Two Minutes With the Bible

God's Revelation of Himself

Romans 1:18-20 declares that God has revealed Himself to man in creation. Not that we can learn His plan of salvation from creation—far from it. But the creation; the beauty of its flowers and sunsets, the sun and rain and crops to supply us with food, the unchangeable laws of nature, all show forth, not only the existence of God, but His power, His love, His justice, so that man is a responsible being and, as verse 20 says, "without excuse" for the deplorable condition in which he finds himself.

A believer, talking with an atheistic evolutionist one day, took out his watch, looked at it and put it back into his pocket, saying: "I have a wonderful watch. I never have to do anything to it, yet it keeps perfect time; never misses a second."

"What make is it?" the atheist asked. "Oh, no make," answered the Christian. "Well, who manufactured it?" "Oh, nobody; it just put itself together somehow."

"Nonsense," said the atheist. "A watch can't just come into existence. Somebody had to design it and somebody had to manufacture it."

"True," said the Christian, "yet you expect me to believe that this universe, with its billions of stars and planets, all working together in perfect order, just came about by itself; that it had no Designer, no Creator and no one who keeps it running? Isn't that nonsense?"

No wonder Paul says that the godless are "without excuse," even the vast majority of "religious" people, who save their consciences by giving a small part of each week or each day to the performance of some religious rite, but keep God out of their businesses, their politics, their social relationships and — their hearts.

But thank God, as He has revealed His power and glory in creation, He has revealed His mercy and grace; His plan of salvation, in the Bible, where we read how "Christ died for our sins" (I Cor. 15:3), so that we might have "redemption through His

The exhibition, which includes the poster display, "World and Age" in the Gallery, comes to the Fair from the Baltimore Museum of Art. After HemisFair the exhibit hangs in the Art Institute of Chicago for two months before turning to Baltimore.

Almost half of the photographs by 10 internationally known photographers, including Robert Riger, world-renowned as a writer and producer-director of the TV's "Wide World of Sports."

Riger, who directed the exhibit and assembling of the exhibit, calls it "an exhibition of people in an extraordinary manner."

"The Word and Image" exhibit will be sent to the Olympics in Mexico for display of it leaves the World's Fair.

Actually, spending some money on your present home might be one of the best investments you could make.

Put money into something like a new car or boat and you might not get much back five or ten years from now. But with home prices on the rise, money you spend to make your present house more attractive, comfortable and livable might very well pay you back with interest.

Hint to the Wise Department: we had lots of help at both the concession stand and money jugs last week. To get the mothers to work, all it takes is to let 'em know. Thanks for the cooperation, ladies!

Thanks to Ace Whitley and Ann Whitley and family for working over the field (and picking up all the cups) last Tuesday. Sure nice to have everything in top shape.

Can't wait to see the new lights in action. And we hope to get 'em installed within another week.

Marcus Mills hopes to have both Setliff and Halenack back this week. (Short a man last week, Marcus picked up PeeWee Jay Wall to fill in. Jay responded with three walks, one run scored, a pop-up to shortstop, and a nice catch of a fly ball) . . . This writer predicted, early in the season, a big pitching job by Rickey Coleman. Thus far, he's let me down! Next week: Ace Whitley, Dickie Stewart and Jack Whitley will all be on vacation for Farmers Elevator. This week: VFW uses a new man, Jackie Eavenson (J. C. Eavenson's son) . . . by mutual agreement of all managers, he is allowed to finish the season (one complete round) with VFW.

That area tournament will District Representative Arch Hughes (of Iowa Park) attend this year? The one at Crowell. We'll hafta roll out the red carpet.

The District tournament (the one with the champions of the four Area Tournaments) will be held at Sheppard Air Force Base with a tour-of-the-post part of the agenda (yes, helicopters and all). All of which really gives our local youngsters something to shoot for!

Rattlesnakes Take Two Wins in Pee Wee Action Last Thursday

A high scoring hitting match between Earl Ford's Rattlesnakes and Ralph Adams' Bobcats ended in a 21-9 score in favor of the Snakes in the first PeeWee game last Thursday night.

Dewey Ford and Audey Dunham shared pitching duties for the winners, and Rocky Marlow was the big gun in hitting with three scores, one of which was a home run. Dean Hofmann scored twice, with both being home runs. Others scoring two runs each were Ford, Dunham, Randell Russell, John Klepper, Norman Hopper; David Seeding and Chris Ford each scored one run. Paul Whitley tied Marlow for scoring honors as he crossed the plate three times also. Dan Klepper was the only Snake not scoring.

Adams' Bobcats suffered from a shortage of players in this game as only seven Bobcats reported for the game. In spite of this fact, the Bobcats made a good showing for themselves and played a good brand of baseball. Randy Wilkins, Cat pitcher, led in the scoring with three runs. Pat Norman had two runs to his credit and James Aranda, Kurt Adams, Mike Scott and Andy Lopez each tallied one. Steve Rodriguez failed to score.

In the second game, the Snakes battled Wayne Oneal's Tigers and after 2 1/2 innings of play—when time ran out—the Snakes held an 18-12 lead. This was only a practice game, as the team which was scheduled to challenge the Tigers did not show up.

Dennis Setliff, Billy Gill and Billy Brown each tallied twice for the Tigers, with Randy Fish, Willie Bachman, Don Johnson, Tommy Tamplen, Jackie Morgan and George Brown scoring 1 run each. Other members of the Tiger team were Johnny Baize and Milton Tennell.

Pesticide Accidents Caused by Improper Use of Chemicals

Pesticide accidents don't just happen as they are caused by people who do not use chemicals properly, says Joe Burkett, Foard County agricultural agent. Don't let a pesticide accident mar the pleasure you get from spring and summer gardening activities, he suggests. Just remember these safety precautions: —Identify your pest carefully. You may choose the wrong chemical and be dissatisfied with the results. —Read the pesticide label properly and thoroughly. —Follow all directions and precautions exactly, including the wearing of respirators and protective clothing when recommended. —Keep unused pesticide containers under lock and key, and away from children and pets. —Avoid breathing pesticide mist or vapors. —Don't spill liquid concentrates on your skin. —Wash your hands immediately after using any pesticides.

Promptness Pays Off in Ordering School Textbooks

Promptness pays off when you're ordering textbooks, says J. B. Golden, who directs the mammoth textbooks operation for the Texas Education Agency.

Golden reports that 89 per cent of the state's school superintendents filed their textbook requirements for the coming school year before the June 1st deadline.

As a result of their promptness, Johnnie and most of the 2.5 million students in Texas public schools will find their textbooks waiting for them when they begin the school year in September. In short, Johnnie won't be able to say he can't read because he hasn't got a textbook.

Golden says he has already advised the alert superintendents their orders will be available at one of the state's four depositories in Dallas two weeks in advance of the shipping date to the schools.

What happens to those textbooks that are back-ordered as of September 1?

Golden says the state law is that if a publisher has an order for a textbook that is not in stock in Dallas by September 1, he subjects himself to a fine of $100 a day for each book not filled in an order.

"And each day is a separate offense," he says.

Golden readily points out that the publishers too are prompt in filling orders.

"Last year, we didn't have a single penalty," he says.

Textbooks are big business in Texas. The current inventory of new books in the four depositories in Dallas and the used books in the state depository in Austin is grandmother in Munday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Kinnibrugh of Floydada visited her mother, Mrs. J. R. Spivey, over the week end.

Loy Dale Mayberry of Gallup, N. M., is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Pete Mayberry.

around 10 million textbooks. And their value? About $22 million, which averages out to about $2.21 per book.

Computers play an important role in the state's textbook operation. These marvels of electronics write the orders—based first on the available inventory of used copies.

If the state depository at Austin does not have enough used copies of a particular title to fill an order, the computer writes the order on one of the four depositories in Dallas for the number of new copies needed to complete the order.

Golden says two of the Dallas depositories act as a service agency for the publishers, who contract for this space so they can keep a stock of their books there to fill orders. The two other depositories are maintained by individual publishers with whom the State of Texas does its textbook business.

"By law, every publisher who has a contract to supply textbooks to the Texas public schools must maintain a depository in Texas," Golden explains.

Sing Out, America!

Not all the young people in America are out rioting, getting in trouble with the law, and various other situations we read of in daily newspapers each day.

At least 25 or 30 local youths, aided by several

According to information furnished the presented across the nation by boys and girls during these summer months. We heard the group rehearse for awhile Monday night, and some stirring, beautiful music will be presented.

We commend the young people and their adult helpers for their enthusiasm and work in preparing this program and urge all adults in this area to attend.

It'll be well worth your time!

Miss Ronni Sue Oliphant and Lonnie Ray Hillin Are Wed

The First Baptist Church was the scene Friday evening for the candlelight ceremony uniting Miss Ronni Sue Oliphant and Lonnie Ray Hillin in marriage. Rev. T. Glenn Willson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Amherst and former Baptist pastor here, officiated for the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Oliphant of Crowell and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Roy of Amarillo.

The arch of the draped baptism, outlined with lemon leaves and white wedding bells, formed the background for the exchange of vows. The prie dieu was backed by cathedral candelabra and flanked by arrangements of white gladioli and greenery in urns atop pedestals. Pyramid candelabra and palms were also used in the nuptial scene with satin bows marking the bridal aisle and window arrangements of greenery centered by single white tapers completing the decor.

Traditional wedding music was presented by Mrs. Walter Stapp, organist, who also accompanied the soloists, Mrs. Ken Ferguson, who sang "Whither Thou Goest," and Mrs. Howard Ferguson who sang "Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal-length gown of white imported silk organza and peau de ange lace. The fitted basque bodice of lace was enhanced by a bias fold of organza, and the gown also featured elbow-length sleeves and a scalloped portrait neckline. The controlled A-line skirt of silk organza was fashioned with a scalloped lace hemline. The bride's detachable chapel train with appliques of lace was attached to the back-misred waistline. A coil of silk organza petals applied with lace and pearls held her shoulder-length veil of silk illusion. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of stephanotis centered by a cattleya orchid.

Mrs. John Patrick Smith of Dawn attended her sister as matron of honor. Maid of honor was Miss Wenonah Williams of Amarillo and other bridal attendants were Misses Elaine Glenn and Barbara Landrum, both of Amarillo, and Mrs. Herman Koetting of Groom.

The attendants were identically attired in formal-length A-line gowns of Samaron rose chiffon over linen fashioned with brief sleeves, stand-up collars and back trains of satin. Each wore matching satin Dior bows with short bouffant veils and carried colonial bouquets of white Frenched carnations centered by a single rose.

Johnny Mitchell of Amarillo served the bridegroom as best man. Ushers and groomsmen were Charlie Alford, Jim Cultra and Mark Smart, all of Amarillo, and G. M. Walls of Pampa.

The parents of the bride were hosts to a reception immediately following the wedding ceremony in the dining room of the Crowell Community Center.

The bride's table was laid with a full-skirted white organza cloth over taffeta and was centered with an arrangement of stock, asters and white tapers in a silver epergne. The traditional three-tiered wedding cake was topped by white wedding bells. Other table appointments were of silver.

The bridegroom's table, covered with a beige linen cloth, held an arrangement of bronze chrysanthemums, a silver coffee service and the traditional chocolate bridegroom's cake.

Guests were registered by Miss Judy Sandlin. Other members of the house party included Miss Lanette Lemons of Crowell, Miss Sherry Sandlin and Misses Lorraine Carter, Leo Cates, Walter Ramsey, W. W. Lemons, Howard Ferguson, Don Wilkins, Clyde Eddy, W. L. Johnson, Woody Frank Lemons and Mike Shrode of Canadian.

Randy Wilkins distributed rice bags to the guests.

For the wedding trip to New Orleans, La., the bride wore an ensemble featuring a yellow linen A-line dress with a coat of apricot and yellow tweed textured dachron. Her accessories were yellow, and she wore a cattleya orchid corsage. After June 27, the couple will be at home in Amarillo.

The bride is a 1968 graduate of West Texas State University in Canyon where she received a Bachelor of Science degree in elementary education and was a

Private Clubs May Be Violating Federal Revenue Laws

Many private clubs in Texas are violating federal revenue laws according to a recent survey by investigators of the IRS alcohol and tobacco tax division.

Private clubs which sell liquor are required by law to purchase a $54 retail occupational tax stamp, said Carl R. Booth, chief federal liquor enforcement officer for the state of Texas. He called on club operators to voluntarily comply with this requirement, stating IRS investigators will be giving increasing attention to private club operations.

Anyone selling liquor for consumption is a retail liquor dealer and must purchase a federal tax stamp, Booth said. Clubs operating under a bona fide "pool" or "bottle" system, however, are not considered to be retail liquor dealers and are not liable for the occupational liquor tax.

Booth said wholesalers of liquor are required by law to purchase a $255 wholesale liquor dealer stamp. This includes state-licensed retail package stores which sell to private clubs for resale.

In the purchase of liquor for resale, both the private club operator and the wholesale dealer are in violation of the law if either has neglected to pay the federal occupational liquor tax. Failure to do so may result in criminal charges and in the seizure of all

The Citizens Public Safety Survey, Inc. has stated: "If your insurance is reduced by a tax on inflation, then you have a responsibility to nondefense spending by amount. Spending by you is just as inflationary as by consumers. You still choose, but the choice is yours for long unless your representatives in government know where you stand on further tax increases—state and local."

Catfish Farmers of America Form Association

Catfish farmers from Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, Oklahoma, Texas, Tennessee, Louisiana, Missouri and Arkansas had a meeting at Greenville, Miss., in April for the purpose of organizing the group into an association. Upon organization, the name "Catfish Farmers of America" was selected.

This meeting was the result of the organizational efforts of Gerard Harrison of Greenville, Miss., and Houston, Texas, in conjunction with several other leading catfish farmers.

The purposes of the organization are to aid members in the profitable production and marketing of catfish and to insure high quality standards and control of the product.

The total number of acres of catfish under cultivation in the United States in 1963 was less than 1,000. Today, there are some 18,000 known acres under cultivation, producing 25,000,000 pounds of catfish sold live to stock public fee fishing lakes and other recreational areas used for fishing and also processed and sold on the commercial markets as frozen or fresh fish.

Fishing for catfish on fee fishing lakes has become one of the most popular sports in the United States in the last several years and this accounts for a large percentage of the increase in production. The operation of fee fishing lakes has become one of the most profitable new forms of business.

The News has a new supply of Klein Rite mimeograph stencils.

Average price for Texas crude oil in 1966 was $2.97 per barrel.

Happy Birthday to John

John Santa Fe turns 100 this year but you'd truly have to say that he neither looks nor acts his age.

From that modest beginning at Topeka, Kansas, in 1868, Santa Fe has grown into a $2 billion empire whose 13,000 miles of track extend, as Cyrus K. Holliday, its founder and first president predicted, from the Great Lakes to the Pacific Ocean and the Gulf of Mexico.

Santa Fe operates more miles of track in Texas—3,615 to be exact—than in any other state. There are 7,578 Texans on the payroll who last year earned $58,151,026. The company's '67 tax bill amounted to $2,264,466.

Through the years the railroad has scored some impressive transportation "firsts," including the first to become fully dieselized in 1954; developing the Autovey car for shipment of automobiles in 1960; and the inauguration of "Super C," the world's fastest freight train in 1968, which operates on a 40-hour schedule between Chicago and Los Angeles although it consistently makes the run in little more than 35 hours. There are but a few; the list is almost endless.

While Santa Fe is pardonably proud of its distinguished past, its centennial theme is geared to the future, "Second Century of Progress—On to 2068."

The Foard County News wishes it God speed.

Danger Cited of Power Lawn Mowers

The roar of power lawnmowers, and it's pretty constant now, may be broken by a scream of pain if the operator becomes careless. Accidents involving this necessary piece of lawn care equipment most often result from carelessness, says County Agent Joe Burgett.

He suggests directing the first "ounce of prevention" at the machine. Be sure, he adds, that the machine is in good mechanical condition and ready for heavy work. Proper maintenance is the key.

Safety suggestions by the county agent include checking the lawn, especially those areas where children and pets play, for rocks, toys and other debris which can become deadly missiles if thrown by a rotary mower. Short pieces of wire or knives, forks or spoons dropped during a backyard picnic have been known to cause fatalities when discharged by a power mower.

Keep children and pets away from the area being mowed. Push and don't pull the mower over uncut areas. Mow across slopes rather than up and down because a slip could mean the loss of a foot, advises the agent.

Never fill the gas tank while the engine is hot or running. Disconnect the spark plug wire when working on the underside of the mower and it's unwise to operate the machine inside of a closed garage or other building.

Gasoline is also dangerous and should be stored only in approved containers and these never include glass. The storage container should be kept out of reach of children. Finally, he advises sharpening and balancing the rotary blade at the same time. An out-of-balance blade will cause wear that increases repair bills.

Medicare Can Now Help Pay for Medical Equipment

Medicare can now help pay for the purchase of medical equipment, Edwin Draughon, manager of the Vernon Social Security office, said this week.

"Previously, Medicare helped pay only for the rental of such items as wheel chairs and hospital beds which a beneficiary needed for use at his home."

"But now the patient can decide whether he wishes to purchase, rather than rent, the needed equipment, if it appears that he will need it for a long period. If he purchases the equipment, part of the cost will be reimbursed either in installments or in a lump sum, depending on the price. If the patient has had doctor bills during the year totaling $50 or more, Medicare would pay 80 percent of the purchase cost of the equipment. But if he has had no other medical expenses the first $50 of the cost would come out of his own pocket."

"This coverage applies only to those who signed up for the supplemental part of Medicare, involving a $4 a month premium."

Mr. Draughon said that payment can be requested either by the supplier or the patient. In addition to the invoice for the equipment, a statement by the physician as to its medical necessity and how long it will be needed is required. Further information regarding requests for payment can be obtained from the Vernon Social Security office located at 1728 Fannin Street or by contacting the representative when she comes to the community building in Crowell.

Small Business Adm. Aiding Depressed Areas

Small Business Administration programs are now working at all-time highs and are going farther than ever before to meet the challenge of opening new opportunities in depressed areas, Administrator Robert C. Moot said this week.

In a "State of the Agency" message, Moot called for steadily increasing efforts to unify the work of all levels of government with private enterprise to bring new business and job opportunities to depressed areas.

Moot said that "despite a creditable record, we must reach still more of the population that has denied opportunity. We must help more people attain a measure of economic security and a place of dignity in our affluent society."

Moot pointed out that SBA in its 15 years of existence has funneled more than $5 billion in loans into small business, and now has even gone into business itself.

SBA, with Congressional authority, is taking government contracts for items relatively easy to produce, then subcontracting actual production to small firms putting plants in depressed areas to provide jobs and necessary training for "hard-core" unemployed.

He also described a new Community Economic Development program now started in seven depressed areas, under which all the resources of the agency are directed to finding persons who may be trained to become small businessmen, and helping them get started. Tentatively, seventy target areas have been named for the program.

The administrator's survey of the agency also showed:

1,500 local development projects, aided by SBA loans and community investments, have produced more than 64,000 jobs.

In the past 13 months economic opportunity loans to disadvantaged persons in urban and rural areas have gone to 3,700 persons for total of nearly $40 million.

Nearly $100 million has been loaned to businesses displaced by federally-aided projects in urban renewal, road construction, etc.

About 69,000 loans were made to victims of 600 disasters for an aggregate total of $616 million.

SBA assisted small firm in getting $9.9 billion in subcontracts from federal procurement prime contractors.

More than 3.5 million SBA publications covering 500 different subjects were distributed last year alone as part of SBA's program of management assistance.

SCORE, the Service Corps of Retired Executives, which aids small businessmen in need of advice, now has 3,600 volunteers with expertise in numerous fields including industry, banking, law, accounting, advertising, etc.

Although Medicare has been in effect for over a year and a half, there are indications that some people may not be filing claims for medical insurance benefits because of lack of knowledge of the method for filing.

According to Erwin Draughon, manager of the Vernon Social Security office, some individuals had incurred the $50 medical deductible early last year, but have not yet claimed reimbursement for 80 percent of the reasonable charges for physicians' services and medical supplies in excess of the deductible.

Also there are many who do not understand that medical expenses incurred in the last calendar quarter of a year can, in some instances, count toward meeting the $50 deductible for the following year. Individuals who need help in filing a medical insurance claim or need more information on medical benefits are urged to get in touch with the Vernon social security office or the social security representative when he comes to the community center in Crowell. Mr. Draughon further stated that the filing of the first claim can be confusing and that the social security people wish to help in every way possible.

The Vernon Social Security district office is located at 1728 Fannin St., Box 1417. The office is open from 8:30 a. m. to 4:45 p. m. week days and from 10 a. m. to 12 noon on Saturday for those who are unable to come in during regular hours.

Letters to Editor

Dear Sir:

Recently there has been a great amount of discussion about forming a Council of Government or Regional Planning Body that will include the current area of the Economic Opportunities Advancement Corporation of Cottle, Foard, Hardeman and Wilbarger Counties, and its Community Action Program. I would like to clarify the relationship of the Economic Opportunities Advancement Corporation, and the Council of Government, and the Council of Government to avoid misunderstanding, and perhaps more quickly facilitate local officials in making a determination about the course to follow regarding the Council of Government. The Economic Opportunities Advancement Corporation is funded through Title III of the Economic Opportunity Act as a Community Action Agency. Therefore, we are specifically charged with programs that relate to the poor people of our counties. I repeat we are specifically charged with the problems of poverty, and while we are interested in community development, we are governed by rules which confine our work and expenditures to the specific problems of poverty. This is not a determination made locally, but one made by the Congress of the United States.

Although we are required by law, and administrative orders to confine our work to programs specifically related to poverty, the staff of the Community Action Agency realizes that much is to be gained by all people from planning and coordination among programs. Over one year ago, I had a lengthy discussion with my state superiors regarding enlarging our geographic area, and the scope of our programs. I hoped to enlarge our program scope to include many of the duties now performed by a Council of Government, and to enlarge our area to a substantial size to make viable a large planning program. The response to this idea was negative. I was specifically told not to engage in this sort of program expansion, neither in scope of program or in area. This early attempt was followed by other discussions of proposals. None of these proposals were approved.

Those present were Mrs. W. E. Moore, Winters; Mrs. Ida D. Powell, Austin; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson, Crowell; Mr. and Mrs. Bryant R. Johnson, Anson; Mrs. Edgar S. Johnson, Anson; Mrs. Clifford Johnson and daughter of Hereford; and Mrs. Veda Ball of Anson.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Johnson of Crowell, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Goen, Charlotte, Johnny and Mike, of Anson, Mrs. Eugene Williams and Jeanette, Mrs. Gene Owens of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Prince, Ronnie and Terri, of Winters, A. C. and Jay Johnson of Anson and Cindy Thompson of Lubbock.

Small Business Adm. Aiding Depressed Areas

Small Business Administration programs are now working at all-time highs and are going farther than ever before to meet the challenge of opening new opportunities in depressed areas, Administrator Robert C. Moot said this week.

In a "State of the Agency" message, Moot called for steadily increasing efforts to unify the work of all levels of government with private enterprise to bring new business and job opportunities to depressed areas.

Moot said that "despite a creditable record, we must reach still more of the population that has denied opportunity. We must help more people attain a measure of economic security and a place of dignity in our affluent society."

Moot pointed out that SBA in its 15 years of existence has funneled more than $5 billion in loans into small business, and now has even gone into business itself.

SBA, with Congressional authority, is taking government contracts for items relatively easy to produce, then subcontracting actual production to small firms putting plants in depressed areas to provide jobs and necessary training for "hard-core" unemployed.

He also described a new Community Economic Development program now started in seven depressed areas, under which all the resources of the agency are directed to finding persons who may be trained to become small businessmen, and helping them get started. Tentatively, seventy target areas have been named for the program.

The administrator's survey of the agency also showed:

1,500 local development projects, aided by SBA loans and community investments, have produced more than 64,000 jobs.

In the past 13 months economic opportunity loans to disadvantaged persons in urban and rural areas have gone to 3,700 persons for total of nearly $40 million.

Nearly $100 million has been loaned to businesses displaced by federally-aided projects in urban renewal, road construction, etc.

About 69,000 loans were made to victims of 600 disasters for an aggregate total of $616 million.

SBA assisted small firm in getting $9.9 billion in subcontracts from federal procurement prime contractors.

More than 3.5 million SBA publications covering 500 different subjects were distributed last year alone as part of SBA's program of management assistance.

The Vernon Social Security district office is located at 1728 Fannin St., Box 1417. The office is open from 8:30 a. m. to 4:45 p. m. week days and from 10 a. m. to 12 noon on Saturday for those who are unable to come in during regular hours.
