodded later. When shrubs are available other beautification will be done on the campus.

The fourth crew is working under County Commissioner T. J. Parrish in the construction of lateral roads in this precinct. Already a number of these roads have been properly graded, rolled, and topped with caliche and gravel. The roads being improved connect with paved highways and will give citizens of nearby communities outlets in muddy weather.

J. D. Motley, secretary of the Ballinger Chamber of Commerce, announced Thursday that relief work here would continue as long as funds are available to pay the workmen. Registration of laborers is being made at the chamber's offices in the city hall building.

COLLEGE QUARTET TO SING AT NAZARENE CHURCH HERE

The Bethany-Peniel College Belcanto Quartet, of Bethany Oklahoma, will be at the local Nazarene Church this (Thursday) evening at 8 o'clock for a complete musical program. Rev. K. S. White, of the same college, is accompanying the quartet. The public is invited to hear these young men in inspiring music.

Rev. I. L. Flynn, pastor of the local church, is making arrangements for the appearance in Ballinger.

NEW FEED STORE TO BE OPENED HERE

J. N. Key and son are preparing to open a new feed store in Ballinger and will be ready for business within the next few days. They have secured the C. A. Doose building on Hutchings Avenue next door to the Harwell Motor Company and will carry a complete line of feed and flour.

MISS NELLIE HILL TO PREACH AT NAZARENE CHURCH SUNDAY

Miss Nellie Hill, former pastor of the Ballinger Nazarene Church, now of Cranfield Gap, is visiting here with her mother and other relatives. Miss Hill will preach at the local church Sunday evening and her many friends in this section are invited to hear her.

Rock work was completed on highway 23 Wednesday morning and either Saturday or Sunday the entire section from Ballinger to Talpa will be opened to traffic. This completes the work on this contract with the exception of the guard fences on high grades and at curves, most of which are now under construction.

The roadbed is now ready to be given triple-A asphalt topping. No contract has been let for this but the best of rumors infer that the project has been placed on the preferred list and will be included in the next lettings by the state highway commission.

Bridges, culverts, guard fences and earthen approaches are included in the present contract and when the road is opened this week-end it will remain open until the asphalt treatment is commenced.

Contractors also have finished topping highway 9 from three miles west of Eden to the Tom Green county line and it has been opened to traffic. Other contracts in Concho county are moving along nicely at this time. Rock foundation placement is continuing on highway 4 from the Runnels county line to six miles south of Paint Rock and asphalt is expected to be spread on this part of the route about June 20.

The cement bridge and dirt approaches on highway 4 north of Winters at the city lake have been finished and opened to traffic. This eliminates one detour on that road. Good progress is being made on other bridge projects on this highway, which probably will be completed by mid-summer.

SINGING SCHOOL WILL REOPEN MONDAY EVENING

The singing school at the Church of God which was started two weeks ago and postponed on account of sickness will be started again Monday evening and all singers are invited to attend. S. H. Skelton will be in charge of the school which will meet each evening.

Mrs. R. G. Erwin and son, Ralph James are visiting this week with Mrs. Erwin's sister, Mrs. L. H. Flewelling, and family of Ranger.

Camel hair brushes are composed of the hair from the tails of Russian squirrels.

Arkansawers Elect Sandefer President At Meeting Sunday

A crowd estimated at between 2,500 and 3,000 attended the Arkansawers Reunion at Oak Creek Sunday. The second annual meeting of this organization was by far the outstanding gathering in that community in years. People from five surrounding counties were present including natives of Arkansas.

The Simmons Cowboy Band was on hand to furnish music. J. D. Sandefer, president of Simmons University, Abilene, was the principal speaker and at the closing business session was elected president of the Arkansawers for the ensuing year. D. M. West, of Bronte, was named secretary.

Unrestrained enthusiasm greeted the announcement that J. M. Futrelle, governor of Arkansas, had accepted an invitation to speak at next year's meeting.

Every member of the committee on program and arrangements was reelected to serve another year. Mrs. W. W. Mitchell, of Norton, is chairman of this committee, serving with H. Baldwin, Winters; and G. A. Best, Bronte.

The date for the 1934 meeting was set for the fourth Sunday in May, subject to change if necessary.

One Typhoid Case Reported Last Week By Health Officer

City Health Officer E. R. Walker continued to give free inoculations for typhoid fever last week. Twenty-one patients were inoculated, the state furnishing the serum and the city health officer administering it. One new case of typhoid was visited on Strong Avenue and according to the weekly report of the health department the cause was attributed to flies carrying the infection probably from surface toilets. Two other typhoid patients in the city have about recovered and are able to be up.

Street work has been confined to rolling caliche and gravel streets since the recent rains. Most of these streets are in good condition and are seiving a large number of citizens. Pavement was cleaned last week and repairs made on machinery.

Water consumption slumped to 187,143 gallons per day last week. The city water is much softer since rains flushed the creek of the hard spring water which had accumulated for several months.

Chief of Police Lee Moreland made 106 fire inspections in the downtown district last week. The general condition of alleys and stores was found to be good, few hazards being discovered.

Confidence of Local Merchants Indicates Return of Prosperity

Every indication in Ballinger and Runnels county points to better economic conditions. Construction, new business ventures, improvements on property, and better sales and prices in the past three months have gradually improved the outlook and the general morale of the citizens.

To realize that the depression is ending and better times are just ahead, one has only to look about him and make an inventory of the progress being made here in many lines.

Automobile sales, generally considered an accurate business barometer, have increased steadily during the past two months. The month just closed saw twenty-seven new motor vehicles registered at Ballinger and a considerable number sold by dealers of this county which were delivered and registered in other counties.

Wool sales at prices ranging from 20 to 25 cents a pound have done much to keep the wheels of commerce whirling and increase money in circulation. Since cotton prices started their upward swing many bales being held by Runnels county farmers have been sold. No business failures have occurred in recent months to injure public confidence.

An outstanding display of faith in the return of better business was shown this week by Sam Behringer in opening his grocery in a large and modern building. He has spent money for a business home, for transportation, added to his stock of groceries, and put in variety goods for the patrons of his store.

The C. O. D. Grocery announced last week the purchase of a new and modern creamery plant of large capacity which will be put in operation at once. A smaller plant convinced owners of this store that there was a ready sale for such products and it soon became necessary to increase the daily output to supply the demand.

Higginbotham Funeral Home displayed confidence when it purchased a new and modern hearse for use in its undertaking business here.

O. C. Sykes, after several years' absence from Ballinger, has opened a new automobile agency and is going forward in sales of motor vehicles and accessories.

Henry Jones, after retiring a year from the automobile agency and general garage business, has improved his property on South Eighth Street and opened a new garage and car sales department.

The Texas Compress Company in recent months has spent much money in improving its Ballinger plant. New sheds to house cotton in any kind of weather have been built and floored.

The Ballinger Cotton Oil Mill has just completed the installation of a modern sprinkler system to reduce fire hazards. This improvement represents an expenditure of several thousand dollars and makes the local plant one of the best in the state.

Frank Holliday, a young business man, has enlarged his business in the past two months and is continuing to grow, adding new lines to his already well stocked news agency.

Two new cafes have been equipped here in the past two months. One is ready to open on Eighth Street and another will be opened on Hutchings Avenue within a few days.

The Runnels county court house is being remodeled and room will be made for other offices on the third floor. This will make the court house more modern and usable on the second and third floors and material men and carpenters have been aided by the employment in a dull season.

A social club which was opened here last month will furnish entertainment for those who like dancing and similar amusements.

For the first time in several years every share of stock in the Ballinger Country Club is in substantial hands and others are waiting to secure privileges of the organization.

The Ballinger Chamber of Commerce has continued to function efficiently and reports an increase in membership in recent weeks.

Two service clubs with representative memberships continue to furnish motive power for various worthwhile projects.

Residences have been improved, business houses painted, repaired and roofed and many other smaller improvements made to point the return of bona fide prosperity.

Runnels county farmers borrowed less money from the federal crop production loan division than those of any county in this part of the state and are working long hours at this time, preparing for another bumper crop to be harvested this fall.

Interested persons are planning to enlarge the Runnels County Fair and intend to prepare a program which will attract the big crowds which passed through the gates in the period of 1925 to 1929. A birthday celebration is being prepared for June 29 in which Ballinger business men are joining hands to entertain "old timers" and other visitors.

Highways are being completed that will aid business by opening new trade territory to this city. The point is made that good hard-surfaced roads now enter Ballinger from almost every point of the compass, and lateral roads rapidly being improved will furnish an outlet for hitherto isolated communities.

M. L. Forgey recently purchased a grocery store on Hutchings Avenue and is making his first business venture of this kind. He has been employed by other grocery firms here for several years. Smith's Red & White Store No. 2-11

4 will be opened soon at Lowake and shows the confidence of this firm that has added three stores to its group in the past several months.

H. C. Lyon and Jack Lynn are spending the week on Mr. Lyon's farm south of Coleman, where they are making numerous improvements.

FARMER MAKES PROFIT FEEDING BEEF CATTLE

KOUNTZE, Texas, June 1.—A clear profit of $145.60, an increase of $80 in the value of his 22 acre corn field, and the satisfaction of succeeding, were the benefits received by S. E. Jordan, of Batson, Hardin county, from his first attempt at calf feeding. County Agent W. P. Barrett reports that he fed 63 cross-bred Brahma-common cattle calves a ration of cottonseed meal and hulls with some prairie hay at a total cost of $468.38 selling them on the Houston market for a net of $1,054.98. After deducting feed cost and a rather high initial value of $441, Mr. Jordan reports a net profit of $145.60. Also

HAS YOUR ADDRESS CHANGED RECENTLY?

Ledger subscribers are requested to notify the publishers of any changes in their addresses promptly. Under the new postal laws newspapers and periodicals must pay postage due for notices of any changes in address furnished by the postoffice. In addition there always is the probability that your paper will be delayed or fail to reach you altogether if you do not give immediate notification when you move.
The best plan for all parties concerned is to send the change of address in advance.

All patrons of rural schools are invited to Ballinger Sunday afternoon to witness the graduation of more than 200 pupils of the seventh grade. The excellent program will be both entertaining and instructive. The service will begin at the Ballinger Baptist Church at 3:30 p. m. and all seats will be made available to take care of a large audience.

It is now that season of the year when Runnels county farmers have much produce to market. Real trading at home means the buying and consuming of these products and loyal citizens should insist on Runnels county grown vegetables, fruit, melons and everything else possible. Often we think trading at home means only for the farmers to come to town and buy their supplies but the idea is much broader than that and means the general consumption of county products as well as the wares of home town merchants.

Committees working on the Ballinger birthday celebration June 29 report they are meeting with much encouragement. Every feature is being arranged for nicely and nothing will be left undone to make it the biggest free program ever presented in Ballinger. One feature that will attract much attention will be the pioneer show windows in local stores. Most of the stores have already agreed to dress a window and are busy now assembling material to be displayed. The idea originated last year from a show window in the Asa Cordill Jewelry Store containing old photographs. So many people stopped there and comments were so favorable that the committee decided to make window decorations a part of the day's attractions.

DELAY PROVES LUCKY FOR WINNER OF PRIZE

JOHANNESBURG, June 1.—Lady Luck has dealt a double portion to a South African winner of a $150,000 prize in the last Irish Sweepstake in Dublin.

The ticket bore the name of "Gladys & Co., Johannesburg," but as the claimant proved to be a single individual the auditors required considerable time to verify the statement that he was the sole party interested.

As a result of delay pending inquiries, the claimant will receive $37,000 more than if the prize money had been paid when the claim was first made. This stroke of luck is because in the interval South Africa abandoned the gold standard and the value of the pound sterling is now about the same in both countries.

BEHRINGER'S NEW STORE OPENS FRIDAY

Starlight Refinery Ready To Start Operations Soon

The Starlight Refinery, located on highway 4 near Hatchel, is ready to begin operations. The pipeline has been completed from the Golden Petroleum Company's well on the McMillan farm to the plant, the building completed and all machinery set and tested. A few days will be required to tighten pipes and stop leaks after oil is turned into the lines under pressure and operations will then be continuous.

Construction of the plant was started by the Golden Petroleum Company several months ago. The property was obtained by George A. Sonricker, of Breckenridge; Art Tucker, of Graham, and others. Incorporation papers were taken out in the name of the Starlight Refining Company. The refinery has contracted for all the crude from Golden Petroleum No. 1, which is now flowing 130 barrels daily, and all other wells of this company, for a period of five years.

Products of the refinery will be marketed in Ballinger and the demand is expected to exceed the output. As production increases other markets will be sought for Starlight products.

Mr. Sonricker has had 30 years' experience in the refining industry. Before coming to Texas he was active in Pennsylvania. For the past three years he operated the Starlight Refinery at Breckenridge.

George O'Brien is Star in Zane Grey Story of Old South and West

The color and romance of the South in pre-Civil War days and the adventure and excitement of the Far West in the days when the redman ruled the plains, are blended in Zane Grey's "The Golden West," Fox picture, with George O'Brien in the leading role, to be shown at the Palace Theatre tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday.

An old family feud destroys the love of a boy and a girl. The youth goes west where he meets and marries another girl and a son is born. The father and mother are killed by the Indians and the child is reared to manhood by the savages, finally to become their leader.

O'Brien plays a duel role, the first during his successful career in motion pictures. He is supported by a cast that includes Janet Chandler, Marion Burns, from the New York stage, Bert Hanlon, Arthur Pierson, Edmund Breese and Emmett Corrigan.

TWO RUNNELS CASES BEFORE APPEALS COURT

The case of Jesse Winans, given one year in 119th district court here on a liquor sale charge, has been affirmed by the court of criminal appeals. Winans claimed to have been the agent for the purchaser of a pint of whiskey while the state held he was the agent for the seller.

The case of Ike Musil, given a life term in the same court on the habitual criminal act, was submitted to the higher court on state's brief.

Tibet in Midst of World of its Own

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Batang, one of the most remote towns in Asia, far up the Yangtze river on the frontier of Tibet, has been under siege for two months by Tibetan tribesmen, with both Tibetan attackers and Chinese defenders occupying buildings of American missionaries. A bulletin from the National Geographic Society tells of Batang and the surrounding country.

"The border region," says the bulletin, "is a country of mountains. Batang, the chief city, is one of the lowest points, and yet its altitude is 9,000 feet above sea level, nearly four-fifths of a mile higher than Denver."

"Most of the surrounding country is 12,000 to 15,000 feet high, the latter altitude being more than 500 feet higher than Mount Whitney, California, highest peak in the United States proper. From this great upland rise numerous peaks 20,000 feet and more in height.

"The view from the summits of some of the passes that must be traversed in traveling about this marvelously rugged country can hardly be surpassed anywhere in the world. The panorama for hundreds of miles on a clear day is one of countless high peaks interspersed with greater snowy masses that exceed in height the topmost pinnacles of all other continents.

"Below timber-line are some fine forests, and the Alpine-like flowers of the short summer are exceedingly beautiful. Here and there among the mountains are clear, sparkling lakes, their waters so cold that in most of them fish cannot live.

"Kham, the easternmost province of Tibet, gives its color to the entire border region, and its people are said to be the most robust of all Tibetans. Many of the people of Kham are nomads, who tend their flocks of sheep and yak as they graze over the uplands and live in black yak-hair tents. Other more settled people live in mud-walled houses and engage in a crude sort of farming in the valleys, where the altitude is low enough for grain to mature.

"The nomads live the year round in their tents, seldom even entering a house. When the lower slopes of the mountains become free from snow in the spring they begin their upward pilgrimage with their herds, closely following the receding snow line, until in summer they are living far up in the highlands and on the sides of the peaks.

"When winter begins to set in they make the reverse journey, going down to the valley only as fast as the descending snow line drives them. In this way they are able to utilize the supply of grass to best advantage.

"The herders remain close to the snow also because their yak thrive best in a cold temperature and cannot, in fact, stand any great degree of heat, especially if introduced into the warmer temperature suddenly.

"So carefully must the yak's predilection for cold be indulged that traders bringing supplies in summer from the high county to Batang will not drive their animals into the town. They unload ten miles from their supposed destination, at a point about 12,000 feet in altitude, and the Batang consignees must provide transportation for the remainder of the distance to the 9,900-foot level.

"The towns of Tibet are in most cases small groups of dwelling houses and a few shops in valleys at the foot of steps and winding paths leading to some monastery that towers above on the steep mountainside. Batang differs from the typical town in having a much larger group of houses and in being surrounded by an extensive area of terraced fields. A huge monastery for lamas existed above the town at one time, but was destroyed by the Chinese during one of their invasions. Batang derives most of its importance from the trade route between China and Tibet which passes through the place.

"Eastern Tibetans live on queer foods from an American point of view. One staple is parched barley meal, called 'tasamba.' Another is 'butter tea.' First strong tea is made, and into it is churned yak butter and salt. A third food is dried milk. Many tribesmen eat practically no other foods the year around.

"Most of the married women among the Eastern Tibetans have a number of husbands simultaneously. They usually marry three or four brothers. One husband will take care of the home in the valley, if there is one; another will be in charge of the yak or sheep in the uplands; a third will be the trader, taking care of the caravan; while others will be assigned to still other special duties."

VITAMIN C MAY BE OBTAINED FROM PAPRIKA, CHEMIST FIND

BUDAPEST, June 1.—General scientific interest has been aroused by the claim of a prominent Hungarian chemist, Dr. Albert Szentgyoergyi, professor at Szegedin University, to have discovered after ten years research a method of producing vitamin C artificially.

Professor Szentgyoergyi says he has established that the vitamin is abundantly present in the Hungarian paprika, or sweet pepper, which he holds contains at least four times as much vitamin C as an orange or a lemon. In his experiments he has used 10,000 paprikas and claims that he has now extracted the vitamin, which can be administered in the form of powder or pills even to tiny babies.

Professor Szentgyoergyi's research work has been financed by wealthy American friends. He has already been invited to lecture on his discoveries in Berlin, Stockholm and Copenhagen.

MILK FROM COWS, ASSES, GOATS, OFFERED FOR SALE

PARIS, June 1.—Frequenters of the Bois de Boulogne have revived the old-time fad of taking "the milk cure," which has been recommended by leading doctors. A selected herd of cows is pastured in a section of the famous park adjoining one of the popular race tracks. The drinking salon is constructed with walls of plate glass to enable the clients to see the milking operation.

For patients suffering from stomach trouble, milk from Syrian asses is on tap at this establishment and goats have been imported from Switzerland to provide milk for invalid children. Surgical cleanliness is observed in the handling of the milk.

The Sam Behringer Cash and Carry Grocery will open for business Friday morning in its new home, the building formerly known as the Jeanes building on Hutchings Avenue. Mr. Behringer closed a deal more than a month ago for one-half interest in the building and for the past thirty days the carpenters have been remodeling the interior and making it ready for a modern grocery.

The store at the corner of Eighth Street and Hutchings Avenue was closed Saturday night so that all the week could be used to move goods to the new store and arrange same for the opening.

Mr. Behringer started his business career in Ballinger more than 30 years ago. His first job in this city was driving a delivery wagon for the Ed Schawe Bakery. Following this service he delivered groceries for the Currie Grocery Company, M. D. Chastain and Chastain & Simpson.

When the J. M. Radford Wholesale Grocery Company opened a branch here Mr. Behringer accepted a position in the warehouse and shipping department. He remained with this firm for several years, later going on the road as a salesman for a specialty concern. From that position he went with the Wooten Grocery Company, of Abilene, as salesman and later was stationed at San Angelo as manager of a branch house.

In 1924 Mr. Behringer went into business for himself, opening a Piggly-Wiggly store here. He operated this store for five years making a huge success of it and then sold it to the Safeway Stores and accepted a position as district manager of the Abilene district for this corporation. One year later he returned to Ballinger and opened the store in his own name on the corner of Eighth Street and Hutchings Avenue from which he has just moved.

This in a brief way tells the business career of this Ballinger man who by his modern methods of doing business has made one success after another until he is now considered one of the outstanding merchants in this section.

The new store will be the realization of a dream which Mr. Behringer has had for years. Better display, more room, better light, and plenty of storage room will enable him to take advantage of every means of up-to-date merchandising.

The new store will have one feature, different from anything yet attempted by Mr. Behringer in his other business projects. A "bargain balcony" will offer patrons of this store a complete shopping center where dry goods, variety goods, drug sundries and other lines will be handled. Miss Bess Corbett, for years engaged as a saleslady with various Ballinger firms, will be in charge of the new department. The large balcony will be completely filled with bargains and also on this floor will be a convenient and well furnished ladies' rest room.

Another feature is being added for the convenience of rural customers who come to town for the entire day and desire a comfortable place to rest. On the ground floor Mr. Behringer is furnishing a private rest lobby where friends may meet, mothers may take their children, and for many other uses of patrons and friends. Electric fans and gas heaters will make the room comfortable winter or summer and running ice water will be available at all times.

Mr. Behringer has recently purchased a large Diamond T truck with a van body and with a large Chevrolet truck he will buy and haul most of his merchandise here from wholesale centers. He stated that he would buy every bit of home grown produce possible and when it was on the market would keep it in stock. However, when it is out of season the trucks will run to garden centers where he will purchase fruit, vegetables and other produce and haul it here for his trade. He will go into the lower Rio Grande Valley and as far west as Los Angeles, California. In season he will visit markets in Louisiana and Mississippi where syrups, nuts and other merchandise will be carefully selected for his customers. "In my buying, I at all times keep the best interest of my patrons in mind endeavoring to offer them the best on the market at the lowest possible price," Mr. Behringer declared.

On opening days the store will offer many special inducements for citizens of this territory to visit here and supply their wants. Admission coffee, Bliss iced tea and ice cold Hy-tone will be served free. To each person buying a $10 coupon book a dress will be given. Other goods will be given each opening day.

Among the employees of this firm is one known as well by the

Eddie Cantor Reaches Heights in New Film, "The Kid from Spain"

"The Kid from Spain," Eddie Cantor's third and best starring vehicle for Samuel Goldwyn, comes to the Palace Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday next and presents the pop-eyed comedian in what he sincerely believes is his greatest offering to the cause of amusement.

This picture continues Cantor's plans with Goldwyn of one film a year. Last year there was "Palmy Days," and the season before, "Whoopee," but, successful as those were, Eddie believes he has more than topped them with "The Kid from Spain."

In other words, this is Eddie's annual screen song-and-dance comedy. It is the story of a button-eyed lad, who, getting kicked out of school with his roommate for suspicious goings-on in a girls dormitory, gets involved in a bank robbery and escapes to Mexico disguised as a prominent bull-fighter, there accepting the acclaim due to the man he is impersonating until forced to go into a real bullfight.

Nonsense and song make up most of the picture and make of it a gay, romantic fable of love, shot through with dark, smiling eyes and matadors. The story itself is Eddie's own idea, but its elaboration was done by Mr. Goldwyn.

Goldwyn made tests for several weeks in the selection of the heroine, and he made other tests for other weeks in the choice of 76 beauties to serve as a background. The same meticulousness was exercised in the selection of the principal players, the result being one of the best casts in months.

There are three distinct divisions in that cast. Lyda Roberti, electric Broadway comedienne, plays opposite Cantor and serves as a remarkable butt for him, as well as singing three songs with him. Ruth Hall and Robert Young are the romantic leads, and there are all sorts of villains, including John Miljan, Carrol Naisb, Noah Beery and Stanley Fields. In fact, there's a fourth division, too, this being occupied entirely by Sidney Franklin, world-famed bullfighter, who portrays the role of Sidney Franklin, world-famed bullfighter.

Three of the songs sung by the star are said to be of hit proportions. These are "In the Moon-light," "What a Perfect Combina-

Congratulations

The manner in which Sam Behringer has courageously gone ahead with re-modeling, enlarging and modernizing his excellent store is a step in the right direction. His faith in Ballinger, and in the value of immediate progress, will have a beneficial effect on us all.

With a new and larger location, modern lighting, complete electric refrigeration, exceptional ventilation and an improvement of stock and fixtures, this progressive merchant has kept in pace with advancing times.

This is the same policy followed by the West Texas Utilities Co. and we are happy to link hands with him in working for the advancement of Ballinger and West Texas.

grocery buying public as Mr. Behringer himself. That person is Mrs. Hatton Laxson, who for many years has assisted the housewives of this section in the selection of articles for their menus. Mrs. Laxson began her career as a business woman with the B. Dornberger Grocery Company of Ballinger. She served for years with the Miller Mercantile Company, a short time was with the Tigner Jewelry Store, and became associated with Mr. Behringer in 1924 when he opened his first store in Ballinger. Since then she has been with this organization continuously.

Cecil Jones, a native of Runnels county, received his first grocery experience with E. C. Schott and has been in the Behringer store for the past year.

238 HOMES IN SAN SABA COUNTY HAVE BUDGETS

SAN SABA, Tex., June 1.—One hundred and fifty-four home demonstration club women and 84 4-H club girls have made canning budgets for the family food supply for 1933, making a total of 238 homes in San Saba county which have started out to organize their food work in a systematic way under the guidance of the home demonstration agent, Miss L. J. Perry. These women and girls are planning to produce feed to meet the demands of the budget or to exchange for those foods which must be purchased.

"I took care of my family this year and sent my three boys to college by having an adequate food supply," states Mrs. Ora D. Smith, home demonstration club member of the Richland Springs club, who canned over 1,000 containers of food last year. "My boys have used the pantry all year and with what they take to school from home their board bill averages only $9 a month for the three."

COOK AND CHICKEN INVOLVED IN INTERNATIONAL INCIDENT

SOFIA, June 1.—Chicken for lunch was the order in a Yugoslav frontier post. But when the cook went to kill the bird it fled across the border into Bulgaria. The cook was so bent upon catching it that he pursued it into foreign territory where both he and the wayward fowl were arrested by the Bulgarian frontier troops and sent back to their own side of the border.

This violation of the Bulgarian frontier was duly reported to the government and the prime minister jokingly informed the Yugoslav minister of what had occurred. The Bulgarian press, while appreciating the joke, point out the graver side—that upon a frontier where relations are so strained a similar incident might easily have grave consequences. Only a few weeks ago a Bulgarian sergeant, blinded by a blizzard, strayed across the line and was immediately shot dead.

Noses React Differently To Fragrance of Flowers

NEW YORK, June 1.—For detecting fragrance in flowers "the kind of noses is as important as the kind of posies," says Dr. Albert F. Blakeslee, of the Carnegie Institute in reporting discoveries of remarkable differences in smell.

Whether you live in the sunny South, Mid-West or along the coast, and are subject to colds or not, makes little difference. Every where the flower that is sweet to one nose may be different to another. From all these points scientists have sent Dr. Blakeslee reports showing that the differences are almost universal and that the gulf between persons is sometimes wide.

Eighty students of a college near Cold Spring Harbor, Long Island, were tested on two varieties of freesias, golden treasure and golden daffodil. Most of them found fragrance of some sort in both varieties. But one-sixth of the group said at least one variety was without odor. This lack was more commonly ascribed to golden treasure.

But golden daffodil was "distinctly disagreeable and not to be called fragrant" to some of the students. This variety had a stronger odor than the other, and was less pleasing to about one-third of the smellers.

"And yet," Dr. Blakeslee reports in the National Horticultural Magazine, "the grower from whom these freesias were purchased was very emphatic in saying that golden daffodil was much to be preferred on account of its superior fragrance."

In a smaller group both smellers and non-smellers were found for the fragrance of another variety of freesia, elder's giant white.

Professor Bucholz, of the University of Illinois, has tested the fragrance of the Illinois wild apple and the cultivated Bechtel's crab apple. He finds a considerable proportion who detect no fragrance in the flowers of one or both, although to others they are sweet smelling.

In Florida at the State College for Women, Professor Kurz finds a few who say there is no fragrance at all in the flowers of the wild crab.

At Barnard College some of the girls said a potted azalea had no fragrance at all, while others found it sweet in varying degrees. Two-thirds of forty persons who sampled a pink verbena on Long Island found it fragrant, but said there was none in the red verbena. For about one-third of the fragrance relations were just reversed. Only two found a faint fragrance in both colors of verbena.

In another place twenty-six persons tried a yellow day lily. All but one found it fragrant. This one, a woman, said it had no fragrance.

"And," Dr. Blakeslee adds, "she was a good smeller of fragrance in other flowers. The peculiarity is probably common. It has not been noted more frequently because it is generally necessary for its discovery that several people smell the same flowers at the same time, and because failure is generally attributed to a cold. "The differences, however, are probably for the most part innate and hereditary."

An aged couple had been sitting in front of the fire a long time without speaking. At length the husband inquired: "What were you thinking?"

The wife replied: "I was just thinking how long we had lived together and that it couldn't go on forever like this and the time will soon come when one of us will have to go."

"Yes," asserted the old man, "but it's no use to worry about that now."

"No," was the reply, "but I was just thinking that when it does happen I would like to go to California to live."

DOG'S TRICK SAVES GIRL FROM DROWNING

SYDNEY, Australia, June 1.—Obeying the signal for a trick an Alsatian dog saved 9-year-old Malsa Callow from drowning in Rushcutter's Bay, near here recently. The girl had fallen into the water and her struggles carried her far out into the bay.

James Brady raised his hands above his head to dive and swim to her. Before he could plunge his dog, Loch Lady, leaped over his head, landed in the water and swam to the child. Gripping her jumper at the back of the neck he swam to shore. Brady had taught the dog to jump over him when he held out his arms.

WOOD BEING CONVERTED INTO SUGAR IN GERMANY

BERLIN, June 1.—Wood is being converted into sugar in a factory in Mannheim-Rheinau by a process just perfected.

The wood is placed in boilers filled with hydrochloric acid, and the syrup thus formed is thickened by evaporation of the acid, after which it is reduced to powder.

"Wood sugar" is fed to animals and used for industrial purposes. This may be turned into "grape sugar," a fine crystalline powder suitable for making confectionery. A by-product is lignin, for fuel. Other by-products insure complete utilization of the original wood.

Had A Reason

In illustrating a point he wished to make at a political gathering in the West a noted politician told of an epitaph which an Indiana man had caused to be inscribed upon the monument of his wife who had died after a somewhat tempestuous married life. This legend read:

"Here lies a wife. Tears cannot bring her back. Therefore her husband weeps."

The piano was invented in 1711 in Italy.

Discover Sources Of New Vitamins

A table of representative foods containing the six principal vitamins, lettered A, B, C, D, E, and F has been published by the committee of foods of the American Medical Association.

For Vitamin A, believed to be important for growth and to improve resistance to germ infection, the best source mentioned is butter. Tomatoes, whole yellow corn and hens' eggs are rated as good sources of this vitamin, and green vegetables as a fair source.

For Vitamin B, believed to be important to the nervous system, excellent sources are wheat germs and asparagus. Heart, liver, kidney, eggs, milk, whole cereals and green vegetables are rated as good sources, while lean meat from muscles is called fair source.

The best sources of Vitamin C, which is the one that prevents scurvy, are set down as raw-ripe tomatoes, grapefruit, lemons and oranges. Bananas and pineapples are good sources and raw pears a fair source of this vitamin.

Vitamin D, often called the sunshine vitamin because it may be generated by ultraviolet rays and which is necessary for the growth of the bones, has for its best source, the committee continues, cod liver oil. Eggs are a good source of this vitamin and milk or butter are fair sources.

Vitamin E, believed to be necessary for reproduction, is listed as obtainable only from wheat, the wheat germ being an excellent source and whole wheat grain a good one.

IT TAKES MANAGEMENT TO MAKE PROFIT ON EGGS

CANADIAN, Tex., June 1.—Figures on four Hemphill county demonstration flocks of hens cared for under the coaching of Mrs. Gladys Weaver, home demonstration agent, show that with eggs selling at an average of 7½ cents during February these 1,387 hens made a profit of $116.48 above feed cost. In addition to that they furnished a market for 2,240 pounds of home grown grain and 637 gallons of skim milk. The profit is credited to the careful management of the demonstrators by Mrs. Weaver.

Six Club League Begins Baseball Schedule Sunday

The Cotton Belt Baseball League was organized here Wednesday afternoon, R. W. Earnshaw being elected president. The new league, playing week-end games only, is composed of Norton, Crews, Eola, Millersview, Miles and Winters. Plans call for the playing of all games on Sunday with the exception of the home games at Norton, which will be played on Saturday.

Managers representing their teams in the organization meeting were: Gordon Askley, Norton; W. T. Stewart, Millersview; J. E. Jones, Eola; Chas. Meeks, Winters; Cleburne Young, Crews; and Gordon Grant, Miles.

A twelve-week schedule will be arranged. The season will be split and a play-off series will follow the close of the schedule, the winners of the first and second halves selecting the place and time for the championship games.

A complete set of rules will be drafted and furnished each manager. Some of the points agreed upon here Wednesday included a 14-player limit for each club, no released player can participate in a game with another team for three weeks, and players taking part in the play-off must have played fifty per cent of the games with his club and have been certified to the league president five days before the play-off series commences.

Each manager will certify all players on his roster to the league this week and will play under the rules beginning this week-end. Each club will furnish an umpire and a scorer. A box score of each game will be filed with the league officials for making tabulations of fielding and hitting averages for each player.

The schedule of games for next Sunday is:

Norton at Miles
Eola at Millersview
Winters at Crews.

The complete schedule for the twelve weeks will be prepared in a day or so and given to the club managers by Sunday. Each home team will furnish balls and take all the gate receipts.

Bearcats to Play Texon Sunday; Local Club Strong

The Ballinger Bearcats will leave Sunday morning for Texon to meet the "class" of the West Texas Baseball League in a game that afternoon. A home game was sought with the Texon team but the guarantee asked was too high for the locals to put up.

The Ballinger club will send a nice array of players to Texon Sunday. After the clash here the past week with the Mose Simms Oilers of Abilene the team has shown so much strength that games are being sought by a number of the West Texas League entries. The San Angelo Sheep Herders are anxious to come here on June 18, an open date on their schedule.

"Blondy" Cross, in commenting on the game here last Sunday with the Oilers had the following to say:

"Bob Justice appears to have a pretty tough club down there at Ballinger. The Runnels aggregation carried the versatile Mose Simms Oilers 12 stanzas Sunday before dropping a 5-to-4 verdict. Slim Virden went all the way for Ballinger, allowing eight hits and striking out eight. Ballinger ought to be in the West Texas League. Ballinger used to be a fine sports city. The Herders would like to book a game at Ballinger Sunday, June 18. We tried to book one down here before, but Bob wouldn't talk to us."

TEMPESTS OF GALILEE PREVENT PLANE FLIGHTS

LONDON, June 1.—Sudden tempests on the Sea of Galilee, which are mentioned in the New Testament, have driven the big air liners of the Imperial Airways from its shores.

No more will planes on their way between London and India stop near the waters on which Jesus walked and calmed the frightened fishermen.

Galilee still has a reputation for surprise squalls during the night and early morning. Strong winds rise suddenly from one quarter and within a few minutes are blowing from the opposite direction.

Even pegging down the airships proved ineffective, so that the airport has been moved to Ramleh, in the Jerusalem-Jaffa district of Palestine.

Recreation School Trains Club Women To be Civic Leaders

Mrs. Lura Hollingsworth, county home demonstration agent, and representatives from practically every community of Runnels county attended the recreation school at Brownwood the first part of this week. Six counties were represented at the school, instruction being given by Jack Stuart Knapp, of the National Recreation Association. For several days the "pupils" stepped to tuneful music, marched in peppy drills, listened to lectures on producing plays, learned how to do character make-up, lead the singing of songs and supervise other public entertainment.

These women will return to their communities to be leaders in this kind of work and be able to take charge of programs when needed.

Schools are being held in many sections of the state by the recreation association in conjunction with the A. & M. extension service and the United States department of agriculture. There is no charge for attending the school but each person taking the course is expected to instruct citizens of her home community. The schools are held without cost to the taxpayers of the state as the national association is financed by private contributions.

Miss Sallie Hill, district home demonstration agent, was supervisor of the school in this district. She asserted that the home demonstration service had paid much attention to a live-at-home program but in some instances the social side of the work had not been stressed sufficiently.

Mrs. W. B. Wood, who had been visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. A. Bridwell, has returned to her home at Granger. Mrs. Wood formerly made Ballinger home but moved to Granger with her husband several years ago.

LOST 40 POUNDS ON DOCTOR'S ADVICE

"I'm a user of Kruschen Salts as a reducing remedy and can say they are fine. Have lost more than 40 lbs. in the past year. Am gradually reducing as my doctor advises." Miss Bertha Waldo, Haman, N. Dak. (Oct. 30, '32).

Once a day take Kruschen Salts—one half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water first thing every morning. Besides losing ugly fat SAFELY you'll gain in health and physical attractiveness—constipation, gas and acidity will cease to bother—you'll feel younger—more active—full of ambition—clear skin—sparkling eyes.

A jar that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle at Weeks Drug Store or any drugstore in the world—but demand and get Kruschen and if one bottle doesn't joyfully please you—money back.

Find New Clues To Heredity

BERLIN, June 1.—Approaching solutions of some of the most puzzling problems of heredity and the influence of environment on future generations were predicted by Prof. Hans Spemann, director of the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute for Biology, in a recent address before the annual convention of German naturalists.

The clues will come, Professor Spemann expects, from closer study of the remarkable phenomena of transplantation of one part of a growing creature to another part. Working with the tiny infant stages of amphibians such as frogs, newts and salamanders, the biologist and his associates have proved that at a sufficiently early stage all parts of such a living creature have the same potentialities.

If a bit of living tissue that ordinarily would become skin is transplanted, by a delicate surgical operation under a microscope, into the part of the same or a different creature which is destined to become brain or bone, the transplanted part also becomes brain or bone instead of skin, showing that it has been changed by its surroundings. A little later, however, such transplanted parts seem to lose this adaptability.

More mature transplants, older by a few days or hours than the still versatile ones, do not develop to suit their surroundings but follow their original bent, so that the animal into which such a transplant is made develops an area of skin in what ought to be bone or brain. All of which resembles what psychologists suspect to be the case with human children. If young enough, the child's mind and character may be molded by new surroundings. If the child is a little older this seems to be impossible.

A toll of 33,500 deaths and 1,000,000 people injured was exacted by traffic accidents in the United States in 1931.

SOCIETY.

Bridegroom-Elect Named Guest of Honor
Billy Cordill was host to a group of friends on Tuesday evening in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Asa Cordill on Ninth Street to compliment Nile Broyles, of Paint Rock. He was assisted by his mother and sisters, Mrs. Otwell Layton of Fort Worth, and Mrs. James Parrish.

A yellow and green theme introduced by the floral decoration of the rooms of nasturtiums in profusion, was carried out in all details. Tallies used for recording bridge scores were ship silhouettes. The refreshment plate consisted of pineapple sherbet and ice box cookies.

Miss Helen Brewer gave as a reading a clever burlesque on the conventional wedding write-up. This hinted at the surprise shower of gifts to the guest-of-honor presented in a suitcase by Mrs. Layton.

Guests were: Misses Evelyn Brewer, Helen Brewer, Bernyce and Hazel Simmons, Marian Jaeggli, Velma Turner, Griffie Atkins, Messrs. Broyles, Hammond O'Kelly, Paul Kirk, Chester Ueckert, Clarence Jaeggli, Grady Atkins, Herbert Sledge, Horace and Dan Woodroof, Messrs. and Mmes. Levy Lee, Parrish, J. E. Brewer, Cordill, Mmes. John H. Kipp of San Antonio, Ed O'Kelly and Layton.

Mr. and Mrs. Jennings Entertain With Picnic
Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Jennings were hosts on last Friday evening with a picnic in city park to compliment the nurses and telephone girls.

Drennan, A. A. Neeley, Misses Jimmie Jewell Taylor, Katherine Barnett, Rosa Hills, Ida Schilling, Lillie Patterson, Nettie Mae Wilson, Lila Kelly, Isabelle Richardson, Messrs. Oliver Jacobson and Harold Clark.
