Local Residents Attend Meeting on Agriculture

A group of Foard County men returned home Wednesday from Paducah excited about the very real possibilities of doubling farm and ranch income within the county.

Agricultural leaders were in Paducah to help scores of other area leaders kick off the brand new and massive Rolling Plains Economic Program (RPEP).

Goal of the broadly based program is the same for the other 27 counties comprising the Texas Rolling Plains as it is for Foard: to double, within the foreseeable future, farm and ranch income.

RPEP sets forth the means and ways for taking advantage of the possibilities which do seem indeed to exist for increasing the annual area agricultural income from about $220 million to more than $400 million.

Initiated in September 1966 by officials in the College of Agriculture at Texas A&M University (at the request of and in cooperation with area leaders,) the written Rolling Plains Economic Program is a 200-page document prepared by Norman Brints of Vernon, area specialist in farm management with the A&M Agricultural Extension Service.

Similar meetings for other area counties were held last week at Abilene and Rotan. The Paducah meeting and a session Tuesday at Seymour concluded the kick-off phases of RPEP. Other meetings are scheduled later, however, on the county level.

Among the several speakers at Paducah was Dr. H. O. Kunkel of College Station, acting dean of the A&M College of Agriculture and associate director of the A&M Agricultural Experiment Station. Among his remarks:

"Your approach on an area basis in trying to increase agricultural income is sound because it provides those guidelines for achieving the potential of the entire Rolling Plains, guidelines which, by the way, can be followed by all organizations, agencies, groups and individuals within the framework of their operation.

"Your area approach also has the effect of coordinating the efforts of everyone who is supporting those objectives which have been established by the people themselves."

Persons from Foard County at the kick-off were H. L. Ayers Jr., Monroe Karcher, Herbert Fish, Harold Fish, Mrs. Virginia Hseng, Mrs. Clarence Garrett, John McAlister and Joe Burkett.

Programs similar in design and purpose to RPEP have been underway several years in other areas of the state: the Blackland Income Growth (BIG) program, the Build East Texas (BET) program, the Panhandle Economic Program (PEP).

(Example: In the area where BIG is now in its sixth year, farm income in 18 selected counties last year was up $53.9 million from that of 1965. In Collin County alone, farm income in 1961 was $18 million. BIG is much-credited for the $25 million increase there last year.)

First draft of the written Rolling Plains Economic Program (500 pages) was presented last July to a committee representing the 28 counties involved. Its approval at that time was unanimous. Those persons at the July meeting represented the 28 individual county program building committees and the government, agribusiness, education and industry in the counties.

The meeting in Paducah was the last of four in the area during which leaders from various counties other than Foard made plans for presenting RPEP to their fellow citizens.

In his briefing, Brints told the county representatives that "the economic growth of agriculture in your Rolling Plains depends on the efficient use which you make of agricultural resources and the very speed with which new and improved technology is adopted."

Brints emphasized that "the greatest return on investment goes to those who change first. And, agriculture in the Rolling Plains is indeed changing. Farms are larger, but fewer. Requirements per farm in both the areas of capital and management are increasing.

"If the agricultural industry in the Rolling Plains is to grow, every effort must point toward conservation and the efficient use of all resources in the area.

"This Rolling Plains Economic Program and the guidelines therein can well be the beginning of a renewed effort to adopt the advanced technology in production, in marketing, in conservation, in precision management."

The potential increase of more than $200 million annually—where will it come from for the farmers and ranchers in Foard as well as in the other 27 counties?

In his report Wednesday, Brints defined the sources of the potential increase as follows:

—Increased use of the rainfall on cultivated acres for crop and livestock production (by reducing runoff, evaporation, undesirable plants): $25 million.

—Timely and accurate application of the irrigation water on 130,000 acres: $15 million.

—Expanded use of latest technology in brush control and deferred grazing in beef production: $10 million.

—Adoption of the best-known production techniques for increasing crop yields, improving crop quality, reducing crop costs: $30 million.

—Improved organization of farms and ranches for the maximum use of land, labor, capital and management: $7 million.

—Increased processing and manufacturing of those agricultural products in the 28 counties: $120 million.

—Effective planning of estates and management of the income tax: $7 million.

—Development of commercial outdoor recreation such as hunting, fishing and camping: $3 million.

—Increased production of cattle, swine and sheep on the crop farms: $6 million.

At the meeting, representatives of various public agencies and organizations described the contributions which each can make to help farmers and ranchers implement RPEP.

SO YOU WANT NEW INDUSTRY

SO YOU WANT NEW INDUSTRY

Point II—Research and Analysis

As we mentioned in Part I of this series, it could be the town with the most attractive Main Street or the neatest park and schools, that gets the new industry, but in any case, it will be a town which is able to present itself well in facts and figures.

Remember, any industry first and foremost must make a profit.

Therefore, to the industrialist there is no such thing as a "good" labor force, or a "good" water supply, or a "good" tax structure. He wants to know exactly what the labor force is: men, women, skilled, unskilled; what is the water supply in gallons—the consumption; what the tax structure is in detail. . . he will want to know the facts and figures on subjects such as these for the past, present and projections for the future.

In short, the industrialist, your prospect, must have the data necessary to decide whether or not a town offers a profitable picture for his particular operation. And this data must be available when the prospect comes to town—not promised for two weeks later. The prospect may have five or six towns to visit and evaluate during the next two weeks. This means that your research and analysis must be done now, at the very first of your I. D. Program.

The best way to start compiling the necessary facts and figures about your community is to assign specific individuals in the I. D. Committee the responsibility of becoming experts in certain areas of information—such as labor, water, taxes, land, etc. From past experience it has been shown that the specialist on labor should be an employer, not an employment commission official, and the specialist in taxes should be a taxpayer, not someone from the county clerk's office.

There are many sources from which your newly-appointed research specialists can begin compiling data: the public library, the city clerk's office, the utility companies, etc. But they should also seek assistance from one or more of the several agencies in Texas which offer assistance in this area. The Texas Industrial Commission is one of these, and will supply a list of all other sources in the state.

Research and analysis can be done on a do it yourself basis, but your community might consider it worthwhile to pay to have a complete economic research and analysis report made by professionals. Texas A&M and the University of Texas have the resources to do an admirable job at a relatively low cost.

When the basic research and analysis has been done, you will have an accurate picture of your community in facts and figures for presentation to an industrial prospect. You also will have a valuable tool for analysis of your prospecting program. This means matching what your community has to offer with what different types of industries are looking for.

A breakdown of the specific needs and requirements of industries can be obtained from the Texas Industrial Commission.

When this matching principle has been carried out, you will have a list of "candidate industries"—those manufacturing firms whose needs match what your community has to offer, or, in other words, those companies who can operate at a profit in your town. In this manner you will be avoiding a shotgun, hit-or-miss method of seeking new industry in favor of the rifle, or targeted approach.

Statistics of Income—Individual

A record 67.6 million individual income tax returns were filed for 1965.

This is an increase of 2.2 million over 1964, according to the Internal Revenue Service Publication—Statistics of Income—1965, Individual Income Tax Returns.

The IRS book is available now for $2.00 from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402.

A Look Ahead at Agricultural Prices

Do we dare look at 1980? What's in store for agriculture? These questions were asked by W. E. Black, extension economist at Texas A&M University. Farmers are especially concerned about the future because of the current price-cost squeeze, he said.

A study entitled "Food Needs and U. S. Agriculture in 1980" by Dr. Earl Heady and Leo Mayer of the Center for Agricultural and Economics Development at Iowa State University, projects that farmers will produce their crops for lower prices in 1980. Their projection assumes that present farm commodity programs will play a lesser role in the future. They assume also that the free market will continue and encourage efficiency and technology to develop at the present rate. Under these circumstances they project prices per bushel as follows:

Wheat	1.34	1.27
Feed grains*	1.10	.75
Soybeans	2.49	1.23
Cotton (lb.)	.28	.17

* Corn equivalent. These prices are projects, Black emphasizes, to cover the cost of producing the last bushel needed—and since the last unit is the most expensive to produce, they would offer a profit on each of the previous units.

In the absence of government commodity programs to hold prices at artificially high levels, these would probably be the prevailing market price levels, concludes the study.

Two Minutes With the Bible

A Ransom for All
"For there is one God, and one Mediator between God and men, the Man Christ Jesus; who gave Himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time" (1 Tim. 2:5,6).

Man, in his present condition, is not fit to stand in the presence of a holy God. If we are honest with ourselves we will feel the need of a mediator—a go-between—who can represent us in the presence of God. Job felt this when, realizing this need, he cried: "There is no daysman who can lay his hand upon us both" (Job 9:33).

Thank God, a "daysman" or "mediator" has been provided for sinful men—a go-between, who can represent us before a holy God. This Mediator is Christ, Son of God and Son of man.
What a blessing to know that the Son of God became the Son of man so that the sons of men might become the sons of God! Though perfect and sinless, He died in disgrace upon Calvary's cross as a malefactor so that His payment for sin might be credited to our account and we might stand before God without one sin to our charge.

Though Christ's death for sin was credited to all believers, even of past ages, it was not proclaimed until sometime after the cross, when God in grace saved Saul of Tarsus the chief of sinners (1 Tim. 1:15). This is why the apostle declares that Christ "gave Himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time."
It was when Saul, the chief of sinners, was saved on the road to Damascus, that God began to show to him that Christ had died as "a ransom for all," and God now sent him forth to proclaim this glorious message.

This is why Paul's epistles are so filled with references to salvation through the cross, the death, the blood of Christ. And it is on this basis that the Apostle offers

Off-Shore Reserves

Current estimates show that one fourth of the new world oil and gas reserves will be found offshore. The staggering expense of offshore operations has brought about a demand for improved technology. These observations were made at the 42nd annual fall meeting of the Society of Petroleum Engineers.

Tax Requirements for Students Are Listed by I. R. S.

Students in Northern Texas who work part-time or summers may have a refund coming on their 1967 federal income tax returns. Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue, said this week.

Students are required to file a tax return if they earned $600 or more. If they earned less than $600 and taxes were withheld from wages by their employers, they should file a return in order to obtain a refund of the tax withheld from their wages.

Unmarried students who earn less than $900 will not owe any federal income tax. They are entitled to claim the usual $600 personal exemption, plus a $300 minimum standard deduction.

Students are entitled to claim their own personal exemption when filing a tax return. Mr. Campbell said. Parents who furnish more than one-half the cost of support for their child who is a full-time student may also claim an exemption on their tax return, unless the child is married and is filing a joint return with his or her spouse.

Balloting Ends Friday in Cotton Referendum

The upland cotton marketing referendum being held this week will continue through Friday, Dec. 8. Ballots were mailed to all known producers. The ballots must be returned in person by Dec. 8 or have them postmarked, if returned by mail, not later than December 8.

According to Mrs. Jean Reeder, local ASC office manager, two-thirds of the voters voting "yes" will carry the election. Failure of the referendum would do away with the current program of payments and provide price support only for those planting within their 1968 allotment. There would be no penalty for overplanting.

Mrs. Reeder added that 1968 cotton allotments and yields have been mailed to operators of all cotton farms. "If you desire to appeal, then you must do so in writing within 15 days from the date of the notice. Additional time can be granted for you to gather evidence of production," Mrs. Reeder added.

The 1968 cotton program provides: 1. minimum diversion of 5 per cent of allotment; 2. additional diversion of 30 per cent of allotment; 3. price support on 65 per cent of allotment.

Rates are: 1. for 5 per cent diversion, 10.76¢ per lb. X yield; 2. for 30 per cent additional diversion, 6¢ per lb. X yield; 3. for 65 per cent price support, 12.24¢ per lb. of yield; 4. loan rate is 20.25¢ for middling 1 inch cotton.

Columbian Club Members Hear Talk by Vernon Woman

"Kindness is wisdom. There is none in life but needs it and may learn of it." This was the quotation selection for the November 29 meeting of the Columbian Club in Mrs. N. J. Roberts' home. Mental health was the topic of study and Mrs. Robert Hammonds served as leader. Mrs. John S. Ray presided over the business session and Mrs. D. R. Magee served as secretary. A game or hobby suitable for mental patients was the roll call topic.

The speaker for the afternoon program was Mrs. Ross A. Spears of Vernon. An ex-Gray Lady, Mrs. Spears now works at the State Hospital as volunteer coordinator. Time was when mental patients were considered hopeless and helpless; but today, rehabilitation teams, psychologists, psychiatrists and group therapy, have brought about near miracles. New hope for the mental patient has resulted from such study and treatment and no longer are those with potential allowed to vegetate in a so-called "snake pit" of mental abyss. The old idea of mental illness as a disgrace has given way to the realization that even this type of illness can often be cured or at least controlled.

Of all mental patients, the most tragic are the "lost children," for even the very young can be and often are mentally disturbed, but much can be done if these children can be given treatment in time to prevent irreparable damage to the mental processes.

Too, there are possible 3,000 senile patients in Texas institutions who actually do not need to be in mental hospital. Could they be placed on a contract basis in homes, their beds would be available to those who actually need mental therapy.

Mrs. Spears' warm, personal message was inspirational. She stressed the pleasure derived from "outside" volunteer visitors' kindnesses such as taking patients for a drive or to concerts or events which the patients enjoy. Even simple shopping jaunts lift their spirits immeasurably, and several hostesses have entertained folk from the hospital at teas, or simple parties in their homes.

She told of the activities enjoyed in the hospital, where the majority of the 200 men and an equal number of women are classified as chronics. In other words, they cannot be helped by shock treatment or other such methods, but they enjoy games, television, ping pong, canasta and bridge. They look forward to big day where small jars of instant coffee are highly-sought prizes. They have handcraft, some items being displayed and sold to club members, a square dance club and are now anxiously looking forward to Christmas. Each person is assured of two gifts from the tree, thanks to the many organizational and individual contributions from the six counties which support this phase of the hospital's activity.

Concluding her speech, Mrs. Spears asked that each person, in cashing in a Gold Bond stamp book, request a gift certificate which, collected in sufficient numbers by the hospital, can be used to acquire another greatly-needed television set. This is an excellent yet free way of assisting in making life for these child-like folk happier.

Following the program, Mrs. Roberts served ice cream and cake during the social hour to members and guests, Mrs. Spears and Mrs. David Johnson.

Agent Gives Recipe for Candy Bar Cookies

As you are making plans and doing some of your Christmas baking, you may have a young person in the house who would enjoy helping out with some of the cooking, says Mrs. Virginia Ilseeng, County Home Demonstration Agent.

To begin your new cook right, give her—or him—the idea cooking is not all work. Cookies are a good starter.

Here is a recipe for cookies that taste like candy bars, and are a favorite with youngsters.

Candy Bar Cookies

1 cup brown sugar, 1/2 cup light corn syrup, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup peanut butter, 1/2 cup soft butter, 3 teaspoons vanilla, 4 cups raw quick-cooking rolled oats, 1 cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces.

1. Start heating the oven to 350 degrees F. Grease a 13x9x2-inch pan with unsalted shortening or salad oil.

2. With a spoon or electric mixer on medium speed, mix the brown sugar and butter in a large bowl until light and fluffy. Add the corn syrup, vanilla, salt and rolled oats and beat on low speed to mix ingredients well.

3. Spread the mixture evenly in the greased pan with the back of a spoon or spatula. Bake on the rack in the center of the oven 15 minutes.

4. While the mixture bakes, mix the peanut butter and chocolate in a small bowl.

5. Remove pan from the oven and at once spread the peanut butter-chocolate mixture evenly over the top to cover until the heat melts the chocolate. When cool, cut into 27 bars and remove from the pan with a spatula.

Truscott H. D. Club

Mrs. Gail Osborne presented a program on menus for company meals at the Thursday, Nov. 29, meeting of the Truscott Home Demonstration Club at the community house. She distributed recipes for casseroles and discussed some basic menus to accompany the main dishes. The program was concluded by serving members lasagna. The lasagna freezes well if it is cooked only 20 minutes instead of the full 30; then finish cooking when the dish is re-heated. For only about 30 cents per serving, the lasagna offers calcium, iron, vitamin A, thiamin, riboflavin, niacin and protein.

Mrs. W. M. Rake presided at the business meeting preceding the program. Mrs. Jack W. Brown was appointed secretary to take the place of Mrs. Bill Dodd who has resigned.

Friday night, Dec. 15, was set as the date for the annual community Christmas party. Following a covered dish supper, Christmas tree will be held with table games concluding the evening. Mrs. Osborn suggested that 4-H recreation leaders be invited to contribute songs and games to the evening program, and club members agreed to invite all 4-H recreation leaders to participate.

The H. D. Club Christmas gift exchange will be held Tuesday, Dec. 19, at 2:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Rake.

W. S. L. Meeting

"A community cannot be removed from a mental institution," this challenge of responsibility toward the mentally ill, was expressed by Mrs. Ross Spears, coordinating chairman of volunteer service for the Vernon State Hospital. Mrs. Spears was guest speaker for the Women's Service League at the weekly noon luncheon on Thursday, November 30.

(Editor's note: Mrs. Spears also spoke to the Columbian Club. A report of Mrs. Spears' remarks was already set in type for this paper, and rather than repeat the same information, interested persons are invited to read the account of Mrs. Spears' talk in the Columbian Club article on this same page.

Statistics of Income—Individual

New Method to Be Used to Pay for Medicare Benefits

The Social Security Administration, in cooperation with the American Hospital Association, has developed a new method of paying for hospital services under medicare, John W. Gardner, Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, announced last week.

Beginning January 1, 1968, Gardner said, hospitals will be able to count on receiving an agreed-upon uniform medicare payment each week. This new method, which may become a prototype for other hospital insurance plans, will:

—help hospitals improve their financial planning and day-to-day management.

—substantially reduce detailed paperwork.

Detailed statements of services and charges will no longer be required in advance of medicare payment, the secretary noted. Instead, a hospital's weekly payment will be based on an estimate of the cost of the services it expects to furnish to medicare beneficiaries in the course of a year. It will receive that amount weekly in 52 installments.

Adjustments in the amount of the payment can be made at any time to reflect current cost experience. Final settlement and audit will take place once a year.

The idea for this new medicare payment plan, Gardner noted, was first suggested by Thomas M. Tierney, the Social Security Administration's new medicare director, who until last April was president of Colorado's Blue Cross Plan.

There were over 6 million admissions to hospitals under medicare during the first 15 months of its operation, he said, involving about 5 million people. Over $3 billion has been paid to hospitals for these services.

Physicians have arranged home health care for about 300,000 people, and since January 1, about 300,000 people have been admitted to extended care facilities.

About a billion dollars has been paid under the voluntary program which covers primarily physicians' bills. The somewhat over 20 million bills for physicians' services, covering a great variety of services, have averaged $38 each. The surgical bills, as would be expected, were considerably more and taken alone averaged about $132 per bill.

There are about 6,900 hospitals participating in the program, about 4,200 extended care facilities, 1,900 home health agencies, and 2,400 independent laboratories. Seventeen and three-quarter million people over 65, or 93 per cent of all the older people in the country, have enrolled in the voluntary medical insurance part of medicare.

Processing time for the payment of claims has been greatly reduced in recent months, Secretary Gardner stated. The average time nationally required to process physicians' bills is now about two weeks. This is a reduction, he said, from an average processing time of about 5 weeks at the first of the year and about 2 1/2 weeks in June.

Teachers Receive Thanks for Help to Flood Victims in Valley

The faculty of the Crowell Schools has received a letter from A. F. Cobb, superintendent of the Three Rivers School thanking them for donations made by the local teachers for the faculty of the Three Rivers School following the Hurricane Beulah floods.

In response to financial contributions made by the teachers of the Crowell Schools, Supt. Cobb stated, "There are thirty-five teachers and staff members that had homes flooded. Water stood in these homes for five days at a level of from four to six feet deep. The personal loss to these teachers was tremendous and many articles and items can never be replaced.

"I want to thank you for my staff of teachers and personnel and for myself for the gracious assistance that has been extended to all of us . . . The concern of fellow teachers and friends from all over the state has been a most heart-warming experience."

Statistics of Income—Individual

Many senior citizens are employed.

For 1965, salaries and wages of over $12 billion were reported on 2.8 million individual income tax returns with at least one taxpayer 65 or over, according to the Internal Revenue Service publication—Statistics of Income—1965, Individual Income Tax Returns.

The IRS book is available now for $2.00 from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402.

Cancer Film Shown at Meeting Here November 30th

"The Other City," was the title of a film presented to the Foard County Chapter of the American Cancer Society on November 30. This picture was filmed in Racine, Wisconsin, a city which has a population of 75,000; which is the approximate number who died of cancer last year in this country. The film showed the town completely vacant, and then stressed what individuals must do to prevent the vacancy. The total is estimated at an even higher number of 97,000 this year.

"You should follow a regular program of annual check-up and if you are someday the one person in four whom cancer now strikes, the chances are greatly in your favor that the disease will be caught in that early and curable stage from which you can expect complete recovery, and see your doctor immediately if you have any one of cancer's seven danger signals that last more than two weeks," the local Chapter officials stated.

Mrs. Gordon Cooper, public education chairman, gave a report of several projects she has going to help educate the public toward the prevention of cancer.

The report on memorial contributions for the past two months was encouraging, and the public is urged to continue giving memorial contributions to Mrs. R. G. Gribble, chairman.

Jack Speery, introduced new forms for monthly reports, for the various officers, and their effectiveness toward keeping the A. C. S. posted on the progress of each chapter.

The local chapter will have its next meeting on January 25.

Son-in-Law of Crowell Couple Awarded $15,000.00 Grant

A $15,000 research grant has been awarded to Dr. Thomas A. Bond, assistant professor of geology at Georgia Southern College in Statesboro, Georgia.

The purpose of the National Science Foundation grant study will be to determine the age and ecologic conditions under which peat bogs of south Georgia were formed.

Bond said his research, which will begin in January, will be on Georgia's coastal plain.

Bond was notified of the grant by telephone from Washington last week. He submitted his proposal for the grant this fall.

The study is to take two years during which Bond will make reports concerning the study and its progress. Bond said that 50 per cent of the grant money will be used to purchase research equipment—which will include a $7,000 microscope. One assistant for Bond is also allowed for in the grant.

Edwin Draughon, Social Security manager in Vernon, reminds residents this week that under changes in the social security a person need not be totally disabled in order to receive disability benefits.

"If you have an impairment which prevents you from engaging in substantial work and the condition is expected to last (or has lasted) up to a year, you may be eligible for monthly benefits," Mr. Draughon said. Previously a person could only receive disability benefits if he had a mental or physical impairment that was expected to continue for a long and indefinite time, or to result in death.

Uncle Sam's Selective Service

Editor's note: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 702 Colorado Street, Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.

Q—This is my last year as an undergraduate student. I may need a deferment to receive my baccalaureate degree. I understand if I request deferment in Class II-S and it is granted after the effective date of this law, this will bar me in the future from deferment as a father. Is that right?

A—Yes, if you request it and it is granted after June 30, 1967.

Q—I took my armed forces exam last summer and passed it and I'm presently in Class I-A. Will I be ordered for induction before this school year is over?

A—Possibly, but if you're a full-time, satisfactory student when you're ordered for induction, and you've never been classified in class I-S (C), your order will be cancelled.

Q—I've never been in Class I-S (C). What will happen then?

A—You will be put in I-S (C) if you're a full-time, satisfactory student.

Q—How long will I be deferred in that class?

A—Until the end of your academic year, or until you cease to pursue your course satisfactorily.

Q—Then I'd have the I-S (C) until I get my degree.

A—Yes, if you get it by the end of the academic year.

Q—Will this I-S (C) make me ineligible in the future for deferment as a father, like the II-S?

A—No, it will not. You'll be eligible for deferment in Class III-A.
