World's Most Costly Office Building

A. Robert Smith, Washington correspondent of the Portland, Oregonian, writes: "It's fantastic! No word really carries adequate descriptive power to do justice to the world's most costly office building, and Washington's ugliest addition, the Rayburn Building in which senior congressmen will soon be sheltered in garish luxury . . . It's not so much the price tag itself—well over $100 million—but the tastelessness with which the money was squandered. This congressional office building . . . is a monumental symbol of one of the characteristics of this era in America: too much money and not enough taste. It's conspicuous consumption run riot. The Rayburn Building wouldn't even make a good ruin."

PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS IN COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

Stamford blossoms out with a bouquet of community improvements

Projects totaling $1,300,000 are under way or recently completed in Stamford covering a multitude of community improvements. In addition to church and school construction, new commercial buildings, a $206,000 new home program and major utility expansions, the city has a record breaking $209,000 street paving and sewer improvement program. Stamford is one of the many towns in our service area engaged in community development programs of this type. The Stamford record is a PATTERN FOR PROGRESS showing what can be done in community development, improving the chances of continued economic growth and attraction of new industry to the town. Growth conscious towns are invited to contact their local WTU manager for assistance from our area development representatives.

Army Offers 200
 Different Schools to Choose From

Major Lawrence Hurley, U. S. Army Recruiting Commander at Abilene announced this week that the local army recruiter has an unlimited number of service school allocations.

Headquarters Department of the Army published the school listing, and has set up the total number of students per school. The number of students for training in these schools far exceeds the normal number of young men enlisted to attend an Army Service School.

Under this school enlistment option, there are about 200 different schools to choose from. Interested young men would prequalify for the school of his choice prior to enlistment, and receive a guarantee of school attendance.

More information can be obtained from the local recruiter, Sgt. Maurice A. Wilson, 1809 Wilbarger St., Vernon, or call collect LI2-0762 or LI2-4543. Sgt. Wilson has been awarded a US savings bond by Major Hurley for being selected as top recruiter for the past three months by his attaining 126 per cent of his assigned objective. Sgt. Wilson enlisted 19 men during this time.

Progress Exacts Its High Price

Writing in the Oregon Voter, Ralph T. Moore says: "There always seems to be an abundance of those who are eternally looking for something for nothing and a scarcity of those who are willing and anxious to put forth the requisite effort to get ahead. Progress exacts its high price from every generation of men. It decrees that man, to progress, must also work hard. This probably explains why progress comes almost always from adversity and almost never from affluence. And yet the whole atmosphere of this so-called war on poverty is to the effect that the key to progress is held by the common government, which in its superior wisdom, now comes forward to save us all from hard, grueling labor by arbitrarily doing away with poverty via fiat and education."

More children—over 5,000—will die from cancer in 1965 than from any other disease. Prompt diagnosis and treatment could have saved many of these children. Beef Output from Feedlots Increases

During the past calendar year, 1964, 969,000 head of cattle and calves were marketed from Texas feedlots, says Edward Uvacek, Extension livestock marketing specialist and assistant professor at Texas A&M University.

"This is a 227 per cent increase over the number of cattle marketed in 1958," Uvacek says.

Uvacek explains that most of the increase has been in the feedlots of over 1,000 head capacity. And at the present time, slightly over 90 per cent of all Texas cattle on feed are in these larger feedlots, he adds.

Uvacek points out that the majority of the large feedlots are in the Panhandle and Gulf Coast areas of the state.

"Of course, the Panhandle area still has the greater percentage of large feedlots, but the Gulf Coast region is increasing rapidly, both in the number of head on feed and in the number of large feedlots," Uvacek reveals.

He said that in 1958 the Gulf Coast area had 13 large feedlots, while at the present time there are 42 such feedlots located in that area.

"While the number of large feedlots is increasing, the smaller operations are holding fairly stable in the numbers of cattle and calves fed," Uvacek states.

Deaths from uterine cancer have been cut in half in the last 25 years, reports the American Cancer Society. An annual health checkup—including the simple and painless "Pap" smear test—has helped save the lives of many thousands of women. To help cure more, give more. Support the Society's April Crusade.

Cancer strikes with increasing frequency with advancing age. The American Cancer Society urges all adults to have a health checkup each year as their best protection against death from cancer. Fight cancer with a checkup and a check.

a tiny spark of competition

Electric cooperatives serve an average of 3.3 consumers per mile of line while most commercial utilities serve an average of 33 consumers per mile. Electric cooperatives average $460 in revenue per mile of line. Commercial companies average $7,164 per mile. Electric cooperatives maintain 54% of the electric power lines, yet serve only 8% of the people, distribute only 4% of the power and generate only 1% of the electricity.

Now, you can see that electric cooperatives are only a tiny part of the total power picture. But, this tiny spark of competition assures rate protection by comparison. Without it, monopoly would rule both the market and the source of supply.

Political Reward for Aid Programs Can Be Puny

Emmet John Hughes reports in Newsweek: "With equal dismay, Washington and Moscow have learned that the political reward for aid programs can be puny. Indeed, the Soviets may have suffered the more chastening experience. As one U. S. diplomat calculates: 'The Cuban venture costs Moscow something like $1 million a day. Meanwhile, they spent billions to improve life in Eastern Europe—to find every satellite clamoring for greater freedom from Moscow. They poured $800 million into the U. A. R.—to have Nasser slap all local Communists in jail. They equipped the whole Indonesian army—to hear Sukarno snarl his preference for Peking.'"

OBDIENCE

"All gifts to be acceptable to God must be freewill, voluntary gifts. The giver must be pleased with the opportunity and ability to give. It must be the purpose of the heart. Certainly, with these admonitions, it will appear to every thoughtful child of God, that it is necessary that offerings should be freely given in order to be acceptable to the Lord as that baptism should be freely entered into to be acceptable to Him. A forced baptism, one submitted to unwillingly—would be just as acceptable to God as offerings made unwillingly or extracted from men by worldly and fleshly appeals."

We invite each of you to come worship with us at 120 N. 2nd St., Crowell, Texas.

Welton E. Nickel, minister for the Church of Christ.
