HENRY FERGESON

Henry E. Ferguson, 95, Died in Wichita Falls Monday

Funeral Services Held at Methodist Church Wednesday

Henry E. Ferguson, 95, 80 years of this area for the past 80 years and one of the few remaining early-day settlers of Foard County, died Monday in a Wichita Falls rest home following a long period of declining health.

Funeral services were held at the Crowell Methodist Church at 10 a. m. Wednesday, Jan. 26, conducted by the pastor, Rev. M. H. Abbott, and Leslie Thomas. Interment was in the Crowell Cemetery directed by Womack Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were Ed Roark, Merl Kincaid, Robert Kincaid, Leon Speer, Foster Davis, and Fred Gray. Named as honorary pall bearers were members of the Rotary Club, and members of the official board of the local Methodist Church.

Mr. Ferguson was born Nov. 6, 1870, in Cornersville, Tenn. His widowed mother came to what is now Foard County with her children and homesteaded at Foard City after the death of her husband in Tennessee.

He was active in the business and civic life of Crowell for many years. He and his brothers operated a drug store in the building they constructed and which he still owned at the time of his death.

He was a charter member and past president of the Rotary Club of Crowell and had served for more than fifty years on the board of stewards of the Crowell Methodist Church. Mr. Ferguson was also a member of the I. O. O. F. Lodge for more than fifty years, had served on the Crowell School Board and was a director of the Crowell State Bank.

For his efforts to continually promote Crowell and Foard County, he was frequently referred to as a 'one-man chamber of commerce.'

Mr. Ferguson was married in 1911. Mrs. Ferguson and one son, Charles, preceded him in death. Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Karl ten Brink of 4015 Featherston, Wichita Falls; and four grandchildren.

Heavy Rains Cause Increase in Building of Waterways

Several farmers in Foard County have built waterways the past few months and will also be seeding them to grass this spring. These farmers deserving recognition for helping to conserve soil include: Joe Elo, Glen Jones, Evelyn Denison, Henry and Herbert Fish, Jack Welch, Recie Womack, Ray Hysinger, Homer Zeibig and George Davis. Their waterways cover a total of 45 acres.

Other farmers who have waterways planned and to be built this year are Jack McGinnis, the Mildred Patton farm operated by J. J. McCoy and DuWayne Elliott, and Alton Bell. These waterways planned will be approximately 46 acres.

The Soil Conservation Service is also assisting farmers with additional 70 acres of waterways to be built this year and next.

Since the beginning of the Lower Pease River Soil Conservation District in 1944, there has been a total of 245 acres of waterways built in Foard County. It appears that more than half this amount will be built during 1965 and 1966.

The purpose for waterways is to protect soil where excess water gathers. These places occur at terrace outlets or low draws and creeks. Since the recent heavy rains, these areas have become very evident.

Most of these waterways have been built through the Great Plains Conservation Program and ACP program. Farmers desiring help on this subject should contact the local agriculture offices.

Two big snows totaling about a foot in depth, brought about an inch of moisture to Foard County, caused hazardous driving, closed the Crowell Schools Friday afternoon and Monday and brought problems to cattle feed-

Deadline for Poll Tax Payment Is Monday, Jan. 31

Total of 426 Paid in County Up to Noon Monday

Next Monday, Jan. 31, is the last day for Foard County residents to obtain a poll tax for voting in this year's coming elections. A total of 426 poll tax receipts had been issued up to Monday noon, and a big rush is expected during these remaining few days.

All Foard County residents who are of legal age and are not exempt by reason of age are urged to pay their poll tax before the deadline passes.

Five New Vehicles

Five new vehicles were registered here last week, as follows:

Jan. 17, L. A. Andrews, 1966 Oldsmobile 4-door; Jan. 17, Mattie L. Carroll, 1966 Chevrolet 2-door; Jan. 19, Jack C. Idol, 1966 Chevrolet 4-door; Jan. 19, C. R. Machac, 1965 Moped; Jan. 20, Hartley Easley, 1966 Chevrolet pickup.

The first of the big snows fell Tuesday night and Wednesday of last week and the moisture content was .57 inch. This extremely wet snow covered the ground to a depth of about 5 inches. The photos on this page were taken the day after the first snow.

Another norther which plunged the temperature to season's lows, accompanied the second snow Friday and caused near-blizzard conditions over this section. The snow was not as wet as the first, but did bring the moisture received last week to about an inch. This was the first moisture received here this year, and although the snow and ice were problems for cattlemen, the moisture was welcomed and needed.

Foard County State Highway Department personnel worked around the clock keeping highways through the county open, and did an outstanding job of it.

The mercury plunged to six degrees above zero Saturday morning, and near zero readings were reported early Sunday.

An unusual condition Sunday morning had the appearance of snow falling although skies were clear. This was explained as frost which had formed in the air and was falling to earth.

The snow brought happiness to Crowell's younger set, as in addition to being dismissed from school, riding sleds behind cars, snow ball fights and building snow men were enjoyed.

Mrs. Ed Roark suffered a knee injury in a fall and Stephen Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dee Adams, broke his leg in an accident while riding a sled.

Both are patients in the Foard County Hospital.

SNOW MAKES SOME BEAUTIFUL SCENES—The above two pictures were taken Thursday morning, over 24 hours after the snow fell and even though some of the snow had melted by then, scenes were still beautiful over town. Top picture is home of Mrs. Jack Roberts and the large snow-burdened evergreen is in the yard of the Sonny Eddy family.

John Randolph Died in Dallas

John M. Randolph of Dallas, former Foard County resident, passed away Thursday, Jan. 20. Funeral services were held Saturday at Smith Funeral Chapel in Dallas.

Survivors include his widow; a son, Glenn Randolph of 3416 Tulver St., Dallas; one grandson, H. Randolph of Dallas; one daughter, Buford Randolph of Crowell; five sisters, Misses Lucy and Susie Randolph, Mrs. Eunice Jones and Mrs. Joe Rader of Crowell, and Mrs. Jennie Matthews of Waxahachie.

Henry Black, Superintendent of the Crowell Schools, has announced the employment of three new teachers and a school nurse under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary School Act.

Preliminary work has been in progress during the past week, and Supt. Black hopes to have the program fully operating within two weeks.

Remedial reading in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades will be taught mornings by Mrs. W. F. Statter. Mrs. Statter is a graduate of Howard Payne College and has had extensive experience as a substitute teacher.

Mrs. Dick Todd will teach remedial mathematics in the intermediate grades. Mrs. Todd has had 11 years experience as a mathematics teacher.

Mrs. Todd holds degrees from Mary Hardin Baylor and Midwestern University.

Mrs. Ed Roark will assume her duties as a school nurse when she recovers from a leg injury received in a fall last Thursday.

Times Have Changed

"In the old days when someone was in need... no one would think of going over and saying, 'Here I want to give you this.' Instead they would say, 'I don't need this right now, bring it back when you get through'... If this same idea was used today in giving millions to other countries, I am sure the image of 'Great America' would be uplifted greatly in our foreign country transactions... The art of giving is the ability to help a man and not hurt his pride, not just giving to give because we have so much."—Parshall, N. D., Record.

There Are No Unimportant People

We often hear about the need for leaders, for men and women capable of doing the big job. We seldom hear about the need for ordinary people who are able and willing to do the small jobs that have to be done right every day.

Most of the work of the world can be broken down into many small jobs. The biggest building is put up one piece of steel and 1 stone at a time. There is no question about the need for the men who can plan and promote such buildings, but they would be helpless without the work of those who must carry out the plans one step at a time.

All our educational efforts cannot be directed toward producing leaders. Some of it has to produce the people who are willing to work at lower levels with purpose and enthusiasm. We cannot do the work of the world with all chiefs and no Indians, with all generals and no privates.

The important thing is that every individual be taught to do as good a job as he possibly can within his capabilities, and that no one has a right to do slovenly, careless work, however unimportant his job may seem.

First Paper Machine

A piece of machinery that revolutionized the paper making industry was invented by Nicholas-Louis Robert, a Frenchman, the American Paper Institute observes. His idea? To form paper on an endless screen.

Robert's first efforts were unsuccessful but finally he secured a patent for a machine on Sept. 9, 1798. It consisted of a movable wire screen (mounted over a vat) upon which was thrown liquid pulp. The fibers forming on the screen travelled through rollers and were then cut into lengths and hung out to dry.

Later, Henry and Sealy Fourdrinier, London stationers, spent 60,000 pounds ($168,000) on the construction of a machine similar to that designed by Robert. Strangely enough, neither Robert or the Fourdrinier Brothers made much money on the development or manufacture of the first paper-making machine.

Today, one type of modern paper machine, costing from $10 to $50 million, incorporates many of the basic principles conceived in the 18th century. It is called a Fourdrinier.

"Tailgating"

The Portland, Oregon, Traffic Safety Commission observes that one of the most maddening practices on today's crowded highways is "tailgating" or following too closely. This bad driving habit is far and away the leading cause of accidents in present-day driving. The Commission warns against sudden stops designed to squeeze the tailgater away. Instead, says the defensive driver should gradually cut his speed back pull as far to the right of road as possible and thus encourage the tailgater to pass. In words, "If you permit a tailer to get your goat, you may more than your temper in the suiting crash."

Full Cooperation

The American Petroleum Institute has announced full cooperation with government in developing appropriate regulations for continued oil and gas options in the nation's wilder areas. In a new statement of policy, the Institute endorses provisions of the Wilderness Act that requires affirmative action by Congress for withdrawal large areas of land from public use and authorize the orderly ploration and production of petroleum on them.

NEWSMEN PICK A QUEEN—Dale Evans, singer, song-writer, author, movie-radio-TV star and Queen of the Cowgirls, has been named Texan of the Year by the Texas Press Association. Announcement of her selection came from Don Coppedge, chairman of TPA's Texan of the Year Committee and publisher of the Waxahachie Daily Light. Uvalde-born Miss Evans is the wife of Roy Rogers, popularly known as King of the Cowboys. Rogers will accompany his wife to San Antonio where the newsmen will present the special award to Miss Evans during TPA's Mid-Winter Convention, Jan. 28-29. Winn Crossley, association president and publisher of the Madisonville Meteor, said this is the first time in the history of the state's largest newspaper organization that a woman has been selected as Texan of the Year.

Now Is Good Time Get Soil Tested

January and February are good times for collecting soil samples, says County Extension Agent Joe Burkett. Sampling well in advance of spring offers the advantage of having time for the samples to be tested and time to obtain the needed fertilizers. Presently it is about 10 days for processing at the Texas A&M soil test laboratory.

If the soil samples are wet, to reduce shipping weight, samples can be dried a day or two at air temperature. However, they should not be heated since heating some soils causes the potassium to be fixed so that it cannot be removed by chemical methods. If reliable information is to be obtained from a soil test, it's best for the sample to be carefully taken and not represent too large an area. A core or slice of soil from 10-15 spots in fields of less than 40 acres works fine. The field or farm should be divided according to the type of soil, as well as past and future cropping practices. Take enough time to collect a good sample and fill out the information sheet as completely as possible. Pint boxes, mailing cartons, history sheets and instructions are available from the county agent's office. Visit his office and let him tell you how soil tests can supply information that will help you make greater profits from use of fertilizer. Are those typewriter letters filled up? In Terms of Masses

Samuel Lubell, the well-known opinion analyst and columnist, writes: "We have become so intent upon organizing our society in terms of masses of people, statistics and punch cards, and with so much emphasis on spending by the billions. But can you build a really Great Society if it is so impersonal and it has lost the focus on the individual human being?"

Seventeen Didn't Die

The Texas Department of Public Safety closed its "Operation Deathwatch" period of ten days extending from December 24, 1965, to January 2, 1966, with 93 traffic deaths, 17 fewer than the estimated 110 traffic deaths," stated Sgt. Floyd Etheridge, Highway Patrol supervisor for this area.

These 93 traffic deaths resulted from 80 fatal crashes. Forty-three of these fatal accidents were one-car crashes resulting in 43 deaths. Thirty-two of these fatal accidents were two-car crashes resulting in 43 deaths. Four of these fatal accidents were three-car crashes resulting in six deaths. One of the fatal accidents was a seven-car crash resulting in one death. Region Five recorded seven of these 93 traffic deaths; two were killed in Lamb County, one in Crosby County, one in Young County, one in Haskell County, one in Wheeler County, and one in Hemphill County. Of these 93 traffic deaths, 72 were males and 21 were females.

The youngest person killed was a nine-month-old infant and the oldest person killed was 84. The veteran patrol supervisor said, "No doubt the evasive educational campaign undertaken wholeheartedly by the news media of the state, the cooperation of law enforcement agencies, and the willingness of hundreds of thousands who drove legally and defensively brought about this reduction of lives lost. I am sure this particular campaign and its results are clear and factual evidence of what can be done to reduce accidents and save lives."

Tax Man Sam Sez:

Internal Revenue will match your 1965 income tax return with your Social Security records by the automatic data processing before a refund is made. You must get your name and Social Security number right or there will be a delay in issuing your refund. Get that Social Security card out and make sure that your name and Social Security number will match up when the machine gets "ahold" of it.

Freedom of the Seas

Raymond Moley writes in Newsweek: ". . . 'freedom of the seas' presupposes control of the seas by a dominant naval power. This imposes upon the United States, which has that dominance, the responsibility to make sure that the seas are used to frustrate the Communist threat to end all freedoms in Southeast Asia and the western Pacific. It means that the U. S. Navy be used to cut off all sea traffic in war material into North Vietnam. There are ample precedents for the use of a 'pacific blockade,' which has historically been used when the nations concerned are not formally in a state of war . . . the Ho Chi Minh trail is long and winding. But it begins at sea."

"In the late 1800s families drew lots to see who would wash the dishes. I certainly hope yours doesn't, because there's no need for it. There are so many advantages to the automatic electric dishwasher that I'm sure when you've heard them all you won't be able to argue yourself out of having one. For instance, dishes washed automatically turn out more sanitary than those washed by hand—that's because much hotter water can be used in the machine than on your hands. And the latest dishwashers offer cycles not only for pots and pans but fine china and crystal, also dish breakage is 1/5 that experienced when dishes are done by hand. Best of all, the kitchen stays neat and uncluttered—even after between meal snacks. There are so many advantages to automatic dishwashing, there just isn't room to list them all.

See your electrical appliance dealer and tell your family they can quit drawing lots."

1965 Traffic Toll Is Highest on Record

A totally unexpected rash of traffic fatalities in December broke a year-long downward trend in fatal accidents and pushed the 1965 traffic toll to the highest on record, it was reported this week by Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Garrison pointed out that 1964 recorded the highest number of fatalities in history with 3,006 deaths, and cited his Statistical Services Bureau preliminary estimate that the 1965 total will be 3,018 deaths.

He emphasized that the 1965 figure is incomplete, due to late reports which have not yet been received and deaths which might occur later. He said another preliminary report will be issued Feb. 18 with the final official report on 1965 traffic scheduled for March 15.

As of now, 2,994 traffic deaths have been officially recorded, only 12 less than the final count for 1964.

December 1965 was the highest death toll month on record, with at least 345 persons killed on the streets and highways in 276 fatal accidents. The highest previous monthly record was in December 1963 when 312 persons were killed in 251 accidents.

"We have already recorded 65 more fatalities for this past December than December a year ago, and it could well be that this two per cent of the 1964 year total might have alone wiped out the two per cent decrease we experienced during the first 11 months of the year," Garrison said.

"There is no way to pinpoint any single cause for the sharp increase in traffic tragedy in December 1965. However, one factor involved was an increase in multiple fatal accidents—that is, where two or more persons were killed in a single accident."

"For instance, in December, 1964, an average of 1.14 persons were killed per fatal accident, whereas the rate in December last year was 1.26 persons per accident. We have no way of telling whether this means increased velocity due to higher speeds, or whether there just happened to be more people in the cars destined for fatal accidents."

February Plentifuls Offer Wide Selection of Wholesome Foods

February offers a wide selection of abundant foods, according to the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Prunes, prime juice and canned red salmon spotlight the eight plentiful foods listed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Other February plentifuls include tart cherries, fresh oranges and grapefruit; onions, potatoes and sweet potatoes.

The 1965 California dried prune production is estimated at 170,000 tons, more than 30,000 tons above average, according to USDA. So it's an ideal time to include prunes in your cookery.

Canned red salmon shows a sharp increase over the previous year. The 1965 pack was 2 million standard cases, compared to 822,930 cases packed in 1964. The salmon industry, U. S. Department of Interior and USDA are cooperating in the effort to move these heavy stocks into consumption.

Holdings of both frozen and canned tart cherries are well above average—meaning abundant supplies of cherries for your enjoyment. Cherries add flavor and color to most any dessert, including pie for Washington's birthday.

Market news offices of USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service report heavy movement of fresh oranges and grapefruit to local markets. Both fruits are expected to be in much larger supply than last year. The seedless grapefruit crop is record large. They're ideal breakfast fruit.

Ample supplies of onions, potatoes and sweet potatoes will continue on through February. USDA reports shipping point prices of onions sharply below last year. The record fall potato crop will be supplemented by winter potatoes from Florida and California. Sweet potato production is up 17 per cent from a year ago.

Gas Use Increasing

As of a recent date, consumption of natural gas in the United States had risen 281 per cent since 1946. Gas accounted for 39 per cent of the nation's total energy consumed in 1964, not including the liquids extracted from it.

Methodist Laymen and Preachers Set Meeting Here

Methodist laymen and ministers from the Crowell area will meet Friday morning at 9:30 at the Crowell Methodist Church as part of a series of 14 fact-finding meetings for McMurtry College's proposed multi-million dollar fund raising campaign for expanded physical facilities and additional endowment.

Meetings were scheduled for Monday in Tucuman, N. M., on Tuesday at Roswell and Wednesday at Odessa. The 14 meetings will be held over a four-week period in the Northwest Texas and New Mexico conferences of The Methodist Church, parent conferences of McMurtry, the Methodist college at Abilene.

Arrangements for the Crowell meeting were made by Rev. S. Duane Bruce, district superintendent of the Childress District, of which Crowell is a part, and local church officials in Crowell.

By February 24 other meetings will be held in Amarillo, Albuquerque, Santa Fe, Abilene, Lubbock, Pampa, Brownfield, Big Spring, Plainview and El Paso.

A three-man team will attend the meetings. It will include McMurtry's president, Dr. Gordon R. Bennett; the college's director of development, J. Dean Williams of Lubbock; and Guy Hensley, survey director for National Fund Raisers, Inc., a Fort Worth firm assisting with the financial survey.

The 14 meetings are part of a financial survey now being undertaken in the two Methodist conferences. At each meeting a presentation will be made of the college's physical needs, its endowment requirements, and its academic goals. Laymen present will be asked to fill out questionnaires, giving the survey team vital information on the Crowell area.

Survey information is being collected through these meetings, by personal visitation, and by mail questionnaires. Findings will be presented to McMurtry's Board of Trustees at its March meeting. The board will then make its recommendations to the Northwest Texas and New Mexico conferences at their spring sessions. The two conferences will have the final say on the type of campaign to be conducted and its extent.

TEC Needs Job Corps Applicants

Shabby Gun Habits Are Big Goose Boon

Thanks to undisciplined hunting and patches of unfavorable winter weather, Texas appears will be sending a substantial nesting population back to this spring, according to a 7 as Parks and Wildlife Department biologist.

Speaking primarily for Jefferson County, a popular waterfowl wintering area, Wildlife Biologist C. D. Stutzenbaker said shabby hunters, shooting on legal and illegal times, so far ed geese on four or five in county reservoirs that the birds departed permanently in the season.

He said dry marshes added the wild goose disheartening since they had to reach the impoundments for water rest and thus were exposed such pressure that they pulled either for Louisiana in the area or the Katy or Lissie Park areas on the west.

Stutzenbaker said the goose numbers are getting some breaks through the common custom of leaving decoys out through out the season. He said the old geese soon become spotted at the same old spots sporting same old gun blasts.

Only dumb young birds are tricked by the permanent sets less windy, overcast weather it finances lower flight altitudes on hunter-caused hazards, he added.

From the News . . .
THIRTY YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the Thursday, Jan. 23, 1936, issue of The Foard County News:

Walker P. Todd has been granted a leave of absence from the faculty of Crowell High School in order that he may finish his agricultural work at Texas A&M College and receive a Smith-Hughes certificate. Mr. Todd and his family will leave for College Station about February 1.

A recent hike in oil prices caused an increase of 59,000 barrels in the allowable for Texas producers. In most areas an increase was permitted, but in Foard County the allowable remains at 500 barrels.

Miss Lillie Lett and Munson M. Welch were quietly united in marriage at the Methodist parsonage Sunday, Jan. 19, at 12:15. The ceremony was read by Rev. George E. Turentine. Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Smith were the only attendants.

Miss Mary Frances Self will complete her work for a B. S. degree in vocational home economics with the class of the first semester of Texas Tech January 31.

Vocational agriculture, a highly valued course in farming and ranching sections of the country, will be taught in Crowell High School at the beginning of the fall term. Walker P. Todd will be the teacher.

George Thompson of Foard City ranked second highest scholastically among freshmen in the engineering division of Texas Tech last year.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Denton, Crowell, a boy, James Ray, Jan. 12.

Buford Brown, 14-year-old high school junior at Truseott, was riding horseback with a younger companion on his grandfather's ranch last week when they jumped a cat-like animal. The boys gave chase on their horses. Buford attempted to rope the animal. He was never able to lasso the cat, but ran it up a tree. Buford stationed his companion beneath the tree to keep watch while he rode off and obtained a hat full of rocks. With them the boys killed the cat and carried it to the ranch house to learn that they had killed a full-grown bobcat with rocks.

Farmers of this section are showing much interest in terracing and soil erosion work, according to a statement made by County Agent John Nagy this week. About 700 acres of land to receive terrace lines is scheduled on Nagy's books at this time.

Flags stand at half mast over the entire British Domain, even on the British ships at sea, grieving the death of George V, King of England up until his death Monday night.

License plates will go on sale here February 1, but installation of the plates on the vehicle is not permitted until March 1.

Theatre-goers of Crowell will have a chance to see that lovable character, the late Will Rogers, in his next-to-last film role, "Steamboat Round the Bend," at the Rialto Theatre Tuesday thru Friday of next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ebb Scales left Monday for Taylor where Mr. Scales was called on business.

The World of Paper

This year the world is expected to consume 105 million tons of paper and paperboard, more than three times the amount used prior to World War II, with demand expected to increase at about 5 per cent each year for many years.

Because of this potential growth in consumption, many developing and emerging nations of the world have established or are planning to install their own paper and paperboard facilities, reports the American Paper Institute. And American paper and paperboard companies have over the past few years joined with many foreign operations to build plants. In 1950, U. S. paper companies had $378,000,000 invested abroad in various manufacturing enterprises. Today, forty companies have invested about $1,100,000,000 in 39 countries.

Power to Overcome

Every true Christian knows by experience that the Holy Spirit does not, upon saving us, take possession of us and thenceforth supernaturally cause us to live lives pleasing to God. Rather, as with salvation, so with the Christian life, He operates in the believer "by grace, through faith."

Powerful assistance to overcome sin is freely provided by grace, but this help must be appropriated by faith in each individual case. There is no blanket provision for continuous victory throughout our whole life. We must look to Him in faith for the help we need in each separate battle.

Thus the Scripture teaching with regard to victory over sin is not that it is not possible for the believer to sin, but rather that in any given case it is possible for him not to sin. Thus, too, the question in times of temptation is generally whether we truly desire to overcome, for deliverance is freely provided by grace if we will but appropriate it by faith.

But just how is deliverance provided? The answer is: by the Holy Spirit. No longer need the believer remain enslaved to sin, for the Holy Spirit within, who imparted spiritual life to begin with, will also impart strength to overcome temptation. When tried and unable even to pray as we ought "the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities" and "maketh intercession for us" (Rom. 8:26). When weak and ill, we may be "strengthened with might by His Spirit in the inner man" (Eph. 3:16). Indeed, the Spirit even strengthens God's people physically to overcome sin, for we read:

"But if the Spirit of Him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwell in you, He that raised up Christ from the dead shall also quicken (strengthen) your mortal bodies by His Spirit that dwelleth in you" (Rom. 8:11).

And the following verse goes on to say:

"Therefore, brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live after the flesh" (verse 12). The thought is, that since believers have the Holy Spirit to help them overcome sin they are debtors—and not to the flesh, but to God, to live pleasing to Him.

Drove Poor Bargain

"I think LBJ drove a poor bargain with Castro. In other words he goofed. I don't know just how many refugees we are supposed to absorb but I think we should have insisted in reciprocity. If we were allowed to export to Cuba one home grown communist for every refugee coming over here it would have helped a lot."

Cranes Gain Pair for '65 Plus Replica

The intriguing books, now closed on the North American continent's ranking wildlife story of 1965, revealed feathered tragedy mingled with a modest population gain and significant highway tracking conquests.

On Black Jack Peninsula near Austwell, ancestral wintering grounds of the whooping cranes, forty-four of the giant birds have checked in, a small net gain from the 42 that left last spring for the distant Canadian northland.

Now it's for American National Wildlife Refuge personnel to maintain a constant air, sea and ground vigilance while painstakingly believing the hundreds of visitors from even distant areas about the majestic birds which symbolize the struggle to preserve wild creatures generally.

From one conspicuous tragedy, involving the Kansas high-line death of one of the 1964 young en route back south, has come a definite gain for the refuge trade. The crane was perfectly preserved, according to Gordon Folzenlogen, assistant refuge manager, and is being mounted in a good study skin already available. Then the rare specimen will be exhibited in a refuge lobby glass case so that spectators may study a true model to augment the present illustrations. The overall effect, he said, would be improved public aid in noting whooper travels.

The tracking conquest came in tracing four late-season migrants from distant Saskatchewan southward through Kansas where the group was reduced to three by the fatal mishap, on into the Texas Panhandle and down to the refuge. The last leg took three days.

There was nothing in the unusual monitoring to shatter the ancient migration mystery of whooper movements, mainly at great altitudes, for Folzenlogen said the most satisfying part of the successful charting was the mighty contribution of laymen in accurately identifying and relating their observations to trained field people.

One chapter in the 1965 whooper story marked the death of 25-year-old Josephine, the first crane ever successfully mated in captivity, which succumbed at the New Orleans zoo. She is survived by four whoopers, all thriving in captivity.

Folzenlogen said the makeup of the whooper colony, now comprising eight 1965 young and at least some of the ten young of 1964, reflects studies that indicate the flock "turns over every seven and one-half years." That is to say, he added, that seven and one-half years is the average life span of the huge birds in their natural sphere.

Thus six deaths, including the one crane which had enough brown juvenile feathers to identify it as a 1964 product, occurred at an unknown place after the 1965 migration.

Family Income and Expenditures

Studies of family expenditure and income trends show new developments, says Mrs. Wanda Meyer, Extension home management specialist at Texas A&M University.

Figures reported by the Institute of Life Insurance on trends in consumer income over recent years indicate that for the first time, about half of all families now have an extra income in addition to what they earn on the job from self-employment.

The growth trend has been persistent among farm as well as non-farm families. A second income from a variety of public and private "nonwork" sources helps supplement family incomes. Most of the sources of a second income are from savings and investments. Second incomes are found in lower income families, as well as middle and high-income groups. Extensive surveys of family and individual consumer spending habits in 65 metropolitan areas conducted by the Bureau of Labor Statistics show that as family income grows, each additional dollar is spent differently.

spent for food-shelter decreases. The proportion spent on clothing increases as income rises. Cost of operating the household, including furnishings and utilities, averages 16.2 per cent of the budget for those with incomes of under $2,000. Intermediate income groups spend less on the household, while the increased use of domestic help raises the figure for high income groups to 17.1 per cent.

Expenditures for transportation increase from 7.2 per cent of the budget in the low income group to 16.1 per cent in the $10,000 to $15,000 group and drop off to 14.2 per cent for the $15,000 and over category.

Parents Influence Money Attitude of Their Children

Your attitude toward money is likely to influence the attitude which your small children will acquire, reminds Mrs. Doris Myers, Extension home management specialist at Texas A&M University.

Boys and girls learn attitudes concerning making and receiving money and its use from their parents. Values and goals of the parents, in all probability, are the ones the children acquire, the specialist says.

"Young people must have experience to develop a philosophy and pattern of spending. They must have money for necessities as well as for extras. Children grow in ability to manage money by making choices in the way it is used, but this cannot be learned in one easy lesson," Mrs. Myers emphasizes.

If your child has an allowance or has a job that pays some money, he will have the opportunity to learn. If you dole money out to your child as he requests it, he should have some freedom in the way it is to be spent and to be able to learn to make wise choices.

When a child first begins to handle money, limits should be set so that not enough money will be involved to make him too unhappy when he makes a mistake in judgment. Children need to learn early in life before a poor choice or a wrong decision could become a major disaster.

Help your children to know that there are some expenditures they should make and that they have obligations to themselves and to others, Mrs. Myers suggests.

Ounce of Prevention in Storing Woollens

If you store your woollens in cedar chest, use an ounce of cedar-impregnated mothballs—instead of lying wholly on the cedar true aromatic fumes to ward off

Although new cedar chests give protection from moths, it's safer, to treat woollens with good mothproofing agent before they're stored, says Virginia H. D. Agent.

This is especially important with older cedar chests. Tests show that red cedar loses its effectiveness against moths after 24 months, and white South American cedar after 20 months.

Researchers also find that tightness of a chest is an important part of the mothproofing. Cedar-lined closets also should be tight and woollens mothproofed before storage. Whenever you use a pesticide, remember to follow the instructions carefully and note the precautions on the label.

Noblest Yet Conceivable

"The concepts and ideas of the noblest yet conceivable day meet showing signs of wear, but because they have been tried and found true so often. We suggest that the youth of today (and here the adult will have lead him, if he can find the time before striking out to find something new or more novel or exciting, examine and re-examine those concepts and morals which have stood the rigors of time and the stresses of life."—Shelbyville, Ky., Sentinel.
