J. F. Matthews, Jr. New Masonic District Deputy

J. F. Matthews, Jr. of Thalia has been named District Deputy Grand Master of Masons for Masonic District No. 80, which includes five Masonic Lodges in Wilbarger, Foard and Hardeman Counties.

Matthews, who is a farmer, is a Past Master of Thalia Lodge No. 666 and is active in other Masonic organizations. He has served on various committees and is an active member of the Methodist Church in Thalia.

His appointment was made by the newly-elected Grand Master of Masons of Texas, J. W. Chandler of Houston, as the 132nd annual Communication of the Grand Lodge of Texas was concluded in Waco December 7.

District Deputy Grand Masters are appointed for each of the 132 Masonic Districts of Texas. They are the personal representatives of the Grand Master, head of the state's largest fraternal organization with nearly 250,000 members.

Attending Grand Lodge were Mr. Matthews, and Warren Haynie and Ray Shirley of Crowell.

Mrs. Floyd Named to 'Outstanding Young Women' List

Mrs. Sandra Kay Shaver Floyd of Crowell has been named to the 1967 edition of "Outstanding Young Women of America."

This annual compilation is a project of the Outstanding Americans Foundation, a non-profit foundation dedicated to recognizing and honoring outstanding Americans.

Selections for "Outstanding Young Women of America" are made by the Board of Advisory Editors.

Local women's clubs throughout the country submit nominations for the book each year, and a different group of outstanding young women is included each year.

Mrs. Floyd's husband, Jerry, is a member of the faculty of the Crowell Schools.

The Economic Opportunities Advancement Corporation held a regular quarterly meeting Wednesday night of last week at the community center in Crowell.

Felix Taylor of Crowell was hired as director of the new Operation Mainstream, and Robert Harrison of Vernon was employed as counselor for the project. A screening committee had previously recommended these two men for these positions.

The Office of Economic Opportunity will provide funds only on an existing level of present projects. Based on this information, Harrold Independent School District and Northside Independent School District were the only two eligible for summer Head Start programs. Harrold District was unable to participate because of an insufficient number of underprivileged children. Northside School submitted an application for a summer Head Start for 15 pre-school children.

Don Ross Malone, executive director, gave a report to the board on existing projects and those projects which they hope to obtain. He stated that the Licensed Vocational Nursing School was operating smoothly. He also told the board that requests to OEO for day care centers, housing coordinator and a business counselor to work with the Chamber of Commerce were turned down because of lack of funds. The request for family planning was also turned down, but Mr. Malone said he was setting up a committee to organize a local family planning program.

Malone also told the board that he had been assured that "we will receive money to operate our existing programs."

Local Agency Receives Grant of $84,671.00

The Office of Economic Opportunity informed Senator Ralph Yarborough Monday of the approval of a grant of $84,671.00 to the Economic Opportunities Advancement Corporation with offices in Crowell for refunding of program administration and neighborhood centers for the coming year.

The local office serves Foard, Cottle, Hardeman and Wilbarger Counties.

Don Ross Malone is executive director of the E. O. A. C.

Two Minutes With the Bible

A Faithful Saying

"This is a faithful saying and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am chief" (II Tim. 1:15).

"Of Paul's "faithful sayings," this is perhaps the most wonderful and the one through which most people have found the joy of sins forgiven.

The subject is that "Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners." Why else would Christ have had to leave His glory in heaven if it were not, as the Bible says, to come to earth in human form to represent us in the payment for sin? And, thank God, He paid the full price of the sin of all men, for this was not a mere man who died on Calvary's cross. So complete was His payment that Paul could exclaim: "He came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am chief." Paul, himself, though once Christ's chief enemy on earth, had now been saved by Him and had come to know the joy of sins forgiven.

The great trouble is that so many people do not feel their condition to be hopeless apart from Christ. They have not yet seen how far they come short of the glory and holiness of God. They know that they are sinners, but they do not yet feel that their condition is so hopeless that they need a Savior. Thus they keep trying, trying, trying—and failing, failing, failing!

How much wiser we are to confess our sins before God—to take the place of sinners, so that He can save us. This is the first step to heaven. When we have done this we are in a position to accept God's offer of full pardon and justification through Christ, who died to pay the penalty for our sins.

Since none are perfect and all have sinned, "This is," indeed, "a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners." Why not believe God's Word, accept Christ as your Savior and be saved today.

Gruesome Death Toll Forecast for Holiday Traffic

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said this week that DPS Statistical Services has estimated 55 persons may die in traffic mishaps over the Christmas week end.

Garrison said that the combined efforts of state and local police agencies and private traffic safety support organizations will be directed toward keeping the traffic toll below the estimate.

"Operation Deathwatch" will be in effect from 6 p. m. Friday, Dec. 22, through 11:59 p. m. Monday, Dec. 25," said Garrison. "During this period we will make every effort to inform each motorist of the need for attention to safe driving. For the first time in many years the uniformed services of the Department are at almost full strength, and every highway patrolman will be on duty as much as possible. In addition, we will have about 250 men from other uniformed services of the DPS who will supplement the highway patrol force doing patrol duty."

Traffic deaths will be tabulated and the totals announced three times daily to the news media from DPS headquarters in Austin.

It has also been estimated that 45 persons will be killed in traffic accidents over the New Year's week end. The "Deathwatch" will resume at 6 p. m. Friday, Dec. 29, and continue through 11:59 p. m. Monday, Jan. 1, 1968.

Last year 50 persons lost their lives in traffic over the Christmas week end, and 39 were killed over New Year's week end.

Cooperating with the DPS in its efforts to hold down traffic mishaps are the Texas Safety Association, the Texas Highway Department, the Texas Motor Transportation Association, the Texas Railroad Association and the Texas Association of Broadcasters.

"Traffic deaths are terrible tragedies at any time of the year," Garrison said, "and they are made even more terrible by the fact that they don't have to happen ..."

at Christmas or any other time. We can each do a great deal toward cutting down on the number of mishaps by using a little common sense in our driving and showing a little courtesy.

"We issue each driver a personal challenge at this special time of year. This Christmas let's all go out of our way to show a little consideration for our fellow man, both on and off the road. We can prove in a short while that traffic tragedies can be avoided."

Two Outstanding CHS Seniors to Be Honored

"Outstanding West Texas Scholar Awards" have been announced by J. Fike Godfrey of Spur, chairman of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce education committee.

The new awards are to be presented to not more than two students from each of the 490 high schools in West Texas. Selection will be made by school officials in each school on the basis of grade average, school and civic honors, offices held, membership in school and civic groups, and other special accomplishments.

To be eligible to win such an award, the student must be a senior student, have an impeccable character, demonstrate good citizenship characteristics and show aptitudes of leadership.

Nomination forms have been sent to all of the high schools in the 132-county area of the WTCC and when final selections are made the awards will be presented in public ceremonies early in 1968. "We feel that outstanding students in all schools should be publicly recognized for their contributions to the high aims and purposes of public education," Don Wooten, Abilene, WTCC president, said when the board of directors approved the awards.

"Although we would not detract from athletic achievement, we think that scholastic achievement should also be rewarded with appropriate notice by the public and the news media," he concluded.

Use Preaddressed Form 1040A

Taxpayers who received a 1967 preaddressed Form 1040A are urged to file that form if it fits their needs and they are eligible to use it.

Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for Northern Texas, said this week that substantial savings will be realized if the form provided is used because fewer key-punch operations are necessary to process the return. "It also helps us utilize the full capabilities for which the Automatic Data Processing system was designed," he said.

If your name or address has changed, make the necessary corrections and strike through lightly the preprinted information. If you have a refund due, this will help insure delivery of the check to the correct address.

Taxpayers should also verify that their correct social security number is entered on the return they file.

CHS Students Have Two Programs

C. H. S. students had two programs in the auditorium last week.

Thursday, Paul J. Siebenman of San Antonio spoke to the junior and senior classes on drinking and smoking.

Friday afternoon, a Southern Assembly presentation was given by John McCallum, author of 12 books, including the authorized biographies of such famous Americans as the Eisenhowers, the Philadelphias (Princess Grace) Kellys and baseball immortal Ty Cobb. "Everest Diary" was the basis for Mr. McCallum's lecture program.

His latest national best-seller is drawn from the personal diary, tape recordings and private papers of his collaborator, Luther Jerstad, second American in history to stand on top of Mount Everest. The author-lecturer deftly blended together the highlights of the expedition so that the students felt as if they were right there on Everest with the climbers.

W. S. L. Meeting

The Salvation Army has been almost a household word for many years. The Salvation Army has been part of the American scene since the 19th century. The sight of Santa with silver bell in hand, on a street corner near the black kettle ringing an appeal to the hurried shoppers to pause and drop a coin or two for those in dire need, is a familiar one indeed. But the Salvation Army was there to remind Americans of the true meaning of giving at Christmas time.

Since most people do not realize the extent of the charitable work of the Salvation Army in small towns and rural areas, James Strother of Abilene, service unit field representative, explained this to members of the Women's Service League at the noon luncheon meeting Thursday, Dec. 7.

In a short talk, he outlined the work of the S. A. in this area. Headquarters for this area is in Dallas. A committee is set up in a small town. The committee's chairman in Crowell is Leslie Thomas and the secretary is Mrs. Loraine Carter. Citizens of this community who are aware of any need, and will report it to them, can obtain help through the facilities of the Salvation Army.

Mr. Strother stressed brotherhood of man and Fatherhood of God. In concluding his talk, he appealed to all of us to watch for any opportunity in daily lives to help someone in need.

Mr. Strother was introduced by Mrs. Marjorie Taylor.

Adelphian Club

The Adelphian Club met Dec. 6 in a joint meeting with the Sub-Junior Adelphian Club, with the junior club serving as hostesses for a beautiful Christmas Tea.

Mrs. Elton Carroll served as leader, and she introduced Mrs. W. A. Dunn, who gave a devotional. Miss Lela Jo Cates, president of the Junior Club, welcomed the senior club members. An historical map of Foard County was given to each club member.

Mrs. Fred Wehba gave an interesting talk on "Assyrian Christmas Customs." She stressed that the period before Christmas was a time of solemnity and holiness. There was a fast from Nov. 15 to Dec. 24. Christmas Day was celebrated with vesters to the glorification of Christ, and broke the forty-day fast.

Fifteen girls and thirteen women were present.

SO YOU WANT NEW INDUSTRY

Point III—Financing

The final criteria for industry when seeking a new location is profitability. A very major factor in any industry's evaluation of the profitability of a potential operation in your town is how the site or building (or both) in which they are interested can be financed.

About eighty per cent of all industries locating in Texas do not own their facilities. Most of them hold some combination of leases on the land and buildings. The terms of the lease are of utmost importance to any industry's profit picture—what the amount of rent is, what immediate and future improvements will be made by the owners, what the options to renew the lease are, and perhaps what about the option to buy the building at a later date.

There are a lot of conditions to take into consideration. And you can count on it that the new industry for which your community has waited so long will be in a terrible hurry to get things finalized. If a town down the highway offers approximately the same advantages that you do, can also offer a financing plan that provides for occupancy 60 days earlier than yours, and a lower rental price... well, chances are that you can kiss that industrial prospect goodbye.

That is why it is vital for an Industrial Development Committee courted an industry to be able to offer that industry a "package deal" regarding the land, the building, any necessary improvements, and all other aspects of financing. Ideally this package deal should be ready and waiting, so that it can be applied to any of your candidate industries with only minor revisions.

When an industry says "we like your town, and we find the Smith Street building suitable; what kind of financing can you offer," your Industrial Development Committee should answer without hesitation—"Gentlemen, here's our package."

How do you get in this favorable, strong prepared position?

The first thing is to know and be familiar with the workings of all the basic sources of industrial development financing, such as:

- Investor Builders.
- Commercial banks.
- Savings and loan associations.
- Mortgage companies.
- Insurance companies.
- Investment bankers.
- Small Business Administration.

There are others, but these are the most important. Also, the I. D. Committee must find out and constantly keep abreast of the current rates for money from these various institutions.

In Texas, especially in the larger communities, the most common source of land and buildings for industrial development has been investor builders. These individuals are often willing to buy the land, build the building and extend the necessary utilities; then own the building and lease it to the locating industry under a package deal arrangement.

In other communities, an industrial foundation is set up to do much the same things as the individual investor builder. Such a foundation acts as an industrial development "bank" for the community. It is an organization of private citizens, operating with privately subscribed funds, set up for the purpose of improving the community's economy through offering material assistance to existing or prospective industrial firms. The industrial foundation can be a profit-making organization, but most in Texas are non-profit corporations whose ownership is widely based among the community's citizens. There are presently some 225 of these foundations in Texas.

The Industrial Development Foundation, once it is established, has funds and sources of credit, can function in the same way as the investor builder—finding the best financing, building the building through a contractor, and offering the building for lease to industry in a package deal designed to satisfy the particular industry's requirements.

The great advantages of the Industrial Foundation owning and leasing the property are (1) that it is a pool of capital, and therefore commands a favorable borrowing position, (2) that in industrial development, many heads are usually better than one, and (3) that it will work for the good of the entire community, without the complications and conflicts of personal interests.

The Industrial Foundation may not be able to raise all the money necessary to finance a given project, or it may not be prudent for it to do so. In this case, the Industrial Foundation can borrow just like any other corporation, in some cases on very favorable terms. Its sources are banks, savings and loan associations, mortgage bankers, investment banks, insurance companies and the Small

New "Game" Made for Towns Seeking Industry

The Texas Industrial Commission has announced the launching this month of a new feature in their continuing program of assisting Texas communities along the highly competitive road to industrial development.

The new feature is a very serious game called "prospect stimulation" or "PS" for short. In the "PS," a team of two or more Texas Industrial Commission staff men come before a community's industrial development committee just as though they were industrial site finders considering the community for a new plant location. They pose as specific industry representatives and the questions to the committee all the questions that the real industrial prospect would.

Actually this "game" is a dress rehearsal for a community's industrial development committee before they entertain their first real out of town prospects.

The Texas Industrial Commission team critiques the performance of the committee on all points after the "PS" session is over. This will be extremely valuable, because normally a community never knows why an industrial prospect passed them by. The "PS" points out that it could be a gap in the information or a flaw in the town's presentation that turns industry away. It is designed to catch such errors and suggest ways to correct them in advance.

A session will be available to any community in Texas which has a working industrial development committee. However, it is anticipated that most of the communities requesting "PS" will have already participated in the first phases of the Industrial Commission's program.

The first of these is the Community Consultant Visit. The Industrial Commission employs a staff of three full-time traveling community consultants whose total responsibility is the encouragement of industrial development programs. The consultant continues his calls throughout the program, providing professional assistance.

The second step usually comes when a community shows the first elements of industrial development organization. Then a small group on the industrial development committee may arrange to go to Austin for an intensive one-day Texas Industrial Planning Seminar, or "TIPS." This is conducted by the staff of the Industrial Commission and members of other state agencies, such as the Tourist Development Agency or the Texas Employment Commission, which would have an interest in the particular community.

The third step, with consultant's visits in between, is the Economic Development Clinic, which is conducted by the Industrial Commission in the community with a broader audience of its residents present. In this clinic, a community's allies, the local electric power company, gas company, or railroad are brought in to explain what they can offer to the industrial development effort.

Now when the community is ready to begin prospecting for new industry in earnest, they may arrange the new "PS" session for a very realistic and informative dry run.

Information on this entire program may be obtained upon request from the Texas Industrial Commission, Capitol Station, Box JJ, Austin, Texas 78711.

Flair pens, the new nylon tip pens that are sweeping the country, only 49¢ at the News office.

Business Administration. The Industrial Foundation may need to put up at least 10 per cent of the total financing (20 per cent in the case of Small Business Administration loans), and raise the remainder from one or more sources.

Copies of the booklets "Organizing and Operating Industrial Foundations in Texas" and "Scope and Activities of Industrial Foundations in Texas" may be obtained at no charge from the Texas Industrial Commission, Austin.

Whether or not an official industrial foundation is set up in your community, or whether you rely on the efforts of investor builders and the individuals on your Industrial Development Committee to look into and then actually arrange the financing for your prospective new industries (or the expansion of an existing industry), it still holds true that you must be able to offer a package deal, to be competitive, and to be prepared.

That new payroll will be worth the effort.
