

THE BALLINGER LEDGER

VOLUME 34.

BALLINGER, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JANUARY 31, 1935.

NUMBER 21

Cotton Committeemen For County are Named

The selection of county and community committeemen for the Runnels county cotton control association has been completed and the first meeting of the county committee will be held in Ballinger this (Thursday) evening. The county group is composed of: T. J. McCaughan, Norton, chairman; C. L. Cook, Winters; and C. H. Ray, Miles; and W. B. Currie, Ballinger, alternate to serve in case of a vacancy on the committee.

The naming of community committeemen to represent various divisions of the county was concluded at mass meetings last week. To arrange the districts to coincide with the number of committeemen allowed it was necessary to unite a number of voting boxes. Three men will supervise the work in each district.

Following is a list of the community committeemen and the territory of each:

North Norton, South Norton, Wilmet, Oak Creek, Marie and Wingate—J. H. Ball, chairman; J. W. Clark and G. S. Walker; Claude Rowland, alternate.

Rowena, Miles, Brookshier and Maverick—L. W. Rohmfield, chairman; Fred Salling and Bert Fletcher; C. J. Zly, alternate.

Content, Crews and Harmony—Sam Mathis, chairman; J. W. Wood and Oren Mathis; Roy Pumphrey, alternate.

Ballinger, Benoit, Bethel, Ofen, Hagan and Hatchel—W. B. Currie, chairman; N. W. McShan and Walter Lange; W. J. Halfmann, alternate.

Winters, Baldwin, Dale, Victory, Pumphrey and Cochran—John T. Curry, chairman; N. R. Hey and P. M. Davis; J. B. Pace, alternate.

The duty of the county committee will deal principally with the contracts of farmers, including the checking of signed agreements and dates.

The community committee's work will include obtaining, preparing, checking and approving contracts, offers or applications; assisting the county agent in calling special meetings; ascertaining and reporting to the county committee the total cotton production for their territory, including that of non-contract signers; and reporting to the county committee any violation of the contract.

The county agent will be the custodian of all records, which will be open to any representative of the secretary any time. He will keep a file of copies of contracts.

The work of the committeemen has not begun yet and no information on this phase of the campaign has been received here so far. Last year's contract will remain in force, but there probably will be a supplemental contract which will regulate the percentage of reduction this year. There is an option of from 25 to 35 per cent reduction this year. Farmers who did not sign a contract in 1934 will be given an opportunity to sign for 1935. One important requirement of the 1935 contract is that land owners are pledged to keep the same number of tenants in 1935 and not to change status.

'S. T. Hathaway' is Sought by Merchants Who Cashed Checks

Monday morning several Ballinger merchants were trying to locate a man who called himself "S. T. Hathaway." It seems that this stranger visited their respective stores Saturday afternoon and cashed checks of various denominations and when the checks were deposited in banks Monday morning they "bounced."

Inquiry at the court house and city hall failed to reveal anyone in the county by that name and now those who were "stung" are at a loss where to look for their visitor.

The check-passer was about 50 or 60 years of age, wore overalls, a coat, and gold-rimmed glasses. He was very short, about five feet or five feet one inch in height, and was of medium weight. His game was to buy merchandise and offer to give a check for it. In every case he made the check for more than the purchase amounted to and received change. Altogether it is estimated he made about $35 Saturday afternoon, but there may have been a few checks passed by him that have not been reported.

"Mr. Hathaway" gave his address as Ballinger route 3, and said he lived between here and Paint Rock. Evidently he was a stranger for there is no route three out of Ballinger.

Schools Will Close For Teachers' Assn. Meet at Brownwood

Most Runnels county schools will be closed Friday to permit teachers to attend the two-day convention of the Mid-Texas Teachers' Association at Brownwood. E. C. Grindstaff, county superintendent, said Monday that indications were that 60 per cent of the rural teachers in the county would attend the regional meeting.

The Ballinger schools will be dismissed Thursday afternoon for the week and Supt. H. C. Lyon stated that all local teachers are expected to attend the two-day program at Brownwood. Other independent district schools of the county will be fully represented, it is believed. More than 200 teachers in the county are members of the association.

Mrs. W. A. Bridwell, Miss Katherine Todd, Miss Genevieve Green and Miss Carmen Demmer, of the Ballinger faculty, will conduct some of the sectional sessions. Supt. Lyon, chairman of the committee on future work of the association, will preside at committee meetings, and report on this phase of the association's activities.

The Brownwood Chamber of Commerce expects approximately 1,000 teachers to attend the annual meeting. Some of the most prominent educators of the Southwest will appear on the general programs. The fine arts departments of Brownwood colleges and the high school glee club will assist in entertaining the visiting teachers.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Jacob, of Temple, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Jacob the past several days. They returned home Sunday.

Bill Bauer left Sunday to accept a position with an oil refining company at Midland.

Wardrobe Demonstrator Enumerates Benefits of Regular Inventories

"My inventory on my clothing will help me wonderfully in planning my future wardrobe," said Miss Mayme Jones, wardrobe demonstrator of the Dale home demonstration club. "By taking an inventory I know what I have on hand and its condition; therefore I know the things I should purchase next, instead of getting something that will not fit into my needs," continued Miss Jones.

"When taking inventory I also make a list of materials on hand and a list of purchases to be made during the year. In that way I know what and when to buy. In my records I enter all purchases made, the date purchased, the make or brand of garment or material and the date discarded. In this way I learn the best values for the money invested and in the future will be able to spend money more wisely."

The above statement by Miss Jones is good advice to all women and girls who are planning their wardrobe for the coming year, according to Mrs. Lura Hollingsworth, county home demonstration agent.

Concho Livestock Producers Form Protective Group

Several members of the Runnels County Livestock Association went to Paint Rock Tuesday night to assist stock raisers of Concho county in organizing a protective agency similar to the one formed in this county about two years ago.

Concho county sheep growers have been having considerable trouble with thieves recently and the stockmen believe that an association like the Runnels county organization will help to stamp out this menace.

Those from Ballinger who attended the meeting at Paint Rock and helped in the formation of the association included: Sheriff W. A. Holt, Hugh Campbell, Bill Parramore, George Holliday, J. F. McMillan, Fred Mapes, Clarence Routh, and Ben Thompson.

The Concho county group will meet again next week and elect officers for their organization and declare more fully the meaning and purposes of the association.

The newly formed group will pay $250 to anyone furnishing information leading to the arrest and conviction of any person for sheep theft in that county. The Concho county association will probably have a membership of at least 75 when thoroughly organized.

Benefit Carnival is Popular Attraction

The band boys-firemen's carnival, staged here Friday and Saturday of last week, netted the two organizations a total of $59.93. Chester Cherry, president of the band association and chief of the fire department, stated Wednesday that those in charge of the carnival were well pleased with the attendance and patronage and that he desired to thank all who assisted in conducting the carnival and the business men for contributing prizes.

A musical and athletic show was added to the list of attractions Saturday night and drew heavy patronage. The bingo board was crowded and every game sold out.

Earl McWilliams, former resident of Ballinger, visited relatives and friends here Saturday and Sunday, returning to his home at Midland Sunday evening.

Widening of Street Here to be Delayed Until Funds Arrive

A work order was received here last week to widen Seventh Street in front of the court house on highway No. 4. Work will get underway as soon as the February allotment arrives at relief headquarters.

G. M. Garrett, state resident highway engineer, stated that when labor was available at the relief office the project would be started. The street will not be torn up any longer than necessary, Mr. Garrett said.

The contract calls for removing the present sidewalks and curbs at court house park, moving them back approximately 25 feet, laying a caliche base on the new portion of the street and later covering it with asphalt topping.

Clearing and grading continued this week on highway No. 109, Ballinger-to-Bronte. A crew of about 100 men is making good progress and will soon have the clearing finished to a point just west of Valley Creek.

Workmen are putting down the second base course on highway No. 4 in Concho county south of Paint Rock. The first base received a good soaking in recent rains and is in good condition for more work.

A contract is being started on highway No. 9 from Eden to the McCulloch county line.

Three Men Injured In Auto Accident; Two in Sanitarium

Edell McBee and Earl Kennedy are in the Halley & Love Sanitarium as the result of an automobile accident Monday night. The other occupant of the car in which they were riding, Fred Winston, was not seriously injured and is able to be up.

The three young men were driving north on the Abilene highway about 3 miles north of Hatchel and ran into a bridge. The driver of the auto stated that a truck was parked on the highway and when he got close enough to see it he saw it was stalled. He circled the truck, but before he could get back onto the pavement the car collided with a bridge. The impact threw the youths clear of the automobile and broke McBee's right leg. Kennedy, driver of the car, suffered a broken collar bone, bruises and cuts about the face and head. After having a few stitches taken in his head Winston was able to go home.

The car, a '28 model Chevrolet coupe, was almost completely demolished.

Miss Mayola Jacob Elected Teacher at Eagle Branch

Miss Mayola Jacob, until recently a substitute teacher in the Ballinger schools, has been elected regular teacher in the Eagle Branch school for the spring term. Miss Jacob began her duties Monday of this week. She replaces Mrs. Buck Elkins in this position.

Curtis S. Black, of San Angelo, merchandiser for Continental Oil Company, is spending several days here this week with the local Conoco dealers.

Land Owners Request Runnels County Not be Included in Irrigation District

Banquet Tickets

There will be a limited number of tickets for the Ballinger Chamber of Commerce banquet on sale at local drug stores until the 300 are sold. A check-up by the committee this morning revealed that there were still a number of duets to be disposed of and those who desire to attend will be able to secure them at the drug stores tomorrow until the maximum number is sold.

The festivities will begin at 7:30 tomorrow (Friday) evening at the First Methodist Church.

Trinity Students Will Banquet at San Angelo

Former students of Trinity University, Waxahachie, have been invited to attend a banquet and get-together at the Cactus Hotel, San Angelo, Friday evening, February 1. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p. m. and a number of alumni of the institution will assemble to hear officials bring greetings and discuss business of the university.

Ballinger citizens who have graduated from Trinity include: Miss Ada Allen, Charles Allen, C. L. Baker, Miss Mary Fawn Coulter, Miss Eunice Lilly and Miss Margorie McAdams.

H. S. Bright, of Content, stricken with pneumonia, was taken to Shannon Hospital, San Angelo, Sunday in a King-Holt ambulance. Late reports from his bedside state that he is resting well and expected to soon be on the road to recovery.

Mrs. Drury P. Hathaway is reported to be improving rapidly at Shannon Memorial Hospital, San Angelo. It will be about a week yet before she is permitted to return home, however.

Many Tickets Sold for Annual C. of C. Banquet February 1

Tickets were about all sold the occasion. Mr. McAlpine was Wednesday night for the annual banquet of the Ballinger Chamber of Commerce to be held Friday evening in the basement of the First Methodist Church. Due to the size of the dining room only 300 tickets were placed on sale and that number of plates will be taken for the banquet, according to the most recent check of the committee in charge.

The program will feature an address by Dr. Thomas H. Taylor, president of Howard Payne College, Brownwood. Dr. Taylor is well known here, having spoken in Ballinger on numerous occasions. His humor and his ability to weave it into more serious thought, makes him one of the most entertaining speakers in the Southwest.

Relief Projects Offer Many Jobs; Another to Start

Relief laborers began work this week on the drainage line east of Eighth Street. Half the culvert underneath the pavement on this street has been finished, the paving removed Monday for the east half, and excavation started for the stone culvert. When this is finished and all the street opened work will continue on the line east to near Sanitarium Hill.

Work west of Eighth Street has been completed except for masonry inside the ditch and a culvert on Tenth Street. Masons are working on this culvert and have most of the walls built on the first unit. A passage is being maintained on the street for traffic.

Laborers have laid the first section of stone on the lower Elm Creek dam and material is on the ground to continue this work without interruption. This project is expected to require about 30 more working days.

Four relief jobs are underway in the city with a work order for the fifth to start as soon as the man power is available and appropriations are provided.

All excavation has been done for the relief administration building, an annex to the old jail building on the court house grounds. Stone walls are being erected and another month will probably see this building finished. The offices will be furnished as soon as possible and all departments of the county relief administration will be moved there.

Sam Malone, Jr., visited relatives and friends at Hillsboro last week. Horace Sessions attended to business at San Angelo Monday.

Content Citizens Oppose Erection of Joint School

The plan of officials of four school districts in Runnels county for a central high school received a set-back last Thursday night when Content citizens voted against the proposition. Before the meeting at Content citizens of Crews, Harmony and Eagle Branch had voted in favor of the plan and had gone so far as to select a number of suitable sites to recommend to the county board of trustees.

The Content meeting was attended by about 100 school patrons and after a discussion of the proposal a ballot was taken, all votes cast being against the plan. Some present did not vote. Most of the Content citizens declared they already had a good school and would not be benefitted by the central high school enough to compensate for the expense.

The Content school is an excellent one, eleven grades being taught by the eight teachers. In addition to the regular curriculum, a vocational agriculture teacher

After the purpose of the meeting was explained, John Q. McAdams, of Winters, was called upon to discuss the measure, but declined, saying he came "to listen and learn and not to attempt to talk on the project." Fred Roe, Coke county land owner, was called to the floor next but he also declined to talk on the subject, saying he came to learn more about the big issue. A suggestion from the floor that Penrose Metcalfe, of San Angelo, former representative of this district, who helped write the bill, be asked to talk on the irrigation project was heeded, and the speaker was given 15 minutes to explain provisions of the bill.

In prefacing his remarks, Mr. Metcalfe stated that he wanted it understood that his interest in the matter was that of a citizen and land owner and that he was seeking no job and it would not matter to him one bit whether the measure was favored or rejected.

He then told of how water rights had been restored to this

A letter was received here Tuesday from Representative H. O. Jones, sponsor of the upper Colorado authority bill, in which he states that after the expression of sentiment in the mass meeting here last Friday, Runnels county will be eliminated from the district. Mr. Jones will present the bill to the House at the proper time.

Concho county officials in Ballinger this week stated that they had letters from Mr. Jones stating that that county would also be left out of the district at the request of numerous land owners there.

Citizens from all sections of Runnels county and a few from Tom Green, Coke and Concho counties attended the mass meeting at the court house here Friday to discuss the upper Colorado Valley irrigation project. A bill which will soon be presented in the legislature caused a local committee to call the mass meeting at Ballinger to discuss the project and determine the wishes of the land owners in this county. The land owners of this county present voted to request that Runnels county be left out of the proposed district.

The court house was practically filled when C. R. Stephens called the house to order. He was elected permanent chairman and C. A. Doose, secretary.

McAdams, of Winters, was called upon to discuss the measure, but declined, saying he came "to listen and learn and not to attempt to talk on the project." McAdams, of Winters, was called upon to discuss the measure, but declined, saying he came "to listen and learn and not to attempt to talk on the project." Fred Roe, Coke county land owner, was called to the floor next but he also declined to talk on the subject, saying he came to learn more about the big issue. A suggestion from the floor that Penrose Metcalfe, of San Angelo, former representative of this district, who helped write the bill, be asked to talk on the irrigation project was heeded, and the speaker was given 15 minutes to explain provisions of the bill.

In prefacing his remarks, Mr. Metcalfe stated that he wanted it understood that his interest in the matter was that of a citizen and land owner and that he was seeking no job and it would not matter to him one bit whether the measure was favored or rejected.

He then told of how water rights had been restored to this

What is past peradventure, the most distinguished event in the Amusement History of the Southwest, will occur at the Texas Theatre, San Angelo, on Tuesday night, February 12 when ZIEGFELD FOLLIES with FANNIE BRICE and WILLIE & EUGENE HOWARD will be presented.

I esteem it a high honor to add my personal guarantee to this transcendent attraction.

Houston, Dallas, San Antonio, Fort Worth, El Paso, Wichita Falls and Amarillo will be the only other cities visited in Texas . . .

Rev. E. W. McLaurin gave the address in chapel Monday. He spoke of the horrors of war, and expressed a hope that the recent world events were not going in that direction.

After the chapel program, the third period was turned over to W. S. Clark, who lectured on the sources and the dangerous effects of carbon monoxide gas.

McCaughan Retained On Board of Coleman Farm Credit Bank

T. J. McCaughan, of Norton, was retained as a director of the Coleman Production Credit Association at the first annual stockholders' meeting January 18.

W. E. Melton, secretary-treasurer, made a brief talk in which he outlined the history of the association. A statement of the activities of the executive committee was also made by Mr. Melton.

After the annual reports of the secretary-treasurer the meeting was addressed by J. C. Snipes, of the Production Credit Corporation of Houston, the parent body which supplied approximately 75 per cent of the association's capital stock.

Other speakers on the program included C. W. Lehberg, farm agent of Brown county, whose subject was "The Importance of Farmers Keeping Farm Records."

Officers for the current year are Mr. Melton, secretary-treasurer; Mr. Pauley, president of the board of directors; and Mr. Fry, vice-president of the board.

The membership of the association consists of borrowers who are also the stockholders, and as stockholders are entitled to one vote each at the annual meeting.

It was reported at the conference that the association has made 98 loans for $78,861.78 to farmers of Runnels, Coleman, Brown, Callahan and Taylor counties, the territory served by the association.

The association makes short term loans from 3 to 12 months for almost any agricultural production purpose including the production of crops, livestock, and livestock products.

Applications are handled by Mr. Melton, but local correspondents have been appointed in each county to accept applications. The local correspondent for Runnels county is Malcolm McGregor, of Ballinger.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Lynn and Mrs. Carl Guin have gone to Temple to attend to business a few days.

10 Munday People Made Very Sick By Monoxide Gas

The following account in a Munday newspaper tells how ten persons were overcome by monoxide gas poisoning last week: "Ten persons were rendered unconscious or made critically ill Monday evening at the T. G. Benghe home by what is believed to have been monoxide gas. "Mrs. Benghe had spent the day in Abilene and when she returned home late in the afternoon she found Mr. Benghe sitting in a chair in an unconscious condition. Dr. Farrington was summoned by phone and she had hardly finished phoning when she fell to the floor unconscious. Upon arriving at the home Dr. Farrington summoned help from the home of W. H. Chapman where the Monday Night Club was holding a party, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Broach, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Pendleton and Mrs. Louise Ingram rushed to the Benghe home, and as they entered the home and remained for only a few minutes they were either rendered unconscious or stricken with severe headaches. Dr. Joe Davis and Dr. A. A. Smith were summoned to administer to the group, including Dr. Farrington, who had been overcome and remained quite ill throughout the night. "All of those stricken, including Mr. Benghe, have recovered or are well on the road to recovery, and what might have been a great tragedy was narrowly averted. However, the condition of Mr. Benghe was regarded as very critical until Tuesday at noon, when he began to recover from the effects of the gas. Mrs. J. D. Moyer, Mrs. Gustaf Flagler of Honey Grove, and Mike Rowan of Paris, were summoned and arrived Tuesday morning."

Corn-Hog Meeting Dates Scheduled

Six meetings will be held in Runnels county next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday for the purpose of explaining 1935 hog-corn contracts and taking applications from those interested in signing. All 1934 corn-hog contract signers and those interested in signing for 1935 who did not sign in 1934 are urged to attend one of these meetings, as follows: Tuesday, 9 a. m., Miles; 2 p. m., Norton. Wednesday, 9 a. m., Wingate; 2 p. m., Winters. Thursday, 9 a. m., Crews; 2 p. m., Ballinger. Corn-hog contract signers for 1935 will use the same base average as for 1934 contracts, the base being established by the years 1932 and 1933. The hog reduction will be 10% and benefit payments will be figured at $15 per head for the 10% not produced. The corn reduction will be 10% to 30% and the benefit payments at the rate of 35 cents a bushel on the adjusted yield of the land left out of production. Contract signers for 1934 who did not produce a reasonable amount of hogs will not be eligible for contract this year.

Cast of 'Hi Nellie' Perfecting Roles

Rehearsals for the 1935 Ballinger senior class play, "Hi Nellie!" are well underway and with two more weeks in which to perfect the production, the director, Ernest Sublett, is certain that the 1935 offering will be better than anything local seniors have presented. The play, a three-act comedy-drama, is packed with laughs. All of the parts are well cast and the actors are well up on their lines. February 15 has been set as the date for the annual play. It is being presented early in the year so that rehearsals will not interfere with the routine work and preparations for the graduation exercises.

Athletic Situation At Ballinger High School Looks Bad

According to the coaches and other officials the athletic situation in the Ballinger high school for the winter and spring months is not so rosy. In the first place the school has no gymnasium in which to practice basketball, hence there will be no cage team representing the school this year in the county tournaments. The next item for consideration is the track team for the spring season. Heretofore aspirants for track honors have had Fair Park in which to practice running, jumping and field events in, but this year the lease has expired and there is no place for them to practice. It is highly improbable that the new athletic field will be in condition for the track team to use by the time this event begins. Unless something happens to alter the situation within the next few weeks it seems that Ballinger high school will have no representatives in the interscholastic league track and field meet, to be held at Winters early in the spring. The tennis teams are practicing on the high school courts each afternoon and eliminations will be held within a short time. Both singles and doubles teams will be selected by elimination contests for the high school and that is the only athletic event the local high school is certain of being represented in at the county meet.

2 TRUCK DRIVERS ARRESTED; WILL BE TRIED HERE SOON

J. C. Bruce, of Miles, was arrested this week by Jack Jones, special inspector for the state railroad commission, on charges of operating a commercial motor vehicle without a permit. The case will come up for trial in justice court February 12. Another man arrested was the driver of a large moving van operated by the Gillintine Storage Company. He was charged with overloading. Highway Patrolman D. H. Bradford stated that the van was 1,500 pounds overloaded. This case is to be tried in justice court here next Wednesday, February 6.

Gold Star Mother Dies at Winters

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at Spill Funeral Home, Winters, for Mrs. Mary C. Blair, 66, Gold Star mother of Winters. Mrs. Blair died Tuesday night at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Lyle Deffebach, with whom she had lived for the past ten years. Decedent was active in religious, civic and club work until her health failed several years ago after a fall in which her hip was fractured. She had been slightly indisposed since the fall, but her condition was not considered serious until Saturday. Mrs. Blair had made two trips to France to visit the grave of a son, Tracy Sheldon Blair, who was killed in action November 2, 1918, in the Meuse-Argonne, after having been cited for bravery only the day before. Her first visit was with the Hughes party from Chicago in 1926 and the second, as a guest of the government, with the Gold Star mothers in 1931. Survivors, besides Mrs. Deffebach, include another daughter, Mrs. E. J. Wiss, of Troup; and a son, J. Scott Blair, of Eastland. "We have grown to be the largest and richest nation in the world—having the longest coastline to defend, and as far as I can find out nobody loves us," Mrs. Blair said on returning from her last trip to France. "It behooves us, then, to take care of ourselves and our country in times of peril," she added. It was her theory that the best assurance of peace this country could have—and she was devoted to the cause of peace—was adequate protection from invasion.

EGG BARRAGE GREETS MINISTER IN SCOTLAND

GLASGOW, Scotland, Jan. 30.—When Walter Elliot, minister of agriculture, appeared recently at a student meeting at Glasgow University, he was greeted with a barrage of eggs and tomatoes. The minister was struck on the head with a tomato which burst, while he received on his jacket part of an egg which dropped after hitting a screen. Mrs. Elliot was also in the fray, being struck by a tomato. When Mr. and Mrs. Elliot and several student leaders walked onto the platform there was a fusillade of eggs and tomatoes from all parts of the hall. A student in the gallery emptied the contents of a water pistol over the minister's clothing. When the curtain was let down, eggs and tomatoes smashed all over it. Mr. Elliot appeared in front of the curtain and faced the audience amid considerable uproar.

Winters F. F. A. Holds Banquet At High School

Tuesday night the Winters Future Farmers of America, organization of students studying vocational agriculture, held a "father-and-son" banquet at the Winters high school building. The banquet was served by the home economics department of the school to 58 men and boys. George Hill delivered the principal address. Other talks were made by Morris Cooke, Afton Hudson, Horace Cooke, Homer Hodge, Supt. E. D. Stringer, H. O. Harris, and County Superintendent E. C. Grindstaff. Lee Colburn was toastmaster. This affair is the first annual banquet planned by the Winters F. F. A. and those who attended stated that it was by far one of the most enjoyable events witnessed this year. The vocational agriculture class presented most of the program, with a burlesque "hog judging contest" getting copious laughter. The Winters and Content groups are the only Future Farmers organizations in the county and the sponsors are very proud of the work the organizations are doing to improve the efficiency of the boys in farming methods.

Miles Man is Fined; 3 Youths Arrested

Everything was rather quiet in justice court during the past week-end, only one case coming up for trial. Justice of the Peace B. W. Pileher fined W. E. McNutt, of Miles, $5 and costs, a total of $18.50, on a charge of disturbing the peace. The arrest was made by Constable Loyd Barker. Constable Barker is evidently bearing down on lawbreakers in Miles. He arrested two Miles high school boys Monday on charges of burglary. The charges resulted from the theft of gasoline from the Santa Fe oil station at Miles some time ago. This is the third time this has occurred, but the first time anyone has been arrested for the theft. The youths were bound over for investigation by the grand jury in the April term of district court here. Bonds of $500 each were made.

Safeway Store Here Remodeled, Painted

O. C. Harber, manager of the local Safeway Store, announces that improvements which were started on the Ballinger store last week are now completely finished and all painting and repair work practically finished. The walls and ceiling of the store were painted several weeks ago and last week painters began work on the shelving and other fixtures. The walls and ceilings were painted cream, the fixtures green and black, and the outside of the building was trimmed in black. The entire meat market was repainted and remodeled and made into one of the most modern markets in the city. Among the newest features of the store are the improved display racks in the windows. The racks are air cooled from the bottom thus keeping vegetables and fruit displayed fresh much longer. With this arrangement fresh air circulates about the merchandise continuously. Display tables and shelves have been rearranged to make more room for shoppers and at the same time make it more convenient for both shoppers and clerks. Mr. Harber invites all his old customers and those who have never been in the store to inspect the improved ultra-modern store. As a special feature this week Safeway is offering many more bargains in foods. A partial list of the specials will be found listed in a page ad in this issue of The Ledger.

Ballinger People Guests at Annual Boy Scout Banquet

The Ballinger Boy Scout council was well represented at the annual meeting of the Concho Valley council in San Angelo last Thursday evening. Several leaders from here attended the business session in the afternoon and a large number were present in the evening. Approximately 350 representatives from West Texas counties included in the area. The excellent program presented included an address by Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological College, Lubbock. He spoke on the changing time and conditions, showing how essential Scout training is for the boy. Dr. Knapp has been a Boy Scout official for many years and besides this work his college duties have put him in contact with boys practically all his life. He praised the influence of the organization highly and said more trained leaders should be developed to lead youth in the right direction. A pageant pictured the accomplishments of the past year and the proposed program for 1935. San Angelo Scouts, assisted by Dr. B. O. Wood and Houston Harte, were in the principal roles. Mr. Harte was reelected president of the council for another term. An entertainment program was presented by the Lions Club Cowboys, international musical organization. Ballingerites who attended the banquet were: Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Sykes and son, Mrs. and Mrs. C. C. Sessions, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Schnab, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Lynn, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Simpson, Dr. and Mrs. E. W. Stasney, Mr.

Local Delegation to Present School Project to State Board

Members of the Ballinger school board; H. C. Lyon, superintendent of the city schools; Townner Dickinson, project engineer; Albert Fryar, trustee; and the architect who drew the plans for the junior high school building, will go to Austin Monday to present the project to the state relief commission Tuesday. Plans have been finished and the papers are being prepared this week so that everything will be in readiness to present to the commission and if possible get authorization and an order to wreck the old building in South Ballinger at once. The board of trustees is in position to take care of its part of the cost in the construction of the new structure at west ward. The only item that could prevent immediate work is the limited man power in the county. Razing of the building in South Ballinger will require only a small crew and might be started at once so material could be moved and made ready for construction of the new building by the middle of May when the present term ends. The board in special meeting this (Thursday) morning accepted the plans for the new building and discussed a number of other improvements to be made provided the public works administration launches its proposed campaign of building and will aid the local projects. Who Butters Your Bread? How would you like to go without butter and eggs just for your breakfasts next week? No butter for your pancakes—and no eggs with your bacon! It wouldn't be any fun at all, would it? In the old days, everybody in Ballinger kept his own cow and his own small flock of hens. And in those days the farmer found very little market for his eggs and butter. Times have changed, and our farmers must keep the growing population of the cities supplied with fresh eggs and produce. But he can't market them himself. He has to depend upon our cream and produce houses. They not only furnish a market for the farmers' surplus, but they keep the cities supplied with the fresh eggs and the produce which they could have in no other way. Ballinger is a good market for cream and produce. Runnels county people have learned to depend upon our produce houses as a market and as a source of obtaining farm products. We need them in this community. THE BALLINGER LEDGER

Pilm Presents New Starring Team, Lombard and Cooper, with Little Shirley Temple

A new starring romantic team is presented to film audiences in Paramount's "Now and Forever," coming to the Palace Theatre next Sunday and Monday. It is Gary Cooper and Carole Lombard, and the picture marks the first time that these two popular players have appeared together as leads. In addition, five-year-old Shirley Temple, who was seen in "Little Miss Marker," plays a starring role.

Together these three compose one of the most perfect combinations seen in films. The characters they play are sympathetic, human and entirely believable, and they enact a story that is sincere, with loads of heart-tugs and tears along with the smiles and laughs.

Plainly a born adventurer, Gary Cooper is seen as a carefree chap, who lives by his wits, and hoodwinks every man he meets. Madly in love with Carole Lombard he even permits his cheating methods to cheat her away from him.

His little daughter, Pennie, played by Shirley Temple, has been brought up by a guardian. Desperate for money, he even consents to accept cash for his right to his own daughter. That is, until he sees her.

Then he carries her away. Together with Carole Lombard they lead a happy, carefree life, until Cooper is again tempted to stray from the straight and narrow. At this point the child's love and faith in him is vindicated, when, by a noble deed of self-sacrifice, he removes himself from her life and makes happiness possible for her.

Sir Guy Standing, Charlotte Granville, Gilbert Emery and Henry Kolker are also in the cast.

Because of the large number who will want to see this picture special matinees will be held both days at 2 p. m.

Stirring Courtroom Drama to be Shown at the Palace Theatre

Out of the tense drama of the courtroom, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios have brought the powerful story of "Evelyn Prentice," co-starring William Powell and Myrna Loy, which opens a two-day run at the Palace Theatre next Tuesday, February 5.

The picture marks the third appearance of Powell and Miss Loy as a co-starring team and is the industry's response to the public's demand for a reappearance of the popular pair who made screen history in "Manhattan Melodrama" and "The Thin Man."

"Evelyn Prentice" presents Bill Powell as a noted criminal attorney with a lovely and dutiful wife who, through a momentary indiscretion, becomes involved in a scandalous murder case.

The wife, portrayed by Miss Loy, sees another woman brought to trial for a crime that she, herself, believes she has committed. She and the "other woman" both win vindication, through the legal genius of the great criminal lawyer, in one of the most spectacular courtroom climaxes to reach the screen.

Una Merkel appears as Miss Loy's wise-cracking and faithful friend, Amy Drexel, and others in the support are: Henry Wadsworth, Isabel Jewell, Harvey Stephens, Rosalind Russell, Edward Brophy, Cora Sue Collins and Jessie Ralph.

Lee Tracy Enacts a Glib Comedian in Forthcoming Picture

Lee Tracy, the fast-talking, hand-waving screen actor, returns to the films after an absence of several months, in Paramount's "You Belong to Me," to be shown at the Palace Theatre Friday and Saturday of next week, February 8-9.

In addition to Tracy, the picture features Helen Mack, Helen Morgan, David Jack Holt, a young five-year-old actor, Arthur Pierson and Lynne Overman.

"You Belong to Me" tells a touching, dramatic story of three of life's "second-raters." First there's the shiftless, carefree comic who lives for a laugh—a girl who is an incompetent, helpless vaudeville performer, unable to guide her own life, but who struggles desperately to guide that of her young son; and the boy himself, a five-year-old man, the only real thing in his mother's make-believe life.

Fate tangles the threads of their lives, throwing them together in a dramatic situation. How they fight and eventually win brings the film to a happy climax.

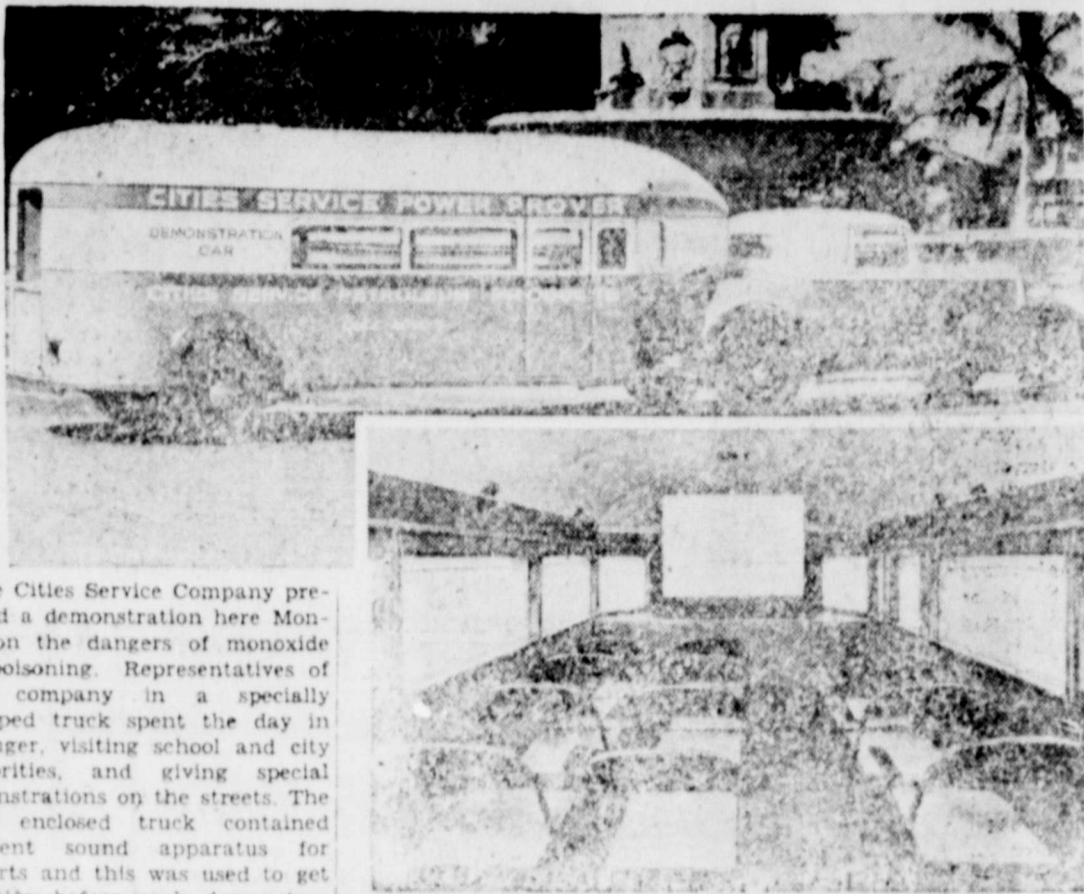

William Slavens McNutt adapted the story to the screen.

Cities Service Oil Company Shows Danger of Monoxide Poisoning

The Cities Service Company presented a demonstration here Monday on the dangers of monoxide gas poisoning. Representatives of the company in a specially equipped truck spent the day in Ballinger, visiting school and city authorities, and giving special demonstrations on the streets. The large enclosed truck contained excellent sound apparatus for concerts and this was used to get attention before each demonstration.

W. S. Clark, graduate of New York University, addressed the high school pupils Monday morning. His talk traced the oldest known poison, carbon monoxide, back to the early centuries. Mr. Clark declared this gas had been used on down through the ages, and said a large amount was thrown off by every motor car that made its own power with the explosion of gasoline and a certain air mixture.

The speaker asserted that in all cars examined in recent years there was found a general average of 8 per cent in the exhaust fumes. One-half of one per cent is enough to cause death under certain conditions, he pointed out. The gas is odorless and tasteless. The symptoms are headache, upset stomach, and dullness of the brain which prevents the proper coordination of the mind and other parts of the body. Many otherwise unexplained traffic accidents are assumed to have been caused by motorists being partially overcome by this poison, their hands and feet not working fast enough in emergencies.

All cars, in which testing instruments—capable of detecting one ten thousandth part of gas in the air—were placed in them Monday, were found to contain some carbon monoxide when closed tightly. A nation-wide campaign is being conducted by the Cities Service Company to impress citizens with the dangers of operating an automobile or using a room in which there is a fire burning, that have not correct methods of air mixture. A. O. Bartlett, manager of the Cities Service Company agency in Ballinger, accompanied the officials on their visits here Monday. Others in the party were W. S. Fortney, Port Worth, who operated the power prover; and W. C. Dozier, of Brownwood, district superintendent.

Many Schools Plan To Enter One-Act Play Contest in '35

AUSTIN, Jan. 30.—More than three hundred Texas high schools have enrolled for participation in the one-act play contest of the Texas Interscholastic League, according to Morton Brown, director of dramatics for the University of Texas bureau of public school interests, which functions as the state executive office for the league. The deadline for registration in the one-act play tournament is February 1, Mr. Brown pointed out.

The university package loan library performs the service for the league one-act play tournament of furnishing reading copies of plays for the purpose of assisting local directors to select plays for the contest. These copies are not to be used for rehearsal purposes, but for the purpose of comparing plays and making a proper selection. The play service of the library now affords approximately 2,500 titles, Mr. Brown pointed out. These include both one-act and full-length plays, though only the former are permissible in the league contest. This play service is available not only to schools but to other organizations and to individuals throughout the state, he added. Last year 2,390 packages including approximately 15,000 plays were distributed through this service.

This year marks the ninth season of the one-act play tournament as a part of the league's activities. Mr. Brown has directed the final state tournament each year except the first season. At first he served voluntarily, along with hundreds of other Austin citizens and university students and faculty members who contribute their services to make the state meet of the league a success. Five years ago, however, he was employed on the regular staff of the university league bureau, and has had complete charge of all one-act play activities since that time.

Last year there were 346 schools in the state which participated in the one-act play tournament. These schools were located in all sections of the state. The casts

Kept Taking Cardui Until She Got Rid of the Severe Pains

When Mrs. Ida Hege, of Edinburg, Ind., was in a painful, run-down condition, she took Cardui, with the results she describes below: "I had just been what one might say dragging around, feeling miserable and all out of sorts. I remembered how Cardui helped my aunt. I sent for six bottles of Cardui and when I had taken them, I was much better and stronger. I did not suffer so much pain. I continued taking Cardui until I had taken nine bottles. I do not have the severe pains." . . . Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

Holiday Appointed Boy Scout Official in East Texas Area

Frank Holiday has accepted an appointment as a Boy Scout executive for an East Texas area and will be stationed at Longview. He has been there for more than two weeks looking over the field. A returned here the past week-end to accompany his wife to their new home.

Mr. Holiday returned from a Scout school in New Jersey just after Christmas, where he went to complete his training. Prior to this he served as scoutmaster and in other positions on the council.

The counties assigned to him are Gregg, Harrison and Rusk with a probability that later two others, or parts of two, may be added to the council. At present there are 21 active troops in the district and Mr. Holiday intends to organize 15 more troops as the first work.

The council for which Mr. Holiday is supervising is known as the East Texas area, with headquarters at Tyler. Two executives have been appointed in order to look after the fast developing territory.

Mr. Holiday stated that it was hard to find a place to live in Longview, that conditions were good, and the business district overcrowded, due to the oil production in that part of the state.

IN SOCIETY

Engagement is Announced
Mrs. J. G. Douglass and Miss Offie Adams were joint hostesses on Wednesday with a beautifully appointed afternoon tea to announce the engagement, and marriage on February 22, of Miss Ruth Forgy and Jack Nixon, Jr.

A pink and white color combination was used effectively in all party details. Varied pink blooming plants and cut flowers gave the receiving rooms of the Douglass home on Broadway a lovely floral adornment.

Mrs. John Hollingsworth welcomed guests and presented Mrs. Douglass and Miss Atkins, who in turn presented Miss Forgy and others in the formal line, who were: Mrs. T. J. Forgy, Mrs. Jack Nixon, Mrs. Jack Jobe, Miss Virginia Holman, Mrs. Troy Simpson, Mrs. Ernest Nance, Mrs. W. A. Forgy, Mrs. M. L. Forgy, Mrs. W. H. Vanderpool, Mrs. Leonard Stallings, Mrs. W. B. Woody, Mrs. Loyd Hoving, and Mrs. R. W. Earnshaw.

Mrs. John Currie invited guests to the pretty bride's book over which Mrs. John Weeks presided.

Mrs. K. V. Northington and Mrs. R. W. Bruce invited guests into the dining room where Mrs. A. E. Sommer and Miss Fay Clark souped tea from the table laid in blue over pink. Crystal candelabra holding pink tapers tied with pink machine fluffs flanked a sparkling glass bowl filled with sweet peas and lace fern. Pink and white mists at the four corners of the rectangular reflector finished the appointments. The plate containing sandwiches and tiny cakes led by pink was passed by Mrs. M. B. Webb, Mrs. Davis Sims, Mrs. H. B. Seif, Mrs. Towner Dickinson, Mrs. Herbert Peoples, Mrs. Green Adams, Mrs. H. G. Agnew, Miss Bernice Simmons, Miss Nadye Sonriker and Miss Eugenia Baskin. Mrs. C. E. Stephens and Mrs. A. W. Sledge also assisted in the dining room.

During the calling hours a program of social music, readings and piano numbers was given by Mrs. Alex McGregor, Mrs. Arthur Giescke, Miss Adda Ward, Mrs. Simpson, Mrs. J. A. Schnable, Mrs. Bob Carsey and Miss Hattie Mae Dunlap.

After all guests had arrived at each of the hours, Master K. V. Northington, Jr., entered as a newsboy, calling "Extra-Extra!" He distributed a miniature edition of The Ballinger Ledger which bore the announcement and the wedding date.

Two hundred friends of the hostesses and honor guest received invitations to this outstanding social event.

Three Are Hostesses to Missionary Circle

Mrs. W. F. Mason, Mrs. Viola Allison and Mrs. E. S. Cox were hostesses to twenty-five members of circle two of the Methodist Woman's Missionary Society in the Eighth Street home of Mrs. Cox last Monday.

Mrs. Troy Simpson gave a resume of the first half of the book, "Jesus Among Men," and Mrs. W. H. Vanderpool presided over the business session.

The hostesses served a delicious plate of sandwiches, cookies, potato chips and coffee during the social hour.

Former Ballinger Citizen is Wed

The following item, taken from the Ventura (Calif.) Free Press, will be of interest to many people here as the groom, Marion Holman, is a former citizen of Ballinger. Mr. Holman was here a short time ago for the funeral of his mother, Mrs. Minnie Holman.

"Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Alfreda Holts, daughter of Mrs. H. B. McDonald, of Santa Paula, and Marion Holman, young Ventura business man, at Yuma, Arizona, January 17. Mrs. Holman is a sister of Mrs. Stewart Barr, of Ventura.

"The newly weds are honeymooning in Texas and will make their home here. Mr. Holman is connected with the Barr Bakery."

RETAIL SALES IN TEXAS DURING DECEMBER CLIMB

AUSTIN, Jan. 30.—Retail sales in Texas during December maintained the favorable month-to-month comparison which was noted in practically every month throughout 1934, according to the University of Texas bureau of business research.

Reports from 87 representative Texas stores show that dollar sales during December increased more than the usual seasonal amount over November and were 14.8 per cent above those of December, 1933, the bureau's report said. For the full twelve months of 1934 sales exceeded those of 1933 by 20 per cent.

In the following cities the increase in sales for December and for the entire year 1934 exceeded the average increase for the state as a whole: Beaumont, Port Arthur, San Antonio, Tyler and Waco. In El Paso and Houston the increase in sales for 1934 over 1933 was greater than the average increase for the entire state, but the increase over December, 1933, was slightly less than the average increase for the state.

The different classes of stores showed considerable variation in the amount of increase both during December, 1934, over November, 1934, and during 1934 over the preceding year, the report said.

Based on the percentage of increase in sales over the two periods mentioned, they ranked as follows: men's clothing stores, women's specialty shops, large department stores, dry goods and apparel stores, and small department stores.

Scout Anniversary To be Celebrated; Parents Are Guests

The Ballinger troops will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of Scouting Friday, February 3, when Boy Scouts, parents and friends of Scouting will assemble at the city hall for a program. Rev. E. W. McLaurin, court of honor district chairman, said Wednesday.

A court of honor for the Rotary and Lions clubs-sponsored Scout troops 29 and 30, and talks by President Roosevelt over a nationwide hook-up and Judge O. L. Parish, district chairman, will feature the program, according to Rev. McLaurin.

The program will start at 7:15 p. m. in city hall auditorium. Scouts will open the gathering with a flag ceremony, bugle to assembly, and pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Awards to second class, first class and merit badge Scouts will be made, to be followed by President Roosevelt's address from Washington, via NBC and Columbia radio chains, especially prepared on his twenty-fifth birthday, the Boy Scouts of America being incorporated February 8, 1910, by congress. Several Ballinger men will also participate in the court of honor.

Sunday, February 10, will be Scout Sunday. Programs are being planned in local churches with Scouts participating and special sermons are to be delivered.

At the gathering Friday in city hall, the two Ballinger troops will compete for the number of guests at the meeting. The winner will be announced, according to Rev. McLaurin, and telephoned to San Angelo, headquarters for the Concho valley council. The winning troop in the council will receive a banner. Jack O. Stone, assistant executive, here this week, stated.

P-T. A.'S NOT TO MEET NEXT WEDNESDAY

There will be no meeting of the Ballinger High School Parent-Teacher Association the first Wednesday in February. All the P-T-A groups will hold a joint meeting later in the month to celebrate Founder's Day. The exact date and the program will be announced next week and all citizens of Ballinger invited to attend this gathering.

The local P-T. A.s observe Founder's Day annually with an appropriate public celebration.

Be wise and advertise.

Few Changes Made In Income Tax Form

Income tax blanks for the year 1934 have been mailed from the internal revenue bureau and are now in the hands of individuals. W. A. Thomas, internal revenue collector for this district, calls attention to a number of changes in the form which are very important and which must be executed. One of the alterations calls for the collection of a $5 fine in case the separate blank is not filled out.

The following statement was issued by Mr. Thomas with the hope that all who file returns will take notice and be saved the fines and other inconveniences:

"The revenue act of 1934 requires that all joint returns must be signed by both husband and wife. Either may prepare and acknowledge the return, but the signature of each must be affixed. Those persons desiring to make out their returns in the collector's office or at designated places in the various portions of the district should be accompanied by their respective husbands and wives. If this be impracticable, either may render the return under oath, and take to the other for his or her signature. The return, however, must be prepared and mailed in time to reach the collector's office on or before midnight of March 15, 1935.

"Special emphasis is given to the fact that the new form 1094 (the pink slip) must be executed and submitted together with the income tax return. Failure to do this, in each case, will result in an arbitrary charge of $5, which amount will be added to the amount due and will be collected in the same manner as the tax. It is highly important that this new requirement be not overlooked, since the collector will be powerless to waive payment of this charge in case of failure to file said form 1094.

"Taxpayers should file their returns at the earliest moment possible so as to obtain better service and avoid the rush conditions usually prevailing during the last few days of the filing period."

Rev. and Mrs. E. W. McLaurin and son will leave tomorrow (Friday) for Marshall for a two weeks' visit with Rev. McLaurin's father, who has been in ill health recently. Rev. McLaurin stated that there would be no preaching services at the First Presbyterian Church while he was away.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Dooze attended a conference at the Coleman Presbyterian church Tuesday evening.

William Dixon and Levis Green spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Drew Dixon while en route to Los Angeles, California, where they have accepted positions.

Harold Jackson, of Temple, is the guest of his sister, Mrs. J. A. Killough.

Although based on observations and calculations of astronomers, our calendar of today was devised before invention of the telescope.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Keaton, of Abilene, visited relatives here Sunday.

Influenza Epidemic Puts Many in Bed

An epidemic of influenza, mostly light cases, hit Ballinger last week and many victims have been forced to give up and go to bed. In some families practically every member has been affected and a few have been reported rather seriously ill. Practically every business in Ballinger has one or more employees out this week and attendance at school and other public gatherings has been reduced.

The illness reported here comes on without preliminary symptoms of cold and fever and develops quickly along with the customary aches. Doctors advise patients to go to bed at the first signs and remain in bed for some time after the fever has subsided. The use of nose sprays and gargles as well as a laxative are recommended.

The epidemic started several weeks ago in the North and East and has been slowly coming this way. Health authorities speaking over the radio recently declared that in many sections there were as many cases as in 1918 but none were as severe.

A local epidemic of chicken pox has abated and few new cases are being reported.

Rev. E. W. McLaurin, H. W. Lynn and Mrs. C. R. Stephens attended a stewardship conference at the Coleman Presbyterian church Tuesday night.

Orchard Campaign To Close Saturday; Many Will Plant

The Runnels county orchard committee will close the lists for trees Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock and the orders will be sent to nurseries immediately. The campaign for fruit trees for every rural home in the county has met with fair response and as a result many trees will be planted within the next 30 days.

It was stated that many orders have already been turned in to the committee. That many farmers have made arrangements for trees themselves, and others are expected to report before the closing hour Saturday.

The only difficulty in the way of a successful campaign has been the dry weather. Many people not in position to water the new trees think it would be useless to plant them in dry holes at this time without sufficient irrigation.

Farmers in every section of the county have attended the meetings in which the benefits of more fruit trees have been expounded. The number already assured is a fine beginning for the plan to make Runnels county a recognized fruit area, however. During the next few years the campaign will be continued, lending incentive to farmers to obtain and set out fruit trees of suitable varieties for this section.

Official Tells Hotel Men U. S. Will See Revival of Travel

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—Stating that "America is again on the move" and that we are about to enter an era of unprecedented business and pleasure travel in the United States, Ralph Hitz, president of the National Hotel Management Company, told a group of hotel managers, lingering here after the National Hotel Exposition recently, that millions of people are getting the urge to travel and will turn it into action within the next two years.

"This is the dawn of a new day in our country, America is again on the move," said Mr. Hitz. "In spite of the pessimists, business throughout the country is improving. People have more money to spend than they have had at any time throughout the years of the depression and one of the first major activities of the public is to spend some of this money in a resumption of travel, both for pleasure and for business.

"Americans are great travelers. During the depression this tendency was necessarily curtailed. Now that business is improving, millions of people are again seeking distant horizons.

"I predict that the next two or three years will witness the greatest moving about of the American public that we have ever seen. The high rate of foreign exchange will tend to keep Americans in America and, further, will encourage large numbers of European visitors to our shores.

"The repeal of prohibition has made it unnecessary for Americans to flock to Canada or Mexico to enjoy legalized beverages. These things, coupled with the fact that Americans have not been financially able to travel for several years will, in my opinion, bring the greatest migration of individuals, families and organizations to various cities, resorts and spots of scenic or historic interest the country has ever known.

"In all our hotels we note particularly an apparent increase in the number of women travelers. Countless women, who, on account of the reduced earning power of the men of the family during the past four years, have had to go without vacations in order to nurse the family budget and keep the home fires burning, are now taking the pleasure trips they have long dreamed of. More and more men are now being accompanied by their women folk on their business and pleasure trips. We notice another large group of women travelers in ever increasing numbers. These are the buyers from department stores and other mercantile organizations who are resuming their frequent commercial journeys with the betterment of business in their lines.

"The rapidly increasing movement among Americans of all degrees to get out and go some place was given a great forward push by the World's Fair during the past two years. Figures show 22,000,000 people visited the Century of Progress during the first season and 16,000,000 during the season just closed. These people enjoyed their trip to Chicago. Now they and countless others are enjoying other trips elsewhere throughout the country. The transportation companies, with the revival of business, are making travel popular by making it interesting. This is proved by new types of trains, air-conditioned airplanes and, particularly, low rates.

"The average person is tired of the restricted routine to which he has been confined during the past four depressing years—the same faces, the same household decorations, the same food, clothing and other factors of modern life. He wants to get out into new scenes, hear new viewpoints, see what the rest of the country is doing now that prosperity has begun to show a little sign of returning life."

BIRMINGHAM STUDENTS PULL HOAX ON CITY

BIRMINGHAM, England, Jan. 30.—For three days students at Birmingham University hoaxed the million citizens, with a fictitious personage said to be "Prince Dbingo." When he first appeared 1,200 students fought for the honor of entertaining him and members of the faculty tried to kidnap him.

At a college review the lord mayor and other city officials attended in state, but their reception was completely overshadowed by that accorded to "Prince Dbingo" and his retinue. The lord mayor, councillors and the entire audience rose as the French national anthem was played and amid a burst of cheering the "royal" party walked up on to the platform. Even policemen, detailed to protect the "prince," were deceived. Actually, the "prince" is a Sudanese medical student at the university.

Texas Lady Tells How Black-Draught Laxative Helps All Her Family
Here's how Black-Draught fills the needs of a family laxative in the home of Mrs. J. S. Stoker, Port Worth, Texas: "The grown-up in my family," she writes, "have always taken powdered Theodor's Black-Draught for biliousness, headaches and other ailments (due to constipation) and found it a reliable remedy. I was very pleased when I saw Syrup of Black-Draught advertised. I bought it and gave it to my little daughters, ages 6 and 4. They needed something to cleanse their systems and Syrup of Black-Draught acted well. Your druggist sells the reliable laxative in both forms. Children like the Syrup."

LARGE AUDIENCE ATTENDS PRIMARY P. T. A. COMEDY

A large audience witnessed the presentation of "Widows and What-Nots" at the high school auditorium Tuesday night. The three-act comedy, produced by the Metro Production Company, was sponsored by the Ballinger Primary Parent-Teacher Association.
The high school orchestra furnished music before the first curtain and during intermissions.
The cast which had been rehearsing for the past week presented the story and musical numbers in an entertaining way. The locale was centered in a boarding house where a widow sought her millionaire and caught him. Complications leading to the final climax were amusing in the extreme.
The local organization received half of the proceeds.

Lyon Discourses On New Deal And Trends in Nation

The Ballinger Rotary Club observed the birthday of President Franklin D. Roosevelt Tuesday and H. C. Lyon was the principal speaker. Mr. Lyon talked on Roosevelt and the "New Deal" which has been on trial in this country for more than a year. Mr. Lyon declared that he believed the nation was ready and due changes in religion, education, ethics, morals and business, and that our chief executive had the foresight and courage to put the nation to thinking and acting in this regard. He referred incidentally to the fact that the state department of education is now making an effort to revise the curriculum in the schools.

The speaker said the president was merely working in the laboratory of human affairs and that certain experiments would have to be made.
The speaker pointed out that government by the people had failed, quoted district judges as to the failure of the jury system, showed that voters are not always informed on how to cast their ballots in important elections where legislative affairs are left to their final decision. He urged competent people at the head of the government, with the power to appoint assistants and suggest legislation, and to hold them responsible for their failure or success. He pointed to many advantages in centralized power, rather than power coming from the voice of all.
The speaker said he hoped parts of the national recovery act would never be lost, that he believed business had nothing to fear from the president, that the underprivileged would be aided and the over-privileged curbed.

section and stated that unless they were used, they might be lost again. He enumerated the counties affected and why, the approximate cost of the project which is estimated at $6,000,000, that it would be financed and built by a bond issue, the interest and principal to be paid by the remission of the state ad valorem tax over a period of 40 years and revenue derived from the sale of water. Mr. Metcalfe said a board would be designated to look after the affairs of the district, but the board's power would be limited, and assured his hearers that no new taxes could be levied against land in the district to pay off the bonds.

He remained on the floor to answer questions and many took the opportunity to ask some that were evidently difficult to answer. R. W. Earnshaw brought out a good point when he asked about the expected revenue from the sale of water, saying that a six million dollar project should have the approximate revenue figured out. White Turner, of Norton, brought laughter from the audience when he asked "why try to increase production by irrigation when a large amount of the land is already leased to the government to cut production?" Frank C. Dickey said the project should stand or fall on its own merits and power delegated to any group would be almost impossible to rescind. He pointed out that the nine directors would have the right to condemn land and could put the water to the property line and compel payment. In answering the water rights appeal of the bill he pointed out that Runnels county already has surveys underway for some 20 low water dams on the main streams and their tributaries.
C. A. Dooze stated that he was for irrigation on "a sane basis," but did not want Uncle Sam to give it to him. He questioned whether the remission of taxes would take care of the interest alone on the bonds.
Petitions were presented pro and con, and the approximately 125 who have land which would be affected by the project began signing the list requesting that this county be left out of the district.
Indications are that a number of other mass meetings will be held at various points in the county until the proposition is presented to all the land owners affected.
