COUNTY RECEIVES MOISTURE

A cold front pushing through this area last Friday night brought some much-needed moisture to most section of Foard County.

Official measurement here was .85 inch; the Vivian community reported up to 1 1/2 inches and most of the other parts of the county received about an inch; except for the Foard City and Good Creek areas where only about a half-inch fell.

The rains came with a heavy wind and electrical storm. Some tree limbs were blown off here in Crowell and a highline was blown down and a telephone pole broken off at Rayland.

A large part of the small grain crop had already been planted, and the rains will assure farmers of some winter pasture for at least a while.

MEETING HERE TONIGHT TO EXPLAIN 4-COUNTY PROJECT

Interest continues to stir in the industrial development project which has recently been brought to light for a four-county area including Foard, Cottle, Hardeman and Childress.

Thursday night at 8 o'clock in the Crowell School cafeteria, there will be a meeting of interested persons which should include every Foard County resident—whether in business, profession, farmer or retired person.

This meeting will be for the purpose of acquainting the people with the development on the industrial project thus far. Bill Neal of Quanah, president of the executive committee which has been set up by the board of directors, will tell the history of how this project has come about. Also expected to be on hand are Mrs. Carol Koch of the Quanah Tribune-Chief; Ross Smith of Childress, vice president of the organization; J. C. Randle, a member of the land committee, also of Childress; Jack Powell, of Paducah, treasurer; and others from the various towns in the four-county area.

Local members of the board of directors are Robert Kincaid, Henry Black and Cecil Davis.

Following the explanatory talks, a time for questions and answers will be provided and informal discussion by all who will participate will help to make the entire project more clearly understood by the people.

This is the fourth such meeting, with the first being held in Quanah, the second in Childress and the last one in Paducah. At the Paducah meeting, the organization received the name of Four-Winds Industrial Foundation.

Three directors represent each of the four counties, making up the 12-man board of directors. From these twelve persons, an executive committee was elected including president Bill Neal of Quanah; vice president Ross Smith of Childress; secretary, Cecil Davis of Crowell; and Jack Powell of Paducah, treasurer.

All interested persons, and that should be everybody, are urged to attend this meeting and take part in the discussion. Remember, the time is 8 p. m., Thursday, October 12.

New Burr Hopper Installed at Local Farmers Gin

New Equipment to Reduce Dust, Smoke and Lint Fly

The Farmers Co-Op. Gin in Crowell has installed a new burr hopper which Manager Bill King says will eliminate smoke, dust and lint fly from the ginning process.

The new hopper will hold about 25 bales of burs, and can be dumped into a truck for easy removal from the gin property.

The new hopper separates and collects the dust from the burs and also prevents the cotton lint from blowing into the air and collecting on nearby trees and weeds. In case the burs should catch on fire, Mr. King said the fire could be easily controlled.

King said that the installation of the burr hopper is in compliance with laws concerning air pollution and should practically do away with the dust and lint fly which blows north into town when the wind is in the south.

The Wildcats marched for their touchdown early in the first quarter with quarterback Joe Ray Barrett capping the drive with a six-yard pass to end Gary Tole. The kick for point-after was unsuccessful.

The defensive units for both teams then took over for the second and third quarters as neither team was able to score. In the fourth quarter, however, the Wildcat ground game came roaring back on a drive which Barrett capped the drive with a 15-yard run for six points. Barrett also ran the two points over to make the score 14-0.

Austin—Gov. John Connally dropped a political bombshell on the state capitol scene by reportedly telling 45 top supporters in a meeting at the Mansion that he has about made up his mind not to run for re-election.

Word of his unexpected reluctance promptly leaked to newsmen. Connally confirmed that the meeting was held and the possibility of a fourth term was discussed.

"My mind is not finally and irrevocably made up," he stated. "I have a pretty firm idea what I am going to do, but I am not prepared to announce the decision. I may decide within the next few days, but I think it will be longer—two weeks or later."

Backers began deluging the governor's office with telephone calls and some newspapers are sounding editorial appeals for the governor to run "just one more time."

U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough's name figures increasingly in the list of prospective gubernatorial candidates following a disagreement between Connally and the senior senator over flood aid.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, who already has announced as a candidate for the top spot, continues his campaigning in East Texas where he is conducting a "listening tour."

Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr has stated repeatedly he might run for governor if Connally does not.

House Speaker Ben Barnes says he will run for lieutenant governor regardless of Connally's ultimate decision.

COURT RACES SPOTLIGHTED—State high court races are assured more than ordinary attention in 1968 primaries by the early announcements of three incumbent judges that they will not seek re-election.

Court of Criminal Appeals Judge Wesley Dice is the latest to reveal plans to step aside at the end of his present term. States Attorney Leon Douglas immediately announced as a candidate for the place.

Earlier announcements were made by State Supreme Court Associate Justices James R. Norvell and Meade F. Griffin that they will retire after next year.

Potential candidates to succeed them include Austin District Judge Tom Reavley, Chief Justice James G. Denton of the Amarillo Court of Civil Appeals, Associate Justice Matt Davis of the Texarkana Court of Civil Appeals and Houston District Judge Sears McGee.

NEW INSPECTION ITEMS—Auto inspections, expanded by the new state law, are underway at 5,500 stations and will continue through April 15.

Don't be surprised at the additional items covered by the new $1.75 fee. They will include:

- Required front seat safety belts on every car which has anchorages as part of the manufacturer's original equipment.
- Checking for "lash" or "play" in steering control. Vehicles will be rejected if steering wheel can be turned more than two inches without front wheel motion. It must also be possible to turn the wheels from full right to full left without jamming or binding. Vehicles with power steering must be checked with power on, and if fluid is below recommended level, car will not pass inspection.

Wheels with defective or bent rim flanges or those with loose or missing bolts, nuts or lugs will cause rejection of the vehicle.

Two Minutes With the Bible

From Death to Birth

"Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the Word of God, which liveth and abideth forever" (1 Pet. 1:23).

We are prone to think of death as following birth. People are born to live their lives and then die.

Spiritually, however, it is the other way. St. Peter, by divine inspiration, says that we must be "born again" because:

"All flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth and the flower thereof falleth away:

"But the Word of the Lord endureth forever. And this is the Word which by the gospel is preached unto you" (vers. 24, 25).

This new birth is a spiritual matter, necessitated by the fact that by nature men are "dead in trespasses and sins" (Eph. 2:1). Thus believers are not born again in the same way as they were first born, but are born again—given new life, by believing the Word of God.

God's Word, in this passage, is called "incorruptible seed"—seed that cannot die. Once the Word takes root in one's heart, once he believes and receives it, it never dies, but produces in him "everlasting life."

"The Word of the Lord endureth forever, and this is the Word which by the gospel is preached unto you" (ver. 25).

The Word of God takes root in one's heart only as he believes the gospel, the good news, about Christ's redemptive work. Peter himself proclaims this wonderful gospel:

"... Ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold... but with the precious blood of Christ..." (1 Peter 1:18, 19).

"Who His own self bare our sins in His own body on the tree..." (1 Pet. 2:24).

"For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the Just for the unjust, that He might bring us to God..." (1 Peter 3:18).

Believing this good news dead sinners are "born again."

Mrs. Curtis Faust visited relatives in Hobart, Okla., over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacky Horne of Wichita Falls visited Mrs. J. E. Horne last week end.

Mrs. J. D. Cook is visiting relatives in Houston this week.

People Nearing Retirement Should Check with S. S. Office

"That first social security check could be speeded up in most cases if people would check with their social security office several months before retiring," according to Edwin Draughon, Manager of the Vernon Social Security office.

An early visit before retirement allows the social security people to provide important information about when to file a claim for benefits and what will be needed to establish entitlement.

For example, they can look over any proof of age documents and, perhaps, suggest other sources, if it appears that additional evidence will be needed. In addition, they can explain the retirement test and answer any other questions.

This early visit would make it possible for most people to bring everything needed when filing a claim for benefits, and this should speed up delivery of that first important check.

Social Security Office Offers Help to Area Residents

People who rely solely on information from friends and neighbors about social security are being short-changed because they are paying for more reliable information, Edwin Draughon, manager of social security at Vernon noted.

The doors of the social security office swing wide and the people in the office are ready to assist all who walk in, Mr. Draughon said.

He added that no one should hesitate to ask for information about his rights and responsibilities, and pointed out that many people understand one part of the law, but do not understand some other part which may be just as important for them.

For example, most people come to the social security office to complete their application for benefits when they are about to retire, but many are not aware that a telephone call ahead of time asking what to bring with them may save an extra trip.

Most people know that if they are permanently and totally disabled, they may qualify for disability benefits, but many do not know that a disabled person may now qualify for disability benefits if his disability is expected to last 12 months.

Those who know that widows and minor children receive monthly benefits if the "breadwinner" dies, may not know that dependent parents can also receive monthly benefits.

It is common knowledge that people over 65 are eligible for medicare, but many people do not know that they need to sign up 2 or 3 months before they are 65 to become eligible for the supplemental medical insurance as early as possible.

It has been published that 91 per cent of those over 65 signed up for the doctor bill insurance, but do the other 9 per cent know that they will have another opportunity to sign up in October, November, and December of this year?

Mr. Draughon said whether you come in with a bundle of doctor bills for assistance in completing a claim for reimbursement, or inquiring about a lost social security card, you will receive light service from the employees of social security office. The office is located at 1728 Fanning and open from 8:30 a. m. to 4:45 p. m. on week days and from 10 a. m. until 12 noon on Saturdays. The convenience of those who come in during the week, a representative from the Vernon office visits other towns in the five-county area regularly for the convenience of area residents.

Right?
A—That depends on your situation.
Q—I'm a freshman on a football scholarship and have time to take only 12 hours. Will that give me a deferment in Class II-S?
A—Yes, for the present. But whether it will in the future depends on what degree you're seeking and how long normally it takes to get it.
Q—I'm studying business administration. It takes four years, or less if you go to summer school. I plan to pick up some hours each summer. What's the least number of hours a year I'll need to take?
A—That depends on the total semester hours necessary to get the degree. You should get one-fourth of them off each of the four years.
Q—It takes 126 semester hours to get the degree. Let's see—that means I need to average 31½ hours a year. Is the summer term included in each year?
A—Yes.
Q—Let's see. If I take 12 hours this fall, 12 hours next spring,

Q—I'm a college student. My registrar said I had to take 15 semester hours in the fall semester to make proportionate progress under the new draft law.

DID YOU KNOW THAT:
Since 1928 the Texas Forest Service has produced 415 million one-year old baby seedlings in its nurseries for reforestation purposes by Texas landowners. Set out with a spacing of 6 by 8 feet this number would be sufficient to plant 457,000 acres, an entire county the size of Trinity or Wood. Today, the Indian Mound Forest Tree Nursery near Alto in Cherokee County produces about eight million trees annually.

Railroads First Used Piggyback in 1929
A release from the Association of American Railroads stated: "The first sustained modern use of piggyback began in 1929 by a midwestern railroad. Other companies established similar services in the 1930's. But not until the mid-1950's did the rapid growth of piggyback emerge to become a key phase of today's rail freight operations."

Food Marketing Bigger Industry Than Farming

Food marketing, no matter how it is examined, is big business when viewed in terms of the number of people employed.

Last year, about 13 million workers were employed in the agricultural marketing field, according to Dr. W. E. Black, extension economist in marketing and policy at Texas A&M University.

Those 13 million, he added, are more than twice the number of workers employed on all farms in the United States.

"In fact, the number of workers employed in marketing is ever-increasing, while the number of farm workers continues to decline," he said. "Nearly one out of five civilian workers in this country is employed in marketing, full or part time."

Food marketing in the U. S. is carried on by private enterprise firms, whose activities are coordinated through operation of the pricing system and the profit motive.

Operations by the private business sector are supplemented by various government services, such as daily market reports of volume and price, by research and by regulations designed to "enforce the rules of the game," Black said.

By 1965, more than one-third of all miles driven in Texas will be on the 3,029 miles of Interstate highways in the state. In its 50th anniversary year, 1967, the Texas Highway Department has completed more than 1,850 miles of this system.

Self-Employed Should Take Tax Return in Filing for S. S. Claims

One of the main reasons that social security and medicare claims are often delayed for self-employed people relates to the fact that many self-employed people fail to take a copy of their income tax form 1040 and self employment schedule C or schedule F with them when they contact their social security representative three months before age 62 or three months before age 65.

Edwin Draughon, manager of the Vernon office of the Social Security Administration, indicates that in almost every case the self-employed person will be required to leave a copy of his most recent tax return with his social security representative and that the tax return will have to be retained permanently by the Social Security Administration.

Mr. Draughon recommends that every self-employed person who will be reaching age 62 or 65 between now and December, 1967, have an extra copy made of his 1966 tax return. Three months before age 62 or age 65, take it and the cancelled check to discuss retirement or medicare benefits with the social security representative.

Two Things to Remember About Government Spending

There are two things to remember about government spending: Every dollar spent by government represents a dollar over which private citizens have lost control. The three people who can reduce federal spending depend on your vote to be elected: The President, your U. S. Congressman and your U. S. Senator. When, asks the Associated Industries of Alabama, did you last write to any of them?

Style Show Featured at Joint Meeting of Two Columbian Clubs

Not even a crystal ball on a cloth covered table in a dimly lit room could have provided a clearer look into the past, the present and the future more aptly than did the fashion show of Wednesday, October 4, when members of the Junior Columbian Club modeled clothing from those periods. Mrs. Allen Shultz entertained both the Junior and senior clubs on that day at the Crowell community center and Mrs. Cecil Carroll presented the program. The latter was assisted by Mrs. Jerry Floyd and Mrs. Clinton McLain.

A forty-year-old shift of pure white silk, fashioned and hand fagotted by a male dressmaker in India for the wife of a British officer was modeled by Sherry Prince. Kristi McLain wore Mrs. Jack Brown's 1927 wedding dress, a beige georgette crepe with a dropped waistline featuring petal points to soften the skirt. A slim, black velvet dress dating in the late 90's was chic on Jo Nell Bradford, who added a plumed hat, small figured bag and black umbrella to complete her costume, once worn by the late Mrs. C. P. Sandifer.

Rita Sue Coffey, chosen for her 22-inch waist, displayed Mrs. John Ray's 1913 handmade college graduation dress of India crepe muslin with venetian point insertion and edging. Quite "daring," being 4 whole inches above the floor, this dress must have caused raised eyebrows also over its low (for that day) neckline and its being worn over only one petticoat of Berkeley cambric with a Swiss embroidery flounce.

Also of ankle length was a printed skirt and blouse over a fancy slip worn by Judy Whitley. A black travel dress with padded shoulder and lace trim, a large straw hat with a triple overlay of net, an imported beaded bag, a fan and long white kid gloves turned Cathy McLain into a sedate lady of her great grandmother's time. A night gown of the same period was modeled by a bare-foot Peggy Raspberry. The two last-named garments belonged to the late Mrs. Sandifer.

Micki Owens displayed the negligence of crepe-de-vhene with fifteen-inch fringe on sleeves and skirt, caught with a silk rose at closure just above the knee, which Mrs. Jack Brown bought for her trousseau at Perkins Timberlake in Wichita Falls in 1927.

Stepping farther back into time, Kathy Hammonds, complete with high topped shoes, looked very sophisticated in her elegant black, almost floor length, dress. Around her neck she wore a velvet ribbon and lovely brooch.

Time passes and styles go to extremes. Jaque Gillispie entered wearing a short knit shift of navy, hot pink and yellow. Ann Russell modeled a brown mini dress with black polka dots and olive green shoes. Mary Adams was petite in a brown dotted swiss tent dress, fish net hose and the new square toed shoes.

An orange, green and lavender mini-tent with matching bloomers was modeled by Jo Driver. A semi or modified tent of cotton paisley print and shoes with the "granny" look was the costume of Sue Eubank.

Janis Whitley fashioned her red loon-a-tik fur trimmed black and white harlequin costume as the "tomorrow" look while Pam Borchardt chose an op-art mini shift with spaghetti straps for warm days. Incidentally, this dress was made of paper, which may play a large role in milady's future styles. Also wearing a blue and red paper dress, black belted, with legs painted to match, was Kay Looney.

Featuring the space theme, Nikki Woods modeled a micro-mini dress with black tights, silver collar and arm bands, with pale streamers falling from the neckline. She, as well as Shayne Garrett, seemed to have appeared from another planet, so unique were their fashions. The latter sported copper satin trunks and bra enhanced by a copper petal front, high top silver boots and helmet hat. The question was asked by the fashion commentator, Jan Carroll, "Could it be that we could ever come to this?"

Following the style show, Mrs. Shultz served cookies and soft drinks to members of both clubs.

Gambleville H. D. Club

"You don't have to be good at anything if you like to do it," quoted Mrs. C. M. Carroll as she gave the program on drying and arranging flowers to the Gambleville Home Demonstration Club on Friday, Oct. 6, at the home of Mrs. Milburn Carroll. "Dry flowers take the place of fresh flowers if you don't have them. Today's modern homes call for dried arrangements. There are 340,000 species of plants to be dried. The proper time to gather plants to be dried is just before they mature. It takes from 10 days to three weeks," she said. She brought several arrangements to show and then made others. Mrs. Carroll also showed a rolling pin made from a mesquite tree on the farm where she was raised in the Black community and her step-father, C. D. Hall, gave it to her.

Mrs. Clarence Garrett gave a report of her trip to the THDA convention which was at Fort Worth on Sept. 20-22.

Mrs. Milburn Carroll conducted a game. There were eight members and three visitors, Mrs. C. M. Carroll, Mrs. John Tengeue and Mrs. R. J. Owens. A get-well card was signed by all and sent to Miss Margaret Curtis, Mrs. Elton Carr, Mrs. Alton Farrar, vice president; Mrs. Bill Dodd, secretary; Mrs. Roy C. Daniel, treasurer; and Mrs. Edmund Tomanek, treasurer.

Roll call at the meeting was answered with "a cotton treasure of mine." The H. D. Agent, Mrs. Gail Osborn, brought a slide program, "Uses of Cotton in the Home."

Mrs. J. R. Brown was hostess.

Many Americans Own Industrial Stocks

"Karl Marx would turn over in his grave if he knew this, but instead of a 'handful of privileged capitalists' tightly grasping the reins of industry, as he predicted, in America 20 million and more people (more than a quarter of the adult population), own stock in some 6,700 of the nation's industrial concerns . . . and 35 per cent of these 'capitalists' are housewives and widows!"—Scottsville, Ky., News.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the Thursday, Oct. 14, 1937, issue of The Foard County News:

Nearly five inches of rain fell here from Friday night until Wednesday afternoon to place the soil in ideal condition for wheat. The rain has delayed the gathering of cotton several days.

Coach Grady Graves' Wildcats overpowered the heavy Haskell Indians 14 to 2 in the last half of their fray on a water soaked gridiron in Haskell last Friday night. A heavy downpour which started 45 minutes before game time and stopped a few minutes before the teams took the field, left the playing ground slippery. The Wildcats are ready for their conference game with the Chillicothe Eagles at Chillicothe Friday night although they will be handicapped with the loss of Charles Branch, regular Wildcat pivot man, who was injured in the Haskell game.

Three bay rum addicts were apprehended in Crowell during the past week end by Sheriff A. W. Lilly and Deputy John Todd.

Jack Welch of Foard City has been selected as a member of the stock judging team which will attend the American Royal stock judging contest in Kansas City October 16, according to an announcement from Texas Tech, where Jack is a student.

Over one hundred pigskin followers will again witness football feats of the nimble-footed Dick Todd, former Crowell Wildcat star, in the game between Texas A&M Aggies and TCU Horned Frogs in Fort Worth Saturday in what may prove to be the deciding game of the Southwest Conference championship.

Provisional Cadet Second Lt. Tom Ray Roberts from Crowell has been assigned command of the second platoon of Company A, in line with the plan of Maj. James D. Bender, USA, of placing cadets in different offices to determine their ability before making final appointments for the John Tarleton cadet corps.

Miss Elvira Marr of Crowell has been elected vice president of the Home Economics Club of West Texas State College in Canyon. Home economics is a course which is very popular this term.

R. H. Borchardt and H. K. Edwards of the M. & S. Chevrolet Company are attending a meeting at Dallas where plans for the announcement of the new 1938 Chevrolet are being discussed.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Davenport spent the week end visiting relatives in Galveston.

The stewards and pastor of the Methodist Church were entertained with a banquet in the home of Judge and Mrs. Claude Callaway Tuesday evening. Judge Callaway is chairman of the board.

Can't Bully Your Way In

"Under the American system of government, you can't bully your way into society. Those who choose this course eventually will destroy all their chances for social and economic equality. We sincerely believe the majority race in our nation has done much—and still has much to do—to erase the injustices of the past 100 years. We also believe that the minority race is now being handicapped more by its own so-called leaders than it has been by its previous oppressors." — Wynne, Ark., Progress.
