TOTAL OF 68 VOLUNTEER TO GIVE BLOOD; 55 ARE ACCEPTED

Capacity Crowd Attends All-Sports Banquet Monday

Linebacker Coach at A&M, Don Watson Principal Speaker

A capacity crowd packed the Crowell school cafeteria Monday night to hear Don Watson, assistant football coach at Texas A&M University, and also to honor a number of Crowell High School students. The occasion was the annual All-Sports Banquet sponsored each year by the Crowell Lions Club.

R. C. McCord gave the invocation preceding the barbecue supper which was catered by a Wichita Falls firm. A. V. McCombs, president of the Lions Club, served as master of ceremonies. Incidental piano music was provided during the serving hours by Miss Peggy Welch, Lions Club sweetheart.

A vocal quartet presented two numbers. Members of the quartet were Misses Jacque Gillispie, Kristi McLain, Peggy Welch and Peggy Rasberry, with Miss Jo Driver serving as piano accompanist.

Dick Todd introduced Mr. Watson, who is linebacke coach at A&M, and like Mr. Todd, at one time played football on the Aggie team.

Interspersing his talk with amusing stories, Watson stressed that two things are derived from participating in athletics: memories, and attitude. This attitude is that a person learns to accept victory as well as defeat, gracefully.

He cited an example of an A&M team he played on and coached by Bear Bryant, in which there were two minutes left in the game with Rice, in which the Owls were two touchdowns ahead. The Bear told his A string that if they wanted the victory bad enough, they could get it. It sounded like an almost impossible task, but the Aggies went back onto the field, and scored three touchdowns in just over two minutes to win the game. He asked the audience if there was any classroom that taught courage and leadership as subjects—two important aspects of athletics. In stressing athletics, Mr. Watson also added that first things should come first, and a formal education is more necessary than ever before.

All six men were employed by Lear-Seigler Corp., an aviation electronics firm under contract to the U. S. Army for maintenance of aircraft equipment. Its head offices are in Oklahoma City.

Walker and another man were killed and still another was wounded when an unknown-sized force, believed to be Viet Cong soldiers, opened fire on their Jeep with machine guns and rocket-propelled grenades.

An Army spokesman said the three missing men were riding in a small sedan in the same general area and have been unaccounted for since about the same time the other men were killed.

There are several thousand allied troops based in the area, most of them Thais, but the spokesman said the ambush occurred "out of the range of friendly outposts."

 Seniors had a class meeting last Wednesday. The class voted to have a bowling party in Vernon. A committee was appointed to select a day for the party and to make arrangements with the bowling alley management. The committee report will be given at the next meeting Wednesday.
 All the seniors enjoyed civics class last Friday! Mr. Jones, let's tell ghost stories more often.

 Student Council elections were Wednesday, Feb. 5. Buz Rasberry was elected president; Pat Cates, vice president; Rheta Howard, secretary; and Michelle Gaffard, treasurer. Congratulations to these students!
 In English, sophomores are learning the difference between a past emphatic verb and a future progressive verb. A test will be given one day this week over tenses of verbs.

Freshman News

In English I, the classes are entering a study of literature. They have been progressing rapidly through their book of short stories. They have read stories by famous authors such as O. Henry and have learned something of their particular style. The class is also continuing the study of English grammar.
 Several freshmen participated in the "Night of Happenings" last Thursday night. The class would like to thank the people of Crowell for their attendance and support.

Student Council

Student Council elections on Wednesday climaxed three days of hard and enjoyable campaigning for the candidates. By tradition, the president must be a senior, the vice president a junior, the secretary a sophomore, and the treasurer a freshman. A number of skits injected a note of humor into the campaign speeches. The following students were elected to offices for the 1969-70 school term (followed by their campaign managers): Buz Rasberry, president (Mary Bob Long); Pat Cates, vice president (Pam Carter); Rheta Howard, secretary (Larry Ellis); Michelle Gaffard, treasurer (Terri Cates).
 Others running were: president, Gary Cates; vice president, Peggy Welch; Jackie Thomas and Marvin Machac; secretary, Debbie Johnson, Darryl Worley and Terry Farrar; treasurer, Daryl Halenack, and Ruth Brown. Congratulations are in order to those elected.

Drama Club

Success! That is the only word that could describe the talent show, "Night of Happenings," presented February 6. It went off smoothly and to everyone's enjoyment. The acts were warmly received and there was standing room only in the high school auditorium.
 There were over 25 acts ranging from piano and vocal solos to group acts with over fifteen members. Indeed, Crowell has many talented young people.
 Thanks go to all who participated in the show and to you who supported it by your attendance.

Ben Barnes Named Easter Seal Chairman in Texas

Ben Barnes, Lieutenant Governor of Texas, has been announced as chairman of the 1969 Easter Seal Campaign in Texas.

Herman W. Baker of Sherman, president of Texas Easter Seal Society, said Lt. Governor Barnes will lead over 20,000 volunteers in the annual appeal for funds.

The 1969 campaign will be conducted March 1 to April 6. In accepting the Easter Seal chairmanship, Lt. Gov. Barnes said: "I am honored to take such a prominent role in activities of the Texas Easter Seal Society, a voluntary health agency that has worked to help the handicapped in Texas for 40 years. I invite the volunteer cooperation of all residents of Texas in helping to bring this excellent, vast reaching good work to as many crippled children and adults as possible in 1969."

As appeal chairman, Barnes joins with TV star, Carol Burnett, 1969 National Easter Seal appeal chairman, and 223 Easter Seal appeal chairmen across Texas who are taking part in the largest funds appeal ever staged by the Texas Easter Seal Society.

"The problem of crippling grows larger every year because one baby in every 16 born alive comes into the world with a substantial physical, mental or chemical defect, thus adding annually to the ranks of the handicapped," Barnes added.

The Texas Easter Seal Society last year provided rehabilitation and other services to over 18,000 crippled children and adults in Texas. These services were rendered regardless of cause of crippling, race, religion, or economic status.

Committee Formed to Represent Rural Areas in School Program

Austin—A statewide committee to represent rural landowners and those who enjoy living in the country during the expected struggle over school district consolidation in the current session of the Texas Legislature was announced here last week.

The group, known as "The Little Red School House Committee," is composed of a cross-section of farmers, ranchers and rural landowners from throughout the state. Charles Schreiner III, a prominent rancher from Mountain Home, is chairman of the committee.

"We believe the forced consolidation of small school districts, as proposed in the report of the Governor's Committee on Public School Education, will go a long way toward destroying rural life as it is now enjoyed in Texas," Schreiner said in a news conference last week.

Schreiner pointed out that the Governor's Committee recommends the forced consolidation of Texas 1,218 school districts into a total of 353.

"This would virtually wipe out 865 community centers, since most rural schools are the primary symbols of community identification," Schreiner said.

He refuted the claim that bigger school districts would automatically provide better education for students. "Mere bigness is not an absolute guarantee of excellence," he said.

"The Little Red School House Committee has been formed to awaken rural landowners and residents of small communities to the unseen dangers of forced consolidation and to acquaint legislators in Austin with the feelings of the rural people of Texas," Schreiner said.

In addition to the erosion of rural communities following the closing of their schools, Schreiner said that other adverse effects would include the bussing of students often many miles away; elimination or serious curtailment of many outstanding programs designed primarily for rural schools, such as vocational agricultural and vocational homemaking programs; the elimination of athletic teams from Class AA and below, and the resultant loss of identity for those communities and a decrease or entire elimination of a voice for the rural residents on school boards which will be centered in urban areas.

"The Little Red School House Committee and all its members certainly want to provide the best education possible for the young people of our state," Schreiner said. "But we don't believe that this proposed forced consolidation program, requiring the elimination of nearly 900 school districts in Texas, is the answer."

Members of the Little Red School House Steering Committee include J. M. Auld of Mountain Home, E. W. Brown, Jr. of Orange, Howard Derrick of Eldorado, Jack Frost of San Antonio, J. B. Love of Ylano, Kerry McCann of Victoria, M. G. Michaels III of Kyle, John A. Matthews of Abilene, W. L. Moody III of San Antonio, Michaux Nash Jr. of Dallas, W. H. Rivers III of Elgin, Lance Sears of Sweetwater and E. M. Stevens of San Antonio.

Cotton Planting Hints

Of major importance in getting a good stand of cotton, reminds extension plant pathologist Wendell Horne, is the use of the best quality planting seed available. High quality seed are more resistant to seedling diseases and produce stronger plants. He suggests treating planting seed with a fungicide and in-furrow treatment in areas where seedling disease is a consistent problem. Crop residue management should include deep plowing, he says.

INSURANCE OF ALL KINDS

Hughston Insurance Agency

Do You Know What Your Personal Possessions Are Worth

Do you know what your personal possessions are worth? You not only need to know but also should maintain a current inventory of such items. Every day somewhere homes are destroyed by fires, storms or other disasters. After such losses, families usually have a hard time trying to remember all their possessions, points out County Agent Joe Burkett. Knowing the value of possessions lost or damaged, can be of untold value in settling claims for insurance and for tax purposes, he adds.

The average person doesn't know within several hundred dollars what the furnishings in his house are worth, because possessions are usually bought a piece at a time and purchase prices are soon forgotten.

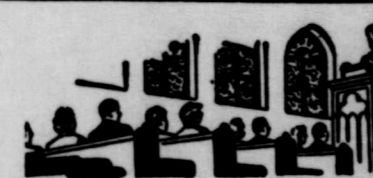

It will take time to make a list, but it is the only accurate way to know what you possess and their value, believes Burkett.

It is a good practice to keep a record of the date of purchase, name of the dealer and cost of each item. Keep the inventory in a safe place, outside the house if fireproof storage is not available. It's a good idea to keep at least two copies in different places and don't forget to keep them up-to-date, reminds the county agent.

New Material

You can stand on it, sit on it, store in it and then throw it away when you get tired of it. What is this material new to home furnishings? Paper. It is reinforced with nylon and impregnated with glass fibers, says Bonny Lay, extension home furnishings specialist. Fiberglass can be coated with polyethylene film and paperboard can be finished with plastic. Storage units, draperies, rugs, chairs and tables of paper products are now on the market, she says.

File folders—3x5, 4x6, 5x8, 6x9, letter and legal sizes.—News office.

The churches of the Crowell Ministerial Association will have every one in our community to be a part of the fellowship of the church of the choice each week.

Home Talent Show
Plays to Full House
Last Thursday Night

"A Night of Happenings," the home talent show sponsored last Thursday night by the drama club and band at the school auditorium attracted a full house.

Pat Cates was master of ceremonies for the show which included skits, piano solos, vocal number, and many other types of entertainment.

Proceeds from the home talent show were divided between the band and drama departments of the local school.

Austin, Texas—Texas legislators now are busy with committee hearings on dozens of bills the 181 members would like to turn into laws.

Even though Gov. Preston Smith may not have his budget and tax message ready this week, there is plenty of business before the legislative committees to keep them occupied.

Perhaps the most talked-about legislation is that dealing with the public school reorganization plan recommended by Gov. John Connally's Committee on Public School Education.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes joined Governor Smith in doubting that the forced consolidation of school districts would pass. And mail the legislators are getting from parents and administrators in the smaller districts leads others to believe that the proposal will have to be modified.

Smith is urging reform of the basis on which state aid is given to local school districts.

PSE Committee's study revealed that a great many school districts are getting bonanzas from the states by failing to properly tax their own property. It seems that the less they collect locally, the more they get from the state.

Sen. A. M. Aikin, Jr. of Paris and Rep. George Hinson of Mineola have signatures of more than half the members of each house on the Texas State Teachers Association pay raise bill for school teachers. This package of changes will cost the state's taxpayers some $206 million a year, plus $20 million increased state funds for school operation, maintenance and transportation.

Smith said that he will recommend new taxes to finance projects he will recommend in his spending program. But he is not yet ready to say what sort of tax he will suggest.

WETS ACT FAST—Liquor by the drink legislation received instant action in the Senate.

Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso introduced a proposed constitutional amendment to authorize the Legislature to legalize mixed drink sales on a local option basis, then minutes later, his own senate constitutional amendments committee set it for hearing Wednesday, Feb.
12. A similar amendment was introduced in the House at the same time by Rep. Cletus Davis of Houston.

Both Lt. Gov. Barnes and Gov.
Smith gave the amendment a cautious approving nudge.

Barnes said he viewed prospects

Gov. Smith Issues Proclamation of Public School Week

OFFICIAL MEMORANDUM
by
PRESTON SMITH
Governor of Texas
Austin, Texas.

GREETINGS:
Special observance of increased emphasis on our education system has been marked annually for nineteen years by a Public Schools Week in Texas.

During this period, parents are encouraged to visit the public schools, and all citizens are urged through special programs to recognize the tremendous importance of our system of education. Our goal is to make Texas public schools the finest in the Nation, and to achieve this our citizens are urged to take an active interest in the school systems and to cooperate with their school boards, superintendents, principals and teachers.

Never before in our history has there been a greater need for educated leadership. As we rush to train young people in science and technology to keep pace with world events, it is also important to remember that our public schools will furnish our tomorrow's leaders with the basic human, moral and spiritual foundations necessary for more advanced training and knowledge.

Therefore, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the period of March 2-8, 1969, as PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK
in Texas

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 28th day of January, 1969.

PRESTON SMITH,
Governor of Texas.

Bill Hanes Named
Assistant by Graham Purcell

Hanes Replaces
Norman Duncan
of Wichita Falls

Congressman Graham Purcell
of Wichita Falls announced Tuesday the appointment of William T. (Bill) Hanes, Jr., as his executive assistant effective February 17.

Hanes replaces Norman Duncan, who has served in this capacity since shortly after Congressman Purcell's election seven years ago. Duncan is resigning to accept a position with the J.
C. Penney Company working in the field of state legislative representation.

Hanes will be leaving Collins Radio Company where he is technical assistant to the director of the space systems division, to join the congressman's staff. A native Texan, Hanes, 38, was born in Lubbock, attended high school at Cameron and completed one year at Baylor University. He was appointed to the U. S. Naval Academy where he received a B. S. degree in electrical engineering and marine engineering in 1953.

On graduation he was commisioned into the U. S. Air Force and served on active duty until 1960, when he was discharged with the rank of captain. During his tour of duty he was commander of security forces at Bergstrom Air Force Base in Austin, a nuclear supervisor and flight examinernavigator-bombardier.

In 1960, Hanes moved to Richardson, joining Texas Instruments Inc., where he was a project leader in the device design and development group; a product marketing engineer, participating in the Gimini and Polaris projects; and a manufacturing supervisor. In 1962, he became the assistant program manager for classified satellite communication systems at Collins Radio, serving as a member of the space systems divisions which were responsible for all of the communications of the manned space flights, including the recent Apollo 8 mission around the moon. He received an M. S. degree in engineering administration and operations research from Southern Methodist University in 1965.

At present, he resides at 7130 Midcrest in Dallas with his wife, Barbara, and their three children, Travis 14, Victoria 12 and Randy 7. His parents reside in Irving where the senior Mr. Hanes is superintendent of schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanes were active in the last two re-election campaigns of Congressman Purcell, serving as co-chairmen of Purcell People, a volunteer campaign organization during the 1968 campaign.

Two Minutes
With the Bible

The Christian Home

"As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord" (Josh. 24:15).
There is no place in all this world so wholesome and refreshing as a Christian home, a home where Christ is truly loved and honored.

This writer was brought up in such a home. There were ten of us; dad, mom and eight children.
There was lots doing all the time, but a truly happy home it was for dad and mother never let us get so busy with temporal things that we brushed eternal values aside.

On the basis that "man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God" (Luke 4:4), we read some small portion of the Bible before every meal, and had family devotions before retiring at night.

Result: all eight children bless the dear dad and mother who led them aright, morally and spiritually, and best of all, taught them the importance of trusting in the Savior who died for all our sins.
More: five of the children and many of the grandchildren have given themselves for full time Christian service, and have become pastors, college deans, Christian service, and have become pastors, college deans, Christian writers and missionaries in various parts of the world.

Counting the grandchildren there are now exactly 100 of us and the divorces and broken homes that have brought sorrow to so many are not even known among us.

This is not because we are one whit better than others, but because we experience the help and grace of God in our lives. But it all began as, one day, a young American, like Joshua of old, came to a decision and declared:
"As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord."

ciation, in its "Driver IQ" series, has prepared a test asking what you would do in five winter driving emergency situations calling for quick action.

Think each situation through carefully and jot down the one or more steps you would take to minimize the danger or afford maximum protection for yourself.
Then compare your solutions to those below and make an honest judgment as to whether you decided to do the right thing.

To score yourself, take 20 points for each substantially correct solution. A score of 100 is excellent; 80, only fair and perhaps dangerous; 60 or below, poor and possibly fatal! Now take an extra minute to study each correct solution so that, hopefully, they will be reflex reactions if you ever need them.

1. If you suddenly find your car on an icy patch, what should you do?

- a. Accelerate.
- b. Slow down quickly.
- c. Avoid braking.
- d. Turn wheel back and forth.

What is the primary advantage of "pumping" your brakes?

- a. It shortens stopping distance.
- b. It reduces strain on brake linings.
- c. It creates more heat in brake cylinders.
- d. It helps prevent skidding.

3. When is an icy road likely to be most dangerous?

- a. When the ice is melting.
- b. When the temperature is close to zero.
- c. When you're the first to drive on it.
- d. When the ice is frozen solid.

4. If your rear wheels start skidding to the right, which way should you turn your front wheels?

- a. Either way, but quickly.
- b. Right.
- c. Either way, but slowly.
- d. Left.

5. If steam forms on the inside of your windshield, what's the best thing to do?

- a. Stop car and wipe outside of glass with glycerine.
- b. Open one vent window slightly and turn on defroster.
- c. Decrease speed until you're going slow enough for steam to disappear.
- d. Wipe steam off as often as you can as you drive along.

Answers: 1-c. Any sudden motion may throw you into a skid.
Do not brake, but slow down gradually and be alert for more patches. 2-d. "Pumping" minimizes chances of skidding and locking of wheels, but does not shorten stopping distance. 3-a. Ice is always most slippery at or near freezing point. 4-b. Turn wheel in direction of skid to bring car under control, avoid "oversteering," and slow down gradually.
5-b. If this doesn't work or if steam is bad enough, pull well off roadway and clear it away.

Not Easy to Tell Them Apart

"As democratic capitalism has developed in this country, the sense of class, never as strong here as in the various old countries from which we sprang, has diminished. Laboring commoners can and do speak to economic kings, and in terms of living standards it is not always easy to tell them apart."—Warrensburg, Mo.,

Looking for Handout

"There are the 'free' lunches for schools, the 'free' milk—not that some of the indigent children do not need them (of course they do) but when do they start learning that they must pay for all this free loading, and pay dearly?
... Everywhere you turn, the people of this once proud, once free country, are looking for a handout from the federal establishment."—Jefferson, Ohio, Ga-

Texas Education
Agency Releases
Biennial Report

Austin—Bulging enrollments, special high school work for future police officers and firemen, and a whole new method of testing the teaching pinpoint the growth patterns of adult and vocational education in Texas.

The new biennial report published in January by the Texas Education Agency shows a jump of 18 per cent between Sept. 1, 1966, and Aug. 31, 1968, or an increase of from 531,659 to 627,888 students.

The increasingly varied scope of the courses offered is another story. Some Texas high schools may soon offer their students special one-semester courses in fire and police administration.
This work will qualify graduates to continue their training at police academies or junior colleges offering advanced work in these two key vocations.

During the 1967-68 school year, schools offering vocational education programs in six independent school districts volunteered for self-evaluation using a procedure developed by the agency. They include the Atlanta, Big Spring, Bryan, Gilmer, San Angelo and Tyler independent school districts.

This year, some 200 new schools will check out their programs in a similar manner, according to John R. Guemple, assistant commissioner for adult and vocational education.

The evaluation, mutual benefit to the schools and to the agency, gave teachers a proven method for pinpointing strengths and weaknesses. Their suggestions were then incorporated into the revisions made by the agency.

Consultants from the agency also visited the schools to observe the effectiveness of their programs.

The agency also sponsored a new instructional materials center for homemaking occupations at Texas Tech in Lubbock. These materials, especially designed for students planning careers as dietician aides, food service, child care, and clothing assistants, were developed for the agency's cooperative training classes. The student spends part of her school day in the classroom and the rest in paid on-the-job training.

Two similar centers are underway in other areas. The University of Texas at Austin specializes in instructional materials for distributive education while Texas A&M University specializes in working with materials in vocational agriculture.

Distributive education materials include high school work for auto parts counter man and a course in fibers and fabrics for students interested in piece goods and ready-to-wear occupations.

At the junior college level, they include mid-management courses now under way in Beaumont, Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, Odessa and San Antonio. Short courses are also available for adults in supervisory courses, including one on how to "Tell It Well to See It Well."

During 1967-68, the Materials Development Center at Texas A&M completed curriculum materials for 32 occupations for use in agricultural cooperative part-time training programs. Study areas include dairy farm workers, agricultural machinery repairmen, veterinary assistant, wildlife conservation, and horticulture.

Adult education programs accounted for more than 50 per cent of the adult and vocational education enrollment, according to the biennial report. Enrollments climbed from 295,000 in 1966-67 to 321,000 students in 1967-68. The rest of the enrollment is divided among secondary students, up from 209,000 to 238,000 students;

Cannot Exist as a Permanent Form
of Government

"A democracy cannot exist as a permanent form of government.
It can only exist until the voters discover that they can vote themselves largest out of the public treasury. From that moment on, the majority always votes for the candidate promising the most benefits from that public treasury, with the result that a democracy will always collapse from a loose fiscal policy, always to be followed by a dictatorship." This ominous statement was penned nearly two centuries ago by the 18-century Scottish historian and judge, Alexander Fraser Tytler.
The learned judge had in the mind the fate of the Roman Republic
... The U. S. seems destined not only to repeat the mistakes of history, but the mistakes of modern history. We may be excused, though nonetheless doomed, for failure to heed the example of ancient Rome; but the example of Britain is too close and too obvious for a plea of ignorance."— Marysville, Calif., Appeal-Democrat.

What Does It Cost?

"What does it cost to keep a nation progressive—not just in dollars, but in things like the personal help and support we give our children, and thereby our public school systems? Our children are our most valuable resources.
You've heard the trite expression many times: 'Tomorrow's leaders, etc.' And yet, it's true. So, the cost is not just in what we pay each year in taxes for school books, and teachers' salaries—not just school clothes and lunch money. It's more than that. It's how much and what kind of encouragement you give your child."—

Where Does the Government Get
Its Money?

"Floodlight," published by the Iowa Public Service Company, has asked, 'Where does the government get its money? In poignant terms, a New Hampshire housewife answered the question in a letter to Senator Norris Cotton, who said her words were 'more meaningful than any speech I've heard in the Senate.' Faced with rising taxes, increasing costs of living, and with children approaching college age, she had this to say: 'Where does the government get its money? From the vacations we could never take, the movies we never saw, the restaurant dinners we never ate, the clothes we never bought, and the savings we haven't got.'"

Biscayne, Kingswood Estate Wagon, Kingswood, Townsman and Brookwood.

We call it a side guard beam, and it looks like one of those guard rails you see along the freeway.

That's what it's there for: To guard you. To strengthen the door and put a more solid wall between you and the outside world.

Not a glamorous feature.
But you'll have to admit, worthwhile.

Computer-selected springs

Maybe you'll order your new Chevy equipped to the hilt.

Or maybe you'll order it with hardly anything on it.

Either way, you're going to get your full measure of our renowned ride.

Because we go to the trouble of programming each car's equipment load into an electronic computer.

The computer then tells us exactly which springs to use, depending on the car's weight and the way it's distributed.

Chevrolet, the only car in its field with computer-selected springs.

Fenders inside fenders

We could have skipped this.
(The other cars in our field do.) But we're as anxious as you are to keep your beautiful new Chevy looking beautiful and new.

So:
Up inside the regular fenders we've placed a second set.

They do all the in-fighting.
Catch all the splashed-up rain, slush and road salt. Stop the kicked-up stones.

While your "outers" just sit there looking pretty.

Astro Ventilation

The other two cars in our field give you air intakes down by the floor.

So do we.
We also give you two up on the instrument panel.

And all four of them are adjustable so you can regulate the flow of air just the way you like it.

Even with all the windows closed, you'll be comfortable inside. You get air without wind.
Without noise.

Astro Ventilation is standard, now, on all the big Chevrolets.

The theft-thwarter

On the steering column there's a
lock.

Only Chevrolet
has it, in Chevrolet's field.

You turn the key and it locks
three things:
Your ignition.
Your steering
wheel.

Your shift lever.

When you own a car this tempting, you don't dare take chances.

Chevrolet builds great engines.
Especially V8s.

And this year there are six great V8s available for the big Chevrolet. Standard: Our 235-hp 327-cubic-inch Turbo-Fire.

Another thing: We've lowered the price of several of our bigger V8s along with our automatic transmissions and power disc brakes. Which makes it possible for you to buy a '69 Chevrolet for even less money than you could last year.

Granddaughter of Former Crowell Resident Married

The chapel of the First Baptist Church in Dalhart was the setting for the marriage of Miss Susan Bell and Wilson Edgar Fisher last Thursday evening.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burke Bell of Dalhart and is a granddaughter of Mrs. R. W. Bell of Vernon and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Nichols of Quanah. The bride's father and her paternal grandmother are former Crowell residents.

The parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Fisher of Sunray.

Rev. Jimmy Reese, pastor, officiated for the double ring service before family members and close friends.

Candlelight from tall tapers in candelabra behind stands of emerald leaf on either side of the altar softly illuminated the setting. Centering the altar was an arrangement of white mums and greenery and large white satin bows were attached to the pew ends.

Mrs. O. B. Phillips played the traditional marches and accompanied Miss Sue Ellen Jenkins, a classmate of the bride, as she sang "The Prayer of St. Francis" and "The Lord's Prayer" to close the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown, designed with a skimmer silhouette and circular water-tau train. Crystal beads and pearl drops were applied around the neck and sleeves.

Her chapel-length veil of imported silk illusion was attached to a headpiece encrusted with seed pearls.

She carried a cascade bouquet with a white cymbidium and white feathered mums with touches of ivory.

Her jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom, and for "something borrowed," she carried a lace handkerchief belonging to her mother. She also wore a six pence in her shoe.

Miss Kathy Bell attended her sister as maid of honor and bridesmaids were the Misses Nan and Fran Fisher, twin sisters of the bridegroom.

The attendants were wearing floor length aqua gowns with high rise bodices. Doubles ruffles accented the sleeves and high necklines.

Their headpieces were fashioned of aqua taffeta and matching veils.

The honor attendant carried a round bouquet of white carnations with aqua trim. The maids' were of identical arrangement but smaller.

Little Miss Lisa Burnett of Dumas, cousin of the bridegroom, dressed in an aqua gown like the attendants, was flower girl. Her flower girl's basket was of white satin with touches of aqua.

Bruce Muskrat of Joplin, Mo., roommate of the groom, was best man. The groomsmen were Richard Burnett and Allen Burnett, cousins of the groom, and ushering were Wayne Hoppe of Canyon, and Bruce Burnett of Dumas, also a cousin.

Mrs. Bell chose for her daughter's wedding a champagne colored silk dress, a small headpiece of netting and velvet bow, and her accessories were also matching.

Mrs. Fisher, mother of the groom, was wearing a pink knit suit, small mink hat and matching accessories.

Both mothers wore cymbidium corsages and the grandmothers had corsages of white carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Bell gave a reception in fellowship hall at the church immediately following the ceremony. Guests were registered by Mrs. Wayne Hoppe.

The table holding the guest book was centered with a memory candle, a gift to the bride.

The serving table was laid with a white linen cloth. A silver epergne held the floral arrangements of white pompons, candy-tuft and baker fern and the four tall white tapers.

Presiding at the table were Miss Wandell Strother and Miss Beverly Firestone. The house party also included Mrs. R. W. Strother, Mrs. Kenneth Firestone and Mrs. Philip Newton.

For traveling, the bride changed to a brown and white wool dress with complementing double breasted coat. Her accessories were of brown and she wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bridegroom is now at home in Waco at 1725 South 8th St., Apt. 116. Both are continuing their education at Baylor University where they are juniors.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Fisher, parents of the groom, Wednesday night at the Hickory Inn in Dalhart.

Mrs. Don Ray Borchardt Honored with Bridal Shower

Mrs. Don Ray Borchardt, the former Sally Pool, was honored with a miscellaneous shower Saturday, January 25, from 3 to 4 p. m. at the home of Mrs. T. F. Russell.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Glendon Russell and presented to the receiving line composed of the honoree; her grandmother, Mrs. Arnold Sanders and Mrs. Fred Borchardt, mother of the groom.

Mrs. Borchardt was attired in a white wool dress trimmed in blue. She wore a white carnation corsage, a gift of the hostesses.

Miss Shelly Pool, twin sister of the bride, presided at the registry. The serving table was laid with a white cutwork tablecloth centered with an arrangement of the honoree's selected colors of blue and white. Silver bells and twin candelabra completed the decorations. White napkins were inscribed "Sally and Don Ray" in blue letters.

Misses Gail Russell and Pam Borchardt assisted in serving punch, cookies and mints.

Assisting with the gift display and serving as hostesses were Meses. Glendon Russell, Cecil Carpenter, Fred Gray, Beverly Gray, Warren Haynie, Loraine Carter, Glenn Shook, Allen Taylor, Jesse Whitfield, Jake Wisdom, Warren Everson, Dayton Everson, Newell Looney, James Welch and Tom Russell.

Columbian Club

Perhaps as effective a way as any of taking a man's measurement is to study his wife, and in the program presentation, "Know Your Presidents," at the Columbian Club on Wednesday, Feb. 5, Mrs. J. M. Chowning gave a brief commentary on each first lady of this nation.

Mrs. N. J. Roberts was hostess for the meeting and Mrs. John Ray welcomed Mrs. W. M. Rake of Truscott into club membership. As Mrs. Allen Shultz called the roll, members named famous February people.

Speakers learn to catch their audience's attention immediately, and Mrs. Chowning had her listeners at attention when she asked such questions as "which first lady was accused of murdering her husband? Which one was accused of treason? Who of the President's wives was accused of running the country under the cloak of her husband's illness? Which one had an industry screaming reprisals because of her innocent salt free diet?"

These questions were answered and many facts, humorous, tragic, exemplary and inspirational, were told about the 36 women who have acted as hostess for this nation. Martha Washington, a gracious lady, established several customs and forms of White House etiquette, but Mrs. Abigail Adams bemoaned the lack of sufficient fire wood, washed on a "rub" board and hung her clothes to dry in the famous East Room. Dolly Madison, all petite one hundred pounds of her, was the "hostess with the mostest" for President James Madison, assisted succeeding first ladies, especially Sarah Polk, with their social problems.

Rouge on the first lady's cheeks caused quite a stir, but ere long women in America began copying Elizabeth Monroe, whose penchant for such French foibles, also included the wearing of pantalettes. Tongues were wagged over many incidents throughout the years of the presidency. There was considerable "talk" when President Tyler married a society girl 30 years his junior, but their's proved

In a recent letter to the Gilliland School, Gov. Preston Smith said, "While campaigning for governor of Texas, I made my views just as clear as possible through all sources of the news media. I do not favor all of the recommendations of the public school committee, and this (consolidation) is one of those recommendations that I have publicly said many times I did not favor."

Mrs. Walter Carl Taylor of Farmers Valley has received the outstanding rural citizen award from the Vernon Chamber of Commerce. She is the former Rachel Hickman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gwynn Hickman of Truscott.

While most of the first ladies accepted their role graciously, many were bitterly opposed to the "gold fish bowl" way of life and several even refused to attend any social function pertaining to government. Mary Lincoln was in direct contrast to these latter for she had set her sights on the White House and "life at the top" even before she met Mr. Lincoln. The tragedies which plagued her, once there, could be construed by some as being her retribution. Her love of beautiful clothes caught her owing $52,000 when she left the White House, taking away so many boxes that many believed she was stealing furniture from the mansion. Even President Lincoln did not know she spent $2,000 for her inauguration gown.

The antics of the Theodore and Edith Roosevelts could easily fill a book. Their six children enjoyed sliding down the White House bannisters on trays, kept all kinds of pets and thought nothing of tracking mud in on their boots.

These and many other intimate glimpses of life in the White House made a most interesting and enlightening program. Several members who had been absent for a number of meetings, were present for the delicious refreshment plate. Little Miss Lori Dockins was a guest.

Now Is the Time for Citizens' Voices to Be Heard

The National Association of Manufacturers stated that one of the major problems facing the new Administration is the curbing of inflation, while at the same time, meeting the social, economic and fiscal commitments which have been voted into law in previous sessions of Congress. To be successful the Administration must have the views of the grass roots, so that the members of the 91st Congress can work intelligently toward what is best for the country, rather than the pet plans of a militant few. Now is the time for citizens' voices to be heard calling for more efficiency in government and demanding that programs either get the desired results or be eliminated.

Grandson of Local Residents Enrolled in Lubbock College

Seth Bursey, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Bursey is now a freshman student at Lubbock Christian College. He is a grandson of Mrs. Tom Bursey and Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Nichols of Crowell.

Now at Lubbock Christian College, he is vice president of his freshman class, is an active member of the Tomo Dachi Men's Club and has made the all-star team in football and participated in basketball and volleyball for that club. His extra-curricular hobbies are hunting and fishing.

Lubbock Christian College is a private liberal arts junior college now entering its twelfth year. Beginning this year, plans for becoming a senior college will be started and all entering freshmen will have the opportunity to go the full four years to college at LCC. Texans Were on the Move in 1966 Texans were on the move in 1966 than ever before, according to the American Automobile Association. A total of 47,898,200 (forty-seven billion, eight hundred and ninety-eight million) miles were racked up by drivers across the state.

Nationwide, new roads also set on the highways—estimated one trillion, ten billion, 4,391,341,300 (four billion, hundred ninety one million, hundred forty one thousand, hundred) trips to the moon. These estimated nationwide figures represent an increase per cent over 1967 mileage.

Hazy Thinking

"There is a lot of hazy thinking over the country as to what a diploma does not necessarily certify conclusively that the graduate has been a successful man and women who have been inside of a college, but nevertheless, are better educated than some of the young people who mean by this, you are beginning to show signs of education self."—Lake Wales, Fla.

W. S. C. S. Meets

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Crowell Methodist Church met for a monthly luncheon and business meeting on Monday, Feb. 10, in the church basement.

The pastor, Rev. Walter Driver, gave the invocation. Mrs. Moody Bursley, president, read a form letter designating all activities and commitments of the women's work for the coming year.

The minutes were read by Mrs. J. N. Ribble, and Mrs. Virgil Johnson gave the treasurer's report. It was noted that a year ago, the society's funds were nil—there being only 9 cents in the fund. The idea of promoting a smorgasbord for the public was so successful last year that the society voted to duplicate this affair again this year. Consequently, plans for the coming smorgasbord were discussed and completed. It will take place Friday, Feb. 21. Food will be served from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. Tickets are $1.50 each. The public is invited.

Mrs. Grover Cole, secretary of Christian social concerns, gave an interesting and detailed report on all the local social programs that the church had sponsored the past year. She stressed more concern for this work "as Christ's greatest command was that we love our neighbor, and the mark of true Christianity was to care for those more unfortunate than ourselves." She also pointed out a need for some materials for this important work.

As a gift from and on behalf of the local society, Mrs. Moody Bursley presented Mrs. Fred Wehba with a lifetime membership pin and certificate.

"When you see our young people cooperating unselfishly for the good of the community and see the character-building that I have seen, then we shall have no doubts as to the future of our nation." Such was the comment made in a report by Mrs. Cornelia McDaniel, youth sponsor. She also related about the youth's good attendance at the youth revival held this past week end by Stephen Harper, who inspired young and old alike with his preaching.

Mrs. Baylor Weathered, spiritual life leader, gave an inspiring and interesting meditation from the book on prayer entitled, "Conversing with God," by Rosalind Rinker. Mrs. Weathered selected the chapter, "What Is Faith?" to share with the group. She gave five points of faith: God's willingness. What shall we ask for? How shall we ask? Desire. Point of contact.

Taxpayers Ask Internal Revenue

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—Does it make any difference whether I file the red, white and blue tax form I got in the mail or one of the plain ones the post office has?

A—Either form is acceptable, but the colored one is preferable. However, if you do not file the return mailed you, please be sure to remove the name label and put it on the return you do file. Use of the address label will properly identify your return and speed any refund due. The use of color on some of the 1968 tax returns is an experiment to determine whether the use of color to form light certain sections of the form will reduce errors.

Q—Where can I hire someone to help me with my tax return?

A—Call your local accounting, legal or tax practitioner association and ask them for the names of qualified people. In choosing an advisor, here are things to look for: 1. avoid the man who "guarantees" you a refund. 2. Be on guard, if he suggests the refund be sent to his address. You should never sign a blank tax return or one that has been prepared in pencil. You are legally responsible for every item on the return even though someone else has helped you prepare it. Your advisor should sign the return, too, indicating that he helped you with it.

Q—Are gifts ever taxed?

A—The recipient has no federal income tax to pay but the giver may be taxed if the gift is sizable. The law generally requires a gift tax return to be filed by the donor when a gift or gifts to any one person during the year exceeds $3,000. However, income earned on gifts is taxable to the recipient.

Q—I sold my house just before my 65th birthday. Does that mean I won't be entitled to the special benefits for the elderly on those sales?

A—The law requires you to be 65 or over before the date of sale or exchange to qualify for these special benefits.

Q—I was married last month. Since my name has changed, do I have to change my social security number?

A—When your name changes, notify your local office of the Social Security Administration as soon as possible. Your number will not be changed, but your record will be corrected to reflect your married name.

Q—Who can file the short form 1040A?

A—This form can be used in the following circumstances: 1. income is under $10,000; and 2. income consists entirely of wages subject to withholding and not more than $200 from dividends, interest, and other wages. The Form 1040A cannot be used by taxpayers who either itemize their deductions or who claim special tax credits or deductions such as the retirement income credit, sick pay exclusion, or moving expense deduction. Further details on filing requirements are given in the instructions that accompany both the 1040 and 1040A tax forms.

Social Security Disability Benefits for Young Worker

Disability benefits under the social security program are now closer to the reach of young workers than they were last year. No longer is it always necessary to have worked in social security for five years. A worker disabled prior to age 31 may receive benefits for himself and his family if he worked half the time between age 21 and the date his disability began.

Thousands of young men and women had their claims for disability benefits denied by the social security administration in past years because they had not worked long enough to be insured. A recent change in the social security law now makes it possible for these people to qualify for disability benefits with less work.

This important change in the law affects workers disabled before age 31. In all cases a new application will have to be filed by the disabled person with the social security administration.

Previously, it was necessary for disabled workers to have worked under social security for at least five out of the ten years ending with the onset of his disability in order to qualify for disability benefits. A recent change in the social security law reduces the work requirements of workers disabled before age 31.

Effective with February 1968 those who became disabled prior to age 31 will need earnings credits for just half the time between age 21 and the beginning date of the disability. Those workers disabled prior to age 24 may qualify for benefits with as few as six earnings credits.

Estimates by the social security administration place at 100,000 the number of workers and dependents who may be affected by this change. Further information and assistance in filing is available at the Vernon social security office or from the social security representative who comes to the community center in Crowell on his regular visits.

Home Talent Show to Be Sponsored by W. S. L. March 28

The Women's Service League has postponed its General Store, originally scheduled for April 26, until fall in order to devote full effort to "That Was the Year That Was" a home talent show, to be presented in the high school auditorium on March 28.

Some $50.00 in prizes will be awarded to a homemaking queen and two runners-up at the performance. High school homemaking girls who desire to enter the contest should contact Mrs. Ray Brown for more information. The queen will receive $25.00, the second place winner $15.00; and the third place winner will receive $10.00.

It was announced that the organization will dedicate the Christmas scene to be erected on the court house lawn during the holidays to Foad County veterans.

Johnny Robertson, Vietnam veteran, will be guest speaker and show slides of Vietnam at Thursday's noon meeting.

Highway Patrol Seeks High Caliber Young Men

An invitation has been issued to any high caliber young men of this area who feel that they can compete for the position of patrolman with the Department of Public Safety. "The opportunity exists for several men to meet the challenge of the rigid qualifications for patrolmen in the four field services—highway patrol, license and weight, drivers license, and motor vehicle inspection," Major Luther Moore said this week.

The DPS Commander stated, "If you are good enough, we can use you; however, we do not want anything but the best. If you cannot meet our standards there is no need of applying for the positions."

"Assignment to one of the above services will be made on the basis of aptitude, interest and ability at the conclusion of a period of intense basic training. Then specialized training in the assigned service will be given to those that qualify after which a home station will be designated," Moore said.

Applicants must be between 20 and 35 years old, at least 68 inches tall, weigh not less than two pounds or more than 3 1/2 pounds per inch of height, and be in sound physical condition. They must have a high school education or the equivalent and their record must be able to stand rigid examination pertaining to character and citizenship. Selection procedures will include written and oral examinations.

"The law enforcement field is a challenge to young men who are seeking a career, and the Texas DPS is rated among the top law enforcement agencies in the world," Major Moore said.
