Quannah Indians Hand Crowell Wildcats First Loss of Season, 33-14 Score

Crowell High School Wildcat team suffered its first loss of the season last Friday night when the Quannah Indians took a 33-14 victory over the Wildcats.

A bad snap on a punting down early in the second quarter cost Quannah a lot of yardage and set up a Crowell touchdown on a 50-yard drive. It took the Wildcats 12 plays to score. Randy Adkins, following blocks by Tommy Carpenter, Mike Payne and Randy Smith, ran for the final 11 yards and the tally. Adkins ran for the two extra points.

Aided by a 14-yard personal foul that took the ball half the distance of the goal, Quannah scored just before the half on a six-yard run by Danny Morris. Richardson kicked the extra point.

Mack Shelton pounced on a Quannah punt which touched a Wildcat back for another Indian score late in the third quarter. Less than two minutes later the Indians intercepted a pass, and, aided by a personal foul against Crowell, were able to hang up their last touchdown.

The game's final touchdown was the most spectacular. Late in the fourth quarter, Quannah was knocking at the goal when Lee Looney picked off a stray pass and sailed 95 yards up the sidelines for the Wildcat's second touchdown.

The entire Wildcat team played well against the Indians, but were unable to cope with the Class AA team, who have now won four straight this season. It was the Wildcats' first loss and their last non-conference game, as they go to Henrietta tomorrow night to open their conference season.

Local Women Attend District Cancer Meeting

"We could be saving 41,000 women a year with full utilization of all techniques to fight uterine cancer," Dr. Jabez Galt of Dallas told delegates to the American Cancer Society district annual meeting. FORD INTRODUCING 1966 LINE OF CARS

Dramatic fresh styling—including a new 2-door hardtop roof line—a new "7 Litre" series with 428-cubic-inch V8 engine and front-wheel power disc brakes, and even higher standards of quietness, luxury and performance stand out among 1966 Ford features.

"The Ford was all-new just a year ago," said M. S. McLaughlin, Ford Division assistant general manager. "It represented the greatest tooling investment in division history and was superior in ride and quietness to some of the world's finest cars. In every sense, we had a sound competitive base for 1966 but we chose not to stand still."

—Page 2—
Foard County News
Crowell, Tex., September 30, 1965

On that solid foundation we have built still more safety, convenience, quietness and performance into all 1966 Fords."

Important revisions have been made in the revolutionary Ford suspension design introduced in 1965 to provide an even quieter ride and better handling in 1966. Front spring and shock absorber rates have been modified, and the rear suspension track bar has been lowered to achieve a better "balanced" ride. This fine tuning of the 1966 Ford suspension provides a better handling feel with reduced pitch and improved straight-line stability.

The number of engines available to Ford buyers has been increased to nine in 1966 from six in 1965.

Heading the list of new engine choices is a 428-cubic-inch V8 with hydraulic valve lifters. This engine is standard on the new 7 Litre series, and is optional on all other Ford models. It is unique in offering the best of two worlds—outstanding performance combined with smoothness, quietness and low-speed tractability.

Another advantage is that the new 428 can be ordered with automatic transmission, power steering, power brakes, air conditioning and limited-slip differential—options not available with the extra high-performance 427 engine.

A special handling package similar to that standard with the 427 engine—including heavy-duty shock absorbers, springs and stabilizer bar—is optional for 428-powered cars.

Front-wheel power disc brakes are another standard feature of the 7 Litre series. They may be ordered on all other Fords for 1966. Disc brakes were pioneered on the Thunderbird and Mustang in 1965.

Advantages include optimum fade resistance, quieter operation, casier serviceability, self-adjustment, and lining life equal to or better than regular brakes.

A Stereonic tape player that provides up to 80 minutes of selected stereo music is another option new for Ford buyers in 1966. The tape player mounts underneath the dash.

Ford pioneering in station wagon design also continues in 1966. To the dual center-facing rear seats and built-in rear window air deflector introduced last year has been added a new standard equipment dual-action tailgate. The dual-action tailgate may be opened either as a conventional tailgate for carrying long loads, or as a door to permit easy access to the cargo area or the dual-facing rear seat.

Introduction of the all-new Ford Galaxie 500 7 Litre series with convertible and 2-door hardtop models expands the 1966 Ford lineup to 19 models in nine series from 17 models in eight series.

New safety features standard on all 1966 Fords include outside rear-view mirror, backup lights, padded dash and visors, rear seat belts, windshield washers and emergency flashers. New Fords also feature a thicker laminate windshield which has been shown to provide added protection in the event of a collision.

Heading the list of new engine choices is a 428-CID four-barrel V8 with hydraulic valve lifters. A second new engine optional on all 1966 Fords except the 7 Litre is the regular fuel 390-CID two-barrel V8. Other optional engines include the 352-CID four-barrel V8, the 390-CID four-barrel V8, the 427 four-barrel V8, the 428 four-barrel V8 and the 428 four-barrel police interceptor.

The three-speed Cruise-O-Matic automatic transmission remains an option with all engines except the 427 high-performance. The three-speed manual all synchromesh transmission is standard with the 210-CID six and the 289 two-barrel V8. A four-speed manual all synchromesh transmission is optional with the 390 four-barrel V8, 428 four-barrel V8, and 427 high performance engines.

Power operated disc brakes—standard on the 7 Litre series and optional on all other Fords for 1966, employ the design proven on the Thunderbird. Ventilated cast iron discs are 11.87 inches in diameter. Each of the two oblong brake pads that grip the discs is operated by two hydraulic cylinders and has a pad area of 10.03 square inches.

A distinctive roof line is featured on two new Thunderbird models for 1966, the Town Landau, top, and the Town Landau with convertibles and the traditional "town car" look as exemplified by the roof line continued on 1966 Thunderbird hardtops. The sportiness is reflected in the styling of all 1966 Thunderbirds and in availability of an optional 428-cubic-inch performance engine. Other new options include a Stereonic tape player integrated into the radio in the center console, and fingertip automatic Highway Pilot speed control integrated into the steering wheel. An overhead console containing door-ajar warning light, fasten-seat-belt warning light, emergency flashers and low-beam warning light is standard on all "Town" models. All 1966 Thunderbirds will be in Ford dealer showrooms October 1.

The skillful blending of crisp and soft surfaces gives the 1966 Ford a look that is new but still clearly Ford.

The new silhouette includes a subtle, graceful hop-up in the rear quarter area—complemented by a divergent sculptured line in the lower rear quarter, reminiscent of 1965-66 Thunderbirds. A sculptured windsplit runs from the front fender to the rear quarter. All 1966 Fords will be in Ford dealer showrooms on October 1.

DID YOU KNOW THAT?

It is a violation of the law either carelessly or deliberately to set fire to the lands of another. The 1951 Legislature made it a felony for a person to deliberately set fire to grass or forest land owned by another. The act is a misdemeanor to negligently set, or to be set on fire, the lands of another. The Texas Forest Service is primarily responsible for enforcing these statutes.

Hatchery Stocks Bigger Catfish

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's fish hatchery at Olmito is stocking larger catfish this year than usual, according to Bill Moncus, hatchery superintendent.

During the period when catfish ponds would normally have been drained, the hatchery was undergoing major modification, and it was impossible to drain the ponds.
 As a result of holding the fish,
 there are fewer fish available, but they are much larger than are usually stocked.

Fewer fish per acre are being placed in the water, but because of their large size, the survival rate should be very high.

Principal improvements in the 1966 Chevrolet truck line include six new engines, an optional
 three-speed automatic transmission, a new three-ton series with payload capacity up to 34,000 lbs., a restyled more efficient heavy-duty cab design, and addition of several safety items as standard equipment.

To meet highly specialized needs of truck users, Chevrolet has revised and expanded its line to 366 models, including 101 new offerings which are divided almost equally between gasoline and diesel power.

The six new engines bring to 25 the number of different power plants offered—17 gasoline and 8 diesel. Discontinued for 1966 are the 153 cu. in. four and the 348 and 409 cu. in. V8's.

Gas engines new to the 1966
 Chevrolet truck line are a 250
 cu. in. six of 155 hp, a 366 cu. in.
 V8 of 220 hp, a 396 cu. in. V8 with ratings of 325 and 360 hp.,
 and two V6's of 401 and 478 cu.
 in. displacement developing 237
 and 254 hp.

The new diesel is a 637 cu. in.
 four-cycle V8 in two versions developing 195 and 220 hp. It is offered in two models of a new heavy-duty series with gross combination weight ratings up to 65, 000 lbs.

The 250 cu. in. six is based on the highly successful design of the Chevrolet 230 cu. in. six, which is retained in the line for some light-duty models. The new engine is much smoother and quieter than previous in-line sixes.

The 366 cu. in. V8 engine is replaces, but its design differs substantially from its predecessor.

 Major emphasis in the new engine is on structural strength and rigidity. Cylinder wall thickness is 25 per cent greater and block structure is much heavier than in any previous Chevrolet gasoline truck engine.

The 396 cu. in. engine is similar to the 366 in design and features,
 but gets its greater displacement
 through a larger cylinder bore.

The 401 and 478 cu. in. V6 engines are modern power plants with over-square design for low friction and maximum efficiency,
 economy, and operating life.
 Truck durability is designed and built into these two new power plants.

The new 637 cu. in. V8 diesel is of the same basic design and construction as the 478 cu. in.
 V6 introduced in Chevrolet trucks
 last year, but with a larger displacement derived from the additional two cylinders.

Two versions of the V8 engine
 will be offered. They will be identical in all respects, except that one will have a precise calibration of the fuel pump to deliver a greater amount of fuel to the nozzles for an additional 25 horsepower approximately the same size and weight as the 348 cu. in. V8 it

Biggest appearance change in the 1966 Chevrolet truck line is a new short cab measuring only 92 inches from bumper to back of cab. Designed for the heaviest-duty models, it provides more efficient load distribution and more capacity for cargo in relation to overall length, yet retains the advantages of conventional cab design.

For low maintenance, the hood,
 grille, fender, and running board panels are easily removed for damage replacement or for access to the chassis. Also, exterior sheet metal has lap joints for excellent sealing, corrosion resistance and durability.

Several safety items have been made standard equipment on most models. Included are seat belts on all except chassis-cows and step-vans; windshield washer and two-speed electric wipers with no-glare arms on all but chassis-cows; right hand mirror to match existing lefthand mirror on all cabs and panels; inside shatterproof mirror on pickups and suburban carryalls; backup lights on pickups, panels, suburbans, stakes and Chevy-Van; corrosion-resistant brake lines on all models, and no-glare instrument panel on all but chassis-cows and step-vans.

During modernization of downtown shopping areas, unusual ways to raise funds may present themselves. At Pomona, Calif., the city sold the alley, above, as a site for the lingerie shop, below. The money from the sale went to build a community parking lot nearby, to help shoppers and merchants.

Nine Plentiful Foods Highlight Market Counters in October

Nine plentiful foods will highlight market counters during October, says the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Featured on the U. S. Department of Agriculture's plentiful foods list are apples. Other plentiful, as determined by USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service, are shelled pecans, dried prunes and frozen concentrated orange juice; broiler-fryers, turkeys and cheese; rice and onions.

Cooler weather will promote interest in baked apples, as well as apples for eating out of hand. And what could be better than fresh apple pie!

Shelled pecans also present lots of cooking variety. Use them in homemade cookies, pies and other desserts.

Plump prunes are mighty tasty on the breakfast menu, as well as for many breads and cakes.

And you'll want to put orange juice at every place at the breakfast table. What a pleasant morning wake-up.

Rice makes a delicious breakfast cereal. Or serve it for lunch, in a salad or to accent main dishes. Onions can add lively flavor to almost all of your October cooking.

From informal lunches to the fanciest of dinners, broilers and turkeys will be excellent for the main dish. Broilers readily lend themselves to recipes calling for chopped, cooked chicken. You'll find turkey pie a popular item, as well as the ever popular roast turkey.

You may want to fashion cheese into a rarebit sauce. Or it's always a mainstay in sandwiches, salads and salad dressings.

For economy and wide selection, build your October menus around these plentiful foods.

YOUR news is what makes the Foard County News. Don't forget to call us when you have out-of-town visitors, or you go out of town visiting relatives or friends.

A catch as sensational as any of those you read about in fiction saved the game for Crowell in the last half of the 9th inning at Elmer, Okla., Sunday when Crowell won 8 to 7 in the second game of the play-off series. Hack Norman provided the fielding masterpiece.

Preliminary work in raising low places on Foard County's concrete highway pavement was started Monday. Initial work was done on the curve of Highway 28 about four miles east of Crowell at a point commonly known as the "Jim Bell tank."

A total of 289 checks amounting to $21,659 were received at the office of the county agent Monday for distribution to wheat growers of Foard County.

Another general rain, amounting to .31 inch in Crowell, fell over Foard County Tuesday.

Eighteen to twenty thousand bushels of sweet potatoes may be gathered from 3 irrigated farms in the Rayland community within the next few weeks, according to present indications.

Texas Tech to Observe Fortieth Anniversary During October

The month of October will be one of the most memorable and eventful 31-day periods in Texas Tech's history as the college pauses—as much as a bustling university with 15,000 plus students can pause—to mark its 40th anniversary.

The theme for the 40th anniversary celebration will be one of recognition and honor for those who were instrumental in establishing the college.

Special guest lists will include members of the original faculty, the first football team, the locating board which put the college at Lubbock and many others including current state officials and administrative leaders from other colleges and universities throughout Texas and eastern New Mexico.

Tech Board Member Alvin R. Allison, Levelland, is general chairman of the executive committee which will oversee the entire month of festivities. An individual committee for each week end's activities has been created.

The Red Raiders play at home four Saturdays during the month. Different groups will be honored each week end.

Dr. Clifford Jones, president emeritus of the college, is the only living member of the first board of directors, and he will be a special honor guest as well as a member of the coordinating committee.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith will serve as honorary chairman of the first week end celebration.

Another former president, Dr. D. M. Wiggins, Lubbock, who was recently named to Gov. John Connally's higher education coordinating board, also will be participating. Another group to be honored will be the 1939 Red Raider football team which played in the Cotton Bowl.

On Oct. 2, Tech plays host to Texas A&M in a Southwest Conference game. The Oct. 9 game, another SWC tilt, is against Texas Christian University. Oklahoma State University, returning to the Tech schedule this year, will be in Lubbock for the Oct. 16 date, and the final week end of Oct. 30 finds Rice University's Owls as the Raider foe. The October 30 date also is the college's annual homecoming.

The religious survey was conducted in the county last month and about 2400 people were counted. Mr. McCord said that of this number, over 300 people do not belong to any church. He also told the club of his recent trip and some of his experiences.

Texas Retail Trade Statistics Shown in Census Bureau Report

Automobile and truck sales, plus the fuel, oil and accessories to keep them running, took more than 28 per cent of Texas' retail trade dollars in 1963.

Of the state's retail clothing sales in 1963, less than 36 per cent was for men's and boys' apparel.

More than one-fourth of retail trade business in Texas in 1963 was accounted for by food—groceries for home consumption and for meals and snacks eaten out.

These are among statistics which appear in a new report on the 1963 Census of Business (Retail Trade) just issued by the U. S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census.

The report presents data on the number of establishments, sales and percentage of sales accounted for by specific merchandise lines for the entire West South Central area consisting of Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas, for each of the four states, for each standard metropolitan statistical area and for parts of the states outside those areas.

For each, the report presents data on sales of 25 separate classes of items in over 100 different kinds of retail establishments, making it possible to check on sales of various merchandise lines and the percentage which those lines account for in total sales of different retail establishments.

The report, one of 10 covering nine divisions of the United States and the nation as a whole, is "Retail Trade, Merchandise Line Sales, West South Central States." It is for sale by the Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402, or by any U. S. Department of Commerce field office. The price of the report is $2.75 and the entire set is $24.60.

Peace Geese Skip Texas for Mexico

Better postpone licking your lips in anticipation of future goose dinners based on overhead nocturnal calls being heard these days.

They're from migrating geese in all likelihood.

But C. D. Stutzenbaker, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologist, suspects the big birds are not for Texas dinners.

The waterfowl specialist said there is an unsubstantiated theory that the early Canadian and white front arrivals from the northland may skip Texas and scoot on down into Mexico for the winter.

This is just one of nature's intriguing mysteries that challenge wildlife men. In time, it is hoped through banding and other studies that the factual story of the early flights will be determined.

Stutzenbaker pointed out that geese do not breed until two years of age and that the yearlings, lacking any parental responsibilities or family restrictions, might take off early, perhaps stop over once or twice along the flyway, and then high tail it farther southward.

The Department field man, whose base of operations is the Murphree Wildlife Management Area near Port Arthur, said it won't be long now, though, until the mighty geese flocks reach the coastal marshes and set up feeding routine in the vast rice fields.

Tom Waddell, retired game warden supervisor and unofficial custodian of the huge Lissie Prairie hunting areas in Colorado County, said the geese advance echelon are due any day and that the major buildup will occur around October 15, in ample time to fatten up the migrants for the ten weeks season opening October 30.

You Have to See to Believe It

"The United States government is currently pleading against its citizens to please, please, not destroy the natural beauty of their national parks. We have to see the abuse and destruction of our natural resources to believe it could happen. Enlightened civilization, by opening it is, and to such extent that it is both frightening and sickening."—Dickinson Press.
