Winners Listed in Christmas Decoration Contest

Twelve Foard County homes were entered in the second annual Christmas lighting and decoration contest held Thursday, Dec. 19. First place winner was the Elton Carroll home, 923 North A. The lawn decorations included Santa and his helpers, snowmen, reindeer, a lighted tree, and Nativity scene. Other decorations were a life-size Santa at the door and a lighted tree. West Texas Utilities Co. donated the first place prize.

The second place prize was awarded to the Dutch Hollenbaughs. The home was lighted with red lights, multi-colored lights on the front trees, and lanterns at the drive way. The Crowell Booster Club was the donor of the second prize.

The Bobby Chapman home, on South D, was the recipient of the third place prize given by Foard County Farm Bureau. Their home was lighted with red and blue lights, bells, and a Santa.

The J. B. Fairchild home was judged as the most outstanding home. The holiday decor included lighted gate, fences, and house. A Santa, reindeer, snowman and lighted tree completed the scene.

Each entry was scored by a team of three judges—Mrs. Ryal Henderson, Mrs. J. E. Forrest and Mrs. Dewey Womack of Quanah. The judges considered appropriateness to the season, originality, artistic effect, and size of the decor. The main purpose of the contest was to encourage beautification of the county and community improvement. The E. E. E. Committee of the Home Demonstration Council sponsored the annual event. Hints, helps, and ideas are available for future contests and decorations.

It is the desire of the family living subcommittee and the Home Demonstration Council that the Christmas season will become a time of extensive beautification in the county. It was noted that some thirty additional homes in the county were decorated for the holiday season. It is hoped that the interest in the contest will grow to include additional divisions and prizes for the efforts of the citizens. Now is the time to plan and purchase decorations for next year's event, while decorations are on sale. Remember, too, that proper labeling and storage of decorations will help make next year's decorating more enjoyable.

A letter from Walter Richter to the board chairman stated that the Region 5 Office of Economic Opportunity is setting up a series of awards for successful projects, and the local board voted to submit its Neighborhood self-help idea as its outstanding achievement during the year. The proposed clerk-typist and auto mechanic schools were discussed and it was thought by the local board that the clerk-typist school would be funded first.

Don Malone, executive director, gave the annual report to the board of directors, and goals and objectives for next year were discussed.

The board decided to give each full-time employee of the EOAC—after they have been employed for a year—an incentive raise of 3.5 per cent.

Army Recruiter Writes Column for Young Men, Women

Welcome to the Army Green. This is the first in a series of columns aimed at telling you a little about today's modern Army, the opportunities available for young men and women in the Army and about some of the local residents in service. First off, I would like to extend an invitation to all of you to drop in and see us any time you are in the neighborhood of the recruiting station located at 1809 Wilbarger Street, Vernon. If you have any questions about the army, or would like a guest speaker for your club or organization meeting, drop us a line or call us at 542-6762.

Written Guarantee
I know veterans of World War II will laugh at this one but it is true. A young man can enlist in the army and receive a written guarantee assuring him of the training he wants to take. Courses offered are electronics, automotive mechanics, aircraft maintenance, communications repair, missile systems repair and radar operations.

In order to qualify for a written guarantee, a man must pass aptitude tests in the fields in which he wants his training. If he passes, his enlistment is accepted. If he does not pass the test, he is under no obligation to enlist in the army.

Facts about the Army
Did you know — That the Air Force was originally part of the Signal Corps? It was organized in 1907 as the Aeronautical Division of the Army Signal Corps. It didn't receive its first plane until 1909. — That the famed Lewis and Clark Expedition that opened the Northwest was sponsored by the Army? Lewis was a captain and Clark was a lieutenant.

— That the invasion of France, during World War II, actually started on June 5 and not on D Day June 6? The evening before the 6th, men of two airborne divisions landed in France by parachute and glider. These men paved the way for the invading troops that landed on Normandy beaches the following morning.

This Week's Question
Each week, we will answer the question most frequently asked us by residents of the community. If you have a question, send it along, call us or drop in and ask it in person. We'll answer all questions personally. However, because of space limitations, we will answer one a week in this column. For how many years does a young man or woman have to en-

Two Minutes With the Bible

Sober Christians
"Let us, who are of the day, be sober . . ." (1 Thes. 5:8). Many people entertain the erroneous idea that truly spiritual Christians must always be solemn and long-faced. In fact, they suppose that such Scripture passages as the above teach this. Nothing could be farther from the truth, for the word, "sober," in our English New Testament does not mean solemn, but completely under control. This is also true of the original Greek word from which the English word "sober" is translated. Sobriety in Scripture, as in modern English, is the opposite of drunkenness. This is brought out in the rest of the passage cited above. Along with its context, this passage reads as follows: "For they that sleep sleep in the night; and they that be drunken be drunken in the night. "But let us, who are of the day, be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love, and for an helmet the hope of salvation. "For God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ. "Who died for us that . . . we should live together with Him" (1 Thes. 5:7-10).

Thus those who are "of the day," and know Christ as their Savior, should not "sleep" on the one hand, or "be drunken" on the other, but should be awake and alert, their faculties completely under control, so that they might witness the more effectively to the saving grace of Christ. If ever there was a time when true Christians should "watch and be sober," it is now.

Estimated Income Tax Deadline for Farmers

Farmers who earned at least two-thirds of their 1968 gross income from farming operations should file their declaration of estimated federal income tax, including self-employment, for 1968 with the Southwest Service Center, 3651 Interregional Highway, Austin 78740, on or before Jan. 15 with form 1040-ES being used for this purpose. However, Ellis Campbell, Jr., district director of Internal Revenue for Northern Texas, said that farmers do not have to file an estimate if they file their 1968 federal income tax return and pay all the tax due by Feb. 17, 1969.

There's GOLD in them thar hills and we put lots of it there

GOLD...represented by Prosperity, Growth, Wealth... abounds in the larger cities today. But it's a sort of non-portable, one-way type of gold—people living in the smaller communities like ours can't just go up into the stone and glass hills and canyons with our burros and bring loads of it home.

As a matter of cold, hard economic fact—this gold—this wealth—in our neighboring metropolises is not for us to enjoy...unless we're ready to move there and live with it. Yet, our Trade, our money...carried to them on our shopping pilgrimages...has importantly helped in their enrichment.

The same money...kept in the trade channels of our own community...will put more gold where we can enjoy it ourselves—the gold of Prosperity and Growth.

Tax Man Sam Sez

Paying taxes is a part of our way of life. Most folks say it is a part that they don't particularly like, but since the things they require from their government cost, it is reasonable to expect to pay taxes a few more times before we find the perfect method. The amount of taxes that you pay often depends upon the kind of records you keep. There may be a few CPA's and other professional record-keepers who really love to keep records, but the average taxpayer doesn't. This costs him! Most folks working in the tax business join the Internal Revenue Service in advising you to keep good records. Maybe we should take the trouble. The sweat and frustration might be worthwhile.

Widows with Some Mighty Mites

When a girl marries, it's an occasion for joy—but when a widow receiving federal government benefit payments remarries, it's a headache for the taxpayer, according to "Washington Report," official publication of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

What's been happening is that many (nobody knows how many) widows receiving benefits have been failing to notify the authorities when they make the trip to the altar again. The law says that when these widows remarry, they are no longer eligible for benefits. Congress' bloodhound agency, the General Accounting Office (GAO), recently looked into the matter and found some widowhood-winking of 5 federal agencies which make substantial widow payments. They are the Social Security Administration, Veterans Administration, U. S. Civil Service Commission, Railroad Retirement Board and the Bureau of Employment Compensation.

GAO was able to conduct only a limited study, but what it found is very revealing. It identified 147 widow beneficiaries who had received payments but who had become ineligible because of another "I do." They had been overpaid $82,000, and future payments of about $1.2 million might have been made if their new marital status had not been discovered. When you consider that in 1967 the above-named agencies made payments of about $1.6 billion to 1.8 million widows, the significance of GAO's spotcheck results becomes apparent.

Marriage Failures

The failure of many teenage marriages usually is based on three factors—incompatibility, personality failures and immaturity. Teenagers often do not have a sense of responsibility, the ability to adapt to an adult role, the unselfishness and the stability required for a successful marriage.

Miss Mary Sue Carpenter Becomes Bride of Randy Adkins

The First Baptist Church of Thalia was the setting at 7 p. m. Saturday, December 28, for the wedding of Miss Mary Susannah Carpenter and Jerry Randel Adkins. Rev. Charles Booker, pastor, officiated for the double ring nuptial vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Carpenter of Thalia, and the parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Houston Adkins of Crowell.

The couple exchanged wedding vows before an arch of greenery and cathedral candelabra tapers decorated with emerald green and white carnations. Candelabra also flanked the altar, and candles and greenery decorated the church windows.

Traditional pre-nuptial music and selections of the bride were presented by Miss Jon Ann Carter, pianist, who also accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Billy Hammonds, as she sang "The Twelfth of Never" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride, presented in marriage by her father, was attired in a formal-length empire gown of white chiffon velvet fashioned with an A-line skirt, long sleeves and a detachable chapel train. The bodice of the gown was styled with a cameo neckline, and accenting the bodice and train were an embroidered motif of sequins and Swedish crystals. The bride's elbow-length veil of silk illusion was attached to a cluster of velvet rosebuds, and she carried a bouquet of orchids, roses and stephanotis.

Miss Janis Whitley of Dallas attended the bride as maid of honor. She wore a formal-length A-line gown of royal blue velvet. Her veil was held by a royal blue crown, and she carried a nosegay of white and royal blue feathered carnations.

Other bridal attendants were Mrs. Stanley Shook of Cisco and Miss Cindy Erwin of Denton. They were attired identically to the maid of honor.

William Russell Carpenter, nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer, and flower girls were Tammy Dee Carpenter, niece of the bride, and Tanna Tabor, niece of the bridegroom.

Alvin D. Wheeler served the groom as best man. Groomsmen were Paul Wayne Campbell of Crowell and Benny Foard of Canyon, and ushers were Dan Mike Bird, Jimmy Gillespie, Randy

Smith and Jackie Eddy, all of Crowell.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Carpenter chose an aqua silk A-line dress with matching accessories. She wore a corsage of cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Adkins, mother of the groom, was attired in a green embossed dacon knit dress featuring a three-quarter length coat. Her corsage was also of cymbidium orchids.

Reception
The church banquet room was the scene of the reception which immediately followed the wedding ceremony.

The bride's table, covered with a white satin skirt overlaid with lace, was centered with an arrangement of blue and white carnations in a silver epergne flanked by silver candelabra. The traditional three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Miss Judy Whitley and Miss Kay Looney assisted with the serving duties. Other members of the house party were Mes. Nan Sue Dockins, J. C. Wisdom, Billy C. Johnson and Fred Gray.

Miss Pam Borchardt registered the guests at a table covered with a royal blue satin cloth and holding the bride's bouquet.

For the wedding trip, the bride chose a royal blue A-line dress of bonded wool featuring a coordinated coat complimented with royal blue accessories.

The bride is a 1968 graduate of Crowell High School where she lettered in basketball, was an FHA member for three years and was a member of the Sub-Junior Adelphean Club for four years.

The bridegroom is a 1966 graduate of Crowell High School where he lettered in basketball and football, and was a member of FFA. He is presently a junior student at West Texas State University in Canyon.

Rehearsal Dinner
The groom's parents were hosts Friday evening for a rehearsal dinner in their home in Crowell.

Guests were seated at individual tables of four with centerpieces of blue and white carnations surrounding white tapers. The couple presented remembrances to their attendants.

Taylor-Nunley Marriage Solemnized in Lakeview Dec. 27

Miss Alice Jean Nunley and Jerry Don Taylor repeated wedding vows in the First Baptist Church at Lakeview Friday, Dec. 27. Officiant was Rev. Glenn Roganfelt, uncle of the bride.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Nunley of Lakeview and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Taylor of Quanah, who are former residents of Foard County.

Miss Diann Newman was organist and Miss Linda Burlson was vocalist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white peau de soie featuring an empire bodice and trimmed with lace. The veil of silk illusion was worn with a crown of pearls and rose petals.

She carried a bouquet atop a white Bible.

Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Davis, Jr., sister and brother-in-law of the bride, were the couple's only attendants.

After a wedding trip to points of interest in New Mexico and Colorado, the couple will make their home at 2112 Amarillo Ave., Plainview.

The bride is a 1965 graduate of Escondido High School, Escondido, Calif., and a June graduate of Mercy College of Nursing, San Diego, Calif.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Crowell High School and North Texas State University. He is employed as district representative of General Motors Acceptance Corporation.

Adelphean Club

The Adelphean Club met on December 18 for its annual Christmas tea. Guests for the occasion were members of the Sub-Junior Adelphean Club and Mrs. Helen Minnick Wardell of New York.

Built upon the chosen theme, "Putting Religions Back in Christmas," Mrs. Hubert Brown was the devotional speaker. "Where did we lose it," she asked, "and how may we get it back?" Every generation seeks to see Him more clearly. Jesus came to a world that was satisfied with things as they were—they resented change. If one has Christ in Christmas, he must have Him every day.

Kay Shirley sang "I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day." She was accompanied by Sharla Haynie.

Mrs. Jean Halbert, speech teacher, was presented by the leader, Mrs. Henry Borchardt. Mrs. Halbert told how in 1818 Joseph Mohr gave to the world the beautiful Christmas hymn, "Silent Night."

Franz Gruber, thrilled with the verses, composed the melody. The perfect blending in spirit with Mohr's verses has given to the world one of its most beloved Christmas hymns, in spite of the fact that it came into fame very slowly.

Mrs. Halbert presented four of her speech pupils who completed the program. Her daughter, Harriet, read "Changes Are Everywhere;" Pam Carter read "Pressure of Christmas;" Debra Rasberry read "I'm Thankful for Christmas;" and Renee Cooper read "True Meaning of Christmas."

Hostesses for the beautifully appointed tea were Mrs. W. B. Johnson, Mrs. Mike Bird, Mrs. Robert Kincaid and Mrs. H. N. Ekern.

Taxpayers Ask Questions of Internal Revenue Service

(This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.)

Q. I'm expecting a bonus this year at the office. Will it be taxable?

A. Yes, this will be taxable income and your employer will withhold taxes on it.

Q. The holiday job our son is taking may put his earnings over $600 when it is added to what he made last summer. He's a full-time college student and I pay for his room, board and tuition. Could his earnings cost me the deduction I've been taking for him?

A. If your son is under 19 at year-end or was a full-time student during some part of each of 5 calendar months of the year and you provide more than half his support, his earnings will not cause you to lose the exemption you claim for him. Your son must file a return if he has gross income of $600 or more. He should also file a return if his income was less than that but taxes were withheld from his wages. He cannot obtain a refund of these taxes unless he files a return.

Q. Do I have to report tip income to my employer?

A. If you have tip income of $20 or more a month while working for any one employer then be sure you report it to this employer each month. Otherwise, you may be subject to a penalty of up to 50 per cent of the social security tax on the tips.

Q. I am a farmer and I donated a young steer I raised to a church bull roast. How do I figure the value of this contribution?

A. Use its fair market value at the time of the donation as the amount of your charitable contribution. However, the costs and expenses of the steer incurred in the year of contribution must be removed from your deductible farm expenses.

Q. Can I spread over several years the profit I made on the sale of farmland?

A. Yes, you may be able to report your profits on the installment basis. Then you would only be taxed on that part of the profit you received in 1968. This installment method can only be used when you receive payments of not more than 30 per cent of the selling price in the year of sale. If you receive more than 30 per cent, the entire gain must be reported in the year of sale.

Q. My brother and I help support our mother. Who gets to claim her as a dependent this year?

A. Under the support test for claiming a dependent, the person who provides more than half the total support for the calendar year is entitled to claim the exemption. To determine whether you or your brother qualify, add up your mother's food, clothing, shelter and other items of support for the year. Then find out whether you or your brother supplied more than half of them. If neither you nor your brother furnished more than half of this support but your combined contributions totaled over half the support, then you may want to consider the multiple support agreement. Such an agreement enables one of you to claim your mother as a dependent providing certain conditions are met. Be sure to check this provision of the law, as well as the other dependency tests, before you file your return.

Tax Man Sam Sez

Way back, "Since Buck was a yearling," Internal Revenue has been telling taxpayers to SIGN those tax returns—both husband and wife if a joint return. In pointing out the more common errors made by taxpayers throughout the country, IRS says forgetting to sign was still a major problem last year. However, in the Dallas district, very few taxpayers forgot to sign their returns. It appears that the Texas tax folks talk to Texas taxpayers a lot more about signing those returns. We know Texans are often accused of talking more or too much. We're not sure whether or not Texas—even those working for IRS—talk more than the average American, but Texas taxpayers following IRS's advice does disprove the old saying—"You can tell a Texan, but not very much." It appears that IRS told the Texans to sign, and they signed.

The underdeveloped nations are in a race with time. While they struggle to catch up with modern progress, mankind's oldest enemies do their damage now.

Hunger and malnutrition kill 10,000 persons a day, maim children for life—stunt their bodies, deaden their minds. Needless diseases cripple and weaken many more. Lack of education and training doom young people and adults to a hopeless cycle of poverty. America would not be America if we closed our hearts to human agony at home or abroad. CARE is a way to reach the needy in countries whose resources are far less than our own. Your contribution does more than keep people alive. CARE's Food, Self-Help and MEDICO programs help the hungry grow self-sufficient. Health, education, food production, job training, construction of community facilities from schools to roads and water systems—these are the supplies and services CARE provides in the name of the American people.

Your dollars are multiplied by those you help: local governments share operating costs, and community groups give what they can in materials and volunteer labor. Our Government gives farm abundance for many of the feeding plans.

Every dollar can serve lunch to 90 children... $10 treats 14 patients at a clinic... $300 per classroom can buy materials for parents to build a school. Whatever you give, your concern speaks straight to the hearts of the millions of persons CARE aids in Africa, Asia, the Middle East and Latin America. Mail your check—for the sake of those who need help so badly, and for the kind of world all of us want.

Blood from March of Dimes Center Proves Lifesaver for 5-Year-Old Girl

When most five-year-olds have an "off" day, as all children do from time to time, adults tend to blame it on a need for more rest.

But when pretty, brown-eyed Angela M. of Augusta, Ga., gets cranky, they're apt to think she needs a blood transfusion.

Angela has an hereditary birth defect of the blood called "thalassemia major" or Cooley's anemia. By the age of four, she had received a total of 60 pints of blood, and still requires a transfusion about every two to three weeks.

"Transfusions are such a 'way of life' for Angela that people tend to feel sorry for her and excuse perfectly normal misbehavior," says Dr. Dorothy Hahn, chief clinic physician of the March of Dimes Birth Defects Center at the Medical College of Georgia where Angela is a patient.

"Instead of the mild discipline needed at school or elsewhere, she often gets misplaced sympathy. Like all bright, obedient children, she quickly learns to take advantage of this with adults outside her home."

Angela's young parents, East Indians who came to Augusta from New Delhi, cope very well with her condition and upbringing. Her father, an Oxford-trained biochemist on the faculty of the Medical College, and her attractive, sari-clad mother, treat their youngest child as firmly as they do her brother and sister—despite the seriousness of Angela's condition. Good behavior is impartially expected of each member of the family.

Victims of thalassemia major tend to die in their first or second decade. Their red blood cells last only one-third to one-half of the normal length of time. Frequent transfusions help, but children with the disease are vulnerable to infections and even a mild cold can develop into fatal pneumonia. An estimated 25,000 children and young adults in the United States are believed to have thalassemia.

Angela is too young to understand the words "survival" and "transfusions" in the sense adults do. But she does understand that she is different from normal children and knows that something may happen to her.

A caller at her family's pleasant suburban home quickly realizes, however, how much Angela's parents have helped her to learn to live with her condition. While the little girl played beyond hearing, her mother spoke frankly to a visitor about Angela's sometimes disturbing questions.

"Last year, Angela asked her father, 'Am I going to live or die?' My husband answered, 'Child if you want to live, you must live.' I think that was a beautiful answer, full of wisdom. Angela told her father she very much wished to live."

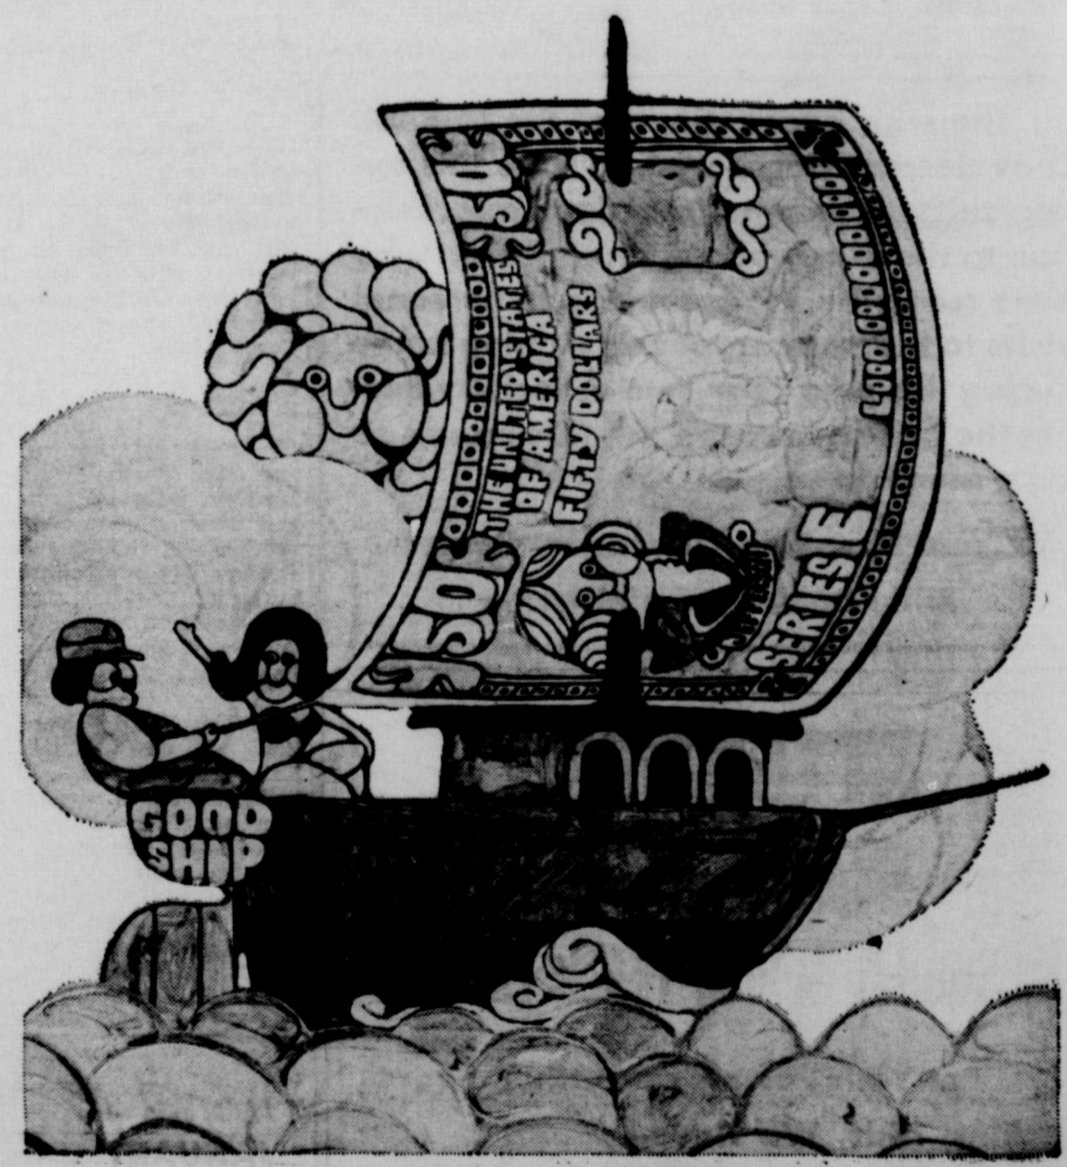

At the March of Dimes Center, Dr. Hahn and colleagues are doing everything they can to enable Angela to live normally. They have helped her overcome a natural fear of needles, bottles of blood and bandages.

"She's a brave child," says Dr. Hahn. "She is no longer afraid of our white coats and equipment. She has learned to accept frequent transfusions and has come along to the point where she even 'supervises' us and gives transfusions to her dolls."

Research in thalassemia is proceeding in several directions. Today some patients can be helped to live into their thirties. This was not possible a few years ago. Some investigators theorize that it may soon be possible to transplant hemoglobin-producing bone marrow or to use other techniques to fight the disease.

If Angela is to be granted her wish for life, researchers working on the problem have no time to lose.

Austin, Tex.—Just before the New Year dawned the Governor's Committee on Public School Education unfolded details of a controversial plan to shake up school district boundaries and dramatically revise finance formulas.

Indications are that it will have rough sledding in the Legislature. Committee's reorganization plan to help make Texas schools better and more efficient would limit 219 of 254 counties to one school district each. General rule is that all operating 12-grade systems should be either countywide in size or contain at least 2,600 students in average daily attendance.

Exception would be sparse area districts stretching over a county or more with less than 1,600 pupils and 24 special-purpose units like that operated in connection with military bases.

(Editor's note: According to detailed county-by-county information appearing in the Sunday daily newspapers, the Crowell system would be unaffected as it would come under the sparsely populated area.)

Governor's Committee recommended that the Legislature adopt its proposed district maps for further study by special local county-wide study committees charged with approving the new pattern or recommending something better to suit their own area needs. State Board of Education would compile the final reorganization plan by June 1, 1971.

Projected plan would slash the number of school districts from 1,218 to 354. All but 19 of 662 districts which now have less than 500 pupils would be eliminated. There would be 35 multi-district counties (those of larger population) with from two to 13 districts. All of the latter would have fewer districts than they now have.

Committee's proposals for figuring local districts' adjusted share of a basic foundation school program will also prove controversial, particularly in rural areas. Local share is calculated on the actual property taxpaying ability in each district.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES—Omission of a paragraph in a 1968 tax bill eliminated the exemption of non-profit corporations providing homes for elderly from franchise tax on debt, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin said in a new opinion.

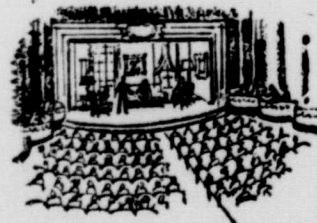

In other opinions, Martin concluded that: Establishment of a retirement trust for the president of Midwestern University does not constitute a supplement to salary and does not make the official ineligible for a $1500 raise provided in an appropriations bill by the Texas Legislature last June.

Petitions for a local option liquor election, filed after November 5, must contain signatures of 25

"Listen, I can speak again"

says stage and screen star William Gargan

In 1960 I was in San Francisco in a play called THE BEST MAN. I was playing the part of a president suffering from cancer. For weeks a sore throat had plagued me, I couldn't seem to shake it.

When the show closed, my wife, Mary, insisted that I see a doctor. After an examination and tests, he said I had cancer of the larynx, and recommended an operation, to save my life. Thirty-six hours later, the surgeon operated on my throat; I was speechless—literally, I had lost my voice.

I was discouraged and depressed. How could an actor act—without a voice? But, through the American Cancer Society I learned a new way to talk called esophageal speech. It seemed a miracle. Since then, I have traveled over 100,000 miles for the Society, showing other voiceless victims that they too can speak again.

PLANNING REGIONS ANNOUNCED—Governor Connally established 21 multi-county state planning regions to serve as a guide to state and federal agencies in developing service areas and to serve as a framework for coordination of planning activities. Delineation is intended to improve communication and coordination among planning and related functions of state, federal and local governments.

Governor's Division of Planning Coordination developed the regions after two years' study and consultation with state agencies, consultants and officials at all levels of government. Regions represent natural, social and economic groupings of counties reflecting shared interests. They will serve as master areas for state government planning with the aim of better coordination among all units.

Regions are Capitol, Alamo, Golden Crescent, Coastal Bend, South Texas, Lower Rio Grande Valley, Gulf Coast, South East Texas, Deep East Texas, East Texas, North East Texas, North Central Texas, Concho Valley, Panhandle, South Plains, Permian Basin and Upper Rio Grande.

Short Shorts
Texas crop output increased 18 per cent over 1967, led by a 26 per cent cotton production jump, according to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

Texas hospital employees' salaries rose seven to 14 per cent during the last year, Texas Hospital Association estimates.

On January 1, Texas gained two new high court judges: Sears McGee of Houston as Supreme Court Associate Justice and Leon Douglas of Vernon as Court of Criminal Appeals judge.

Social Security Deductions Go Up Wednesday, Jan. 1

Starting with the first pay checks they receive in the new year, the nation's working people will pay 4.8 per cent of their earnings toward their social security protection, an increase of 0.4 per cent over the contribution rate in effect since the beginning of 1967.

Social security contributions are still payable on only the first $7,800 of annual earnings, Edwin Draughon, social security district manager, said this week. For a person earning $7,800 or more a year ($150 a week or over), the increase will amount to 69 cents a week; a worker earning $100 a week will pay 40 cents a week more.

The increase that goes into effect January 1 was scheduled in the social security amendments of 1967. These amendments increased cash benefits for all beneficiaries by at least 13 per cent. The increase in benefits payable to workers and their families in the future will be even greater, Mr. Draughon said.

Retirement protection for workers and their families is increased, and so is the protection wives and children have if the worker should die. There is also improved protection for the entire family if the family breadwinner should become disabled for work for a period of 12 months or more.

Gradual increases are scheduled in the contribution rate until, for 1987 and later, the rate will be 5.9 per cent.

This rate includes 5 per cent for retirement, survivors, and disability insurance, and .9 per cent for hospital insurance.

Card of Thanks

We would like to say "thank you" to everyone who helped in any way during Dirk's stay in the hospital. Especially to Dr. Stapp, employees of the hospital and the nurses who gave such love and tender care. It's a great place to be when you're sick!

Highway Patrol Safety Officer Answers Questions

(Editor's Note: The following column of commonly-asked questions pertaining to Texas highway laws and the answers are prepared by High Patrol Safety Officer Chester Fant of Quanah. The column will appear regularly in The News.)

Q. When meeting an oncoming vehicle at night, at what distance does the law require you to dim your headlights?

A. The law requires you dim your headlights when approaching within 500 feet of an oncoming vehicle. A courteous, defensive driver will dim before this.

Q. Does the law require you to dim your headlights when following another vehicle at night?

A. The law requires that you dim your headlights when following a vehicle within 200 feet at night. This does not apply when you are in the act of overtaking and passing.

Q. When and on what type vehicles does the law require safety flaps or guards (commonly referred to as mud flaps)?

A. Every truck, road tractor, truck tractor in combination with a semi-trailer and trailer having 4 or more tires (dual wheels) on the rearmost axle shall be equipped with safety flaps of a material and construction prescribed by the Texas Dept. of Public Safety, located and suspended behind the rearmost wheels and they shall come to within 8 inches of the surface of the road. This does not apply to pole trailers, truck tractors operated alone, nor to trucks on private property. These flaps are required at all times when the vehicle is operated on a public roadway.

Q. What is the law regarding mirrors on a commercial vehicle?

A. Every commercial motor vehicle, when operated on a public highway, shall be equipped with a mirror, placed and maintained so that the operator shall at all times be able to see other vehicles approaching from the rear.

Q. What is the minimum age that a person can obtain a commercial drivers license in Texas?

A. The minimum age is 17 years old provided the person has passed an approved course of driver education. Without driver education, the minimum age is 18 years old.

Q. How far can the load on a vehicle extend past the front and the rear of a vehicle without a special permit?

A. No vehicle or combination of vehicles shall carry any load extending more than 3 feet to the front, nor more than 4 feet to the rear.

Former Truscott Woman Died in Odessa December 19

Mrs. Juanita Creekmore, 50, died in an Odessa hospital Thursday, Dec. 19, after an extended illness.

Funeral services were held Saturday, Dec. 21, at the West Park Baptist Church in Odessa. Rev. Homer Stephens, pastor of Camp Wood Baptist Church, officiated, and interment was in Odessa under the direction of Hubbard-Kelley Funeral Home.

The Creekmores are former residents of Truscott. He is employed by Humble Oil Company. They moved to Odessa eight years ago from Truscott and were living in Big Lake at the time of her death. She was a member of Big Lake Baptist Church.

Mrs. Creekmore is survived by her husband, M. M. Creekmore of Big Lake; one daughter, Sue Nan of the home, and one son, Joe Carl (Rusty), who is a student at Rice University in Houston. She is also survived by three sisters.

Tax Man Sam Sez

During 1967 Internal Revenue audited the tax returns of 3.1 million taxpayers. 52.4 per cent or 1.6 million were found to owe an additional $33,313,800,000. However, 40.2 per cent, or 1.3 million, had no change in their returns. (These people had obviously kept good records and followed the tax instructions.) About 200,000, or 7.6 per cent of those audited had the happy experience of receiving refunds amounting to $190,600,000. (Of course, these taxpayers had overpaid their tax to start with and would never have known of the $190 million if they had not had the good fortune to get a tax audit.) Correcting tax returns is a necessary part of the Internal Revenue Service's business to assure that each of us pays his fair share. However, if 7.6 per cent of us pay more than we owe, the Internal Revenue Service may not find time to audit our returns and send the money back. It just might be a good idea to read the instructions a little more carefully this year.

Citrus Heads January "Plentiful" List

Lots of citrus is on hand for the new year, according to the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Fresh oranges, grapefruit and tangerines all are in big supply now. In addition to the fresh fruit, good supplies of canned single-strength grapefruit juice also are available. Production of all three fruits is well above average, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Other foods abundant during January include canned tomatoes and tomato products, potatoes and onions, broilers, canned salmon and dry beans.

The third largest flat potato output on record is sending big supplies of this food staple to markets now. Production of tomatoes for processing set a new record, as indicated by the large supplies of canned tomatoes and such products as tomato paste, catsup, sauce and soups.

Canned salmon production during 1968 more than doubled that of the previous year. You'll find especially ample offerings of pink and chum salmon. Dry beans most plentiful now include pea beans, pintos, blackeyes and baby limas, according to USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service.

Keep these foods in mind when making out your grocery list.

State Sales Tax Table May Be Used for Computations

Northern Texas taxpayers who do not have a city sales tax in their home town may use the state sales tax table included in the mailed instruction booklet as a guide in preparing their itemized 1968 federal income tax returns, according to Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue. He pointed out that special tables have been prepared for the four sets of cities that began paying a city sales tax on Jan. 1, April 1, July 1, and Oct. 1. These are posted in local post offices and are available at IRS offices.

The tables are based on consumer spending patterns and show the average amount of state sales tax (and city sales tax where applicable) paid by Texas residents. State sales tax on automobiles purchased is not included in the tables. Taxpayers who purchased an automobile may add deductible sales taxes paid on the purchase to the amount shown in the table.

Taxpayers are not required to use the tables, Mr. Campbell pointed out. The tables are furnished as a guide for the convenience of taxpayers who want to deduct a "standard" amount for sales taxes without substantiation. Taxpayers who prefer to deduct the actual amount of sales taxes paid during the year must have records as proof of payment.

Tax Man Sam Sez

The growing group of rural residents who earn their living in the nearby city or town are an important part of the economy in most rural communities. A good part of these farm dwellers farm on a part-time basis—some commercial, but many purely for personal family use. The good tax folks point out that an expense for hog feed to produce meat for personal use is no more a deductible farm expenditure than an expense for bacon at the supermarket. Any farmer can deduct his expenses for produce if the produce is sold, but the store owner takes from stock for his personal use is not a business expense—neither is the food you grow and eat on the farm.
