Trying Desperately to Avoid in Viet Nam

Shortly before his untimely death in London, Adlai Stevenson said: "Aggression begets aggression. Retreat begets retreat. We either stand, as we discovered in Europe, and hold the line at appropriate places or we don't. And if we don't and aggression succeeds, they knock on door after door and find that they open. Ultimately they come to the ultimate door where resistance becomes imperative. Then you have a holocaust. You have a major war. This is what we are trying desperately to avoid in South Viet Nam."

Although the Coast Guard is usually thought of as an "at home" service, Coast Guardsmen are on active duty in Spain, England, Guam, Japan, Viet Nam and Turkey, and many other countries throughout the world.

WTU President Elected President of Parent Company

The corporation, in which WTU is an operating subsidiary, is a public utility holding company with properties in Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Arkansas. Phillips succeeds John S. Osborne, who died in Chicago on October 19.

Following his retirement as president in 1955, Cal Young served as president of WTU from August, 1955, until his mandatory retirement at age 65 in February, 1964, and he now serves as chairman of the WTU board.

Two Minutes With the Bible

God's Eternal Purpose

Have you ever considered carefully the opening words of the Bible? "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth." Why doesn't it simply say that God created the universe? Why the heaven and the earth?

As we go on reading we find the answer to this question, for the Bible clearly teaches that God has a two-fold purpose; one having to do with the earth and the other with heaven. The former is the subject of prophecy, while the latter is the subject of "the mystery," or secret, revealed to and through St. Paul. (See Acts 3:21, and of Rom. 16:25). The former concerns Israel and the nations; the latter "the Body of Christ," the Church of the heavenly calling.

Some people are surprised to learn that there is not one promise in the whole Old Testament about going to heaven. There the whole outlook is earthly, with Messiah reigning as King (Jer. 23:5; etc al). When our Lord appeared in the flesh the angels cried: "Peace on earth" (Luke 2:14). He Himself said that "the meek" should "inherit the earth" (Matt. 5:5). He taught His disciples to pray: "Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven" (Matt. 6:10). Even at Pentecost Peter declared that after "the restitution of all things" God would send Jesus back to earth and the times of refreshing would "come from the presence of the Lord" (Acts 3:19-21).

Not until the raising up of Paul do we learn that now all believers in Christ are "baptized into one body" (1 Cor. 12:13), and Col. 1:5 and many other Pauline passages speak of "the hope which is laid up for you in heaven." Indeed, before God believers are already given a position "in heavenly places" and are "blessed with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ" (Eph. 1:3; 2:4-7).

The prophecies regarding the kingdom, however, will still be fulfilled and Christ will reign on earth and bring the promised "times of refreshing." Thank God, this world will not forever be a place of war and bloodshed, sickness and death, misery and woe. Indeed, at that time, heaven and earth will be opened to each other, and thus will be fulfilled God's two-fold purpose: "That in the dispensation of the fullness of times He might gather together in one all things in Christ, both which are in heaven, and which are on earth; even in Him" (Eph. 1:10).

State Genealogical Society to Meet in Austin Thanksgiving

The Texas State Genealogical Society will hold its annual Texas Genealogical convention Thanksgiving week end, Nov. 26 and 27, at Austin in the Commodore Perry Hotel.

Anyone interested in local, church, and family history is invited to attend the series of lectures to be given by Pollyanna Creekmore of Knoxville, Tenn., the well known authority on Tennessee history and genealogy; and by Dr. Ben H. Procter, Texas Christian University history professor, with degrees from the University of Texas and Harvard University.

Would Take Away Freedom of Individual

... President Johnson and his administration along with liberal lawmakers and self-seeking labor bosses are furthering the substitution of force and compulsion for freedom of choice by urging the repeal of Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act. This would take away the freedom of the individual to choose whether or not he wants to join a union. Compulsion has no place in a republic. Every American should have the right to work, whether he wants to join a union or not. —Grayslake, Ill., Times.

Redfish "Graze" on Pasture Lands

High, seasonal tides along the middle Texas coast, helped along by southeast winds, reportedly have scattered fish and made locating them difficult.

Redfish and flounder especially have utilized the high water to wander far afield. Land where, a few days ago, cattle grazed is now the feeding ground for these popular game fish.

Fat Bucks Ready for 1965 Sports

Cheer up you big game hunters, and don't wear yourself out readying for the stalking techniques!

A Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologist, on location in the Hill Country, said prospects definitely are good for the coming deer season. And the negative angles that stymied the 1964 shoot may not prevail again this fall.

This man is Rod Marburger, who headquarters at Kerrville. He said deer just don't seem to be as spooky as last year when the herds, although over-populated in many areas, kept safely behind the unseasonable heavy vegetation and circumscribed hunters operating from blinds.

Marburger said the difference in the summer may make the difference with the sportsmen's luck because deer generally had ample feed throughout last summer. This contrasts with the 1964 summer when deer were on short summer rations because of a drought. Then came the lush fall growth from good rains, and the deer apparently gored themselves and kept to the dense cover, safely separated from the baited areas and specially planted out fields.

Now, said the wildlife biologist, deer just don't seem to be so jittery because of a normal summer diet, and definitely are in superb condition.

Marburger said the overdue killing frost in the Edwards Plateau country seems to be part of the mild fall pattern which has permitted leaves and other vegetation to provide more protective cover. But he doesn't consider that a major factor in the average hunter's experience afield.

Prospects, he decided, definitely are good, both from a venison and trophy angle in the popular Hill Country range.

He served as pastor of the following churches during his active years: Idalou, O'Donnell, Mulehoe, White Deer, Perryton, Seymour, Floydada, Wellington, Ralls, Crowell, Spearman, Baird, Higgins, Sunray, McLean, LeFors and Pine Street (now Lakeview) in Dalhart.

Play to Be Presented at School Auditorium

The National Thespian Society is presenting a three-act comedy play called, "The Great Big Doorstep," on Tuesday night, Nov. 9, at 7:30 in the Crowell High School auditorium.

Those students having parts are Paula Vecera, Shirley Rasberry, Vickie Spikes, Pam Carter, Cathy McLain, Monty Smith, Paul Stapp, Rosa Lee Latimer, Joe Mike Fish, Jackie Eddy, Albert Santos and Gayle Russell.

A brief resume' of the play is: The Crochets found a magnificent doorstep floating down the Mississippi River. Mrs. Crochet felt that her dream of a home might really come true. Then they heard of a place about to be sold for $60 back taxes . . . a lovely, tidy home, with even as Mr. Crochet would say, 'scream windows.' But $60 was a lot of money to them. With both humor and pathos, they try to live up to their great big doorstep.

Born June 2, 1891, in Denton County, he went to Childress in 1914. He was a Crowell resident for a time during his youth.

Survivors include his wife, two sons, two grandchildren, four brothers and one sister.

Attending the funeral services from Crowell were Mr. Bruce, Mrs. Frank Moore and Mrs. W. W. Lemons.

Gun Mishaps Bring Hints for Caution

Concern over the juvenile casualty rate during the comparatively new fall hunting season was expressed by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

For the first eight hunting fatalities were youngsters, all 15 or under. They included two 15-year-olds, one lad 14 and one 11.

Preliminary reports indicated unfamiliarity with shotguns caused at least three of the four deaths since they were shot by guns in the hands of other lads.

In the two latest accidents involving teenagers, a 14-year-old was shot with a gun used by a 12-year-old. In the other, a 15-year-old was killed when he stepped into a hole causing his gun to be discharged.

Two of the four adult victims reported this fall died of self-inflicted wounds. The gun of one discharged as he climbed through a fence and the other's shotgun discharged as he took it from a car, muzzle first.

The Department expressed concern over the accident trend as the major hunting seasons approach, particularly the deer season which attracts persons of all ages using all kinds of guns.

It was suggested that adults responsible for youngsters should at least provide a course in safety and preferably also accompany the armed youngsters afield.

License Need Is Charted by State

Just when hunting and fishing licenses are required could confuse some people, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department judges from the 253 no-license cases listed on the monthly arrest report.

Most of the infractions involved fishing, since only 33 hunters were filed on for lacking a valid state license.

The Department decided a review of license provisions might be timely with the popular waterfowl and big game seasons approaching.

The Department explained that among persons not required to buy the $3.15 hunting license are those under 17 or over 65 but they must have an exempt license if they are going to hunt deer or turkey.

Also not required to have the license are those hunting on land where they reside but they also need an exempt license for deer or turkey.

The Department added that persons not needing the regular $2.15 state fishing license are: persons under 17 years of age; persons fishing in their home county providing they do not use a winding device (rod and reel) and persons 65 years of age or older.

The Department noted in addition waterfowl hunters must have the regular $3 Federal duck stamp and that the only exemptions involving this stamp are persons under 16 years of age.

It was reported exempt hunting licenses total an estimated 180,000 annually.

Columbian Club

Roses and dahlias from her yard brightened the home of Mrs. Roy Barker when she entertained the Columbian Club members on Oct. 27. Mrs. John Ray presided over the business session and Mrs. Jack Roberts was leader for the program.

"Beautifying America" was the topic for the day. Mrs. Roberts discussed the highway beauty bill recently passed by Congress and signed by President Johnson. The $320 million bill brought the president's pledge to see that "as long as I am president, what has been divinely given by nature will not be recklessly taken away by man."

"Our carelessness in littering out highways is a disgrace and if each of us would exercise our influence to eliminate even this one ugly feature of our nation, it would save natural beauty, money and 'face' for those traveling in our country," Mrs. Roberts said, and then added that "we should think of litter as money—the money that's thrown away in clean-up when we thoughtlessly litter our highways. How regrettable that men trained to do more important highway building and repair work must spend tax-paid

Tree Improvement Research Is Year Round Work

If you see a man scaling a pine tree like a monkey, chances are he is a part of the Texas Forest Service tree improvement team. It isn't unusual for him to spend most of a working day in the top of a pine tree. He's even patient when yellow jackets are on the move since he is usually 80 feet above ground.

His job is part of an over-all Service effort to produce high quality forest trees for Texas landowners.

Focal point of this activity is the forest genetics laboratory at Texas A & M University, headed up by Dr. J. P. van Buijtenen. The principle field laboratory is the Arthur Temple Sr. Research Area west of Alto in Cherokee County. However, all the "pine woods" serves as a laboratory to these "tree improvers."

The program is financed by both state and federal governments and by forest products industries.

Interest is centered in developing strains of pines to meet the demands of industry and forest landowners. Much progress has already been made in producing a drought resistant type. This will permit survival of planted pine seedlings on dry sites and during long periods of drought and in extending the range of pine. Also under investigation are quality trees of low and high specific gravity, and trees that are resistant to Southern pine beetles and tip moth.

Work in tree improvement is time consuming and entails much cross pollination. Since most pine tree flowers are near the top of the crown, a worker must climb each tree several times a year. First, he checks on flower growth. When flowers are about ripe, he bags them to keep out foreign pollen. Next, he applies pollen from another selected tree just as the flowers ripen. On his next trip, after the flowers are set, he removes the bags. Eighteen months later, he picks the special cones. With 50 or more flowers in each pine top to care for, this is a time-consuming job.

A light sectional alloy ladder is used to climb the tall trees. A climber carries 10 foot sections of ladder with him as he climbs a tree. Near the top, however, he leaves his ladder and crawls with only limbs and a safety belt to aid him. A rope harness is used for the descent. Enroute down, he disassembles his ladder.

Some day fruits of the labor of these Texas Forest Service men will pay off for Texas woodland owners. Already benefits are on hand.

hours as roadside janitors! Youngsters especially have shown a willingness to work for a cleaner Texas. It is the adults who dump their trash, adults who toss out beer cans and whiskey bottles and adults who set the wrong examples of poor moral responsibility. While we may be unable to do the larger projects of highway beautification alone, we alone can begin and stimulate the growth of "anti-litterism."

Mrs. Barker served a delectable refreshment plate at the close of the meeting.

Truscott H. D. Club

"Consumer credit—credit to use in family living" was the subject of a Truscott Home Demonstration Club program presented by the agent, Miss S. C. Kinsey, Thursday, Oct. 28, at the Community Center.

She said "credit allows us to get many goods and services now and pay for them later. The average credit load per family is 8 times more than in 1940. Since 1951 each year more has been borrowed than paid back for family living credit items."

She pointed out that young families need extra income during the early years and often use credit to meet needs of establishing a home. She listed advantages and disadvantages of consumer credit, and said that installment buying, bank loans and life insurance were kinds of credit.

Rules to follow in shopping for the best interest rates include making a large down payment, contracting only for the credit needed, using maximum credit only in crisis, and learning the total cost of credit ahead of time.

Mrs. W. M. Rake presided at the business meeting preceding the program. Mrs. J. R. Brown led several songs and Mrs. Margaret Corder brought the devotional. Mrs. Idoma Chowning gave the opening prayer. The roll call was answered with "how consumer credit has helped me."

Refreshments were served to the club by Mrs. Idoma Chowning.

Home Builders Circle

Mrs. Duane Naylor was hostess to the Homebuilders Circle at the Methodist Church at the Sunday school class room Tuesday night of last week. Mrs. DuWayne Elliott opened the meeting with a prayer.

A continuation of the study of the book of Acts was the program for the evening and was presented by Mrs. Fred Collins. Mrs. Leslie Thomas read appropriate scripture.

Fourteen members and two visitors, Mrs. Felix Taylor and Mrs. Horace Gray, were present.

It was decided to have a bake sale at Shirley-Youree Drug Saturday morning, Nov. 6, beginning at 9 o'clock.

LIBRARY NEWS

"The Hands of Cantu" are the gifted hands of the best horseman ever seen in New Spain, Don Vito Cantu.

Tom Lea's latest novel contains all the real savagery and wildness of life in sixteenth century Mexico. "The Hands of Cantu" is cast as fiction, but fiction built upon a strong foundation of fact. Tom Lea pursued his research in sources from Florence to Buenos Aires reconstructing a vanished era in this unique adventure story.

Central figure is seventeen-year-old Toribio de Ibarra, whose love for horses is fully required at Cantu's fine equine academy at Acucha.

A Spanish gentleman brings news to the hacienda which launches an expedition on a journey of seven hundred miles into the wilderness north beyond New Spain's remotest frontier.

Other books by Tom Lea include "The Wonderful Country," "The Brave Bulls" and "The King Ranch."

"The Hands of Cantu" is available at the Foard County library to library members. Mrs. Vetrice Brock, librarian, says this is only one of many new titles, fiction and non-fiction. The library is located in the court house and membership costs only $1.00 a year per family.

This membership brings each family access to over two dozen of the most popular magazines, the Literary Guild and Book-of-the-Month Clubs, 150 books loaned by the Texas State Library for one year (over 100 new titles in 1965), plus the hundreds of favorites already in the permanent collection.

Caring for Non-Stick Cooking Utensils

The new non-stick cookware utensils are a joy to clean and use, says Virginia J. Iseng, H. D. Agent. All non-stick utensils should be conditioned the first time they are used by applying a thin coat of cooking oil or shortening. If they appear dry from repeated use, an occasional oiling will improve them.

Non-stick utensils may become stained if high heat is used to fry foods. This causes fat splatters to burn on the surface of the pan. These stains can be easily removed by boiling one cup of water, one half cup of liquid laundry bleach, and two tablespoons of baking soda in the pan.

Mrs. Iseng says to wash the pan and treat it with cooking oil to recondition. This formula removes the stain and eliminates sticking, a common complaint after food has burned in the pan. Avoid extreme high heat, as this may crack the non-stick coating. And, remember to use nylon coated, rubber, wood, all non-stick and plastic coated metal spoons and spatulas with non-stick coated cookware.

Homemakers' Attitudes Toward Household Tasks

How do homemakers really feel about household tasks—and the appliances designed to make these easier to perform?

You may like to compare your own attitudes toward household chores with research done at the New York World's Fair, says Mrs. Elsie P. Short, Texas A&M University Extension home management specialist.

Two hundred twenty-five women—representing all age groups, all income levels, and all regions of the nation—were interviewed at the World's Fair. They were asked about their attitudes toward their household chores and the appliances they have. Here are some of the findings:

Maid is a thing of the past, according to 73 per cent of the women interviewed. They reported they'd rather purchase additional household appliances than hire a maid.

Today's homemakers are a generation of do-it-yourself women. Not only do they prefer to run their own homes, but they also know how hard it is to find competent help. Many of them were reluctant to give up some of their privacy when the cleaning woman came.

"We may not want to admit it, but some of us have our own ways which the hired help does not know or understand," says Mrs. Short.

The "big three" appliances named by the women as their most important appliances were ranges, refrigerators and washers—in that order. The vacuum cleaner rated fourth. One out of every three of the women rated the vacuum cleaner as the most important and necessary appliance—aid for running their homes. Appliances also needed to keep a home in good shape ranged from clothes dryers to stereo systems.

Votes for the "most helpful" appliances were in this order: clothes dryers, 19 per cent; dishwashers, 17 per cent; irons, 14 per cent; and electric mixers, 7 per cent.

The T. E. L. Sunday School class of the First Baptist Church met for a regular monthly business meeting on October 28 with Mrs. Maude Hinds, Mrs. Grace McLaughlin assisted with hostess duties.

Mrs. C. L. Cavin presided over the meeting which opened with prayer and inspirational devotionals by Mrs. Mary Moore. After business was conducted and closed with prayer by Mrs. Martha Dunagan, an interesting social hour was held with Mrs. Cavin and Mrs. Moore in charge.

Refreshments were served to 15 members and one visitor, Mrs. Nell Jones of Brownfield.

Cub Scout Pow Wow Slated November 6

Final plans have been completed for a Cub Scout leaders conference, the annual Pow Wow, November 6, 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. at Barwise Junior High School in Wichita Falls.

Warren Jackson, Pow Wow general chairman, indicated that Wichita Falls will be host to 200 adult Cub Scout leaders and parents from the 13 counties of the Northwest Texas Council, Boy Scouts of America.

This councilwide conference is the culmination of 12 months of preparation and is designed to offer an opportunity for Cub Scout leaders, parents of Cub Scouts, and others to learn about the character building program of Cub Scouting and how it works.

There will be specialized sections covering Cub Scout games, ceremonies, pack administration, skits and stunts, cubcrafts, and the Webelos den. There will be hundreds of exhibits of Cub Scout program ideas for the coming year and a carnival like midway where all persons attending will have a chance to practice Cub Scout skills and fun events. Special training booklets will be available for each session.

Those who are planning to attend are reminded that baby sitting facilities have been arranged and that a sack lunch is to be brought for the little ones. A fully catered dinner will be served at noon to the adult leaders who are registered for the Pow Wow.

Sleeping Soundly

"Why have we been unable to keep American values uppermost in our educational life? We have been sleeping soundly, while the Reds have been very much awake. We have ineffectively given insufficient doses of civics and history in which the American heritage is the chief ingredient. The resentments and frustrations thrust upon the big-campus student, who so often lacks understanding of his purposes in college, open him to radicalism. Where no objective values are forthcoming, the route to false ideology is made easy. The pity of it is that too many of these recruits find their way into positions of respect and leadership—in education, in politics, in government, and in communications. So you take it from there!" — Garner, Iowa, Leader.

1966 Cotton Quotas and Referendum Date Announced

November 23, 1965, has been set as the date for a growers' referendum on marketing quotas for the 1966 crop of upland cotton, Ray Hysinger, Chairman, Foard County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said Tuesday.

The national acreage allotment for the 1966 crop has been announced at 16 million acres, the smallest permitted under present law in view of the supply-demand situation; a national reserve of 200,000 acres has also been announced to take care of minimum farm allotments. The national marketing quota for 1966-crop upland cotton is 15,267,000 bales.

Notices of individual farm allotments will be mailed to operators of cotton farms prior to the referendum.

Mr. Hysinger pointed out that the pending farm bill, now awaiting signature by the President, contains a number of changes in provisions of law for upland cotton. While it does not change the requirement for establishing by October 15, a national acreage allotment and marketing quota, as announced, it would enable producers to voluntarily reduce their cotton plantings and become eligible for income-maintaining payments if marketing quotas are approved.

Details of the new cotton program will be announced as soon as possible.

Farmers who engaged in the production of the 1965 upland cotton crop will be eligible to vote in the November 23 referendum. If at least two-thirds of those voting approve the marketing quotas, the quotas will continue in effect. If quotas are not approved for the 1966 upland cotton crop, the allotment program will remain in effect and price support at 50 per cent of parity will be available to growers keeping their cotton acreage within the farm allotment.

Micronaire Readings to Be Quality Factor for Cotton Supports

The U. S. Department of Agriculture announced this week that all 1965-crop upland cotton going under price support loan after October 31, 1965, will have micronaire readings included as an additional quality factor.

All 1965 cotton classed for producers by Consumer & Marketing Service classing offices after October 24, 1965, will be given a mike reading free of charge, according to C. E. Cox, in charge of the cotton division office at Altus.

Mike readings give an indication of the fineness and maturity of the fiber. These qualities affect spinability and value of the cotton, and mike readings are widely used in commercial cotton transactions. The micronaire premiums and discounts will be in addition to premiums and discounts for grade and staple.

The Commodity Credit Corporation has issued a schedule of premiums and discounts for micronaire readings which includes the following: a discount of 50 points per pound for mike readings of 5.5 and above; a discount of 15 points per pound for readings of 5.2 through 5.4; readings of 4.9 through 5.1 will be even; a premium of 14 points per pound will be given on mike readings of 3.6 through 4.8; readings of 3.3 through 3.5 will be even; a discount of 60 points per pound will be made on readings of 3.0 through 3.2; a discount of 165 points for readings of 2.7 through 2.9; and a discount of 300 points per pound for readings of 2.6 and less.

A committee report on the meeting will be presented at the November meeting of the Foard County Federation of Women's Clubs, which sponsors the library. All members of the library committee are asked to attend the Nov. 9 meeting or send an alternate. Library committee members are the president of F. C. F. W. C. organizations or their appointees. Mrs. Glenn Jones is library treasurer and Mrs. Veatrice Brock is librarian.

Library Committee to Study Possibility of Library Catalog

Plans for a professional librarian to begin classifying and cataloging work at the Foard County Federated Library will be discussed at a meeting of the Library Committee on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 9, at 2 p. m. in the library, according to the chairman, Mrs. Jack W. Brown.

Some preliminary work has been done by volunteers during the past two years and the committee will be asked to consider the possibility of including the project in the budget for 1966. The number of individual memberships has increased during the last year and it is expected the project can be budgeted without requesting a special drive.

Setting up a card catalog under the Dewey decimal system would be the main objective. This would not be completed in one year, but would be incorporated as part of the plan each year in the future, with the first cost being the highest.

A committee report on the meeting will be presented at the November meeting of the Foard County Federation of Women's Clubs, which sponsors the library.

Congress Approves Screwworm Funds

Funds spent on the screwworm eradication program by the federal government no longer will have to be fully matched with non-federal money, thanks to action taken by Congress during the closing days of the session.

The cost of treating screwworm outbreaks that occur in areas of the United States where the insects have already been eradicated must continue to be matched by state and private sources. However, the expense of maintaining a barrier zone along the U. S. Mexico border to guard against reinfestation by fertile flies will be borne by the federal government.

Congress voted $2.8 million for maintenance of the barrier. It also appropriated $320,000 for an intensive survey of screwworm problems in Mexico and $1 million to cover eradication activities in Arizona and California—the only states where screwworms have not been eradicated. Of the latter amount, $600,000 will have to be matched by the two states.

Since inception of the eradication campaign in February, 1962, half of the costs have been paid by the federal government, the other half by the livestock industry and state governments in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana. The livestock industry, through the Southwest Animal Health Research Foundation, has raised nearly $4 million on a voluntary basis.

Dolph Briscoe Jr., Foundation president of Uvalde, praised the action of Congress.

Renee introduced the program, which consisted of several games led by Janell Gray. Prizes were awarded the winners. Delicious refreshments were served by Renee Daniel, Nancy Ketchersid and Joylyn Haynie.

New Buildings Underway in Texas

The first two building construction projects under the federal Library Services and Construction Act are underway in Texas, the Texas State Library announced this week.

Field Services Division Director Kenneth Jackson, who administers the federal funds, said Cameron's $50,000 public library project has broken ground and Brownwood's $175,000 project will break ground November 4.

The two projects are the first of 14 new buildings and four remodeling projects underwritten with the more than $2½ million provided for Texas in the 1964 act. A similar amount is now being committed for 1965, Jackson said, allowing Texas libraries to embark on expansion projects, long planned and brought to completion with federal aid.

All grants are on a matching fund basis. The Cameron project received $10,000 in federal money and local citizens donated the remainder. The Brownwood project received $69,750 and raised the remaining money with a bond issue. Both cities will have new and modern library facilities with expanded services as well as increased space.

Fall Armyworms Appearing Over State

Reports from over Texas indicate that fall armyworms are beginning to appear. So far, infestations have not been reported in Foard County, according to County Agent Joe Burkett.

But, he added, producers and home owners should be alert for possible outbreaks. Young larvae often go unnoticed until they become rather large and by then damage can be considerable. The young worms skeletonize the leaves of food plants, leaving the veins and ribs exposed. This early damage results in the appearance of whitish areas or spots where concentrated feeding by the worms has occurred. These whitish areas are sometimes the first indication the forms are present, explains the county agent.

Fall armyworms feed chiefly on native and improved grasses, small grains, corn, alfalfa, grain sorghum, cowpeas and lawn grasses. Wet, cool weather is particularly favorable for worm activity, Burkett said.

Because of the variety of effective pesticides available for controlling the insect, the county agent suggests that interested farmers or home owners call at his office for printed material. Two publications, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Grain and Forage Crops" and "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Ornamentals" are available free at his office, he said.

Prompt detection and treatment of insect infestations can cut losses and prevent their spread, concludes the county agent.

How to make more money by taking a small "cut" in your pay

Saving part of your income isn't really like taking a cut in pay, though it might seem like it at first.

It seems a lot less like it when you save U. S. Savings Bonds on the Payroll Savings Plan.
