

Livestock Show Best Held in Recent Years

The annual livestock show held at Bruce Field Saturday for FFA and 4-H boys of the Miles, Norton, Rowena and Ballinger school districts, was one of the best ever held here. More than 300 animals were entered in the show and judges were pushed for time to look over the various divisions in which the competition was close all the way.

The show is sponsored by the Ballinger Chamber of Commerce and officials of that organization were loud in their praise of all the superintendents and their helpers who were on the job several days before the opening of the show and until the last animals were checked out of the building Saturday. They were also delighted with the work of the judges. Owen Bragg of Novice judged the big sheep division and everyone was well pleased with his work. M. B. Templeton of Nolan County judged the cattle. T. W. Colby of Abilene Christian College at Abilene judged the swine division. Marvin Weber the poultry and Bryon Wilson of Abilene the rabbits.

Hugh Campbell III again showed the grand champion fat calf. Hugh is a member of the Ballinger FFA and his Hereford calf won the Hereford division and went on to become grand champion. This was the 13th year that a Campbell calf has been champion of the local show. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Campbell.

Paul Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Price showed a black Angus to the championship in that division and went on to win the reserve champion of the show.

Robert Harsch showed the grand champion in the dairy division and Kenneth Wright the reserve champion. Both boys are from Miles.

James Eggemeyer, Miles FFA, had the grand champion fat hog and Johnny Kotlik of Ballinger the reserve.

The Ballinger FFA chapter won the neatness award and Jerome Smithwick of Miles received the award for showmanship.

The Home Demonstration Council was in charge of the concession stand at the show and provided eats and drinks all during the day for workers and visitors.

Gulf Oil Corp. provided a sound truck which was a big convenience for workers and the crowd awaiting announcements.

Herb Tepliczek of Rowena, gave a boost to the winners in the calf, sheep and swine divisions when he offered $25 to each top winner. Those receiving grand champions of the divisions are instructed to go by the Highway Garage in Rowena and pick up $25 each from Mr. Tepliczek. These special gifts were won by Hugh Campbell for his fat calf, Donald Dusek for his champion fat sheep and James Eggemeyer for his fat hog.

Waco Conference For Farm Bureau Held Jan. 20-21

Marion Hays of Ballinger, president of the Runnels County Farm Bureau, attended an important conference of county Farm Bureau presidents Monday and Tuesday, January 20 and 21, in Waco.

The county leaders from all over Texas analyzed the role of the county unit and made suggestions as to how local organizations may be strengthened to make the entire Farm Bureau movement a more effective instrument for representing agriculture.

Largest of all general farm organizations in the state, the Texas Farm Bureau is composed of 191 organized county units. Membership in the state organization has increased by 44,860 in the past ten years, from 27,820 in 1947 to 72,680 in 1957. The Runnels County Farm Bureau has a membership of 575.

In commenting on the conference, TFB President, J. H. West of Bishop, said it was the most important meeting of the year for Farm Bureau in Texas. "The entire structure of Farm Bureau is built upon the foundation of the county Farm Bureau," he said. All phases of Farm Bureau activity on the county level was studied at the two-day Waco session. County presidents divided themselves into groups and analyzed various responsibilities of the local organization. Results of their findings will be printed and distributed to all county Farm Bureaus for their consideration.

Flood Damaged Areas Are Being Repaired

Woodrow Hoffman of the local Soil Conservation Service, has announced that his office received 222 referrals on January 13 and 14 from the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office. These referrals are for the reconstruction of permanent type conservation practices which were damaged last year by floods or heavy rainstorms.

Hoffman stated that all the referrals were from farmers and ranchmen in the watersheds of Valley, Elm and Oak Creeks and along the Colorado River.

A breakdown of the 222 referrals shows the following: There were 146 for reconstructing terraces to detain or control the flow of water and check soil erosion, where the usefulness of the terrace was destroyed or materially impaired by floods.

A total of 23 were received for the reconstruction of diversion terraces to intercept runoff and divert excess water to protected outlets.

There were 12 for reconstructing dams or ponds for livestock water as a means of protecting vegetative cover, where the usefulness of the dam or pond was destroyed or materially impaired by floods.

Another 37 was for smoothing of flood damaged land to permit resumption of normal cultural operations.

There were 4 for the restoration of grade to land which before flood damage had been leveled for more efficient use of irrigation water to prevent erosion.

Hoffman reports that the Soil Conservation Service started to servicing these referrals on Wednesday, January 15, and will continue the job as fast as possible.

Mr. Adling came to the Ballinger store as manager in February 1956 and has been very successful with local operations during a time when the trade area was hit by the longest spell of dry weather in history.

In addition to his work as manager of the store, he has given much time to civic work. He is a member of the Ballinger Lions Club and has served on numerous committee assignments. He has worked with the Ballinger Chamber of Commerce and was one of the new directors of that organization installed on January 1.

Speaking of Ballinger, Mr. Adling said that he and his family had enjoyed it here and thought it one of the best towns in which they have lived. He said that he did not know what he would do in the future and would wait until all his work was completed here before he would have an announcement.

Rannels County officers had the usual run of arrests and investigations last week.

Fred R. Ramirez, Tivo Ramirez Delgado, Parferio Garza Ramirez and Juan Arizona Ramirez were charged with theft and each paid a fine of $25.

Two runaway girls were apprehended here by local officers and then turned over to San Angelo officers to be taken home.

Rufus Williams was charged with having whiskey for the purpose of sale and was fined a total of $227.80.

R. M. James was charged with removing mortgaged property and a warrant for his arrest sent to West Columbia.

Lorenzo Martinez entered a plea of guilty to transporting wine and was fined $127.80. He then pleaded guilty to transporting whiskey and was fined a second $127.80.

Chas. Jones was charged with two cases of theft and paid a fine of $25 in each case.

James Clark paid a fine of $20.50 on an assault charge.

The office of Dr. J. D. Eoff was entered last Saturday night and some cash and a quantity of gold was taken. Later the office of Dr. L. L. Downing was entered and fountain pens and other articles were taken. The first of the week a dentist's office in Winters was entered and gold taken by the burglars. J. C. Penney Store Slated To Close During February

Announcement was made here the first of the week that the J. C. Penney Store would be closed in February. When time came for the signing of a new lease on the building, company officials stated they would not sign a new contract and that the local business would be closed before the end of the present lease on February 28.

Harold Adling, manager of the Ballinger store for the past two years, stated that a district manager would be here early in February and more information regarding the closing would be available at that time. Just what has caused the action has not been announced and came as a surprise to the other merchants of the town. Many local business men, including those engaged in the sale of dry goods, expressed their regrets at the announcement and the loss of the well known firm to the city.

Mr. Adling came to the Ballinger store as manager in February 1956 and has been very successful with local operations during a time when the trade area was hit by the longest spell of dry weather in history.

Polio Workers Plan 3 Week-end Events

Members of the student council of the Ballinger High School launched the annual 1958 March of Dimes last Saturday when they staged a successful balloon sale. While all balloons were not sold, the students worked all day and turned in $251.35 for their efforts.

Mrs. A. J. Thorp Jr was chairman for the sale and the student council worked under Miss Maryarrat Smith.

This is a big week for the March of Dimes with five big features scheduled. Saturday will be the big day with three events set for that one day.

This week, committees from the Rotary, Lions and Jaycees will make the business solicitation for funds. This is expected to bring in the largest single amount during the campaign and local workers hope for some $2,000 from this drive.

Tonight will be the special Radiothon from Station KRUN. Members of Explorer Post No. 429 placed cards on each screen door in the city this afternoon asking that people please not turn on their television sets tonight, but instead listen to KRUN and the special polio program. The request program will get underway at 7 p. m. Call the station, tell them how much you will contribute for a request number. Your name will be placed in a container and every few minutes there will be a drawing and a valuable prize awarded. The amount of your contribution will determine the value of the prize you will be eligible to receive. There will be special boxes for contributions of $1, $5, $10 and $25. Tune in at 7 o'clock and stay with the show until it is over.

Saturday Big Day

Three special programs have been booked for Saturday. The National Guard will be in charge of the blockade which will get underway early Saturday morning and continue all through the day. All cafes and drug stores will cooperate with coffee day. The firms will contribute all their coffee sales during the day and Community projects: Staged polio tax campaign. Sponsor of Valley Creek watershed project. Helped needy families at Christmas. Staged minstrel show. Provided men to assist with March of Dimes, Salvation Army, boy scout and girl scout fund campaigns.

Grindstaff, David Batts, Tobe Paylor and Pannell Legg Jr.

TO HELP POLIO

The meeting Monday night of next week will be held at Lowake and the annual Chinese auction of a goat will be held with the funds going to the March of Dimes. The goat auction by the Jaycees has raised a large sum of money each year for the March of Dimes and every effort will be made to have a big crowd on hand to take part in this annual program next Monday night.

LIGHT RUN LIVESTOCK AT SALE HERE MONDAY

Weather caused a light run of livestock at the weekly sale held Monday afternoon at the Ballinger Auction barns. Heavy bulls brought 17 to 20 cents, cows and calves $140 to $208 per pair, hogs and sheep were scarce for the afternoon sale. Two baby lambs sold several times with the money going to the March of Dimes. Plans are being made for a good sale next Monday.

Former Bearcat Speaker Monday At Banquet Here

Plans are complete for the holding of the annual football banquet for junior high school Monday night at 7:30 at the Acapulco Cafe. The program is sponsored by the Bearcat Quarterback Club and a capacity crowd is expected. Dock Wilson, club president, will serve as master of ceremonies and special guests will include the high school coaches and their wives, the wives of the junior high coaches and the yell leaders, Joan Morris, Joy Lee Herring, Georgia Newby and Millie Stults.

The program speaker will bring back to Ballinger a former Bearcat who lettered the four years he was in high school and the son of a former coach who for many years produced championship teams for Ballinger. Bob Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Felton T. Wright, and now coach at Howard Payne College in Brownwood, will be the speaker. Bob is well known in Ballinger and loved by Bearcat fans for the fine years of play in a Bearcat uniform, both in junior and senior high school.

There will be 64 players included in the list of players to attend the banquet. Parents of this group will have first choice of tickets and after that fans can secure them at the local drug stores or from Dock Wilson or Otis Jacob. Tickets are selling at $1.25 each and will be available as long as they last. Seating space is limited and only tickets will be sold to fill the dining room.

The junior high team, coached by Alton Patterson, won the district championship again last year with only one loss during the season.

DIRECTORS MEETING FOR PARENTS CLUB

The board of directors of the Ballinger Parents Club met at the youth center Tuesday night, January 14, for their regular meeting. Glenn Morish presided and a number of routine matters came up for discussion. A committee was appointed to pass on special requests for use of the building when it is not in use otherwise by programs under the Parents Club. Those named to this committee were: Mrs. Troy Simpson, Dick Ayers and Dr. L. L. Downing.

The next board meeting will be held at 7 p. m. on March 11. A special program is being planned for that meeting and all members of the board are urged to attend.

New Year Problems

DOWN THROUGH THE AGES, problems have been the constant companion of mankind.

With the passing of time, civilization has moved onward and upward. But this climb has been accompanied by a vast increase in the complexity and the gravity of the problems of life.

Critical and challenging problems have been created by a tug of war which has been in progress for many years between such basic conflicting forces as a free enterprise economy and a socialistic planned economy, a free way of life and communistic slavery, peace and war.

The supreme problem facing the people of the world this New Year is that of developing the capacity to solve wisely and well the problems which man, himself, has created.

In spite of the complexity and the gravity of the problems of life, they are essential to human progress. Scientific achievements, material progress and the expansion of human knowledge stem from the moving desire of man to overcome the problems generated by the march of world events.

In the business world, competitive problems have stimulated research, encouraged the adoption of new methods and procedures, spurred man to greater efforts and greater achievements.

The success or failure of individuals and business enterprises alike is measured by their ability, or lack of it, to solve successfully the personal and social, the economic and political problems flowing from an ever-changing world.

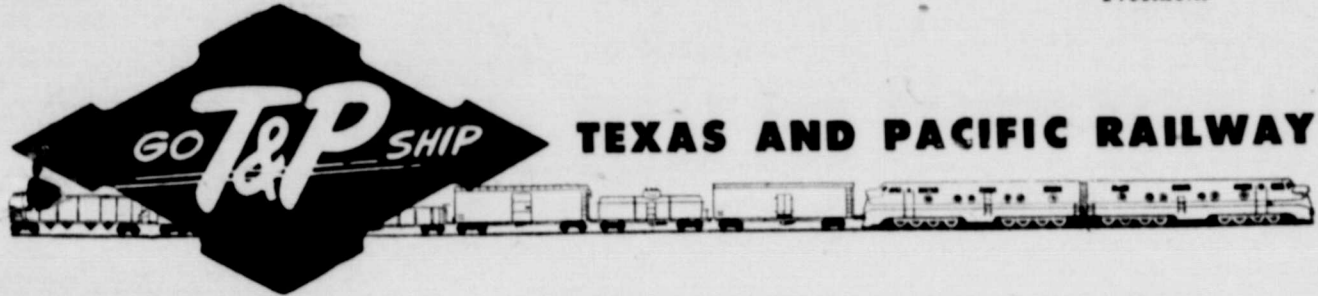

So it has been with the railroads. In their long and useful history, they have encountered a multitude of difficult and complex problems. Many of these problems they solved successfully. Some they didn't.

Perhaps the most critical problem ever experienced by the railroads is the one they face today. It is that of devising ways and means of meeting successfully the competition of various other forms of transportation promoted, and in part financially supported by municipalities, community organizations, state and federal governments.

There is no easy solution of this problem. But there is a solution, for there is a right answer to every problem. And I have faith that eventually it will be found.

Meanwhile, the peace, the progress and the prosperity of 1958 will be measured by the capacity of man to solve wisely the problems ushered in by the New Year.

Citizens Attend Program Thurs. On Civil Defense

C. O. Layne, inspector for the Texas Department of Public Safety, gave a civil defense program, sponsored by the Ballinger Shakespeare Club, Thursday evening at the court house.

Mr. Layne gave a brief history of civil defense. He stated that the title, civil defense, was relatively new but it dated back many years, and the true meaning was "Just Being a Good Neighbor." In describing the program Mr. Layne stated that it was preparedness on the part of individuals to protect the lives and property of people under disaster conditions—whether caused by natural disasters, such as tornadoes, floods, fires, hurricanes, or by enemy attack.

Pointing out that no super-organization, national, state, or municipal, can take the place of trained organized people on the scene, he said in the final showdown civil defense is the most personal thing in the world. Nobody can do it for you. Civil defense is founded in the home and extends on toward the community, the city, county, state and nation. The basic concept of civil defense is personal survival based upon the initiative of the individual and how the individual will be integrated into an overall effort.

In conclusion, he outlined how members of the family can be trained to help in disasters. Mrs. John Miller, club president, presented the program leader, Mrs. Don Atkins, who introduced the speaker.

Patrolman Gives Special Safety Awards To City

Sgt. J. Ross Kemp, with the Texas Department of Public Safety at Midland, was here Friday noon to talk to the Ballinger Lions Club and bring an award to the City of Ballinger for no traffic deaths in 1956. Other highway patrolmen from San Angelo and Abilene accompanied him to Ballinger.

The award is made for 1956, as that year has just been released in special reports from the National Safety Council. The city police are now making up the report for 1957 which will go to the national council.

According to the reports, Ballinger has not had a traffic death within the city limits for a number of years.

Sgt. Kemp complimented the report but pointed to the number of traffic accidents reported from Ballinger and stated that the report was not good until all of these have been eliminated. He stressed the fact that deaths could have occurred in any of the local accidents.

The visiting speaker listed a large number of recommendations which have been suggested by the National Safety Council for this city. These include traffic engineering, warning of danger spots by the police and an effort to make corrections, more safety education, curbing of jay-walking and keeping traffic lanes plainly marked for pedestrians, off-street parking, and continuing driver education in the schools.

In police enforcement the suggestions were that at least three more police be added, one more patrol car placed on the force, a retirement plan for police and an increase in salaries.

He urged that citizens cooperate in the enforcement of traffic cases and also that parents start training their infants in the danger of cars.

A large number of booklets showing the traffic report for Ballinger from the National Safety Association, were handed to the members at the meeting.
