CHRISTMA EDITION OF LEDGER TO BE ISSUED DECEMBER 22

Subscribers of The Ledger will receive it one day early next week, the city carrier routes in Ballinger to be delivered late Wednesday afternoon and the remainder of the edition to be placed in the postoffice that night. This change is made so that merchants and professional men can get their Christmas greetings to all the readers before Christmas and also to offer an opportunity to merchants to get last minute suggestions before the public in time for the final rush of shopping. Solicitors will begin tomorrow (Friday) collecting copy for Christmas greetings in this edition. A large and well arranged selection of prepared greetings has been purchased by The Ledger and this service will be offered free to the advertisers for use in the Christmas paper.

Dangers of Fires At Christmastime Stressed by Chief

Although ill and confined to his home, Fire Chief Chester Cherry is thinking of fire losses that usually happen during the holiday season and sent word to The today. Ledger today to warn citizens of Ballinger against these hazards.

Mr. Cherry believes that a large percentage of fires can be avoided if people will use precaution and observe fire prevention every day of the year.

Such practices as putting pennies behind burned-out electric fuses. decorating Christmas trees with lighted candles and shooting of fireworks, Mr. Cherry pointed out, are common causes for fires which annually take a large toll of life and property.
