Junior Class

The Junior Class held its second class meeting of the year last week and elections were held for homecoming queen. This year, Jo Ann Williams, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Howard Williams, will represent the Junior class when this classic occasion occurs. The juniors decided to continue the magazine sale one more week in order to try to earn more money. This will be the last week, so be sure and buy a magazine.

Pep Club

The Pep Club met on the west side of the high school last Friday at 5:15 p. m. to leave for Paducah. On the east side of Paducah, the bus had a flat. With the girls loaded safely on the band buses and in cars which were going to the game, they were once again on their way. The club ate at Matador and then rushed to the game. The 41-6 Wildcat victory enthused the spirited crowd!

There will be a Pep Club meeting Monday and Tuesday nights at 6:30 to practice for future games.

There will be a bonfire this Thursday at 7:45 behind the school. Everyone is invited to be present to help boost our team's spirit.

We would like for everyone to join in and sing the school song at the game this Friday night. The song is:

Dear ole Crowell High,
 Grand ole' Crowell High,
 Dearest school in all the west.

Loyal just to you,
 We're faithful and true blue.
 We always will uphold you as the best.

School of Wildcat fame,
 Winners of the game,
 Fight right on to victory.

Fight right to the end,
 And when you've won and then,
 Three cheers for Dear Ole Crowell High

Sophomore News

Wednesday morning the sophomores met in the math room for a class meeting with George Eavenson presiding. Rita Coffey was selected as attendant for homecoming queen.

Freshmen News

In a class meeting Wednesday, Sept. 18, the freshman class selected Miss Rheta Howard as the freshman attendant to the homecoming queen of 1968. They also discussed having a hayride, and President Trey Autry appointed the following committee to make appropriate plans: Teri Garrett, Bette Barry, Beth Welch, Ronny Naylor, Bill Taylor and Terry Farrar.

There is another side to this class, also, as can be seen during their health class. It would seem that they were learning as much about working as a team as how to brush their teeth or wash their face. They are learning how to block, pass, and take a bloody nose or two. This might not be anything new to the boys, but the girls seem to be enjoying it considerably, too. This class has proved to itself that well supervised recreation can be a lot of fun.

Library Club

The Library Club held its organizational meeting Thursday, Sept. 19. The club elected as president Mary Bob Long. Other officers are vice president, Janis Gray; secretary, Beverly Gillispie; treasurer, Linda Gray; and reporter, Jan Welch. The club will meet each first Monday of every month and all members are urged to pay the yearly dues of fifty cents. Mrs. Halbert, club sponsor, discussed yearbooks and club trips.

Student Council Activities

As you know, the annual student homecoming is climaxed by the coronation of the homecoming queen. Competition for this honor is limited to the junior and senior classes, with freshman and sophomore attendants. The senior nominee is Miss Zerne Gafford. The junior class nominee will be Miss Jo Ann Williams who will be escorted by Ricky Diggs. Sophomore attendant Rita Coffey's escort will be Marvin Mahac; Rheta Howard, freshman attendant, is to be escorted by Bill Erwin. Student Council secretary, will crown the queen and Miss Janis Bell, vice president of the Pep Club, will present roses to the new queen.

Chorus

Monday morning, the Crowell High School Chorus met during activity period to elect officers for the year. They are Cathy McLain, president; Jo Driver, vice president; Kristi McLain, secretary; Jan Welch, treasurer; and Debra Rasberry, reporter. After the elections, the chorus, under the direction of Jerry Floyd, practiced their songs until the period ended.

Youth Fellowship

The students of CHS wish to express their thanks to the First Baptist Church of Crowell for the after-game fellowship on Sept.

Grade School Wins 12-6 over Paducah

The Crowell Grade School football team took a 12-6 win over the Paducah Grade School Monday night at Paducah.

Crowell's defense held the Paducah eleven to only one first down.

Johnny Urquiza scored the first Kitten touchdown on a 65-yard gallop and Rocky Bachman made a 55-yard run for the second TD. Both extra point tries failed.

The Wildkittens play the Chillicothe Grade School there at 6:30 p. m. next Monday night.

13. Guests were treated to charcoal hamburgers with all the trimmings, potato chips, and soft drinks. Delightful entertainment was provided by Mike Michaels of Paducah, an ex-radio announcer. Another fellowship will be held at the Baptist Church on October 18. Everyone is invited to attend.

Ex-Student Registration

Ex-student registration for the homecoming will begin at 7 p. m. Friday in the new gymnasium and continue up to game time. This will be an opportune time to greet old friends, classmates, and ex-teachers. Refreshments will be served by FHA girls. Special recognition will be paid for the person travelling the farthest distance and for the oldest registrant.

Bids Opened for Truscott, Gilliland Water System

BY RUTH BROWN

Members of the Truscott and Gilliland Water Association board and several others from Truscott and Gilliland attended the bid opening at Benjamin last Thursday. Apparent low bidders were the Rhode Pipe Company of Silverton, and the Hinton Well Service of Floydada. Paul Horne, board president, reported 106 wet meter and 26 dry meter deposits last week. The water system will be completed in about three months if the weather is good.

The Truscott 4-H Clubs met last Thursday in the home of Jill Myers. Ruth Brown gave an illustrated program on money management and distributed booklets on the subject. Refreshments of sandwiches, cake, and soft drinks were served after the program. Others attending the meeting were Christy Shaw, Jacquelyn Brown, Trenna Cash, and Renee and Rhonda Westbrook. The weather in Truscott has been tormenting farmers and ranchers. The black clouds stop to say "hello" and then go rain on some other town. Some ranchers have sold their calves. Minister Building House of Memories from Collection

A retired Methodist minister is busy building his "house of memories" a mile south of Roby from rocks he has picked up in over three decades of travel.

Rev. E. L. Yeats, 80, who retired from the ministry 15 years ago, is active today as a farmer, mason, historian, woodworker and silversmith. But perhaps most outstanding is his years of rock-collecting which he is now inlaying into blocks of fresh concrete for a rock veneer finish of a camp house on his farm.

The rocks have been picked up in his travels, sent to him by friends and brought back by acquaintances. Among the famous places Yeats' rocks have come from include the Taj Mahal, the Temple of the Sun, the Rock of Gibraltar and a street in East London.

"I'm calling the house a 'house of memories' because every stone in it has a special memory to me, either of some particular place or of some one," says Yeats.

Fossils, lava and uranium ore are included among the stones the reverend has collected from 48 states and 22 foreign countries, included among his "memories" are rocks from Goodnight College, Stanford College, Presbyterian College and Belle Plains College—all of which have long since closed their doors.

Even the cornerstone of the old Roby High School, built in 1910, and destroyed by fire in 1952, is included in Yeats' collection.

"A Methodist minister friend had that cornerstone," Yeats said. "I went to a lawyer friend and asked if there were a law against one Methodist minister stealing stones from another, and he told me there wasn't. So, today, it's included in my collection."

So are rocks from Pompeii, Kentucky's mammoth cave, the Edinburgh Castle and Scotland's Loch Lomond, doors framed with petrified wood, peach seed size carved faces of gods from ancient ruins in Mexico, and one from the walk at Andrew Jackson's Hermitage home.

Yeats celebrated his 60th wedding anniversary Tuesday, and has many hobbies which would be vocations for most men.

He builds everything from oak bedsteads to magnolia flower vases as a woodworker. His 130 self-planted pecan trees produced 7,000 pounds of pecans last year, he's made different silver-and-polished stone tie clasps for every day of the month and has a collection of over 900 volumes on Texas history.

"I started out most of these things as a hobby," Yeats says, "and before I knew it, they turned out to be something more than a hobby."

The Yeats' three children are teachers—two college professors and the other a public school instructor. Dr. A. W. Yeats teaches English at Lamar Tech in Beaumont and Dr. Helen Yeats is a Spanish professor at Angelo State in San Angelo. Another daughter, Mrs. Athelda Watts, teaches at Big Spring.

Yeats proudly displays his wife's paintings, also, which hang on the walls of the still-uncompleted rock veneer house. He says he works as hard today as men half his 80 years of age because he's only trying to "practice what I preached."

For many years he taught a summer course at McMurry College in Abilene in which he admonished students to use their spare time to good benefit.

Prowling 'Gator Becomes a Trophy

Alligators aren't all found in the swamps, reports the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. Some of the big reptiles are still found north of what has been thought of as alligator range.

John Lowery, who lives just north of Paris, located one that he made into a trophy. It measured seven feet, and was taken from a small lake near the Red River.

Prevention Is Best Control

The best disease prevention measure for those growing ornamental plants is starting with healthy plants or those with disease resistance. Once an ornamental plant becomes badly diseased, it is almost impossible to nurse it back to health, the Texas Extension Service says.

Wastes 20 Per Cent of Gasoline

"The average American wastes 20 per cent of the gasoline he puts in the family car because he drives inefficiently," notes "Timely Items," published by the Public Service Company of Colorado. "To get the most out of your gas, check your tire pressure regularly. Underinflated tires can waste half a gallon of gas out of every 20 you buy. Have your motor tuned every 5,000 to 8,000 miles. Faulty spark plugs alone can cut your gas mileage 10 per cent. Avoid repeated, unnecessary braking; nothing burns fuel faster. Because of this, as well as plain safety-sense, leave an adequate distance between yourself and the car you're following. Be sure your car can breathe by keeping your air filter clean. An engine needs at least 9,000 gallons of filtered air for every gallon of gas consumed. Steady your driving. Drivers who race their engines at stop lights, perform jackrabbit starts and race around corners are be-

Brush Control

Texas landowners could add an estimated $10 million to their yearly income by following brush control recommendations and proper land management, says G. O. Hoffman, extension range brush and weed control specialist. Presently, brush is being controlled on about 1.2 million acres, about 10 per cent of what should be controlled.

POPULAR CONNECTICUT FIFE-DRUM CORPS SETS RETURN TO STATE FAIR IN DALLAS

Those colorful Colonials from Connecticut, the fifers and drummers of the Deep River (Conn.) Drum Corps, will march again at this year's State Fair of Texas, coming up Oct. 5-20 in Dallas. The New England music makers, wearing white wigs and red and black uniforms carefully copied from those of Revolutionary times, will give several free performances daily Oct. 12 through 17. The two dozen parading Pied Pipers in three-cornered hats drew huge crowds in 1963 and 1965 at the nation's largest annual exposition. The Deep River citizens have been popular favorites since 1873; The State Fair of Texas has been the people's choice since 1886.

W. T. U. Member of Interconnected System in Texas

It is nice to have neighbors you can depend on . . . and electric company people long ago discovered that the "good neighbor policy" works out well in business. That is the simple principle behind the Texas Interconnected System, a network composed of nine major power systems in Texas. Whenever trouble occurs on one electric system, that system can instantly borrow power from neighbors . . . other members of the TIS. Of course, the operation of the TIS is more complicated than just one neighbor borrowing from another.

The subject of interconnection of electric systems is currently receiving considerable interest in the news. But, it is "old hat" in Texas where the major power suppliers have been operating successfully on an interconnected basis for more than a quarter of a century.

If a major generating station of one of the TIS members suddenly goes out of service, the system is designed for other plants to automatically pick up the load from the "spinning reserve" power that is available at all times.

This is just one way the TIS integrated system and inter-company ties work to keep electric service dependable in our service area . . . as well as throughout the state.

The Texas Interconnected System is composed of West Texas Utilities Company and eight other power systems which operate wholly within the State of Texas.

The purpose of TIS is to continue to insure a reliable supply of power to about 8,000,000 people served by the nine-member electric utilities. It maintains an ample supply of what is called "spinning reserve" which is spare generating capacity in operation and on the system ready to take on load instantly.

The entire system is continually being expanded to keep ahead of the growth in generating capacity of the member companies. Over the years, the interconnecting transmission facilities throughout TIS have been increased in capacity and number in parallel with the increasing size and complexity of the individual members' systems.

At the present time, there are in service 1240 circuit miles of 345,000-volt lines and an additional 860 miles have been scheduled for installation prior to 1972.

The nine-member companies serve a combined area of 195,000 square miles (75 per cent of Texas) extending generally to the Red River on the north, the New Mexico border (excluding the Panhandle) and the Monahans-Wink area on the west, the Rio Grande and the Gulf of Mexico on the south, and Paris-Tyler-Lufkin-Houston on the east.

The Texas Interconnected System maintains a spinning reserve of not less than the capacity of the largest generator operating in North Texas plus 100,000 kilowatts, and the capacity of the largest generator operating in South Texas plus 100,000 kilowatts. This totals well over a million kilowatts which is shared by the nine member companies. The system has a 1968 load-serving capability of 16,300,000 kilowatts—more than 3 1/2 million kilowatts above the peak load of 1967.

TIS is not a power pool in the strictest sense of the word in that the nine member utilities do not pool their resources to finance, build or operate power plants and transmission lines. Each utility is responsible for the construction and operation of its own facilities. However, the nine utility companies do operate as one large system interconnected with 345,000, 138,000 and 69,000-volt transmission lines.

WTU has five transmission interconnections with the South Texas Systems. Three of these are with Central Power & Light Company commonly known as the Sonora-Uvalde 69,000-volt tie; the McCamey-Del Rio 69,000-volt tie; and the Sonora-Del Rio 138,000-volt tie.

The other two are 69,000-volt ties with the Lower Colorado River Authority. One is the Mason-Llano tie, and the other is the Mason-Fredericksburg tie. Eight 69,000-volt interconnections with Texas Electric Service Company join WTU with the North Texas systems. These ties to the east are known as the Vernon-Electra tie, the Munday-Holli-day tie, Cisco-Leon tie, and the Santa Anna-Brownwood tie.

The four interconnections to the west are the Roby-Eskota tie, Merkel-Eskota tie, Sterling City-Chalk tie, and the Rio Pecos Plant-Crane tie.

Both within the WTU system and the other interconnected systems, fullest consideration is given to continuity of service—utilizing modern protective devices, alternative power supply sources and transmission facilities. Interconnection with the neighboring systems has strengthened WTU's network as well as giving all member systems a very high degree of service reliability.

Reliability of a power system is a measure of the assurance of the system to supply uninterrupted electric service to the major points of distribution. The pattern of reliability in this area has been greater than 99.99 per cent, and electric customers have come to expect almost continuous availability of electricity at the flick of a switch.

Such reliability is attained by good planning and operation. To achieve the maximum level of reliability within its system, Texas Interconnected System operates through an administrative committee consisting of one representative from each member system, and two subcommittees, planning and operating.

Vice President and chief engineer John A. Hutchison represents WTU on the TIS administrative committee which is responsible for the overall coordination of the planning and operation of the system. Planning engineer Holman King is WTU's representative on both the planning and operating sub-committees.

The planning subcommittee studies transmission facilities, abnormal system conditions and major outages, and anticipates future generation installation and reserve needs.

The operating subcommittee develops standards for operation of the system, relay settings, dispatching procedures, allocation of spinning reserve and coordination of maintenance schedules.

A major consideration of this committee is the operation of all generators on the system. If a generating unit is suddenly lost, an equal amount of reserve power from other generators on the system must respond instantly. This committee is concerned also with recommending policies which will assure adequate spinning reserve at all times, including those periods when some units are out of service for scheduled maintenance. Another of its assignments is to investigate and recommend operating procedures such as sequence of switching operations after a possible major system disturbance, and to devise reliable and effective means of testing adequacy of the interconnected system under emergency conditions.

Energy security centers in Dallas and Austin coordinate the operations of the interconnected system. Modern up-to-date load frequency and tie line controls automatically regulate the generation of power to meet load requirements. A continuous record of power flow on all tie lines is provided system dispatchers to permit them to observe the operation of the total system at all times.

How well has the Texas Interconnected System operated in the past? It has been a model of efficiency. There has never been a TIS system-wide interruption although there have been some emergency situations that have proved the value of the interconnected system.

There are times when generating units at WTU power plants have tripped off the line. Even some of the larger units in other parts of the TIS have suddenly been disconnected from the system. But the spinning reserve took over without a hitch. Customers do not normally know there is any problem because their lights do not even dim.

This is the kind of service strived for—the kind that customers take for granted.

Coop. Convention Stresses Growth of Rural Areas

Efforts to develop the business and industrial, as well as the agricultural, potential of rural Texas received new stimulus in Dallas during the 28th annual meeting of Texas Electric Cooperatives, Inc. The 700-plus delegates vented their concern over the loss of rural youth to urban areas and the need to make rural areas more appealing economically to all Texans.

On hand to counsel with delegates and outline professional assistance available were experts in economic and community development, including James Heath of the Texas Industrial Commission, James Bradley of the industrial economics research division of Texas A&M, Dr. James H. McCrackin, undersecretary of health, education and welfare, and Edward Kiley, director of community development for the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association.

Supply Is Adequate

According to a report released by the Colorado School of Mines, the future supply of natural gas is adequate to meet all foreseeable requirements. The report, written by industry experts, estimated undiscovered reserves (excluding and Hawaii) at 690 trillion cubic feet. B. Warren Beebe, an independent geologist, noted that 690 trillion cubic feet remain to be discovered " . . . provided there is adequate economic incentive."

Financial Danger

The average American family is not in financial danger from too much installment buying. But many fail to use credit wisely, say extension specialists at Texas A&M University.

IRS Discusses Taxes, "Windshield Farmers"

One of the most significant changes in our farm life has been the changes in the type of farmers. We still have the farm family who lives on the farm or ranch and makes their livelihood from the produce that they raise. A second but growing group in most rural communities is the folks who live on the farm and work in the city. Some of these folks farm on a part-time and week end basis. Others raise food for their own use and some depend on their salary or wages for their entire livelihood. The new and most rapidly growing group is the "windshield farmer." He lives in town, or more likely the big city. His purpose in farming varies from hobby or week end lark to a serious well-financed highly commercial farm venture. The 1965 statistics of income show that farmers in the Internal Revenue Service District covering the 143 counties in the northern half of Texas, grossed more than $1 billion in the sale of agricultural products. However, they reported less than $50 million as adjusted gross income on their tax returns. The statistical breakdown reported for the Dallas and Fort Worth metropolitan areas, show that the 18,956 taxpayers (primarily windshield farmers) reported farming losses of $14,784,000 on their form 1040F's.

The Secretary of Agriculture recently recommended that Congress review the farm tax loss situation. Internal Revenue people are quick to point out that their objective is fair and equal enforcement of the present laws and that it is not advisable for IRS to comment on proposed legislation. However, IRS does point out that the Farmers Tax Guide spells out clear cut rules covering a part of the farm losses being discussed or questioned. The instructions set out for Personal Living and Farm Expenses on page 33 of the Farmers Tax Guide apply to the farmer who is engaged in farming 100 per cent of his time as well as the man who lives and works elsewhere and considers his part time farming operation as a secondary business. The Farmers Tax Guide reads:

Deduction of certain personal, living, and family expenses is specifically prohibited by law. These include rent and insurance premiums paid on property used as your residence, life insurance premiums on yourself or your family, the cost of maintaining automobiles or horses for personal use, allowances to minor children, attorney fees and legal expenses incurred in connection with personal matters, household expenses, and moving expenses of you, your family, and personal effects. Likewise, the cost of purchasing or raising produce or livestock consumed by you or your family is not deductible.

The tax folks have no doubt that personal expenses are not deductible, no matter whether it is cow-feed expense to produce milk for personal farm use, or for a carton of milk from the milkman.

Everybody knows that the new surtax law raised the amount of income tax that you will pay (7 1/2 per cent this year) by 10 per cent. What a lot of folks don't know is that the rules for paying estimated taxes have also been tightened up. Most of us work for wages and our employers withhold income tax and social security tax from our wages and pay it to Uncle, and we don't have to worry about filing an estimated tax return. However, those folks who are self-employed or who have income outside of their pay check, do have a problem. This type of taxpayers have been required to file an estimated tax return in the past, but there were lots of good excuses that wiped out a tax penalty if you did not file and you met the exception. Congress decided to wipe out and tighten up these exceptions. If you are self-employed or if you have substantial income on which you have not paid any tax, you better review the amount of estimated tax that you are due to pay on September 15, or find out whether you have to file and pay because your good excuse is gone.

Texas Calf Crop Up

The Texas calf crop is expected to total 4,911,000 head. This compares with 4,876,000 head in 1967. The 1968 crop, says the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, will be the highest on record since estimates began in 1924. Cows and heifers 2 years old and older on January 1 numbered 5,710,000 or 1 per cent more than a year earlier.

Apparent Low Bidders Named for New Truscott, Gilliland Water System

BY CLARA BROWN

Apparent low bidders for the water distribution system and drilling of a well for the Truscott and Gilliland rural water system at the bid opening Thursday, Sept. 19, at Benjamin was Rhode Pipe Company of Silverton with a $119,814.76 bid for distribution system construction, and Hinton Well Service, Floydada, $4,952.11 for drilling a well.
Red River Authority manager Fred Parkey of Wichita Falls said the contract should be let in about 10 days and water system construction should begin in 30 days. An estimated construction period of three months was predicted by the Rhode Pipe Company's representative, weather permitting.
Paul Horne, president of the Truscott and Gilliland Water Association board, reported 106 wet and 26 dry meter deposits prior to opening of bids, which was attended by about 40 persons. Eleven bids were made for the job.
About 40 miles of line are planned, using six-inch jointed transite pipe for the approximately three miles of main line and plastic PVC pipe ranging from one inch to four inches for line extension. Transite is the same type pipe used in the Greenbelt water system line from Quannah to Crowell, according to Horne.
The 85-foot well will be drilled north of Gilliland on the O. R. Miller place. A test well drilled about six months ago indicated water in sufficient quantity and of acceptable quality for the system.
The organizational meeting for the Truscott and Gilliland Water Association was held Sept. 21, 1966, although board member Emil Navratil declared last Thursday, "We've been talking it for ten years." An FHA loan for $139,000 was obtained about two months ago with the aid of Joe Boone, county FHA supervisor at Knox City.
R. Ernest Lee Associates of Wichita Falls, consulting engineers, have assisted the local board, FHA and the Red River Authority with preliminary planning, promotion and final planning during the two-year period.
Representing the Red River Authority at the meeting were Parkey and Sen. Jack Hightower, attorney for RRA.
Truscott and Gilliland board members attending were Horne; Mrs. Florence Miller, secretary; Bill Owens, Curtis Casey and Emil Navratil. Other board members are L. P. Welch and H. A.

Reeves.
Few pioneers would have believed such a water system a possibility 90 years ago when this area first began to be settled. Mrs. H. A. Smith, a Truscott pioneer once said, "They used to chase mud puddles to get water." She said in her early life she sometimes drank water so green and bad smelling, "We had to close our eyes and hold our noses to drink it."
China Lake, southwest of Truscott, and scattered gypsum springs were the water "systems" for the buffalo hunters, sheep herders and earliest settlers.
Later, a rock-lined well was dug on the Truscott place now owned by the Westbrooks. The late Tom Westbrook said he could recall many times making the long trip from their old place on Antelope Flat in a wagon loaded with water barrels for household and livestock water, to the well at the Truscott place. It was the pride of the community.
The first cement underground cisterns for storing rain water were said to have been greeted with almost as much joy as the news about the new water system is today. Most Truscott and Gilliland homes have plumbing systems today, but many homeowners must buy tank loads of water from a water truck. They estimate the new system will be much less expensive for them.
Mrs. Edith Cash, 41-year-old Gilliland housewife, said Thursday, "I've been hauling water for 41 years, and I'll be glad to quit it."
Order your mums for homecoming from the senior girls. Orders must be turned in by Thursday noon and prices range from $1.50 to $5.00. 12-1tc

Thursday, Sept. 26, Is Show Date for New Chevrolets at Borchardt-Goodwin

The widest choice of engines and transmissions in automotive history head a parade of exclusive Chevrolet features for 1969, E. M. Estes, general manager, said this week.

The 1969 Chevrolet line of automobiles is on display today, Thursday, Sept. 26, at Borchardt-Goodwin in Crowell.

"This unparalleled opportunity for the 1969 buyer to custom tailor his car's performance and economy typifies the variety and value with which Chevrolet expects to increase its industry leadership," Estes said.

"Other exclusive Chevrolet features are computer-selected springs for improved ride, jet stream headlight washers for better illumination in bad weather, wider wheels to improve vehicle handling and a 'liquid tire chain' system to increase rear tire traction on icy streets."

"The industry's top seller—the big Chevrolet—is all new in 1969 and has the largest base V-8 engine in its class," Estes said. "It is a 327 cubic inch V-8, increased from a base 307 engine in 1968."

"Two new 350 cubic inch V-8's are also introduced, one using regular fuel as does the base V-8. The big Chevrolet also offers a high torque, regular fuel 396 cubic inch engine, largest regular fuel engine in its field."

Other exclusive features Estes listed for the new big Chevrolet are full door glass styling with improved Astro Ventilation on all models, variable-ratio power steering for more responsive maneuverability, an electrically-heated rear window defroster and a one-of-a-kind roofline for the Caprice coupe and Impala custom coupe.

Chevrolet introduces in 1969 a new Turbo Hydra-Matic three-speed automatic transmission specially designed for six cylinder engines and V-8 engines up through 350 cubic inches. Teamed with the regular Turbo Hydra-Matic offered on larger displacement V-8's, this gives virtual cross-the-board availability of this highly advanced transmission, Estes said.

Chevrolet also introduces a new heavy duty, three-speed fully synchronized manual transmission. Others in the wide transmission selection are the standard three-speed, optional four-speed, Powerglide two-speed automatic and Chevrolet's pace setting Torque Drive "clutchless" transmission for four and six cylinder equipped Chevy Novas and the six cylinder Camaro.

Safety and security advances on the 1969 Chevrolets range from an improved energy-absorbing steering column, contoured windshield heaters and front seat head restraints to an anti-theft ignition, steering and transmission lock mounted on the steering column.

Use of computer selection to get the best spring combination for each individual car increases Chevrolet vehicle quality in 1969. Each customer order is analyzed with high speed data processing equipment to determine the front and rear weight of all equipment and the proper springs to carry it. The result is carefully tailored, more consistent trim heights which insure a good ride as well as correct appearance.

Other quality improvements include stronger V-8 engine construction for greater durability, smoother, quieter engine drivelines to help reduce noise and vibration, a new air cleaner snorkel design that makes six cylinder engines quieter and new accessory drive systems of V-8 engines which give improved durability and quieter operation. Frame and sound isolation improvements give better ride.

Advanced, power-assisted front wheel disc brakes are available for any Chevrolet, Chevelle, Nova or Camaro and are standard on SS-equipped models. Fined front wheel drum brakes and heavier duty linings at all four wheels are standard on all regular models in Chevelle, Nova and Camaro lines.

An exclusive headlight washing system is among the newest of Chevrolet's more than 400 options and accessories for 1969. When the wiper-washer control is held depressed by the driver, the headlights (outer lights only on four headlight systems) are washed by jets of windshield washer fluid. This removes accumulations of road dirt, giving improved illumination.

Chevrolet's exclusive "liquid tire chain" dispensing system gives increased rear traction on ice-surfaced roads. Activated by a button on the instrument panel, dispensers mounted at the top of rear wheel housings spray the chemical against tires. The four-ounce dispensers are replaced when empty through the trunk compartment.

Chevrolet air conditioning is improved for 1969 with greater air-flow through larger ducts and added passenger compartment outlets. An improved AM-FM stereo radio combination has all controls mounted on the radio.

Chevrolet offers 15 exterior colors for 1969, nearly all new. There are up to six two-tone combinations, five vinyl top colors and three convertible top colors.

Improvements Made in 1969 Chevrolet Trucks

Higher-powered base engines in three series, three new 350 cu. in. V-8 engines, major front-end restyling of light conventional models, numerous chassis improvements, and many new and expanded options highlight the changes in the 1969 Chevrolet truck line.

The new 350 cu. in. engines are optional in light-duty conventional and forward-control models at 255 hp. in two version for normal or severe operations. A third heavy duty version, rated at 200 hp. at lower rpm., is standard in 1½- and 2-ton medium-duty V-8 gas models.

In 2-ton heavy-duty models, a 235 hp. 366 V-8 is made standard equipment, replacing the former 185 hp. 327 V-8. Again, all Chevrolet gasoline truck engines can be operated on regular grade fuel.

Also new for 1969 is a Chevrolet-designed 3-speed manual transmission designed to accommodate the power output of the larger V-8 engines.

Two Minutes With the Bible

The Faith of Jesus Christ

"... the righteousness of God ... by the faith of Jesus Christ, unto all and upon all them that believe" (Rom. 3:22).

Note, the Apostle Paul here does not refer to faith in Christ, but the faith of Christ. Nor does he refer to what Christ believed, but rather to His worthiness to be believed, His fidelity.

We must not forget that faith is a reciprocal matter; it is two-sided. One is objective; it believes in another. The other is subjective; it is a trustworthy character. One refers to what a person does; the other to what he is. If I have faith in you (objectively) you should keep faith with me (be trustworthy, subjectively).

Seven times in St. Paul's epistle he refers to "the faith of Christ" and each time his purpose is to emphasize our Lord's worthiness of our complete confidence. That he does not refer to our faith in Christ is evident on the surface. In the passage above he declares that the righteousness of God, which is "by the faith of Christ," is conferred "upon all them that believe" (Here's your faith in Him).

Similarly, in Gal. 3:22, he states that "the Scripture hath concluded all under sin, that the promise, by the faith of Jesus Christ, might be given to them that believe." Here again, we believe, because He is worthy of our confidence.

Again in Phil. 3:9, the apostle expresses his desire for a righteousness not of his own, "but that which is through the faith of Christ"—and then adds: "the righteousness which is of God by faith." Here's man's faith again! He has faith in Christ because Christ is completely faithful, completely worthy to be believed in. He paid the full penalty for our sins and is now in heaven dispensing the merits of Calvary—riches of grace, mercy and forgiveness.

But remember, "the faith of Christ" always precedes our faith in Christ. What good would it do to believe in Him for salvation if He were not wholly to be relied upon for this? But He can be trusted "to save unto the uttermost all who come unto God by Him" (Heb. 7:25). This is why Paul could say to the terrified jailor at Philippi: "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved" (Acts 16:31).

Texas to Have Unusual Lake

Texas will soon have a new lake. And it will probably be one of the most unusual lakes in the nation, according to the current issue of Petroleum Today.

While holding promise as a recreational haven for fishermen and water sportsmen, this future lake will also have its practical purposes. Not only will it provide water for communities as far away as 125 miles, but it will play a part in helping to increase oil production near Robert Lee, in West Texas.

Actually, the lake will start forming this fall when waters from the Colorado River are flushed into a 500,000-acre area above an oil field. Injection wells will pump 17,000 barrels of water a day from the new lake into a treatment plant. From there, the water will be pumped into the rock formation 5,500 feet underground that contains the oil.

This water, the magazine points out, will push the oil ahead of it and up to the surface through production wells. By use of waterflooding, as the process is called, the ultimate oil recovery of the field will be doubled, according to the magazine.

Cost Is High

"Reports released by the General Accounting Office in Washington show that the cost of training a boy or girl in the War on Poverty Oriented Job Corps schools will average between $7,000 and $9,000 per year per student. . . . Is it necessary that these students (supposedly from oppressed homes) be given such a 'Cadillac' way of life while receiving an education at taxpayers' expense?"—Reinbeck, Iowa, Courier.

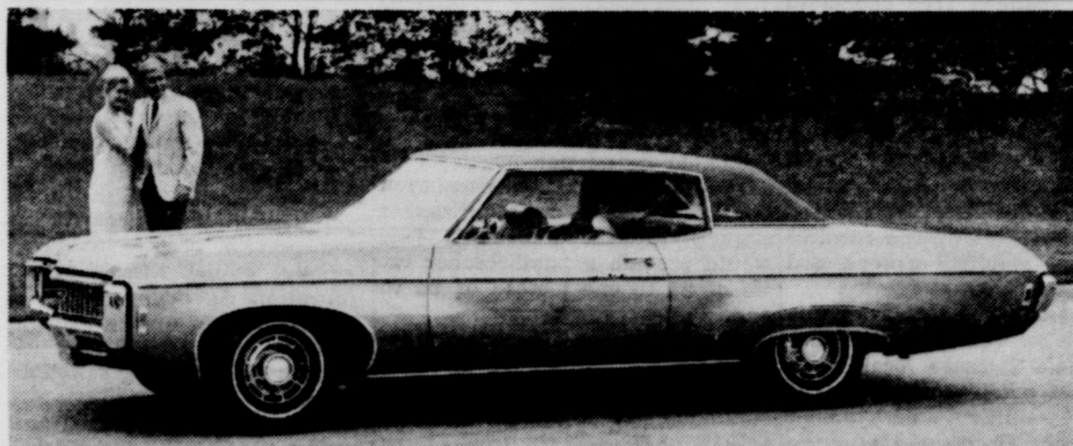

Would Be Lost to Heirs

William A. Gemmel, president of the South Jersey Gas Company, remarked: "Business is losing the battle for public opinion and understanding. If prevailing attitudes and practices continue unchecked, the free enterprise system will be weakened. In time it will give way to other systems which would dissolve our individual freedoms. . . . destroy our great standard of living, and rob us of our world leadership. If this happens then the record of America's free enterprise system will be lost to our heirs—to become the greatest story never told."

Can Break Barriers

As observed by the Farmer's Elevator Guide, the leader of a farm business group whose members represent more than half the nation's growers noted that farmers can break the barriers to better income if they'll fully mobilize the marketing power machinery they already possess.

Quiet luxury found in '69 Chevrolet Impala Custom Coupe

Sparkling with new styling refinements are the 1969 Chevrolets. New grille design, new placement of front lights and rectangular rear taillights are a few of the many changes to be found in the Impala Custom Coupe as shown above. Again Chevrolet offers an array of comfort and convenience options that personalize a car to the individual taste. The new Chevrolet line of passenger cars will be on display September 26.

Chevrolet introduces 1969.

Caprice. Match this, you other 69's!

There is no joy in the land of our competitors today. But let us ask you this.

Should we have made Caprice shorter instead of the longest Chevrolet ever built? Or adorned it with flashy nicknacks to make it look less expensive?

Just because competition doesn't, should we not have offered you washers to clean your headlights, new variable-ratio power steering, liquid tire chain you can apply to your rear wheels at the touch of a button?

Should we have given you less power, instead of the largest standard V-8 in its field?

Some people think so. Our competitors.

Austin, Tex.—A blue ribbon governor's committee has recommended a monumental 10-year plan for improving Texas public school education that will triple costs and require a $300 to $400 million tax bill next year.

The 15-member panel said its plan would lift schools out of "mediocrity" and "inefficiency."

Highlights of the report include recommendations for more and better-paid teachers, free kindergartens, expanded free education for adults, required consolidation of small school districts, additional benefits for teachers and encouragement of educational innovations and experimentation.

Committee, named by Gov. John Connally and authorized by the 1965 Legislature, also urged programs to point up the cultural heritage of minority groups and to encourage human dignity.

Altogether the proposals of this Committee on Public School Education would increase local, state and federal school costs in Texas from $840 million to $2.1 billion at the end of 10 years. Under the plan, about four per cent of the state's income would have to go to schools. Some $503 million more would be required, bulk from state sources, for 1970-71.

Committee recommended simplification in the complex finance formula to figure local school district costs, to provide that the local districts' 20 to 25 per cent share would be based on taxable property values. Local share, of course, would go up along with the state's. School building would remain a local responsibility.

Key recommendations include:

- Increasing basic allotments from $23 to $50 per pupil, plus additions for transportation, materials and vocational teachers.
- Providing "basic foundation program" to replace 20-year-old minimum foundation program.
- Adding 16,000 teachers, even though enrollment may decrease slightly (by about 22,000). This would provide a pupil-teacher ratio of 21 to one instead of 24 to one.

- Increasing teacher pay from $4,734 minimum to $5,400 in 1969-70 and $6,300 the following year. Maximum pay would go up from $6,912 to $8,800 by 1970-71, as covered by state guarantee.
- Incorporating 17-step pay scale in 1971-72. This would provide $3,000 for teacher aides and go up to $28,567 for administrators.

- Requiring districts with fewer than 2,600 average daily attendance in 12 grades to consolidate by June 1, 1972. (Some exceptions would be allowed for remote countywide districts, special districts, and schools on military bases.) Redistricting recommendations will be provided in six weeks, committee said.
- Encouraging districts with more than 50,000 enrollments to decentralize into community school systems with incentive payments of $10 a student.
- Abolishing county school superintendents as terms expire.
- Creating free public kindergartens for five-year-olds by 1980, summer programs with priority for the poor and free adult courses for those over 18 who have not finished high school.
- Offering wider selection of textbooks and materials and extra teachers and aides for districts with large numbers of low-income families.
- Replacing 20 regional education service centers with fewer regional branch offices of Texas Education Agency.
- Districting of the 21-member Board of Education to conform with 23 present congressional districts.
- Establishing new program for 25,000 student teachers and another for interns in school administration.
- Setting up variety of teach-ter benefits including continuing contracts, professional consultation, teacher aides for every 100 students, and 10 free hours a week for teachers to grade papers, plan lessons and study. Non-teachers would be used for routine supervisory duties in some cases.

Although the immediate pay raise is less than the $1,000 sought by Texas State Teachers Association, committee said recommendations would provide "nation's best state-guaranteed salary plan."

Should Publicize Activities of Law Abiding Citizens

"It would be in order for the press to start publicizing the activities of the law-abiding citizen as well as the law-defying ones. In this year of political strife, perhaps the aspiring candidates for office may realize that the best support they could desire comes from the people of this country to whom 'law and order' mean just what they represent."
—Nantucket, Mass., Inquirer and Mirror.

Social Security and the Clergy

Income received from the ministry is automatically covered by social security under the new social security amendments.

Until the 1967 change in the law, a member of the clergy could be covered under social security under an individual, voluntary arrangement; if he wished social security protection he signed a form stating that he wished his income from the ministry to be covered. He then paid a portion of his salary as his social security contribution on the basis of that of a self-employed person.

As of January 1, 1968, however, income from the ministry is covered automatically on the same basis as that for other wage earners and self-employed persons, unless the clergyman has objections based on conscience or religious principle.

As under the old law, a clergyman covered by this provision reports his income and makes his tax contributions as if he were self-employed, even though he may be working as an employee. He will pay his first social security taxes on income from 1968.

The new provisions do not apply to those clergymen who elected coverage under the old law. They will continue to be covered. If a clergyman who had not already chosen to come under social security before 1968 does not wish social security coverage, he must file an application for an exemption and a statement that he is opposed to receiving social security benefits or other public insurance based on services as a clergyman, by reason of conscience or religious principle. The application must be filed with the Internal Revenue Service by April 15, 1970, unless he enters the ministry in 1969 or later; in that case he will have until April 15 of the second year after the year in which he became a clergyman to request exemption.

The new provision does not affect members of religious orders who have taken a vow of poverty. As before, they are not covered by social security. Further information can be obtained from the Vernon social security office.

Traveling the Troubled Road

Why do we borrow the worst from countries instead of their best?

We talk about Guaranteed income for everyone, whether he works or not. The British called the same thing The Dole, and it helped make England Socialist and destroy the British Empire.

We complacently watch unions demand and force unearned wage increases which destroy profits vital to national growth. That's only one step from the Russians, who abolished profits in favor of the Workingman's Soviet.

We watch our central government seizing more and more power, destroying the authority and self-respect of cities and states. That's what Germany did and out of it came Hitler.

More and more of our income is taken in taxes to support indolence by people who won't work but who will support whoever gives the most from the public trough. That's what supports Cuba's Castro.

Criminals are pampered, police attacked; success is suspect, poverty perpetuated. Government runs amok in spending money it doesn't have, and in destroying thrift and hard-won security.

All this is the very opposite of what built America. And, continued, this won't be America long.

More on Farm Situation

From 1960-67, the number of farms in the U. S. declined 23 per cent. But, while those with less than $2,500 annual sales declined by 27 per cent; those in the $2,500 to $4,999 sales category declined 42 per cent and those in the $5,000 to $9,999 declined 32 per cent during the period. Those with farm sales of $10,000 to $20,000 decreased only 1 per cent. And those with farm sales of $20,000 to $40,000 increased by 40 per cent; and those with sales over $40,000 and more rose by 62 per cent.

The USDA report said farms in the largest three categories accounted for only 31.5 per cent of all farms in 1967; they accounted for 85.1 per cent of cash receipts from farming, more than 75 per cent of the realized net income from farming.

WILDCATS TAKE 41-6 WIN OVER MATADOR

The Crowell High School Wildcat football team copped its second win of the season last Friday night at Matador as they handed the Bullfighters a 41-6 defeat.

The first Wildcat score came with 1:33 left in the first quarter when Billy Hord gathered in a punt on his own 15, and with outstanding blocking, went the entire 85 yards. The try for extra points failed.

The first portion of the initial quarter saw both teams unable to move the ball with the Wildcats fumbling twice.

Charles Dodd, Wildcat fullback, crossed the double stripe for the Wildcats' second score. This TD was set up by a run by Hord to the Matador 43 and a Gary Cates to Kenneth Sellers pass which carried to the Matador 10. This second tally came with 4:33 left in the second quarter. Hord kicked the point-after.

The third Wildcat score came with only 39 seconds left in the half when another Cates-to-Sellers pass paid off for 6. Hord's kick was perfect and the Wildcats held a 20-0 halftime lead.

The Bullfighters scored their touchdown early in the third quarter on a Wildcat pass interception which was returned to the Wildcat 10. Former Crowell resident Mark Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hill of Matador, picked up 6 yards for the Bullfighters. They went on in for the TD with the try for extra points no good.

Hord scored again from three yards out with 4:47 left in the third quarter; he also kicked the PAT to make the score 27-6.

Sellers then fielded a Matador punt and ran it all the way to the Matador 20 before being hauled down. The next play, Gary Eddy broke through the middle and went all the way untouched for another Wildcat tally.

The point-after try was good and this TD came with 2:43 left in the third quarter to make the score 33-6.

The Crowell bench was emptied for the remainder of the game, and with Ken Sellers quarterbacking the substitutes, the Wildcats scored their final touchdown in the night. The Wildcats were deep in their end of the field—on the 6—when Sellers broke around right end and raced 94 yards for the score. Speedy George Eavenson ran the two points, to make the final score 41-6.

Junior Urquizo intercepted a pass for the Wildcat subs; Mike Matus caught a pass, as did David Myers. Lee J. Whitley played about a quarter at QB.

Defensive standouts for Crowell were Cates, Sellers, Jim Tom

Greenbelt Authority Increases Water Rates; Crowell to Pay 82½¢ Per 1,000

To prevent a default of its bonds, the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority raised its rates to member cities at a meeting last week in Memphis.

The new rates, made effective September 1, 1968, will go through June 30, 1969, the fiscal year of the Authority.

New rates for Childress, Quanah, Clarendon and Hedley will be upped from 30 cents to 75 cents per 1,000 gallons.

No changes were made in the rates to the Red River Water Authority and Bestwall at Acme which were not represented at the meeting. Red River and Bestwall now pay 37½ cents per 1,000 gallons.

What rate changes will be made in member cities will not be known until the city councils meet in the various cities.

Danny Burger of the Texas Water Development Board, which underwrote the bonds of the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority, forced the rate increase to keep the Greenbelt from defaulting.

Burger indicated that cities that might be behind in payments at the next accounting period, January 10, 1969, would be "overlooked" until the fiscal year closing in order to give time where time is needed.

Quanah is the only city in the Authority which is current with the Authority. Childress owes $4,209; Hedley, $440; Crowell, $1,781, and Clarendon, $6,683.

Childress is paying for actual water used which is not enough to take care of its percentage of the obligation of the Greenbelt.

The whole trouble has been caused by the fact that the cities in the Greenbelt are not using the amount of water originally projected to take care of the total obligation.

Some of that, it was pointed out, has been caused by heavier than usual rains during the summer months.

Jim Nichols, of the engineering firm of Freese, Nichols and Endress, consulting engineers for the Greenbelt, endorsed the action of the Authority in raising the rates. Jack Morris, with R. A. Underwood, bond consultants, said the rate raise was necessary to keep the Greenbelt solvent.

The motion raising the rates was as follows: "That the water rate be increased to 75 cents per thousand gallons for all member cities except Crowell which will be increased to 82½ cents per thousand gallons, effective September 1, 1968; that each member city in arrears for previously agreed minimum amounts through August, 1968, be required to pay such minimum amounts on or before June 30, 1969, and that, if the total receipts for sales of water and otherwise are not adequate to meet the necessary payments owing by the Authority as of June 30, 1969, then any deficiency shall be paid by the member cities, according to the water purchase contracts between member cities and the Authority."

Ora Mae Fox Wins Award for Selling Insurance

Kansas City Life Insurance Co. has announced that Miss Ora Mae Fox of Crowell was the leader in number of life insurance sales for 82 counties in the West Texas territory during the company's "Bixby Month" August sales campaign.

R. D. Rabon, regional manager, and Don R. Reynolds, general agent for the company, presented Miss Fox with a bonus award for her outstanding achievement. She averaged selling more than one life insurance policy per day during the month of August. This, according to Mr. Rabon, is an outstanding accomplishment in the life insurance industry. Miss Fox has been a continuous leader with Kansas City Life since her association with them in 1964.

County Agent Reports Fever Ticks in Area

Fever ticks have been found outside the South Texas quarantine zone.

County Agent Joe Burkett said stockmen are asked to send a sample of ticks found on either cattle or horses to a regulatory laboratory for identification. The importance of the samples cannot be overemphasized and it is urgent that stockmen throughout the state cooperate.

Ticks should be placed in a vial of commercial alcohol and mailed to the State-Federal Laboratory, Third Floor, Western Republic Life Building, Western Republic 78701. A label or memorandum should accompany the sample listing the name of the owner, the mailing address, location of the farm or ranch, and type of animal from which the tick or ticks were removed.
