Fish Bros. in Land Improvement Program

Each acre of land within its capabilities and treating each acre in accordance with its soil is the objective of the Soil Conservation Service. This is also what Henry and Herbert Fish (pictured above) are doing on the land they own. "We should have started an improvement program ten years ago," is a statement Henry and Hub made as they rest upon a new fence and look at 95 acres of reseeded cropland. They plan an additional 225 acres of pasture improvement by root plowing and seeding, spraying mesquite, and dividing large pastures by fencing to rotate grazing. Their cropland will be terraced with outlets going into a 7-acre grassed waterway and crops planted will be to improve soil fertility. Twenty-eight acres of less desirable cropland will be seeded to native grasses. Henry and Hub began work which will treat each acre according to its needs. As each acre is adequately treated, it affects both the farmer and the community by keeping ponds and lakes from filling with silt, homes from becoming dusty, and also lowers crops that are in surplus.

BETTER-THAN-EXPECTED YIELDS REPORTED AS WHEAT HARVEST GETS UNDERWAY

Wheat Harvest in Truscott Area Termed "Above Average"

Wheat harvest in the Truscott area is slightly above average, according to Lester Hickman, manager of the Farmers Co-Op. Elevator at Truscott, despite the dry winter.

Early spring rains and continued cool, damp weather contributed to the good harvest, at the same time making harvest later than usual. Mr. Hickman reports about one-fourth of the Truscott wheat is still in the field on May 31, contrasting with 1964 when only 3 loads of wheat came in after June 1.

Results have ranged from poor to above average on individual farms, but none suffered the devastating hail which destroyed much of the Truscott and Gilliland wheat crops in 1964.

E. J. Jones delivered the first load of wheat to the Truscott Elevator May 24. Mr. Jones claims he is usually the last to get his wheat out and says it is a welcome change from 1964 when his wheat crop was one of those hard-hit by hail.

Harvesting of Foard County's 1965 wheat crop which got underway last week, had topped the 250,000-bushel mark by noon on Tuesday. Reports from county's three elevators show that a total of 252,180 bushels had been delivered up to that time.

Elevator personnel report that the wheat is testing good, and generally, the yield-per-acre is better than had been forecast.

Wheat in the Thalia community is turning out exceptionally well, and at least one 40-bushel-per-acre yield was reported there.

Showers and heavy dews have almost totally confined the cutting to the late afternoon and early night hours.

A large number of combines and trucks are in the county for the harvest.

LITTLE LEAGUE NEWS

by Marion Crowell

Well, Crowell gets its first Little League tournament this summer. Not much of a tournament in numbers. There will be only two teams, but it'll be a vital cog in the Little League machine. It'll determine an area winner, and the winner here will meet with representatives of winning teams from Iowa Park, Olney and Haskell to determine where the district tournament will be played.

This district has grown like crazy. When we first entered championship play, we went to Sheppard Field, and all teams of the district played in that one three-day tournament. Now there are 23 teams, with 2 more coming in this year, and in the meeting Saturday night in Seymour, we elected for Arch Hughes an able assistant in Morris Cockrell of Seymour. It's possible—in fact, quite probable—that soon there

TEXAS' JUNIOR MISS ENJOYS PLANNING PARTIES

Miss Randa Bowyer of Abilene, crowned Texas' Junior Miss of 1965, is a top-notch hostess, besides being a very attractive young lady with an outstanding personality.

As a result of her superior poise, personality and scholarship, she was a finalist in the America's Junior Miss Pageant at Mobile, Alabama. The contest, which has college scholarships as its top prizes, is open only to high school seniors.

As part of their activities, the 50 state winners participated in a party-planning event sponsored by the Scott Paper Company. Randa scored points with her sense of taste and design. Randa likes to create a different setting at each of the many parties she gives each year, using modern disposable products, Scott Paper Placemats, paper napkins and plastic cups which are economical, smart and young.

Randa's favorite way to entertain is to invite five or six couples to come to her home for supper after a football or basketball game. She makes one of her favorite casseroles—tuna or chicken—and serves it with a green salad and a choice of coffee, milk or coke. After supper, everyone talks over the game and dances to records. Because teen appetites are generally insatiable, Randa always has an assortment of nuts, potato chips and pretzels on hand for late evening nibbling.

Comments Made on Race Relations

"This writer wishes he could write some pungent intelligent material about the problem of the races. To hear the politicians and the theorists talk, all that is required is 'equalization' by legislation. But there is no equality—nor has there ever been even for those in the same predominant race of the country. As long as there are human beings, there will be competition for the limited positions at the top, and there will be various routes whereby certain persons may achieve them. In the race, many, many will suffer disappointments and readjustments will have to be made. Only the virtues in human relationships can ease these matters and they are here with us to be practiced now as in the future."—Myrtle Creek, Ore., Mail.

Two Minutes With the Bible

Heaven—And Who Will Go?

Most people are surprised they learn that the Old Testament, though three times as long as the New, does not contain a single promise about going to heaven. God's people, in Old Testament times, looked forward to a glorified earth, with Me as its Ruler.

This was so even when our Lord was on earth and through Peter, addressing his men just after Pentecost, said: "Repent, and God will send Jesus down here" (see Acts 3:19-20), but Paul, in his epistles, by divine inspiration, says by divine inspiration, believe, and God will take you there."

This apostle of grace tells us that God has already promised "all spiritual blessings" in Christ (Eph. 2:4-6; 1:3), he teaches further that at the close of this dispensation of "the dead in Christ shall rise" "we which are alive and shall be caught up together to meet the Lord . . . and so we ever with the Lord" (1 Thes. 4:16, 17).

Thus it is that Paul, God's apostle for our day, declares that "our citizenship is in heaven" (Phil. 3:20) and writes of "hope which is laid up for you in heaven" (Col. 1:5). This is that he encourages people to say: "Ye . . . fully the spoiling of your knowing . . . that we have heaven a better and an end substance" (Heb. 10:34), thus he writes even of death: "For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens" (II Cor. 5:1).

" . . . to die is gain . . . part and be with Christ . . . far better" (Phil. 1:23).

Keep Cool Electrically with a Paramount Cooler!

The Young Married Set enjoys fine weather all summer with their Paramount Evaporative Cooler. Exclusive with a Paramount are the "No-Clog, Sta Fresh" filters, made of rich redwood combined with clean, white aspen. "Sta Fresh" filters have a dual mesh construction. The outside coarse mesh prevents clogging and plugging yet provides a minimum of air resistance and a maximum of clean, cool, fresh air. The fine inner mesh offers complete protection from insects and keeps fibers from protruding into the cooler. See these famous Paramount Coolers at your nearest WTU Office.

48,000 Americans Died in Traffic Accidents in 1965

In 1962 highways deaths topped the 40,000 mark. As 1965 gets underway the 50,000 mark is not far away. In 1964 America's highways were stained with the blood of 48,000 persons.

Tragedy did not stop with the deaths, but added 3,840,000 persons to the injured list, according to The Travelers Insurance Companies which has completed a survey of statistics from state motor vehicle departments. Four million copies of The Travelers report are distributed annually.

Adverse weather was not an important contributing factor. Records show that 90 per cent of the fatal crashes occurred on clear days and on dry roads. The remaining 10 per cent occurred in fog, rain and snowy weather.

Excessive speed continues to hold top spot in the list of accident causes, with driving on the wrong side of the road and reckless driving taking second and third places respectively. Pedestrians were at fault in many of the fatal accidents, with crossing between intersections being the top killer.

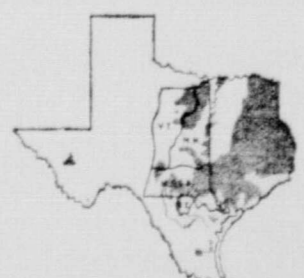

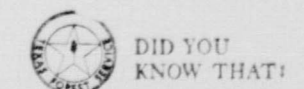

Youthful drivers hold the greatest responsibility in the highway death list. They were involved in more than 29 per cent of the fatal accidents while representing about 15 per cent of all licensed drivers in the country. Older drivers, those over 65, were involved in 7.7 per cent of the 1964 fatalities. They represent about 7 per cent of the driving population.

'Nationalization' of Country's Railroads

"News releases indicate that union leaders throughout the nation have agreed that 'nationalization' of the country's railroad systems should be undertaken. The allegation is that private ownership is not sufficiently concerned with service to the public. Logically, the next step would be for the powerful unions in the printing and publishing field to 'nationalize' the field of communications—press, radio, television. This could be the vital step . . . for federal control of mass media (and) could make certain that thorough indoctrination of 'approved' policies would result in public approval and compliance." —Junction City, Ore., Times.

Suppose We All Acted Like the Labor Unions

"As David Lawrence tells, the longshoremen strike already cost two and a half billion dollars. That's how expensive those labor wars are—no less than the other wars. But whoever disagrees with these wars, is against the working people. Suppose all of us would act like those big labor unions? What kind of country would this be?" —Moulton, Texas, Eagle.

According to the Texas Forest Service, the forest regions of Texas embrace 26 1/2 million acres. This is more than the total acreage of the states of New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Vermont and Massachusetts. Accounting for the biggest share of acreage is the pine-hardwood area of East Texas, 12 1/2 million acres. The other 14 million acres of forests include the post oak, east and west cross timbers, cedar breaks, mountain forests of West Texas, coastal forests and miscellaneous forests in stream bottoms.

Difference is Results

"In the United States, the government is forever seeking to make everyone and everything more productive and more efficient. In the Soviet countries, the government is apparently trying to do the same thing. The difference in the results, of course, is the Free Enterprise system, which is the father of ingenuity and initiative. Take away the freedom of choice which we are supposed to enjoy; take away the personal desire to achieve; the individual will to improve and make better, and we have little more than communism in socialism!"—Clanton, Ala., News.

LIBRARY NEWS

The Foard County Library Summer Reading Club is accepting members now, according to Mrs. Beatrice Brock, librarian.

The library is trying to enroll more children in summer reading this year as part of the plan for cooperation between the library and local school.

Of course you want your child to do well in school next year. Yet, much of his success will depend on his ability to get geography, health, science and arithmetic facts by reading.

Now is the time to encourage your child to read, read, read, all summer long. If he goes through June, July and August without reading activity, his reading ability can take a nose dive. A summer without reading can rob him of reading abilities he needs in the year ahead.

You can provide your child with worthwhile, enjoyable reading during the summer months. Help him get a head start on next year.

You can keep him reading all summer long (and liking it) for only 35 cents—about the price of a funny book. The library has easy books for the beginning reader as well as baseball books, adventure, mystery, horse, dog, cowboy and Indian books for elementary and junior high levels.

Visit the library and take home one or two books for the children in your family. They'll be glad you did.

Summer memberships for children are only 35 cents and one year family memberships are one dollar.

Details of the games are as follows:

Tuesday night, May 25, 6 p. m.: VFW 9, Crowell State Bank 7. With Ken Sellers the big noise in the Vet attack, VFW nosed out Crowell State Bank in this one. Vet pitchers Jessie Barrera and Bill Lynch struck out nine and allowed three walks. Brave pitchers Frog Smith and Bill Erwin struck out seven and issued nine walks.

For Crowell State Bank, Pat Cates hit two-for-three, and Bill Erwin and Frog Smith each slash-

Makes Comment on Medicare

From Barron's, National Business and Financial Weekly: "The bitter truth is that medicare . . . would thrust bureaucracy into an area already well served by both private enterprise and public charity. At the end of 1962, no fewer than three out of four Americans 65 or older had some means of meeting their health-care costs. For those in want, the resources now available range from general welfare assistance to special aid under the Kerr-Mills Act. Those able to stand on their own feet financially enjoy an ever-widening choice of coverages, from Blue Cross and Blue Shield to the variety of policies issued by insurance companies. By raising the false hope of government-issued security, medicare threatens to weaken, if not to destroy, the incentive for every citizen to prepare as best he can for his old age."

Texas Farm and Ranch Land Get More Valuable

Texas farm and ranch land prices reached a record high of $94 an acre in 1963. This, said Boyd Andrews, Extension resource development specialist at Texas A&M University, was an increase of 10 per cent over the average price in 1960.

He added that a recent study by the resource economics section of A&M's Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology points out other interesting facts. Due to the vast differences in soil types and locations, sale prices ranged from $20 to over $1,000 per acre.

While land prices moved upward, the net farm income was declining. Thus requiring a larger investment for a smaller return. A popular view expressed to the study group was that the low net farm income does not justify the existing high land prices, Andrews said.

But a closer look at the dominant sources of demand for agricultural lands may help explain the situation, the specialist added. First, he said, the average net farm income can be misleading. Many farmers and ranchers receive a far greater return than the average indicates. This group is capable of adjusting rapidly to incorporate technological advances and financially able to bid up the price of land to gain a larger economic sized unit. The strong demand for strictly agricultural land comes almost entirely from this group, Andrews said.

Another important source of demand for agricultural land is from industry and urban developments. In many areas of Texas, industry is expanding and using large acreages of agricultural land and pushing prices upward. Urban centers are spreading out and taking up more and more land and highways are also taking their share, the specialist said. These intensive uses of land exert great influence on land prices, the study noted.

A third important source of demand comes from urban dwellers. These buyers are interested in using land for agricultural purposes as well as farm homes, week end farms and for recreation.

These demand sources for land are the dominant forces in the Texas land market and are not expected to change in the near future, Andrews concluded.

H. E. Markley (left), Executive Vice President of The Timken Roller Bearing Company, accepts the firm's new Jet Commander from Forest Beckett, President of Youngstown Airways, Inc. at the Akron-Canton (Ohio) Airport.

The first Jet Commander manufactured for delivery to a customer was received recently by The Timken Roller Bearing Company in Canton, Ohio. The sleek new jet is one of the first transport category twin turbojet business planes to be manufactured and marketed in the United States.

Manufactured by the Aero Commander division of Rockwell-Standard Corporation, the Timken bearing-equipped Jet Commander is one of the newest aircraft to be certified by the FAA. Pressurized, this jet craft carries up to seven persons including a two-man crew, climbs at 6,000 feet per minute, has an operating ceiling of 40,000 feet and has a cruise speed of 527 miles per hour. The two General Electric CJ 610-1 jet engines produce 2,850 pounds thrust at take-off. The airplane has a ramp weight of 17,100 pounds and a take-off and landing weight of 16,800 pounds. Timken tapered roller bearings are located in the wheels of the new plane.

MIAMI CORAL PARK Senior High School in Florida is one of five school buildings in the Miami area for which fallout shelter was especially designed. The library (lower photo) is part of a central core of rooms protected from radiation on all sides and above by corridors or classrooms and providing shelter space for 1,850. Small windows and an attractive exterior baffle wall (top photo, at center) shielding the main entrance corridor from radiation are added fallout-protective features. The technique of providing a radiation-shielded central core area containing the school's service facilities has been praised by school officials. Miami Coral Park is one of 34 structures cited in "New Buildings With Fallout Protection" (TR-27), a newly issued publication of the Defense Department's Office of Civil Defense.

FALLOUT SHELTER at no extra cost is inherent in the basic design of the $2.8 million East Central Senior High School now under construction at Tulsa, Okla. The nearly-windowless building's concrete floors and heavy masonry double walls not only make for better air conditioning and muffling of nearby airport noise, but also result in excellent fallout protection on three floors of the central core and the ground floor of the far wing. It is one of 34 structures described in "New Buildings With Fallout Protection" (TR-27), a new publication of the Defense Department's Office of Civil Defense, now available from the U.S. Army AG Publications Center, Civil Defense Branch, 2800 Eastern Blvd., Baltimore, Md. 21220.

Give Fingerlings a Chance!

Farmers and ranchers planning to stock their ponds this spring should remove adult fish from the pond before introducing fingerlings, says Joe Burkett, County agent.

"Additional stocking of a pond previously stocked is seldom the solution to poor fishing problems," said Burkett. "Bass fingerlings introduced into a pond having a few adults are almost certain to be eaten by the larger fish. Adult bass will also eat catfish and sunfish fingerlings."

One common mistake often made after stocking fingerlings is putting in a few large fish that someone has caught, hoping to produce a few "big ones" in a hurry. These larger fish will eat the fingerlings just as would the old adult fish.

Adult fish populations in private ponds can be removed by the use of rotenone. Rotenone is not a poison. Since the fish are killed by suffocation, they are safe for human consumption.

Five pounds of 5 per cent rotenone powder per acre foot of water is the usual recommendation.

"Once adult fish are removed, you can be fairly certain your new fingerlings will grow to a catchable size in a short time," said Burkett. "Detailed information on rates and application methods are available at my office."

War Is Expensive

"War is expensive even the one we're about to launch against poverty. The Office of Economic Opportunity, which will direct the battle, has taken a 10-year lease on seven stories of a new office building in downtown Washington. Annual rent will be $8,225,000. Note that ten-year lease. Was it necessary to commit the taxpayers to that long a lease? Or does it mean that the bureaucrats are convinced it will take ten years to win the war? If so, it will be a short one considering the fact we have had poverty since Biblical days."—Goshen, Ind. News.

America Is Beset by a Sickness

"America is beset by a sickness called 'something for nothing'... Nature's laws are orderly, consistent and practical. We can use those laws to earn what we want. Every time a scientist discovers a new fact about the orderly universe, we have more knowledge with which to control our own destinies. The human being is capable of living a happy, fruitful life—if he's willing to accept nature as it is... Do you face reality and use it to better your life—or are you praying that the laws of nature will be repealed?"—Tenino, Wash., Independent.

Frightening Odds Except for Two Facts

President Walter F. Carey of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States says: "Fully one billion—one third of the world population—is in the Communist camp and is regimented against the half-billion in the Free World. The 2 to 1 odds would be more frightening than they are except for two facts. One is that power of the Free World is centered in the most highly industrialized and science-minded nations. The United States, Canada, Western Europe, Japan and Australia are still more than a match for Russia and Red China in every form of production. The other fact is that the rest of the world—one and a half billion people—lives in the underdeveloped, uncommitted countries, and that we can offer them more in every spiritual and material way than the Communist bloc..."
