Women's Service League Seeks Funds to Buy Nativity Scene for Crowell

The purchase of a 16-piece, life-size nativity scene for the court lawn is the goal of the Women's Service League. Pictured above, with plans to be erected at the Christmas opening, the original full dimensional scene will be dedicated to county sermen of all wars. Costing a total of $950.00, each scene is expertly hand cast in weather resistant rigid rubber composition with emphasis on the old wood carver's artistry and superb in every detail of sculpturing and coloring. In order that the undertaking may become a reality, the WSL is asking the support and backing of all clubs, organizations and individuals. The sponsoring group has contributed $250.00 to the project and two citizens have added $10.50 to make the present total $260.50. The scene—which local citizens can be proud of and enjoy for many years—must be ordered in September in order for holiday delivery. Assistance is needed now. Donations may be given to Mrs. W. L. Johnson, president; Mrs. Nelson Oliphant, secretary; or any WSL member.

Graves Brothers to Receive Degrees During August

Robert and Bill Graves, graduates of Crowell High School, will receive advanced college degrees August. Robert will receive a doctorate of Education degree from North Texas State University in Denton, and Bill will receive a Master of Education degree from Texas Technological University of Lubbock. Robert will be a counselor in Carter-Riverside High School of Fort Worth this fall, and Bill will be the first vice-principal of Lubbock High School. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Graves of Stephenville, former teachers in Crowell Public Schools. Mr. and Mrs. Graves' other son, Gordon, is doing graduate work at the University of Texas in Austin this summer.

City Water Supply Approved by State

For the first time in its history, the City of Crowell now has a water supply that is approved by the Texas State Department of Public Health. Dr. S. H. Townsend of Childress said last week that the Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority had received a letter from Dr. J. E. Peavy, Commissioner of Health, that the system had been approved. Crowell purchases its water from the Greenbelt Authority. It is ironic that the same week that Crowell's water supply received the state's approval, the local water was causing much concern to local residents and authorities because of its bad smell and taste.

List of Singers Needed for Possible Use in Choirs for Funerals

Frequently there comes a need for a choir to assist in a funeral that cannot be met through any one local church. It would be helpful to have a list of all those who would help if called, without reference to church affiliation. Any interested persons are asked to call the First Baptist Church, 684-3941, from 8 to 12 a. m. or The Foard County News, 684-4311. This list will be made available to all pastors and the local funeral director. Lewis Don Killingsworth, who has been employed in the Soil Conservation Service in Crowell for the past year, has been employed by the Quanah school board as a teacher in the Quanah school system. Mr. Killingsworth will teach science in high school. Mr. and Mrs. Killingsworth and two children will move to Quanah to make their home. Prior to his SCS work, he was a science teacher. A graduate of Texas A&M University, Mr. Killingsworth's home town is Baytown.

Fire Extinguished at Halsell Ranch

The Crowell Fire Department was called to the Halsell ranch Thursday morning to extinguish a grass fire. The fire was on the west end of the ranch near the house where Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stormer live. Fire Chief Leonard Tole reported only a few acres were burned. However, he noted that the quick work of the department probably saved a house from being destroyed by fire. He said the County Receives Showers Friday; 1.3 In. at Margaret

Portions of Foard County received moisture last Friday afternoon. Only .17 inch was recorded here, but the Margaret and Thalia areas received more. Margaret received 1.3 inches, and north and east of Margaret, 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 inches were reported. From 1 to 2 inches was reported in the Riverside and Rayland communities and from Thalia north, from 1 to 1 1/2 inches fell. Although the showers did not bring too much relief from the heat wave, a cool front moving through this area Sunday afternoon held the mercury down to the upper 90's Monday. It topped 100 Tuesday and Wednesday.

Cotton, Feed Grain, Diverted Acres

August 15, 1969, is the final date to certify cotton, feed grain and diverted acres, according to information furnished Foard County landowners in the July newsletter of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office in Crowell. The newsletter added that early certification can speed up payments. Any farmer not sure about final certification should check with the local office to be certain everything is in order. In other information in the newsletter, the ASCS stated: Wheat payments are being made at this time and feed grain and cotton payments will be made after September 2, 1969. Diverted acres may not be grazed between May 15 and October 15, and no crops harvested from this acreage at any time. After certification has been made, it will be subject to spot-check. The county committee selected farms to be spot-checked by the random sample method. If your farm was selected, it will be spot-checked whether you certify now or just before August 15. The newsletter added, "The earlier certification is made—the sooner we can send off for your check."

The final note to farmers in the July newsletter stated that cotton and feed grain must be planted and cared for with the expectation of producing a normal crop.

Austin, Tex.—September 1 is the date suggested by Gov. Preston Smith for the special committee, now investigating auto insurance rates in Texas, to report its recommendations to the governor.

Former Gov. Price Daniel, the chairman of the committee, has expressed doubt that the group will be able to make that deadline. But he says "we are going to try."

Lots of insurance industry representatives showed up to listen, chat with reporters, and speculate as to just what was likely to come out of the committee's work.

Governor Smith, in his address to the committee, stressed that the investigation was not a "witch hunt" nor was it an attempt to "punish" the insurance industry. But he also said that unless increases in auto insurance rates were "absolutely essential," they should not be made—and if they were absolutely necessary, the people deserved to know why.

Capital press rooms were deluged with memoranda and bulletins from various insurance associations, giving background information, stating positions and generally pledging support and assistance to the committee.

First meeting of the committee produced little information, except a show of determination by its seven members to find a way to lower auto insurance rates or to present a "concise and clear explanation" to Texas drivers as to why their rates are going up.

And this will take a lot of explaining.

State Board of Insurance has agreed to a 30-day delay in its auto rate decision, usually made on August 1. Board has proposed a minimum rate hike of 11.4 per cent. This increase would apply only to drivers of private passenger cars. Individual rates would fluctuate in keeping with the accident experience record in each area.

EDUCATION—Coordinating Board of the Texas College and University System has increased the rate for loans to students from six to seven per cent. This rate applies to all future loans granted under the Hinson-Hazelwood Act.

Board also approved a common calendar for all state supported colleges and universities. Such schools will begin classes the first week of September. Final examinations for the fall semester will end just prior to the Christmas holidays.

INTEGRATION—More than thirty school districts around the state are threatened with losing federal funds if federal desegregation guidelines, proposed by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, are not followed.

A Houston Federal Court may have found a way for the Houston School Board to get around losing funds because of integration problems. It has ordered the Houston School Board and the Educational Desegregation Technical Assistance Center at the University of Texas to work out the integration problems.

Bob Reynolds, project director, said no contract has yet been made and noted that this is the first time the federally-financed center has been ordered by a court to work with a local board.

COURTS—Sundaco, the "only-on-Sunday" retail firm which leases other stores on a once-a-week basis, can stay in business until Attorney General Martin proves it is illegal.

State Supreme Court has turned down Sundaco's appeal of a lower court's refusal to say whether Sundaco is violating antitrust laws. And the Supreme Court endorsed the appellate court's decision not to issue an opinion on antitrust or Sunday closing laws until the State Attorney General takes action.

Sundaco "buys" merchandise from certain stores every Saturday night, and "sells" it back to the owner every Sunday evening, thus circumventing the Sunday closing law and allowing the merchandise to be sold seven days a week.

ATTORNEY GENERAL SPEAKS—Schools that participate in diet experiments with white rats do not come under laws requiring their projects to be checked with the State Anatomical Board, says Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin.

John C. White, Commissioner of Agriculture, requested the opinion to see if a bond had to be posted under the Anatomical Board rules and if the experiment could be considered as "cruelty to animals" as defined by law. Attorney General Martin ruled that no bond is needed and cruelty would have to be decided on each individual case.

OIL DEPLETION—Most Texas government leaders publicly denounced action by the U. S. House Ways and Means Committee that would, if accepted by both houses of Congress and the President, cut the oil depletion allowance from 27.5 per cent to 20 per cent.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and Atty. Gen. Martin "deplored" the action. Barnes condemned it, and cited the contributions the oil industry has made and will make to Texas.

Martin charged that it will cut the amount of state taxes coming from the oil industry.

James Wilson, a researcher for the State Comptroller, disagreed. He says more money would come to the state if the depletion allowance was lowered. He figures that the oil and gas companies will raise prices to make up the difference and since state taxes are based on the price, the amount of money coming in should increase.

Governor Smith is withholding comment until more action is taken by Congress.

HUNGER—State Department of Public Welfare officials declined to comment on a huge report of hunger in Texas, as made by the U. S. Commission on Civil Rights, since they had nothing to do with the study.

Report says that out of every ten families who live in poverty in Texas, nine get no assistance from Federal food programs. It further estimated that 26 per cent of the families in Texas live in poverty compared to a national average of 15 per cent.

AUGUST 5 BALLOT—Attorney General Martin says that Amendment No. 1 on the August 5 ballot, proposed to remove obsolete provisions from the Texas Constitution, should not be adopted because of the effect it will have on land titles.

He agrees that some of the Constitution's programs are obsolete, but believes that removal of one section would raise serious questions on the validity of some titles to land.

From the News . . .
THIRTY YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the Thursday, August 3, 1939, issue of The Foard County News:

Hooks, slices, dubs, everything is happening on the fairways of the Spring Lake Country Club as golfers are practicing for what appears at present will be the largest and most successful annual tournament ever staged by the Country Club.

Pete Bell has accepted a position in the B. & W. Man's Shop here and assumed his duties there on Monday. Mr. Bell has served as bookkeeper at the Foard County Mill for several years, and will also continue his duties there.

The following Boy Scouts received awards at the Court of Honor held in Truscott last Friday night: Joe Wallace Beverly, Billy English, Sam Franklin, Harry Harwell, J. M. Hill, J. T. Hughston, John Clark Long, Vreeland McNeese, Arnold Smith, Billy Smith, Curtis Tapp, Charlie Thompson, Tom G. Westbrook.

Dick Todd, All-Southwest Conference backfield man for the past two years when he was playing with the Texas A&M College Aggies, will leave here Thursday for Spokane, Wash., where he will immediately enter football training with the Washington Redskins, the club with which he has signed to play professional football.

The Redskins open their league schedule with the Philadelphia Eagles on Sept. 17, and the local grid fans expect Todd to make his debut in professional football in that game; however, he will have to be among those chosen for the traveling squad, a feat which supporters here believe that he will accomplish as he was recognized as the most feared broken field runner in the nation the three years he was a member of the varsity Aggie squad.

Joe H. Rucker of Abilene and Miss Dovie Moore of Good Creek were elected to the faculty of the Crowell Public Schools at a called meeting of the Crowell Independent School District board held here Monday night.

Dr. Dan Hines Clark of Shreveport, La., arrived here Tuesday morning to spend his vacation. He will be in charge of the office of his father, Dr. Hines Clark, while he is attending the National Guard encampment at Camp Hulen.

Miss Maye Andrews left Saturday for Fort Worth where she joined Miss Myrna Holman for a vacation trip to Arkansas.

Bowling alleys are being installed in the rock building on the west side of the square by Alfred Eddy, and the alleys are expected to be ready for players some time next week.

A picnic was given at the north pocket park last Friday evening in honor of Miss Martha Rettig, registered nurse and supervisor of the medical unit at Barnes Hospital in St. Louis, Mo. Miss Rettig is here visiting her parents.

J. M. Hill, Jr., left last week with Boy Scouts of the Wichita area to attend a 16-day Boy Scout camp in Cimarron Canyon in northern New Mexico.

Tax Man Sam Sez

When the tax surcharge was passed, there was a small gap in what most taxpayers had with held and what they would owe. It appeared that many taxpayers would end up 1968 owing the government money. Based on this difference, IRS predicted slightly fewer refunds, and certainly a reduction in the amount of the average refund check. However, it didn't work out that way, in the Dallas district, at least. By June 30, 1969, Internal Revenue had issued 1,008,650 refund checks to North Texans, for a probable record amount of $170,206,756.04. The best guess on the cause of an increase in the number and amount of refunds rather than a decrease—North Texas taxpayers don't like to end up the year owing Uncle Sam. As a matter of fact, a good part of the North Texans filing tax returns carefully arrange their withholding payments to make sure that they have a refund coming rather than owing taxes. Some of these folks have a government-enforced saving plan which pays off in the form of the refund check. Others just don't want to owe the government "nothin'." At any rate, more than one million out of 1,600,000 returns filed ended up on the right side of Internal Revenue's balance sheet for their account.

New Booklet Gives
Directions to 350
Texas Campgrounds

Directions to some 350 public campgrounds in Texas are provided in a new publication released last week by the Texas Highway Department.

The new Texas Public Campground Guide gives information about sites which range from primitive to elaborately modern.
Directions are provided to undeveloped gulf beaches, and to sites with paved parking areas, electricity and running water. There are even directions to a site one can't get to—by car, that is. (It's a fisherman's camping area on a Gulf coast island.)

The guide was published to serve the growing popularity of camping and recreation vehicles.
It lists only those campgrounds which are operated by tax-supported agencies—federal, state, county, city and such organizations as river authorities. Private commercial facilities are not included, that information usually being available in commercial tour and camping directories.

Free copies of the new booklet are available at Highway Department tourist bureaus and district offices, or by mail from the Texas Highway Department, Travel and Information Division, P.
O. Box 5064, Austin 78703.

Miss Joylyn Haynie Honored with Bridal Shower Saturday

Miss Joylyn Haynie, bride-elect of Sam Simpson, was honored with a miscellaneous shower Saturday, July 26, at the Foard County Community Center.

The guests were greeted by Mrs. W. F. Statser and presented to Miss Haynie; her mother, Mrs. Warren Haynie; and Mrs. Simpson, mother of the groom-to-be.

A gaily-decorated table greeted the guests as they entered the dining room. The table was laid with a linen cloth featuring ornate cutwork design. A lovely centerpiece graced the center of the table and was composed of an arrangement of hot pink and white carnations, encircling a white wedding bell. Streamers of hot pink completed the table decor. Miss Hollis Halbert and Miss Joy Traueck served.

A display of the gifts was shown to the guests by Mrs. Glen Goodwin and Mrs. Jack Thomas. Incidental music was played by Miss Jon Ann Carter throughout the hour.

The register table was attended by Miss Sharla Haynie, sister of the bride-elect, and the table was decorated with a white floor-length ruffled table cover. The decoration was composed of a pair of green cherubs holding an arrangement of white and pink carnations with white stock.

Assisting with other hostess duties were Meses. Grady Halbert, Martin Jones, Leo Cates, Lorraine Carter, W. W. Lemons, Bob Thomas, Harry Traueck, James Welch, Billy Johnson, Glyndon Johnson, Jeff Bell, J. C. Autry, Jr., and Charlie Drabek.

Should Be Reduced

In the opinion of the U. S. attorney for the Northern District of California, campus violence should be reduced if universities will use the disciplinary tools they have at hand—ranging from reprimand to suspension and expulsion.

Special Election Set for August 5...

week's edition of the News. A brief explanation of each follows:

No. 1 would repeal some of the unneeded portions of the constitution. Examples of some of the items to be removed are: authorization for the legislature to appropriate funds for the 1936 Texas Centennial; the section authorizing pensions to veterans of the revolution against Mexico.

No. 2 is the much debated proposal to move vast amounts of water to Texas from other states. This amendment would permit the sale of $3.5 billion of water development bonds to finance the project.

No. 3 would permit state legislators to set their own salaries, without passing a constitutional amendment each time the solons get a raise in wages.

No. 4 would exempt non-profit water supply corporations from all ad valorem taxes, state and local.

No. 5 would raise the ceiling on the amount which may be expended out of state funds per fiscal year money payments (grants) to public assistance recipients from $60 million to $80 million.

No. 6 would control maximum interest rates on bonds whose maximum interest-rate limits presently are set in various sections of the constitution.

No. 7 adds certain governmental employees, officers and agents to the list of persons whose surviving spouses and minor children are eligible for assistance as provided by general law.

No. 8 would permit the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, to issue and sell $200 million of additional general obligation bonds, which would be used to make loans to students who have been admitted to any institution of higher education in the state whether publicly or privately owned or operated, and including junior colleges.

No. 9 would provide for annual sessions of the legislature.

Negative Income Tax

The California Taxpayers' Association observed that, "A negative income tax is often offered as a solution to welfare problems. The first state to try it is New Jersey where an experiment is being run on 80 low income families. The controlled experiment is being financed by a $4 million federal anti-poverty grant. Under the system a minimum level of income would be established. Families below that would be paid from tax money to raise their income to the minimum. The experiment will take three years and should be watched by all governmental entities concerned with taxing or welfare."

Unlimited Power

U. S. Senator Sam J. Ervin, Jr. from North Carolina commented, "Essential to the preservation of liberty and central to our constitutional system is the understanding that there must be limits to governmental powers; that government, be it local or national, cannot be expected to solve all of society's ills; that unrestrained governmental power leads to tyranny; and that tyranny results when unlimited power is conferred for ends which are claimed good, just as surely as when power is seized for ends that are evil."

Vic Barker from Tampa, Fla., who spent the last six weeks in wheat harvest across the North Plains, Kansas and Colorado with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Barker, returned home last Saturday with his parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. V. Barker, who had joined them in Holyoke, Colo., and helped to move the machinery home.

Farmers Not to Blame for Higher Food Prices

Don't blame the farmer for higher food prices. In fact, explains Dr. Wm. E. Black, extension economist at Texas A&M University, farmers are the consumers' best friend.

The American agricultural industry, he points out, continues to produce more than commercial markets will absorb at prevailing prices and they can do even better if the situation should warrant.

This unparalleled production has kept food prices from rising higher than they are while the prices received by the farmer have averaged no more, most often considerable less, than those of 20 years ago, says the economist.

But, he adds, the food marketing bill has more than doubled in the last 20 years. And there are lots of reasons. The increased population has upped the volume of food marketing by more than one-third. Marketing services have jumped by one-half because consumers want and are getting more sorting, grading, trimming, packing, processing and storage, more built-in conveniences and they are eating more and more away from home.

He also noted that labor costs account for nearly half of the total food marketing bill—and they have doubled. New plant and equipment costs along with transportation, materials for packaging, interest, rent and taxes keep climbing as do production costs for the farmer. Our agricultural producers, he emphasized, are striving to meet this price-cost squeeze by producing more at lower cost and are today the most efficient producers in the nation. They too are pushing hard for more efficient marketing and product promotion, Black says.

Consumers continue to be favored by increasing incomes while farm income lags. Despite higher food prices, consumers spend less of their incomes for food than at any time in history and are getting the best, says the economist. For comparison, consumers might ponder these figures, suggests Black. For all items except food, the cost has increased 42 per cent; transportation is up 60 per cent; housing 42 per cent; rent 52 per cent, and medical care 86 per cent while all food, including eating away from home, has increased about 37 per cent over the past 20 years, says Black.

It's Black's contention that consumers should be ever grateful to this nation's agricultural producers who have stayed on the job, cutting expenses wherever and whenever possible and putting on the dinner tables of this nation the finest food in the greatest abundance ever known. Black doesn't believe many consumers would be willing to trade places with a farmer in order to have an opportunity to share the odds a farmer faces every day in the operation of his business.

Who Are We?

"Who are we?" queries The Kansas Restaurant magazine. "In planning your selling and advertising campaigns the more you know about your fellow citizens the better your plan is likely to be. The U. S. Department of Commerce gives us some valuable information. First of all there are 200 million Americans. About 102 million . . . are females. Ninety-eight million males. Nineteen million over 65 years of age. One hundred and seventy-five million not white. Ninety-one million married. Eleven million widows or widowers. One hundred and twenty million old enough to vote. Six million in college. Fifty million in other schools. Thirty-three million white collar workers. Twenty-seven million blue collar workers. Nine million foreign born. One hundred and twenty-three million church members."

Here's How Fast Your Taxes Are Rising

Employed Americans will work two and a half hours every eight-hour working day in 1969 to pay their tax bills—federal, state and local.

The 10 per cent surtax last year accounted for a big jump in federal taxes, but state and local taxes are also showing a distinct upward trend. This is revealed in a just-completed review by taxation and finance experts of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

To properly evaluate the rise in state and local taxes, it should be remembered that federal income (individual and corporate) tax receipts are expected to reach $122 billion in fiscal 1969.

Income tax take 10 years ago—1959—was $54 billion. In 1932, the total was slightly more than $1 billion. From 1932 to 1940, the figure doubled to about $2 billion. By 1950, federal income tax receipts reached $26 billion. Now, less than two decades later, they have more than quadrupled.

State taxes during 1968 went up in one form or another in 22 states. State sales taxes, first imposed during the depression years of the 30's, now exist in 44 states. In 1934, rates in 13 states ranged from .5 per cent to 3 per cent. Now 44 states impose sales taxes with 13 states maintaining rates of 4 per cent or higher.

Personal income taxes are now collected in 37 states and corporate income is taxed in 40 states. Seven states increased income taxes in 1968. State income tax revenue was about $7 billion in 1967, accounting for more than 22 per cent of all state tax collections. Individual income tax revenues were double those from the corporate income tax.

Other state taxes increased in 1968 included those on cigarettes—up in eight states; alcoholic beverages—up in three states; and gasoline—up in five states. Only 12 states had real estate transfer taxes prior to 1965. Now the number is 36, with 16 enacting the revenue measures in 1967, four in 1968.

Local governments also are adding to the growing tax burdens of American citizens. The property tax—biggest local tax producer—accounted for $25 billion of the $29 billion which went into local coffers in 1967. The anticipated 1969 property tax total is $30 billion, or about $145 per capita.

This should severely lower the sights of those students of taxation who for years have discussed the possibility of eliminating the property tax.

The average American's tax load has changed drastically since the beginning of the 20th Century. In 1902, all taxes—federal, state and local—came to $17 per capita. In 1948 it was $349 and in 1958, $568.

For 1969, the estimated tax bill will be $1,000 for every man, woman and child in the U. S.

Coal Moves Ahead

The results of a survey reported by The Oil and Gas Journal indicate coal has moved ahead of tar sands and oil shale as the oil industry's favorite hedge against possible future shortages of liquid crude. Additionally, the survey showed at least 26 major oil companies and large independents are searching for or producing a long list of minerals other than crude. Uranium is the most coveted.

Many Ways

"There are many ways under our system by which a majority can have its say. Our checks and balances provide ample means to be heard—but not to rule by violence. That is dictatorship, and that form of government we want as far away as possible, whether communist or nazist. But minority rule is not the alternative, either. It leads straight to totalitarianism . . ."—Santa Paula, Calif., Chronicle.

Taxpayers Ask Internal Revenue

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—The exemption I claimed for my wife's sister is being disallowed. Is there anyone else at IRS I can talk to about this besides the agent that examined my return?

A—Notify the examiner that you do not agree with his disallowance of the exemption you claimed and request that a district conference be arranged. At this conference, your side of the story as well as the agent's will be reviewed on the basis of the facts and law involved.

If the tax in question does not exceed $2,500 for any year, no written protest is needed to obtain such a conference. The people who handle these conferences are specially trained and act independently of those examining your return. This helps assure an impartial review.

I want to buy my son a shotgun so he can go hunting with me this fall. Is it against the law to give him the gun since he's 16?

A—Since your son is under 18, he is not old enough to buy a rifle or shotgun under the federal gun statutes. However, you can buy the gun for him.

Q—When I sold my house I had to pay a penalty on my mortgage because it was paid off early. Is there any deduction for that?

A—The penalty for paying off a mortgage before the due date is considered an interest charge. Include it with your other interest payments if you itemize deductions.

Why did you raise the rate on the highway use tax?

A—The rate on this tax has not been raised, it is still $3 per 1000 pounds for trucks with a taxable gross weight of over 26,000 pounds. The weight schedule, however, was revised effective July 1, 1969, to reflect the fact that trucks are larger and carry heavier loads than previously. September 1 is the filing deadline for trucks being used on public highways during July. Form 2290 is used to file and pay the tax.

Q—I want to get rid of some old checks and bills. What ones should I keep for tax purposes?

A—Records that support items on an income tax return should be kept at least until the statute of limitations expires. Ordinarily this is 3 years from the date the return was due.

Other records such as those on property acquisitions, capital improvements and the like should be kept much longer. For example, if you sell a house you bought in the 1940's, you should have the records to establish what it cost when you acquired it, and the cost of any improvements you made.

Planning to Retire?

If you plan to retire, take proof of your age when you apply for social security benefits. If you don't have a birth or baptismal certificate recorded at or shortly after your birth, take old insurance policies, poll tax receipts, old drivers' licenses, your children's birth certificates or your old family Bible. Your local social security office can suggest and help you secure other acceptable evidence. Do not delay applying because you do not have these proofs.
