Private Enterprise Making Inroads in Communist Economies

"Private enterprise, the institution most reviled in Communist ideology, continues to make inroads in the economies of Communist countries. The latest formal admission by a Soviet satellite that the profit motive is here to stay comes from Czechoslovakia. The Czech government has decided to allow the operation of one-man businesses in such trades as tailoring, shoemaking, hair-dressing, interior decorating, laundering, and carpentry. Publicly owned consumer services, tardy and inefficient, have been a weak spot in the Czechoslovak economy since their inception. Individuals filling this gap flourished even though—or perhaps because—private enterprise was illegal."—Salem, Ohio, Farm and Dairy.

March 1-5 Is Public Schools Week

OFFICIAL MEMORANDUM
by John Connally
Governor of Texas
Austin, Texas.

Greetings:
Special observance of increased emphasis on our education system has been marked annually for fifteen years by a Public Schools Week in Texas.

During this period, parents are encouraged to visit the public schools, and all citizens are urged through special programs to recognize the tremendous importance of our system of education. Our goal is to make Texas public schools the finest in the Nation, and to achieve this our citizens are urged to take an active interest in the school systems and to cooperate with their school boards, superintendents, principals and teachers.

Never before in our history has there been a greater need for educated leadership. As we rush to train young people in science and technology to keep pace with world events, it is also important to remember that our public schools will furnish our tomorrow's leaders with the basic human, moral and spiritual foundations necessary for more advanced training and knowledge.

Therefore, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the period of March 1-5, 1965, as PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK in Texas

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 28th day of Jan., 1965.

JOHN CONNALLY,
Governor of Texas.

Accreditation Report "Warns" Crowell Schools

A report from the Texas Education Agency accreditation committee which "recommended that the Crowell Independent School District be warned of serious violations of accreditation standards" has been released by Supt. Henry Black.

The report followed a visit on Dec. 10, 1964, by an accreditation team from the TEA office in Austin. On three previous visits, the district had been "advised" of violations of accreditation standards.

According to a TEA manual, "Principles and Standards for Accrediting Elementary and Secondary Schools," a school is "advised" for slight variations from the standards and is requested to make corrections. For a continued violation or a more serious one, a school is "warned" and given one year to make corrections. One of the deficiencies in relation to the South Ward Elementary School—a school for Negro children in grades 1 through 6—will be corrected next fall as the board has okayed complete integration of the local system.

The complete report of the three-member committee can be found in this issue.

New Loan Program Explained by Agent

A new loan program, recently announced by the Farmers Home Administration is designed to help rural families finance enterprises that will improve their incomes, according to County Agent Joe Burkett.

The FHA County Supervisor, F. O. Smith, has informed Burkett that the new loans are a part of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964. They can provide up to $2,500 for up to 15 years at a 4 and 1/8 per cent interest rate. Rural residents can get the loans on the basis of their ability and character.

According to Mr. Smith, the loans are for people who know a good way to increase their income, but who cannot readily get financing through regular credit channels.

The county agent said farmers can borrow for improvements, land, equipment, livestock, machinery, buildings or other items that will add to their income from farming.

Non-farm rural residents can use the same plan to finance a small business, trade or service. This includes loans to set up such things as small repair shops.

Another provision of the new FHA program provides loans to establish cooperatives for processing, marketing and other services of benefit to farmers.

Anyone interested in additional information about the new loans should contact their county FHA supervisor, located at Vernon, or Mr. Burkett in Crowell.

"Recently I was appointed by Crowell School Board to fill out the unexpired term of W. F. Bradford, who resigned from the Board, after serving as one of its trustees.

"After giving this office considerable thought, I have decided to file as a candidate for trustee that is to be held in an election in April.

"I have been a resident of the Margaret, Riverside and Crowell School Districts nearly fifty years. I was graduated from Crowell High School with the class of 1935, and later attended a business college. I have always been interested in the progress that the Crowell School has made over the years, but improvements need to be made to the school if it is to continue to go forward. I am for these improvements, both in the classroom and on the school grounds; because the students of Crowell High School and the small children and also future generations will need every opportunity they can get to compete in the changing of events that are taking place from year to year in our educational field.

"Let us all cooperate to keep the Crowell Schools one of the top-rated High Schools in this part of the state; and if you believe in improvements and progress, vote for me in the coming April election."

Argument Puts Cart Before the Horse

Henry Hazlitt writes in Newsweek: "A popular argument of the industrialization-at-any-cost advocates is that it is impossible to point to a purely agricultural country that is as wealthy as 'industrialized' countries. But this argument puts the cart before the horse. Once a dominantly agricultural economy becomes prosperous (as the early United States) it develops the capital to invest in domestic industries and therefore rapidly becomes a country of diversified production—both agricultural and industrial. It is diversified because it is prosperous rather than prosperous because it is diversified. It is the great superstition of economic planners everywhere that only they know exactly what commodities their country should produce and just how much of each. Their arrogance prevents them from recognizing that a system of free markets and free competition, in which everyone is free to invest his labor or capital in the direction that seems to be the most profitable, must solve this problem infinitely better."

1965 March of Dimes Is Launched To Score Birth Defects Knockout

A "one-two" punch will be aimed at the problem of birth defects this January during the annual March of Dimes campaign across the nation.

"The objective of the drive is twofold," explained Dr. Daniel Bergsma, director of the medical department of The National Foundation-March of Dimes. "More than 250,000 seriously defective children are born each year in this country—one every other minute. Given the facts, the American public will recognize the problem of birth defects for what it is—a national emergency that requires immediate action. We invite the public to help us meet this emergency.

"The second goal is money. With public contributions to the January March of Dimes, we expect to establish the additional March of Dimes-supported birth defects centers desperately needed for the faster diagnosis, evaluation and improved treatment of these defects which cripple or disfigure a child before it's born. Funds are also needed to enable scientists to continue their search for the causes and possible ways to prevent birth defects."

To support medical and scientific workers in the front lines of the battle against birth defects, The National Foundation-March of Dimes has a behind-the-lines army two million strong. These are volunteers from the more than 3,000 March of Dimes county chapters throughout the 50 states—men, women and teenagers, too, who dedicate their efforts to the success of the January campaign and the year-round Programs of The National Foundation.

SQUARING OFF for a knockout blow at birth defects is Michael ("Mickey") Lea Heinicke, 4, Denver, the 1965 National March of Dimes Child.

damage to the infant's body or mind. "The progress made thus far is significant and promising," Dr. Bergsma noted, "but we have taken just the first step on a long road. When the American people recognize the magnitude of the problem, they will demand and support an efficient and effective attack against the many birth defects that cripple or disfigure 700 infants each day. With their generous help, we can build up our chapter center programs and birth defects centers throughout the country and we will continue to support individual scientists in the quest for knowledge in this critical area."

School Warned of Accreditation Violations

The News prints below the complete report of the last visit of the accreditation team on Dec. 10, 1964, to the Crowell School System. The team visiting here last year was composed of Virginia Cutter, Lewis Spears and Ruby Bennett.

The Crowell Independent School District has been visited three times previously by accreditation teams: in October 1961, in November 1962, and in October 1963; following each visit, the district was advised of violations of accreditation standards.

Crowell, a county-line school district, extends from the central part of Foard County, into both Knox and King Counties. It includes an area of 735 square miles, and it was reported that in 1966 the district will be increased 115 square miles by the addition of an adjoining common school district.

The present assessed valuation of the school district is $8,091,000, a decrease of $73,980 from last year. The tax rate remains at $1.50 from $1.485 used for maintenance and operation and $.015 for bonded indebtedness of $26,000. The school district has incurred an additional debt of approximately $12,000 by the purchase of busses and band uniforms.

The Crowell school district operates two school programs. One is a twelve grade program, integrated in grades 7-12 since September, 1964, and using an 8-4 plan of instructional organization. The other, South Ward Elementary School, has a six-grade program for Negro pupils.

Crowell High School has an enrollment of 163 pupils and a staff of eight full-time teachers. The superintendent teaches one class, the high school principal teaches three classes, the librarian teaches one class, and the two junior high teachers each teach one class. Crowell Elementary School has an enrollment of 323 pupils and a staff of 16 teachers, including the principal who teaches three classes. Crowell South Ward Elementary School has 29 pupils and two teachers.

School Administration
The school board has developed and made available to the public policies for school operation. Minutes of official board meetings were recorded and properly signed. The board functions chiefly as a policy-making body and recognized the superintendent as its chief executive officer.

The present financial plan of the district school does not appear to insure adequate support. Approval of bond issues has been requested, petitioned twice, but was denied, the last time in 1964 for $500,000. It was reported that another bond issue probably will come up for consideration in 1965 to provide badly needed funds for physical improvements.

The district provides opportunities for professional growth and improvement of the staff through in-service education; emphasis in the fall semester program was on guidance and in the spring semester will be on physical education and safety.

An evaluation of the school was made by teachers in November, 1964. The summary of the evaluation contained little more than a listing of improvements made and recommendations for additional improvements mostly physical improvements and supplies. A school facilities survey was completed in March, 1964, and some resulting improvements are described later in this report.

Permanent cumulative records contain data on attendance, academic grades, and health; the last named records include such items as speech, hearing, and vision tests and immunizations.

Guidance services were maintained with a program outlined in writing and with policies approved by the local board. A record is kept of former students, both graduate and drop-outs.

School Plant and Facilities
The Crowell district maintains its twelve-grade school program in several buildings on a six-acre campus. In addition to the two main classroom buildings, the campus contains a band hall, an old house of frame construction, poorly arranged and inadequate in size, and a gymnasium not well suited to school use since shower and dressing room facilities are too small for the peak pupil load during instructional periods. The homemaking cottage, a new masonry structure, is located across the street facing the high school. In addition, a small six-grade school is maintained on another campus for Negro pupils.

The campus of the twelve-grade school was landscaped, well kept, attractive, and free from safety hazards and the elementary playground was adequately equipped, while at the six-grade school the campus was unattractive, inadequately equipped, and had water standing in pools from poor drainage. Drinking facilities were adequate. Water tests were made monthly.

Toilet facilities in the Crowell Elementary School appeared to be inadequate, considering the number of pupils (323) in grades 1-8, and the interior of both toilets were in need of fresh paint.

Heating and lighting facilities were inadequate in several classrooms, particularly the two elementary schools. Unvented gas heaters observed were a potential health and safety hazard. New lights had been installed in some classrooms, mainly in the high school. Most of the classrooms in both elementary schools had insufficient lighting because of too few lighting fixtures.

Furniture in elementary classrooms, including the teachers' desks, was mostly old and outmoded. Pupils' desks were attached to runners, hampering rearrangement for instructional grouping, and old chairs in the primary rooms were painted several different colors. Odd pieces of furniture, apparently discarded or surplus, were used for tables, cabinets and shelving. In several areas, floor boards squeaked when walked on. Many window frames were in poor condition.

Although elementary teachers made visible efforts to provide an atmosphere conducive to learning, the overall atmosphere resulting from substandard physical plant and facilities impeded their efforts.

A somewhat limited collection of audio-visual equipment in the school consisted of two tape recorders, two record players, and four projectors, including a slide projector and slides for vocational agriculture and a 16-mm projector for the elementary school.

Deficiencies pointed out last year that still exist:

(1) The building plan intended to remove deficient physical facilities has not materialized due to the lack of funds. (The plans called for construction of a new high school, gymnasium, auditorium, and band hall, and remodeling of the present elementary schools.)

(2) The school still does not have the services of a school nurse or a counselor.

(3) Lighting throughout the elementary schools remains poor although some improvement has been made in the high school.

(4) Most classroom furniture in the elementary schools is still out-dated and not adapted to present teaching needs and methods.

(5) Only two restrooms are available to serve the needs of 323 children enrolled in grades 1-8.

(6) An imbalance continues to exist between the programs and facilities in the district's two elementary schools.

Both maintenance of buildings and purchase of equipment appears to have been neglected in years past. This year, a number of improvements have been made; however, they were mostly in the high school building, making an imbalance of facilities between the high school and elementary schools.

Improvements
Included in the improvements made since the accreditation visit last year were redecoration of the interior of the halls, the library, auditorium, four classrooms, the band hall, and a newly created student lounge in the high school.

Considerable new equipment has been added for high school use including nine air-conditioners, new fluorescent lights installed in the building entrance, the library, and three classrooms.

Other improvements were as follows:

... Installation of a new electric drinking fountain.

... New library facilities, including new tables, and chairs, shelving, and a set of encyclopedias.

... Vocational Agriculture: new student tables and equipment valued at $450.

... Homemaking: Purchase of new drapes, an electric stove, an electric sewing machine, and a refrigerator.

... Speech department: reference library, started and record player purchased.

... Spanish department: tape recorder purchased.

... Physical Education: two blower-type heaters installed in field house, purchase of washing machine and lawn mower, stadium divided, new steps built, and drinking fountain installed in gymnasium.

... Science department: enlarged with extra biology room and electric refrigerator installed.

... Band: new uniforms and new shades purchased, stoves vented.

... Chorus: purchase of new robes and new music.

... Auditorium: curtains, cleaned, draperies purchased, and living room suite purchased (by drama club).

Professional Qualifications of Staff Members

All the professional personnel were graduates of approved colleges or universities.

Instructional Program

Although evidence of good instruction was observed at all levels in the schools, some deficiencies were observed, as follows:

1. A shortage of teaching aids was observed. The use of teaching aids such as charts, teacher-made aids, and audio-visual aids appeared limited in grades 7 and 8.

2. In some classrooms in the elementary school, teachers had to furnish their own record players and records. In both elementary schools, maps and globes were not available to all teachers teaching social studies. At the same level, instructional materials such as construction paper and poster paper needed in art, and writing paper needed in writing instruction, as well as materials needed in other areas of the curriculum were limited to those which could be purchased from a $2.75 fee charged each pupil.

More microscopes were needed for effective Biology instruction.

A shortage of small hand tools was noted in the Agriculture shop.

The English Department lacked records, tapes and other audio-visual equipment necessary for an effective program.

The six grade South Ward Elementary School had few instructional aids of any kind.

2. Physical Education credit is given for drill squad and band.

3. No local teaching guides had been developed for use in the South Ward Elementary School.

4. In some instances teachers were not furnished teaching guides for some State adopted textbooks.

Although improvements have been made since last year, many deficiencies pointed out by previous accreditation teams have not been corrected and numerous deficiencies still exist, as indicated in the above report.

Recommendation: It is recommended that the Crowell Independent School District be warned of serious violations of accreditation standards.

Japan's Demand for Oil Increasing

An average of $1 billion a year must be invested over the next 20 years to meet Japan's rising demand for oil, and about $600 million a year will be required for investment in Japan itself, according to the head of Standard Oil Company (New Jersey). In 1955, oil supplied about 15 per cent of all Japan's energy requirements while today the proportion is about 50 per cent and still is rising.

Conservation: Our Best Insurance

Mr. American, may I take a moment of your time to tell you about an insurance policy which will benefit not only you but also your fellow Americans everywhere? Today, Americans spend billions of dollars to insure their lives, their homes, their automobiles, and other valuables. Why do Americans spend so much money for insurance? The answer is a simple one—for protection.

Just as insurance provides protection and security, conservation also provides these two vital elements. Planting cover crops, rotating crops, and terracing the land are some methods of protecting the soil from erosion. To protect our wildlife, we must conserve our forests, our soil, our water. With the growing population, the need for conservation of water is increasing. Conserving forests also helps save our water supply; forest soil holds one-half its volume in water. Dams help to prevent floods; reservoirs store water in wet seasons and release it in dry seasons, thus regulating our water supply.

Insurance policies pay benefits; similarly, the benefits of conservation of our natural resources are great. When conservation is practiced, the vicious cycle of destruction to property and to wildlife is terminated. Wildlife survives because the forests have been saved, and farm products are no longer scarce when the topsoil is conserved. When fertile soil is washed from the land, reservoirs and harbors become clogged with silt which also destroys fish. This destruction does not exist when conservation is practiced.

There is no better insurance than conservation of our natural resources. This insurance policy can truly give the security we are all seeking. I am appealing to you, Mr. American, to invest in conservation—our best insurance.

Army Recruiting Officers Speaks to Senior Boys

Recently, the senior boys were permitted to hear Maurice Wilson, recruiting officer for the U. S. Army, discuss the many opportunities to those who wish to join the Army. He also pointed out the opportunities for those who might be interested in making the army a career; he discussed the advantages of a boy's entering military service upon graduation, provided he does not plan to go to college or provided he wishes to get education training offered in the army.

One thing for sure is that his talk made the senior boys realize that they are now entering adulthood, and have a definite responsibility toward the defense of their country.

Students Write Conservation Essays

It's Soil Conservation Essay contest time again, and as has been the custom for many years, our school is entering essays written by the juniors and seniors. This contest is sponsored by the Fort Worth Press. The state winner will receive $200. The top ten winners in our area of 52 counties will receive medals and will be recognized at an area banquet in May. The subject this year is "Conservation: Our Best Insurance."

We hope that we'll again place at least one winner. Our record so far is one state winner, and from 1 to 5 area winners each year except one. Usually there are 25,000 or more papers entered in the area contest.

Basketball Season Officially Ends

The Crowell A team boys ended the Munday boys a 63-47 defeat on Tuesday, Feb. 2. Dan Mike Bird and Ken Ferguson, scoring 25 and 15 points respectively, led Crowell to victory. Preceding this game, the Munday A girls ran past the Crowell A girls 61-47. Evelyn Faske with 12 points was high scorer for Crowell, followed closely by Cindy Erwin with 11 points.

Last Friday, Feb. 5, the basketball season ended for Crowell as the teams went to Knox City. The Knox City girls crushed the Crowell girls 75-28. With 20 points, Faske led Crowell's scoring. Hard luck destroyed Crowell A team boys' hopes for winning the western half of District 11-A. Knox City boys defeated Crowell boys 81-54. Bird again led the scoring with 21 points.

This final game of the season also marked the final time that eight students will ever play a CHS ball game. Yes, these eight are seniors. Evelyn Faske, Scherry Goodwin, Cheryl Thompson and Suella Smith will miss the basketball games next year. Other girls participating in the games are the following: Linda Whitley, Gayle Russell, Merida Taylor, Cindy Erwin, Pam Borchardt, Mary Sue Carpenter, Kay Looney, Judy Whitley, Janis Whitley and Ann Russell. Senior boys who played their last game are Ken Ferguson, Mike Gamble, David Denton and Bill Harris. Other members of the A team are Dan Mike Bird, Lee Looney, T. F. Lambert III, Steve Gray, Tommy Kajs and Tommy Carpenter. Members of the B boys team are Bob Bird, Dale Bradford, Lynn Rader, Ronnie Eavenson, Gary Tole, Rockne Wisdom, Joe Ray Burkett, Larry Hughston, Michael Eubanks and Steve Bell.

The end of basketball season means the beginning of competitive spring sports, such as track, tennis, volleyball; it also means that students have another chance to win honors for CHS.

Senior Personalities Halbert and Denton

This week two "stars of Foard County" are revealing their secrets. Seth Halbert, 17 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Halbert, and David Denton, 18 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Denton, are valuable to CHS in their activities. Seth enjoys singing in his bright tenor voice in the choir while David adds his booming bass voice. David is one of the star basketball players and Seth is our school's gifted extemporaneous speaker. Both are very active in the Senior Class. David is class favorite and Seth is class treasurer. Seth also enjoys his work on the annual staff and in the Spanish Club.

Living near each other, these two boys enjoy exploring the outdoors together. David's favorite subject has been physics, and Seth's favorite subject has been biology. Both have scientific interests and plan to carry them on in their careers. Seth plans to study pre-med at Texas Tech, and David plans to study geology at West Texas State. Of course, both have been influenced by many people, but Seth reveals that his chief influences have been his parents.

Favorites usually bring out individual characteristics in people and here is no exception. Seth likes the actor, Jack Palance; actresses, Sandra Dee; food, fish and french fries; color, gold; book, "The River Ran East," movie, "The Ten Commandments." David enjoys the sport, basketball; color, tan; food, tacos; actor, all of them.

We know both of these boys will be successful because they dislike a person who can't control his anger and who is a smart alec. This means that Seth and David will always refrain from being this type of person and will remain the nice boys they are now. Good luck!

The club wishes to express its appreciation to the Rasberries for a very enjoyable occasion.

American Doctors Serving Overseas

More than 2,000 American doctors are now overseas bringing American medicine to the peoples of three continents, reports the American Medical Association. It adds that under ordinary conditions, a U. S. doctor serving a voluntary medical mission in Asia, Africa or Latin America may work harder than he ever worked before. He may keep an 18-hour day. He may have to scrape for medical supplies to treat diseases unknown in the United States. And he probably earns very little money. But, for a growing number of American physicians, the urge to serve in developing nations is apparently stronger than the hardships encountered in serving.

"Daddy feels like that every payday."

ed special wind erosion reports from the Soil Conservation Service's Plains field offices on the heels of vast land damage by high winds Sunday and Monday, Jan. 24-25, in large areas of Western Texas.

SCS Administrator Donald A. Williams said the damage in the Texas areas appeared to be the worst in 10 years. He blamed less-than-normal rainfall and the consequent absence of effective plant cover.

Reports to USDA said winds reaching 75 miles an hour wrapped wide areas around Midland, Odessa, Lubbock and Muleshoe in a choking blanket of dust. The winds carried the dust eastward across the state into Louisiana, officials said.

Main highways were closed for hours as visibility along the travel routes approached zero. Reports of automobile accidents, with serious injury in some instances, were frequent.

Air pollution at such times, Mr. Williams explained, becomes a serious hazard to health although it seldom figures in the reckoning of the cost of wind erosion.

Farther to the north in the Texas Panhandle section a cover of snow prevented land damage. However, the winds reportedly caused erosion of farm and range lands in Eastern New Mexico. Mr. Williams said.

In Eastern Colorado, Western Kansas and the panhandle section of Oklahoma, prolonged drought conditions have made farm and ranch lands extremely vulnerable to damage by wind. In the Northern Great Plains, more nearly normal moisture with early snow, has cushioned most sections against probable damage by wind this winter, although wherever land has been left without effective stubble or other plant cover it is subject to damage by winds of unusual force, Mr. Williams added.

The year-end report on wind erosion from the 10 Great Plains States indicated slightly more than half a million acres damaged thus far this season, although considerably larger acreages were in condition to blow.

Mr. Williams pointed out that extensive damage this early in the season by winds can mean increasingly severe damage later as the wind season in the Plains region advances. The weeks of most damaging storms historically are ahead. The most damaging storm in the widespread drought of the 1950's occurred in February. One of the most notorious storms of the drought of the 1930's was in May.

She's helping her Electric Cooperative do an "Impossible" job!

This housewife doesn't mind reading her electric meter because she, with thousands of other people who live in this area, owns this electric cooperative.

This is just one way these owner-consumers cut costs to make possible dependable, low-cost electric service to both widely scattered rural homes and the more populous urban areas. Through cooperation, they're doing the job many considered impossible.

At the start of rural electrification, local citizens pitched in to sign up members and secure rights of way for power lines. They borrowed money to build their own electric system. Today, working together, these people are turning the "impossible" job into one of the greatest success stories of our time.

Pork and Green Pepper on Rice

Food cooked in a chafing dish takes on party airs. The same food cooked in a skillet pretty enough to be used as a serving piece is ideal for Sunday night supper just for the family.

Pork and Green Peppers on Rice is a dish that falls equally well into the chafing dish or pretty skillet category. It's a savory blend of the meat and vegetable spiced with garlic and soy sauce. It's a well sauced mixture ideal for spooning over hot tender-cooked rice. A tray of well-chilled relishes and a fruit dessert would complement the dish and complete the menu, suitable for guests or just the family.

Tender-cooked rice is easily accomplished by even a beginning cook. One cup of the regular milled white rice, 2 cups of water, 1 teaspoon salt, and little more than 15 minutes of cooking provides three cups of tender, fluffy rice. Because U. S. rice is so scientifically grown and milled, there's no need to wash it before cooking or rinse it after cooking. It can go directly from the box or bag into the measuring cup, and directly from the cooking pot to the serving dish and table. Could any food be easier to cook?

- | | |
|---|-----------------------------------|
| 1 1/2 pounds lean pork shoulder steak | 1/4 teaspoon pepper |
| 1 clove garlic, minced | 1/4 teaspoon monosodium glutamate |
| 2 tablespoons salad oil | 1 tablespoon sugar |
| 3 medium green peppers, cut into 1-inch squares | 1/4 cup cornstarch |
| 1 1/2 cups beef broth | 1/4 teaspoon soy sauce |
| 1 1/4 teaspoons salt | 1/4 cup cold water |
| | 3 cups hot cooked rice |

Remove bone and excess fat from meat. Cut into thin strips about 3-inches long. Brown pork and garlic in heated oil. Add peppers, beef broth, salt, pepper, monosodium glutamate and sugar. Heat to boiling. Lower heat, cover and simmer 8-10 minutes, or until peppers are tender, but not soft. Blend cornstarch, soy sauce, and water. Add to meat mixture and cook until thickened and clear. Serve over hot rice. Makes 6 servings.

Be sure and buy bags, gloves and other accessories to coordinate our wardrobes." These were some of the things Mrs. Ray Ileng gave in the demonstration on coordinating the wardrobe.

Refreshments were served to 12 members, one new member, Mrs. Clyde King; 3 visitors, Mrs. Ileng, Mrs. E. A. Dunagan and Mrs. Tom King, and two children. The next meeting will be Feb. 25 at the community house with Tom Davis lecturing on legal rights of women.

Texas Drivers Try Excessive Speeds But Affair Went Pffft

Texas drivers "flirted" with excessive speeds after the speed limit was raised to 70 mph late in 1963.

But the affair went pffft, according to a speed survey made by the Texas Highway Department a year later, and Texans for the most part are now observing the speed limit.

Take passenger cars, for instance. The Highway Department radar-checked speeds of at least 25,000 of them in 30 locations scattered over the state.

In 1963, a fraction more than 11 per cent of the motorists were clocked at more than 70 mph. A year later—under the same highway conditions, and in the same places—the figure had dropped to just 5.1 per cent.

And it was the same pattern across the board, with pickups, trucks, and buses logging dramatically reduced speeds.

Why were speeds up so high after the legislature hiked speed limits by 10 mph?

"We're engineers, not psychiatrists," said one Highway Department official, "but it seems that it was just a flirtation. Motorists had a sudden new freedom to go ten miles an hour faster. In exercising that freedom, some of them said 'what the heck' and went for broke."

How come they slowed down a year later, then?

"The novelty wore off. At least at this meeting and it is called Farm Machinery Safety.

Next meeting will be March 9.

that's all we can figure. It's admittedly just a guess."

The Highway Department's annual speed survey is a research study project used by highway engineers to help determine future highway design characteristics and traffic needs. The Highway Department designs, builds and maintains Texas highways. It determines safe speeds, zones and designs highways, but does not have police or enforcing authority.

Last October and November, the Highway Department surveyed vehicle driving practices of more than 25,000 motorists. Conceded radar units were set up at 30 locations on key highways during an eight hour period.

Average speed of all vehicles surveyed last autumn was 56.6 miles an hour. A year before, just after the new speed limits became effective, the average was 59.3 mph. And just before the new speeds were posted, the average had been 56.5 mph.

In all vehicle categories, speeds seem to be leveling off from highs recorded during the period of "flirtation."

Of all vehicles surveyed only 3.6 per cent were exceeding the 70 mph speed limit last fall. A year earlier, 8 per cent of vehicles of all kinds were breaking 70.

Niece of Crowell Residents Married in Woodsboro Church

Miss Carolyn French and William Carl Ruth exchanged wedding vows Saturday evening of last week at the First Methodist Church of Woodsboro with Rev. Gordon Ciller officiating.

Candelabra and white stock decorated the church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Henry French of Woodsboro and the niece of Ed Roark and Mrs. T. F. Russell of Crowell. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Francis Ruth of Savannah, Georgia.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of diamond white peau de lune. A sabbina neckline outlined in lace, and long sleeves tapered to calla points, styled the sculptured bodice. The reed slim skirt had motifs of the Chantilly lace scattered down the front, and from a soft belt flowed a chapel length peacock train, which was outlined with lace scallops. A caplet of re-embroidered Alencon lace, bordered in seed pearls, held her triple tiered bouffant veil of English silk illusion. She carried white roses in a cascade arrangement with English ivy.

Miss Kathleen French of Dallas, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. William Leach of Kingsville and Miss Sheryllyn O'Hair of Corpus Christi.

A reception was held at the Regugio County Country Club.

After a wedding trip to Montego Bay, Jamaica, the couple will live in Glenolden, Pa.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Texas where she was a member of Alpha Delta Phi. The groom is a graduate of Georgia Institute of Technology, where his fraternity was Sigma Chi. He has done graduate work at Florida State College.

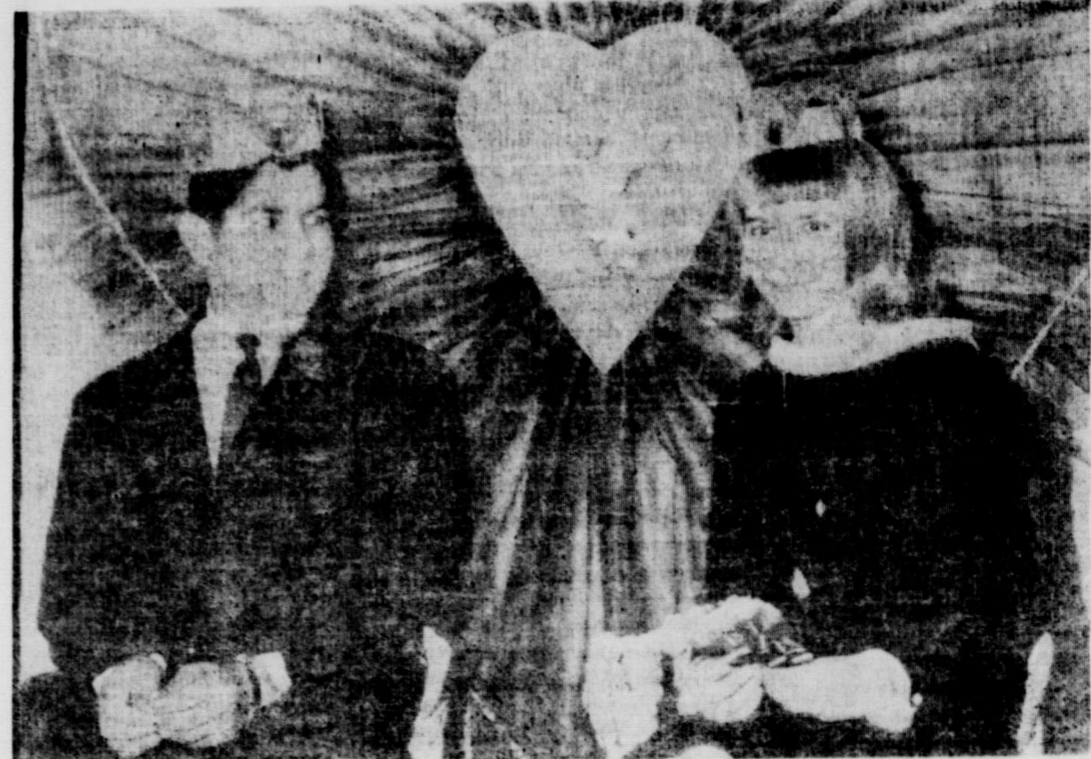

Among the out of town guests attending were Mrs. Edward Roark of Crowell, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hakala and Mrs. Ralph Burrow of Fort Worth, Mrs. Janet Gillespie, Mark and Panel, of Corpus Christi; and Dr. and Mrs. J. E. O'Hair, Mike, John and Sheryllyn, also of Corpus Christi.

Sweetheart Banquet Honors Methodist Youth Saturday Night

In the beautifully decorated basement of the Crowell Methodist Church, the Methodist youth were honored with a Sweetheart Banquet Saturday night, Feb. 6.

The theme of the banquet was "Hearts and Flowers." The theme was carried out in all the decorations, centering around a huge, red heart as the main attraction, which was also the background for the king and queen thrones. The banquet was decorated by the Henry Circle of the WSCS of the church.

Following the welcome given by Bill Harris, president of the MYF, and the invocation given by Thomas Tamplen, MYF counselor, a delicious meal was served. It was prepared by the Home-builders Circle of the WSCS.

A very inspiring message was then brought to some seventy young people who attended by Donald Tabb, vice president of the Methodist Foundation of Wichita Falls. He was accompanied by his wife, Mary.

Following the message by Mr. Tabb, the coronation of Bob Bird and Shirley Rashberry as King and Queen was presided over by Bro. and Mrs. Glenn Chambers. The king and queen were presented crowns and flowers for the occasion. In honor of the royal pair, a talent show was presented by some members of Mrs. Moody Bursey's speech class.

A reading, "In a Royal Garden," by Cheryl Thompson; a solo, "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing," by Betty Ann Welch; a reading, "Story of Prinderella," by Cynthia Chambers; and another solo, "Hello Young Lovers," by Freddie Wehba. Miss Gayle Smith was accompanist for the songs.

Other candidates for king and queen were Bill Harris, Freddie Wehba, Mary Sue Speer and Sandra Weathered.

The benediction was given by Bro. Chambers.

Columbian Club

"The Little Kingdom" by Hughie Call was reviewed for the Columbian Club by Mrs. Grady Halbert at the Wednesday, Feb. 3 meeting. Mrs. Clarence Bounds introduced the speaker with the quotation, "a book is the enchanted gate that leads to a magic land."

I am a member of the Church of Christ because: (continued)

7. All Spiritual Blessings are in the Church of Christ. Paul says, "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ" (Eph. 1:3). These blessings consist of such things as prayer, being children of God.

8. The Bible contains the laws governing it. "All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness; that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works" (2 Tim. 3:16-17). "According as His divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of Him that hath called us to glory and virtue" (2 Pet. 1:3).

The church of Christ has no other written law. We invite all to come worship with us at 120 N. 2nd St., Crowell, Texas. Welton E. Nickel, Minister, Pho. 684-4581.

Mission of Ysleta by E. M. Schwetzer

THE MISSION OF YSLETA

The Church that changed sides!

When the Indians revolted against Spanish rule in 1681-2 in the upper Rio Grande Valley in New Mexico, refugees sought safety at the mission at El Paso del Norte (now Juarez). One group settled on the Mexican river bank and named its community Ysleta del Sur (South). This settlement was established in 1681 and a mission was completed the following year on a small island in the Rio Grande.

The Rio Grande changed its course and the site is now in Texas. Ysleta and its mission are generally given the distinction of being the oldest permanent settlement in Texas . . . truly a church that changed sides!

CHOOSE THE SIDE OF FREEDOM...with U. S. Savings Bonds!

Thus, Ysleta del Sur, the refuge of the oppressed, became the earliest of settlements to identify itself with a brave, new land of freedom.

Today, millions of Americans choose the side of freedom and they do something about it — by purchasing U. S. Savings Bonds.

Agriculture Is Part of Our Total Economy

In the opinion of National Grange Master Newsom, "American agriculture is a part of our total economy—not apart from our economy . . . the old philosophy of relying chiefly on restricting production for the sake of a high unit price cannot well serve farmers or the American economy in the 1960's. The monopolistic approach of purchase by government of those commodities which have no other market at the government price is not realistic."
